and Thou heardest them from heaven. Alleluia, Alleluia.

PSALM. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. They cried.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. The righteous man shall stand in great boldness; before the face of such as have afflicted him. Alleluia.
Did not our heart burn within us: while He talked with us by the way concerning Jesus. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 266

Tune, Vigili et Sancti

Offertory—Hymn 267, stanzas 1, 9, 10, 19, 20,

Tune, Paean

Post Communion—O Esca Viatorum

Winfred Douglas

O Food of men wayfaring,
The Bread of Angels sharing,
O Manna from on high!
We hunger; Lord, supply us
Nor Thy delights deny us,
Whose hearts to Thee draw nigh.

O Stream of love past telling,
O purest Fountain welling,
From out the Saviour's side!
We faint with thirst, revive us,
Of Thine abundance give us,
And all our need provide!

O Jesus, by Thee bidden,
We here adore Thee hidden
'Neath forms of bread and wine.
Grant when the veil is riven,
We may behold in heaven
Thy countenance divine.

Organ Postlude—Grand March

Guilmant

Service Sung by the Men's Choir of St. Mark's

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 116

Gregorian Tone II-1

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat

Sir Charles V. Stanford

Office Hymn 267

Tune, Paean

Anthem

Handel

But Thou didst not leave His soul in hell, nor didst Thou suffer Thy Holy One to see corruption.

—From "The Messiah."

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

A Catholic Conference will be held at St. Luke's Church, Baltimore, Maryland, on Tuesday, May 3d. The Solemn High Mass will be sung at 11 o'clock. The preacher will be the Rev. Frank L. Vernon, D. D. At the afternoon session, at 2.45, the speakers will be the Rev. William Pitt McCune, Ph. D., Rector of St. Ignatius' Church, New York City, and the Rev. Charles Mercer Hall, Rector of Trinity Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

Lunch will be served at 1 P. M., at a cost of 75 cents. Kindly notify the Rev. Henry N. O'Conner, 222 North Carrollton Avenue, Baltimore, if you can attend.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Thursday, May 5th, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, May 5th, at 3 P. M. Bishop Hulse will be the speaker.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1927.

My Dear People:

The joy of Eastertide is the assurance of the abiding Presence of Our Lord. He Himself tells us in the Gospel for the day that as a good shepherd watches over his sheep, so He watches over us. As a good shepherd gives his life for his sheep, so He gives His life for us. When the wolf comes the good shepherd shelters his sheep within the fold. So He has provided His fold for His own flock. He knows each one of us. He makes it easy for each one of us to know Him. When we are in danger, He stands between us and our enemy. The door of His fold is so strong that the gates of hell cannot prevail against it.

He tells us that He has other sheep that are not of this fold. Where they are, He knows. How they are to be brought back, He understands. Some of them are so far away, that only He can bring them back. But He says that He will bring them back. They will hear His voice. He will not be strange to them, nor they to Him. And some day there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

We need never be anxious in the Church nor about the Church. Our Lord is taking care of the Church and He is taking care of us. He has His own way of looking after us all.

Our love for the Church increases as we increasingly learn the meaning of the protective life which the Church provides. The years that are gone have afforded us sufficient experience to sense it all. In every crisis the Church has sheltered us. In every crisis we instinctively turn to the Church.

For example, think of our own Saint Mark's. The deepest and the best of our lives is centered here. We come at all hours of the day. We always find protection and the sense of security.

Once we have passed under the Calvary, we feel that we have left the world behind us. The Font reminds us that we all, alike, have shelter within the Fold. We all have the same sign sealed on our foreheads. The Confessionals remind us of the pardon and peace that never fail us. Up in the Sanctuary the red lamp guides us to the Presence. There He is waiting for us. All human voices are silenced. There is no voice but His. The words He speaks are for our ears alone. As we pray, He listens. As we meditate, He answers. And often He is silent and we are silent. We kneel and become saturated with the light of His Presence. Our sorrows are soothed. Our fears are dispelled. We are happy and at peace. For the Shepherd is good. And the Fold is secure.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

F. Vernon

No. 30

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

May 8, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 326 - Tune, Dominus Regit Me

Mass in E flat - Alfred J. Eyre

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, Alleluia; sing praises unto the honour of His Name, Alleluia: make His praises to be glorious, Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia.

PSALM. Say unto God, O how wonderful art Thou in Thy works, through the greatness of Thy power.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. O be joyful.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see Me, saith the Lord; and again, a little while, and ye shall see Me, because I go to the Father, Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice; and your joy no man taketh from you. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 259 - Tune, Gerontius

Offertory—Hymn 520 - Tune, Lux Eoi

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.
O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever, Praise the Lord.
GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—"Nuptial Postlude"

Guilmant

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 124, 125 - Gregorian Tones VII-7, VIII-2

Magnificat } in E - Str Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 259 - Tune, Gerontius

Anthem - John E. West

Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

Thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

Organ Postlude - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1927.

My Dear People:

The Christian Religion possesses the secret of turning sorrow into joy. The Christian is taught to transmute his sorrow not to forget it. To forget sorrow is to be shallow. To simulate joy is to be artificial. The combined effort produces a ghastly effect. The well instructed Christian accepts sorrow and unites it with the sorrows of Our Lord. Then the sorrow is transmuted into the incomparable joy of Our Lord. The sorrow may endure for a night, but it cometh in the morning. Easter follows Good Friday. To suffer with Christ is to reign with Him. This is the joy that no man taketh away.

The point of all this must be made clear and kept clear. The center of the joy is Christ, not the Christian. Christian joy is never self-centered. It is joy in Christ. The Christian is joyful, not because his sorrows are gone, but because in his sorrows, he has seen Christ. So, the Christian may be frequently sorrowing, but he is always rejoicing. He wastes no time in shedding sorrows. He wastes no effort in pursuing joy. He seeks Christ and he finds joy.

The motive of all this is the love of Christ. "The love of Christ constraineth us." If we really have it, we are moved to offer our sorrows to Our Lord, and we are content with the reward of the companionship of Our Lord. It takes away the worst pang of sorrow to sorrow with Christ. There is something thrilling about that. There is something unspeakably and unforgettably intimate in the relationship. It is so intimate that there have been Saints who have been honored with the stigmata. They have literally borne visibly in their bodies the marks of the Lord Jesus. And there never has been a Christian, who having secretly united his sorrow with the sorrow of Christ, has not borne secretly in his body the marks, which, invisible to men, are visible to Angels now, and will be revealed to Angels and Saints hereafter. But the mark of the Saints was not the stigmata. It was joy. Unfaltering, unquenchable, undaunted, irrepressible joy, always was, always is and always will be the mark of the Saint. Progress in the Christian life is progress in joy.

The joyful thing about the Christian Religion is that it works. It does make the heart rejoice. Our Lord does see us again and again and again. Everytime we make a Communion, He sees us. Everytime we go to Mass, He sees us. Every time we make a visit to the Blessed Sacrament, He sees us. So long as we carry Him in our souls, He sees us. And He does turn sorrow into joy. And it is a joy no man taketh from us.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

No. 31

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter

May 15, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 515 - - - Tune, Beulah

Mass in E flat - - - Alfred J. Eyre

Introit. O sing unto the Lord a new song, Alleluia: for He hath done marvellous things, Alleluia; His righteousness hath He openly shewed in the sight of the heathen; Alleluia, Alleluia.

PSALM. With His own right hand, and with His holy arm: hath He gotten Himself the victory.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. O sing unto the Lord.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. I go My way to Him that sent Me; and because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart, Alleluia. I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go away: Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 174 (stanzas 1 and 2) - - - Tune, Innsbruck

Offertory—Hymn 543 - - - Tune, Melchoir

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever, Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March Scipio

Handel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 127, 128 - - - Gregorian Tones II-1, III-A-5

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in E - - - Sir Joseph Barnby

Office Hymn 515 - - - - - Tune, Beulah

Anthem - - - - - Henry Smart

The Lord is my strength and my song, and is become my salvation. I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord. For He is gracious, and His mercy endureth forever. O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is gracious, and His mercy endureth forever.

Organ Postlude - - - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Offering at the 11 o'clock service this morning will be for Nashotah House.

The Sisters of St. Margaret invite you to be present at a meeting of Associates and friends on Wednesday, May 18, 1927, at 3 p. m., at the Mission House, 1831 Pine Street. The plans for the Sisters' work in Haiti are practically completed, the final arrangements having been made for the construction of a house for the Sisters who are to work with Bishop Carson this coming fall. Mrs. John Hurd will give an account of a recent trip made to Haiti by herself and the Reverend Mother of St. Margaret's. All those interested in the work of the Church in Haiti, are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1927.

My Dear People:

The Gospel for today gives us the promise of the Comforter who is the Holy Ghost. He is the Paraclete, the Person "called to one's aid to give comfort as an advocate, pleader, intercessor." The word suggests "a friend of an accused person, called to speak to his character or otherwise enlist sympathy in his favor." We remember the twenty-sixth verse of the eighth chapter of the Epistle to the Romans. "Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities; for we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered."

So we are being prepared for Whitsunday when it comes. We are still in the joys of Eastertide. We have in prospect the Festival of the glorious Ascension. Beyond that shines Pentecost and we must be ready for it. A personal devotion to the Holy Ghost can only be real when there is a sense of personal need of the Holy Ghost. When once we understand that the Holy Ghost may really be "called to our side" to comfort us, we shall pray to Him in times of need. When we have come to know Him as our never failing Comforter we shall find solace in devotion to Him.

Indeed we cannot live without Him. There are always many things that our Lord would say to us which we cannot bear now. The Holy Ghost guides us into all truth. He guides but He never forces. He never reveals more than we can bear. He shows things to come and then waits patiently until we are able to bear them. And all the while, "knowing that we know not what we should pray for as we ought, He maketh intercession for us." How very safe this makes one feel. There are so many times when one has to steer through fogs, picking up a mark here and going by course to an unseen buoy that ought to appear at a given time. At such times the sea seems large and the boat small. But so we go, from Mass to Mass, from prayer to prayer, from day to day. There is no use in trying to look far ahead. We can only do the present duty and make for the next and trust the Holy Ghost to guide. Looking back as we often do, we see that He never fails us. And when we fail Him, He puts us on our way again. And so it will be to the end.

And all the while we are being led into more and more of the truth. We are constantly discovering new truths and then discovering that the new truths are old truths. We are constantly discovering new treasures and then discovering that the new treasures are old treasures. So the Holy Spirit leads into all truth those who trust Him. So He will lead "till we all come to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 32

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday after Easter

May 22, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 183 - - - Tune, Westminster

Mass in E flat - - - Alfred J. Eyre

Introit. With a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, and let it be heard; Alleluia: utter it even to the end of the earth: the Lord hath redeemed His people; Alleluia, Alleluia.

PSALM. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of His Name, make His praise to be glorious.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. With a voice of singing.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in My Name; ask, and ye shall receive; Alleluia. Christ is risen, He dieth no more: death hath no more dominion over Him. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 512 - - - Tune, Homeland

Offertory—Hymn 182 - - - Tune, Christchurch

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever, Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread. .

Organ Postlude—"Dona Nobis Pacem," B minor Mass

Bach

Solemn Chensong

Psalms 133, 134 - - - Gregorian Tones VIII-3, VIII-1

Magnificat } in E - - - St Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 183 - - - Tune, Westminster

Anthem - - - Sir John Stainer

My hope is in the Everlasting, that He will save you, and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting, our Saviour.

I sent you out with mourning and weeping, but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness forever.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are Rogation Days. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M. on each day.

Thursday is Ascension Day. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A. M. on each day.

Individual instructions for Confirmation may be arranged for at any time by consulting the Rector.

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

ROGATION SUNDAY, 1927.

Dear People:

Prayer is the subject for today. This year I feel moved to write of the results rather than the methods of prayer. And I am selecting three well-known results of prayer.

The first is this. Our Lord speaks of it in the Gospel for the day. He is talking to his disciples. "I am not alone, because the Father is with me."
Prayer makes remembrance of the Presence of God. It is this remembrance which relieves life of aloneness. And it is this relief which makes all the difference in the world. No matter where we are, we are never alone, because the Father is with us. But prayer makes us remember it. Very often we need to be made to remember it. Our prayers at times may seem to be mechanical. But they are not really. We really are getting our results. We are aware of it afterward, if we are not at the time. Wherever we may be, we have access to the Father. It is so simple. Night prayers before the crucifix will never fail to relieve aloneness. An Our Father said in the crowd of a city street, or in the solitude of a country road will bring trailing reassurance. And best of all, a visit to the Sacrament, will bring the peace that passes understanding. We are never less alone than when we are alone under the Lamp.

The second result is this. Prayer lifts the things that are temporal up into the things that are Eternal. Prayer lifts the things that are seen up into the things that are unseen. Prayer makes the things we care for permanent.
Every thing else will change and drop away. The things we pray about will last forever. Prayer lifts our best things up and forever beyond change.
The third result is this. Prayer preserves a vital interest in things worth living for. Prayer is the only preventive against ennui. No one can together escape weariness and discouragement. At such times interest is apt to lag. Enthusiasm is apt to wane. The glow is apt to fade. It becomes exceedingly hard to keep on. The first fervor has gone. The mind is dull.
The heart is cold. Only the will is left. But if the will is left, the other things do not really matter. Only prayer can brace the will. Then, truly, we must pray for our life. We must increase the number of our Communion.
We must force ourselves to go to Mass on week days. We must put ourselves to great inconvenience to make visits to the Tabernacle. We must force ourselves to pray against all odds of listlessness. We must never stop.
We must plow through drifts of years. Then this will happen. As we grow old we shall grow young.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 33

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

May 29, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon.....	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days.....	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession and High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 193 - - - Tune, Alleluia
185 - - - Tune, Coronae

Mass in G - - - Franz Schubert

Introit. Hearken unto my voice, O Lord, when I cry unto Thee, Alleluia; my heart hath talked of Thee. Seek ye My face. Thy face, Lord, will I seek; O hide not Thou Thy face from me, Alleluia, Alleluia.

PSALM. The Lord is my light, and my salvation: whom, then, shall I fear?

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. Hearken unto my voice.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon His holy seat; Alleluia. I will not leave you comfortless; I go, and I will come again to you, and your heart shall rejoice. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 522 (two stanzas) - - - Tune, Rex Gloria

Offertory—Hymn 190 - - - Tune, Diademata

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever, Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Marche Religieuse - - -

Guilmant

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 46 - - - Gregorian Tone V-3

Magnificat } in E . . . Sir Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 185 - - - Tune, Coronae

Anthem - - - Sir John Stainer

Leave us not, neither forsake us, O God of our Salvation. In Thy Presence is fullness of joy.

Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven.

Thou art gone up on high, Alleluia. Thou hast led captivity captive, Alleluia, and received gifts for men, yea, even for Thine enemies, that the Lord God might dwell among them. Hallelujah. Amen.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

There will be Pontifical High Mass on Whitsunday. The preacher will be the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Milwaukee.

The "Appeal" for contributions for the summer outings has been issued and we are asking for funds for our own parish acolytes and choir, and for our people of St. Michael's and St. Mary's Chapels. These holidays and breaks in the hot summer months mean so much to all our people, that it is not necessary to stress the need of a generous response to the
"Appeal."

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

SUNDAY AFTER ASCENSION DAY, 1927.

Dear People:

The fourth Article of Religion states that "Christ did truly rise again from death, and took again His body, with flesh, bones, and all things appertaining to the perfection of Man's nature; wherewith He ascended into Heaven, and will sitteth, until He return to judge all men at the last day."

The Preface expresses thanks "through Thy most dearly beloved Son Jesus Christ, Our Lord; who after His most glorious Resurrection, manifestly appeared to all His Apostles, and in their sight ascended up into Heaven, to prepare a place for us; that where He is, thither we might also ascend, and reign with Him in glory."

The Epistle declares that "He was taken up; and a cloud received Him out of their sight."

The Gospel affirms that "He was received up into Heaven, and sat on the right hand of God."

The Creed proclaims that "He rose again according to the Scriptures; and ascended into Heaven. And sitteth on the right hand of the Father."

The Epistle to the Hebrews teaches that Our Lord is Our High Priest, made higher than the heavens," and that "He is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them."

The Collect teaches us to pray that "we may also in heart and mind thither ascend, and with Him continually dwell."

In the Mass we are bidden to "lift up our hearts." In Communion we are made one body with Him, that He may dwell in us, and we in Him."

So Christians are made one with their Ascended Lord.

This letter will go far afield. It will be read by you who have made your Communions early this morning and will return thanks in the splendors of
High Mass.

It will be read by those who will have made their Communions at far distant Altars, in town churches and village missions.

It will be read by those who have made their Communions in sick rooms and hospitals.

It may be read by those who are far from priest and Altar, yet near Our Lord who never leaves nor forsakes. But wherever it is read, wherever we all may be, He will "leave us not comfortless." He will send to us the "Holy Ghost to comfort us, and exalt us unto the same place whither Our Saviour Christ is gone before."

To Him, who is Our High Priest we confide our petitions. Through Him, who is Our Mediator, we have access to the Father. To Him who is Our Advocate we entrust our plea. To Him who is Our Saviour, we commit our souls and the souls of those we love. To Him we cry, in life, in death, in judgment, "In Thee, O Lord, have I trusted. Let me never be confounded."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Whitsunday

June 5, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Pontifical High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, Pontifical High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 524 - - Tune, Kings College
196 - - Tune, Veni Sancte Spiritus

Mass Missa Marialis - - Ancient Plainchant

Introit. The Spirit of the Lord filleth the world; Alleluia: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice; Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia.

PSALM. Let God arise, and let His enemies be scattered: let them also that hate Him flee before Him.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. The Spirit of the Lord.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. Send forth Thy Spirit, and they shall be made; and Thou shalt renew the face of the earth; Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 199 - - Tune, St. Cuthbert

Offertory—Hymn 198 - - Tune, Beati

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March in D flat - - Edmundstoune Duncan

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 145 - - - Gregorian Tone V-1

Magnificat } in A flat - - Basil Harwood
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 198 - - Tune, Beati

Anthem—Veni Creator - - Thomas Attwood

Words in Hymn 455

Organ Postlude - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

There will be a third Mass on Monday and Tuesday of this week at 9.30
A. M. each day.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

The "Appeal" for contributions for the summer outings has been issued and we are asking for funds for our own parish acolytes and choir, and for our people of St. Michael's and St. Mary's Chapels. These holidays and breaks in the hot summer months mean so much to all our people, that it is not necessary to stress the need of a generous response to the
"Appeal."

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

WHITSUNDAY, 1927.

Dear People:

Today we celebrate the Festival of the Holy Ghost.

By His operation we are regenerated, illuminated and sanctified. From Him we receive the gifts of wisdom, knowledge, counsel, understanding, ghostly strength, true Godliness and holy fear. He is Our Comforter, Our Teacher and Our Guide. We have a relation to Him, so intimate that it could not be more intimate, because our bodies are His temples. Saint Paul says, "Know not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own." We are not our own, "for we are bought with a price." Our supreme duty is to glorify God in our bodies, and in our spirits which are God's. To do this we must ceaselessly seek the help of the Holy Ghost.

How are we to cultivate devotion to the Holy Ghost? First of all we must keep ourselves sensitive to His motions. Any thing in us that is foreign to Him, is like a foreign substance caught in a delicate mechanism, a watch, for example. If the watch is not clean, it will not keep time. Or a cinder in one's eye will cause much trouble. We have to be so very careful not to admit into our minds anything that is foreign to the Holy Ghost. There are books that we must not read. There are plays that we must not see. There are people whom we must avoid. And always there is the need for self-examination and confession, no matter how careful we have tried to be.

Then we need to establish and strengthen and settle our fellowship of the Holy Ghost. This we do by regular and frequent Communion. At each Communion our souls and bodies are energized by Our Lord's Own Life. They are made dead to sin, and alive to God. They become sensitive and responsive and obedient to the motions of the Holy Ghost. They register and react with greater promptness and precision. They become dependable in emergencies of sudden temptation. They are enabled to receive and transmit right promptings at times when almost automatic action is required.

If we have done what we can do about all this, then prayers to the Holy Ghost will be effective. Every person should know the Veni Creator by heart and say it frequently. Say it the first thing in the morning when you awaken. Say it at any time in the day, when you are troubled. Say it the last thing at night, as you are going to sleep. And then trust the Holy Ghost to keep you. Trust Him to give you the spirit to think and do such things as are right. Trust Him to give you a right judgment in all things. Trust Him to give you above all things that most excellent gift of Charity.
Devotion to the Holy Ghost will make your summer safe, peaceful and happy.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 35

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

June 12, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon.....	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days.....	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession and High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 525 - - - Tune, St. Patrick

Mass in G - - - Franz Schubert

Introit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the Undivided Unity: we will give thanks to Him, for He hath shewn His mercy upon us.

PSALM. O Lord our Governour: how excellent is Thy Name in all the world.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. Blessed be.

Gradual. Blessed art Thou, O Lord: That beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the Cherubim. O bless the God of heaven: for He hath shewn His mercy upon us.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Blessed art Thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and greatly to be praised forever. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 205 - - - Tune, Nicaea

Offertory—Hymn 208 - - - Tune, St. Athanasius

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever, Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 149, 150 - - - Gregorian Tones VI-b, IV-6

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in A flat - - - Basil Harwood

Office Hymn 205 - - - Tune, Nicaea

Anthem - - - Sir John Stainer

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, Which was, and Which is, and Which is to come, the Almighty.

Holy, Holy, Holy. Lord God of Hosts, Heaven and earth are full of Thy Glory. Glory be to Thee, O Lord most High. Amen.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Feast of St. Barnabas has been transferred to Monday. There will be the usual Third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Thursday will be the Feast of Corpus Christi. There will be a High Mass
at 9.30 A. M.

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1927.

My Dear People:

Today we celebrate the Festival of the Holy Trinity. "It is very meet, right and our bounden duty, that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, Almighty, Everlasting God, Who art one God, one Lord; not one only Person, but three Persons in one Substance. For that which we believe of the glory of the Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference or inequality."

The note of the Feast is glory. The gates of Heaven are opened wide.
With Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of Heaven, we say, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts, Heaven and Earth are full of Thy glory.

What a year of wonders. How long ago it seems since we were kneeling at the Christmas Altar. There is nothing quite like that. The Holy Child, the Virgin Mother, the Angels, the Shepherds.

Then the Wise Men came at Epiphany. Every year we eagerly expect them. We prayed then, that after this life, we might have the fruition of the glorious Godhead.

We were reluctant to leave off our meditations upon the Holy Childhood.
But Lent came and carried us out to the wilderness, up to Jerusalem, out to Gethsemane, and on to Calvary. We mourned at the Cross, we waited at the Sepulchre, we found Him in the Garden, and Alleluias rang for forty days.

Then the cloud received Him out of our sight. By that time the selfless joy of the Ascension had possessed us. We were given power to follow Him in heart and mind. Our knees were on earth. But our hearts were in Heaven.

And then, while we waited, there came the sound from Heaven, as of a rushing, mighty wind. And the cloven tongues of fire appeared. The Holy Ghost had come. The Seven Gifts were stirred within us, and many things were brought to our remembrance. We knew Him, and we knew He dwelt in us. And we knew that every thought of holiness that had ever come to us, in all the years, were His, and His alone. And we understood that the knowledge of God is a gift of God. We understood that the way to God is the way of Sacraments, prayer and discipline.

As we look back now, over the year, we can see it all so clearly. Each Sacrament, each prayer, each experience of trial has served its purpose. We have been led on into the knowledge of the Father who created us, of the Son who redeemed us, and of the Holy Ghost who sanctifies us. So it will be to the end. That end will be the beginning which will have no ending.
We shall see the unveiled glory of the Eternal Godhead.

Affectionately in Our Lord

J. Vernon

No. 36

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Trinity

June 19, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 356 - - - - - Tune, Fairest Lord Jesus

Mass in F - - - - - Sir John Stainer

Introit. O Lord, my trust is in Thy mercy, and my heart is joyful in Thy salvation: I will sing of the Lord, because He hath dealt so lovingly with me.

PSALM. How long wilt Thou forget me, O Lord, for ever: how long wilt Thou hide Thy face from me?

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. O Lord, my trust.

Gradual. I said, Lord, be merciful unto me: heal my soul, for I have sinned against Thee. Blessed is he that considereth the poor and needy: the Lord shall deliver him in the time of trouble.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Ponder my words, O Lord: consider my meditation. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 206 - - - - - Tune, Rivault

Offertory—Hymn 253 - - - - - Tune, Leoni

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever, Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March from "Jerusalem" - - - Dr. Hugh A. Clarke

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 3, 4 - - - - - Gregorian Tones II, VIII-1

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in A flat - - - Basil Harwood

Office Hymn 356 - - - - - Tune, Fairest Lord Jesus

Anthem - - - - - Sterndale Bennett

God is a spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him, in spirit and in truth.

—From "The Woman of Samaria."

Organ Postlude - - - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

NOTICES

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 10 to 11 A. M.

The offering at the 11 o'clock service this morning will be for St. Mark's Altar Society. It is needless to refer to the splendid work of the Altar Society, and to the unselfish devotion of its members who do so much towards making beautiful the services at St. Mark's. A generous response to the offering this morning will be an expression of the appreciation of the Altar Society.

Friday is St. John Baptist's Day. There will be the usual third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The St. Mark's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Hospital announces that the sum subscribed this year was sufficient to improve the lighting system in the Chapel of the Hospital.

Through the generous response to the appeal for a St. Mark's Room at the Seamen's Church Institute, a second Room has been designated and completed.

No. 37

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 26, 1927

SERVICES TODAY

Low Mass.....	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon.....	4.00 P. M.

WEEK DAYS

Mass Daily.....	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily.....	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily.....	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily.....	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays,	11 A. M. to 12 M, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 267, Stanzas 1, 11, 12, 19, 20

Mass in F

Tune, Paeon

Sir John Stainer

Introit. The Lord was my upholder, He brought me forth also into a place of liberty: He hath delivered me, even because He had a favour unto me.

PSALM. I will love Thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. The Lord.

Gradual. When I was in trouble I called upon the Lord: and He heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord: from lying lips and from a deceitful tongue.

Alleluia, Alleluia. God is a righteous Judge: strong and patient. Alleluia.

Sequence—O Sacred Heart

O Sacred Heart!
Our home lies deep in Thee,
On earth Thou art an exile's rest,
In heaven the glory of the blest,
O Sacred Heart!

O Sacred Heart!
Our trust is all in Thee;
For though earth's night be dark and drear,
Thou breathest rest where Thou art near,
O Sacred Heart!

O Sacred Heart!
Thou fount of contrite tears,
Where'er those those living waters flow,
New life to sinners they bestow,
O Sacred Heart!

O Sacred Heart!
When shades of death shall fall,
Receive us 'neath Thy gentle care
And save us from the tempter's snare!
O Sacred Heart!

O Sacred Heart!
Lead exiled children home
Where we may ever rest near Thee,
In peace and joy eternally.
O Sacred Heart!

Offertory—Hymn 258

Tune, Lauda Anima

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March in B minor

Schubert

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 10

Gregorian Tone VIII-2

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in A flat

Basil Harwood

Office Hymn—O Sacred Heart.

Anthem

Sir John Goss

O taste and see how gracious the Lord is. Blessed is the man that trusteth in Him. O fear the Lord, ye that are His saints, for they that fear Him, lack nothing. The lions do lack and suffer hunger but they who seek the Lord shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

No. 1

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 2, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 289 - - - Tune, Trisagion

Mass in C - - - Sir George C. Martin

Introit Be merciful unto me, O Lord, for I will call daily upon Thee: for Thou, Lord, art good and gracious, and of great mercy unto all them that call upon Thee.

PSALM. Bow down Thine ear, O Lord, and hear me; for I am poor, and in misery.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. Be merciful.

Gradual The heathen shall fear Thy Name, O Lord; and all the kings of the earth Thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Sion: and when His glory shall appear.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Ye that fear the Lord, put your trust in the Lord: He is their helper and defender. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 291 - - - Tune, Abends

Offertory—Hymn 266 - - - Tune, Vigili et Sancti

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Fugue in G - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 103 - - - Gregorian Tone V-3

Magnificat } in A flat - - - Basil Harwood
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn

Anthem - - - Handel

Angels ever bright and fair,
Take, O take me to your care;
Speed to your own court my flight,
Clad in robes of virgin white.

—From "Theodora."

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SIXTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1927.

My Dear People:

Angelic joy is the subject of this Michaelmas Meditation. There is always a thrill about Michaelmas. There is no time quite like it. There is mystery in it, because it is other-worldly. And there is comfort in it, because it is this-worldly. The Angels are equally at home in both worlds. Our veils do not interfere with their vision. They move swiftly in perfect light. They will assist at our Mass today. They will be assisting at all the Altars in all the world all the day long. Their Sanctus will be sung in Heaven. For all God's world is one. Tonight when you are saying your evening prayers, your Guardian will be kneeling beside you. Tomorrow Angels will flock through and about the places where you are. You will have no duty thrust upon you so commonplace that you may not invoke the Angelic assistance. There are Angels in hospitals and prisons. There are Angels on trains and ships. There are Angels on the land and Angels in the air. There are Angels wherever there is peril and fear and death. And there is always that. For this little world is a sad and mad and lawless place. God knows the Angels have their hands full. For we are always making trouble for ourselves and needing someone to get us out of it. I should think that one human would be about all an average Angel would want to undertake. We are all so much more difficult than we need to be. Yet the Angels have known this world of ours since it began to be, and still they are able to sing of glory to God and peace on earth. Whatever happens, their joy never dims. It is a different thing from pleasure. It is a different thing from happiness. Pleasure may be disturbed. Happiness may be destroyed. Joy is indestructible. For joy is the vibration of the Life of God. It will mellow the world at Christmas. It will lighten the world at Epiphany. It will save the world at Passiontide. It will astound the world at Easter. It will dazzle the world at Ascension. It will kindle the world with Celestial fire at Pentecost. It will open the gates of Heaven at Trinity. Joy is of God. Angels have it. Man may have it. But no man may take it away. We may be deprived of pleasure. We may be robbed of happiness. But joy in God no man or devil taketh away from us. This is the Angels' secret of joy. And it is yours. You and I will find this joy where the Angels find it, in the Presence of God. The Blessed Sacrament is God. Never separate yourself from Him. And above the pleasures, and beyond the happiness and before the sorrows, you will keep the joy, God's gift to Angels and men.

Affectionately in Our Lord

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 16, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 316 - - - Tune, Sawley

Mass in C - - - Sir George C. Martin

Introit Reward them that wait for Thee, O Lord, and let Thy prophets be found faithful: hear the prayers of Thy servant, and of Thy people Israel.

PSALM. I was glad when they said unto me; we will go into the house of the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. Reward them.

Gradual I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls; and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Alleluia, Alleluia, I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 228 - - - Tune, St. Chrysostom

Offertory—Hymn 543 - - - Tune, Melchior

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude and Fugue in G - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 111 - - - Gregorian Tone IV-3

Magnificat } in A flat - - - Basil Harwood
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 17 - - - Tune, St. Columba

Anthem - - - A. Gretchaninov

Let us who figure forth the Cherubim, representing them in mystery, and who unto the life giving Trinity now sing the hymn thrice holy; now let us lay aside every earthborn care, Amen. That the King of all we may raise on high, by the angelic host upborne, invisible upborne. Alleluia.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

I remind you of the Catholic Congress to be held in Albany on October 25th, 26th and 27th, and I call your attention to the program posted on the notice board.

There are already four thousand people enrolled as members of the Congress. Membership costs $1. Applications for blanks may be made to the clergy or directly to the Rev. S. Atmore Caine, 5720 Ridge Avenue, Roxborough, Pa. Membership does not involve the obligation of attending, but it does serve to indicate the strength of the religious movement to which St. Mark's has been dedicated since its foundation.

Novena will be kept for the Catholic Congress beginning October 15th. Intentions for the Congress will be offered at all Masses and Offices. Special Intercessions will be offered at 12.30 daily, and those who are able to do so, are asked to make a daily visit to the church to pray for a blessing upon the work of the Congress.

Tuesday will be St. Luke's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE EIGHTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1927.

My Dear People:

The Collect for today contains the petition for grace to withstand the temptations of the world. The best definition of the word world, that I have ever heard is, "society as organized apart from God." That such a universal society does exist is beyond dispute. That it is strongly organized is beyond doubt. The dangerous elements in its personnel are the indifferent people. They are the people who are neither hot nor cold. They lower the moral temperature of the groups in which they move. They allow themselves to become familiar with the face of evil, and first endure, then pity, then embrace. They convey with some show of tolerance the impression that all is right with the world, when, as a matter of fact, all is quite wrong. Too frequently they succeed in getting themselves believed. They are inclined to believe in judicious connivance and advantageous compromise. In the end they manage to call evil good. The strong leaders of evil would be quite helpless without the aid of the indifferent, who are always ready to discuss, but never ready to decide. They serve to weaken the powers of resistance. They provide the fuel for the flames which stronger intelligences have kindled.

The Catholic Church is not of this world. It is the Kingdom of God. It is organized in God. It is holy. It tolerates no compromise with the world. It brings not peace, but a sword. It is equipped with all power in Heaven and on earth. The Head of the Church has overcome the world. His Church speaks with Divine authority and acts with Divine power. She regenerates, absolves, feeds, blesses, guides and guards her children. She is the one sure refuge from the world. She condemns the sins the world condones. She receives the sinners the world rejects. She removes the stains the world leaves. She heals the wounds the world inflicts. She soothes the sorrows the world forgets. She mends the things the world breaks. She finds the things the world loses.

When the Church is seen as she really is, there is a fascination which defies indifference. There is an unearthly loveliness which haunts one's memory long after one has gone out again into the world. Come in to Saint Mark's on a week day, and you will see what I mean. The dimness after the glare. The stillness after the noise. The Font. The Confessionals. The red lamp. The golden Tabernacle door.

But these are only externals. The sense of beauty is not the only thing. It is the sense of reality which is arresting. You know the secret of that. It is the Presence. Our Lord is here. We visit Him when we are weary of the world. "My Kingdom," He whispers, "is not of this world." The walls are saturated with the prayers and confessions and thanksgivings of unnumbered men and women who have found grace to withstand the temptations of the world. Poor world! Glorious Church!

Affectionately in Our Lord

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity
October 23, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 318

Tune, St. Thomas

Mass in A flat

Basil Harwood

Introit I am the salvation of My people, saith the Lord: out of whatsoever tribulation they shall call Me, I will hearken unto them; and I will be their God forever.

PSALM. Hear My law, O My people: incline your ears unto the words of My mouth.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. I am the salvation.

Gradual Let my prayer be set forth in Thy sight, O Lord, as the incense; and let the lifting up of my hands be an evening sacrifice.

Alleluia, Alleluia. They that put their trust in the Lord shall be even as the mount Sion: which may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 232

Tune, St. Peter

Offertory—Hymn 509

Tune, All Hallows

Post Communion—Laude Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 15

Gregorian Tone III-A-

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in G

J. E. We

Office Hymn 29

Tune, St. Clement

Anthem

Mendelssohn

Draw near, all ye people, come to me. Lord God of Abraham Isaac and Israel, this day let it be known that Thou art God and I am Thy servant. O shew to all this people that I have done these things according to Thy word! O hear me, Lord, and answer me! And shew this people that Thou art Lord God; and let their heart again be turned!

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE NINETEENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1927.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Friday will be the Feast of S. S. Simon and Jude. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

If you have not already enrolled as a member of the Catholic Congress, I would be very glad if you would do so. Application blanks may be obtained at the Rector's office any morning from 10 until 1 and from the office of the Parochial Secretary in the afternoons. I would very much like to have a large enrollment from St. Mark's. Enrollment involves no obligation beyond the dollar subscription, and it entitles the subscriber to receive the handbook of the Congress which will contain all the addresses. The program of the Congress is posted in the porch.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

There is an urgent need for boys in the choir. Changes in the residential sections make the securing of choristers more difficult each year. Any help that the congregation can give by bringing boys or sending in names, will be greatly appreciated by the Choirmaster.

My Dear People:

The Collect for today takes us back to Pentecost. It serves to renew our devotion to the Holy Ghost, and to remind us of our utter dependence upon Him. Without the direction and rule of the Holy Ghost, it is not possible for us to please God. Holy desires, good counsels, and right judgments proceed from Him. Our own self-originating desires and counsels and judgments are never trustworthy. The more clamorously insistent they are, the more suspicious of them we should be. To be moved by them is to invite disaster. Self-confidence ever bears the fruit of self-deception. So, what we have to do, is to definitely submit ourselves to the direction of the Holy Ghost, the while we mortify our desires, submit our counsels and defer our judgments. In the meantime we must delay action, and patiently wait for some recognized motion of the Holy Ghost. We can always be sure of one thing. Any motion which is disquieting and impatient and impulsive, is from the devil.

The form of prayer which finds expression in the quiet offering of thoughts and feelings by a sustained act of the will is called Affective Prayer. Rightly used it will carry one through storms and tempests and enable one to keep interior peace in the midst of exterior tumult. It will not afford escape from suffering, but it will render suffering remedial. "In some deep experience, some lesson of suffering and discipline, some revelation of His love, the Voice is heard, the soul uplifted above itself. All else is far away and hushed. And then the Voice is past. Jesus is found alone."

A preparation is necessary. The regular practice of ordinary vocal prayer is required. Childlike simplicity in the recitation of daily morning and night prayers is essential.

Faithful use of the Sacraments is indispensable. Sincere examination of conscience and humble confession will set the soul free to seek complete abandon in Communion.

Communion will sensitize the soul, mind and body, and make the whole nature alive to God. Then one becomes responsive to Godly motions. The Holy Ghost will sanctify, illumine, direct and govern the mind and heart and will in the ways of God's laws and in the works of His commandments. All that has been confused will be simplified. And the power of decision will be given. With such a background, one may make profitable acts of Affective Prayer, wherever one is. And one may make visits to the Blessed Sacrament whenever one can. A half hour in silence before the Tabernacle will lighten the most obstinate darkness.

A friend of mine, trained in the technique of prayer, gave me two verses, which I will share with you.

DECISION

Whenever a problem comes into my life,
I decide it and promptly forget it.
It isn't so much the decision that counts,
As the will power not to regret it.

SOLUTION

I had a problem in my life.
I pondered on it filled with care.
But once I'd gathered all the facts,
I found the problem wasn't there.

Affectionately in Our Lord

J. Vernon

No. 5

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Twentieth Sunday after Trinity
October 30, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 307 - - - Tune, Mount Sion

Mass in A flat - - - Basil Harwood

Introit Everything that Thou hast done to us, O Lord, Thou hast done in true judgment; for we have sinned, and not obeyed Thy commandments: but glorify Thy Name, and deal with us according to Thy mercies.

PSALM. Great is the Lord and highly to be praised; in the city of our God, even upon His holy hill.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. Everything.

Gradual The eyes of all wait upon Thee, O Lord; and Thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest Thine hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Out of the deep have I called unto Thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 540 - - - Tune, St. Albinus

Offertory—Hymn 542 - - - Tune, Patmos

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude and Fugue in C major - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 116 - - - Gregorian Tone II-

Magnificat } in G - - - J. E. Wes
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 24 - - - Tune, Verper Hymn

Anthem - - - Wesley

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee.

The darkness is no darkness with Thee, but the night is as clear as the day.

The darkness and the light to Thee are both alike.

God is light and in Him is no darkness at all. O let my soul live and praise Thee, for Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory for ever more.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

On All Saints' Day, November 1st, there will be Masses at 7 and 7.45 A. M., with a High Mass and Sermon at 9.30 A. M.

The First Vespers of the Dead will be said on Tuesday, November 1st, directly after Evensong.

On All Souls' Day, November 2nd, there will be Mass at 7 A. M., a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7.45 A. M., and a Solemn High Requiem Mass and Sermon at 9.30 A. M.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M. throughout the year. Vespers of the Dead are said every Saturday afternoon immediately after Evensong, throughout November.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish House, 1625 Locust Street, on Wednesday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass, at which all members are urged to be present.

The Annual Meeting of the Altar Society will be held in the Parish House on Thursday, November 3rd, immediately after the 9.30 Mass.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, November 3rd, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, November 3rd, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be the Rev. Frank L. Vernon, D. D., Rector.

I call your attention to the notices of the Guild of All Souls and the Devotional Service and Conference of the Woman's Auxiliary, details for all of which you may learn by consulting the notice board in the porch.

PLEASE SEND ALL SOULS' NAMES NOT LATER THAN MONDAY MORNING.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTIETH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1927.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

You remember that one of the meanings of the word "sin" is "a missing the mark." This throws a light on the meaning of today's Collect. We pray that we may be delivered from sin, "that we, being ready both in body and soul, may cheerfully accomplish those things which thou commandest." Cheerful accomplishment is the secret of the thrill of the joy of living.

It is not the accomplishment of self-centred ambitions that makes one cheerful. There is a certain amount of hectic self-satisfaction to be gained in that way. But this is a very different thing from joy. And it is sure to leave one very far removed from cheerfulness. To supply the lack of interior cheerfulness, artificial and very vicious means are not infrequently sought, which succeed for the moment in producing a ghastly simulation of cheerfulness which inevitably ends in a scarcely less ghastly cheerlessness. No one is ever really deceived by this counterfeit.

Real cheerfulness is the result of a ready body and soul. This means a flesh subdued to the spirit and a spirit obedient to the commands of God. Then the whole being functions perfectly. Then the things one is meant to do are accomplished with the cheerful sense of the satisfaction of achievement. God never demands the impossible. Therefore there is no possibility of failure. Our only concern is to be kept from the things that may hurt us. The only thing that can hurt is sin. Sin is the great mistake. Sin always misses the mark.

The really great persons who really do great things in a great way are persons who seek first the really great things. Then all the lesser things are added. So long as one can manage to keep the first things first, the lesser things will neither unduly elate nor depress. They will grow more and more negligible in the final accomplishment. But it will be a constant source of surprise to notice how many things are added just because they were never consciously sought. They were added as gifts of God, to be held in trust and used for Him.

Religion is the most practical thing in the world. It has to do with getting things done in the only way they can be done. It is Saint Mark's that really matters in Locust Street. All day long, from the time the doors open for the first Mass, until they close in the evening after the Angelus, the chief business in life is being transacted. The Masses present the cases of the clients of Our Lord, in the High Courts of Heaven. The Communion supplies the daily food which supplies the strength for the day's work. The Confessionals are clinics for the healing of the day's wounds. The Tabernacle is the secret chamber for audience with the Giver of all good gifts. No one is sent away unheard or unsupplied. One by one we go back into the world, ready and cheerful and really successful.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

F. Vernon

No. 6

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity
November 6, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn in Procession { 297 - - - Tune, Sanctuary
295 - - - Tune, Sine Nomine

Mass Second Mass of the Orpheonistes - Charles Gounod

Introit The whole world O Lord is in Thy power : and there is no man that | can resist Thee ; for Thou hast made all things the heaven and the earth and all the wondrous things under the heaven ; Thou art Lord of | all things.

PSALM. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the | way : and walk in the | law of the Lord.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost, As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be : world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. The whole world.

Gradual Lord Thou hast been our | refuge ; from one generation | to another : Before the mountains were brought forth or ever the earth and the world were | made : Thou art God from everlasting and | world without end.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Praise the Lord O my soul : while I live will I praise the | Lord : yea as long as I have any being I will sing praises unto my God. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 266 - - - Tune, Vigili et Sancti

Offertory - - - Cesar Franck

O Saving Bread of Heaven,
Ernest of sins forgiven,
Feed us, celestial Heaven,
Forever more.

O wondrous Mystery,
O Triune Deity,
One God in Persons Three,
Thee we adore.

As we before Thee kneel,
Thyself in love reveal,
Our wounded spirits heal,
Our fears dispel.

Through Thy ways infinite,
Guide Thou our souls aright,
Lead to the perfect Light
Where Thou dost dwell.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven : if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen ; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—War March of the Priests - Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 133, 134 - Gregorian Tones, VIII-3, VIII-4

Magnificat } in G - - - J. E. Wadlow
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 297 - - - Tune, Sanctuary

Anthem - - - Louis Spohr

Blest are the departed, who in the Lord are sleeping, from hence forth, for ever more.

They rest from their labors, and their works follow them.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The annual registration of members of the Red Cross is now due. Membership blanks may be obtained at the Rector's office any morning from 10 to 1. The registration fee is $1. I hope that every member of the parish will enroll. Last year relief was given in a total of 92 major and minor disasters in the United States and in 21 foreign disasters. Included in the list of domestic disasters were the Florida hurricane and the Mississippi Valley flood which affected a total of more than 64,000 people, and in Pennsylvania aid was given in seven instances—four mine explosions, two tornadoes and one fire. This record speaks for itself. I would very greatly appreciate it if you would enroll at St. Mark's in order that we may have a sense of solidarity in our support of this work.

The Thursday Sewing Class will begin its sessions on Thursday, November 17th. Workers and contributors are desired.

There will be a Retreat for Associates and friends at St. Margaret's, Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on November 16th. Conductor, Father Orum, O. H. C. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M., ends at 5 P. M. Those desiring to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-FIRST SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY
IN THE OCTAVE OF ALL SAINTS, 1927

My dear People:

The Saints were not conscious of being Saints. They were conscious of being poor in spirit. They were sorely afflicted to the point of keen mourning. They were unconsciously meek. Father Gerald Rawlinson tells us that this word meek really means gentle in the sense in which the term is used in the word gentleman or gentlewoman. They were conscious of a hunger and thirst after a righteousness which they never for a moment believed they had come within measurable distance of attaining. They were merciful. They were pure in heart. They were peacemakers. They were persecuted. They were reviled. All manner of evil was said against them falsely. With all this, through all this and in spite of all this they rejoiced and were exceeding glad. Their lot was never an enviable one. Yet the note of their lives was joy. Dear Saint Paul said that he had learned, in whatsoever state he was, therewith to be content, or as the word would seem to mean, to be sufficient with the resources of his interior life. He said that he knew how to be abased, and how to abound. He was never tortured by what we have grown accustomed to call an inferiority complex. He was never poisoned by a superiority complex. He was always the same under all conditions. I have often heard it said that Saints are hard people to live with. But it isn't so. It couldn't be so. A pious person who is hard to live with, isn't a Saint, but merely a holy terror.

The Saints discovered the secret of turning everything into a blessing. They literally made the best of everything and got the best out of life. They were the persons who discovered that the uses of adversity are sweet. Now that really is the fine art of living. They regarded adversity as an adventure, and they went gaily in for what they could get out of it. And they came out with all there was in it. If they had sins to repent of, they made an adventure out of penitence. They learned the truth about sin and about sinners. They were wiser than men of the world. They knew how to read other peoples hearts, because they had so very carefully read their own. They never were severe with other people, because they were so very severe with themselves. They forgave gloriously, because they themselves had been so gloriously forgiven. They were never discouraged about other people, because they were never discouraged about themselves. They knew how to help people out of trouble, because, in the first place, they knew so much about people, and in the second place they knew so much about trouble. They were strong under temptation, because they were used to temptation. So they were able to help people who were tempted. They were even joyful in sorrow, because they had so often seen sorrow turned into joy.

To know the Saints is to love them. To imitate them is to venerate them. To invoke them is to enjoy them.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 7

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity
November 13, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 326 - - - Tune, Dominus Regit Me

Mass in A flat - - - Basil Harwood

Introit If Thou Lord wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss O Lord,
| who may abide it: for there is mercy with Thee therefore shalt Thou
be feared O God of | Israel.

PSALM. Out of the deep have I called unto Thee. | O Lord; Lord
| hear my voice.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. If Thou Lord.

Gradual Behold how good and joyful a | thing it is: brethren to dwell to| gether in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the | head:
that ran down unto the beard even | unto Aaron's beard.

Alleluia, Alleluia. He healeth those that are broken in | heart;
and bindeth up their wounds. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 515 - - - Tune, Beulah

Offertory—544 - - - Tune, O Quanta Qualia

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude and Fugue in E - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 136

Gregorian Tone, III-A-

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in E

Sir John Stain

Office Hymn 23

Tune, St. Anatoli

Anthem

George M. Garre

In humble faith and holy love,
The song of saints and martyrs sing:
That incense, which to God above,
Blest angels and archangels bring.

Three mystic rays in glory shine
From the tremendous Godhead's throne;
These in one source doth faith combine,
In three we praise one God alone.

In this sad vale of tears below,
Our anchor this of faith and love,
Till God this vision shall bestow,
In Christ's triumphant Church above.

To God our Father raise the voice,
Invisible, Immortal King!
In our Redeemer's strength rejoice;
And to the sacred Spirit sing. Amen.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The annual registration of members of the Red Cross is now due. Membership blanks may be obtained at the Rector's office any morning from 10 to 1. The registration fee is $1. I would very greatly appreciate it if you would enroll at St. Mark's, in order that we may have a sense of solidarity in our support of this work.

Your attention is specially called to the notice in the Church porch of "A DEVOTIONAL SERVICE AND CONFERENCE of Women's Church Organizations," at Holy Trinity Church, on Tuesday, November 15th. The schedule of Service and Conference, with the names of speakers and full details, is given on the notice.

There will be a Retreat for Associates and friends at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on November 16th. Conductor, Father Orum, O. H. C. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M., ends at 5 P. M. Those desiring to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

The Thursday Sewing Class will begin its sessions on Thursday, November 17th. Workers and contributors are desired.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-SECOND SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1927.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today teaches us that God's mercy is far beyond our power to imagine. Saint Peter asked "how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?" That was the limit for Saint Peter. It seemed to him to be a generous one. To forgive a person seven times seemed sufficient. "Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, until seven times: but until seventy times seven." This was to say that there is no bound to charity and no limit to forgiveness. So long as there is need of forgiveness and so long as there is desire for forgiveness, there is no lack of forgiveness. It is difficult for us to realize this. Why? Our Lord has answered this question by telling us that with what measure we mete, withal it shall be measured to us again. It is because we are not generous in forgiving, that we are unable to grasp the generosity of God. "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." As we forgive so we realize forgiveness. The truth of the matter is that there is never cause for anxiety about forgiveness. The real cause for anxiety is our own capacity for being forgiven. Our own penitence is all that we need concern ourselves with. If penitence is sincere, forgiveness is certain. God is always more ready to forgive than we are to be forgiven. Charity is the final requirement for forgiveness. They who love much will be forgiven much. Father Considine has said of Saint Mary Magdalene that she "understood so well how to deal with our Lord, with her holy audacity. Forgiven sin is absolutely no bar to the closest union with our Lord, it is only another claim on his love. From the time He said to her, "Go in peace, thy sins are forgiven thee," we never hear of those sins again. She does not seem at all troubled by them, she never hangs back from our Lord, or thinks that others have a right to be nearer to Him than herself. She gets as close as possible to Him always, and our Lord never sends her away. She thinks of Him, not of herself, and that is the secret of peace of soul and of sanctity."

And Father Considine says in another place, "When a person of mere ordinary virtue commits a sin, it takes him some time to feel the same toward God as he did before. He cannot realize the wonderful generosity of the Heart of God. When a saint commits a sin, he runs to God at once like a little child to its mother, and confesses it humbly. Then the next moment he is just as happy with God as he was before. The saint understands sin better than the ordinary person, but what is far more important he understands God better."

We all need to know how to forgive and how to be forgiven. A forgiving person surely ought to be a forgiving person.

God gives us so much, Baptism, Confession and a Requiem. His compassion is all but inescapable. And all He asks is that we shall forgive others as He forgives us. We can well afford to be generous.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity
November 20, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 535 Tune, Lancashire

Mass in E Horatio W. Parker

Introit I know the thoughts that I think towards you saith the Lord thoughts of peace and | not of evil : ye shall call upon Me and I will hearken unto you and I will turn away your captivity from all | places.

PSALM. Lord Thou art become gracious unto Thy | land : Thou hast turned away the captivi | ty of Jacob.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. I know.

Gradual It is Thou O Lord That savest us from our | enemies : and put-test them to confu | sion that hate us. We make our boast of God
all day | long ; and will praise Thy | Name forever.

Alleluia Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy | borders : and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 257 Tune, St. Bees

Offertory—Hymn 445 Tune, St. Anne

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—St. Ann Fugue Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 148, 150

Gregorian Tones VII-2, IV-6

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in E

Sir John Stainer

Office Hymn 50

Tune, Ellers

Anthem

Charles Steggall

Remember now thy Creator, in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them.

While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain: in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few and those that look out of the windows be darkened and the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

Vanity of vanities all is vanities, saith the preacher.

Remember now thy Creator, in the days of thy youth.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

Thanksgiving Day

Thursday, November 24th

High Mass, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns—421, 420

MASS—Missa Marialis

Ancient Plainchant

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The preacher this morning will be the Rev. Frank Stanton Burns Gavin, B. H. L., Ph. D., Th. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History, of the General Theological Seminary.

The Thanksgiving Day services will be the usual Thursday services, excepting that the 9.30 Mass will be a High Mass. The offering at the 9.30 Mass will be for the Episcopal Hospital.

The annual registration of members of the Red Cross is now due. Membership blanks may be obtained at the Rector's office any morning from 10 to 1. The registration fee is $1. I would very greatly appreciate it if you would enroll at St. Mark's, in order that we may have a sense of solidarity in our support of this work.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SUNDAY NEXT BEFORE ADVENT, 1927.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Spiritual writers are very insistent in reminding us that every thing depends upon the will and that every thing else may be disregarded. They tell us that thoughts and feelings do not matter. Suggestions and emotions are negligible. Sometimes suggestions come like hurricanes and emotions like volcanoes. But they cannot change the course of action dictated by a rightly directed and firmly set will. The will is the last court of appeal and its decisions are final.

One hears much about temperament. As nearly as I can make out, temperament is a polite word for temper. A temperamental person seems to be a more or less gifted person who is frequently in a bad temper, of one kind or another. A very gifted person, it seems, may be allowed a wide latitude for temper. As a matter of fact, a temperamental person is a person of weak will.

All this is but a simple reflection upon an obvious fact in the natural life. It is with the spiritual life that we are concerned. The will is the centre of action in all the affairs of the soul. It is the Nazareth of oblation. It is the desert of temptation. It is the Gethsemane of prayer. It is the Calvary of sacrifice. It is the Garden of the risen life.

This is really true because every thing happens by an act of the will.

Not many are called to conspicuous service. Most of us are in the ranks. What we are called to do is for the most part hidden from observation. The daily oblation of the will for good works is known only to God. But it is this oblation which makes small actions great and lends dignity to the commonplace.

It is this steady exercise of will power which prepares the soul for temptation. Our wills do not suddenly become strong. Growth in will power takes time. And it takes patience. And one who would possess a strong will, must not despise the days of small things. Very often when we finish a day, we are inclined to feel that nothing worth while has really been done. A very great deal has been done, if we have been consistently uniting our wills with the will of God, all the day long. We shall have built a defence against future temptations. That is a very great day's work.

The offering of the will to God is the essence of prayer. However much we may desire something, back of the desire there must always be a surrendered will. The real answer to any prayer is the acquired power to say "nevertheless." This kind of will is really free. But it obtains its freedom with a great price.

A will like this makes little sacrifices simply and great sacrifices superbly. It never swerves nor hesitates. It always runs true to form. It has a curious way of doing simple things in a great way, and great things in a simple way.

It dies and rises and lives again many times a day. Each death is more heroic and each resurrection is more glorious, and each new life is on a higher level. So it goes from strength to strength until at last it attains the glorious liberty wherewith Christ hath made it free.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent
November 27, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 68 - - - Tune, Pearsall

Mass Missa Marialis - - - Ancient Plainchant

Introit Unto Thee O Lord will I lift up my soul; my God I have put my | trust in Thee: O let me not be confounded neither let mine enemies triumph over me: for all they that hope in Thee shall not be a | shamed.

PSALM. Show me Thy ways O | Lord; and | teach me Thy paths.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Unto Thee.

Gradual All they that hope in Thee O | Lord; shall | not be ashamed.
Show me Thy ways O | Lord; and teach | me Thy paths.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Show us Thy mercy O | Lord; and grant us
Thy salvation. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 63 - - - Tune, Merton

Offertory—Hymn 62 - - - Tune, Sleepers Wake

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude and Fugue in E minor - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 7 - - - Gregorian Tone I-A-1

Magnificat in D minor - - - Walmisley

Nunc Dimittis (Verses in Faux Bourdon)
by an unknown Edwardine composer, 1547

Office Hymn 62 - - - Tune, Sleepers Wake

Anthem - - - Thomas Attwood

Enter not into judgment with Thy servant, O Lord; for in Thy sight shall no man living be justified.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Wednesday is St. Andrew's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The pledges for the Budget and Envelope Systems for 1928, with the letter from the Accounting Warden calling attention to the financial need of the parish for the new year, have been mailed to the parishioners. It is earnestly desired that a prompt return of the pledges be made, in order that the estimate of the probable revenue for the maintenance of the parish may be made up.

This week the appeal for the Christmas Fund will be mailed. We are asking for at least $600 for Christmastide for St. Michael's and St. Mary's Missions and our own Choir and Acolytes.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, December 1st, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, December 1st, at 3 P. M., Speaker: Rev. H. Cresson McHenry.

The Altar Guild of the Diocese of Pennsylvania will hold a Diocesan Meeting for all members, Wednesday, November 30, 1927, at the Church Women's Club, 134 South 22nd Street.

6.00 P. M. Light Supper (30 cents)

6.45 P. M. Meeting

Subject for discussion: "Problems of Altar work in the Diocese and in the Parish." 7.30 P. M. Service in St. James' Church, with address by the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, D. D., Rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today is the beginning of the Christian year. The subject of this letter is the Teaching Value of the Christian year. There is an ordered sequence in teaching and devotional practise which calls for such a response of heart, mind, soul and strength as to ensure a solid grounding in a working knowledge of the Christian Religion. There is a safeguard in the fact that the teaching involved is the whole teaching of the whole Church, throughout the whole world. It guarantees uniformity of faith and practise. It affords protection against disquieting types of what is oddly miscalled "Churchmanship." It preserves the sense of proportion in contact with various and varying parochial customs. The Seasons prescribed in the Kalendar are commonly observed the world over. The Holy Days of obligations are recognized everywhere. The manner of observance is uniform. The Collects, Epistles, Gospels, Psalms and Lessons are a common possession of a common prayer life. Wherever one is, one may practise one's religion in the accustomed way.

A good Kalendar is necessary. The best one is The Christian Year and Church Kalendar. The Kalendar ought to be placed where it will be seen. It serves as a daily reminder.

The Sunday Collect should "serve all the week" for private as well as for common or public prayer. The Collect for each Holy Day and Saint's Day should be used on its appointed day.

The Epistle and Gospel should serve for Bible reading.

The Lessons may be used if time can be arranged for more Scripture reading.

The Proper Preface should be read on appointed days.

The centre of devotion is the Mass. There we have the Gospel in action. There we have the content of the Gospel set forth in such a manner as to engage the use of every sense of perception. No avenue of approach is neglected. The Sacred Drama shows forth Our Lord's death on the Cross and includes every event of our redemption, from Bethlehem to Heaven.

A book of private prayer is necessary to supplement the Book of Common Prayer. There are many such books. The Treasury of Devotion has served this purpose long and well. The book of private devotion should always be brought to Church. It should be used while one is waiting for Mass to begin. It should be used in following the Mass. It should be used after Mass is finished. It will aid in concentrating one's entire attention upon God and will ward off distractions. One does not go to Church to see people. One goes to escape people and see God.

The book of private devotion should be used for visits to the Church on occasions other than times of public devotion. One should make these personal visits a part of one's devotional life. One should habitually and frequently go to Church on week days for private devotion. Such visits are not acts of extraordinary piety. They do not indicate pretensions to superiority in devotion or professions of righteousness above the average. It is only normal to go to God for help, and strength and comfort. There is no place better than the Church to fight one's battles on one's knees. The greater the need, the more frequent should be the visits. If when you are making your visit, you see some one you know, do not speak to them. At such times silence and non-observance are the supreme social virtues. Each person should be left, where they wish to be, alone with God, before, during and after the visit. It is for this purpose that the Church is kept quiet and dimly lighted. It is not always easy to keep a beautiful Church quiet for sight seers are not proverbially prayerful. But it can be done. Many, many people come to this Church to pray. Many people have found peace here. And, please God, many will, long after you and I are gone.

All this lays the foundation and provides the back ground for the devout life.

So, we begin another year.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

A. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent
December 4, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 57 Tune, St. Thomas

Mass Missa Marialis Ancient Plainchant

Introit O people of Sion behold the Lord will come to | save the nations;
and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause His glorious voice | to be heard.

PSALM. Hear O Thou Shepherd of | Israel; Thou that leadest
| Joseph like a sheep.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. O people.

Gradual Out of Sion hath God appeared in perfect | beauty: our God shall come and shall | not keep silence. Gather My Saints together |
unto Me: those that have made a covenant with | Me with sacrifice.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The powers of heaven shall be | shaken: and then shall they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 60 Tune, Nox Praecessit

Offertory—Hymn 58 Tune, Munich

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 331 Tune St. Vincent

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—From “The Last Judgment” Louis Spohr

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 25

Gregorian Tone I-A-10

Magnificat in D minor

Walmisley

Nunc Dimittis (Verses in Faux Bourdon)

by an unknown Edwardine composer, 1547

Office Hymn 60

Tune, Nox Praecessit

Anthem

Louis Spohr

BASS ARIA—Thus saith the Lord: The end is near, and all the winds of heav'n proclaim its coming. Prepare to meet thy God! I will reward thee even as thy works have been, and judge thee as thou hast deserved. To Me is every action known, each secret thought is unveiled before Me. The day of wrath is near, the Almighty shall reveal His power! The reaper's song is silent in the field, and the shepherd's voice on the mountain. The valleys then shall shake with fear; and the hills shall tremble. It comes, the day of terror comes! The awful morning dawns. Thy mighty arm, O God, is uplifted; Thou shalt shake the earth and heavens! They shall shrivel as a scroll, when Thou in wrath appearest. For men shall cast away their silver, and count their gold as dross; it shall not save in the great and awful day.
Where is now the monarch's might? Where all his splendor? Where the dreams of earthly greatness? The princes of the earth shall cast their crowns before Thee, and all the power of the mighty shall fail, when Thou, O Lord, shalt come to judge the world.

CHORUS—If with your whole hearts ye humbly seek Me, I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and if ye return to Me sincerely I will receive you from all the ends of the earth. I will be your Father and ye shall be My people. Thus saith the Lord.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

We are again reminding you of the appeal for the Christmas Fund. We need at least $600 for Christmastide for St. Michael's and St. Mary's Missions and our own Choir and Acolytes. An early response to this appeal will be greatly appreciated, as the time is limited in order to provide the Christmas entertainments.

There will be a retreat for teachers and other women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Saturday, December 10th. Conductor, the Rev. J. W. Sutton, D. D., Vicar of Trinity Chapel, New York City. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M., ends at 5 P. M. Those desiring to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1927.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The first note of Advent is repentance. The second is hope. On the first Sunday, we prayed for grace to cast away the works of darkness and put upon us the armour of light. That means a lifelong battle. It means a wrestling against the rulers of the darkness of this world. There is something very sinister about an enemy in the dark. One never knows where he is or when he will strike. An open enemy is easier to deal with. When one fights in the dark, one never knows the lay of the land. A single mis-step may mean death. A single false move may be fatal. It would all be appalling if it were not for the armour of light which is provided for the encounter. It is this armour of light which gives the advantage to the Christian. Our Lord is the true light. In the light of Our Lord, darkness is dispelled, and all things are seen as they are. The works of darkness are revealed in all their actual hideousness. Sin is seen as sin in all its repulsiveness. The world and the flesh and the devil cannot stand the test of daylight.

On the other hand, the Christian virtues only need the light to reveal their exquisite beauty. Once seen, they exercise powers of attraction so compelling as to draw men and women to renounce all that they have valued and to leave all whom they have loved, that they may attain one virtue, if only one.

The light of God dispels illusions, shatters shams and manifests the truth.

It shines in darkness; and the darkness comprehends it not. The worldling does not know what it is all about, this visiting of Churches and going to Mass, and receiving Sacraments, and offering prayers. He does not understand the vocabulary. It puzzles him, irritates him and baffles him. He cannot make it out. And perhaps the most perplexing thing of all to him, is the fact that the Church survives the shocks that destroy his own world. When every familiar thing is gone, the Church goes on as though nothing had happened.

Just here is the unfailing fulfillment of the promises of God. All the hope lies in those promises. They cannot fail because He who promises is God. He has promised that the gates of hell shall not prevail against His Church. He has promised that whosoever cometh to Him, He will in no wise cast out. He has promised that he that believeth and is Baptized shall be saved. He has promised that the Holy Ghost shall guide into all truth. He has promised that whosoever sins His Church remits, they are remitted. He has promised that whoso eateth His Flesh and drinketh His Blood hath everlasting life, and that He will raise him up at the last day. In these promises the Christian trusts. And he rejoices in hope. And not only so, but he glories in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience; and patience experience; and experience hope. The experience is universal and the hope is always justified in the end.

The comfort of the Scriptures, the consolations of the Church, the examples of the Saints all provide the grounds for the hope that makes it possible for the weakest of us to say "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent
December 11, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 66 - - - Tune, Veni Emmanuel

Mass Missa Marialis - - - Ancient Plainchant

Introit Rejoice in the Lord alway; and again I | say Rejoice: let your moderation be known unto all men; the Lord | is at hand. Be careful for nothing; but in every | thing by prayer; let your requests be made known | unto God.

PSALM. And the peace of God which passeth all under | standing: shall | keep your hearts and minds.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Rejoice.

Gradual Shew Thyself, O Lord, Thou that sittest upon the | Cherubim; stir | up Thy strength and come. Hear O Thou Shepherd of | Israel; Thou that leadest | Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Stir up Thy strength | O Lord; and come and help us. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 282 - - - Tune, Winchester New

Offertory—Hymn 67 - - - Tune, Beverly

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 331 - - - Tune St. Vincent

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude in G - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 94 - - -

Gregorian Tone IV-4

Magnificat in D minor - - -

Walmisley

Nunc Dimittis (Verses in Faux Bourdon)
by an unknown Edwardine composer, 1547

Office Hymn 66 - - -

Tune, Veni Emmanuel

Anthem—"The Wilderness" - - -

S. S. Wesley

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly and rejoice with joy and singing.

Say to them of a fearful heart, Be strong. fear not; behold your God, He will come and save you.

Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing;

For in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

And a highway shall be there: it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it, but the redeemed shall walk there.

And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Organ Postlude - - -

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

The Christmas Fund is short of the goal desired, $600. We should like to have it reach this amount.

Next Sunday, December 18th, we shall have the last of our three Special Offerings this year for Missions. The letter from the Committee on Missions will be mailed to the parishioners this week. This letter will show the amount needed to meet our "Expectation" of $15,000 for 1927, and will also call attention to the deficit of approximately $60,000 on account of the $250,000 pledged by the Bishop of the Diocese. St. Mark's has always most generously responded to the Missionary work of the Church, and the Committee feels that this response will be met in the same way.

A very useful little Book has been called to my attention. The title is The Church's Year compiled by A. McCheane, published by the S. P. C. K. and on sale at Jacobs' Book Store.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Third Sunday in Advent centers our thoughts on the Christian Ministry. The Preface to the Ordinal declares that "it is evident unto all men, diligently reading Holy Scriptures and ancient Authors, that from the Apostles' time there have been these Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church—Bishops, Priests and Deacons—which Offices were evermore had in such reverend estimation, that no man might presume to execute any of them, except he were first called, tried, examined, and known to have such qualities as are requisite for the same; and also by public Prayer, with Imposition of Hands, were approved and admitted thereunto by lawful Authority. And therefore to the intent that these Orders may be continued, and reverently used and esteemed in this Church, no man shall be accounted or taken to be a lawful Bishop, Priest or Deacon in this Church, or suffered to execute any of the said Functions, except he be called, tried, and examined and admitted thereunto, according to the Form hereafter following, or hath Episcopal Consecration or Ordination."

The Collect for the day contains a petition for "the Ministers and Stewards of thy Mysteries."

"Let a man so account of us" writes Saint Paul in the Epistle, "as of the Ministers of Christ, and Stewards of the Mysteries of God." This is the work or craft of the Priesthood. Priestcraft consists in self-effacing service of Our Lord, and selfless administration of His Sacraments. Its purpose is to protect people against the peril of having any man come between themselves and God.

The priest teaches nothing by private interpretation. He speaks not for himself, but for the Church. He has no personal and private opinions to voice. His business is to state officially what the Church teaches. As he speaks he represents not himself, but the Church. He speaks as a Servant and Steward. He does not come between our souls and God.

When the Priest Baptizes at the Font, He acts as Servant and Steward. God gives the cleansing and the regeneration and the virtues. The individual priest represents the universal priesthood. He is part of that. Apart from that he is nothing. So in cases of emergency when it is permitted to a lay person to Baptize, it is the Church which Baptizes. The Church is Our Lord's Mystical Body. The Minister and Steward does not come between the soul and God.

When the Bishop lays his hands upon the person being Confirmed and the Holy Ghost imparts His Sevenfold Gifts, the Bishop acts as Servant and Steward. He does not come between the soul and God.

When the Priest sits in the Confessional and pronounces the words of absolution over the penitent, he acts as Minister and Steward, whose business it is to deliver the gift which his Master sends. He does not come between the soul and God.

When the priest gives us the Blessed Sacrament, he acts as Servant and Steward. It is not the priest who comes to us. It is Our Lord. The priest attends upon God as any servant waits upon his master. He does not come between the soul and God.

When the priest anoints us, he acts as Servant and Steward. God gives, the priest brings. He does not come between ourselves and God.

I have intentionally used the phrase "come between the soul and God," because it is often used against us. It is a foolish phrase. Everything depends on who it is that comes and why.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 12

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent
December 18, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 54 - - - Tune, Bristol

Mass Missa Marialis - - - Ancient Plainchant

Introit Remember us, O Lord, according to the favour that Thou bearest unto Thy people; O visit us with Thy salvation: that we may see the felicity of Thy chosen; and rejoice in the gladness of Thy people, and give thanks with Thine in heritance.

PSALM. We have sinned with our fathers: we have done amiss | and dealt wickedly.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Remember us.

Gradual The Lord is nigh unto all them that call up | on Him: yea, all such as call up | on Him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the | Lord: and let all flesh give thanks un | to His Holy Name.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Stir up Thy strength | O Lord; and come and help us. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 61 - - - Tune, Lancashire

Offertory—Hymn 70 - - - Tune, St. Stephen

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 331 - - - Tune St. Vincent

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Fugue in G - - - Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 103 - - - Gregorian Tone V-3

Magnificat in D minor - - - Walmisley

Nunc Dimittis (Verses in Faux Bourdon)
by an unknown Edwardine composer, 1547

Office Hymn 61 - - - Tune, Lancashire

Anthem - - - Henry Purcell

Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Offerings at all the services today are for D. D. and F. Missions. The fiscal year of the Diocese closes on December 31st and today is practically the last opportunity to make up the amount of our "Expectation" of $15,000 for 1927.

Wednesday is St. Thomas, The Apostle's, Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Chairman of the Pennsylvania Chapter of the Red Cross writes me to ask if it is possible to secure twenty-five new annual members at $1 per year from St. Mark's Parish. Enrollment may be made at the Rector's Office. This appeal of course concerns only those who are not already members.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

Christmas Day Services

Masses for Communion, 7, 8 and 9 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Serman, 11 A. M.
Evensong and Carols, 4 P. M.

My Dear People:

Joy, moderation, or reasonableness, hopefulness are the three words given us by Saint Paul in the Epistle for the day.

Prayer, supplication and thanksgiving are the spiritual exercises enjoined. The peace of God which passes all understanding is the reward promised to all who set themselves to this particular devotion, with this special intention.

The joy and reasonableness and hopefulness, like the peace, are gifts of God. They are not natural dispositions. They are not produced by or affected by natural environment. Very often they are flatly contrary to temperament and surroundings.

If one finds that one is not growing in joy and reasonableness and hopefulness, then there is something wrong in one's personal practise of religion. The defect lies in ourselves. The remedy will be found in prayer.

Saint Paul tells us, first of all, not to allow ourselves to be anxious. "Be anxious for nothing." No matter what the trouble is, giving way to anxiety is the wrong way to deal with it. Now some persons have a natural disposition to worry and to yield to depression. It isn't generally considered wrong. But it is wrong. It was Our Lord who said, "Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith." It is lack of faith that drives one to depression. And lack of faith is really a serious fault. We must always regard the tendency to depression as a temptation to be resisted. It is a temptation that ought not to be dwelt upon. It must be put away as quickly as possible. If we have been depressed we ought not to allow ourselves to be depressed because we have been depressed. We must leave it behind and not look back. And we must arm ourselves with a firm intention to resist. There is nothing wrong that God cannot put right.

We must begin immediately to pray. We must offer ourselves to God. We must ask Him to examine our hearts and minds and wills. While God is doing this, it is well for us to keep very quiet, just as we would if a doctor were examining us. We must leave everything to God. The first thing to do is to go to Communion. This places us in God's hands. Next to that a visit to the Sacrament helps most. All we need to do is to kneel, very still, and look at the Tabernacle.

After a while, it will be right for us to offer vocal prayer. We ought to do this in a very simple way, avoiding any emotional effort. It is only necessary to make our conscious wants known. We need only use simple and direct words. We should do this with all confidence. At the same time we should make ourselves realize that God knows more than we do, and that God never makes a mistake.

Then we must, but without nervous strain, think of some of the things we have to be thankful for. And we must deliberately dwell on them. And then thank God for them, one by one. A self-examination for mercies is a useful and necessary exercise. We ought to count our blessings as well as our sins. We ought to make a large place in our devotions for thanksgiving as well as for confession.

And then slowly the peace will descend and envelop us. It will be the peace that the world cannot give or take away.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Christmas Day

December 25, 1927

Services Today

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Carols	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 72 - - - Tune, Adeste Fideles
 { 71 - - - Tune, Winchester Old
 { 73 - - - Tune, Mendelssohn

Mass in G - - - Peter Franz Schubert

Introit Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given: and the government shall be upon | His shoulder: and His Name shall be called Wonderful, | Counsellor.

PSALM. O sing unto the Lord a | new song: for He hath | done marvellous things.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Unto us.

Gradual All the ends of the world have seen the salvation of our | God; shew yourselves joyful unto the Lord, | all ye lands The Lord declared His sal | vation: His righteousness hath He openly shewed in the | sight of the heathen.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The Lord said | unto Me: Thou art My Son, this day have I begotten Thee. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 78 - - - Tune, St. Louis

Offertory—Hymn 79 - - - Tune, Carol

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Hosannah

Wachs

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 132 - - - Gregorian Tone VI-b

Magnificat { in A - - - Sir John Stainer
 Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 72 - - - Tune, Adeste Fideles

Offertory Anthem - - - Adolphe Adam

O holy night, the stars are brightly shining,
 It is the night of the dear Saviour's birth.
 Long lay the world in sin and error pining,
 Till He appeared and the soul felt its worth.
 A thrill of hope the weary world rejoices.
 For yonder breaks a new and glorious morn.
 Fall on your knees! O hear the angel voices!
 O night divine, when Christ was born.

Led by the light of Faith serenely beaming,
 With glowing hearts, by His cradle we stand.
 So led by the light of a star sweetly beaming,
 Here came the wise men, from the Orient land.
 The King of Kings lay thus in lowly manger,
 In all our trials born to be our friend.
 He knows our need! He guardeth us from danger,
 Behold your King! Before the Lowly bend!

Carols { The First Nowell
 { God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen
 { Good King Wenceslaus
 { Silent Night, Holy Night

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

All the Offerings on Christmas Day will be for the premium on behalf of the staff of clergy of the parish, under the Church Pension Fund.

Monday, St. Stephen's Day, Tuesday, St. John Evangelist Day, Wednesday, Holy Innocents' Day, there will be an additional Mass at 9.30 A. M., and the usual additional Mass at 9.30 A. M. on Thursday.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

CHRISTMAS DAY, 1927.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we celebrate the Festival of the Nativity of Our Lord. We adore our most holy Infant Redeemer. He is truly God. He is perfectly Man. He is one Person. There are in Him two distinct natures, the Divine and the human. He is the only-begotten Son of God; Begotten of His Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of very God; Begotten not made; Being of one substance with the Father; By whom all things were made; Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man.

He is God. God is love. Therefore He is love Incarnate. He was made flesh, and dwelt among us. In His own Body, He lived with us. He shared our life. He spared Himself nothing. Just because He made Himself poor, He has dignified poverty. Just because He toiled, He has ennobled labor. Just because He endured temptation, He has made temptations to be rungs on the ladder of virtue. Just because He bore sorrows, He has given to sorrows the properties of cleansing flames. Just because He suffered pain, He has charged pain with expiatory virtues. Just because He died for us, He has made death to be a liberating reparation. Just because He rose from the dead, He has restored to us everlasting life. Just because He overcame the sharpness of death, He has opened the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers.

The Angels sang on the night of His Nativity. Only a few shepherds heard that song. He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not. His home was a stable. His cradle was a manger.

This Christmas Day is in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven. Christians are assembling at Christian Altars all over the world. With adoring hearts and outstretched hands, Christians are receiving the Blessed Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Our Lord. Every Christian heart is a manger today, in which the Holy Child is cradled. The Blessed Sacrament is Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever. The Holy Ghost has led us into all the truth. We have Him. We know Him. We adore Him. We love Him.

God has given us our appointed time in which to live. This Christmas Day lacks no mystery or wonder or beauty or joy. It is all here because He is here.

Each one of us offers Him a gift. Some offer brave poverty. Some offer patient toil. Some offer undismayed temptation. Some offer sharp sorrow hidden with a smile. Some offer pain with expiatory intention. Some offer disappointed ambitions and unfilled desires. Some offer the golden glow of youth and high hope and joyous adventure. And little Children offer innocence and confiding trust and untroubled merriment. Every heart is an instrument with a part to play in the throbbing human symphony of joy and pain, which floats up, through the incense smoke and above the candle flames, until it is merged into the Angelic Gloria in Excelsis which fills Heaven and earth.

Yes, I know, the years bring changes. But years cannot change hearts. Each year may bring a richer heart. You have more to offer today than you ever had before. Take your place. Play your part. Venite adoremus Dominum.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Feast of the Circumcision January 1, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Carols	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 80 Tune, Regent Square

Mass in G Peter Franz Schubert

Introit God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were | under the law: that we might receive the adoption | of sons.

PSALM. Lord, Thou art become gracious unto Thy | land; Thou hast turned away the captivi | ty of Jacob.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. God sent forth.

Gradual In Christ Jesus we have redemption through His | Blood; accord- ing to the riches of His grace, wherein He hath a | bounded toward us. And we have known and | believed; the love that | God hath to us,

Alleluia, Alleluia, We therefore love | God; because God first loved us, Alleluia,

Sequence—Hymn 89 Tune, Oriel

Offertory—Hymn 74 Tune, Divinum Mystrium

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Sit Laus, Sit Sonora W. T. Best

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 97 Gregorian Tone V-2

Magnificat } in A Sir John Stainer
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 89 Tune, Oriel

Offertory Anthem—"Nazareth" Gounod

Though poor be the chamber come here and adore.
Lo, the Lord of Heaven hath to mortals given Life for ever more.
Shepherds, who folded your flocks beside you, Tell what was told by angel voices near.

To you this day is born He who will guide you.
Through paths of peace to living waters clear.
Kings from a far land, draw near and behold Him.
Led by the beam whose warning bade ye come;
Your crowns cast down, with robe royal enfold Him;
Your King descends to earth from brighter home.
Wind, to the cedars proclaim the joyful story.
Wave of the sea, the tidings bear afar.
The night is gone! behold in all its glory.
See broad and bright rises the eternal Morning Star!

Carols	{	All My Heart This Night Rejoices	545
		When Christ Was Born of Mary Free	547
		Silent Night, Holy Night	546

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, January 5th, at 7.45 A. M.

The annual meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, January 5th, at 3 P. M. Speaker, Rev. John C. McKim, of Japan.

Friday is the Feast of the Epiphany. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Men's Choir will sing the Mass on the first Sunday after Epiphany.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FEAST OF THE CIRCUMCISION, 1928.

My Dear People:

"His name was called Jesus". "Thou shalt call His name Jesus for He shall save His people from their sins". I wonder how many have suffered retardment in the spiritual life from having been misled by a misplaced emphasis on the horrors of the punishment for sin, rather than on the horrors of sin itself. The thought of the punishment for sin is not so arresting as the thought of the punishment of sin. And it is less convincing because it is less obvious. The fear of future punishment rarely deters a person from immediate enjoyment of "the pleasures of sin for a season". The stark, ghastly discovery that there is no pleasure in actual sin at all, for a season or a fraction of a season is the instant punishment of sin. It is the pain of loss. The horror lies in the discovery of loss. In having attempted "to see life" and having only succeeded in losing it. In having groped for "self-expression" and having only grasped self-destruction. One does not need to wait for a distant future in another world to verify this. It is a present fact, here in this world.

An age like ours, living in a post-war period should not need to be reminded of this, one would naturally be inclined to suppose. It is a strange perverseness which leads people to seek relief from the punishment of sin, in yet more sin. One thing is certain, when experience leads to the bitter realization of the futility of sin, then a revival of religion will be due. Perhaps nothing else will do it. It is a pity that such a price should be paid for gaining knowledge which might so easily be obtained elsewhere and in a happier way. Particularly as the world has to come to it any way, sooner or later. When all is said and done, "there is none other Name under Heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved". To say, that outside the Church there is no salvation, seems harsh. But it is an awkward fact to dispute because not once, but times without number and always, the world has awakened to find it true.

As you and I begin again to retrace the road from the Crib to the Cross, there is not one of us who does not find that it is the way of Life. The regular use of the means of Grace invariably results in greater freedom, deeper peace and keener joy in living. Punishment is transformed into purgation when the Grace of the Sacrament of Penance sets the heart at liberty. Strength is born out of weakness when Holy Communion restores lost union with God.

No wonder Catholic worship is entrancingly lovely. A religion which saves from sin could not be anything else but radiant and vibrant and triumphant.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after the Epiphany
January 8, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Carols	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymns in Procession { Lo- the Pilgrim Magi - Tune, Goshen
 { Brightest and Best Tune, Morning Star

Lo, the pilgrim Magi
 Leave their royal halls,
 And with eager footsteps
 Speed to Bethlehem's walls;
 As they onward journey,
 Faith which firmly rests
 Upon Hope unswerving,
 Triumphs in their breasts.

Oh, what joys ecstatic
 Thrilled each heart, from far,
 When, to guide their footsteps
 Gleamed that Beacon Star;
 O'er that home so holy,
 Pouring down its ray,
 Where the cradled Infant
 With His Mother lay.

Costly pomp and pageant
 Earthly kings array;
 He, a mightier Monarch,
 Hath a nobler sway;
 Straw may be His pallet,
 Mean His garb may be,
 Yet with power transcendent
 He all hearts can free.

At His crib they worship,
 Prostrate on the floor;
 And their God, there present,
 In that Babe adore;
 Let us to that Infant,
 As their offspring true,
 Hearts with faith o'erflowing
 Give, our tribute due.

Love for gold presenting,
 Unto Christ our King;
 To the Man pure bodies,
 Myrr-like, chastely bring;
 Unto Him, as incense,
 Vow and prayer address:
 So, with meetest off'rings
 Him our God confess.

Glory to the Father,
 Fount of Light alone;
 Who unto the Gentiles,
 Made His glory known.
 Equal praise and glory,
 Blessed Son, to Thee,
 And to Thee, sweet Spirit,
 Evermore shall be. Amen.

Mass in C (Men's Voices) - - Wilhelm Tschirch

Introit On the highest throne I beheld a Man sitting, Whom a multitude of angels worship, | singing together; and behold His Name and empire are forever | lasting.

PSALM. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye | lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before His | presence with a song.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
 As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. On the highest.

Gradual Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of | Israel: Which only doeth wondrous things from | the beginning. The mountains also shall bring | peace; and the little hills righteousness | unto the people.

Alleluia, Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye | lands; serve the Lord with gladness. Alleluia.

Praetorius

Sequence

Lo, how a rose e'er blooming
 From tender stem hath sprung!
 Of Jesse's lineage coming,
 As men of old have sung.
 As men of old have sung.
 It came a flowret bright
 Amid the cold of winter
 When half spent was the night.

Isaiah, 'twas, foretold it,
 The Rose I have in mind,
 With Mary we behold it,
 The Virgin Mother kind.
 To shew God's love aright
 She bore to men a Saviour
 When half spent was the night.

Offertory--Hymn 74

Tune, Divinum Mysterium

Post Communion--Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude--March of the Magi

Dubois

Service sung by the Men's Choir of St. Mark's

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 67

Gregorian Tone VIII-3

Magnificat
 Nunc Dimittis } in A

Sir John Stainer

Office Hymn 94

Tune, Dix

Offertory Anthem--We Three Kings of Orient Are 554

Carols--

Saw You Never in the Twilight

553

Silent Night, Holy Night

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The eleven o'clock Mass to-day will be sung by the Men's Choir.

Individual instruction for confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1928.

My Dear People:

I am thinking today of the interior light which guided the Magi. The star which went before them would never have been a sign for them, if the interior light had been lacking. It would only have been a meaningless new star. They would never have followed it till it came and stood over where the young Child was. They would never have fallen down and worshipped Him; they would never have presented unto Him gifts; gold and frankincense and myrrh. All this happened because of the inner light to which they had not been disobedient. It was that inner light which had guided their feet into the way of peace.

It is for this inner light that we pray in the Collect for today. The light which enables souls to perceive and know what things they ought to do. This is what provides the remote preparation for the great discovery. That may be a long way off. But there is always sufficient light for each day as it comes. Faithful response to the light one has will ensure unreserved response to the full light when it comes. Most of us, all of us I think, live but one day at a time. If we are wise we do. There is always light for each day. And one need not try to see farther ahead than that. Each day's duty is made plain. There is always grace and power for that one day. "Give us this day our daily bread" is our prayer for our soul's sustenance, by which we receive grace and power. For the rest one need only remember never to despise the small beginnings, and never to treat small duties as trifles. One need only try to live up to this, to learn what a very difficult thing it is to practise. It is the process, however, by which the soul is schooled to work in the light. It is the pure heart that sees God. And hearts are purified by faithfully fulfilling the daily demands of the laws of the spiritual world. There is a spiritual world. And there are spiritual laws. And there are spiritual things. And they can only be spiritually discerned. It all takes time, and it takes patience. There is always the star which goes before. The road may be long, but it leads to Bethlehem. The Crib stands at the end of it. And the Holy Child is waiting there for all of us to present our gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh. Our obedience is our gold. Our devotion is our frankincense. Our dedicated suffering is our myrrh.

To some souls is given the Way of the Shepherds. The multitude of an heavenly host sing Gloria in Excelsis. And the response comes instantly and eagerly. They go with haste and find the Babe lying in the Manger. Such souls are rare.

For most of us it means a remote preparation, a star and a long, long road.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Third Sunday after the Epiphany
January 22, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 105 - - - - - Tune, St. Cecilia

Mass in C - - - - - Berthold Tours

Introit Worship Him, all ye gods; Sion heard of it, | and rejoiced: and the daughters of Judah | were glad.

PSALM. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad there | of; yea, the multitude of the isles | may be glad thereof.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Worship Him.

Gradual The heathen shall fear Thy Name, O | Lord: and all the kings of the | earth Thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up | Sion; and when His | glory shall appear.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad there | of; yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 100 - - - - - Sardius

Offertory—Hymn 96 - - - - - Tune, Salzburg

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Grand Chorus - - - - - Georges MacMaster

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 29 - - - - - Gregorian Tone V-3

Magnificat } in G - - - - - W. A. C. Cruickshank
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 100 - - - - - Tune, Sardius

Offertory Anthem - - - - - Mendelssohn

There shall a star come out of Jacob, and a sceptre shall rise out of Israel, with might destroying princes and cities.

As bright the star of morning gleams,
So Jesus sheddeth glorious beams
Of light and consolation.

Thy word, O Lord,
Radiance darting, truth imparting,
Gives salvation;
Thine be praise and adoration.

Organ Postlude - - - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

St. Mark's "Expectation" of $15,000.00 for 1927 has been paid in full.

The amount of the first of our three Special Offerings for D. D. and F. Missions for 1928, on January 18th, was $1,137.12.

Wednesday is the Conversion of St. Paul. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

the Epistle
THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today contains the record of two miracles. There is a miracle of cleansing and a miracle of healing. In both there is the manifestation of the Divine Compassion. The leper and the centurion's servant in one day received the impress of the love of God. No one knows what immediate effect it had on either of them. Of course there was joy and gratitude and life-long remembrance. The rest is hidden. But there had been the touch of God.

The point that matters most, I think, is that each miracle recorded in the Gospels is a promise of the touch of God for each one of us, at least once in a lifetime. I am quite sure that it is possible for each person who reads this letter, to recall at least one such experience. I do not mean a miraculous healing. Though there will be some who have had that. I do not mean an arresting physical experience. Though there will be many who have had that. But somewhere at some time each one of us has received or will receive consciously the touch of God. It may not be realized at the time. But the time will come when each of us will look back and wonder and remember. Then, when that time comes, there will be only one explanation. "Jesus put forth His hand and touched him." There will be no other way to account for it. One such experience is enough for a lifetime.

More people have found it than there are records to show. More people are seeking it than there are open signs to prove. But of this I am sure. Back of all the noisy unbelief, back of all the self-assertive misbelief, back of all the obdurate controversy, back of all the violent intolerance, back of all the sworn enmities and back of all the mad, wild, hectic sin, there lies buried down deep in every single human heart, something that whispers, something that he who listens for it may hear, "Sir, we would see Jesus."

And always just ahead of this blindly following multitude and most often in the midst of it, is He whom all souls desire and in Whom alone all souls may find satisfaction. The crowds in our day are like the crowds in the old days. And He is the same yesterday, today and forever. The cries that He heard then, He hears now. The faith that saved then, saves now.

The centurion's example of intercession must not be forgotten. He obtained a miracle by his prayers. We may obtain miracles by ours. The longer we live and the more we pray, the longer our list of the names and the needs of others will be. The less we shall pray for ourselves and the more we shall pray for others. One of the surprises in store will be the discoveries of the persons who were healed in the self-same hour that we prayed before Crucifix and Tabernacle.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 18

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Fourth Sunday after the Epiphany
January 29, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 93 - - - - Tune, Stuttgart

Mass in C - - - - Berthold Tours

Introit O Lord God of Hosts, who is like | unto Thee? Thou rulest the raging of the sea, Thou stillest the waves thereof when | they arise.
The heavens are Thine, the earth | also is Thine: Thou hast laid the foundation of the round world, and all that therein is, Thou hast made the north | and the south.

PSALM. My song shall be | alway; of the loving | kindness of the Lord.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. O Lord God of Hosts.

Gradual Waters flowed over mine head; then I said, I am cut | off; I called upon Thy Name, O Lord; Thou | saidest, Fear not. When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the | Lord; and my prayer came in unto Thee, | O my God.

Alleluia, Alleluia. My help cometh even from the Lord, Who hath made heaven and | earth; behold, He that keepeth Israel, shall neither slumber nor sleep. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 416 - - - - Euroclydon

Offertory—Hymn 110 - - - - Tune, Dulce Carmen

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March from the Occasional Oratorio G. F. Handel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 107 - - - - Gregorian Tone VIII-1

Magnificat } in G - - - - W. A. C. Cruickshank
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 416 - - - - Tune, Euroclydon

Offertory Anthem - - - - Bach

My heart, ever faithful,
Sing praises, be joyful,
Thy Jesus is near!

Away with complaining,
Faith ever maintaining,
My Jesus is here!

—Soprano Aria from Pentecost Cantata.

Organ Postlude - - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Thursday, February 2nd, being the Feast of the Purification, there will be the usual 9.30 Mass.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, February 2nd, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, February 2nd, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Archdeacon Baskerville.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Conversion of Saint Paul was a great gift of God to us. Saint Paul in a very special sense is our Apostle. We may claim him with all confidence as our patron. We may read his letters, meditate on his life, give thanks for his conversion, rejoice over his Apostolate and invoke his intercession. He is a master of the science of the Christian life and of the art of Christian living. There is not a type of person nor a variety of experience concerning which he does not exhibit a deep, penetrating, discerning, intimate, understanding, sympathetic knowledge. He knows sinners and saints, and loves both. He is experienced in dealing with every sin and every symptom of sin. Nothing shocks him. Nothing baffles him. Nothing discourages him. He knows more about the world than the most blase worldling. He has no equal as a skilful director of souls. He is the most marvelous spiritual physician and surgeon, of all the Saints. His psychology is flawless. His religion is perfect. There is no entanglement with the world, the flesh and the devil beyond his skill. When Our Lord gave us Saint Paul he gave us a right, reverend, father in God, who leaves nothing to be desired, short of Him in whom all desire is fulfilled. Many saints have left us many books for spiritual reading. Over and over again, you will find that what other saints require a whole book to contain, Saint Paul states in a single sentence, a flaming coal of celestial fire. Drop one grain of the incense of prayer on that coal and the hidden sanctuary of the most desolated soul will become fragrant. No matter how dark the morning of the darkest day may be, a selected, single counsel of Saint Paul will give light before night falls, and will change that night into bright day. If you would know a new joy in the Communion of Saints, say "Saint Paul, Apostle of the Gentiles, my own dearest Apostle, receive me into your patronage, protection and prayers."

In these days of ecclesiastical distress, of papal claims and protestant disputations, Saint Paul is our mightiest human intercessor, next to Our Lady, in the Appellate Court of Heaven. We need have no misgivings. God has given us our Apostle. Our ecclesiastical affairs are safe in his hands. We are his spiritual children. He knows us. He loves us. He will not fail us.

Saint Paul is an indescribable comfort to those to whom God has given a desire for the conversion of souls. It may be the priest whose heart aches for the conversion of non-Christians, or the return of lapsed Christians. It may be the Christian who wistfully desires the conversion of some one who is very near and dear. The personal problem is so intricate and delicate. The wrong word at the right time, or the right word at the wrong time, might delay for years, the desired conversion. Or a personal defect or dereliction might prevent it forever, for all one knows. Any one who has lived through this, knows the agony. Saint Paul will manage it. Invoke him. And then be at peace.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Septuagesima Sunday

February 5, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 113 Tune, Pentecost

Mass in C Berthold Tours

Introit The sorrows of death compassed me: the pains of hell | came about me; in my trouble I called upon the Lord, and He heard my voice out of His holy temple.

PSALM. I will love Thee, O Lord, my | strength; the Lord is my stony rock, my defense, | and my Saviour.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. The sorrows of death.

Gradual The Lord will be a refuge in due time of trouble; and they that know Thy Name will put their trust in | Thee, for Thou, Lord hast never failed | them that seek Thee. For the poor shall not always be forgotten; the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish for | ever:
up, Lord, and let not man | have the upper hand.

Sequence—Hymn 114 Beethoven

Offertory—Hymn 497 Tune, Ora Labora

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.
O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 104 Gregorian Tone III-A-1

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in G W. A. C. Cruickshank

Office Hymn 114 Tune, Beethoven

Offertory Anthem Sir George C. Martin

Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat.

Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? And your labor for that which satisfieth not? Hearken diligently unto me, eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

Incline your ear and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live.

Then shall ye go out with joy, and be led forth with peace. The mountains and hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, instead of the briar shall come up the myrtle tree.

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come to the waters.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The members and friends of St. Mark's are invited to meet the Rector and other Clergy of the Parish, in the Parish Parlor, on Thursdays, February 9th and 16th, from 4 to 6 P. M. Will you please consider this a personal invitation.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Saint Paul gives us in the Epistle for today an instruction in Christian asceticism. He restores to the word its rightful content of virility and masterfulness and joy. He describes it as purposeful, spiritual exercise. He compares it with the physical discipline to which an athlete willingly submits for the satisfaction of winning. He makes one feel the glow and the thrill. He makes one almost see the prize and the crown. He makes an adventure out of keeping the body under subjection to the spirit. He makes it appear as the obviously worth-while thing in life, which makes the most of life. And then he confidently asserts that the surprising thing about Christian asceticism is that there is never anything uncertain about it. The Christian who develops it is bound to win. And the thing that is won will last forever. It will endure long after every earthly thing has faded away.

It is a lesson that is tremendously needed today. The desire for self-expression is right enough. There is nothing wrong about that. But the trouble is that the type of self-expression that is being exploited is rotten paganism. It is intellectualized animalism. Father McKim told us a little while ago, that people need not worry about having ape-like ancestors. What really needs to be worried about is the danger of having ape-like descendants. That happens when humans revert to the manners and customs of the zoo.

The normal life for a human being is the Christian life. It is normal to subdue the flesh to the spirit. To be supernatural is not to be unnatural. It is to be something not less, but more than natural. For human beings it is unnatural not to be supernatural. One only has to observe types to see that. Every one who is really worth while, every one who has done anything really worth while and has succeeded in keeping on doing worth-while things, and that is the real test, has accomplished the fact by subduing the flesh to the spirit. That is the secret of prizes and crowns. It isn't so much the prize or the crown that matters. It is the possession of the spirit that is swift enough and strong enough to win. That is the thing that matters.

Now it is the joy of religion that needs to be made clear. It is not made clear by presenting religion as a system which kills joy here for the hope of having it hereafter. There is no joy apart from religion here or hereafter. The point is that the joy begins here.

The Christian religion comes into a person's life, not to destroy, but to fulfill. It gives not less of life, but more. It makes the most of life. And it represses nothing at all. What it does do, is to establish contacts which bring the well-springs of life into right relation with the Divine life. It provides spiritual forces which transmute natural energies into spiritual powers. Its disciplines refuse release to each and every impulse until that impulse has been governed and directed beyond a peradventure of its going wrong. It represses only that it may rightly release. It creates a self that is worth expressing, before it permits self-expression. It enters no athletes who are not in the pink of conditions.

So there are rules and regulations and a course of training. There are Sacraments and devotions which demand discipline. And there are laws which demand obedience. And there is all along the way sheer joy that can be gained in no other way.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Sexagesima Sunday

February 12, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A.-M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 115 - - - Tune, Orientis Partibus

Mass in C - - - Myles C. Foster

Introit Up, Lord, why sleepest Thou; awake, and be not absent from | us for ever; wherefore hidest Thou Thy face, and forgettest our misery
and | trouble? Our body cleaveth | unto the ground; arise, and help us, O Lord, and deliver us for Thy | mercy's sake.

PSALM. We have heard with our ears; O God, our fathers have |
told us: what Thou hast done | in their time of old.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Up, Lord.

Gradual Let the nations know that Thou, Whose Name is Je | hovah: art
only the Most Highest | over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a | wheel: and as the | stubble before the wind.

Sequence—Hymn 117 - - - St. Dunstan

Offertory—Hymn 120 - - - Tune, Rest

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis - - - Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.

O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 139 - - - Gregorian Tone VI-A

Magnificat } in E - - - Sir Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 120 - - - Tune, Rest

Offertory Anthem - - - Sir John Goss

O taste and see how gracious the Lord is. Blessed is the man that trusteth in Him. O fear the Lord, ye that are His saints, for they that fear Him shall lack nothing. The lions do lack and suffer hunger, but they that seek the Lord shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The members and friends of St. Mark's are invited to meet the Rector and other Clergy of the Parish, in the Parish Parlor, on Thursday, February 16th, from 4 to 6 P. M. Will you please consider this a personal invitation.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

SEXAGESIMA, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today repeats the parable of the sower. The particular point that I am moved to write about, is the hundredfold bearing of fruit. The seeds of religion require an honest and good heart and patience for a satisfactory harvest. The cultivation of the honest and good heart is our responsibility. God has left that within our power. The providential sowing and the mysterious bearing are of God. Our only part in that is patience. It is useless to attempt forcing spiritual growth. Impatience would be a symptom of pride. Humility and patience always go together.

My letters to you have come to be shared with a great many people of other parishes far distant from Saint Mark's. When I write to you I now always have in mind these absent friends of our family. Some of them are living in parishes unlike ours. This fact influences me to exercise some care lest I seem to forget the difficulties under which they are living, and which you escape. But I think this much may be said for all of us.

Wherever we all are, whatever the methods of the several parishes and missions may be, we are all, at least, justified in the trust that God will give us the seeds of religion. And we may all most confidently believe that grace will be given us to cultivate honest and good hearts. And we may all be sure that the fruits of religion will not fail if we are careful to maintain right interior dispositions. Any parish or mission which is composed of priests and people who are primarily concerned in developing the interior life will be reasonably sure of having the testimony of a good conscience; of living in the communion of the Catholic Church; in the confidence of a certain faith; in the comfort of a reasonable, religious and holy hope; in favour with God, and in perfect charity with the world.

It is the interior life that matters. If it is one's lot to live where the exterior signs are not lacking, well and good. It is certainly a satisfaction. But it does not necessarily follow that where the signs are lacking the life is lost. On the contrary it is possible to starve spiritually in the midst of ornate externals. And it is possible for the soul to live richly in the midst of Bethlehem poverty. The fullness of joy is in the Presence of God. It is His glory that fills His temple.

Wherever we are our religion will bear its fruits. The fruit of religion is Charity. The root of Charity is Sacrifice. The Mass is the centre of worship because it is the perpetuation of the Central Sacrifice. In Holy Communion we offer and present ourselves to be a living sacrifice in union with Our Lord's Sacrifice. Our lives cease to be our own. They are always being laid down for persons or for causes. It is this sacrificial instinct which is the fruit of religion. If it is developed it will prove to be stronger than the strongest passion and more attractive than the most alluring ambition. It will guide one's life through tempestuous adverse currents and treacherous eddies. It will give peace in wild storms and joy in piercing sorrows. It will carry us on to satisfying achievement. It will make it possible for us to do our duty in that state of life unto which it shall please God to call us.

And this is the fruit of religion.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 21

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima Sunday

February 19, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 226 - - - - - Tune, Love Divine

Mass in C - - - - - Myles C. Foster

Introit Be Thou my strong rock, O Lord, and house of defense, that Thou
| mayest save me; for Thou art my strong rock, and my castle; be
Thou also my guide, and lead me for Thy | Name's sake.

PSALM. In Thee, O Lord, have I put my | trust: let me never be put to confusion, deliver me | in Thy righteousness.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Be Thou.

Gradual Thou art the God alone That doeth | wonders: and hast declared
Thy power a | mong the people. Thou has. mightily delivered Thy people: even the sons of | Jacob and Joseph.

Sequence—Hymn 121 - - - - - Charity

Offertory—Hymn 231 - - - - - Tune, Edmund

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis - - - - - Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.
O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - - - -

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 112 - - - - -

Gregorian Tone VII-5

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in E - - - - -

Sir Joseph Barnby

Office Hymn 231 - - - - -

Tune, Edmund

Offertory Anthem - - - - -

Rachmaninoff

Glory to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit; both now and ever, and to ages of ages. Amen.

Only begotten Son, Word of the Father, Who art immortal, Thou didst vouchsafe for our salvation to become incarnate of the Holy Mother of God, the blessed and ever virgin Mary. Changeless Essence, lo, Thou wast made very man, and crucified, Thou the God man, to vanquish death by dying. Thou alone, O Christ, art glorified in the Trinity, with Father and Holy Spirit; O save us, Lord, have mercy upon us. To Thee, O Lord, we cry. Amen.

Organ Postlude - - - - -

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Offering at the eleven o'clock service this morning will be for the Convocation of South Philadelphia.

Copies of the Lenten card will be distributed to-day. Additional copies may be found on the table at the door.

Friday is St. Matthias' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A.M.

There will be a day of retreat for business women and others on Saturday, February 25th, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street. Conductor, The Reverend Wallace E. Conkling, Rector of St. Luke's Germantown. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 5 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

QUINQUAGESIMA, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The real reason for the observance of Lent is that Our Lord had recourse to forty days of retirement, in preparation for His work of redemption and the Church provides us with the opportunity to share the experience with Him. The only way to know a person is to live with them, where they live. The Christian year is so arranged that Christians may follow the blessed steps of His most holy life, from the Nativity to the Ascension, from Bethlehem to Heaven. Without this annual pilgrimage life would be dull and drab and dreary and altogether insupportable. The drama of Redemption is thrilling from beginning to end. The Liturgical setting is the most exquisitely beautiful thing in the world. There is a haunting, heavenly loveliness in it, that is inescapable. It is difficult to imagine a person whose sensibilities are so dull as to be wholly incapable of at least some tremor of intelligent reaction, in spots and at times. The beauty of the Crib, the majesty of the Cross, the wonder of the Sepulchre, the joy of the Garden, the glory of the Mount, send echoing Glorias and Hosannas and Misereres and Alleluias which have inspired the masters of art to lay the first fruits of their arts at the feet of the King of Kings. Every liturgiologist and musician, every architect and sculptor, every painter and poet, every artificer worthy of the name, by the sheer beauty of their works have inscribed upon their creations the dedicatory tribute "My Lord and My God." Art attains the sublime heights when it becomes the hand-maid of religion.

Lent admits us to the intimate knowledge of the austerities of the love of Our Lord. It reveals the sacrificial energy which is the quality of love. It reminds the world that greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. It reminds us that without that love, whosoever liveth is counted dead before God.

So here we have the objective of Lent. It is to grow in charity.

We are to deepen our prayer life in order that we may grow in love for God and for those for whom we are bound to pray. It is not too hard to give an half hour in the early morning, when we have in mind and heart the well-being of those for whom we have set ourselves to pray. It is a real satisfaction to offer up an additional service or a visit to the Sacrament with an intention of special devotion to Our Lord in His life of solitude and prayer. We grow to know him better.

We are to develop self-discipline in order that we may become selfless for Him. It is not burdensome to endure discipline that sets us free to do the will of God. It is a satisfying incentive to keep in mind those who will be made happy by our unselfish service and devotion. It will mean so much to them, that we will be glad to pay the little it costs us.

We are to develop the charity that rejoices in generosity. We are to train ourselves to give for the joy of giving. To visualize the needs of others and to learn to care more is the real reward for the notable duty of almsgiving. It opens one's heart to the world which is so dear to the Sacred Heart.

A Lent that will make for growth in the knowledge and love of God, will be a happy Lent.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

February 26, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 123 Tune, Heinlein

Mass Merbecke

Introit He shall call upon Me, and | I will hear him; I will deliver him,
and bring him to honour; with long life will I satis | fy him.

PSALM. Whoso dwelleth under the defense of the most | High;
shall abide under the shadow | of the Almighty.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. He shall call.

Gradual God shall give His Angels charge | over thee; to keep | thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their | hands; that thou hurt not thy | foot against a stone.

Sequence—Hymn 334 St. Flavian

Offertory—Hymn 126 Tune, St. Andrew of Crete

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.
O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, verses 1 to 32 Gregorian Tones III-A-4, VII-7

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in E Sir Joseph Barnby

Office Hymn 126 Tune, St. Andrew of Crete

Offertory Anthem James Kent

Hear my prayer, O God, and hide not Thyself from my petition.
Take heed to me, and hear me. How I mourn in my prayer and am vexed.

My heart is disquieted within me, and the fear of death is fallen upon me. Then I said, "O that I had wings like a dove; then would I flee away and be at rest."

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, March 1st, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, March 1st, at 3 P. M. Speaker, the Rev. S. C. Hughson, O.H.C.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

Through an oversight, an error was made in the Parish Statistics printed in the recent Year Book. The number of Communicants should be as follows:

St. Mark's	-	-	755
St. Mary's	-	-	400
St. Michael's	-	-	295
Total	-	-	1450

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The essence of contrition is to grieve that by our sins we have so often offended God. The essence of charity is to forgive as we would be forgiven. Indeed this is the very condition of forgiveness. So a rule of charity that would go to the root of the whole matter would be to remember our own faults and forget the faults of others. Life becomes a very simple affair when we do that. It becomes simple for us, and what is even more to the point, simple for the people who live with us. Fault finding is a helpful occupation if it means finding our own faults. It is a troublesome pursuit, if it means finding other people's faults. The person who is adept in finding faults in himself is very apt to be possessed of a good deal of influence. A person who has the gift of discovering the faults of others has, it is true, no little influence. But one may say of that influence, what a witty Bishop once said of a popular preacher who was reputed to have so much taste. "Ah yes," murmured the Bishop, "And all so very bad." Doubtless self-knowledge is the sure cure for censoriousness. To truly and earnestly repent us of our sins and to be in love and charity with our neighbors is to be in the state requisite for Holy Communion.

Those who know how to repent, know best how to forgive. It is a curious thing that the most unforgiving people always have most need of forgiveness. Only the forgiving are able to accept forgiveness with simplicity. A spiritual writer has said: "It is not good for you to go with great detail into the causes of particular faults, or to set yourself to think much about them or give account of them. What you need is to love Our Lord more and more, and get closer to Him, and run to Him for everything. His love is the great motive power. That is what you need. Go to Him for comfort and help and strength and love, and ask Him to supply all your needs, and then just as a mother loves her little child to depend upon her for everything, so He will gladly take care of and provide for you. Just love Him, trust Him, and be happy with Him, and your faults will fall away of themselves. If you have been unfaithful, don't have a fuss about it. Turn to Him lovingly and trustfully, and begin at once to be more faithful without further ado. Never be sad or dismal. It does not become one whom Our Lord loves. Be quite simple, free and happy in His Love."

The man who wrote this was well accustomed to discipline. The rigor of his own life taught him to be tender in his dealings with others. At the same time he evidently had arrived at freedom through discipline.

Discipline is the one straight road to freedom. Penitence is the one straight road to charity. Through hard things we arrive at high things.

It is this interior mortification which is the essence of real self-denial. It is to train ourselves to recognize our own faults and to discern the virtues of others. It is to accustom ourselves to confess our own sins and to be silent about the sins of others. It is to learn to blame ourselves and praise others. It is to labor with our own beams and to leave the motes of others to God. Our advance in this direction will mark the measure of our Lenten progress.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

March 4, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 149 Tune, Ss. Christopher

Mass Merbecke

Introit Call to remembrance, O Lord, Thy tender mercies, and Thy lovingkindnesses, which have been | ever of old: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; deliver Israel, O God, out of all his | troubles.

PSALM. Unto Thee, O Lord, will I lift up my | soul: my God, I have put my trust in Thee: O let me not | be confounded.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost, As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Call to remembrance.

Gradual The sorrows of my heart are en | larged: O bring Thou me out of my | troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and | misery: and for | give me all my sin.

Sequence—Hymn 211 Olivet

Offertory—Hymn 133 Tune, Eisenach

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.
O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 33 to 72 Gregorian Tones I-A-10, IV-2

Magnificat } in E Sir Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 133 Tune, Eisenach

Offertory Anthem Thomas Attwood

Turn Thy face from my sin, and put out all my misdeeds,
Make me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from Thy presence and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Rt. Rev. Campbell Gray, Bishop of Northern Indiana, will be the preacher next Sunday morning.

There will be a retreat for Associates and Friends at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Monday, March 12th, beginning with an address at 7.30 P. M.; and ending with Mass on Thursday, March 15th. Conductor: The Rev. J.O.S. Huntington, O. H. C. Those desiring to attend will please notify the Sister in charge.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

I commend to your attention The American Church Monthly. Any one who desires it for three months without cost, may receive it if they will leave their names at the Rector's Office. After three months, those who desire to become regular subscribers, may communicate directly with the publisher.

Copies of the "Light of the Cross" (the Rector's Three Hours' Sermons) may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street, and at George W. Jacobs & Co., 1726 Chestnut Street.

Next week I shall be preaching at 12.10 each day at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City. I shall keep my afternoon and evening engagements at home, and messages may be left with Miss Philler.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN LENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

What made the woman of Canaan come and cry unto Our Lord? No one seemed to know. The disciples were rather annoyed. They even asked Our Lord to send her away. Yet she followed on and prayed the more insistently. Our Lord understood. He encouraged her, though at the same time He tested her faith and sincerity. The result justified the experiment. She came out of her trial with a triumphant faith. Her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

But what made her come in the first place? God only knows. After all, He is the only person who needs to know. She had heard something, she had seen something and remembered it. When the time came she acted upon her spiritual leading. She was misunderstood and frowned upon. But she was too desperately in earnest to be daunted by that. She knew that Our Lord could help her. She never faltered until she had obtained the answer to her prayer. She learned to know Him on whom she had believed. She saw a miracle. Her daughter was the living evidence. Her faith had come to rest in fact.

In one way or another we all arrive at the centre of reality. Human needs cry for Divine compassion. Deep down in the human heart lies the impulse to take refuge in the Supernatural. We are restless until we find rest in God. Simple faith and undaunted hope are our pledges for answered prayers and fulfilled desires. To every one of us, at least once in our lives, is given the opportunity for a face-to-face meeting with Our Lord. At least one event or one chain of events will lead to Him. The sense of the Presence, the attraction, the prayer, the answer and the miracle. No one of us will ask in vain. The roots of all such experiences lie deep in the human heart and they lie deep in the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The secrets of the soul's call to God is known only to the Holy Ghost. They are the most sacred possessions of sincere followers of Our Lord, whoever they are and wherever they are. And they are the foundations of a living faith and a reasonable hope.

Reverence for religious experience is a real bond of union. I think that we all need a little more than we have. I wish that the man who prays in a lonely room and the man who prays before the Tabernacle knew each other better.

I wish that the man who kneels at the penitent's bench and the man who kneels in the Confessional knew each other better.

I wish that the man who adores God in a prayer meeting and the man who adores Him at High Mass knew each other better.

I wish that the man who sees the glory of the Incarnation as he reads his Bible and the man who sees it as he recites the Angelus, knew each other better.

I suspect that they have far more in common than present-day controversies would lead one to look for. I more than suspect, I know at first hand. And I know that such people meet happily and talk freely about their life with Our Lord. I have always found such talks satisfying. One never feels the sense of constraint. One never feels that one must minimize. How can one minimize when one is relating facts?

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

March 11, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Pontifical High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Pontifical High Mass

Hymn 303 Tune, Spohr
Mass—Missa Marialis Ancient Plainchant

Introit Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for He shall pluck my feet | out of the net: turn Thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate and in | misery.

PSALM. Unto Thee, O Lord, will I lift up my | soul: my God, I have put my trust in Thee: O let me not | be confounded.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Mine eyes are ever looking.

Gradual Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper | hand: let the heathen be judged in | Thy sight. While mine enemies are driven | back: they shall fall and perish | at Thy presence.

Sequence—Hymn 159 Horsley

Offertory—Hymn 147 Tune, Penitence

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
 Of the Virgin Mary born,
 On the Cross Thy sacred Body
 For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
 Streaming from Thy pierced side,
 Feed us with Thy Body broken,
 Now and in death's agony.
 O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 73 to 104 Gregorian Tones I-B-7, II-1

Magnificat } in D minor T. Attwood Walmisley
 Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 147 Tune, Penitence

Offertory Anthem Mozart

Plead Thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strive, with me and fight Thou against them that fight against me.

Judge me, O Lord my God, according to Thy righteousness, and let them not triumph over me.

I will give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing unto Thee among the nations, for the greatness of Thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens, and Thy truth unto the clouds.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The preacher this morning is the Right Reverend Campbell Gray, D. D., Bishop of Northern Indiana.

There will be a retreat for Associates and Friends at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Monday, March 12th, beginning with an address at 7.30 P. M.; and ending with Mass on Thursday, March 15th. Conductor: The Rev. J.O.S. Huntington, O. H. C. Those desiring to attend will please notify the Sister in charge.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

I commend to your attention The American Church Monthly. Any one who desires it three months without cost, may receive it if they will leave their names at the Rector's Office. After three months, those who desire to become regular subscribers, may communicate directly with the publisher.

Copies of the "Light of the Cross" (the Rector's Three Hours' Sermons) may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street, and at George W. Jacobs & Co., 1726 Chestnut Street.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN LENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Our Lord was casting out a devil and it was dumb. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake.

We are hearing a great deal nowadays of the right to self-expression and of the dangers of repression. And it is more or less true. But there is a great lot of it that is very misleading and thoroughly vicious. Self-expression is being sought through self-indulgence. As a matter of fact self-indulgence is fatal to self-expression. Self-indulgence is sin. The wages of sin is death. Sin is an error in self-expression. Sin is a mistake. The phrase "an error in self-expression" is merely a concession to the jargon of the times. But it practically means the same thing as our Christian phrase "a missing of the mark". Sin misses the thing it seeks.

Repentance partly means the discovery of the mistake. It means a lot more. If it goes no farther it ends in remorse. But it begins with the change in viewpoint. It begins with the disillusionment which leads to the discovery that self-indulgence is self-destructive.

Forgiveness is restoration to right self-expression. It is a lot more. But it is that.

Just what is meant by self-expression? What self is to be expressed? The worst? Or the best? If it is the worst self that is to be expressed, then self-indulgence is the way. If it is to be the best self, then self-sacrifice is the way.

This is the question which Lent raises. It is the inescapable issue of Passion-tide.

Lent begins and continues through with self-discipline. It culminates with self-sacrifice. It is followed by the glorious Resurrection and the wonderful Ascension. The whole thing is demonstrated before our eyes. Our Lord is the pioneer who blazes the trail through self-sacrifice to self-expression. Through death to life.

Lent demands the three notable duties of prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Not as mere acts of piety for the time being. But as continual means of attaining a definite end.

Prayer is the school of instruction in which Our Lord teaches us the principles of self-sacrifice. The essence of prayer is the offering of the will to God. Whatever the thoughts or the feelings may be, the offering of the will is the one thing that matters. It is not easy for us to understand this. So God often withdraws from us the sensible consolations of prayer. That is, we are allowed to be without conscious inspiration. We are left without the sense of uplift. Or the answers to prayer are deferred. Or the thing prayed for is denied us. And all the while, the will must persevere and remain stable. It is the way of expression through sacrifice.

Fasting is called for. Apart from the regulations of the Lent self-denials, and back of them is the principle that to find one's life, one must lose it. The sources of energy must first be governed, then sanctified, then directed, before they may be used rightly and freely.

Almsgiving is called for. Apart from the personal duty of self-apportionment and back of it lies the principle of self-giving. The gift without the giver is bare. Our Lord has given us the two laws for self-giving. The first is to do the will of God, for the love of God. The second is to lay down one's life for one's friends. It will mean the same thing whatever the form it takes. That will depend upon the variety of vocation. But for each and all, without exception, it will mean unfettered self-expression.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 18, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 326 - - - Tune, Dominus Regit Me
Mass—Missa Marialis - - - Ancient Plainchant

Introit Rejoice, O Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her;
 rejoice for joy with her, all ye that | mourn for her; that ye may suck,
 and be satisfied with the breasts of her conso | lations.

PSALM. I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the | house of the Lord.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
 As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
 end. Amen.

INTROIT. Rejoice, O Jerusalem.

Gradual I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the | house
 of the Lord. Peace be within thy | walls: and plenteousness with | in thy palaces.

Sequence—Hymn 325 - - - Mosely

Offertory—Hymn 217 - - - Tune, Toplady

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis - - - Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
 Of the Virgin Mary born,
 On the Cross Thy sacred Body
 For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
 Streaming from Thy pierced side,
 Feed us with Thy Body broken,
 Now and in death's agony.
 O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
 of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
 His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March from Egmont - - - Beethoven

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 105 to 145 - - - Gregorian Tones VII-3, VI

Magnificat } in D minor - - - T. Attwood Walmisley
 Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 217 - - - Tune, Toplady

Offertory Anthem - - - Spohr

As pants the hart for cooling streams,
 When heated in the chase;
 So longs my soul, O God, for Thee
 And Thy refreshing grace.
 For Thee, my God, the loving God,
 My thirsty soul doth pine,
 O when shall I behold Thy face,
 Thou majesty divine.

—Arranged for "The Crucifixion."

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesday and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Committee on Missions has issued a letter, calling attention to the second of the Special Offerings for D. D. and F. Missions for 1928. All the Offerings today will be devoted to this object.

The Committee calls attention to the fact that the minimum "Expectation" from St. Mark's for 1928 is $15,000, and towards this there has been received to date $4,342.04, leaving a balance of $10,657.96 to be raised during the year to meet the "Expectation."

The Committee earnestly hopes that this year the contributions of St. Mark's people will be first directed to the Missionary work of the Church, so that the minimum amount of $15,000 may be raised without a special and urgent appeal at the end of the fiscal year.

Philadelphia's first educational week for the blind will begin on March 19th at 1524 Chestnut Street. This educational week is to promote the work for the blind in the city of Philadelphia. It is not a campaign to raise money, but a campaign of education. Admission is free.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

I commend to your attention The American Church Monthly. Any one who desires it three months without cost, may receive it if they will leave their names at the Rector's Office. After three months, those who desire to become regular subscribers, may communicate directly with the publisher.

Copies of the "Light of the Cross" (the Rector's Three Hours' Sermons) may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street, and at George W. Jacobs & Co., 1726 Chestnut Street.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for the day lends its name. Refreshment Sunday marks Mid-Lent. But there is something deeper than that about it. Lent begins with the penitential discipline of Ash Wednesday. That discipline continues for forty days. In the middle of the forty days there comes a moment of refreshment. Then after a momentary gleam of light which changes the violet hues to the color of rose, the shadows deepen and the darkness sets in upon what seems to be the end, and then there will come the dawn and the full flood of Easter light. These liturgical transitions are true to the realities of the life which is hid with Christ in God. And they are invariable and constant. In life as we find it, in experiences as they come, the sequence of discipline, refreshment, climax and triumph is dependable. The discipline is real. The refreshment is certain. The climax is effective. The triumph is lasting. It makes every thing so very much easier, when the course is charted, and one knows what to expect.

Take any common experience that may fall to the lot of any of us. It will always be the same.

For example, take an experience of temptation. The first stage is one of sudden and sharp conflict. The foes press on from every side. The mind is assailed by a barrage of suggestion. The emotions undergo a storm of high explosives. The will alone is still and tense and alert. Every move must be carefully calculated. More nerve wracking yet, is the rigid stability. The will becomes like a block of steel. And all the while every ounce of energy is being taxed. Sacramental supplies are rushed to the firing line. Penance brings up the remedies for poisonous wounds. Communion brings up the restoratives. And the battle rages. And angels guard and saints pray. And God preserves. Then comes the lull. The noise dies down. The air clears. There is a respite for refreshment. It is not long, but it is enough. Then everything begins with redoubled fury. One is swept on into agony and darkness and desolation. Then rest. And then resurrection. The battle is won.

Or take an experience of suffering. Again the Christian knows the way through and out. There is the first facing of the reality. There is the measuring of the cross. The testing of its weight. The Christian reckons it all. He has recourse to Sacramental aid. He stoops and takes and lifts his cross. He settles it on his shoulders. He steps firmly out on the Via Dolorosa. His eyes are looking straight on, to the hill. Midway he faints and falls, and is relieved. Refreshment comes. And then on and up. The consummation of Calvary. The rest of an holy Sabbath. A resurrection. And the joy that no man taketh away.

It is always the same. The Christian Religion explains the Cross. But it does not explain it away. The Cross stands massively in the foreground. It shines forth with mystic glow. It is the sign of triumph. By this sign Christians conquer. The Way of the Cross is the Way of Life. The Way of Penitence is the Way of Peace. The Way of Temptation is the Way of Virtue. The Way of Pain is the Way of Purgation. The Way of Sorrows is the Way of Illumination. The Way of Love is the Way of Union. Of this you may be solidly sure. Refreshment always comes midway. Victory always comes at the end.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 26

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday in Lent

March 25, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 144 - - - Tune, Vexilla Regis

Mass—Missa Marialis - - - Ancient Plainchant

Introit Give sentence with Me, O God, and defend My cause against the un | godly people: O deliver Me from the deceitful and wicked man;
for Thou art the God of | My strength.

PSALM. O send out Thy light and Thy truth, that they may | lead
Me; and bring Me unto Thy holy hill, and to | Thy dwelling.

INTROIT. Give sentence.

Gradual Deliver Me, O Lord, from Mine | enemies | ; teach Me to do the | thing that pleaseth Thee. It is the Lord that delivereth Me from My cruel | enemies; and setteth Me up above Mine adver | saries: Thou shalt rid Me | from the wicked man.

Sequence—Hymn 154 - - - Rockingham

Offertory—Hymn 147 - - - Tune, Penitence

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis - - - Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.
O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laude Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ Postlude - - - Bach

Solemn Chensong

Psalm 132 - - - Gregorian Tone VI-3

Magnificat } in D minor - - - T. Attwood Walmisley
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 277 - - - Tune, Franconia

Offertory Anthem - - - Handel

Alto Aria—

He was despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief.

Chorus—

Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows. He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities;
the chastisement of our peace was upon Him.

—From "The Messiah."

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

This week I shall be preaching every day, except Saturday, at St. Paul's, Broadway, New York, at noon. I shall keep my afternoon and evening engagements here. Messages may be left at the Rector's office between 10 and 1 o'clock.

Monday will be the transferred Feast of the Annunciation. There will be the usual third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

I commend to your attention The American Church Monthly. Any one who desires it three months without cost, may receive it if they will leave their names at the Rector's Office. After three months, those who desire to become regular subscribers, may communicate directly with the publisher.

Copies of the "Light of the Cross" (the Rector's Three Hours' Sermons) may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street, and at George W. Jacobs & Co., 1726 Chestnut Street.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIFTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Presently all the Christian world will be assembled at the foot of the Cross. Today I would emphasize two points. The first is this. The supreme suffering of Our Lord lies in the fact that He is in the world and the world knows Him not. He comes unto His own, and His own receives Him not. It is the rejection of those whom He comes to save which is the essence of the agony. So long as sin and unbelief remain in the world, the situation remains the same. The Son of God is crucified afresh. What can Christians do about it?

Repentance and Faith are the only remedies for the disorder.

Repentance and Faith are the high points of Satanic attack.

The methods of attack are very subtle. The root of repentance is being undercut by the denial of the reality of sin. Under the guise of moral freedom, ancient immorality is exploited as modern morality. It is not only the sense of sin but sin itself which is explained away. When once this argument succeeds, then redemption and repentance mean nothing at all. The Cross becomes as foolishness.

How is all this to be met by Christians? In the first place by refraining from excited comment. There is nothing new in it. And then again, in spite of all that can be said, sin never fails to have ugly consequences. Sin works ruin sooner or later. In the long run every one finds out that the whole thing has been a mistake. Then the wounded are brought to the Church. At last they understand what redemption means. Repentance comes to have a practical value.

All the while the only thing that practising Christians can do is to be faithful to their duties and true to their standards. There is, it is true, tremendous pressure from the world. But it cannot compare with the pressure of the Church. The Church has always overcome the world. She always will. She has the doctrine of the forgiveness of sins and the power on earth to forgive them. She has the one, true, pure, immortal Sacrifice to offer for the sins of the whole world. She has the means of Grace with which to strengthen and refresh the souls whom she has absolved. Her Head has overcome the world and the gates of hell cannot prevail against her. Christians may confidently exalt as they humbly trust her. This is one thing that they can do.

And the other is this. Christians are always to remember that the Church is not a human society seeking the truth, but a Divine Society defining it. The Church speaks with Divine authority. What the Church teaches, the Bible confirms. The Church's voice is a living voice. To be loyal to her teachings, faithful to her Sacraments, obedient to her discipline and devout in the practise of her devotional life is to be assured of protection against heresy and schism. For the voice of the Church is infallible. Within her walls is certainty and peace.

Christians need not and cannot persuade unbelievers by controversial methods. There is but one way to translate the Christian Religion in terms that may be understood. And that way is through Charity. "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye love one another." "They took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus."

This is the witness to the Passion required of each and every one of us.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

April 1, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Hymns in { 143 - - - Tune, St. Theodulph
 Procession { 145 - - - Tune, St. Drostane

Mass—Missa Marialis - - - Ancient Plainchant

Intrant Be not Thou far from Me, O Lord, Thou art My succour, haste |
 Thee to help Me: save Me from the lion's mouth; Thou hast heard Me
 also from among the horns of the | unicorns.

PSALM. My God, My God, look upon Me; why hast Thou for- | saken Me; and art so far from My health, and from the | words of My complaint.

INTROIT. Be not Thou far from Me.

Gradual Thou hast holden Me by My right hand; Thou shalt guide Me
 with Thy | counsel; and after that receive | Me with glory. Truly God is loving unto | Israel: even unto such as | are of a clean heart. Nevertheless My feet were almost gone, My treadings had well nigh | slipt; and why? I was grieved at the wicked, I do also see the ungodly in | such prosperity.

Sequence—Hymn 158 - - - Tune, Passion Chorale

Offertory—Hymn 162 - - - Tune, Caswall

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis - - - Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
 Of the Virgin Mary born,
 On the Cross Thy sacred Body
 For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
 Streaming from Thy pierced side,
 Feed us with Thy Body broken,
 Now and in death's agony.
 O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
 of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
 His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ Postlude—Procession du St. Sacrement Charles A. Chauvet

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 22 - - - Gregorian Tone II-1

Magnificat } in D minor - - - T. Attwood Walmisley
 Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 158 - - - Tune, Passion Chorale

Offertory Anthem - - - Bach

Within our inmost being,
 Thy Name and cross alone,
 The light of all our seeing,
 Prevailing influence own.

O breathe this comfort o'er us,
 When low in grief we lie,
 That Thou, Lord Jesus, for us,
 Hast given Thyself to die.

Lord Jesus, Thy dear angel send,
 Whene'er my mortal life shall end,
 And bear my soul to heaven.

Within its narrow chamber keep
 My body safe in painless sleep,
 Till Thy last call be given.

And when from death Thou wakest me,
 In bliss untold my eyes shall see,
 O Son of God, Thy glorious face,
 My Saviour and my fount of Grace.
 Lord Jesus Christ, O hear Thou me,
 Thee I will praise eternally.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Offerings on Good Friday will be devoted to D. D. & F. Missions.

The Easter Offering for 1928 has been designated by the Vestry:

One-half for Missionary Purposes

One-half for Parochial Purposes

The services during Holy Week will be according to the Lenten card.

The hours for Confessions will be on Easter Even from 2—3.30 and 8—9.30. Special appointments will be made upon request.

There will be Confirmation instruction on Sunday afternoon immediately after Evensong.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

Books are asked by St. Mark's Branch of the Church Periodical Club for the Merchant Marines. Please send all books for that purpose to St. Mark's Parish House, not to other centres, as soon as possible. We are also in need of magazines for Hospitals, Homes and the House of Correction.

Copies of the "Light of the Cross" (the Rector's Three Hours' Sermons) may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street, and at George W. Jacobs & Co., 1726 Chestnut Street.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

PALM SUNDAY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The ceremonies of Palm Sunday show a tragic pageant of impending grief in brave array. It is the brave array that makes it all so piercingly sad.

Our Lord is going on to die. The multitude will not accompany Him along the Way of Sorrows. They feel what they are shouting now. But they do not understand. They may stand at a safe distance from the Cross and weep, by and by. But they will be bewildered and disappointed spectators. Our Lord will be alone and forsaken. It is this which makes the Palm Sunday procession what it is. It is not penitential. It is not festal. It is a sacrificial procession.

It is not for us to reflect upon the willingness and weakness of the multitude. They did what they could. If they did not do all that they might have done, it was because they did not understand. They gave Our Lord loving hearts. They accompanied Him on a part of the way at least.

But we may well wonder how much we would have done and how far we would have gone, if we had been there. Our self-examinations in Holy Week will give us some clue as to that.

But however that may be, each Palm Sunday brings a new opportunity. We have another chance to identify ourselves with the Passion and Sacrifice and death upon the Cross. We can never be content with looking on. We must become a part of it. And we must never get separated from it.

The Sacrifice on the Cross did not end at the Cross. For the sacrifice once offered there, is continually offered. It is a timeless sacrifice.

It is pleaded in Heaven. And it is always the sacrifice of the Cross. Our Lord ever lives to make intercession for us. He is the same yesterday, today and forever.

As He pleads today, He pleads for us no less than for those who went with Him along the way of palms, so long ago. We offer our hosannas with theirs, and He receives our homage with theirs and loves and pities us as He did the children of the Hebrews.

It is pleaded on earth. And it is always the Sacrifice of the Cross. At His Altars He appears for us. In the Sacrament of His Body and Blood, He is present as Priest and Victim. In the Eucharistic Sacrifice of Calvary He re-presents the Sacrifice of Calvary. He offers Himself for the world. The world may not know Him. His own may not receive Him. But the eternal Sacrifice is there. Christians know this. They always have. Their hearts burn within them as they see and adore His Sacramental Presence. And He, as He is lifted up, draws all men unto Him.

He stands at the door of every heart and knocks. And no door opens in vain. The heart may be as poor as the Crib, as humble as Nazareth, as temptation-wracked as the desert, as agonized as Gethsemane, as desolated as Calvary, yet in any heart and every heart, He is content to find His home. From such hearts as centres He repeats His life of reparation. He lives in the hearts of those who have received Him and unites all hearts with His Sacred Heart. So each Christian is made one with Christ, shares His Passion and dies and rises again with Him. This is what makes Palm Sunday real.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Easter Day

April 8, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong, Sermon and Procession	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Hymns in } 172 Tune, Worgan
 Procession } 170 Tune, St. Kevin

Mass—Messe Solennelle, "St. Cecilia" Charles Gounod

Introit When I wake up, I am present with Thee, Alleluia; Thou hast laid Thine hand upon Me, | Alleluia: such knowledge is too wonderful for Me, Alleluia. Alle | luia.

PSALM. O Lord, Thou hast searched Me out, and | known Me; Thou knowest My downsit-ting, and | Mine uprising.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost, As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. When I wake up.

Gradual This is the Day which the Lord hath | made: we will rejoice | and be glad in it. O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is | gracious: because His mercy en | dureth forever.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Christ our Pass | over: is sacri | ficed for us.

Sequence—Hymn 176 Tune, St. Albinus

Offertory—Hymn 173 Tune, Victory

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Easter March Gustav Merkel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 118 Gregorian Tone I-A-1

Magnificat } in B flat Henry Smart
 Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 176 Tune, St. Albinus

Offertory Anthem Handel

Hallelujah, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. The kingdom of this world is become the Kingdom of Our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign for ever and ever. Hallelujah.

—From "The Messiah."

Hymn in Procession, 555 Tune, O Filii et Filae

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Offerings at all the services today will be devoted to the objects designated by the Vestry:

One-half for Missionary Purposes

One-half for Parochial Purposes

Offerings specially designated for the Endowment Fund will be so applied.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week there will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Cycle of Prayer will be observed on April 11th. Intercession leaflets will be found in the church.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, April 12th, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, April 12th, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Rev. George P. Mayo.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

Copies of the "Light of the Cross" (the Rector's Three Hours' Sermons) may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street, and at George W. Jacobs & Co., 1726 Chestnut Street.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

EASTER, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The gift of God is eternal life. Today we praise God for the glorious Resurrection of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord; who by His death hath destroyed death, and by His rising to life again hath restored to us everlasting life.

Before He did this, He offered Himself as the Sacrificial Lamb for us and took away the sins of the world. The wages of sin is death. Sin and death are bound up together. In taking away sin, Our Lord destroyed death. By rising again He restored to us everlasting life.

Unless sin is cleared away, everlasting life is unthinkable and undesirable. For sin destroys the joy of life. And it ultimately destroys the desire for life. Because it destroys the sense of the value of life. It is when we, by continual mortifying of corrupt affections are once safely buried with Him, that we see death in its true aspect. The old obsessions are cleared away. We see in Christian death, the wide open gate through which we pass to a joyful resurrection. And what is the joy of the resurrection? It is the joy of living, loving relationships which are forever beyond interruption. Living, loving uninterrupted relationship is the first thing sin destroys. When they are gone nothing is left. Sin leaves its victims in ghastly loneliness. This is what Our Lord put away forever when He put away sin. He brought us all home. He opened wide the gates of Heaven to man below. He restored life in our true native land. It is the land where all the inhabitants love God. It is the land where angels and men live in the delights of friendship. It is the land where every heart is loyal and true. It is the land of flawless citizenship. It is the land of the Communion of Saints.

The longing for this lies deep in the human heart. It may be buried deep, but it is there. It may be forgotten, it may be despaired of, but it is there. The very longing is the sign of the reality of the thing longed for.

The longing for forgiveness is the evidence of the possibility of forgiveness. If forgiveness were not possible, the longing would not be there.

The longing for God is the sign that the soul is meant for God. God puts the longing in the heart of man.

The longing for holiness is the pledge that holiness is attainable. The hunger and thirst after righteousness is the promise of fulfillment.

The longing for life with those whom we love, is the promise of the knitting up of severed ties. The longing for everlasting life is the assurance that we are meant for everlasting life.

The Communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting are facts of faith. It is because they are facts that faith lays hold upon them and will not let them go. In the Easter light they shine like the pearls on the gates of Heaven.

It is all so far beyond what we can imagine or desire or deserve. But there it is.

Of one thing we may be sure, it leaves nothing to be desired. It is the gift of Divine Power. It is complete. It is perfect.

The Easter Garden is a shining, fragrant place. In that Garden you shall find Our Lord. For He is risen. He is risen indeed. Alleluia.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 29

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter
April 15, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Hymns in { 178 - - - Tune, Salzburg
Procession { 173 - - - Tune, Victory

Mass—Messe Solennelle, "St. Cecilia" . Charles Gounod

Introit As new born babes, | Alleluia; desire the sincere milk of the word,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. Sing we merrily unto God our | strength: make a cheer-
ful noise unto the | God of Jacob.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. As new born babes.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. After eight days, when the doors were shut:
Jesus stood in the midst of His disciples, and said: Peace be unto you,
| Alleluia. The Angel of the Lord descended from | heaven: and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it: | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 171 - Tune, The Day of Resurrection

Offertory--Hymn 177 - Tune, Resurrection

Post Communion—Laude Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Sing Alleluia Forth - Eric H. Thiman

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 57 - - - Gregorian Tone VIII-4

Magnificat } in B flat - - - Henry Smart
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 171 - Tune, The Day of Resurrection

Offertory Anthem - - - Mendelssohn

Grant us Thy peace, Almighty God, Thou source of every blessing.

Feeble and frail, trust we Thy word,
All things in Thee possessing.
In Thee is our hope and safety.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The closing session of the Mission Study Classes will be held in Holy Trinity Parish House, on Monday evening, April 16th, at 8 P. M. The Special Speaker will be The Rt. Rev. Robert E. Campbell, D. D., Bishop of Liberia.

The Associates of Saint Anna's Home, 2016 Race Street, invite the friends of the work to an "Open House" on Thursday, April 19th, from 3 until 6 o'clock.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord." This was the joy of the first Easter. It was the joy of the Great Forty Days of Eastertide. In the Presence of Our Lord the disciples found the fulness of joy. It all centred in Him. So it has been ever since. So it will always be. "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

No one can understand the Christian Religion, no one can understand Christians, until it is first and clearly understood that Christians witness to a living and Present Christ, whose Presence is the fulness of joy.

Our Lord's Presence in His Church is the secret of the gladness of this Easter. It is because He is alive forevermore that we sing our Alleluias. It is in Christ that all men shall be made alive. Union with Christ is the Christian's first and only concern. Every thing else follows from that. But that is the thing that matters. Easter is a Christian Festival which celebrates the Resurrection of Our Lord. Christians observe Easter by making their Communion. Christians believe that whoso eateth His Flesh and drinketh His Blood hath everlasting life. To each Christian the Church says, as the Sacred Gifts are conveyed: "The Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life." By virtue of this Communion, Christians are very members incorporate in the mystical Body of Our Lord, which is the blessed company of all faithful people; and are also heirs through hope of God's everlasting Kingdom. It is oneness with Christ which effects oneness in Christ. This oneness is deathless. It is oneness in life everlasting.

The Altar is the meeting place with the Risen Lord. At the Altar the Christian meets Our Lord. At the Altar all Christians meet in Him. The faithful throughout the world meet there in Him. In Him the faithful on earth are one with the faithful departed. And they are one with all the Company of Heaven. And Our Lord is the Head of this Mystical Body. And Christians are the members. Death has no dominion over Him nor His members. For He has destroyed death.

He is the centre of unity. All are one in Him, for all are His. This unity is indestructible. "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?" cries Saint Paul. "Shall tribulation or distress?" "Nay in all these things, we are more than conquerors." "For I am persuaded that neither death nor life shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus Our Lord."

The road runs straight from the Throne to the Crib, from the Crib to the Cross, from the Cross to the Sepulchre, and from the Sepulchre back again to the Throne. He who would worship at the Sepulchre, must first have worshipped at the Crib and the Cross. The life in Christ is uninterrupted, and unbroken, deathless, immortal. Our Lord is the Life and the Light. The Light proceeds from the Life. He who has the Life will have the Light. And He who does the will, shall know the doctrine.

False Christs will come. False Christians will come. There will always be heresies. The Faith once committed to the Saints, is the true Faith, the one Faith, the only Faith. The Church never deals with heresies by compromise or absorption, but by clear-cut condemnation. The world needs the purging of plain speech.

The joy of Easter is the joy of the disciples who are glad when they see the Lord.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter
April 22, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 179 - - - Tune, Neander

Mass in E flat - - - Alfred J. Eyre

Introit The earth is full of the goodness of the Lord, | Alleluia: by the word of the Lord were the heavens made; Alle | luia.

PSALM. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye | righteous: for it becometh well the just | to be thankful.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. The earth is full.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. The good Shepherd is | risen: Who laid down His life for His sheep; | Alleluia. I am the good | Shepherd: and know My sheep, and am known of Mine; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 175 - - - Tune, Monkland

Offertory—Hymn 174 - - - Tune, Innsbruck

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 116 - - - Gregorian Tone II-I

Magnificat } in B flat - - - Henry Smart
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 174 - - - Tune, Innsbruck

Offertory Anthem - - - J. E. West

Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

But thanks be to God Who giveth us the victory, through Our Lord Jesus Christ. Hallelujah. Amen.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Wednesday is St. Mark's Day. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A. M.

A meeting will be held in the Church House, 202 South 19th Street, on Wednesday, April 25th, at 4 o'clock, when the Rt. Rev. William Walter Webb, B. D., will tell the story of Nashotah Mission. The meeting is open to the public.

The Men's Choir will sing the Mass next Sunday.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1928.

It is necessary to fix the thought of the indwelling of Our Lord in the soul, so deeply and so firmly, that one shall be quite possessed by the constant remembrance. Christ in the soul is the life of the Christian. To fall short of this conception is to miss the point of the Christian Life. So many people, for the lack of the knowledge of the life in Christ, are driven back on their own scanty resources. They are left with little else than to commune and reason together with holden eyes. No wonder that, as they walk, they are sad. Spiritual blindness is much more prevalent than the modern mind suspects.

"This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

This life, given to us in Baptism and renewed in Holy Communion, produces in us the fruits of our redemption; death unto sin, life unto righteousness and everlasting life unto God. We ought to meditate often on these points.

What does it mean to be dead unto sin? It means being insensible to the motions of sin. It means that the senses have become incapable of reacting to the impact of sin; not merely that they react negatively, but they cease to react at all.

How is this happy state attained? By continual mortifying of corrupt affections. By dying daily by repeated acts of mortification of the senses. This process of mortification involves prayer, resistance to temptation, penitence, the constant use of the Sacraments and steadfast faith. It is a slow death by crucifixion. But it is crucifixion with Christ. Therefore it is an adventure in discipleship. And because it is that, it is a happy adventure. It is attended with consolations which the world can neither give nor take away. It is a passing into the peace which passes understanding.

What does it mean to live unto righteousness? It means becoming sensitive to the environment of the Kingdom of God. And it means becoming responsive and obedient to every Godly motion. Divine Grace refines the soul's sensibilities. The powers of perception become intensified. The hunger and thirst after righteousness are aroused. The desire for holiness becomes the ruling passion. The cultivation of the virtues becomes the absorbing pursuit. The claims of vocation become imperative. New paths are opened, which lead to new achievements. New gifts are received and new powers are offered for development. New interests are discovered. A new life is opened. And with the new life comes a new joy in living. In the new life a new personality is created. All the former things pass away. All things become new. This too is a gradual growth.

And what does life unto God mean? It means a sense of the Presence of God. All the experiences of dying to sin and living unto righteousness serve to develop that sense. The pains endured and the effort required make the soul desperately dependent upon Sacraments and prayer. A person who is struggling with a besetting sin learns how to pray passionately. A person who is really penitent sees clearly the reasonableness of the Sacramental System, and the possibilities of the Penitential System, and eagerly seizes upon the opportunities offered.

A person who has learned to love and adore Our Lord as God and Saviour finds Him in the Blessed Sacrament of His Body and Blood. Such a person finds in the Eucharistic Sacrifice the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world. Such a person finds in Holy Communion medicine for sickness, food for refreshment and complete and satisfying union with God.

There is no shorter road. There is no other road. And there is no easier road. It is a very beautiful road. One comes upon it on a starry night. It leads to a Crib and a Cross and a Garden. It leads to a Hill. Then it leads to Heaven.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 31

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

April 29, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Hymn in Procession 168 - Tune, Salve! Festa Dies

Mass in A flat - Frederick Robert Volkmann's Second Mass

Introit O be joyful in God, all ye lands, Alleluia: sing praises unto the honour of His Name, | Alleluia: make His praises to be glorious: Alleluia, Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. Say unto God, O how wonderful art Thou in Thy | works: through the | greatness of Thy power.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. O be joyful.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see Me, saith | the Lord: and again, a little while, and ye shall see Me, because I go to the Father, | Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall re | joice: and your joy no man taketh from you; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 267, stanzas 1, 9, 19, 20 - Tune, Paean

Offertory—Hymn 266 - Tune, Vigili et Sancti

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March Triumphal - Lemmens

The music of the Mass sung by The Men's Choir of St. Mark's

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 124, 125 - Gregorian Tones VII-7, VIII-2

Magnificat } in B flat - Henry Smart
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 278 - Tune, St. Alphege

Offertory Anthem - George Frederick Handel

I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. And though worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:

For now is Christ risen from the dead, the first-fruits of them that sleep.

—From "The Messiah."

Organ Postlude - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Tuesday will be the Feast of SS. Philip and James, Apostles. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, May 3rd, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, May 3rd, at 3 P. M. There will be no speaker.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the Collect for Saint Mark's Day we are taught to pray for grace "that, being not like children carried away with every blast of vain doctrine, we may be established in the truth of thy Holy Gospel."

There are two ways of dealing with what is called religious unrest. One way is to watch for new doctrines. The other way is to establish the truth of the Holy Gospel. When there is a gale of wind the foundations of a house are more important than the weather vane. All the religious unrest that I have seen is confined to people whose chief concern is with doctrinal weather vanes. The religious news page of a popular secular magazine is a theological weather chart. And the chart would seem to record a good deal of very changeable weather. The appended predictions are more complacent than dependable, as a general rule. Life in this world is too short to allow wide margins of time for uncertainty. The demands of life are too exacting to permit making a virtue of indecision.

I happen to be in the way of seeing conversions to Christianity. In each case I see that it is the massive fabric of the Church that attracts, compels and converts. It is the Church speaking with authority that arrests attention and inspires confidence. It is the convincing assurance of the possession of all power in heaven and earth that men perceive in august rites, that conveys the unspeakable consolation that cannot be found outside the Catholic Church. Men expect the Church to look like the Kingdom of Heaven, because it is the Kingdom of Heaven. Men expect the Church to be stronger than the world, because the Head of the Church has overcome the world. Men expect the Church to be other-worldly, because the Church is the Kingdom which is not of this world. Men expect to find miracles and mysteries in the Church, because the Church is the realm of the supernatural. Men expect to have great things done for their souls in the Church, because the Church is the reservoir of Divine Grace. Men expect to find the truth in the Church, because the Holy Ghost is in the Church to lead into all the truth. Men expect to feel safe in the Church, because Our Lord has declared that the gates of hell cannot prevail against the Church.

Within the walls of this Heavenly City men walk with Angels and converse with Saints. God is adored. His truth is known. His Mysteries are revered.

All of this and more is precisely what is to be found and is found daily and constantly by the faithful in the Holy Church throughout the world. It is the common experience of Catholic Christendom.

I think that what most needs to be done nowadays, even more than the conversion of non-Christians, is that Christians shall be brought to know the certainty of those things wherein they have been instructed. The most damaging thing that can happen to a visiting, non-Christian foreigner is to be confronted with unbelieving nominal Christians. There has been far, far too much declaration of sickly scepticism. The thing that is needed is a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us. We need a ringing declaration that will electrify the world.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 32

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter
May 6, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 507 Tune, Regent Square

Mass in E flat Alfred J. Eyre

Introit O sing unto the Lord a new song, Alleluia; for He hath done marvellous things, | Alleluia; His righteousness hath He openly shewed in the sight of the heathen; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. With His own right hand, and with His holy | arm: hath He gotten Him | self the victory.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost, As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. O sing unto the Lord.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. I go My way to Him that | sent Me: and because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart, | Alleluia. I tell you the | truth; it is expedient for you that I go away; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 259 Tune, Gerontius

Offertory—Hymn 520 Tune, Lux Eol

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 126, 127 Gregorian Tones 1A-2, 11-1

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat Sir Villiers Stanford

Office Hymn 520 Tune, Lux Eol

Offertory Anthem George Frederick Handel

Soprano Aria.

But Thou didst not leave His soul in hell, nor didst Thou suffer Thy Holy One to see corruption.

—From "The Messiah."

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Our Lord had told His disciples that it was expedient for them that He should go away. Because of this saying, sorrow had filled their hearts. The comfort promised to them was the comfort of the Holy Ghost. "If I depart, I will send Him unto you."

It was this promise which sustained them. And while they were waiting, Our Lord taught them the things they needed to know about the Holy Ghost, so that they might be ready for Him when He came. All this we shall reflect upon a little later, at the proper time. What I have in mind today is this point. The sense of the Presence of God is a gift of the Holy Ghost. Without this gift we are comfortless.

There are times when the sense of the Presence of God seems to fail us. There are endless causes. Sometimes it is a direct discipline given to us for the development of the will. If one continues quietly in the practice of religion through a period of dryness, there is much merit in our devotion, since it is a selfless act, which consists wholly in pure giving. An act of devotion offered without expectation of sensible consolation is a real supernatural act, since the person offering it is depending wholly upon God.

Sometimes the loss of the sense of the Presence is occasioned by interior disquietude due to exterior natural circumstances. The occasion may be one of sudden temptation or prolonged sadness or physical discomfort. But whatever it is, the seeming withdrawal of the supporting sense of the Presence of God causes the affliction to be insupportable. It becomes not merely difficult but impossible to make the exertion for vocal prayer. Meditation seems to be out of the question. Sometimes a disinclination for the Sacraments adds further distress. Sometimes there arises a positive distaste for religion.

The first thing to remember under such or similar conditions is that there is nothing unusual or without precedent in the difficulty. The greatest Saints have passed through periods of long duration of aridity. And all persons who have arrived at any marked degree of spiritual attainment have invariably been subjected to this trial. But what is one to do about it?

The first thing to do is to continue in one's customary devotional life, as though nothing were happening. The harder it is to pray, the harder one should pray. The less inclined one is to make use of the Sacraments, the more one should have recourse to them. The less attraction one seems to have for holy places, the more one should visit them. The less liking one seems to have for pious objects, the more one should reverence them. The fact that the will receives no support from thoughts or feelings only makes the devotion more perfect. As a matter of fact a merely intellectual or a merely emotional religion is a more or less uncertain and unstable religion, subject to clouds and storms. The will is what really matters.

The Collect for today, with an Our Father and the Veni Creator, is a good devotion with which to meet spiritual troubles of the kind that I have described. After these prayers, one should remain perfectly motionless for as long as possible, a quarter or half an hour. This can be done at home. But the best place is in Church before the Tabernacle. Sooner or later the result will be obtained. Jesus will be found alone.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday after Easter

May 13, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 515 - - - Tune, Beulah

Mass in E flat - - - Alfred J. Eyre

Introit With a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, and let it be heard; |
Alleluia; utter it even to the end of the earth; the Lord hath redeemed
His people; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PRALM. O be joyful in God, all ye | lands: sing praises unto the honour of His Name, make His praise | to be glorious.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. With a voice of singing.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in My | Name:
ask, and ye shall receive; | Alleluia. Christ is risen, He dieth no |
more: death hath no more dominion over Him; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 356 - - - Tune, Fairest Lord Jesus

Offertory—Hymn 509 - - - Tune, All Hallows

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 129, 131 - - - Gregorian Tones IV-4, VIII-2

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat - - - Sir Villiers Stanford

Office Hymn 356 - - - Tune, Fairest Lord Jesus

Offertory Anthem - - - Henry Smart

The Lord is my strength and my song and is become my salvation.
I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

O give thanks unto the Lord for He is gracious, and His mercy endureth forever.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The preacher today is the Very Reverend Edmund J. M. Nutter, D.D., Dean of Nashotah House.

The preacher next Sunday morning will be the Rt. Reverend Robert Erskine Campbell, D. D., Bishop of Liberia.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are Rogation Days.

Thursday is Ascension Day. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A.M.

St. Mark's Episcopal Hospital Auxiliary reports the receipt of $550 towards the furnishings of the Chapel at the Episcopal Hospital.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

ROGATION SUNDAY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

A parish is primarily a league of intercession. A parish Church is primarily a house of prayer. Membership in a parish requires an adequate and sustained contribution of prayer. Each member of a parish is responsible for a proportionate share in the prayer life. Whatever else a parishioner may be able to give, the most important thing to give is prayer. Whatever else a parishioner may be able to do, the most important thing to be done is to pray. Any parish that consistently seeks first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness will, without any possibility of disappointment, have all the lesser things that are needed for temporal maintenance added.

The corporate prayer life of a parish is the test of its vitality, the measure of its value and the secret of its power. How does one become and remain a part of it?

Our Lord is the Great High Priest, and Advocate and Mediator. He ever liveth to make intercession. In Baptism we are made members of His Mystical Body, in order that we may grow up into Him in all things. We are to grow "till we all come in the unity of faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." He is the Head "from Whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love."

In every Communion we receive increase in the life that is hid with Him in God. We are very members incorporate in His Mystical Body, together with the blessed company of all faithful people, together with Angels and Archangels and all the Company of Heaven, together we dwell in Him and He in us. Through this Mystical Body of Christ, the energy of the intercessory life of Christ throbs, accomplishing in each member the assigned share in the work of prayer. So the Sacramental life is the wellspring of the prayer life. In the unity of Sacramental life is found the unity of the prayer life. In form and substance and scope Catholic prayers have something which can be found nowhere else. They are true treasures of devotion. They exemplify the most finished types from which the science of prayer may be studied and the act of prayer developed.

There is no better school of prayer than the daily devotional life of a Catholic parish. From the morning Angelus and on through Mass, the Divine Office, the private devotions, intercession, meditation, scripture and spiritual reading to the evening Angelus and the last night prayers, one may traverse the whole range of prayer, in its main stream and secluded reaches, in which the soul may find peace and strength.

This is the real life of the parish. The exterior works are products. Unless such works are the genuine output of the interior prayer life, they will be merely misleading fictitious activities, as ineffective as they are shallow. It is a well attested fact that the massive work which has endured in the world is the creation of men and women of highly developed prayer life.

The great work of every parish and of each parishioner is the work of prayer.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day
May 20, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Processional Hymn 184 - Tune, Salve! Festa Dies

Mass in B flat, No. 7 - - - Mozart

Introit Harken unto my voice, O Lord, when I cry unto Thee, | Alleluia: my heart hath talked of Thee. Seek ye My face; Thy face, Lord, will I seek; O hide not Thou Thy face from me; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. The Lord is my light, and my sal | vation; whom | then shall I fear?

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Harken unto my voice.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. God reigneth over the | heathen: God sitteth upon His holy seat; | Alleluia. I will not leave you | comfortless; I go, and I will come again to you, and your heart shall rejoice; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 185 - - - Tune, Coronae

Offertory—Hymn 191 - - - Tune, In Babilone

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March on Theme by Handel - - - Guilmant

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 24 - - - Gregorian Tone VII-5

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat - - - Sir Villiers Stanford

Office Hymn 193 - - - Tune, Alleluia

Offertory Anthem - - - Gounod

Unfold, ye portals everlasting, with welcome to receive Him ascending on high. Behold the King of Glory, He mounts up through the sky, back to the heavenly mansions hasting. Unfold, for lo, the King comes nigh!

But who is He the King of Glory? He who death overcame, the Lord in battle mighty. But who is He the King of Glory? Of hosts He is the Lord, of angels and of powers. The King of Glory is the King of Saints.

From "The Redemption."

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Offering at the eleven o'clock service today is for Nashotah House.

The preacher today is the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Campbell, D. D., Bishop of Liberia.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SUNDAY AFTER ASCENSION, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Think today of three groups of men who looked up to heaven and saw angels and found God.

This is the first. "And there were in the same country Shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone upon them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes lying in a manger."

This is the second. "And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold, two men stood by them, in white apparel; which also said, ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up from you into heaven? This same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven."

Now think of a third group. This group includes you. It is in the early morning. The place is a Church. There is the Altar. The two tapers shine like tiny stars. In the midst stands the Crucifix. The Tabernacle door catches the morning light and reflects the red glow of the Sacrament lamp. On either side the lilies make a garden for God. The priest and acolyte enter. They stand at the foot of the Altar. The subdued tone of the preparation is faintly heard. "I will go unto the Altar of God. Even unto the God of my joy and gladness. Give sentence with me, O God." The forty-third psalm is recited, with its Gloria. The Confiteor follows. The priest ascends the steps and begins the Eucharistic Mysteries. Kyrie, Collect, Epistle, Gospel, Creed, Offertory, Prayer for the Church follow in swift succession. The Congregation sends confession to the Throne of Mercy. The precatory absolution prepares for the Sursum Corda. All hearts are lifted up unto the Lord. With all the Company of heaven, priest and people offer the Sanctus. Now all are gazing up into heaven, in expectancy of the coming of the Lord. "Blessed is He that cometh in the Name of the Lord. Hosanna in the Highest." The great moment comes. The Canon of the Mass begins. "This is my Body." The bell rings the announcement. The Host is elevated. "This is my Blood." The bell rings. The Chalice is raised and the Precious Blood is lifted up. "And we earnestly desire thy fatherly goodness, mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching thee to grant that, by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood, we, and all thy whole Church, may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of his passion." The cry for mercy goes up to the Lamb of God.

The people kneel at the Altar rail. The Lord Jesus comes to each and makes His dwelling place in each heart. The blessing follows. The priest departs. The Lord remains in the hearts of His children.

I do not think that you and I need envy the Shepherds of Bethlehem, or the witnesses of the Ascension. Do you?

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 35

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Whitsunday

May 27, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Hymns in } 524
Procession } 196 Tune, King's College
 Tune, Veni Sancte Spiritus

Mass in B flat, No. 7 Mozart

Introit The Spirit of the Lord filleth the world: | Alleluia; and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice; Alleluia, Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. Let God arise, and let His enemies be | scattered: let them also that hate Him | flee before Him.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. The Spirit of the Lord.

Gradual Alleluia, Alleluia. Send forth Thy Spirit, and they shall be | made: and Thou shalt renew the face of the earth; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 199 Tune, St. Cuthbert

Offertory—Hymn 198 Tune, Beati

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 104 Gregorian Tone III-A-1

Magnificat } in E
Nunc Dimittis } Sir John Stainer

Office Hymn 198 Tune, Beati

Offertory Anthem—Veni Creator Thomas Attwood
Hymn 455

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

There will be a third Mass on Monday and Tuesday of this week at 9.30 A. M.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

WHITSUNDAY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we celebrate the Festival of the Holy Ghost. On the day of Pentecost the Holy Ghost descended upon the Apostles. He came to dwell in the Church and He came to dwell in Christians. He speaks through the Church and He leads Christians into all the truth as taught by the Church. Without the Holy Ghost we can do nothing. By Him and by Him alone, we are brought out of darkness and error into the clear light and true knowledge of God.

So we must cultivate, practise and preserve a personal devotion to the Holy Ghost. We must consciously and constantly depend upon Him for the gifts which enable us to discern spiritual things, and to think and to do the things that are right.

When we were Confirmed, the Bishop prayed that we, who had been regenerated by Water and the Holy Ghost, might be strengthened with the Holy Ghost the Comforter, and daily increase in the manifold gifts of grace; the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true Godliness; and might be filled with the spirit of holy fear. So in Baptism we are regenerated and in Confirmation we receive the Seven Gifts.

In the spiritual combat in which we engage in the period of probation in which we now live, the Holy Ghost guides our consciences, enabling us to perceive and know what things we ought to do. The Holy Ghost grants to us a right judgment in all things and evermore to rejoice in His comfort. The Holy Ghost arouses us when we are careless, recovers us when we are fallen, by giving to us the spirit of contrition and restores us when we are penitent, by enabling us to fulfill the requirements of contrition, which are confession, satisfaction and amendment. This we do in the Sacrament of Penance.

As often as we receive Holy Communion our souls are strengthened and refreshed by the Body and Blood of Christ. The Seven Gifts are revived and increased. Our minds are illuminated, our wills are strengthened and our hearts are enkindled. The fruits of the Holy Ghost are produced: Love, Joy, Peace, Longsuffering, Gentleness, Goodness, Faith, Meekness, Temperance. Our souls are sensitized and made responsive and obedient to all Godly notions. Our bodies are made temples of the Holy Ghost. So in the Sacraments we find our life with the Holy Ghost.

This life must find its expression in prayer and obedience.

We ought to plan our prayers in such a way as to include daily devotions to the Holy Ghost. The Veni Creator and the Collect for Whitsunday, or the Veni Creator, only, will serve the purpose. Most books of private devotion contain a Litany of the Holy Ghost.

The reward is the finding of the comfort of the Holy Ghost. He does give the peace which passes understanding. Our Lord did not leave us comfortless.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 36

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

June 3, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, High Mass

Processional Hymn 525

Tune, St. Patrick
Ancient Irish Melody

Mass in A flat.

Basil Harwood

Introit Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the Undivided | Unity: we will give thanks to Him, for He hath shown His mercy up | on us.

PSALM. O Lord our | Governour: how excellent is Thy | Name in all the world.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Blessed be.

Gradual Blessed art Thou, O | Lord: That beholdest the depths, and sittest up | on the Cherubim. O bless the God of | heaven: for He hath shown His | mercy upon us.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Blessed art Thou, O Lord God of our | fathers:
and greatly to be praised forever: | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 205

Tune, Nicaea

Offertory—Hymn 208

Tune, St. Athanasius

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March Cornelius

Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 148, 150

Gregorian Tones VII-2, IV-

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in E

Sir John Staine

Office Hymn 205

Tune, Nicaea

Offertory Anthem

Sir John Staine

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which was, and which is, and which is to come, the Almighty.

Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts. Heaven and earth are full of Thy glory. Glory be to Thee, O Lord Most High. Amen.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Trinity Ordinations will be held on June 4th, the Monday following Sunday, in the Church of the Advocate, 18th and Diamond Streets, at 10.30 A. M. The Bishop invites the Parishes of the Diocese to be present.

Thursday will be Corpus Christi Day. First Vespers will be said on Wednesday evening after Evensong. There will be Masses on Thursday at 7, 7.45 and High Mass at 9.30 A. M. Second Vespers will be said after Evensong, followed by a business meeting of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament, in the Parish Parlor.

The Bishop has appointed June 9th for "Diocesan Day." This Day is appointed for an assemblage of Church people on the Cathedral grounds. There will be a short service, with address by the Bishop, at three o'clock (Daylight Saving Time). The purpose of the Day is to visualize the Cathedral plan, and the Bishop hopes for a good attendance.

By this time the annual reminder of the Summer Fund has reached you. As you know, the purpose of this Fund is to provide opportunities to children and invalids to escape for a day at least from the city into the country and fresh air. Contributions large and small are equally acceptable.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we celebrate the Festival of the Most Holy Trinity. The Athanasian Creed makes the following declaration of Faith. "The Catholic Faith is this: That we worship one God in Trinity, and Trinity in Unity: Neither confounding the Persons: nor dividing the Substance. For there is one Person of the Father, another of the Son, and another of the Holy Ghost. But the Godhead of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, is all one: the Glory equal, the Majesty co-eternal. Such as the Father is, such is the Son, and such is the Holy Ghost. The Father uncreate, the Son uncreate, and the Holy Ghost uncreate. The Father incomprehensible, the Son incomprehensible, and the Holy Ghost incomprehensible. The Father eternal, the Son eternal, and the Holy Ghost eternal. And yet they are not three eternals, but one eternal. As also there are not three incomprehensibles, nor three uncreated, but one uncreated, and one incomprehensible. So likewise the Father is Almighty, the Son Almighty, and the Holy Ghost Almighty. And yet they are not three Almighties, but one Almighty. So the Father is God, the Son is God, and the Holy Ghost is God. And yet they are not three Gods, but one God. So likewise the Father is Lord, the Son Lord, and the Holy Ghost Lord. And yet not three Lords, but one Lord. For as we are compelled by the Christian verity, to acknowledge every Person by Himself to be God and Lord; so are we forbidden by the Catholic Religion, to say, There be three Gods, or three Lords. The Father is made of none, neither created, nor begotten. The Son is of the Father alone; not made, nor created, but begotten. The Holy Ghost is of the Father, and of the Son; neither made, nor created, nor begotten, but proceeding. So there is one Father, not three Fathers; one Son, not three Sons; one Holy Ghost, not three Holy Ghosts. And in this Trinity none is afore, or after other; none is greater, or less than another. But the whole three Persons are co-eternal together, and co-equal. So that in all things as aforesaid: the Unity in Trinity, and the Trinity in Unity is to be worshipped."

The School of the Christian Year is the best School of instruction in the Christian Faith. When anything has become rooted in one's life, then one knows it. And this is a very different thing from merely knowing something about it.

A real observance of the Christian Year involves a cycle of Communion and prayer. The result of that will be life with God and speech with God. In this life, and through this speech, the soul discovers the deep things and learns the high things of God. The road runs straight from the Child in the Crib to the door that is opened in Heaven.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 1

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity
October 7, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 316 Tune, Sawley

Mass in C Sir George C. Martin

Introit Reward them that wait for Thee, O Lord, and let Thy prophets | be found faithful; hear the prayers of Thy servant, and of Thy people | Israel.

PSALM. I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the | house of the Lord.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Reward them.

Gradual I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the | house
of the Lord. Peace be within thy | walls: and plenteousness with | in thy palaces.

Alleluia, Alleluia. I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 207 Tune, Sanctuary

Offertory—Hymn 509 Tune, All Hallows

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 19 Gregorian Tone IV-5

Magnificat } in B minor T. Tertius Noble
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 20 Tune, Hursley

Offertory Anthem Handel

Angels ever bright and fair,
Take, O take me to your care.
Speed to your own courts my flight,
Clad in robes of virgin white.
Angels ever bright and fair,
Take, O take me to your care.

—From Theodora.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Ethelwyn's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

The Accounting Warden will be glad to receive contributions for Porto Rican relief to be forwarded to the Church Missions' House, New York, for reconstruction of damaged property.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 14, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 508 Tune, Oriel

Mass in C Sir George C. Martin

Introit I am the salvation of My people, | saith the Lord: out of whatsoever tribulation they shall call Me, I will hearken unto them; and I will be their God forever.

PSALM. Hear My law, O My | people: incline your ears unto the | words of My mouth.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. I am the salvation.

Gradual Let my prayer be set forth in Thy sight, O Lord, as the | incense: and let the lifting up of my hands be an | evening sacrifice.

Alleluia, Alleluia. They that put their trust in the Lord shall be even as the mount | Sion: which may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 258 Tune, Lauda Anima

Offertory—Hymn 441 Tune, St. Finbar

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March in B flat Edmundstoune-Duncan

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 21 Gregorian Tone VIII-2

Magnificat } in B minor T. Tertius Noble
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 18 Tune, Eventide

Offertory Anthem Gretchaninof

Let us who figure forth the Cherubim, representing them in a mystery; and who unto the life-giving Trinity, now sing the hymn thrice holy; now let us lay aside every earth-born care; Amen. That the King of all, we may raise on high, by the angelic host up-borne, invisibly up-borne. Alleluia, Alleluia.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Thursday will be the Feast of St. Luke the Evangelist. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Accounting Warden will be glad to receive contributions for Porto Rican relief to be forwarded to the Church Missions' House, New York, for reconstruction of damaged property.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

No. 4

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Feast of SS. Simon and Jude

October 28, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 267 - - - - - Tune, Paeon

Mass in E - - - - - Horatio W. Parker

Introit How dear are Thy friends unto | me, O God: O how great is the pre-eminence | of them.

PSALM. O Lord, Thou hast searched me out, and | known me:
Thou knowest my down-sitting, and | mine up-rising.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out
end. Amen.

INTROIT. How dear.

Gradual Their sound is gone out into all | lands: and their words into the | ends of the world. The heavens declare the glory of | God: and the firmament | sheweth His handy-work.

Alleluia, Alleluia. I have chosen you out of the | world: that ye should go, and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain. |
Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 293 - - - - - Tune, St. George

Offertory—Hymn 543 - - - - - Tune, Melchior

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—March in E - - - - - Callear's

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 149, 150 - - - - - Gregorian Tones VI-B, IV-6

Magnificat } in E - - - - - Sir Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 19 - - - - - Tune, Seymour

Offertory Anthem - - - - - Spohr

Come up hither, and I will show thee what will be hereafter: And lo! a throne was set in heaven, and on the throne one stood, and a rainbow was round about the throne: and the Elders knelt before the throne, clad in white raiment, and on their heads were crowns of gold; and from the throne came thunderings and lightnings, and voices crying day and night, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts! God Almighty, Who wast, and Who art, and Who art to come. Behold the Lamb that was slain! Weep no more; behold He that died is risen, and hath conquered Death and Hell.

And the Elders fell down before the Lamb, with their harps and golden urns burning odors, singing this song of praise: All glory to the Lamb that died, exalted now at God's right hand, in blessing, and wisdom, and honour and praise for ever.

—From the "Last Judgment."

Organ Postlude - - - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Today is the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude.

On October 29th St. Mark's is taking its Day of Intercession in the Catholic Cycle of Prayer. Special intercessions will be offered at the Masses, and intercession leaflets will be found in the Church. It is hoped that as many as possible will visit the Church at any hour during the day, to make the intercessions.

On All Saints' Day, November 1st, there will be Masses at 7 and 7.45 A. M., with a High Mass and Sermon at 9.30 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, November 1st, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, November 1st, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Campbell, D. D., Bishop of Liberia.

The Sewing Class will start on Thursday, November 1st, in the Parish Building.

Vespers of the Dead will be said on Thursday, November 1st, directly after Evensong.

On All Souls' Day, November 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., Requiem Mass at 7.45., and a Solemn High Requiem Mass and Sermon at 9.30 A. M.

The annual meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish House, on Friday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Masses for the Dead are said every Saturday at 7 and 7.45 A. M., throughout the year.

Vespers of the Dead are said every Saturday afternoon, immediately after Evensong, throughout November.

Please Send Names for All Souls' Day Not Later Than Monday Morning, October 29th,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity

November 11, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 305 - - - Tune, Beatitudo

Mass in E - - - Horatio W. Parker

Introit I know the thoughts that I think towards you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and | not of evil: ye shall call upon Me, and I will hearken unto you, and I will turn away your captivity from all | places.

PSALM. Lord, Thou art become gracious unto Thy | land: Thou hast turned away the captivi | ty of Jacob.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. I know.

Gradual It is Thou, O Lord, That savest us from our | enemies; and puttest them to confu | sion that hate us. We make our boast of God all day | long: and will praise Thy | Name forever.

Alleluia, Alleluia. He maketh peace in Thy | borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 492 - - - Tune, Ora Labora

Offertory—Hymn 542 - - - Tune, Patmos

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Grand Chorus - - - Georges MacMaster

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 140

Gregorian Tone III-A-5

Magnificat } in G
Nunc Dimittis }

W. A. Cruickshank

Office Hymn 16

Tune, Vesper

Offertory Anthem

Mendelssohn

Draw near, all ye people; come to me. Lord God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel, this day let it be known that Thou art God and I am Thy servant, and that I have done these things according to Thy word. O hear me and answer me and shew to all this people that Thou art Lord God, and let their hearts again be turned.

Cast thy burden upon the Lord and He shall sustain thee. He never will suffer the righteous to fall. He is at thy right hand. Thy mercy, Lord, is great and far above the heavens. Let none be made ashamed that call upon Thee.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Enrollment for Red Cross begins to-day.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Pennsylvania invites all women of the Diocese to the Annual Devotional Day on Tuesday, November 13th, in Holy Trinity Church, 19th and Walnut Streets. Leader: The Rt. Rev. Frank W. Creighton, Bishop of Mexico.

Holy Communion - - - 10.00 A. M.

Followed by address.

Noonday Intercessions - - - 12.00 Noon

Box Luncheon, Holy Trinity Parish House, 12.45

Afternoon service and address in Holy Trinity Church - - - 2.15 P. M.

Offerings at both services will be for the work of the Church in Mexico.

The Fourth Catholic Congress will be held in New York City, beginning Tuesday evening, November 13th, and closing Thursday evening, November 15th, with headquarters at the Hotel Pennsylvania. All the sessions, with the exception of the Masses, will be in the Ball Room of the Hotel Pennsylvania.

There are to be Solemn Pontifical Masses at 10.30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, November 14th, at the following churches: St. Mary the Virgin, St. Ignatius, The Transfiguration, and St. Paul's Chapel.

A feature of the Congress will be the Dinner, Wednesday evening, November 14th, at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Tickets may be obtained from the Office of the Secretary of the Congress, the Rev. S. Atmore Caine, 5720 Ridge Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa. The cost per plate is $3. Please send cheque with request for tickets.

Members of the congregation who have not registered as annual members of the Catholic Congress, are asked to do so. It is very important that the membership from St. Mark's should be as large as possible in order that we may in this way definitely endorse the Congress.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Death does not dissolve spiritual relationships. Death does not sever spiritual ties. Death does not release from the duty of prayer. Death does not interrupt spiritual communion. Death does not destroy prayer.

"The things which are seen are temporal." They pass away. Time and change and chance affect them. To depend wholly upon them is to store up disappointment and regret. They are pleasant while they last. But they don't last. And one must have something back of the temporal things and over the temporal things. One must have something which will never be taken away. One must have something to keep.

"The things which are not seen are eternal." The unseen, eternal things make life worth while. The seen things are the signs of the unseen. If they are not, then they are ghastly shams. Under the outward and visible there must be the inward and spiritual. The secret of stability is to set one's affections upon the things which are unseen and eternal.

This is precisely what the Communion of Saints means. It is the unseen and eternal unity of the members of Christ. This is the imperishable and indestructible thing. This is the thing which lasts.

The Sacramental life is the means by which the eternal relationships in Christ are assured.

The prayer life is the heavenly conversation of the family of God. Everything else may change. This never changes. "Neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

The one thing that we can do for those with whom we are bound up in the bundle of life, is to maintain our own union with Our Lord and to pray instantly in season and out of season. Every other effort we make is minor. Every minor effort may fail. The only service that will endure the strain of years, and survive the separations which the changes of the years inevitably bring, is the service of unbroken Communion and unceasing prayer. This is what we owe to those for whom we are in any special way responsible. The very passing away of the seen things, which are temporal, must serve as constant reminders of the lasting obligations of the unseen things which are eternal.

So every year, All Souls' Day comes to emphasize on one day what is the duty of every day.

On All Souls' Day we offer the Holy Sacrifice for all the faithful departed. "For those, our dearest and our best, by this prevailing Presence we appeal." We commend them, one by one, to God, and pray for their refreshment, light and peace.

As we pray for them, we meet them. As we make our Communion we have them.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent
November 25, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 540 Tune, St. Albans

Mass in C Myles B. Foster

Introit I know the thoughts that I think towards you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and | not of evil: ye shall call upon Me, and I will hearken unto you, and I will turn away your captivity from all | places.

PSALM. Lord, Thou art become gracious unto Thy | land: Thou hast turned away the captivi | ty of Jacob.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. I know.

Gradual It is Thou, O Lord, That savest us from our | enemies; and puttest them to confu | sion that hate us. We make our boast of God all day | long: and will praise Thy | Name forever.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The heathen shall fear Thy Name, O | Lord: and all the kings of the earth Thy majesty. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 4 Tune, Ratisbon

Offertory—Hymn 445 Tune, St. Anne

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—St. Anne Fugue Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 144 Gregorian Tone I-B-2

Magnificat } in G W. A. C. Cruickshank
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 29 Tune, St. Clement

Offertory Anthem Charles Steggall

Remember now Thy Creator, in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; while the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain: in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those who look out of the windows be darkened and the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low; and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return to God Who gave it.

Vanity, vanity of vanities, saith the preacher; all is vanity.

Remember now thy Creator, in the days of thy youth.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

Thanksgiving Day

November 29, 1928

Mass, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns, 420, 421

Mass—Missa Marialis Ancient Plainsong

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day. Services are as usual, excepting that there will be a Solemn High Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Friday is St. Andrew's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A.M.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates of St. Margaret's Community and friends on December 4th, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street. Conductor: The Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Germantown. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M., and ends at 5 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

The Rector's Discretionary Fund is depleted. Offerings will be gladly received. They should be made through the offering at times of communion.

I call your attention to the Bishop's letter concerning the Episcopal Hospital. A copy will be given to you to take home to read and consider. We must do everything in our power to do our share at St. Mark's, in making the Hospital worthy of the name it bears.

The offering at the 9.30 Mass on Thanksgiving Day will be as provided by the Canon, for the Episcopal Hospital.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SUNDAY NEXT BEFORE ADVENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

It is the last Sunday in the Christian year. It is a time for looking back over the old year that is almost gone and for looking forward to the new year that is almost here.

The Christian year provides an ordered sequence of Christian teaching, Christian practise and Christian devotion. The Book of Common Prayer is the manual of corporate worship. It is our guide. If it is followed simply and carefully and faithfully, it will provide a system of instruction which will include everything that a Christian should know. The will to follow is all that is needed.

So the Collect for today teaches us to pray that our wills may be stirred up, that we may plentifully bring forth the fruits of good works, and that we may be plentifully rewarded.

There is no doubt about the plentifulness of the reward. The life in the Christian year is its own reward.

The arrangement of the seasons is a perpetual Sursum Corda. Each season impels us to lift up our hearts unto the Lord.

The Advent message of repentance in preparation for the Festival of the Nativity of Our Lord ushers in the year. The Advent Collects, Epistles and Gospels, the Lessons, the Hymns, the colors, make impressions and leave memories that are deep and lasting. The spirit of Advent makes repentance a very simple, and searching and gentle spiritual exercise. It gives us four weeks to make our peace with God in the Advent absolution.

Then comes the holy night and the happy morning, the Bethlehem at the Altar and the Christmas Communion.

The Epiphany devotions follow on. The Wise Men, following the Star, come bringing gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh. The Crib is such a quiet, fragrant, lovely place to pray and to become as little children once again.

The Sundays of preparation for Lent press us on.

Ash Wednesday, Lent and Passiontide lead us to Calvary, and on Good Friday the whole family of God kneels at the Cross.

Easter finds us in the Presence of the Risen Lord, shriven and preserved in body and soul unto everlasting life.

Ascension leaves us looking steadfastly toward Heaven as Our Lord is received up to sit on the right hand of God.

Whitsunday assembles us all with one accord in one place and we are filled with the Holy Ghost.

Trinity opens the Gates of Heaven and bids us adore the Triune God.

And at stations along the way of this fascinating year, we find Saints and Angels, and we stop and have a word with one after another of the Company of Heaven.

Each day brings Mass, Matins, Evensong, Angelus, Intercession, Meditation, and times of solitude, silence and rest in the Divine Presence.

Locust Street is a noisy place. All about us huge buildings tower high. Yet, pass through the red doors of Saint Mark's, and you shall find the Kingdom of Heaven at hand.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent
December 2, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession 53 - Tune, Hosanna

Mass — Missa Marialis - Ancient Plainsong

Introit Unto Thee, O Lord, will I lift up my soul: my God, I have put my
| trust in Thee: O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enemies
triumph over me; for all they that hope in Thee shall not be a | shamed.

PSALM. Show me Thy ways, O | Lord: and | teach me Thy paths.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Unto Thee.

Gradual All they that hope in Thee, O | Lord: shall | not be ashamed.
Shew me Thy ways, O | Lord: and teach | me Thy paths.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Shew us Thy mercy, O | Lord: and grant us
Thy salvation | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 63 - Tune, Merton

Offertory—Hymn 62 - Tune, Sleepers, Wake

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 331, - Tune, St. Vincent

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude and Fugue in E minor - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 148, 149, 150 - Gregorian Tones VII-2, VI-B, IV-6

Magnificat } in B minor - T. Tertius Noble
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 62 - Tune, Sleepers, Wake

Offertory Anthem - Handel

And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together, for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

—From the "Messiah."

Organ Postlude - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Rector's Discretionary Fund is depleted. Offerings will be gladly received. They should be made through the offering at times of communion.

Offerings for the Episcopal Hospital not made on Thanksgiving Day, may be sent in at any time.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates of St. Margaret's Community and friends on December 4th, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street. Conductor: The Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Germantown. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M., and ends at 5 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, December 6th, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building, on Thursday, December 6th, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Mrs. George Wharton Pepper.

I desire to call attention to the Church Literature Foundation, incorporated in Wisconsin by Bishop Webb, Bishop Ivins and Mr. Morehouse. The purpose of this organization is to secure an endowment fund, the income from which is to underwrite the publication and distribution of literature in the interest of the Christian religion. The Foundation appeals to Church people for their generous support. The treasurer is the Rev. B. Talbot Rogers, D. D., 11 West 45th Street, New York City.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

I have been looking out from my study window to-night entranced. I have seen the lights of Boston on the Charles. I have seen the lights of London on the Thames. I have sensed the secrets of the lights of Washington. I have never lost the thrill of the lights of New York. I have seen the lights of Philadelphia tonight. And I shall never forget.

This is what I saw. Tall buildings, studded with lights, which seemed to touch the sky. From a deep shadow the spire of Saint Mark's shot up and stood perfectly outlined in flawless beauty. And between the spire and one towering, light-crowned shaft, the moon with all its fullness and fairness shone down. I saw the world and a world beyond the world. And I saw the finger of the Catholic Church pointing to the world which is beyond the worlds. Beneath it all were streets, and cabs and buses and crowds. The crowds which are so dear to God. The crowds whom Angels guard and for whom Saints pray.

In the dark church the red lamp will shine before the Tabernacle all night long.

Within the Tabernacle the crowds' Redeemer will wait and watch and intercede.

The dawn of day will transform the city. Everything will change, except the spire. It never changes.

Before the city is quite awake, candles will be lighted. The Angelus will ring. Priests will stand before the Altars. The Holy Sacrifice will be offered. The Holy Food will make the weak strong. The Great Physician will visit the sick.

The Divine Office will be recited at the appointed times. Psalms and Lessons, Canticles, Versicals, Responses and Collects will fill Choir and Nave with the substance of which incense is the sign.

At mid-day petitions will be presented to the Lord of Compassion.

All through the day the clients of the Saviour will visit Him for adoration and rest.

The evening Angelus will end the day. Night will come. And through the night, the spire will point the crowds to Heaven. Do the crowds understand?

All this week I have thanked God for the letter of a friend of mine. He is not a priest. He is a young layman.

"Religion can become so complicated, although it is so simple that a child can understand it. It is its simplicity that makes it complicated. People expect something difficult to understand and thereby lose track of the real truth. The things that I learned as a child cover the whole thing, that is a reverent love and affection for Our Lord and a close contact with Him through simple, earnest prayer."

That leaves nothing more to be said.

That is what the spire stands for to-night. It points silently, and massively and imperiously, above the city and beyond the moon and through the years.

The crowds know where to find the world. They know where the best things of the world are. But the crowds want more than the world. The crowds want Heaven. The crowds look for Heaven in the Church. They look to the Church for the things that are not to be found in the world.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 10

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent
December 9, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 57

Tune, Helmsley

Mass — Missa Marialis

Ancient Plainsong

Introit O people of Sion, behold the Lord will come to | save the nations:
and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause His glorious voice | to be heard. Is. exx.

PSALM. Hear, O Thou Shepherd of | Israel: Thou that leadest |
Joseph like a sheep. lxxx.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. O people.

Gradual Out of Sion hath God appeared in perfect | beauty: our God shall come, and shall | not keep silence. Gather My Saints tog ether | unto
Me: those that have made a covenant with | Me with sacrifice. Ps. l.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The powers of heaven shall be | shaken: and then shall they see the Son of Man, coming in a cloud with power and great glory. | Alleluia. Luke xxi.

Sequence—Hymn 60

Tune, Nox Praecessit

Offertory—Hymn 66

Tune, Veni Emmanuel

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 331,

Tune, St. Vincent

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude in F minor

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 26

Gregorian Tone VI-c

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B minor

T. Tertius Noble

Office Hymn 57

Tune, Helmsley

Offertory Anthem

Sir George C. Martin

The great day of the Lord is near, and hasteth greatly. Even the voice of the day of the Lord.

Seek ye, the Lord, all ye meek upon earth, which have wrought
His judgment. Seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be we shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.

The great day of the Lord is near.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Accounting Warden will be glad to have holders of pews, who expect to be absent from the city for the whole or part of the winter, or who have seats in their pews which they do not occupy, give him permission to use the same for the seating of strangers and visitors to St. Mark's.

This seating will be in charge of Mr. John W. R. Hilliard and a competent corps of ushers, who will at all times conform to the wishes of pew holders in regard to this matter.

PHILIP H. BRICE, Accounting Warden.

The Tuberculosis Committee of the Philadelphia Health Council calls our attention to the twenty-first annual sale of Christmas seals, which is being held during December. This is the sole means of maintaining the work of the Tuberculosis Committee.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Church speaks to us today of the Holy Scriptures, written for our learning and comfort and hope, in words that shall not pass away.

The Church's ministry of the word is the means which the God of hope uses to fill the faithful with all joy and peace in believing. The faithful find it all. It sometimes seems strange that it is possible for the god of this world to blind the minds of men. Sometimes it seems as though the plain truths of God are impenetrably hidden from plain men who might so easily and so willingly understand.

The ministry of preaching is much emphasized today. But what does it accomplish? The Monday reports of the Sunday sermons, as they appear in the newspapers convey the impression of a confusion of tongues. It may be a confusion of reportorial minds. But in either case one gathers the impression of futility. Much of quiet, effective work, no doubt, is being done. But one hears little of it. The normal has no news value. I do not forget that it pleases God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. But the point which presses upon my mind, at the moment is, that there is a more consistent and convincing means of conveying the contents of the Scriptures to the world.

The Liturgy and the Offices and the seasonal devotions of the Church are far, far more arresting and impressive and illuminating than sermons. It is a fact within observation and without dispute, that more people are won and taught by the Liturgy than by sermons. This is true all over the world. Wherever you find a cathedral, a church or a chapel in which the priests make it their chief concern to serve God unremittently at the Altar and in Choir, you will find a people rooted and grounded in faith. You will see, and you will see at its best, the Church's ministry of the word.

The reason is not hard to see. At the Altar, in Choir, at the Lectern, it is the Church's voice that you hear. The priest speaks the words of the Church and not his own. His individuality is happily lost. He is caught up into and he is merged with the Church.

The Altar is at the Centre. The mystery there is the mystery of Calvary. The Church there shows forth the Lord's death till He comes. From the preparation at the foot of the Altar and on through Introit, Kyrie, Collect, Epistle, Gospel, Creed, Sanctus, Benedictus, Consecration, Agnus, Communion, Gloria, Post Communion, Blessing and last Gospel, you will find redemption in action from Bethlehem to Heaven.

In the Offices you will hear in Psalms and Lessons, the Bible from beginning to end. And this, mark you, on every day throughout the year.

In the Seasonal Devotions, you will find the Sacred Drama which literally takes every year a year of Our Lord.

It is impossible to follow the Church from Advent to Advent without a growing knowledge of the holy Word.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 11

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent
December 16, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 68

Tune, Pearsall

Mass — Missa Marialis

Ancient Plainsong

Introit Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I | say, rejoice: let your modulation be known unto all men; the Lord | is at hand. Be careful for nothing: but in every | thing by prayer; let your requests be made known | unto God.

PSALM. And the peace of God, which passeth all under | standing: shall | keep your hearts and minds.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. Rejoice.

Gradual Shew Thyself, O Lord, Thou that sittest upon the | Cherubim: stir | up Thy strength and come. Hear, O Thou Shepherd of | Israel: Thou that leadest | Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Stir up Thy strength | O Lord: and come, and help us.

Sequence—Hymn 282

Tune, Winchester New

Offertory—Hymn 70

Tune, St. Stephen

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 338, (part 2) Tune, St. Thomas

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 94

Gregorian Tone IV-4

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in B minor

T. Tertius Noble

Office Hymn 282

Tune, Winchester New

Offertory Anthem

S. S. Wesley

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly and rejoice with joy and singing.

Say to them of a fearful heart, Be strong: fear not: behold your God, even God, will come and save you.

Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongues of the dumb sing, for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert: and a highway shall be there; it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it, but the redeemed shall walk there and the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads. They shall obtain joy and gladness and sorrow and sighing shall flee; shall flee away.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Offerings at all the services today, December 16th, will be for the Missionary Work of the Diocese of Pennsylvania and of the Church at large. This will be the last of our three Special Offerings for Missions for 1928. Towards the $15,000, hopefully promised at the beginning of the year for Missionary Purposes, we have a little over $11,000 credited, leaving a balance of $3,900 to be secured by the end of the year. A generous response to the appeal issued by the Committee on Missions is asked.

The Accounting Warden will be glad to have holders of pews, who expect to be absent from the city for the whole or part of the winter, or who have seats in their pews which they do not occupy, give him permission to use the same for the seating of strangers and visitors to St. Mark's.

This seating will be in charge of Mr. John W. R. Hilliard and a competent corps of ushers, who will at all times conform to the wishes of pew holders in regard to this matter.

PHILIP H. BRICE, Accounting Warden.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

Friday is St. Thomas' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A.M.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1928.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Preparation is the note of this Sunday. Preparation by penitence for the Festival of the Nativity is the purpose of the Season of Advent. We can only know the joy of redemption by first realizing our need of it. The joy of Christmas is the coming of the Saviour. The love of God is manifested at the Manger. It is this joy and love which should be reflected in the simple, human, homely happiness of the family observances. The Holy Family brings the vision of the happiness of holiness to every family. The Holy Child is the Children's Saviour. The Holy Mother is she whom all generations shall call blessed. Every family should come with haste on Christmas morning to find Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in the Manger. Every family should give the first thought to the Holy Child. He is to be adored. He is to be received. He is to be tabernacled in the soul. The gifts must first be offered to Him. Then for His sake gifts will first be offered to children. Christmas is above all days the children's day. It is a day to give gifts to children in honor of the Holy Child.

Deep devotion and happy simplicity should mark the Christmas season. Nothing should be allowed to obscure the one, great, central and only event, "The Nativity of Our Lord, or the Birthday of Christ commonly called Christmas Day."

The commercialized Yule-tide, with its trade advertisements, its crowds of belated shoppers, its armies of tired sales-people, postal clerks, postmen and expressmen, is very, very remote from the Christian Christmas. Almost as remote, but not quite, as the horrible parades assigned by merchants and hotel keepers to Palm Sunday and Easter. I do not mean to say that there is not a time to stimulate trade. What I do mean to say is that religious Festivals, whether Christian or Hebrew, ought not to be commercialized. There are plenty of other days for that. Religious Days are days for religion, and they should be kept religiously. They should be observed strictly, simply unostentatiously and devoutly.

The Christian Religion is a joyous religion. It is an inclusive religion. It is concerned with glory to God in the highest, and with peace and good will to men on earth. It sanctifies the gifts of God for worship. It hallows human relationships. It blesses the legitimate human pleasures. It stabilizes the institution of the family. It glorifies virginity. It dignifies maternity. It protects children. It makes men chivalrous. It exalts nations. And it possesses the secret of world peace.

The Church is a Divine Institution with a human mission. All power has been given to the Church, on earth and in Heaven. She is stronger than the world, and She knows it. She remembers that the gates of hell cannot prevail against Her, and She is fearless. She is the home of saints and the refuge of sinners. So She is holy and compassionate. She is strong and patient. She is unchanging and changeless.

In the massive magnificence of Her solemn ceremonies She affords glimpses of the grandeur of God.

In the simplicity of Her Sacramental ministrations She manifests the tenderness of God.

Her voice penetrates and rises above the confusion of the world and proclaims the eternal verities.

She is speaking today, "Behold I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee." And on Christmas Day She will exhibit the Christ Child on her Altars.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent

December 23, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Christmas Day

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 61 - Tune, Lancashire

Mass — Missa Marialis - Ancient Plainsong

Introit Remember us, O Lord, according to the favour that Thon bearest unto Thy people; O visit us with | Thy salvation: that we may see the felicity of Thy chosen; and rejoice in the gladness of Thy people, and give thanks with Thine in | heritage.

PSALM. We have sinned with our | fathers: we have done amiss, | and dealt wickedly.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. Remember us.

Gradual The Lord is nigh unto all them that call up | on Him: yea, all such as call up | on Him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the | Lord; and let all flesh give thanks un | to His holy Name.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Stir up Thy strength | O Lord: and come, and help us. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 54 - Tune, Bristol

Offertory—Hymn 67 - Tune, Beverley

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 338, (part 2) Tune, St. Thomas

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude in G

Back

Solemn Ebensong

Gregorian Tone V-3

Psalm 103

Magnificat } in B minor
Nunc Dimittis }

T. Tertius Noble

Office Hymn 67

Tune, Beverley

Offertory Anthem—The Bell Anthem

Henry Purcell

Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, rejoice. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand. Be careful for nothing: but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding; shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

Christmas Day

Hymns in Procession { 72
73

Adeste Fideles
Mendelssohn

Mass in G

Peter Franz Schubert

Introit. Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon | His shoulder: and His Name shall be called Wonderful, | Counsellor.

PSALM. O sing unto the Lord a | new song: for He hath | done marvellous things.

GLORIA PATRI. INTROIT. Unto us.

Gradual. All the ends of the world have seen the salvation of our | God: shew yourselves joyful unto the Lord, | all ye lands. The Lord declared His sal | vation: His righteousness hath He openly shewed in | the sight of the heathen.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The Lord said | unto Me: Thou art My Son, this day have I begotten Thee. Alleluia,

Sequence Hymn 78

Tune St. Louis

Offertory Hymn 76

Tune Yorkshire

Post Communion

Organ Postlude—Pastoral Symphony from “Messiah”

Handel

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Offerings at all the services on Christmas Day will be for the Church Pension Fund Premiums on behalf of the clergy of St. Mark's.

Hours for confessions on Christmas Eve are from 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Wednesday, St. Stephen's Day; Thursday, St. John the Evangelist's Day, and Friday, the Holy Innocents' Day, there will be an additional Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Advent call to repentance carries through to the Eve of Christmas. "Repent ye, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

The word repentance has suffered misuse. It has come to convey something less, and sometimes something other, than its true meaning. To many it seems to mean transient and violent emotional experience. To others it seems to mean an irrational and undesirable excitement.

It is said that the world nowadays is not moved by calls to repentance. I do not expect that the world will be so moved, until the meaning of the word, at least, is understood.

It is said that the world would not be interested in the meaning of repentance, because nowadays no one is troubled about sin. That is nonsense. Sin is the cause of all the trouble there is in the world. Sin means the missing of the mark of happiness. It means other things, but it means that. Sin ends in disillusionment and despondency, and unless some remedy is found, it ends in despair. Each generation finds that out, sooner or later. It does not have to be argued. It just happens.

Repentance means first of all an after thought. It means a change of mind. But if that were all, it would not amount to anything more than remorse. Remorse is fruitless. It is fruitless because it is self regarding. Remorse leads a person to fix attention on self. This is what drives people to despair.

Repentance leads men to look from self to God. It moves the soul to say, "I will arise and go to my Father." "I will leave this God-forsaken place. My whole philosophy of life has been wrong. I will say, 'I have sinned.'"

When the soul arrives at this stage, it begins to see that sin is more than a personal misfortune. It is an unpaid debt to others. It demands satisfaction. The desire to make satisfaction for sin supersedes the desire to escape from its painful consequences.

The soul discovers that sin is a positive trespass. It trespasses against God. To think that one is free to live one's own life is a hideous mistake. That is sheer lawlessness. This new point of view presses amendment of life as the only obvious duty.

The first fruits of repentance are confession, satisfaction and amendment. The true penitent will cry, not "What must I do to be saved, but what may I do?" The generous penitent seeks not the least that it can do, but the most. And it will be content with nothing less. In the new light the mind begins to think straight. The penitent becomes right minded. Repentance is right mindedness. It is healthy mindedness. It is sanity. The penitent has arrived at his real self, which is his best self.

It is this real self which arises. And at this point the emotions, whatever part they have played, have done their work. From this point on, it is the will that matters. The will to arise. The will to go to the Father. The will to confess, and make satisfaction, and to amend, and to patiently suffer the pains of purgation.

Then it comes to pass that as the soul goes, it is cleansed. It becomes healed and whole. The former things pass away. The old self ceases to exist. All things become new. It forgets the things that are past, and presses joyously on to the mark, which this time it will not miss. This is the mystery of the forgiveness of sins.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Christmas Day
December 30, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong, Carols and Procession	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 72 - Tune, Adeste Fideles

Mass — in G : : Peter Franz Schubert

Introit While all things were in quiet silence, and night was in the midst of | her swift course; Thine Almighty Word leaped down from heaven out of Thy | Royal Throne.

PSALM. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious ap | parel; the Lord hath put on His apparel, and | girded Himself with strength.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. While all things.

Gradual Thou art fairer than the children of | men: full of | grace are Thy lips. My heart is inditing of a good matter, I speak of the things which I have made unto the | King: My tongue is the pen of a | ready writer.

Alleluia, Alleluia. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious ap | parel; The Lord hath put on His apparel and girded Himself with strength. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 79 - - - Tune, Carol

Offertory—Hymn 76 - - - Tune, Yorkshire

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Shepherds in the Fields

Malling

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 8

Gregorian Tone V-2

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat

Henry Smart

Offertory Anthem

Adolph Adam

O Holy Night

Carols—

Good King Wenceslaus

All My Heart This Night Rejoices (545)

The First Nowell (551)

Devotions

Processional to the Creche

Once in Royal David's City (349)

Prayers

Carol—Silent Night, Holy Night

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Tuesday is the Feast of the Circumcision. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, January 3d, at 7.45 A. M.

The annual meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House, on Thursday, January 3d, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Deaconess Young.

The clergy take this opportunity of thanking all their friends for their kind remembrance conveyed by notes and cards.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Church gives thanks for the Nativity of Our Lord and once more she sets forth, in order, a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among Christians, as delivered by those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses. The Church gives to the faithful the only authentic life of Our Lord.

This needs to be remembered. The unwary need to be warned against the so-called histories of Our Lord's life, which are constantly appearing in book shops and in magazines. There is no authoritative history of Our Lord other than that which is contained in the Gospels and interpreted by the Church. There are, needless to say, devotional studies of the life, approved by the Church. On the other hand there is a plague of books which bear no mark of devotion, study or approval. If such books have come to you as Christmas presents from well-meaning friends, you will be prudent, if, before reading them, you seek the counsel of some learned theologian who may fairly be reckoned as a competent authority in such matters.

The Church will lead us in the very footsteps of Our Lord's most holy life. In her Scriptures, her Creed, her Liturgy and her devotional practises, she will impart the instruction, instill the principles and inculcate the devotion, which will make us orthodox Christians. In the bright beams of the light which illumines her, we may walk in the light of truth. Christians have neither use nor time nor taste for semi-Christian, non-Christian nor anti-Christian narratives of their Lord.

Our knowledge of Our Lord is a personal knowledge of a Person. It is not a mere matter of knowing about Him. It is a matter of knowing Him. This knowledge is only possible by personal contact. The Church provides this contact in Holy Communion. The Holy Communion is the centre of the Christian life. The Altar is the meeting place with Our Lord. In the Eucharistic Mysteries, the Christian sees the unfolding of Our Lord's life. But he does more than this. He participates in that life. The Christian is at Bethlehem in the Christmas Communion. As he receives Communion frequently and constantly throughout the Christian year, he lives with Our Lord and shares His life in Nazareth and Jerusalem. He is with Our Lord in Gethsemane. He is made a partaker of His merits and death on Calvary. He shares the triumph of His Resurrection, the glory of His Ascension, and of His High Priestly intercession in Heaven.

In the Eucharistic Mysteries the Christian lives in Our Lord, and Our Lord lives in him. The Christian's body and soul become a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice. The love of Christ constrains him. Sacrifice becomes his rule of life. Perfect charity is the standard of his perfection.

He is engaged in a war on two sectors. It is a defensive war on one sector, where he is fighting the forces of the world, the flesh and the devil. It is an offensive war on the other, where by positive acts of sacrifice and service, he is seeking an advance in charity.

So he becomes an intimate disciple. He comes into the knowledge of His Master which only a disciple can acquire. He knows the life of His Lord, because he is an eyewitness of that life. In Sacraments, and prayer and in the common round of daily life, the anointing which he has received abides in him, and he needs not that any man should teach him.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Epiphany

January 6, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong, Carols and Procession	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in Procession { Lo, the Pilgrim Magi - Tune Goshen
Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning, Tune Morning Star

Lo, the Pilgrim Magi
Leave their royal halls,
And with eager footsteps
Speed to Bethlehem's walls;
As they onward journey,
Faith which firmly rests
Upon Hope unswerving,
Triumphs in their breasts.

Oh, what joys ecstatic
Thrilled each heart, from far,
When, to guide their footsteps
Gleamed that Beacon Star;
O'er that home so holy,
Pouring down its ray,
Where the cradled Infant
With His Mother lay.

Costly pomp and pageant
Earthly kings array;
He, a mightier Monarch.
Hath a nobler sway;
Straw may be His pallet,
Mean His garb may be,
Yet with power transcendent
He all hearts can free.

At His crib they worship,
Prostrate on the floor;
And their God, there present,
In that Babe adore;
Let us to that Infant,
As their offspring true,
Hearts with faith o'erflowing
Give our tribute due.

Love for gold presenting,
Unto Christ our King;
To the Man pure bodies,
Myrr-like, chastely bring;
Unto Him, as incense,
Vow and prayer address;
So, with meekest offerings,
Him our God confess.

Glory to the Father,
Fount of Light alone;
Who unto the Gentiles,
Made His glory known.
Equal praise and glory,
Blessed Son, to Thee,
And to Thee, sweet Spirit,
Evermore shall be. Amen.

Mass — For Men's Voices, in D
Credo

Robert Volkmann
Gretchaninof

Antiphon. Behold the Lord the Ruler | hath come: and dominion, and power, and empire, are in | His hand.

PSALM. Give the King Thy judgments, O | God; and Thy righteousness | unto the King's Son.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Behold the Lord.

Gradual. All they from Sheba shall come, they shall bring gold and | incense: and they shall shew forth the | praises of the Lord. Arise, shine, O Je | rusalem: for the glory of the Lord is | risen upon thee.

Alleluia, Alleluia. We have seen His star in the | East: and are come to worship the Lord with gifts. | Alleluia,

Sequence—Hymn 98
How Bright Appears the Morning Star Tune, Frankfort

Offertory—Hymn 74
Tune, Divinum Mysterium

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum
I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Noel: Chant du Roi Rene Gullmant

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 98 Gregorian Tone VI-a

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis { in B flat Henry Smart

Offertory Anthem Gounod

Though poor be the chamber,
Come here and adore,
Lo, the Lord of Heaven
Hath to mortals given
Life forevermore.

Kings from a far land;
Draw near and behold Him,
Led by the beam whose warning bade you come;
Your crowns cast down,
With robe royal enfold Him,
Your King descends to earth from brighter home.

Shepherds who folded your flocks
beside you,
Tell what was told by angel voices near,
To you this day is born He who will guide you
Through paths of peace to living waters clear.

Wind, to the cedars proclaim the joyful story,
Wave of the sea, the tidings bear afar,
The night is gone, behold in all its glory,
All broad and bright rises
The Eternal Morning Star.

Carols—
Saw You Never in the Twilight (553)
We Three Kings of Orient Are (554)

Devotions

Processional to the Creche

Once in Royal David's City (349)

Prayers

Carol—Silent Night, Holy Night

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

We still require $1,220.31 to make up the Quota of $15,000 from St. Mark's for Missionary Purposes for 1928. It is earnestly hoped that the full sum may be in hand before the closing of the Diocesan books on January 15th.

There are two boxes in the porch, one is marked Parochial Visits and the other Intercessions. This will afford a convenient opportunity to devote requests for visits from the clergy and for intercessions.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE EPIPHANY, 1929.

My DEAR PEOPLE:

"We have seen his star, and are come to worship." This was the witness of the Wise Men. It has been the universal witness of the faithful ever since the first Epiphany. The witness of the Wise Men did not win the favor of the world. The witness of the faithful does not win the favor of the world. I do not think the entire blame lies with the world. I think it lies more with religiously minded teachers who have never seen the star themselves. The kind of religious teaching which registers in the public press finds lodgement in the popular mind is wholly concerned with men and methods. The new man with the new method seems to be endowed with a news value which lends a fatal facility for obscuring religion. The advocates of new religions may be accorded the privilege of proclaiming their superiority. My only point at present is that they are new religions. They are not the old religion. I am wholly concerned with and committed to the old religion. I have not been impressed by institutional parsons, or psychic parsons, or puzzled parsons, or impatient parsons, or any of the other varieties of popular parsons. The man with a method for a new religion is a sorry substitute for God and the Sacraments of the old religion. I have never known a man with a new religion who knew anything about the old religion.

Yet the star still shines to lead to the place where the young Child may be seen with Mary His Mother. In that place there may be seen the believers of the old religion, worshipping Him and saluting His Mother with the words of an Archangel.

It is not difficult to recognize the old religion when one sees it. A Virgin Mother and a Divine Child are the sure signs. Where the Child is adored and the Virgin venerated, there is the old religion. The Incarnation is the central fact. Where the Son is adored, the Mother is venerated. Where the Mother is venerated the Son is adored. It is difficult to explain but it is easy to sense what, for want of a better term, is called the Catholic atmosphere. Yet for those who know, it is all so simple. The impressions of mystery and reverence and power and sweetness and beauty and peace sum up, at least in part, what one finds in every Church of the old religion. One is conscious of the source of all this, the moment one enters. At this time of year, one stops for a moment at the Crib. There one kneels and makes a meditation and sees Bethlehem as simply and as vividly as one did long ago when one was very young.

One is drawn from the tableaux of the Crib to the Reality of the Tabernacle. And there one finds the Lord Himself. His presence fills His temple. This explains everything. He is the Priest and Victim on His Altars. He is the Absolver in His tribunals of Penance. He is the Compassionate Advocate of the petitions of His clients. He consoles and cleanses and heals and feeds and blesses. His Mother is with Him. His Angels attend Him. His Saints surround Him.

This is what the Catholic senses beyond the familiar externals of the old worship. The externals are valuable to him only because they are identified with the practise of the old religion. What he finds in it is not to be found anywhere else. The old religion is dearest and best.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 15

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

First Sunday after The Epiphany

January 13, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong, Carols and Visit to the Creche	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 99 Tune Zoan

Mass — in C Sir George C. Martin

Introit. On the highest throne I beheld a Man sitting, Whom a multitude of Angels worship, | singing together: and behold His Name and empire are for ever | lasting.

PSALM. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye | lands: serve the Lord with gladness, and come before His | presence with a song.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. On the highest.

Gradual. Blessed be the Lord God, even the God of | Israel: Which only doeth wondrous things from the beginning. The mountains also shall bring | peace; and the little hills righteousness | unto the people.

Alleluia, Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye | lands: serve the Lord with gladness. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 100 Tune, Sardis

Offertory—Hymn 96 Tune, Salzburg

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 67

Gregorian Tone VIII-3

Magnificat } in B flat Henry Smart
Nunc Dimittis }

Offertory Anthem Sir Arthur Sullivan

Sing, O Heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: For the Lord hath comforted His people, and will have mercy upon His afflicted. He will swallow up death in victory: and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of His people shall He take away from all the earth.

Lo, this is our God: we have waited for Him, and He will save us. This is the Lord, we have waited for Him, and we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation.

For His salvation is nigh them that fear Him, that glory may dwell in our land. Mercy and truth are met together, righteousness and peace have kissed each other. Truth shall flourish out of the earth, and righteousness hath looked down from heaven. Thy seat, O God, endureth forever. The sceptre of Thy Kingdom is a right sceptre. Amen.

Carols— Saw You Never in the Twilight (553)
We Three Kings of Orient Are (554)

Devotions

Processional to the Creche
Once in Royal David's City (349)

Prayers

Carol— Silent Night, Holy Night.

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

We still need about $400.00 to complete St. Mark's Quota for D. D. and F. Missions for 1928. We have until January 15th to meet the Quota.

A subscription to the Envelopes, calling for $1.00 a week for Parochial Purposes and fifty cents a week for Missionary Purposes has been received by the Accounting Warden. There is no signature or address on the blank, and therefore it has been impossible to forward Envelopes to the subscriber. The Accounting Warden will appreciate being advised of the subscriber's name and address.

There are two boxes in the porch, one is marked Parochial Visits and the other Intercessions. This will afford a convenient opportunity to deposit requests for visits from the clergy and for intercessions.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today is the Octave of the Epiphany. We are completing the devotions in which we return thanks for the manifestation of Our Lord to the Gentiles. Our Lord is the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. To that light we owe every thing that is worth seeing and knowing and keeping. This Festival is attended with many beautiful ceremonies. But they are not and were never meant to be merely that and nothing more. Every ceremony, simple or ornate, is an exterior sign of an interior devotion. It is serviceable, if it expresses what we really believe.

What we really believe is that Our Lord is the Light of the World. Because we believe this we offer our gifts of worship, prayer and obedience. Our lives lie back of our worship. This is what is meant by worship in spirit and truth. It is not the absence of external signs which indicates true worship. Worship would be incomplete without outward signs. It is the inward spirit and truth which makes worship real. It is the outward expression which makes it complete.

It is a very edifying spiritual exercise at Epiphany-tide, to make a review of one's spiritual opportunities as they have been given us, from childhood on. To do this is conducive to thankfulness. Just as self-examination of sins is conducive to penitence. We need thankfulness as well as penitence, if we are to be balanced Christians.

Most of us have distinct memories of epoch marking illuminations. As we look back we shall be surprised to see how very early in life, some of them came. They may not have been given to us in blinding flashes. We may be thankful if they were not. There are not many of us who could have borne what came to Saint Paul. The normal course is the first faint dawn of the light which shineth more and more unto the perfect day. As our eyes grew accustomed to the light, we began to see more and more clearly the things which hitherto the darkness had obscured. It was by this light that we saw the proofs of the Providence of God, the effectiveness of prayer, the necessity of penitence, the power of Sacraments, the reality of the Eucharistic Presence, the meaning of the Holy Sacrifice, the glory of worship, the beauty of holiness and the marks of Vocation.

Such high things cannot be discovered by the light of the natural world. Nor will the world be predisposed to favorable consideration of them. Saint John explains this. He says that by nature men love darkness rather than light, because their deeds are evil.

It is well to keep this fact in mind in these days when men, and women too, are publicly teaching that the sense of sin is a sickly obsession. Not so long ago, another set of teachers were declaring that it did not matter what one believes, that it is what one is, that counts. Today their successors are proclaiming that it no longer matters what one is.

But we are not concerned with such ancient follies. What we are concerned with is to be thankful for the light, and to be true to it. The one act of worship which is the inner reality of all outer signs, is to follow the light, at the cost of every thing we possess.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Second Sunday after The Epiphany

January 20, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 94 Tune, Dix

Mass — in C Sir George C. Martin

Introit. All the world shall worship | Thee, O God: sing of Thee, and praise Thy Name, O Thou most | Highest.

PSALM. O be joyful in God, all ye | lands: sing praises unto the honour of His Name, make His praise | to be glorious.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. All the world.

Gradual. The Lord sent His word, and | healed them: and they were saved from | their destruction. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for His | goodness; and declare the wonders that He doeth | for the children of men.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Praise the Lord, all ye Angels of | His;
praise Him, all His Host. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 97 Tune, St. Anselm

Offertory--Hymn 110 Tune, Dulce Carmen

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Guilmant

Solemn Chensong

Psalm 45 Gregorian Tone VIII-1

Magnificat } in E Horatio W. Parker
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 110 Tune, Dulce Carmen

Offertory Anthem Mendelssohn

When Jesus our Lord was born in Bethlehem in the land of Judea behold, from the East to the city of Jerusalem there came wise men, and said:

"Say, where is He born, the King of Judea, for we have seen His star and are come to adore Him."

There shall a Star from Jacob come forth, and a Scepter from Israel rise up and dash in pieces princes and nations.

As bright the star of morning gleams
So Jesus sheddeth glorious beams
Of light and consolation.
Thy Word, O Lord, radiance darting,
Truth imparting, gives salvation,
Thine be praise and adoration.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The first of the three Special Offerings to meet St. Mark's Quota for 1929 will be made today. The Offerings at all the services will be for this purpose. It is earnestly hoped that there will be a very liberal Offering today.

There are two boxes in the porch, one is marked Parochial Visits and the other Intercessions. This will afford a convenient opportunity to deposit requests for visits from the clergy and for intercessions.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The miracle recorded in today's Gospel reveals Our Lord as the Master of matter as well as of spirit.

It teaches us that our bodily life as well as our spiritual life is to be brought under subjection to Our Lord, in order that He may not destroy it, but fulfill it.

In the Eucharistic Mysteries we see both these aspects of the miracle.

"For in the night in which He was betrayed, He took bread: and when He had given thanks, He brake it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, Take, eat, this is my Body, which is given for you; Do this in remembrance of me. Likewise, after supper, He took the Cup: and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this; for this is my Blood of the New Testament, which is shed for you, and for many, for the remission of sins; Do this, as oft as ye shall drink it, in remembrance of me."

In the prayer of humble access we pray, "Grant us therefore, gracious Lord, so to eat the flesh of thy dear Son Jesus Christ, and to drink his Blood, that our sinful bodies may be made clean by His Body, and our souls washed through His most precious Blood, and that we may evermore dwell in Him, and He in us."

When we receive the Blessed Sacrament, the Priest says "The Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life." "The Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life."

When we return thanks for Holy Communion, we say "Almighty and ever-living God, we most heartily thank Thee, for that Thou dost vouchsafe to feed us who have received these holy mysteries, with the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ."

We are always grateful for having the Liturgy in the vernacular. It makes it possible for the newly instructed to understand what it means. And life long participation in the Liturgy serves to saturate one's devotional life with the age long Eucharistic teaching of the Catholic Church. If the words of our own language mean anything, and if these words quoted from the Prayer Book are not deliberately subjected to wilful misreading and violent misinterpretation, they are satisfactorily plain to the practising Christian, who, taking the Anglican Communion at its word, approaches our Altars, seeking the most holy Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

First of all then, in the Eucharistic Mysteries, Our Lord changes the bread and wine so that they become His Body and Blood.

"Christ was the Word that spake it;
He took the bread and brake it;
And what the Word did make it;
That I believe and take it."

Second, the communicants present to the Lord their selves, their souls and bodies to be a reasonable, holy, and living sacrifice, humbly beseeching Him, that they may be filled with His grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with Him, that He may dwell in them and they in Him.

The effect of Communion upon the Christian is the changing of the water of the natural into the wine of the supernatural. The elemental energies are transmuted at their source. They are not destroyed but fulfilled. The Christian is rescued from being conformed to this world, and becomes transformed by the renewing of his mind.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 18

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Sexagesima Sunday

February 3, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 116 - - - Tune, University College

Mass — in E flat - - - Myles B. Foster

Introit. Up, Lord, why sleepest Thou; awake, and be not absent from | us for ever: wherefore hidest Thou Thy face, and forgettest our misery
and | trouble? Our body cleaveth | unto the ground: arise, and help us, O Lord, and deliver us for Thy | mercy's sake.

PSALM. We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have |
told us: what Thou hast done | in their time of old.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Up, Lord.

Gradual. Let the nations know that Thou, Whose Name is Je | hovah: art only the Most Highest | over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a | wheel: and as the | stubble before the wind.

Sequence—Hymn 198 - - - Tune, Heath

Offertory—Hymn 120 - - - Tune, Rest

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 331 - - - Tune, St. Vincent

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - -

Mendelssohn

Solemn Eucharist

Psalm 139 - - - Gregorian Tone VI-A

Magnificat } in E - - - Horatio W. Parker
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 120 - - - Tune, Rest

Offertory Anthem - - - Sir George C. Martin

Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High, shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my strong hold, my God, in Him will I trust.

He shall defend thee under His wings and Thou shalt be safe under His feathers.

His faithfulness and truth shall be Thy shield and buckler.

O Jesus King of Paradise,
O Keep me in Thy Love,
And guide me to that happy land
Of perfect rest above.
Where loyal hearts and true,
Stand ever in the light,
All rapture through and through,
In God's most holy sight.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, February 7th, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building, on Thursday, February 7th, at 3 P. M. Speaker: The Rev. Arnold Fenton.

I publish the following extract from a letter sent to me by Bishop Garland:

"Among the children in the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind there is one from your Parish, (S. Mary's Chapel) Blanche Thomas. The endowments of this Institution only provide about one-fourth the cost of maintenance. The State also gives an appropriation but even with the State aid, the use of the endowment fund, the generous gifts by people in this community, there is a shortage of $125 for each person in the Institution."

If the maintenance of this blind child appeals to you, will you send your offerings to the Parochial Secretary, Miss Jessie R. Little, 1625 Locust Street.

There are two boxes in the porch, one is marked Parochial Visits and the other Intercessions. This will afford a convenient opportunity to deposit requests for visits from the clergy and for intercessions.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

SEXAGESIMA, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Yesterday was the Feast of the Purification of Saint Mary the Virgin. We have a notable Chapel in Saint Mark's dedicated to Saint Mary the Virgin. The traditional name for such a Chapel is Lady Chapel. So our Chapel is known as the Lady Chapel. We use it devotionally daily. Many visitors are attracted by the beauty of this Chapel and come desiring to see it as a work of art. It is that. But it is very much more. It is a work of religious art. One can appreciate religious art more discerningly, if one knows something of the religion of which it is the expression.

No better guide book for a visit to the Lady Chapel can be found than the Book of Common Prayer. Let us each take a Prayer Book and go in together.

This Chapel is called a Lady Chapel. Who is the Lady? The Blessed Virgin Mary. What does the Prayer Book say about the Blessed Virgin Mary? On page 7 we read "When thou tookest upon thee to deliver man: thou didst humble thyself to be born of a Virgin." On page 22 we read "All generations shall call me blessed." On page 11 we read "Jesus Christ his only Son Our Lord: Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, Born of the Virgin Mary." On page 58 we find a prayer which contains the statement that Almighty God hath given His only-begotten Son to take our nature upon him, and to be born of a pure virgin. On page 61 we read that "She brought forth her firstborn son." On page 67 we read that an angel said "That which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost." On page 198 we read that the angel Gabriel was sent to a virgin, "and the virgin's name was Mary." And the angel said, "Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women." The angel, we read, also said to Mary, "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee." On page 225 we read that Our Lord "was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary." On page 233 we read that Our Lord, "by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary his mother."

This gives one a great deal to think about. It gives many a great deal to pray about. And it explains why Christians refer to the Blessed Virgin Mary as Our Lady. And it explains why so many of our churches contain a Lady Chapel. Some times these Chapels are very richly fashioned. Some times they are very simple. However that may be, we must always think more of the Lady than we do of the Chapel. We miss the whole point if we do not think of the Lady before we look at the Chapel. The Lady Chapel is devoted to the honor of Our Lady, to help us to devoutly honor her.

Knowing what we do about her from what we have read in the Bible and the Prayer Book, it is not difficult to understand why we should honor her. All generations shall call her blessed, for He that is mighty hath magnified her.

We worship the Holy One who magnified her. We honor above all creatures her whom He magnified. Every visit to the Lady Chapel should be a visit to Our Lady.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 19

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima Sunday

February 10, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 226 . . . Tune, Love Divine

Mass — in E flat . . . Myles B. Foster

Introit. Be Thou my strong rock, O Lord, and house of defense, that Thou | mayest save me: for Thou art my strong rock and my castle; be
Thou also my guide, and lead me for Thy | Name's sake.

PSALM. In Thee, O Lord, have I put my | trust: let me never be put to confusion, deliver me | in Thy righteousness.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Be Thou my strong rock.

Gradual. Thou art the God alone That doeth | wonders: and hast declared
Thy power a | mong the people. Thou has mightily delivered Thy | people: even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Sequence—Hymn 121 . . . Tune, Charity

Offertory—Hymn 526 . . . Tune, Watermouth

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 338 (Part II) Tune, St. Thomas

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude . . .

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 112 . . . Gregorian Tone VII-5

Magnificat } in E . . . Sir Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 121 . . . Tune, Charity

Offertory Anthem . . . Sir George C. Martin

Ho! every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? Harken diligently unto me. Eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live.

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon.

Then ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth in peace; the mountains and hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands; instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree.

Ho! every one that thirsteth, come to the waters.

Organ Postlude . . . Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Lent cards will be found on the table at the door. I would be very glad if you would take extra copies of the cards to give or to mail to your friends.

Please take note of the 12.10 Mass on the weekdays during Lent.

Religious books, articles of devotion and Easter cards may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street.

I publish the following extract from a letter sent to me by Bishop Garland:

"Among the children in the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind there is one from your Parish, (S. Mary's Chapel) Blanche Thomas. The endowments of this Institution only provide about one-fourth the cost of maintenance. The State also gives an appropriation but even with the State aid, the use of the endowment fund, the generous gifts by people in this community, there is a shortage of $125 for each person in the Institution."

If the maintenance of this blind child appeals to you, will you send your offerings to the Parochial Secretary, Miss Jessie R. Little, 1625 Locust Street.

There are two boxes in the porch, one is marked Parochial Visits and the other Intercessions. This will afford a convenient opportunity to deposit requests for visits from the clergy and for intercessions.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

QUINQUAGESIMA, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

There is a very general custom of having what are described as "extra services" during Lent. They are necessary sometimes. But there is something much more necessary, and that is the cultivation of the habit of using the "regular services." No one can grasp the meaning nor catch the spirit nor sense the joy of our religion who is not saturated with the devotion and carried along in the rhythm of Catholic worship. No parish church can be a centre of spiritual power unless the work of prayer has the first place and the right of way over every other activity.

Our guide in prayer is the Prayer Book. No better Lent rule for devotions could be made than one obligating attendance at the Prayer Book services as they are ordered to be used daily throughout the year. What are they?

Well, first of all the Prayer Book provides for a daily Mass. In the rubric concerning the use of Collects, Epistles and Gospels, on page 52, it is enjoined that "The Collect, Epistle, and Gospel, appointed for the Sunday, shall serve all the week after, where it is not in this Book otherwise ordered."

The Prayer Book provides "the order for Daily Morning Prayer and Daily Evening Prayer."

So we have daily Mass and the daily Offices, not only for Lent, but for the whole year. That is the daily duty of every priest, no matter what else he may have to do. And it is the normal devotional life in every normal parish.

It is not expected that the laity shall all be present daily. But each person should make a serious and sustained effort to attend at least one week day Mass, every week, throughout the year.

There is great edification to be gained by attendance at an occasional week day Office. One recites the Psalms and hears the Bible read. Sometimes this can be done with some degree of regularity, by appointing one week day at least, in each week throughout the year.

If any one will visualize or better still attend a parish church where the Book of Common Prayer is taken seriously, it will not be difficult to perceive the ordered, regular, solemn, and symmetrically beautiful devotional life of the Church.

Now it must be understood that the intention of this devotional life is to glorify God. That is the basic idea. The liturgical devotions of the Church are neither planned or offered to attract crowds. Therefore success is not measured by the number of attendants, but by the fidelity of rendition. When the Church sets out to convert unbelievers, she adopts the simple methods of mission preaching. When she does this, she adopts her methods and adapts her preachers to the special needs and limitations of the people whom she seeks to convert. The Church knows her world before she attacks it. Nothing could be more informal than her missionary technique. She can go anywhere. She can meet all men. She has preached her Gospel in every part of the world, in city slums, on Southern mountains, on Western prairies, in African jungles. She works and teaches in sane simplicity. But her method is always the same. She lifts up her Lord, that He may draw all men unto Him. Mission preaching has its place in her scheme in Lent and out of Lent.

I am concerned in this letter with the devotional life of the Church. I am concerned with it because I feel quite sure that there are many, many people throughout the land who have never discovered it. I feel quite sure that the most important work that can be done just at present, is the work of reviving the liturgical life of the Church. If every Bishop and every priest were to begin today to say his daily Mass and his daily Office, the effect upon the spiritual life of the Church would be electrical. We do not need extra services. We need to use the ones we have.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

February 17, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 123 - - - Tune, Heinlehn

Mass — in E flat - - - Myles B. Foster

Introit. He shall call upon Me, and | I will hear him : I will deliver him,
and bring him to honour; with long life will I satis | fy him.

PSALM. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the most | High:
shall abide under the shadow | of the Almighty.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. He shall call.

Gradual. God shall give His Angels charge | over thee: to keep | thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their | hands: that thou hurt not thy | foot against a stone.

Sequence—Hymn 134 - - - Tune, St. Flavian

Offertory—Hymn 126 - - - Tune, St. Andrew of Crete

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 333 - - - Tune, Unde et Memores

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Preludium - - - Rheinberger

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 1 to 32 - - - Gregorian Tones III-A-4, VII-7

Magnificat } in G - - - W. A. C. Cruickshank
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 126 - - - Tune, St. Andrew of Crete

Offertory Anthem - - - Thomas Attwood

Turn Thy face from my sins and put out all my misdeeds.

Make me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me

Cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

There will be a retreat specially for teachers and business women, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Friday, February 22nd, beginning with Mass at 8 A. M. Conductor: Rev. Vincent F. Pottle. Those desiring to attend are asked to notify the Sister in Charge.

We need $50 to make up the amount asked by the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind for the care of Blanche Thomas.

Subscriptions for the Living Church will be received at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street.

Please take note of the 12.10 Mass on week days during Lent.

There are two boxes in the porch, one is marked Parochial Visits and the other Intercessions. This will afford a convenient opportunity to deposit requests for visits from the clergy and for intercessions.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the Collect for the day, we pray for "grace to use such abstinence, that, our flesh being subdued to the Spirit, we may ever obey thy godly motions." This petition expresses the Christian teaching concerning abstinence. It explains the meaning of Christian asceticism. The object of abstinence is not to torture the body. It is not to develop natural will power. The flesh must be subdued. The natural will is strengthened in the process. But neither of these effects are ends in themselves. The flesh is to be subdued to the Spirit. It is spiritual liberty that is gained by bodily discipline. The will becomes sensitized to the motions of God, when once it is detached from self-rooted desire. The end of discipline is freedom. It is escape from self and refuge in God. It leaves the Christian liberated from the sluggish, torpid bondage to the lower senses, and lifts him up into vital contact with the spiritual world, where the life-giving motions of God carry him swiftly on towards perfect activity in a perfect sphere. Christian self-discipline breaks chains, shatters fetters, casts off weights, opens prisons and leads the soul into sunlight and fresh air and the joys of accomplishment. In self-discipline the Christian finds himself in God. The measure of self-discipline is that it shall be so much as is conducive to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion. The special discipline has its special times and seasons. But the impulse to and the freedom for extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion is a permanent possession. So Lent is really a dash for freedom. It is a time for fresh findings of that glorious liberty where-with Christ has made us free. The way to this liberty is the way of the Cross.

The entanglements of life accumulate in a very subtle process. One is scarcely aware of them at the time. They weave themselves around the very roots of action. They absorb the moisture of the fresh springs. They cause the soil to become parched and sterile. Life grows more and more futile. One becomes prone to complain of circumstances and of the conditions under which one seems doomed to live. One grows discontented with one's lot. One longs to get out of life as it is. When all the while what one needs is to get into life as it might be. It is true that one has more or less freedom to run away from unconquered situations. But even so, one carries the old weakness into the new place. It is self that needs change. Then the rest will take care of itself.

"I am come that they might have life," says Our Lord, "and that they might have it more abundantly." The word discipline, we must always remember, means the disciple's rule of life. It is the rule under which the pupil learns how to live. It is not a mere negative thing. It is a very positive system. And the end always in view is that the disciple is to become like his Master.

We make a great mistake if we attempt to make ourselves. A self-made man is a tragic individual. And if he is complacent he is a grotesque mistake.

The only way to avoid this blunder is to allow one's self to be Christ's workmanship. The workshop of Our Lord is His Church.

The simplest way and the surest way is to follow the precepts of the Church.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 21

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

February 24, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 139 - - - Tune, St. Crispin

Mass — in E flat - - - Charles Hartford Lloyd

Introit. Call to remembrance, O Lord, Thy tender mercies, and Thy loving-kindnesses, which have been | ever of old : neither let mine enemies triumph over me ; deliver Israel, O God, out of all his | troubles.

PSALM. Unto Thee, O Lord, will I lift up my | soul : my God, I have put my trust in Thee, O let me not | be confounded.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. Call to remembrance.

Gradual. The sorrows of my heart are en | larged : O bring Thou me out of my | troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and | misery : and for | give me all my sin.

Sequence—Hymn 211 - - - - - Tune, Olivet

Offertory—Hymn 242 - - - - - Tune, Vox Delicti

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 333 - - - - - Tune, Unde et Memores

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Prelude and Fugue in B flat

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 33 to 72

Gregorian Tones I-A-10, IV-2

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in G

W. A. C. Cruickshank

Office Hymn 242

Tune, Vox Delicta

Offertory Anthem

Mendelssohn

I waited for the Lord, He inclined unto me, He heard my complaint. O blest are they that hope and trust in Him.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Monday will be the transferred Feast of St. Matthias. There will be no 9.30 Mass.

This week I shall be preaching the mid day sermons at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York.

Please take note of the 12.10 Mass on week days during Lent.

Subscriptions for the Living Church will be received at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN LENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today gives us a lesson in the meaning, method and result of prayer. I think that we have all felt the need of much teaching concerning prayer. I think we all have had to grow up in the school of prayer through so many difficulties, that we are quite ready to sympathize with people who share our own difficulties and who perhaps have further difficulties that we ourselves have not known. The school of prayer is not an easy one. The first lesson that most of us have had to learn is that prayer is a petition and not a demand. It really could not be that. What would happen in this world, if any one and every one who made a demand of God, were to succeed in obtaining the thing demanded? The first thing that would happen would be anarchy and chaos. For it would mean that God would have ceased to govern the world. What would happen in a family if each member were to have every desire gratified without exceptions? What would happen in Philadelphia if that were to happen? What would happen in America? What would happen in the world? As a matter of fact such a condition could not exist. The wildest anarchy would prevail at first. The wildest anarchy would have swift resort to the most furious tyranny at the last. Such schemes have often been tried. Such schemes have always been abandoned as unworkable. Whatever prayer is it is not a demand. If we expect to learn to pray, we must rid our minds of such an erroneous notion. Yet there are instances of persons who have ceased to pray, because they have failed to enforce their demands upon God. Or because they have known people who did not obtain the thing they asked for. Of course, the obvious rejoinder to this statement is: "But are you people who pray not told that whatsoever you ask, you shall receive?" The answer to that is, that we are also taught that we know not what we should ask for. We are taught that the Spirit helps our infirmities, just because we know not what we should pray for as we ought, and that the Spirit maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And we are also taught that all things work together for good to them that love God. The very first lessons taught in the school of prayer are humility and faith. Like most lessons worth learning, knowledge is attained at the cost of much discipline and not a little pain. In the end we may obtain precisely the thing we asked, in the way we desired and at the time we expected it. Or we may not. But in this event, we find sooner or later that we have obtained promotion to a higher grade in the school of prayer. We find that we have grown up a little nearer to the mind of our Teacher and a little nearer to the friendship with Him, which makes far more perfect understanding. In the light of this understanding we come to recognize that our original petition needed revising. We come to some degree of greater wisdom in prayer.

The great masters of the science of prayer have passed through this school. They have learned the elementary lesson which has enabled them to advance far as exponents of the art of prayer.

All over the world such experts are diligently exercising their profession. These are the people who are moving the world. You and I may join them, if we have the spiritual stamina to submit to the requirements of their school.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 22

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

March 3, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 316 - - - Tune, Sawley

Mass — in E flat - - - Charles Hartford Lloyd

Introit. Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for He shall pluck my feet | out of the net : turn Thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate and in | misery.

PSALM. Unto Thee, O Lord, will I lift up my | soul : my God, I have put my trust in Thee, O let me not | be confounded.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. Mine eyes are ever looking.

Gradual. Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper | hand : let the heathen be judged in | Thy sight. While mine enemies are driven | back : they shall fall and perish at | Thy presence.

Sequence—Hymn 305 - - - Tune, Beatitudo

Offertory—Hymn 244 - - - Tune, Lux Benigna

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 333 - - - Tune, Unde et Memores

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Allegro and Fugue, 2d Organ Sonata Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 73 to 164

Gregorian Tones I-B-7, II-1

Magnificat } in E
Nunc Dimittis }

Sir John Stainer

Office Hymn 244 - - -

Tune, Lux Benigna

Offertory Anthem - - -

Mozart

Plead Thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strive with me and fight Thou against them that fight against me.

Judge me, O Lord, O Lord my God, according to Thy righteousness, and let them not triumph over me.

I will give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing unto Thee among the nations.

For the greatness of Thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens and Thy truth unto the clouds.

From the 12th Mass.

Organ Postlude - - -

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Philadelphia Second Educational Week for the Blind will take place at 1524 Chestnut Street from March 4th to March 9th inclusive. This Week is being organized through Committees from various Churches, Clubs and local organizations for the Blind in Philadelphia. This is a week of education for the seeing. Monday, March 4th is Episcopal Day. Will not every member of this Congregation make an unusual effort to be present on this day. Helen Keller will appear at the Earle Theatre on Sunday, March 3d, at 3 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, March 7th, at 7.45 A. M.

There will be a Retreat for Associates and friends at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Friday, March 8, beginning with Mass at 8 A. M. and ending at 4.45 P. M. Conductor: Rev. F. C. Hughson, O. H. C.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building, on Thursday, March 7th, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Mrs. J. Cheston Morris.

Please take note of the 12.10 Mass on week days during Lent.

Subscriptions for the Living Church will be received at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN LENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Growth in prayer is a matter of growth in friendship with God. Prayer is nothing more, and it can be nothing less, than the utterance of friendship. Our prayers are the indications of our real relationship with God. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. What we are will manifest itself in our prayers. Prayer is very much more than a matter of words. This is so obviously true in any personal relationship. No torrent of words can conceal what we are. And what we are conveys itself in few words and often without words. This is true in human relationships. It is true in our relationship with God. In prayer there is first of all the offering of the will. Our Lord has set the example. "Nevertheless not my will, but Thine be done" expresses the basic intention of prayer. It is the only possible attitude of the soul to God. Implicit trust in the will of God is the essence of faith. And prayer without faith is futile. It is not prayer at all. The initial and the insistent surrender of the will is the secret of the success of prayer. It places the subject matter under the direction of the only perfectly dependable will. It is the objective of vocal prayer.

Next comes the offering of the mind. We must always remember that we do not know what we ought to pray for. We can only learn what we ought to pray for by placing our minds under the guidance of the mind of God. His thoughts are not our thoughts. We must gain access to His mind, and some measure of sharing His thoughts, before we can pray intelligently. Without this growth in wisdom and counsel and knowledge and understanding we are not able to discern God's Providence. This is the objective of mental prayer.

Next comes the offering of the heart. Our most vehement desires are not always our most reliable guides. There is only one heart upon which we can depend and that is the Sacred Heart. Our own hearts are as often unruly as our wills. It will cost us no less effort to discipline them. The work of prayer is not to incline God's love, but to elevate our own. We do not naturally nor easily love the thing that He commands, or desire that which He doth promise. It requires many seemingly unanswered prayers and deferred promises to bring us to the point where our hearts are surely fixed, where true joys are to be found. This is the objective of affective prayer.

Through vocal, mental and affective prayer, we raise mind and will and heart to God. This will make possible the simple, stable, untroubled and uninterrupted self giving, which is the substance of devotion.

Our prayers will be the expression of this devotion. However poor our words, the prayer will be rich if there is the back ground of habitual devotedness. Our prayers are self revelations. What do they reveal?

Our prayers will be the measure of our devotion. They will show just how far we have grown up into the friendship of God. Friendship is not self-seeking. It is always self-giving. Do our prayers show progress in this direction?

Our prayers will be the reward of this devotion. They will cease to be the anxious begging of the alien. They will become the confiding conversation of the child. They will grow into the unstudied speech of the friends of God.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 23

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 10, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 324 Tune, St. Agnes

Mass — in E flat Charles Hartford Lloyd

Introit. Rejoice, O Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her;
rejoice for joy with her, all ye that | mourn for her: that ye may suck,
and be satisfied with the breasts of her conso | lations.

PSALM. I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the
| house of the Lord.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Rejoice, O Jerusalem.

Gradual. I was glad when they said | unto me: we will go into the | house of the Lord. Peace be within thy | walls: and plenteousness with | in thy palaces.

Sequence—Hymn 325 Tune, Mosely

Offertory—Hymn 387 Come Unto Me

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, 333 Tune, Unde et Memores

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Fugue in B minor Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 105 to 144 Gregorian Tones VII-3, V-1

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in E Sir John Stainer

Office Hymn 387 Come Unto Me

Offertory Anthem Handel

He shall feed His flock like a shepherd, and He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom, and gently lead those that are with young.

Come unto Me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take His yoke upon you and learn of Him, for He is meek and lowly of heart and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

—From "The Messiah."

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

On Sunday next, March 17th, there will be the second of the Special 1929 Offerings for the Missionary work of the Church within the Diocese and beyond. The offerings at all the services will be for this purpose. In the letter of the Committee on Missions, in regard to this offering, the suggestion is made that mid-Lent is an appropriate time at which to make our most earnest effort to discharge our parochial obligation for Missions.

Subscriptions for the Living Church will be received at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today is Refreshment Sunday. The Collect speaks of relief. The Epistle speaks of freedom. The Gospel speaks of refreshment. Relief, freedom and refreshment are the rewards of a good Lent. The disciplinary devices are expedients for attaining a definite result. They are the scaffolding necessary for building purposes. Edification means building. Lent devotions are edifying. At the end of Lent the scaffolding will be removed. At Easter we shall see what we have been building. Saint Paul tells us that we must "grow up into Him in all things, which is the head, even Christ: from whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love."

Relief, freedom, refreshment are words to keep in mind for mid-Lent meditation.

Every thing is done that can be done to make access to the Sacraments easy and extraordinary opportunities for prayer available in Lent. Every provision is made for the relief of our spiritual necessities. The very fact that every one is expected to go to Church more frequently in Lent makes it easier for any one to go to Church. Once there one may find times for uninterrupted solitude and undisturbed silence. It is such a very real relief to be alone and still. To keep one's mind in still quiet is like holding a mirror toward Heaven. One's mind begins to reflect the things that are so far above one's self. If one has developed the habit of visiting the Church for private prayer in Lent, one will continue the practise after Lent.

If one has availed one's self of the Sacramental privileges in Lent as a part of one's rule, the experimental knowledge gained will lead to a deeper and clearer understanding of the meaning of the Sacraments. Lent absolutions and Lent Communion will leave memories too lasting to allow one to lapse back into the dreariness of lax Sacramental existence. To know where and how to find relief will be something worth keeping.

Freedom of spirit is the only real freedom. The place where one lives, the conditions under which one lives can neither make nor mar spiritual freedom. The freedom which is promised by changed scenes and altered conditions is, I do believe, an illusion. If we can't be free where we are, it is not likely that we could be free anywhere. God is with us wherever we are and under whatever conditions we may be living. Freedom consists in living an interior life with Him. The only liberty is the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free. The free life is the life that is hid with Christ in God. If our Lent has led us along this path of freedom, we shall have something worth keeping after Lent is over.

Refreshment is always ours in the Blessed Sacrament. This is the Bread from Heaven which contains in Itself all sweetness. This is the Heavenly manna upon which we feed in our hearts by faith with thanksgiving. This is the strength and refreshment for our souls, by virtue of which we can do all things and endure all things. This is our daily supersubstantial Bread. If only the pressure of burdens drives us to more frequent Communion, we shall be perceiving in ourselves the fruits of redemption. If Lent has led us to fresh discoveries of the wonders of Communion, we shall have found lasting refreshment.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 24

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Passion Sunday

March 17, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M. ; 12.10 P. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M. ; 12.10 P. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M. ; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 144 - - - Tune, Vexilla Regis

Mass — in E flat - - - Charles Hartford Lloyd

Introit. Give sentence with Me, O God, and defend My cause against the un | godly people: O deliver Me from the deceitful and wicked man; for Thou art the God of | My strength.

PSALM. O send out Thy light and Thy truth, that they may | lead Me: and bring Me unto Thy holy hill, and to | Thy dwelling.

INTROIT. Give sentence.

Gradual. Deliver Me, O Lord, from Mine | enemies | ; teach Me to do the | thing that pleaseth Thee. It is the Lord that delivereth Me from My cruel | enemies: and setteth Me up above Mine adver | saries: Thou shalt rid Me | from the wicked man.

Sequence—Hymn 154 - - - Tune, Rockingham

Offertory—Hymn 147 - - - Tune, Penitence

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, Ave Verum - - - Elgar

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Marche Pontificale - - - F. de la Tombelle

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 145 to 176 Gregorian Tones IA-4, III-A-4

Magnificat } in D minor - - - Thomas Attwood Walmisley
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 147 - - - Tune, Penitence

Offertory Anthem - - - Bach

O Lord, who dares to smite Thee?	Why doth the Saviour languish
Thus falsely to indict Thee,	Beneath this load of anguish?
Mock and abuse Thee so?	Whence comes this mortal woe?
Thou never need'st confession,	The wrath that sinners merit
For Thou know'st no transgression	The sinless doth inherit,
As we and all our children know.	And pays the debt His debtors owe

Within our inmost being
Thy Name and cross alone,
The light of all our seeing,
Prevailing influence own.
O breathe this comfort o'er us,
When low in grief we lie,
That Thou, Lord Jesus, for us,
Hast given Thyself to die.

—From the Passion of St. John.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The offerings at all the services today will apply to St. Mark's Quota for D. D. and F. Missions for 1929.

This week I shall be preaching the noon sermons at St. Paul's, Broadway and Vesey Street, New York.

Subscriptions for the Living Church will be received at the Quill Book Shop, 116 South 18th Street.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

PASSION SUNDAY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Passiontide is here. The violet veils hang like mists about the Cross and hide from view the things that are made for beauty and for glory. The mourning is for all the world to see. There is no concealment. We preach Christ crucified. We glory in the Cross.

For the Cross is the Altar of Redemption. Our Lord is both Priest and Victim. Upon that Altar He offered Himself, and by that offering He obtained eternal redemption for us. By His spotless offering, He purges our consciences from dead works to serve the living God.

Passion Week prepares us for Holy Week. The lessons of the Passion are not new to Christians. Passiontide comes once a year. And each year Christians observe its solemnities. For non-Christians the season has no significance. The Christian Festivals attract the world in a superficial way. It suits the world's convenience to borrow the occasions of Christmas and Easter for social and commercial purposes. But Passiontide has not much in it to attract. It brings a message far too sombre. The Church serves the world well by making Passiontide sombre. It serves it better by the piercing crescendo in the note of stark pain which will reach its culmination in Holy Week. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by," Our Lord cries. "Behold the Church cries, 'is the price of sin.'" The world scoffs. To this scoffing the Church gives answer. This is the answer. Sin costs suffering. It is an unchanging law of cause and effect. It is inexorable. It is inevitable. It is inescapable. The Church speaks sternly, "Sin if you will, then suffer you must." Then in the next breath she cries, "Your suffering will be sterile until you discover the Cross. The Cross will render your suffering redemptive. Here is your choice. Suffer without the Cross and you are lost. Suffer with the Cross and you are saved. Your choice is not, to suffer or not to suffer. That lies beyond your power to control or prevent. Your choice is the Cross or not the Cross. Which do you choose?"

The world without the Cross is a place of nameless horrors. The books which make an adventure of sin rarely contain the last chapter. The plays which make an entertainment of sin rarely put on the last act. That last chapter and that last act are more than the world dares to consider or view.

If the Church did not come to the rescue, if the Church did not impressively mark the Way of Sorrows in Passion Week and lead the procession along that Sacred Way in Holy Week, the world would go mad.

With all the solemnities of Passion Week there is a persistent promise of hope. The Man of Sorrows is the High Priest of good things to come. The Way of Sorrows is the Way of Glory. It leads through pain to peace.

The pilgrim penitents who pass along that way are a friendly company. He who will join them may.

The pilgrim penitents are a courageous company. For they perceive that nothing happens without mystery. And they know that all things work together for good to them that love God.

The penitent pilgrims are a victorious company, because they unite the sorrows of the world with the wonders of the Cross, and by His Passion they are redeemed.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 25

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

March 24, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	.	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass	.	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.; 12.10 P. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Procession, Solemn High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 143
145

Mass — in E flat

Tune, St. Theodulph
Tune, St. Drostane

Charles Hartford Lloyd

Introit. Be not Thou far from Me, O Lord, Thou art my succour, haste |
Thee to help Me: save Me from the lion's mouth; Thou hast heard Me
also from among the horns of the | unicorns.

PSALM. My God, My God, look upon Me; why hast Thou for- | saken Me: and art so far from My health, and from the | words of My complaint.

INTROIT. Be not Thou far from Me

Gradual. Thou hast holden Me by My right hand; Thou shalt guide Me
with Thy | counsel: and after that receive | Me with glory. Truly God is loving unto | Israel: even unto such as | are of a clean heart. Nevertheless My feet were almost gone, My treadings had well | nigh slipt; and why? I was grieved at the wicked, I do also see the ungodly in | such prosperity.

Sequence—Hymn 158

Tune, The Passion Chorale

Offertory—Hymn 162

Tune, Caswall

Hymn in place of Gloria in Excelsis, Ave Verum

Elgar

Jesus, Word of God incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the blood and water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.
O Jesus, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Procession du St. Sacrement

Chauvel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 23

Gregorian Tone VI-a

Magnificat
Nunc Dimittis } in D minor

Thomas Attwood Walmisley

Office Hymn 158

Tune, The Passion Chorale

Offertory Anthem

Bach

Rest here in peace, Redeemer blest and holy; henceforth no more will I bewail Thee. Rest here in peace, and lead Thou me to peace;
the grave will not forever close me in, but when God my Redeemer calls, then haste I forth, then haste I glorified the God of Heaven to meet.

Lord Jesus, Thy dear Angel send,
Whene'er my mortal life shall end,
And bear my soul to heaven.
Within its narrow chamber keep
My body safe in painless sleep,
Till Thy last call be given.

And when from death Thon wakest me,
In bliss untold my eyes shall see,
O Son of God, Thy glorious face,
My Saviour and my font of grace.
Lord Jesus Christ, O hear Thou me,
Thee will I praise eternally.

Organ Postlude

Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

All offerings on Good Friday will be for D. D. and F. Missions.

The Vestry has authorized all the offerings on Easter to be applied :

One-half for Missionary Purposes.

One-half for Parochial Purposes.

The 9.30 Mass on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be omitted.

The other services will be according to the Lenten card.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

PALM SUNDAY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus." This is the guide to the solemn observance of Holy Week. The ceremonies of Palm Sunday, the blessing and distribution of palms, the procession, the haunting hymns all carry the refrain, "Let this mind be in you." It is a day for arming one's self with His mind. So armed, one may take one's place in the procession as a valiant penitent.

The Maundy Thursday ceremonies, the Eucharist, the procession to the Altar of Repose, the watch before the Sacrament, and the waiting for the saddest night in the Christian year, can only have meaning in so far as the mind that was in Him is in us.

The Good Friday devotions carry us on to the climax. The austere observances in the early morning at the stripped Altars, where the very emblem of redemption is veiled with black. The tense waiting of the hours before noon, with all the memories of the events recorded in the Passion Gospels. And then the first stroke of the clock at twelve, which recalls the first stroke of the hammer which drove the nail that first pierced the Sacred Body. The Watch through the Three Hours. The Seven Words. The Death. The Descent from the Cross. The Entombment. The Night. No one can either understand or endure all this without at least some share in the Mind of Christ.

The Holy Saturday with its stillness and its expectations. The cleansing absolutions. The first rays of joy on the Altars. The blessing of the fire. The first Alleluia. All this, too, would be beyond us without the Mind of Christ.

The Holy Week ceremonies are devotional devices whereby the Passion is dramatized to the end that we may sense and share the Mind of Christ. The intention of our participation in the Holy Week solemnities is that we may arm ourselves with His mind.

It is this state of being armed with the Mind of Christ which will be the permanent possession of our experiences of commemorating the Passion. Each year carries us into mysteries of human suffering, which must remain dark and forbidding unless and until they are illumined by the light of the Mind of Christ. Without that light, pain is a problem and life is a riddle. The question presses for an answer. It cannot be silenced. It may be submerged for a while. Then something happens which strikes home. We must know why. And no one can tell us. Science can explain the mechanics of the catastrophe. Philosophy can explain why it cannot explain. Pleasure fails as an anodyne. Human sympathy is powerless in its well-intentioned efforts to alleviate. We look for some one to pity and there is no man. Neither find we any to comfort. The dark waters come in even to our souls. Clouds and thick darkness cover us.

If we have been, if only in that moment we may be suddenly and unexpectedly armed with the Mind of Christ, the light will dawn. In the Mind of Christ we shall learn the secret. We shall discover the meaning of sacrifice. We shall learn that sacrifice is not passive surrender to the inevitable; that sacrifice is the strong, victorious energy which lays hold upon pain and lifts it up and makes of it a voluntary oblation. In that oblation we shall rise above it. The Cross will be our sign of triumph.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 27

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter

April 7, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 178 . . . Tune, Salzburg

Mass—In E flat . . . Alfred J. Eyre

Introit. As new born babes, | Alleluia: desire the sincere milk of the word,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Alle | luia:

PSALM. Sing we merrily unto God our | strength; make a cheer-
ful noise unto the | God of Jacob.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. As new born babes

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. After eight days, when the doors were shut;
Jesus stood in the midst of His disciples, and said; Peace be unto you,
| Alleluia. The Angel of the Lord descended from | heaven: and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 177 . . . Tune, Resurrection

Offertory—Hymn 179 . . . Tune, Neander

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Triumphal March . . . Lemmens

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 57 . . . Gregorian Tone, VIII-4

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat . . . Sir C. Villers Stanford

Office Hymn 177 . . . Tune, Resurrection

Offertory Anthem . . . Handel

I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth, and though worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God. For now is Christ risen from the dead and become the firstfruits of them that slept.

Organ Postlude . . . Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Feast of the Annunciation has been transferred to Monday of this week. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Catholic Congress is engaging a paid secretary. It has been found that such an official is really necessary to carry on the greatly increased volume of work. Certain cities have been asked to contribute to that stipend. $500 is expected from Philadelphia. I have already received $175 and I have two more parishes to hear from. St. Mark's, of course, must do its share. I shall be grateful for contributions toward this fund. Checks may be mailed to me, payable to Julian D. Hamlin.

The General Convention, by a rising vote, asked each Diocese to take part in the Nation-wide effort to build St. Luke's International Hospital and Health Centre in Tokyo.

Its College of Nursing, its clinic for well and sick babies, for school children (by request of the Japanese Government), its ward for foundling children, its Maternity Department and its Tuberculosis clinic, as well as all the wards and dispensaries, are carried on with the spiritual motive behind it. The Chapel door is always open. Almost everyone of the nurses has become a Christian before graduating.

The people of St. Mark's are asked to contribute to Pennsylvania's share.

Now that the building at 16th and Locust Streets has been removed, it has been possible to take photographs of the east end of St. Mark's. Copies of these pictures can be seen at the office of the Parochial Secretary, and orders will be taken for the same.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"He that hath the Son hath life." This is the sustained note of the days that come after Easter. The disciples were glad when they saw the Lord. They were at peace when they knew that they were to have Him always.

How simply they began their new life. The old life just fell away. Old sins, old sorrows, old misunderstandings, old mistakes just fell away. The former things were left behind. Everything was new. They soon began to take it all as a matter of course. They began to walk in newness of life. They felt quite secure because He was with them. So they had the kind of faith that overcomes the world. They had the witness in themselves. They had the record that God had given them eternal life, and they knew that this life is in His Son. They knew that He was the Son of God. They knew that they had Him.

This was what made them the wonder of the world. The world could not make them out because it could not make them over. Nothing overawed them, nothing daunted them. They were ready for anything. And in everything that they encountered, they were more than conquerors. They possessed a joy that no man could take from them. They had the peace which passes understanding.

These days after Easter are days for the cultivation of joy and peace. Joy and peace are fruits of the spirit. They are to be cultivated in honor of the Resurrection of Our Lord. So long as our first fruit is love for Him, there need be no difficulty about joy and peace in Him. It is all really very simple when we remember that He is risen and that He is with us. We have Him. He will never leave us.

The secret of Easter joy is Easter life. The old life and the old sins and the old sorrows and the old fears all belong to the old world, in which we sometime walked. Through Lent penitence we arrived at the Cross. At Easter we go on and into the world that lies on the other side of the Cross. The former things are passed away for ever. All things are become new. We ourselves become new. We come into a new world of new adventures. We receive new power. Our minds and hearts and wills become filled with the things that belong to the new world. We have no thought of looking back. Why should we? All the best of life lies ahead of us. And we are keen on pressing on and into it.

This is what the Easter life means for us. It means walking in newness of life. Not standing still, but going on. It means having Our Lord all the time and all the way. We believe in the forgiveness of sins, and the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. That makes all the difference in this world. And in the next.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 28

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter

April 14, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 520 Tune, Lux Eoi

Mass—In E flat Alfred J. Eyre

Introit. The earth is full of the goodness of the Lord, | Alleluia; by the word of the Lord were the heavens made; Alle | luia.

PSALM. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye | righteous: for it becometh well the just | to be thankful.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. The earth is full.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. The Good Shepherd is | risen: Who laid down His life for His sheep; | Alleluia. I am the Good | Shepherd: and know My sheep, and am known of Mine: | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 556 Tune, Puer Nobis

Offertory—Hymn 555 Tune, O Filii et Filiae

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 116 Gregorian Tone, II-I

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat Sir C. Villers Stanford

Office Hymn 556 Tune, Puer Nobis

Offertory Anthem J. E. West

Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead; for as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

O death, where is thy sting, O grave, where is thy victory. The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Hallelujah. Amen.

Organ Postlude Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Catholic Congress is engaging a paid secretary. It has been found that such an official is really necessary to carry on the greatly increased volume of work. Certain cities have been asked to contribute to that stipend. $500 is expected from Philadelphia. I have already received $175 and I have two more parishes to hear from. St. Mark's, of course, must do its share. I shall be grateful for contributions toward this fund. Checks may be mailed to me, payable to Julian D. Hamlin.

The General Convention, by a rising vote, asked each Diocese to take part in the Nation-wide effort to build St. Luke's International Hospital and Health Centre in Tokyo.

Its College of Nursing, its clinic for well and sick babies, for school children (by request of the Japanese Government), its ward for foundling children, its Maternity Department and its Tuberculosis clinic, as well as all the wards and dispensaries, are carried on with the spiritual motive behind it. The Chapel door is always open. Almost everyone of the nurses has become a Christian before graduating.

The people of St. Mark's are asked to contribute to Pennsylvania's share.

Now that the building at 16th and Locust Streets has been removed, it has been possible to take photographs of the east end of St. Mark's. Copies of these pictures can be seen at the office of the Parochial Secretary, and orders will be taken for the same.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

All the spiritual exercises of Eastertide serve to saturate our minds with thoughts of the resurrection. We are given weeks in which to do this. "For as in Adam all die: even so in Christ shall all be made alive." The resurrection life is Our Lord's gift to us. It is something that we share with Him. It is something that we have now by virtue of our union with Him. It is vitally concerned with the present as well as with the future. The present use that we are making of it is really the thing that matters most. The Collect for today reminds us of this. We pray for grace "always most thankfully to receive that His most inestimable benefit, and also daily endeavour ourselves to follow the blessed steps of His most holy life." Eastertide is leading us on to Ascensiontide. His life is leading us on to Heaven. And we are daily to endeavour ourselves to follow.

Most Christians feel that it is a duty to keep Lent devoutly. That is as it should be. But it is no less a duty to keep Eastertide, if we really mean to follow on. We cannot possibly stop with Passiontide devotions. We must be just as keen about Eastertide devotions. We cannot have a balanced religion without that. The point of Passiontide devotions is dying to sin. The point of Eastertide devotions is being alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord. We are to reckon ourselves to be dead indeed unto sin: but alive unto God. We must adjust our minds and wills and hearts and our whole being to this. We must absorb the thought and become absorbed in it. We must adjust our lives to it. We must live as though we reckoned ourselves to be living in precisely this state.

Think what it means to be dead to sin. Death is insensibility to environment. We may not be able to change the environment. Sometimes we wish we could. Generally we cannot. Well, if the environment is not of our own choosing, if it is of necessity forced upon us, then it is not our fault. But we need waste no time worrying about it. Our Lord has taught us how to manage an unfavorable environment. We are to die to it even while we are in the midst of it. We may not and probably cannot lessen or avoid the pressure, but by continually registering negative reactions we daily die to environment. Suggestions fail to kindle. Impulses fail to move. Desires cease to attract. We become indifferent, uninterested, unresponsive, dead. It is not as difficult as it seems nor does it take as long a time as might be supposed.

By the reverse process one becomes alive to God. Life is sensibility to environment. Growth in life means growth in keenness of perception. This growth is developed by studiously sensing what is immediately at hand and then pressing on to explore what lies immediately beyond. The result is an ever widening horizon and an ever deepening perception of truth and beauty. Veils grow luminous and reveal what once they seemed to hide.

This also is much easier than it sounds. We learn to pray by praying. We learn the meaning of the Sacraments by using them. We learn to obey the motions of God by obeying them. We become sensitive to God in every fibre. Then we are alive to him. Now and forever.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 29

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

April 21, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 259 - - - Tune, Gerontius

Mass—In E flat - - - Alfred J. Eyre

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, alleluia ; sing praises unto the honour of His Name. | alleluia : make His praises to be glorious ; alleluia, alleluia, alle | luia.

PSALM. Say unto God, O how wonderful art Thou in Thy | works : through the | greatness of Thy power.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning ; is now and ever | shall be : world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. O be joyful.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see Me, saith the | Lord : and again, a little while, and ye shall see Me, because I go to the Father, | alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall re | joice : and your joy no man taketh from you ; | alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 326 - - - Tune, Dominus Regit Me

Offertory—Hymn 174 - - - Tune, Innsbruck

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven : if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen ; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 123 - - - Gregorian Tone, II-1

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat - - - Sir C. Villers Stanford

Office Hymn 326 - - - Tune, Dominus Regit Me

Offertory Anthem - - - Sir John Stainer

My hope is in the Everlasting, and He will save you ; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting, our Saviour. I sent you out with mourning and weeping, But God will give you to Me again with joy and gladness for ever.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Chorists.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1929.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Thursday is St. Mark's Day. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A.M.

Thursday, April 25th is the day fixed for the Diocesan Presentation of the United Thank Offering. The service will be held at the Church of the Holy Apostles, 21st and Christian Streets, at 10.30 A. M. The Rev. Percy T. Edrop, of Boston, will preach. It is hoped that all the women of the Parish will attend.

The Men's Choir will sing the Mass on Sunday, April 28th.

We still need $32 to make up the required amount for the Catholic Congress Secretary Fund. Checks may be mailed to me, payable to Julian D. Hamlin.

Now that the building at 16th and Locust Streets has been removed, it has been possible to take photographs of the east end of St. Mark's. Copies of these pictures can be seen at the office of the Parochial Secretary, and orders will be taken for the same.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The disciples who kept the first Easter with Our Lord saw His Risen Body, they walked with Him, they talked with Him, they heard Him speak, they renewed all the joys of the companionship, which they had thought they had lost and which they had found again. They had Him, and in Him they had life, for that life was in Him. The joy of that life was that it was in Him. The peace of that life was that it made them inseparable from Him.

The disciples who are keeping Eastertide now, have His Sacramental Presence. They, too, possess all the joys of companionship. They have Him, and in Him they have life. The joy of the life is that it is in Him. The peace of the life is that they are one with Him. He dwells in them and they in Him. The Communion is perfect. The joy leaves nothing to be desired. He is the bread of life. He is the living bread which came down from heaven; if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that He gives is His flesh. Whoso eateth His flesh and drinketh His blood hath eternal life, and He will raise him up at the last day. The Blessed Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ is Our Lord's appearance to His disciples today. The Blessed Sacrament is the Centre and the Wonder and the Joy of Easter. We must never allow ourselves to be distracted from this remembrance. We must never allow anything to detach us from this Central Reality.

This letter is going out to many whom I have never known or seen. When I first began to write Sunday letters, I never dreamed that they would be read by any persons except those who come to Saint Mark's. Now, I know they are read by many who have never seen Saint Mark's. So, as I write, I have in mind my invisible congregation. Some are keeping the Feast in beautiful churches where all the splendor of worship is offered to our Risen Lord. Some are keeping the Festival in quiet Convent Chapels. Some are keeping it in much loved churches in the country. Some are keeping it in rooms from which they find rare release. But the one thing I say to you all is that it does not matter where you are, Our Lord is with you. You have Him. If your Easter has been a hidden, quiet Festival, remember the first Easter was hidden and quiet. Your Easter may have been more like the first Easter for that very reason. The thing that matters is that the Lord is risen and hath appeared to you. Wherever you are, offer your Alleluia.

It is not pomp and circumstance that make Easter. It is the Risen Lord in the Eucharistic Feast. It is the Blessed Sacrament that matters.

Those of us who have assisted at the Easter Mysteries with all the adjuncts of the traditional worship of the Church have had no more, nor could have more, than the Eucharistic Presence. It is His appearance which has been our joy. Unless the simplicity of the Central Reality is preserved, the externals have failed to serve their purpose. A gorgeous church, a bare chapel, a lonely room must not distract us. Our offering of incense or our satisfaction in the Comfortable Words must not distract. The Blessed Sacrament is the thing. Having that we have life eternal.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 30

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter

April 28, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon		11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days		7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 509 - - - Tune, All Hallows
278 - - - Tune, St. Alphege

Mass—In F - - - Sir John Stainer

Introit. O sing unto the Lord a new song, Alleluia; for He hath done marvellous things, | Alleluia: His righteousness hath He openly shewed in the sight of the heathen; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. With His own right hand, and with His holy | arm: hath He gotten Him | self the victory.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. O sing unto the Lord.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia, I go My way to Him that | sent Me: and because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart, | Alleluia. I tell you the | truth; it is expedient for you that I go away. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 267, verses 1, 9, 19 and 20 - - - Tune, Paeon

Offertory--Hymn 515 - - - Tune, Beulah

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Offertoire, “St. Cecilia” - - - Grison

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 131 - - - Gregorian Tone, VIII-2

Magnificat }
Nunc Dimittis } in B flat - - - Sir C. Villers Stanford

Office Hymn 278 - - - Tune, St. Alphege

Offertory Anthem - - - A. Nikolsky

O praise ye the name of the Lord. O praise it, ye servants of the Lord, Alleluia. Praised be the Lord out of Sion, Who dwelleth at Jerusalem, Alleluia. O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is gracious, and His mercy endureth forever, Alleluia.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Wednesday is the Feast of St. Philip and St. James. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, May 2nd, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House on Thursday, May 2nd, at 3 P. M.

Now that the building at 16th and Locust Streets has been removed, it has been possible to take photographs of the east end of St. Mark's. Copies of these pictures can be seen at the office of the Parochial Secretary, and orders will be taken for the same.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today brings to our remembrance Our Lord's promise of the Holy Ghost the Comforter. The Spirit of truth would come and guide the disciples into all truth. The many things which they could not then bear would be revealed to them. In one sense Our Lord would go away. His bodily Presence would be withdrawn from their eyes. His Spiritual Presence would be nearer, they would perceive that Presence more clearly and they and all the disciples who should come after them would enjoy His Presence forever. The abiding Presence of the Risen and Glorified Lord was to be the lasting legacy of the Resurrection. So He would fulfill His promise, "Lo, I am with you always."

One hears much in these days of the historic Christ. Our Lord seems to be regarded by so many people as belonging to the past and expected in some far distant future by the more devout. For some curious reason both types of mind seem unwilling or unable to realize His Presence in the present.

One notices the phraseology adopted in popular books and sermons. The title "Our Lord" is not used. It does not seem to belong to the author's spiritual attitude. The very idea of Our Lord's Presence seems to be foreign to large areas of thought which claims to be Christian. Most frequently it is regarded with hostility or scorn or suspicion. The roots of such unbelief lie deep and twine themselves with fatal consequence to other articles of the Creed. It is only where the Presence is adored that the Creed is preserved.

The Holy Spirit leads the disciple into the knowledge of the Abiding Presence. This is the joy that is the gift of the Holy Comforter.

The Practise of the Presence of God is the spiritual exercise assigned to us for special attention as Eastertide advances. What are we to do? How shall we do it?

The first thing to remember is that the Presence is a fact long before our eyes are opened to make us aware of it. We were made members of Christ in Baptism. We were made partakers of His death and resurrection.

In Confirmation we received the Holy Ghost. He is ever to be with us, leading us into all truth, daily increasing in us, more and more, and confirming us in the knowledge of His grace and in faith in Him.

In Holy Communion we are made one body with Him, that He may dwell in us and we in Him. This is the fact. It remains for us to grow into the knowledge of it.

The second thing to remember is that we must look to the Holy Ghost to give us the knowledge of the fact of the Presence. He will cause our hearts to burn within us. He will open our eyes that we may know Him.

The third thing to remember is that we must train ourselves to make definite and habitual acts of oblations of our minds and all that is in them, good, bad and indifferent: of our hearts and all that is in them: of our wills and all that is in them. We must expose ourselves and submit ourselves to the full and unrestricted operations of the Holy Spirit.

The way to do this is to devote from five minutes to a half hour every day, to silence, stillness and waiting, regardless of disinclination or distraction, in self-giving to God.

The result will be joy in His Presence.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 31

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday after Easter
Rogation Sunday
May 5, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 183 - - - : Tune, Westminster

Mass—In F - - - Sir John Stainer

Introit. With a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, and let it be heard;
| Alleluia: utter it even to the end of the earth; the Lord hath redeemed His people; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. O be joyful in God, all ye | lands: sing praises unto the honour of His Name, make His praise | to be glorious.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost.
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. With the voice of singing.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in My |
Name: ask and ye shall receive: | Alleluia. Christ is risen, He dieth
no | more; death hath no more dominion over Him; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 512 - - - Tune, Homeland

Offertory—Hymn 182 - - - Tune, Christchurch

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 134 - - - Gregorian Tone, VIII-1

Magnificat } in E - - - Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 183 - - - Tune, Westminster

Offertory Anthem - - - Mendelssohn

O God, have mercy upon me, and blot out my transgressions, according to Thy loving kindness, yea, even for Thy mercy's sake.
Deny me not, O cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy spirit from me, O Lord. Lord, a broken heart, and a contrite heart is offered before Thee.

I will speak of Thy salvation, I will teach transgressors, and sinners shall be converted unto Thee; then open Thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall shew forth Thy glorious praise.

Organ Postlude - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are Rogation Days.

Thursday is Ascension Day. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The most important answer to prayer is God's inspiration to think the things that are good and His guidance to perform the same. A true prayer is a conference with God. We go to God in prayer for light to see things as they are. We go for guidance that we may perceive and know what we ought to do. We go for power that we may be enabled to fulfill our own direct responsibility. The outcome of the matter concerning which we pray is, from first to last, under God's direction. It is essential that we should be under His direction also.

To pray in any other spirit or with any other motive is heathen. It would imply the placation of an angry god, the reminding of a forgetful god, the rebuke of a negligent god. Such petitions are as different from Christian prayer as darkness from light.

When the Christian prays he has the sense of being but one cell in a vast organism which pulsates with the prayer energy of his Lord, who ever liveth to make intercession for Him and for all the members of His Mystical Body. He knows that the Great High Priest not only makes intercession for each member but in and through each member. From the Mother of God down through all the ranks of saints and holy souls and on down even to himself, he knows that each has a share in the prayer life of the Advocate and Mediator, of whom he was made a member in his Baptism. He prays with the consciousness of the Communion of Saints.

So the source and the centre of the Christian's prayer life is Holy Communion. It is in his Communion that he unites himself with His Lord and shares his life with the Saints. The prayer of one is the prayer of all. The Christian never prays alone.

The most effective act of prayer is to make a Communion with special intention. This means committing ourselves to God and leaving our special needs at the time in His hands. We do not expect and we need not expect a sudden solution of our problems. But what we actually do gain is the union of our minds with God. This will mean that we shall be guided. We gain the union of our wills with God. This will mean that we shall be governed. We gain the union of our hearts with God. This will mean that we shall love the things that He commands.

In this state of Communion we may make our acts of vocal prayer with all simplicity. We may speak to God as freely as we choose. Our words may lack and very likely will lack wisdom. But in speaking we shall gain wisdom. We shall grow up into wisdom if we persevere. After we have finished speaking, we must keep silence while God speaks to us. A period of silent waiting should follow our most vehement petitions. We must be still if we would know that He is God. You remember the story of the old French peasant who was asked, "What do you say when you kneel looking so long at the Tabernacle?" He answered, "I do not say anything. I look at Him and He looks at me." That is the prayer of simplicity.

It is in this way that the trying of faith is accomplished. We develop the faith that works patience. We develop the fortitude that lets patience have her perfect work. And in our patience we possess our souls.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 32

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

May 12, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 185 - - - : Tune, Coronae

Mass—In F - - - Sir John Stainer

Introit. Hearken unto my voice, O Lord, when I cry unto Thee, | Alleluia: my heart hath talked of Thee, seek ye My face, Thy face, Lord, will I seek: O hide not Thou Thy face from me; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. The Lord is my light, and my sal | vation: whom | then shall I fear?

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. Hearken unto my voice.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. God reigneth over the | heathen: God sitteth upon His holy seat; | Alleluia. I will not leave you | comfortless: I go, and I will come again to you, and your heart shall rejoice; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 193 - - - Tune, Alleluia

Offertory—Hymn 190 - - - Tune, Diademata

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Coronation March from Le Prophete Meyerbeer

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 46 - - - Gregorian Tone, V-3

Magnificat } in E - - - Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 190 - - - Tune, Diademata

Offertory Anthem - - - Gounod

Unfold, ye portals everlasting, with welcome to receive Him ascending on high. Behold the King of Glory, He mounts up through the sky, back to the heavenly mansions hasting. Unfold, for lo, the King comes nigh!

But who is He the King of Glory? He who death overcame, the Lord in battle mighty. But who is He the King of Glory? Of hosts He is the Lord, of angels and of powers. The King of Glory is the King of Saints. —From "The Redemption."

Organ Postlude—Spring Song - - - MacFarlane

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers:

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world."

"Again I leave the world, and go to the Father."

"There was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men."

"While they beheld Him, He was taken up; and a cloud received Him out of their sight."

Here are the contrasts. Christmas and Ascension cannot be separated. The Crib, the Cross and the Throne are the Stations of Redemption. Each leads on to the other. Each explains the other. The Mystery begins and ends in Heaven.

For some reason not easily explained Christmas and Passiontide, the Crib and the Cross capture the enthusiasm which does not carry on to the Throne. Where are the Christmas crowds at Ascensiontide? Where are the Passiontide crowds? Where are the Easter crowds? Do they forget? Or do they fail? I do not think they forget. They fail. But why? I think because they lack the necessary aids to devotion. Something needs to be done for the promotion of Ascensiontide devotion. Something needs to be done to make the Festival of the Ascension startling and arresting and compelling. I do not mean that this needs to be done for instructed and practising Christians. I have in mind the uninstructed to whom the Gospel must be preached, not part of the Gospel, but all the Gospel. Upon instructed Christians rests the responsibility for this. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature." This is the Ascensiontide commandment.

"Ye are witnesses," said our Lord. We can only make the world see what Ascensiontide means to it, by making the world see what it means to us. The witness of living is more subtly penetrating than the witness of telling. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. If we ourselves know the way from Bethlehem to Heaven we shall always find some one, somewhere, who will join us on the road. It is a fascinating road. It is the only road in the world that leads somewhere. All the others end with blank walls. This road leads to an open gate, which opens into a city whose wall is of jasper, whose fabric is of pure gold, whose foundations are garnished with all manner of precious stones and whose gates are pearls.

The pilgrims who arrive at this shining city have come from Bethlehem. They bear in their bodies the marks which identify them with Calvary. In Bethlehem a new self was born. On Calvary an old self died. When once this disentanglement is accomplished and this transformation effected, the new citizen whose freedom has been obtained with a great price enters unchallenged into his new and splendid city.

In Bethlehem we learn humility. On Calvary we learn patience. It is the humble and the patient who gain glory. Between Christmas and Ascension there is a pilgrim's path of devotion. It leads through Sacraments and prayer and the disciplines of life. It obviously demands humility and patience. But the point is, it all leads to glory. And this is what the world needs to understand.

The world needs to see Our Lord as King of Glory. The world needs to see the Church as the Kingdom of Glory.

The world needs the shattering impact of Ascensiontide, which is the Festival of Glory.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Whitsunday

May 19, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 196 - - - Tune, Veni Sancte Spiritus

Mass—In C - - - Sir George C. Martin

Introit. The Spirit of the Lord filleth the world ; | Alleluia : and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice ; Alleluia, Alle | luia.

PSALM. Let God arise, and let His enemies be | scattered : let them also that hate Him | flee before Him.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost As it was in the beginning ; is now and ever | shall be : world | without end. Amen.

INTROIT. The Spirit of the Lord.

Gradual. Alleluia, Alleluia. Send forth Thy Spirit, and they shall be | made : and Thou shalt renew the face of the earth ; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 199 - - - Tune, St. Cuthbert

Offertory—Hymn 524 - - - Tune, King's College

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven : if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen ; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Fugue in G - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 145 - - - Gregorian Tone, V-1

Magnificat } in E - - - Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 524 - - - Tune, King's College

Offertory Anthem—Veni Creator - - - Thomas Attwood

Hymn 455

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Offering at the 11 o'clock service today will be for Nashotah House.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

WHITSUNDAY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The hearts of faithful Christians are taught by the light of the Holy Spirit, by whom is given a right judgment in all things together with joy in His holy comfort. He does not come as a substitute for an absent Christ, but to unite Christians with their Lord and with each other.

Our Lord's promise is clear. "The Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

In the Prayer for all Conditions of Men, we pray "for thy holy Church universal: that it may be so guided and governed by thy good Spirit, that all who profess and call themselves Christians may be led into the way of truth, and hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and in righteousness of life."

The collects and prayers addressed to or containing petitions for the assistance of the Holy Ghost provide further instruction concerning the office and work of the Holy Ghost. The Book of Common Prayer is a guide to devotion to the Holy Ghost. The best way to absorb the instruction and to cultivate the devotion is to use these prayers constantly and particularly at Pentecost. The hymn "Come Holy Ghost, our souls inspire" ought to have a permanent place in private devotion. Most books of private devotion contain a litany to the Holy Ghost. All these acts of prayer, from whatever source, are very necessary. They should be in constant use.

In the Sacrament of Confirmation we received the Seven Gifts of the Holy Ghost. These gifts are Wisdom, Knowledge, Counsel, Understanding, Ghostly Strength, True Godliness and Holy Fear. The Bishop prayed for us that God would daily increase in us these manifold gifts of grace.

The Fruits of the Spirit are Love, Joy, Peace, Longsuffering, Gentleness, Goodness, Faith, Meekness, Temperance. These fruits will appear if we persevere in our Communion and prayers and in obedience to the motions of the Holy Ghost within us.

There is very great need of special, individual devotion to the Holy Ghost. There never has been a greater need than in these days in which we are living.

There are evidences of a certain crowd interest in religion. But crowd impulses are always uncertain. One never knows just what will happen next. Crowds are sensation seekers. It is the unusual that attracts crowds.

A preacher who denies the Creed will attract a crowd, because the crowd still thinks that this is an unusual thing for a minister of religion to do. It creates a sensation.

It would seem that the interest of the crowd is chiefly concerned with the denial of the Christian Faith rather than in its affirmation. The crowd likes to be told that it really needs to believe very little and the less the better. It likes the message of the irreducible minimum. It likes it because it is a sensation.

Yet in the long run the crowd is never satisfied with that sort of thing. A creedless life means a Godless life. Crowds are made up of individuals after all. The individuals are human beings. And the human heart longs for God, sooner or later. Then comes the reaction.

Then comes the return to the Church. The Church is sought because men find there the Faith, once delivered to the Saints, imperishable, indestructible, unchangeable. In that Faith men find the words of eternal life. In the Creed, in the Bible, in the Liturgy, they hear the Voice. And the Holy Ghost speaks and teaches and comforts and gives peace.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

May 26, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 205 - - - - - Tune, Nicaea

Mass—In C - - - - - Sir George C. Martin

Introit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the Undivided | Unity : we will give thanks to Him, for He hath shewn His mercy up | on us.

PSALM. O Lord our | Governour : how excellent is Thy | Name in all the world.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost
As it was in the beginning; is now and ever | shall be: world | without
end. Amen.

INTROIT. Blessed be.

Gradual. Blessed art Thou, O | Lord : That beholdest the depths, and sittest up | on the Cherubim. O bless the God of | heaven : for He hath shewn His | mercy upon us.

Alleluia, Alleluia. Blessed art Thou, O Lord God of our | fathers:
and greatly to be praised for ever ; | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 207 - - - - - Tune, Moultrie

Offertory—Hymn 208 - - - - - Tune, St. Athanasius

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat
of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For
His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—Marche Pontificale - - - - - C. M. Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 93 - - - - - Gregorian Tone, V-3

Magnificat } in G - - - - - W. A. C. Cruickshank
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 205 - - - - - Tune, Nicaea

Offertory Anthem - - - - - Sir John Stainer

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which was, and which is, and which is to come, the Almighty.

Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts. Heaven and earth are full of Thy glory. Glory be to Thee, O Lord Most High. Amen.

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Thursday is Corpus Christi. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A.M.

First Vespers of Corpus Christi will be said on Wednesday after Evensong. Second Vespers on Corpus Christi Day after Evensong.

Business meeting of the C. B. S. will be held in the Parish Parlor after Evensong on Corpus Christi.

Sister Leila has a class for religious instruction for girls on Sunday mornings at 9.30, in the Sister's office, on the second floor of the Parish House.

Father Horsfield has a class for religious instruction for boys on Sunday afternoons at 2.45, in the upper hall of the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The cycle of devotion fulfils itself today in the worship offered to the Most Holy Trinity. The cycle of the teaching of the Christian year summarizes the content of the Creed. From the Articles of our Belief we learn:

First, to believe in God the Father, who hath made us.

Secondly, in God the Son, who hath redeemed us.

Thirdly, in God the Holy Ghost, who sanctifieth us.

On Trinity Sunday we say in the Proper Preface, "That which we believe of the glory of the Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference or inequality."

The Church's witness and the Church worship are exemplified in the Church's practise. To that practise our faithful observance is pledged. Our understanding of the witness and the worship is measured by our fidelity to the practise. We come to the knowledge of God through living with God. The Church provides the means and directs the way. The means are easy of access and the way easy of approach.

From Advent to Advent the Eucharistic Mysteries centralize the means of the life that is hid with Christ in God. Holy Communion is a necessity, not a luxury. It is a remedy, not a reward. It is constant, not casual. A Christian should receive Christ's Sacrament on Christ's Day. Holy Communion is the very life source of Sunday. It is not the chief business of Sunday to hear sermons. The chief business of Sunday is to receive the Body and Blood of Christ. This is to renew Communion with God. It is only in Communion with God that we learn to know God. It is only in Holy Communion that we have a covenanted means of Communion. Nothing can take its place, neither a sermon nor a walk in the woods. It is in Communion that we meet God, face to face and heart to heart. Infrequent Communion is better than none at all. But infrequency results in darkness and apathy.

It is right that we should feel a sense of unworthiness. It is also right that we should do something about our unworthiness. The one thing not to do, is to communicate infrequently. The thing to do is to examine the conscience and to go to Confession and at once to Communion. Saint Paul says, "Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup."

Whatever the individual rule may be about Communion, one rule is of obligation for us all. We are all bound as Christians to be present at the Lord's Service on the Lord's Day. Morning Prayer won't do. It is the Mass that matters. The reason why the Mass matters, is that Our Lord instituted it and commanded that it be continued until His coming again. The Mass matters because Our Lord is present on the Altar as Priest and Victim. The Mass matters because it is the Gospel in action, the blessed Passion, the precious Death, the mighty Resurrection, the glorious Ascension. The Mass matters because it is the centre of unity, at which men and angels meet in one company to adore the Holy and undivided Trinity, and to find the fulness of joy in the presence of God. The Mass matters because it is the centre of the eternal realities. In the Mass we find Our Lord Christ and the Holy Ghost, most high in the glory of God the Father.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

October 21, 1928

Services Today

Low Mass	-	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong and Sermon	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.;	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

High Mass

Hymn 303 - - - - - Tune, Spohr

Mass in E - - - - - Horatio W. Parker

Introit Everything that Thou hast done to us, O Lord, Thou hast done in true judgment: for we have sinned, and not obeyed | Thy commandments: but glorify Thy Name, and deal with us according to the multitude of Thy | mercies.

PSALM. Great is the Lord, and highly to be | praised: in the city of our God, even up | on His holy hill.

Glory be to the Father and to the | Son and | to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning is now and ever | shall be: world with | out end. Amen.

INTROIT. Everything.

Gradual The eyes of all wait upon Thee, | O Lord: and Thou givest them their meat | in due season. Thou openest Thine | hand: and fillest all things living | with plenteousness.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Out of the deep have I called unto Thee, O | Lord: Lord, hear my voice. | Alleluia.

Sequence—Hymn 288 - - - - - Tune, Lauda Zion

Offertory—Hymn 493 - - - - - Tune, Maryton

Post Communion—Laudate Dominum

I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever.

O praise the Lord, all ye heathen; praise Him, all ye nations. For His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

GLORIA PATRI. I am the living bread.

Organ Postlude—C minor Fugue - - - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 118 - - - - - Gregorian Tone I-A-I

Magnificat } in E - - - - - Sir Joseph Barnby
Nunc Dimittis }

Office Hymn 17 - - - - - Tune, Vesper

Offertory Anthem - - - - - Mozart

I will give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, among the people and I will sing unto Thee among the nations. For the greatness of Thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens, and Thy truth unto the clouds.

—Gloria from the 12th Mass.

Organ Postlude - - - - - Improvisation

LEWIS ALEX. WADLOW, Organist and Master of Choristers.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity

October 20, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 305. "O for a Closer Walk with God" - Beatitudo

Introit. O Lord Almighty, everything is in subjection unto thee; and there is no man that is able to resist thy power: for thou hast created everything; heaven and earth, and all the wonders which under heaven's vault are contained; thou art the Lord and King of all things.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - Merbecke

Gradual. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end. Alleluia.

Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 480. "Jesus Shall Reign" - Duke Street

Credo - - - - Lloyd in E flat

Offertory. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; perfect and upright, and one that feared God. And Satan sought to tempt him: and power was given him by the Lord over his possessions, and over his flesh. And he destroyed all his substance, and his sons: and he smote his flesh with sore boils.

Hymn 214. "God is Our Stronghold and Our Stay" Ein Feste Burg

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lloyd in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Lloyd in E flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Pastorale in E major - - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 104 - - - Third Tone, 1st ending

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Barnby in E

Office Hymn (from English Hymnal) Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light,
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

Lest, sunk in sin, and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life;
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem - - - - Gounod

Send out thy light and thy truth, let them lead me, and let them bring me to thy holy hill. O God, then will I go unto thy altar, On the harp we will praise thee, O Lord our God!

Why, O soul, art thou sorrowful, and why cast down within me, still trust the loving kindness of the God of thy strength. And my tongue yet shall praise him, who hath pleaded my cause!

Lord, our God! Thou wilt save thine anointed, Thou wilt hear us from heaven; Though in chariots some put their faith, our trust is in thee! They are brought down and fallen, But the Lord is our helper, we shall not be afraid.

Send out thy light, O Lord our God!

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - St. Vincent

Organ. Harmonies du Soir - - - Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Contributions to the Welfare Federation may be designated for the Church Mission of Help and for other Church institutions included in the list of possible designations.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✱ Pennsylvania

Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

October 27, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 356. "Fairest Lord Jesus" . St. Elizabeth

Introit. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark iniquities, Lord, who may abide it: for unto thee belongeth mercy, O God of Israel.

Ps. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord; Lord, hear my voice. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Merbecke

Gradual. Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is: brethren, to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head: that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard. Alleluia. He healeth those that are broken in heart: and bindeth up their wounds. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 111. "Awake, My Soul" - Handel

Credo - - - - - Lloyd in E flat

Offertory. Remember me, O Lord, King of all power: and put a well-ordered speech in my mouth, that my words may be pleasing in thy sight.

Hymn 89. "To the Name of Our Salvation" Oriel

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lloyd in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - - - Lloyd in E flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Introduction and Fugue - de Pearsall

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131,

Tones, I-2, II-1, III-5, IV-4, IV-6, VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Barnby in E

Office Hymn 29 "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord, Is Ended"
St. Clement

Anthem - - - - - Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O Praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of His power. Praise ye Him for His mighty acts, Praise ye Him, according to His wondrous works.

Praise ye Him with the sound of the trumpet: Praise ye Him with the psaltery and harp. Praise ye Him with the timbrel, Praise ye Him with the dance, Praise ye Him with the organ and stringed instruments. Praise ye Him upon the loud cymbals. Praise ye Him upon the high sounding cymbals.

Let everything that hath breath Praise the Lord!

—Psalm 150.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - St. Vincent

Organ. Salve Regina (2nd Symphony) - Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Monday is the Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude, Apostles. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

On All Saints' Day, November 1st, there will be Masses at 7 and 7.45 A. M., with a High Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Vespers of the Dead will be said on Friday, November 1st, directly after Evensong.

On All Souls' Day, November 2d, the Masses at 7 and 7.45 A.M. will be Requiems, with a Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A.M.

The annual meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish House, on Saturday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Masses for the Dead are said every Saturday at 7 and 7.45 A. M., throughout the year.

Vespers of the Dead are said every Saturday afternoon, immediately after Evensong, throughout November.

Contributions to the Welfare Federation may be designated for the following Church Institutions :

City Mission	St. Agnes' House
Galilee Mission	St. Martha's House
Home for the Homeless	Church Dispensary of South-
Church Home for Children	wark
House of the Holy Child	Seamen's Institute
Church Mission of Help	Sheltering Arms

Please send names for All Souls' Day not later than Monday, October 28th.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity

Octave of All Saints

November 3, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 295 "For All the Saints" Sine Nomine

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy-day in honour of all the Saints; in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous; for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Harwood in E flat

Gradual. O fear the Lord, all ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good. Alleluia. The saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 85 "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," All Saints

Credo - - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel, he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God. Alleluia.

Hymn 266 "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" Vigili et Sancti

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Toccata and Fugue in D minor - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 18 First Tone, second ending

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stainer in B flat

Office Hymn 297 "Hark, the Sound of Holy Voices" Sanctuary

Anthem Melody by N. Herman (1560); arranged by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the Throne, a glorious band, the Saints in countless myriads stand, of every Tongue redeemed of God, arrayed in garments washed in blood,

Hallelujah!

Through tribulation great they came: they bore the Cross, despised the shame: from all their labours now they rest, in God's eternal glory blest,

Hallelujah!

They see their Saviour face to face, and sing the Triumphs of His grace: Him day and night they ceaseless praise, to Him the loud thanksgiving raise:

Hallelujah!

Worthy the Lamb, for sinners slain, through endless years to live and reign:

Thou hast redeemed us by Thy Blood, and made us kings and priests to God,

Hallelujah!

O may we tread the sacred road that Saints and holy Martyrs trod:

Wage to the end the glorious strife, and win, like them, a crown of life, Hallelujah! Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - St. Vincent

Organ. Nunc Dimittis - Charles Wood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, November 7th, at 7.45 A. M.

The Auxiliary Sewing Class will begin its work on Thursday, November 7th, in the Parish Building. The Class meets from 10 A.M. to 3 P. M. Workers are greatly needed.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday, November 7th, at 3 P. M. Speaker : The Rector.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ♣ Pennsylvania

Twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity

November 10, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 389, "Hark, my soul, it is the Lord" - St. Bees

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction; ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Harwood in E flat

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long, and will praise thy Name for ever. Alleluia.

He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 299, "Let saints on earth in concert sing" St. Flavian

Credo - - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord; Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 468, "Glorious things of thee are spoken" Austria

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Finale (Second Symphony) - Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 53, 54, 55 - -

Tones III-5 IV-6, I-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis -

Stainer in B flat

Office Hymn 258, "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven" Lauda Anima

Anthem - - - Bach

Jesu, joy of man's desiring,
Holy wisdom, Love most bright,
Drawn by Thee, our souls aspiring,
Soar to uncreated light.
Word of God our flesh that fashioned
With the fire of life impassioned,
Striving still to Truth unknown,
Soaring, dying round Thy throne.

Through the way where Hope is guiding,
Hark, what peaceful music rings,
Where the flock in Thee confiding,
Drink of joy from deathless springs.
Theirs is beauty's fairest pleasure,
Theirs is wisdom's holiest treasure.
Thou dost ever lead Thine own,
In the love of joys unknown.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - St. Vincent

Organ. Pastorale (First Sonata) - Guilmant

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Red Cross desire to remind us today that it is time to renew our annual subscription.

The annual meeting of the Altar Society will be held in the Parish House on Thursday, November 14th, at 10 o'clock.

On October 1st Mr. Philip H. Brice resigned as Accounting Warden of St. Mark's, the resignation taking effect on October 31st. Mr. C. Newbold Taylor has been elected to succeed Mr. Brice, assuming the position on November 1st. The office of the Accounting Warden will be, as heretofore, 1625 Locust Street.

There will be a Solemn High Mass of Requiem for Mr. Wadlow on November 16th, at 9.30 A. M. The Rev. Winfred Douglas, Mus. D., will preach the sermon.

I commend to your attention the American Church Monthly. It is the only Church Monthly published in this country. It is edited by the Rev. Dr. Edmunds. I know that you will find it of great interest and value. The subscription price is $2 a year. Orders may be left with Miss Philler at the Rector's office.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

What can we do for the dead? Can we do anything? The bitterness of bereavement is the hopelessness of the feeling that everything is over. That everything has been done that can be done. That nothing remains but to remember, regret, endure. Sometimes this misbelief drives people to despair. Sometimes it drives them to a forced and wholly unreal and even unseemly cheerfulness. My object in this letter is to show that all this is misbelief. That the bitterness is needless. The despair morbid. The cheerfulness sentimental. In the place of the misbelief, I shall try to leave true belief. In the place of the bitterness, comfort. In the place of the sentimental cheerfulness, reasonable, holy and religious hope.

The first thing that we can do for the dead, is to remember that they are living. We must act toward them as living. It is true that we have done for their bodies all that we can do. Our duty to their souls remains and will be our life-long obligation. But what can we do for their souls? Do their souls need anything? Their souls always need something. They need aid in their growth in perfection. The act of dying does not make them perfect. Death is not an instantaneous transformation from imperfection to perfection. Death is going on as we are. After death we go on in the direction we have always wanted to go and tried to go, seeking what we have always desired. The farther we have gone in this world, the less we shall have to go in the next. But however far that may be, we shall not have gone all the way. There will remain much to be done. Much of purification, much of illumination, before the final union with God, and the beatific vision. The souls of the departed need our prayers. And our prayers should begin promptly and they should be our first and constant concern. If we could only remember this, we should be too much occupied with the duty of praying for our departed, to have time for thinking overmuch of ourselves. A house in which a death has occurred should be a house of prayer.

This should lead us to the House of Prayer, the Church. The Altar, not the grave, is our meeting place. At the Altar we shall find Our Lord. In the Eucharistic Mysteries we shall have the all-sufficient intercession of our Great High Priest. We need only kneel and watch and wait. The Sacrifice of Calvary is in those Mysteries. By placing that Sacrifice between the sins of souls and their reward, we have rendered aid which we ourselves will only know, when some day it will have been done for us. In Holy Communion we shall revive the union which bridges bodily separation and stabilizes the only bond which survives death. There will be tempests of anguish in the senses, but there will be peace in the soul, in the soul praying as well as the soul prayed for. All this demands concentrated effort. But it will be effort with a purpose. And the purpose will be not to console ourselves, but to help the soul departed. Perfect love casts out fear, and it casts out many other afflictions. One of the things it casts out is self-centredness, which is the source of all morbid tendencies of mind and heart.

It is all very simple if one is content to leave the faithful departed to the care of the Church. The Church receives us in infancy, ministers to us through life and bears us through death and beyond death. We must learn what is the mind of the Church. We can do this by observing and reflecting on the Church's ritual for the faithful departed. And the Church has her own way. That way is better and it is more seemly than the way of any individual. Funerals are not proper occasions for fanciful ideas. They are not occasions for favorite hymns. Favorite hymns are not usually adaptable for funerals. The reason for this is, that people in the midst of life are not inclined to favor hymns suitable for death. There are favorite psalms. But the Church has funeral psalms. There are favorite passages from the Bible, but the Church has passages suitable for funerals. An alleluia is a cheerful sound, but it is not suitable or seemly at a funeral. It is much, much better to leave all such matters to the Church. Next Sunday I shall write about the Church's way of giving Christian burial.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity

November 17, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 A. M. to 12 M.; 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 247 "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us" Dulce Carmen

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction; ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Parker in E

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long, and will praise thy Name for ever. Alleluia.

He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 223 "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" Hollingside

Credo Parker in E

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord; Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 420 "Praise to God, Immortal Praise" Dix

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Parker in E

Gloria in Excelsis Parker in E

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Moderato in F Gade

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 89 - - - First Tone, first ending

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Walmisley in D minor

Office Hymn 23 "The Day is Past and Over" St. Anatolius

Anthem - - - Sterndale-Bennett

God is a Spirit: and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth.

For the Father seeketh such to worship Him.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - St. Vincent

Organ. Larghetto (from 10th Concerto) - Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

There will be a Requiem for Mrs. Cassatt on Wednesday, November 20th, at 8.00 A. M.

I call the attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary to the fact that copies of Essays Catholic and Missionary may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street. Copies of the new Prayer Book are also on sale at the Quill Book Shop.

I commend to your attention the American Church Monthly. It is the only Church Monthly published in this country. It is edited by the Rev. Dr. Edmunds. I know that you will find it of great interest and value. The subscription price is $3 a year. Orders may be left with Miss Philler at the Rector's office.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Christian Religion teaches us that life continues after death, that consciousness is uninterrupted and that the practice of prayer continues. This means that what we are, and what we think and what we do five minutes before death will go on just the same five minutes after death. Only then our final destiny is fixed. We shall have what we have always desired. We shall be openly what we have always really been secretly. The secrets of all hearts will be revealed. What we have become we shall know then. At the particular judgment, which takes place at the moment of death, Our Lord who will be our Judge, will reveal to us our actual and self-elected state. The General Judgment at the end of the world will be the complete manifestation of God's justice and mercy towards all men from the beginning to the end of the world, and it will determine and establish the final and fixed order of eternal life. But it is the particular Judgment of which I am writing.

The Holy Ghost speaks constantly to our consciences. You and I know enough about ourselves to judge ourselves here and now. We know what our life really is, at this moment. We know what our settled thoughts are. We know the range of our prayer life. If we should die this minute, our life and thought and prayers would continue. The daily question for us is, whether or not we are satisfied with our life, our thoughts and our prayers. Do we want to be always what we are now? Or would we like to be better? Do we want to become perfect? Or are we content to be imperfect? Of course there could be only one answer for any reasonable person of right intention, devout disposition and good will. We know we are very far from being perfect. We know that we must persevere in the effort to become perfect. And we also know that our efforts are aided by the prayers of others. Who expects to become perfect at the moment of death? What dying friend of ours ever professed to be perfect? All that the best of us and the worst of us dare to profess is that we hope, by the grace of God, we may be made perfect. We are grateful for the prayers of friends. We are never beyond the need of prayers. Yet once having set our souls towards perfection, once having submitted ourselves to God, once having placed our souls under the operation of Grace, once having made our act of Faith, once having firmly purposed to persevere, we are on the way of being made perfect, however imperfect we may be. We are on the way. How long the way, God only knows. What the trials of the way may be, God only knows. All that we know is that His Grace will be sufficient. And that is enough. Whatever the trials may be, His mercy endureth forever, and that is enough. So we walk by Faith, we are saved through Hope, and we are made perfect in Charity. The life in this world is our time of probation. Death is the transition into the life of purgation. From that life we pass, in God's good time, into the life of perfection. All judgment is in Our Lord's keeping. We know that many who are first shall be last, and that many who are last shall be first.

It is this attitude of penitent, humble waiting which is the key note of the Church's rites for the dead.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent

November 24, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 249 "All People That on Earth do Dwell" Old Hundredeth

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction; ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Parker in E

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long, and will praise thy Name for ever. Alleluia.

He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 104 "Thou, Whose Almighty Word" Moscow

Credo - - - - - Parker in E

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord; Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 339 "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence" Picardy

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Parker in E

Gloria in Excelsis - - - - - Parker in E

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Chorale-Prelude, "Sleepers Wake, a Voice is Calling" Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 1 to 32 - Third tone, fourth ending
Seventh tone seventh ending

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Tours in F

Office Hymn 11 "O Trinity of Blessed Light" Bromley

Anthem - - - - - Goss

O taste and see how gracious the Lord is, blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

O fear the Lord, ye that are his saints, for they that fear him lack nothing.

But they who seek the Lord shall want no manner of thing that is good.

The lions do lack and suffer hunger, but they who seek the Lord shall want no manner of thing that is good. —Psalm xxxiv, v. 8, 9, 10.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - St. Vincent

Organ. Canon in B major - - - Schumann

Thanksgiving Day

November 28, 1929

HIGH MASS, 9:30 A. M.

Hymns 421, 420

Mass—Missa Marialis - - - Plainchant

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Thanksgiving Day offering will be for the Episcopal Hospital. It is hoped that the offering will be a generous one, as the needs of the Hospital are very great.

Saturday is St. Andrew's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and Friends of the Society of the Sisters of St. Margaret on December 3rd, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street. Conductor: The Rev. Franklin Joiner, Rector of St. Clement's Church. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 5 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

St. Mark's Branch of the Church Periodical Club asks for copies of the old Prayer Book and Hymnal combined for the City Mission. Magazines are needed for hospitals; also Christmas and other cards. Books are asked for two libraries in the South. Please send to Miss Croasdill, St. Mark's Parish House.

I commend to your attention the American Church Monthly. It is the only Church Monthly published in this country. It is edited by the Rev. Dr. Edmunds. I know that you will find it of great interest and value. The subscription price is $3 a year. Orders may be left with Miss Philler at the Rector's office.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SUNDAY NEXT BEFORE ADVENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Humility, penitence, patience are the dominant notes which give utterance in the Christian ceremonies for the dead.

Humility is seeing things as they are, in right relations and in true proportions. Humility is looking things in the face. This is precisely what the Church always does. She looks everything in the face. She looks life in the face without disquietude. She looks death in the face without dismay. She receives the child at the Font. She sends the child out into life with spiritual equipment sufficient to enable that child to continue steadfast in faith, joyful through hope and rooted in charity. She provides for all the spiritual needs of the journey of life. Illumination, strength and filial piety, in one Sacrament. Pardon and peace in another. The strengthening and refreshing of body and soul and preservation unto everlasting life in another. Healing grace for soul and body in another.

And then at the journey's end, She is there, wise, competent and effective. She knows just what to do and how to do it. She is militant in one world, expectant in another, triumphant in another. She is at home in all three. Her agents are active in all three, and they work together. There is never an instant when the souls in her keeping are alone, forgotten or uncared for. Her last absolution sets the soul free from the last fetter. Her Viaticum furnishes food for the journey from one world to another. Her last Unction leaves no need unsupplied. At the moment of death, when her priests finish their work in one world, her Angels begin in another.

At death She receives the body, which once She received at the Font, and finds place for it before her Altar. Here once more She faces things as they are. She does not disguise death. She makes it plain. She is not afraid of letting it appear in its reality, because She is not afraid of its reality.

The body is covered with a purple pall, signifying that body and soul are clothed with penitence. On either side stand six burning candles, for He who is the light of the world, is lightening the darkness of death, and in Him is no darkness at all, for the night is as clear as the day. She chants her psalms and they are psalms of pilgrimage through death to life. She reads her lessons and they are plain instructions on the facts of death. She recites her collects and they are for the soul departed. She will care for the mourners at another more fitting time, not then. She pronounces her absolution over the body. She bathed that body once with the water of Baptism. And at this last moment She sprinkles it with holy water and prays that its Baptismal purity may be restored. She envelops it with fragrant incense the while She invokes the prayers of her Saints who are waiting behind the veil.

And then She makes way for the Lord of Life, the Advocate, Mediator, Redeemer and Saviour of mankind. She relies only and wholly upon His all-sufficient aid and comfort and deliverance. It is aid in death for which She asks. She makes it plain. Her Altar is vested in black. There are no festival flowers. For this business which She is transacting is not a festive occasion. It is a serious business. It is Miserere, not Alleluia now. She is absorbed for this moment in that soul. Her Introit, Collect, Epistle, Tract, Gradual, Sequence, Gospel and Offertory have to do with death. There are no lapses into diverting melody. She sings, but it is the austere, unearthly, exquisite chant of the undivided Church. Her courtiers at the Altar wear court attire. But it is a court in mourning. "Lord all pitying Jesu blest," She cries, "Grant them thine eternal rest."

And then having made all things ready, She opens the door, at the Consecration, and then, Her Lord Himself appears in His Sacramental Body. "O Lamb of God," She cries, "that taketh away the sins of the world, grant them rest. Grant them thine eternal rest." And her Lord offers the timeless Sacrifice of Calvary. Between the sins, done in that body under that purple pall, and their reward, is placed the Passion of God's Son our Lord. The body is carried out from the building. The Church is content. The soul is safe in the arms of Jesus. The body He will raise at the last day.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 9

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent

December 1, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 67 "Thou Art Coming, O My Saviour"

Beverly

Introit. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Ps. Show me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Merbecke

Gradual. For all they that look for thee: shall not be ashamed, O Lord. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

Alleluia. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn, 63 "Hark! A Thrilling Voice is Sounding"

Merton

Credo - - - - - Merbecke

Offertory. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul: O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded; neither let mine enemies triumph over me: for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Hymn 62 "Wake, Awake, for Night is Flying" Sleepers, Wake

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Merbecke

Hymn - - - - - St. Columba

Strengthen for service, Lord, the hands
That holy things have taken;
Let ears that now have heard thy songs
To clamour never waken.

Lord, may the tongues which 'Holy' sang
Keep free from all deceiving;
The eyes which saw thy love be bright
Thy blessed hope perceiving.

The feet that tread thy holy courts
From light do not thou banish;
The bodies by thy Body fed,
With thy new life replenish.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Marche du Veilleur de Nuit (Sleepers, Wake) Bach-Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 6, 7, 8

Tones VIII-5, I-1, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus
with Faux Bourdons by J. S. Bach

Office Hymn

Mode IV

Creator of the stars of night,
Thy people's everlasting light,
Jesu, Redeemer, save us all,
And hear thy servants when they call.

At whose dread name, majestic now,
All knees must bend, all hearts must bow;
And things celestial thee shall own,
And things terrestrial, Lord alone.

Thou, grieving that the ancient curse
Should doom to death a universe,
Hast found the medicine, full of grace,
To save and heal a ruined race.

O thou whose coming is with dread
To judge and doom the quick and dead,
Preserve us, while we dwell below,
From every insult of the foe.

Thou cam'st, the Bridegroom of the bride,
As drew the world to evening-tide:
Proceeding from a virgin shrine,
The spotless Victim all divine:

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, Three in One,
Laud, honour, might and glory be
From age to age eternally.

Anthem

Martin

The great day of the Lord is near, and hasteth greatly. Even the voice of the day of the Lord.

Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek upon earth, which have wrought His judgment. Seek righteousness, seek meekness, it may be we shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ. Verset on the Magnificat

Dupre

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Tuberculosis Committee of the Philadelphia Health Council desire to remind us of the annual sale of Christmas seals, the proceeds of which go towards supporting the Society's work in the prevention of tuberculosis.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, December 5th, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House, on Thursday, December 5th, at 3 P. M. Speaker: The Rev. R. T. S. Chen.

An urgent appeal has been received from the Church House, for second-hand clothing, in good condition, for men, women and children in various Mission stations. Please send any articles in response to this appeal, to the Supply Bureau, Church House, 202 South 19th Street. All such packages should be marked as coming from St. Mark's Parish.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Advent! Lo He comes! We begin to prepare for the coming of the Lord. He came to us because we could not come to Him. He came before we knew Him. He came before we were willing to receive Him. For this very reason He came. That we might learn to know Him. That we might learn to receive Him. Not that we first loved Him, but that He first loved us. This is the outstanding mystery of the Advent. To as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the Sons of God. There were the few, the very few, who received Him. They, when they had received Him, were given power to become the Sons of God. First the coming, then the receiving, then the power. Here is the history in three words of every conversion to the Christian religion.

Conversions are delayed because and whenever the order is reversed. Pride lies back of that reversal. Pride which would place power first. Power of intellect which seeks first to make a place which may invite the modern mind to make an inn within itself for Him whom the heaven of heavens cannot contain. Pride which conceives a condescending reception under certain limiting conditions, into a superior modern world which is quite capable of taking care of itself. Pride which regards man's advent into God's domain as the final achievement of a race which has succeeded in attaining to the measure of the stature of the fulness of the superman.

This is all very modern. And it is all very old. It is all very futile. And it explains why, when the real Advent really happened, there was no room in the inn. The story we have to tell once more is not the story of man's approach to God. It is the story of God's approach to man. It is not a complacent narrative of a man who dared to be God. It is the awe-inspiring history of God who dared to become man. God's advent is the astounding, shattering, blinding, reassuring, rebuilding, illuminating fact of the miraculous Nativity, for which we are preparing ourselves in these weeks of preparation for the Feast of the Nativity. By one supreme act of Divine love, the Lord of Christmas-tide, put down the mighty from their seats and exalted the humble and meek. By one supreme self giving He filled the hungry with good things and sent the rich empty away.

The preparation of Advent is the recognition of the need of humbleness of mind and meekness of spirit and hunger of heart. They who can receive this can receive Him. And they will find that they have no long journey to Bethlehem. For Bethlehem will be wherever they are. They, too, may go to see the things that have come to pass. And having come they may wonder with shepherds and worship with wise men, and praise with Angels, because God came.

The world is never prepared for the Advent. It is always a surprise. Our Lord always comes suddenly. Suddenly because we are stupid. We ought to have guessed. We ought to have known. But we never do.

The one hopeful thing about the world today is that it is so stupid, so silly, so mad and sad. It does not know it. If it did it would not be stupid. It is the old, old story, all over again. The world is bearing about all that it can stand under. It needs God. It can't come to God. So this is the very time for the sudden coming of God. The age of reason has had its dreary day and its devastating night. We are all sick of it. It is time for the return of the age of Faith. We are all longing for it. And all the signs are here. We can go no farther. God must come.

And He will. But not all the world will know Him. Not all of His own will receive Him. But to as many as receive Him, to them will He give power to become the Sons of God.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent

December 8, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	.	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 66 "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" Veni Emmanuel

Introit. O people of Sion, behold the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations: and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard.

Ps. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - Merbecke

Gradual. Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beauty. Gather my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice. Alleluia.

For the powers of heaven shall be shaken; and they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 105 "Thy Kingdom Come, O God" St. Cecilia

Credo - - - - Merbecke

Offertory. Wilt thou not turn again, O God, and quicken us; that thy people may rejoice in thee: shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation.

Hymn 58 "O Word of God Incarnate" Munich

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Merbecke

Motet—Ave Verum - - - Elgar

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,	Cleanse us, by the blood and water
Of the Virgin Mary born,	Streaming from Thy pierced Side;
On the Cross Thy sacred Body	Feed us with Thy Body broken,
For us men with nails was torn.	Now, and in death's agony.

O Jesu, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Marche Religieuse - - Guilmant

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 41, 42, 43 - - Tones III-2, V-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Tonus Peregrinus
with Faux Bourdons by J. S. Bach

Office Hymn 56 "Thy Kingdom Come" St. Flavian

Anthem - - - - Elgar

Doubt not thy Father's care,
For every grief He finds relief,
And answers every prayer.
Night comes: the sun is lost;
Night comes: He doth provide
In the heavens wide
The gleam of a starry host.
Night comes: the soul is dark;
All joy is dead, All gladness fled,
And life has missed its mark.
Then Thou, the wounded soul,
In that sad hour, With healing power,
Dost touch, and makest whole.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ. Canzona in D minor - - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Cycle of Prayer of the Catholic Congress begins here on December 10th. Intercession leaflets may be found on the table at the door.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

There is no lack of popular books written for persons who are interested in the Bible as literature. There are valuable books easily available for persons who have interest, equipment and opportunity for advanced study of the Bible along the lines suggested by accredited Biblical scholars.

I am quite sure, however, that there is a large number of people, who make up the great majority of religiously-minded folk, who are not so much concerned with the Bible as literature, or as a field for critical study, as they are with the personal use of the Bible for spiritual guidance and comfort. The Bible looms largest in their minds and hearts as the word of God. They are inclined to have recourse to the Scriptures, that in them they may have hope. Under pressure of unhappy circumstances in the present, they are moved to look for promises which will give assurance for the future. For such people the absorbing interest in life is living. They are keen for the words of eternal life. It is to them that I write today.

The Bible has suffered long and much at the hands of irresponsible popularizers. In any department of learning the popularizer is the plague of the scholar. Second or third hand information is the little knowledge which is a dangerous thing.

The parish priest will be a reliable minister of the word of God, so long as he continues to function reliably as a priest of the Church.

The Church provides that the Sacred Scriptures shall be read to the people, from beginning to end every year. She dignifies the reading in varying degrees in keeping with the occasion.

Take for example an ordinary week day. Early in the morning the priest is at the Altar offering the Holy Sacrifice. At the appointed places he reads the Epistle and Gospel. Indeed the Eucharistic Mystery itself presents the whole Gospel in action.

At Matins and Evensong he reads the Psalms and the Old and New Testament, in portions so arranged in sequence as to complete a course in systematic Bible reading from Genesis to Revelation. This daily and public reading of the Bible in the Church to the people is an integral part of the prescribed worship of the Church. It is a daily ministry of the word of God.

The reading is a devotional act. The seasons of the Christian year afford the setting from Advent to Advent. The portions of Scripture read daily are connected with the events commemorated in the season.

The reading of the Scriptures is associated with the Sacramental life of the hearers. The Communion in Advent, Christmastide, Epiphany, Lent, Eastertide, at the Ascension, Pentecost, Trinity and the Sundays after, make the word real because the Word was made Flesh and dwelt among us, and dwells in us. The gifts of the Spirit in Confirmation give the spiritual discernment to discern spiritual things. The cleansings of Penance restore the power to see God.

The Sacraments effect and preserve the union of the Christian with the Mystical Body of Christ which is the Church. The Church prescribes the discipline which guards and guides the Christian. The Bible confirms the Doctrine of the Church.

The priest at Ordination vows that he will give faithful diligence to minister the Doctrine, Sacraments and the Discipline of Christ, as the Lord hath commanded, and as this Church hath received the same. This is the threefold cord which is not quickly broken.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 11

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent

December 15, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 55 "Come, Thou Long-expected Jesus" Stuttgart

Introit. Rejoice ye in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice ye; let your moderation be known to all men, the Lord is at hand: be careful for nothing, nor troubled; but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving; let your requests be made known unto God.

Ps. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding: shall keep your hearts and minds. Glory be.

Kyrie Eyre in E flat

Gradual. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubim: stir up thy strength and come. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia. Stir up thy strength, O Lord: and come and help us. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 282 "On Jordan's bank the Baptist's cry" Winchester New

Credo Eyre in E flat

Offertory. O Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land; thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob: thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people.

Hymn 57 "Lo, He comes with clouds descending" St. Thomas

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei . . . Eyre in E flat

Hymn Gustav Holst

From glory to glory advancing, we praise thee, O Lord;
Thy name with the Father and Spirit be ever adored.
From strength unto strength we go forward on Sion's highway,
To appear before God in the City of infinite day.

Thanksgiving, and glory and worship, and blessing and love,
One heart and one song have the Saints upon earth and above.
Evermore, O Lord, to thy servants thy presence be nigh;
Ever fit us by service on earth for thy service on high. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ. Epithalame Vierne

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 78 First Tone, fourth ending

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis . . . Walmisley in D minor

Office Hymn 66 "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" Vent Emmanuel

Anthem Purcell

Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say, rejoice. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

Be careful for nothing; but in everything, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ our Lord.
—Philippians IV, v. 4-7.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 . . . Mecklin Melody

Organ—Vesperale . . . Cyril Scott

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

All the Offerings today will be applied, in response to the appeal for the third Special Missionary Offering, for D. D. and F. Missions for 1929. It is hoped, as stated in the letter of the Committee on Missions, that the response will be a most generous one.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Last Sunday I wrote to you concerning the ministry of teaching. I reminded you of the constant reading of the Bible provided by the Church in her liturgical worship. The Church gives opportunity for the hearing of the Scriptures three times a day throughout the year. The priest who offers the Holy Sacrifice and reads the Offices of Matins and Evensong publicly in the Church, every day of his life, is by the very exercise of his sacerdotal function a faithful minister of the Gospel. This ministry may and does escape the notice of the world. But I maintain that it is an event of tremendous significance and importance. Whether it is taking place in Locust Street, in the midst of the rush and din of modern city life or in the placid street of a quiet village, it is a significant and important event. I am so convinced of this that I am prepared to say, that if all sermons were to cease for one year, and that if every priest were required to offer the Holy Sacrifice and read Matins and Evensong publicly, every day throughout the year, that it would be a salutary discipline which would clarify the minds of the clergy and edify the souls of the people. And incidentally it would rid the parishes of a welter of fictitious and futile activity. If people cannot find a place apart from the world to receive the Sacraments, to hear the Bible read and to pray, where can they expect to find it? Where can they go? What can they do?

As a matter of fact, the priest who keeps his priesthood first, and who gives the first fruits of his daily strength and time and interest to his priestly functions, will find that the rest of his day will be filled with absorbingly compelling human contacts. He may be neither a saint nor a scholar. Few priests are. But if he is living a priestly life, he is bound by the very necessity of his daily routine to spend no small part of the day proportionately, with His Lord. And that will be the secret of any influence that God may release through him. Only one thing is required of a priest and that is that he be found faithful. He may make no claim upon the world for consideration of his human personality. If he is really trying to be a real priest, he is deliberately and ruthlessly and constantly effacing his own individuality. He must decrease, His Lord must increase. His people do not come to Church to see him. They come to see his Lord. "Sir, we would see Jesus," is the pathetic petition and not infrequently the awakening rebuke which needs to pierce the ears and smite the soul of the man who, forgetting the priesthood, is enticed by the flattering attention of a shallow, unthinking multitude of sensation seekers. There is not a man of the world, whatever that phrase means, who wants to see a priest become a man of the world. The man of the world expects a priest to be a man of God. There is not a man in the street who expects a priest to become a man in the street. He wants him to be the man in the Church.

The Collect for today is a prayer for the triumph of the priestly ideal. Use it fervently.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✽ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent

December 22, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Christmas Day

December 25, 1929

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 62 "Wake, Awake, for night is flying" Sleepers, Wake

Introit. Remember us, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit us with thy salvation: that we, beholding the felicity of thy chosen, may rejoice in the gladness of thy people; and may glory with thine inheritance.

Ps. We have sinned with our fathers: we have done amiss and dealt wickedly. Glory be.

Kyrie Eyre in E flat

Gradual. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him; yea, all such as call upon him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name.

Alleluia. Come, O Lord, and tarry not; forgive the misdeeds of thy people. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn, 456 "Ye Servants of the Lord" St. George

Credo Eyre in E flat

Offertory. Be strong, fear not; behold our God will come with a recompense: he will come, and save us.

Hymn 66 "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" Veni Emmanuel

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Eyre in E flat

Motet—Ave Verum Gounod

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,	Cleanse us by the Blood and water
Of the Virgin Mary born,	Streaming from Thy pierced side,
On the Cross Thy Sacred Body	Feed us with Thy Body broken
For us men with nails was torn;	Now and in death's agony.

O Jesu, hear us, O Jesu, spare us,
O grant us, Lord, Thy mercy. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—"We All Believe in one God" (The Giant Fugue) Bach

Solemn Evensong

Organ—Pastoral Symphony from the Messiah Handel

Psalms 108, 109 Tones VIII-2, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Cruickshank in G

Office Hymn, 57 "Lo, He Comes with Clouds Descending"
St. Thomas

Anthem from the Messiah Handel

Comfort ye, my people, saith your God; speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned. The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God."

Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill made low; the crooked straight, and the rough places plain.

And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Overture to the Messiah Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Evensong played by ERNEST WHITE

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The hours for Confessions on Christmas Eve will be from 4 to 5, 8 to 9, and by appointment.

The Flower Committee of the Altar Society request that white flowers for Christmas be sent to the Church on Christmas Eve, not later than 7 P. M.

The services on Christmas Day will be as follows:

Masses for Communion, 7, 8 and 9 A. M.

Procession, High Mass and Sermon, 11 A. M.

The offerings at all the services on Christmas Day will be for the Church Pension Fund Premium on behalf of the clergy of the parish.

There will be an additional Mass at 9.30 A. M. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

On this day we are left expectant, waiting for the great event. Our eyes are already turning toward Bethlehem. Yet this very fact presses upon us the remembrance of the necessity of preparation. He is coming. But are we prepared to receive Him?

The best manual of instruction upon this whole subject is the Book of Common Prayer. I shall quote from it. Its language is authoritative, familiar and plain.

1.—Page 86. "Wherefore it is our duty to render most humble and hearty thanks to Almighty God, our heavenly Father, for that He has given his Son our Saviour Jesus Christ, not only to die for us, but also to be our spiritual food and sustenance in that holy Sacrament."

2.—Page 87. "The way and means thereto is: First, to examine your lives and conversations by the rule of God's commandments; and whereinsoever ye shall perceive yourselves to have offended, either by will, word, or deed, there to bewail your own sinfulness, and to confess yourselves to Almighty God, with full purpose of amendment of life."

3.—Page 88. "If there be any of you, who by this means cannot quiet his own conscience herein, but requireth further comfort or counsel, let him come to me, or to some other Minister of God's Word, and open his Grief."

4.—Page 7. "Almighty God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickedness and live, hath given power and commandment to his Ministers, to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the Absolution and Remission of their sins."

Page 543. "Receive the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Priest in the Church of God, now committed unto thee by the Imposition of our hands. Whose sins thou dost forgive, they are forgiven."

In these words the Anglican teaching, and in other words of identical import the teaching of each and every Communion of the Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church throughout the world, directs us to the Sacrament of Penance, as the means whereby we cleanse our consciences and purify our hearts for the coming of Our Lord and Saviour.

Page 80. The rubric directs that "the Priest shall then place upon the Table so much Bread and Wine as he shall think sufficient and lay his hand upon all the bread and say, "and when He had given thanks, He brake it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, Take, eat, this is my Body." He is directed "to take the Cup into his hands, and to say, Likewise after supper, He took the Cup; and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this; for this is my Blood."

After these words that which is upon the Altar is declared to be "the most blessed Body and Blood;" "The most precious Body and Blood of thy Son Jesus Christ;" "The Body of our Lord Jesus Christ; The Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ;" "The most precious Body and Blood of thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ."

To wrest these words from their plain meaning is to deliver into the hands of the enemy, the spiritual Mother who bare us.

I can understand why conscientious Protestants divest these words of their meaning. I can understand why conscientious Roman Catholics do so. But why and how Anglicans can do so, passes my comprehension. Thank God you understand plain English and believe in your religion.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 13

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Christmas

December 29, 1929

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Carols	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 72

"O Come, All Ye Faithful"

Adesie Fiddles

Introit. Whenas all the world was in profoundest quietness, and night was in the midst of her swift course: thine almighty word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne.

Ps. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Glory be.

The Common of the Mass

Schubert in G

Gradual. Thou art fairer than the children of men: full of grace are thy lips. My heart is inditing of a good matter; I speak of the things which I have made unto the King: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 549 "Good Christian Men, Rejoice"

In Dulci Jubilo

Offertory. God hath made the round world so sure that it cannot be moved; ever since the world began hath thy seat, O God, been prepared; thou art from everlasting.

Hymn 80 "Angels, from the realms of Glory"

Regent Square

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Noel sur les Flutes

d' Aquin

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 141, 142, 143

Tones VIII-4, VI, VII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Smart in B flat

Hymn 551 "The First Nowell"

Traditional Melody, with faux bourdon by Healey Willan

"In the Bleak Mid-Winter"

Gustav Holst

Carols

In the bleak mid-winter
Frosty wind made moan,
Earth stood hard as iron,
Water like a stone;
Snow had fallen, snow on snow,
Snow on snow,
In the bleak mid-winter
Long ago.

Our God, heaven cannot hold Him,
Nor earth sustain;
Heaven and earth shall flee away,
When He comes to reign:
In the bleak mid-winter
A stable-place sufficed
The Lord God Almighty
Jesus Christ.

Enough for Him, whom Cherubim
Worship night and day,
A breastful of milk,
And a mangerful of hay;
Enough for Him, whom Angels
Fall down before,
The ox and ass and camel
Which adore.

What can I give Him
Poor as I am?
If I were a shepherd
I would bring a lamb;
If I were a wise man
I would do my part;
Yet what can I give Him—
Give my heart.

"Sleep, Little Dove"

Old Alsatian Noel

"Sleep, little Dove of Mine, Sleep while the stars shine."
Thus to her Babe the Virgin sings.
"I will watch o'er Thee;
May dreams restore Thee
Visions of heaven on seraph wings."

Sing, choirs of angels,
And lull to rest
The Christ-child sleeping
On Mary's breast.
Sing, choirs of angels,
Sweet lullabies;
Our Infant Redeemer
In slumber lies.

In stable lowly
Our Lord most holy
Found with His Mother shelter kind,
Outside lay danger
But in the manger,
Warm lay they safe from the winter's wind,

Sleep, fairest Flower,
Heaven's highest Dower,
Hope of my heart, now close Thine eyes.
Rose of the morning,
Pearl, all-adorning,
Sleep and dream sweetly of Paradise.

"O Come, All Ye Faithful"

Rutland Boughton

(The congregation is requested to sing the melody in this setting of Hymn 72)

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Visit to the Creche

Prayers

Carol, 546

"Silent Night, Holy Night"

Franz Gruber

Organ—Gesù, Bambino

Pietro Yon

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Wednesday is the Feast of the Circumcision. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Thursday, January 2nd, at 7.45 A. M.

The Annual meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House, on Thursday, January 2nd, at 3 P. M. Speaker : The Rev. George P. Mayo.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS, 1929.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Here is the prophesy. "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us."

Here is the fulfilment. "The angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth. To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the Virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came in unto her, and said, 'Hail thou that art highly favored, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. Behold thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shall call his name Jesus.' And Mary said, 'Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word.' And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us."

Here is the Gift. Emmanuel, God with us. Here is the foundation of the Christian Religion. Here is the explanation of everything. This explains the Church and the Sacraments and the Christian and his prayers and his worship and his standards of living and his rule of life. There is no use in looking for a short cut. There is no use in resorting to plausible minimizing or in having recourse to pleasing devotional practises if the roots lie only at the surface. The centre of the Christian Religion is Our Lord Jesus Christ who is truly God, perfectly Man, one Person, in whom are two distinct natures, God and Man.

The driving energy, the consuming fire, the absorbing passion of Catholic devotion is personal love for a personal Lord. It is because of Him, it is for Him that we love Church and Sacraments and worship and obedience to His counsels and precepts.

The Catholic Religion all becomes instantly so simple, once we have grasped this fact. And it becomes so obviously sane and wholesome and genuine. The failure to grasp it brings disaster. It brings a caricature of Catholicism.

The dogmas of the Church are beyond doubt, dispute and discussion, because the Head of the Church is Our Lord Jesus Christ whose words are unalterably and eternally true, by whom Truth came.

The Sacraments of the Church are the channels of Divine Grace, because they are ordained by Our Lord Jesus Christ by whom Grace came. His priests baptize and absolve and sacrifice and bless because they are His priests, sent by Him to do this very thing.

The Christian is a Christian because Christ dwells in him and lives in him and through him and for him.

The worship of the Catholic Church claims for its use the first fruits of the arts and the materials for the arts, because that worship is offered to Our Lord Jesus Christ, who with the Father and the Holy Ghost is One God.

The Catholic Church does speak with authority. She speaks with magnificently imperious finality. And she gives the peace of certitude to her children.

The Catholic Church does act with power. She forgives sins because she has the power to do it. And she gives her children the peace of absolution.

The Catholic Church does offer worship with regal splendor. Because her Sanctuary is the throne room of the King of Kings.

But to understand her, one must begin at the beginning. And Our Lord is the beginning. And he is the ending. The First and the Last.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Christmas

January 5, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Carols	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 90

"Jesus, Name of Wondrous Love"

St. Bees

Introit. Whenas all the world was in profoundest quietness, and night was in the midst of her swift course: thine almighty word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne.

Ps. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Glory be.

Kyrie

Martin in C

Gradual. Thou art fairer than the children of men: full of grace are thy lips. My heart is inditing of a good matter; I speak of the things which I have made unto the King: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 71 "While Shepherds watch'd their flocks"

Winchester Old

Credo

Martin in C

Offertory. God hath made the round world so sure that it cannot be moved; ever since the world began hath thy seat, O God, been prepared; thou art from everlasting.

Hymn 89

"To the Name of Our Salvation"

Oriel

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Martin in C

Gloria in Excelsis

Martin in C

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Finale (First Sonata)

Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 27, 28, 29

Tones VII-3, IV-2, V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Smart in B flat

Hymn 72 "O Come, All Ye Faithful" Setting by Rutland Boughton

"Man, Be Merry"

Alec Rowley

Carols

Man, be merry as bird on berry
And all thy care let away.
This time is born a child
He that us bought upon the rood;
He bound the devil that is so wood,
Till the dreadful doomes-day.

When the child of mickle might
Would be born of Mary bright,
A token he sent to king and knight,
A star that shone both night and day.

The star shone bright as fire
Over the world both far and near
In token he was without peer;
And peerless he shall lasten ay.

The twelfth day come kingly three
Out of the east, with heart free;
To worship Him they kneeled on knee
With gold and myrrh and frankincense.
Man, be merry as bird on berry
And all thy care let away.

"O Bethlehem"

Spanish Folk Carol arranged by Clarence Dickinson

O Bethlehem!
O little town all still and sleeping,
In thee this night great things are wrought!
Jesus, the world's Redeemer holy,
Is born in thee, in manger lowly.

O Bethlehem!
What wondrous light around thee
shineth,
The gates of heaven are opened wide,
With angels' songs the skies are ringing,
Peace and good-will the song they're singing.

O Bethlehem!
A mother o'er the crib is bending,
Softly she sings sweet lullaby:
"Sleep, little Babe, and take Thy rest,
In Thee shall all mankind be blest."

O Bethlehem!
Our lonely hearts to thee are turning,
O little Child in manger bare,
Here would we kneel in adoration,
And find in Thee the world's salvation.

"The First Nowell" (Hymn 551)

Traditional Melody, with faux bourdon by Healey Willan

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Visit to the Creche

Carol, 546

"Silent Night, Holy Night"

Franz Gruber

Prayers

Organ—Adeste Fideles

Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

On the Feast of the Epiphany, Monday, January 6th, there will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Christian life is a response to the Coming of Our Lord to us. He came to dwell among us. We must go to dwell with Him. It is His desire that we should be where He is, now and always, in this world and the next.

Each year as it comes is really, what we somewhat conventionally call it, a year of Our Lord. It brings with it a sequence of events out of which we gain the experiences, which may be quite definitely identified with the events in Our Lord's life. We shall find ourselves in Bethlehem and Nazareth and Jerusalem with Our Lord, each year, without seeking to dramatize the ordinary life which is the lot of most of us. Nor need we leave the place where we happen to be living. This letter will go from Alaska to Louisiana and from Maine to California. So the mailing list records. But wherever it goes it will be received by people whose real life is being lived in Bethlehem or Nazareth or Jerusalem with Our Lord. Not occasionally nor fancifully, but constantly and really. This is why it does not really matter where we have to live, so far as this world is concerned. Our Lord makes the place a holy place and keeps it from being a lonely place, and transforms it into a beautiful place.

It works this way. We all of us are accustomed to kneeling at the Altar in the Church or Chapel in the place where we live. We go to the Altar to receive the Body and Blood of Our Lord. The Eucharistic Mystery arrives at the climax at the Consecration. At that moment Our Lord comes. He is really and objectively present on the Altar. There we have our Bethlehem. There He comes to us. There we receive Him. He dwells in us and we in Him. Not only at the moment of receiving Communion, but afterward. Where we go, He goes. Where we dwell, He dwells. We really live in Bethlehem.

We all of us are required to live in a round of routine duties. Most of them are not in the least spectacular nor conspicuous. They only become so when they are flagrantly neglected. If they are well done they will cause neither notice nor comment. Such a life does become monotonous at times. But all we have to do is to make ourselves remember that Nazareth was not an exciting place. And it is this very existence which is sometimes irksome which constitutes our Nazareth. It is the glow of Nazareth which transforms the place where we live and makes the common things of life uncommon. Some one has said that a Saint is not a person who does extraordinary things, but a person who does ordinary things extraordinarily well. One grows deeply attached to one's Nazareth.

Very often we go out into desert places with Our Lord. Sometimes to be tempted. Sometimes to rest a while. Whichever way it is, the desert can never be a lonely place, because Our Lord is there. We may always find treasures in our deserts.

We shall go frequently to Jerusalem. Jerusalem is always an exciting place. We shall find injustice and condemnation and scourging and crucifixion there. But we would not miss going there. If we did, we should miss being with Him. There are resurrections there. There are joys there.

So the Christian New Year is a Happy New Year.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after the Epiphany

January 12, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Carols	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession 95 "Brightest and Best" Morning Star

Introit. On a throne exalted I beheld, and lo, a man sitting, whom a legion of angels worship, singing together: behold his rule and governance endureth to to all ages.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Glory be.

Kyrie Martin in C

Gradual. Blessed be the the Lord, even the God of Israel: which only doeth wondrous things. The mountains also shall bring peace, and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 93 "Earth has many a noble city" Stuttgart

Credo Martin in C

Offertory. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God.

Hymn 94 "As with gladness men of old" Dix

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Martin in C

Gloria in Excelsis Martin in C

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Christmas Chorale (Good News from Heaven) Pachelbel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 65, 66, 67 - Tones VII-5, I-3, VIII-3
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Parker in E
Hymn 553 "Saw you never, in the twilight" The Wise Men
Carols "Kings in Glory" Martin Shaw

Three Kings in great glory of horses and men,
In haste come a-riding o'er mountain and fen:
For their King is a-waiting, and lo they would bring
The best of their treasure to give to their King.

Poor shepherds lie huddled tonight on the plain,
Their silly sheep guarding from danger and pain;
For wolves howl around them, and bitter the air
That blows o'er the snow-field all frozen and bare.

Come, monarchs, and enter, your Monarch is here,
Doff crowns, on the bare sod fall down and revere;
For the best you can offer is little, I trow,
To the Lord God of Heaven you're a-kneeling to now.

Come, shepherds, and fear not, he will not despise
The gifts that you bring him, tho' rude in men's eyes.
See, he's not arrayed here in purple and gold,
God's Lamb lies as helpless as lamb of your fold.

Then simple and gentle, and foolish and wise,
Come adore the great Lord of the earth and the skies;
Who deigns for us all on this night to be born,
This night that is fairer than mid-summer morn.

"In the Bleak Mid-Winter" (English Hymnal No. 25) Gustav Holst

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

Visit to the Creche

Carol, 356 "Fairest Lord Jesus" Silesian Folksong

Prayers

Organ—Noel: "Une Vierge Pucelle" - Nicholas LeBegue

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

As soon as I learned that there had been a fire at Nashotah House, I telegraphed the Dean for information and I received the following telegram, which I publish with the approval of the Accounting Warden :

"Silk vestments and sacred vessels saved, though damaged slightly by smoke and water. All linens and girdles are destroyed. Students on floor lost everything except contents of suit cases. There will also be donations to five country fire departments which did splendid volunteer work and saved Nashotah House. We ought to have $1000 to enable us to function immediately, and to give suitable rewards and to pay doctors' bills. One student badly burned. We have about $500 in sight and probably more will come. If you can help towards the other $500 should be grateful."

Contributions may be sent to the Accounting Warden, Parish House, 1625 Locust Street.

Subscriptions for the American Church Monthly may be arranged for in the Rector's office. The subscription price is $3.00 a year.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

That was the True Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. Every man—So there is an Epiphany for us all. There is endless comfort in that. The Wise Men had their Star. They came from a long way, they traveled far. They arrived at last. They found the Young Child. They adored and they offered their gifts. Each offered his own treasure. Each found his heart's desire. So it will be with each of us. To each of us is given the Star. Just enough light to show us the way. But always enough.

It is a wonderful moment when a person sees the Star for the first time. A new adventure presents itself. A new urge presses—a long journey lies ahead. Nothing else matters. To tell the story of that Star would be to reveal the hidden history of the soul. It is something one keeps secret and sacred. Yet it may be spoken of in a general way. The New Testament records the disciples' discovery of the true light. The lives of the Saints are true stories of adventurous following of the light. And the known experiences of the Christian life are only charted ways, which we ourselves know something about.

Little children see that light. Little children have the Star—little children remember. They grow up and then come starless nights. Yet the star reappears from time to time. Then they remember. They see it first in their parents' lives. God means it to be so. They trust their parents to be always good and always kind. They see it in the prayers they are taught to say, long before they understand the meaning of all the words. They see it in the beauties of the Church when they are taken there. They do not understand the sermons. They always understand the Mass. They are inarticulate perhaps, but not always. The Altar and the candles and the vestments and the sound of words and the sight of motions and postures make deep impress. It all means God.

The Star shines on through youth. It appears, disappears and reappears. There come the long, long thoughts of youth. The will may be the wind's will, but the Star leads on. There are unsuspected ventures in prayer and unmeasured depths and heights of devotion. Youth awakes to many things. Youth awakes to God. This is the great awakening. The awakening should be a quiet one and a gradual one. It must not be made a violent one. It cannot be a forced one. The Church is a gentle mother. In the quiet of her ways and the gentleness of her methods, the Star shines clearly.

Penitents see that light. There are dangers on the journey. There are misadventures. There are failings and stumblings and fallings and wounds and stains. The night seems very dark. When the Star reappears, the eyes may be dimmed. But the Star is always there. The salutary pang of penitence arouses. The hope of pardon and the longing for peace beckons. Faith returns, hope revives, love rekindles, purpose is renewed. The penitent stumbles on. The door of the Tribunal of Mercy is wide open. The penitent enters wonderingly and falteringly, and yet unerringly the gift of humility is laid at the Redeemer's feet. The life giving Absolution follows swiftly. Cleansed and healed and whole the penitent adores the Lord who gave the light.

There will be nights of anxiety and pain of mind and body. Nights that will seem endlessly long. Nights of dense darkness and appalling silence. Nights when words of prayer falter and die away. Nights when the very impulse to pray is gone. Nights of crushed hope and terrifying apprehension. But the Star shines steadily over even that desert. The mornings will come at last. Each new morning will bring a day of events. Each new night will mark a day of advance. Somehow when the climax is reached one discovers that, as Blessed Julian of Norwich said, "Our good Lord answered to all the questions of doubt that I might make, saying comfortably, 'I can make all things well, and I shall make all things well, and I will make all things well, and thou shalt see thyself that all manner of things shall be well.'" So the Star shines.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after the Epiphany

January 19, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Carols	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 98 "How Bright Appears the Morning Star" Frankfort

Introit. All the earth shall worship thee, O God, and sing of thee; they shall sing praise to thy Name, O Most Highest.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name: make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Mode IV

Gradual. The Lord sent his word and healed them: and they were saved from their destruction. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness; and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, all ye angels of his: praise him, all his host.
Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 480 "Jesus Shall Reign" Duke Street

Credo - - - Foster in C

Offertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither and hearken, all ye that fear God; and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, Alleluia.

Hymn 99 "Hail to the Lord's Anointed" Zoar

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Foster in C

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Foster in C

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude "Puer Nobis Nascitur" Healey Willan

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 98, 99, 100, 101 - Tones VI-a, IV-4, VIII-1, VII-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Parker in E

Hymn 92 "From the Eastern Mountains" Valour

Anthem - - - Mendelssohn

There shall a star come out of Jacob, and a sceptre shall rise out of Israel; with might destroying princes and cities.

As bright the star of morning gleams
So Jesus sheddeth glorious beams,
Of light and consolation.
Thy Word, O Lord,
Radiance darting, Truth imparting,
Gives salvation;
Thine be praise and adoration.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Evening Song - - - Bairstow

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church Instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "Faith."

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

From now on in the course of the Gospels we shall be re-reading the records of the miracles of Our Lord. One of the words which we translate as miracle means a sign. Another means a power. Another means a wonder. A miracle is a wonderful sign of power—of power that belongs to God. Behind the power is wisdom. Behind the wisdom is love. The power and the wisdom and the love are Divine. They are the things signified. They are changeless. The outward signs are given in one age in one way; in another age in another. It is not the sign that matters but the reality. The thing for us to remember is that the things signified are eternal and ours. If signs and wonders of a certain kind are not given to us, it is because we do not need them. We have only to look back through the years that are gone to see that there were miracles of love and grace all along the way. Unperceived at the time perhaps, but recognized now.

Supernatural intervention is a constant occurrence in our lives. There are miracles of prevention and protection and provision. There are miracles of recovery and restoration. The miracle of the working together of all things for good. These are the miracles of love which patience procures and time reveals. Life is filled with such miracles. Every prayer calls for a miracle. Every prayer obtains a miracle in the long run. In the long run—for we have to wait. The waiting is the test. And the waiting itself is attended by a miracle—the miracle by which a person passes beyond passive endurance and rises to glory in tribulation. The glory of patience. The glory of experience. The glory of hope. The glory of the love of God shed abroad in the heart by the Holy Ghost. Now and again we see persons to whom this miracle has been given. We wonder at them. Every one who sees them wonders. Those who know them best know most of the miracle. For such qualities are not born of nature. They are supernatural. How much more edifying such a person is than a person who has never been spiritually educated in this heroic schooling of the Saints. How much more fruitful their lives are. How many people turn to them and trust them and are made strong by them. It is so evident that they have learned the secret of Divine consolation. It is so apparent that they have in a wholly unlooked for way been comforted in their own tribulations only that they may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith they themselves have been comforted in God. Such persons are living miracles.

The miracles of grace are as common as the miracles of love. Take the persons who are born with a strong tendency toward a sin which most easily besets them. What fires they pass through. What agonies they endure—what terrors of troubled mind. What sorrows of broken and contrite hearts they know. What humility they gain. What love they attain. What strength. What gentleness. What sympathy. What hope—what joy. They seem to have been tempted only that they may be able to help the tempted. These persons are living miracles. The fact is we live in a world of miracles.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after the Epiphany

January 26, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 312 "God of Mercy, God of Grace" Heathlands

Introit. All ye angels of God, fall down, and worship before him: Syon heard, and was exceeding joyful, and the daughters of Juda were glad.

Ps. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Glory be.

Kyrie - - Parker in E

Gradual. The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Syon: and when his glory shall appear.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 101 "Joy to the world, the Lord is come" Chesterfield

Credo - - Parker in E

Offertory. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Hymn 96 "Songs of thankfulness and praise" Salzburg

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Parker in E

Gloria in Excelsis - - Parker in E

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in G major - Mendelssohn

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 119, verses 145 to 176 - Tones I-4, III-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Harwood in A flat

Hymn 109 "Not by Thy mighty hand" Potsdam

Anthem - - Eric H. Thiman

Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round
Of circling planets singing on their way;
Guide of the nations from the night profound
Into the glory of the perfect day;
Rule in our hearts, that we may ever be
Guided and strengthen'd and upheld by Thee.

We are of Thee, the children of Thy love,
The brothers of Thy well-beloved Son;
Descend, O Holy Spirit, like a dove,
Into our hearts, that we may be as one:
As one with Thee, to whom we ever tend;
As one with Him, our Brother and our Friend.

We would be one in hatred of all wrong,
One in our love of all things sweet and fair,
One with the joy that breaketh into song,
One with the grief that trembles into prayer,
One in the power that makes the children free
To follow truth, and thus to follow Thee.

O clothe us with Thy heavenly armour, Lord,
Thy trusty shield, Thy sword of love divine;
Our inspiration be Thy constant word;
We ask no vict'ries that are not Thine:
Give or withhold, let pain or pleasure be;
Enough to know that we are serving Thee.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Andante from Sonata - Harwood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Holy Trinity."

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Our Lord first made disciples. Then He sent His disciples to make disciples. What is a disciple? A disciple is a learner; a person who is being taught. "Learn of Me," said Our Lord.

Discipline is the rule of life which governs a disciple. The disciple must live like a disciple. He must be a disciplined person. He must be meek and lowly if he would learn. His aim in life must be to become like his Master.

The making of a disciple is not a short nor an easy process. To be a real disciple one must really want to be a disciple.

In the first place only the Grace of God can make discipleship possible. So we must use the means of grace. We must use the Sacraments with the simple intention of seeking grace for discipleship. We must use the grace that God gives to us in order that we may learn and obey and follow and endure to the end. Our Lord has told us that we must become as little children. It all becomes so much easier after that. The yoke does become easy. The burden does become light. But it is not easy to become as little children.

We must be willing to learn from Our Lord if we want to be His disciples. The great disciples learned simply and they teach simply. They mastered the technique of their profession. They prescribed rules which were based on the Knowledge which is born of experience. The Knowledge came from God.

The first lesson they teach us is on discipline. We must learn how to be disciplined. We must learn how to acquire disciplined minds and disciplined wills and disciplined emotions. The masters of the technique of the Spiritual life have given us simple rules for this.

Their first rule is that every thought must be brought into captivity to the obedience of Christ. Every morning when we say our prayers we must offer in advance every thought that may come during the day to the Holy Ghost. We must ask Him to bring each thought, as it comes, into captivity. This means no thought will be ours until it has been given back to us to use. Until it has it will be only a suggestion. Our fixed rule must be to beware of interior suggestions. We must wait to see whether they are from God or not. One sure test is to examine the effect of the suggestion on our feelings. If it excites us, it is not from the Holy Ghost.

So we must turn our attention to our emotions. Every emotion must be offered in advance to God each morning. Until it has been given back to us, transmuted into quiet and purposeful energy, we may not use it. If it presents itself again as quiet energy, clearly allied with a Godly motion, then it is of God. The test here is that it shall be free from haste. If it is hasty it is not of God.

This requires the will. So we must turn our attentions to our wills. Each morning we must offer our wills to God. The test of the validity of this offering will be absence of self-will. If the will leads back to self, it is not of God. So we set out upon the way each day.

So we shall be disciples.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Feast of the Purification

February 2, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn

Bayeux Church Melody

All prophets hail thee, from of old announcing,
By the inbreathed Spirit of the Father,
God's Mother, bringing prophecies to fullness,
Mary the maiden.

Thou the true Virgin Mother of the Highest,
Bearing incarnate God in awed obedience,
Meekly acceptest for a sinless offspring
Purification.

In the high temple Simeon receives thee,
Takes to his bent arms with a holy rapture
That promised Saviour, vision of redemption,
Christ long awaited.

Now the fair realm of Paradise attaining,
And to thy Son's throne, Mother of the Eternal,
Raised all glorious, yet in earth's devotion
Join with us always.

Glory and worship to the Lord of all things
Pay we unresting, who alone adored,
Father and Son and Spirit, in the highest Reigneth eternal. Amen.

Introit. We have waited, O God, for thy loving kindness in the midst of thy temple; according to thy Name, O God, so is thy praise unto the world's end; thy right hand is full of righteousness.

Ps. Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill. Glory be.

Kyrie

Harwood in E flat

Gradual. We have waited, O God, for thy loving kindness in the midst of thy temple: according to thy Name, O God, so is thy praise unto the world's end. Like as we have heard, so have we seen in the city of our God: even upon his holy hill.

Alleluia. I will worship toward thy holy temple, and will sing praises unto thy Name. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 277. "Blest are the Pure in Heart" Franconia

Credo Harwood in A flat

Offertory. Full of grace are thy lips: because God hath blessed thee forever.

Hymn 273 "In His Temple Now Behold Him" St. Leonard

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ - Carillon-Sortie in D

Mulet

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 12, 13, 14

Tones IV-9, III-4, VII-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus with faux bourdons by Bach

Hymn (Ave Maris Stella)

Mode I

Star of ocean fairest,
Mother, God who barest,
Virgin thou immortal,
Heaven's blissful portal.

Mother's care displaying,
Offer Him thy praying,
Who, when born our Brother,
Chose thee for his Mother.

Ave thou receivest,
Gabriel's word believest,
Change to peace and gladness
Eva's name of sadness.

Virgin, all-excelling,
Gentle past our telling
Pardoned sinners render
Gentle, chaste and tender.

Loose the bonds of terror,
Lighten blinded error,
All our ills repressing
Pray for every blessing.

In pure paths direct us,
On our way protect us,
Till on Jesus gazing,
We shall join thy praising.

Father, Son eternal
Holy Ghost supernal
With one praise we bless thee,
Three in One confess thee. Amen.

Anthem

Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O Lord of Hosts!
For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God.

Blest are they, O blest are they that dwell within Thy house; they praise Thy Name evermore!

How lovely is thy dwelling-place.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ - Ave Maris Stella

Jean Titelouze (1563-1633)

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Thursday, February 6th, 1930, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, February 6th, 1930, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Archdeacon Baskerville.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Incarnation."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The leper prayed. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. The centurion prayed. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour. Each miracle was a reward for faith. Faith is always rewarded. The greater the test, the greater the reward. The test applied to the leper and the centurion did not overtax the faith of either. Our Lord never did that. Nor does He today. We must have the faith. We cannot escape the test. We cannot lose the reward. But here is the point. The test is always adapted to our capacity. And the reward is always adequate for the test. Our Lord measures the test. Our Lord chooses the reward.

There are miracles in every age. There always will be. Yet the supreme test of faith is sometimes the failure to obtain the miracle we ask for. I have in mind the people who have asked for miracles and have been denied. Yet they have believed bravely and continued radiantly. There can be no doubt that such a faith is far nearer the standard set by Our Lord. It is much nearer the measure of the stature of the fulness of Our Lord. It is the faith of Saints and martyrs and confessors. The faith required of the centurion and the leper was the faith of infants in Christ. The other is the faith of full grown friends of Our Lord. It is the faith of friends who are strong enough to suffer, brave enough to endure, patient enough to continue, and worthy enough of the rewards of God. There has never been a life of a Saint recorded which does not recount the winning of a reward through suffering. And in every case the light of the reward illumines the shadows of the suffering. Who would you rather be, the leper or Father Damien? The centurion or Saint Paul? Who is the blessed among women, the widow of Nain or the Mother of Sorrows? Now there is the answer to the question for which the sorrows of the world demand an answer. The demand is insistent. The answer is true.

There are well authenticated miracles in Christendom today. There are miracles privately known which have been told to no man. The faith exhibited has been edifying. But if we would see the exhibition of faith which is heroic, we must turn to the silent sufferers of this world. There we shall find the faith of Calvary. There we shall find the intrepid companions of the Cross. There we shall see a greater miracle than the miracle of faith. We shall see the astounding miracle of love. And that is the greatest miracle in the world. For love is greater than faith and greater than hope. They who have it will have both faith and hope, but they will first have the greatest of the three. And they will continue to have it after faith has vanished into sight, and hope is emptied in delight. Here is the great miracle which is in process in every church where Christians come to pray before the altars which en throne the Presence of Our Lord. Day after day, year after year, Christians suffer and pray and wait and grow quiet and strong and learn to rejoice in the peace that passes understanding. Who sees this sees a miracle.

One can turn from this miracle and look out on the world undismayed. One may look clear-eyed upon the suffering in the world if once one has seen the mystery of purificatory pain and triumphant love. But one must keep this mystery in mind. One must know heaven's healing if one would endure the sight of earth's sorrows.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany

February 9, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 110 "Alleluia, song of gladness" Dulce Carmen

Introit. All ye angels of God, fall down, and worship before him: Syon heard, and was exceeding joyful, and the daughters of Juda were glad.

Ps. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Glory be.

Kyrie - - Harwood in E flat

Gradual. The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Syon: and when his glory shall appear.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Alleluia.

Sequence Hymn 105 "Thy kingdom come, O God" St. Cecilia

Credo - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Hymn 491 "Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round"
Setting by Eric H. Thiman

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Allegro Maestoso (Old 137th Psalm) Charles Wood

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 47, 48, 49 - - Tones VII-6, I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - Stanford in B flat

Hymn 104 "Thou, Whose almighty word" Moscow

Anthem - - Martin Shaw

With a voice of singing declare ye this, and let it be heard. Alleluia.
Utter it even unto the ends of the earth. The Lord hath delivered his people, Alleluia.

O be joyful in God, all ye lands, O sing praises to the honour of his name, make his praise to be glorious.

With a voice of singing declare ye this, and let it be heard. Alleluia.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Larghetto in B minor - - Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Atonement."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church Instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The last sentence in today's Epistle explains several words and phrases that are frequently and constantly found in books of spiritual reading. "Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." When devotional books make use of such words or phrases as "intention," "offering it up," "making acts"—what is meant is the doing of something, or the bearing of something, or the using of short ejaculating prayers, in the name of the Lord Jesus, with the definite motive of uniting the deed or the suffering or the prayer with the deeds and suffering and prayers of Our Lord. The idea is to do and suffer and pray with Him and so to share in His life as far as it is permitted to us. An ejaculating prayer is a short prayer like these. "O, my God, I believe in Thee." This is called an act of Faith. "O, my God, I hope in Thee." This is called an act of Hope. "O, my God, I love Thee." This is called an act of Charity. "O, my God, I grieve that by my sins I have so often offended Thee." This is called an act of Contrition. If you are not familiar with these Acts or ejaculating prayers, I would advise you to memorize and use them.

Take the word "intention" in its devotional sense first. An intention is a conscious motive. The motive for any act determines the moral value of the act. The question that we must put to ourselves is, "Why am I doing this?" "What am I doing it for?" "What is my object?" "What is my desire?" Whatever your motive is it will indicate the nature of your intention and the character of your expression of it.

By a "pure intention" is meant a motive for saying something or doing something solely for the glory of God. If there is a tincture of self-interest or self-regard in the intention, then the intention is not pure. If there is but one single intention, and that for the glory of God, then the intention is a "simple intention."

The opposite to all this is the muddled and muddy emotionalism which is popularly and fallaciously termed self-expression. Self-expression by all means. But what self? The rational or the irrational? The moral or the immoral? The responsible or the irresponsible? The best self or the worst self? And again we must not be fooled by the word "modern." We are all moderns because we are living in modern times. That catch won't do. There are millions of moderns who are religious. There are many moderns who are irreligious. It so happens at this present moment that the irreligious moderns are noisy. That is all. There is nothing modern about that.

The word "offering" has a sacrificial meaning in the Christian vocabulary. "Sacrifice" means making something sacred or devoted. The Christian makes all life, in this sense, a sacrifice. This does not mean the occasional giving up of something, but the constant offering up of all. It is not a negative, but a positive action. The Christian offers up tribulation or distress or persecution or famine or nakedness or peril or sword. In all these things he is more than conqueror. Because he is persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate him from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus Our Lord.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 20

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

Septuagesima Sunday

February 16, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 4 "Christ, whose glory fills the skies" Ratisbon

Introit. The sorrows of death came about me; the pains of hell gat hold upon me: and in my tribulation I made my prayer unto the Lord, and he regarded my supplication out of his holy temple.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord, my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Noble in G minor

Gradual. The Lord will be a refuge in the time of trouble; and they that know thy Name will put their trust in thee, for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee. For the poor shall not always be forgotten; the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish forever: up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand.

Tract. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well: the voice of my complaint. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss: O Lord, who may abide it? For there is mercy with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

Sequence Hymn 117 "He who would valiant be" St. Dunstan's

Credo - - - Noble in G minor

Offertory. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord: and to sing praises unto thy Name, O Most Highest.

Hymn 252 "The spacious firmament on high" Addison's

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Noble in G minor

Motet—Ave Verum - Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate	Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Of the Virgin Mary born;	Streaming from Thy pierced side.
On the Cross Thy sacred Body,	Feed us with Thy Body broken,
For us men with nails was torn.	Now, and in death's agony.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude Solonnel - - - Noble

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 82, 83, 84, 85 - Tones VIII-2, VII-1, III-1, IV-5

Magnificat - - - Tone IV } with faux bourdons

Nunc Dimittis - - - Tone VI } by Healey Willan

Hymn - - - Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

Lest, sunk in sin, and whelmed with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life;
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem - - - Marcello

Give ear unto me, Lord, I beseech Thee, for I have walked in Thy commandments; let me be judged with righteous judgment, O let my sentence come from Thy presence.

O hold Thou me up; guide me in the path of Thy commandments: I am Thy servant, teach me Thy statutes, hold up my goings in all Thy paths; so that my footsteps may not be moved.

Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Arioso in Ancient Style - James H. Rogers

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

There will be a Retreat for teachers and other women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Saturday, February 22nd. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and closes at 4.30 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, Rector of St. George's Church, West Philadelphia. Those desiring to attend will please write to the Sister-in-Charge.

The Dean of Nashotah House writes: "The check for $410.00 to help in covering the students' fire loss has reached us. Will you please express our grateful thanks to those who have contributed. I am happy to say that the One Thousand Dollars needed has now been a little more than over-subscribed. This is very largely due to the kindness of our friends at St. Mark's, to whom we are very grateful."

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Exaltation of Christ."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

SEPTUAGESIMA, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

It is difficult to realize that Lent is so near. Septuagesima awakens us to the fact, however. We must prepare ourselves for Lent. What plans shall we make?

The Prayer Book on page XXXII bears as its title "Tables and Rules." The word "table," as it is used here, means a writing surface. On this particular writing surface there is a list of Fasts and Days of Abstinence. There is also a brief general rule or regulation which applies to the days of abstinence. The rule states that the Church requires "such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion."

I have sometimes heard critics of the Book of Common Prayer say that it is indefinite as regards discipline. That it is lacking in definite rules and regulations. I should have more confidence in the criticism if I had more confidence in the critics. I should have more confidence in the critics of the Prayer Book if they showed more evidence of consistent use of it. I have never known a person who made a serious effort to conform to the Prayer Book to complain of its having too little of disciplinary requirements. However that may be, I am not at present concerned with exceptions. My point just at the moment is that there is no valid reason for complaint of the lack of definite rules.

A parish priest who observes the rules of the Book of Common Prayer will say his Mass every day, because a Collect, Epistle and Gospel is provided for every day. He will say Morning and Evening Prayer every day, because the Prayer Book requires that it shall be said daily. This means that there are three public services appointed for daily observance throughout the year in every parish church.

The fulfilment of these obligations is a part of the parish priest's "ordinary acts and exercises of devotion." His "extraordinary acts and exercises" are left to his discretion.

For the lay person daily attendance at Mass and Morning and Evening Prayer are not required as "ordinary acts and exercises of devotion." It is the privilege of the lay person to make them so if it is so desired. If so, then attendance, except on days of obligation, is an "act and exercise of extraordinary devotion."

This simplifies the matter of determining for priest and people what is ordinary and what is extraordinary devotion.

In Lent the priest must add to his "ordinary acts and exercises of devotion." In Lent the lay person must do likewise. The obvious addition will be more frequent attendance at daily Mass and daily Morning and Evening Prayer.

Simple observance of this plain rule will ensure an edifying Lent. It will edify or build up the spiritual life of the individual and of the parish. It will also protect the faithful and the parish from a hectic multiplication of additional services. There is not so much need of "additional Lent services," as there is need of more frequent attendance at services required of the priest daily throughout the year.

This is the rule of devotion which is maintained here. It is a reasonable rule. It is a profitable rule.

A person who observes it will be richly rewarded. The more frequent attendance at daily Mass will lead to the discovery of the meaning of the Mass. That discovery will serve to carry one through days when all human effort fails.

The discovery of the treasures of Morning and Evening Prayer will lead to the discovery of the patience and hope of the Scriptures, when patience is exhausted and hope seems deferred.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Sexagesima Sunday

February 23, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 2 (Part One) "Awake, my soul, and with the sun"

Barthelemon
Introit Arise, O Lord, wherefore sleepest thou? Awake, and cast us not away forever: wherefore hidest thou thy countenance, and forgettest our adversity and misery? Our belly cleaveth unto the ground; arise and save us, O Lord, our helper and our deliverer.

Ps. O God, we have heard with our ears; our fathers have told us. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Noble in G minor

Gradual. Let the nations know that thou, whose Name is Jehovah: art only the Most Highest over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a wheel: and as the stubble before the wind.

Tract. Thou hast moved the land, O Lord: and divided it. Heal the sores thereof: for it shaketh. That they may triumph because of the truth: that thy beloved may be delivered.

Sequence Hymn 116 "Oft in danger, oft in woe" University College

Credo - - - Noble in G minor

Offertory. O hold thou up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not; incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words: shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O Lord; thou that art the Saviour of them that put their trust in thee.

Hymn 259 "Praise to the Holiest in the height" Gerontius

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Noble in G minor

Motet—Ave Verum - - - Gounod

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate	Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Of the Virgin Mary born;	Streaming from Thy pierced side.
On the Cross Thy sacred Body,	Feed us with Thy Body broken,
For us men with nails was torn.	Now, and in death's agony.

O Jesu, hear us, O Jesu, spare us,
Jesu, Son of Mary,
O grant us, Lord, Thy mercy. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Canzona - - - Andrea Gabrieli

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 114, 115 - - - Tonus Peregrinus

Magnificat - - - Tone IV } with faux bourdons
Nunc Dimittis - - - Tone VI } by Healey Willan

Hymn 17 "The sun is sinking fast" St. Columba

Anthem - - - Philip James

I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient time,
And now, as then, thy mercies hold
Their hope of grace divine.

I have remembered my song at night,
Communing with my heart,
And know thy love is still my right,
Nor ever will depart.

Thy voice was in the thunder,
The waters were afraid:
Yet in my day of trouble
I called on thee for aid.

Who is so great a God as the Lord!
His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer outpoured,
Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Adagio (First Sonata) - - - Mendelssohn

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "One Holy Catholic in That Historic Church."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church Instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

This letter is concerned with one phrase, "Such a measure of abstinence." It is evident from what follows the phrase that abstinence is required as an aid to devotion. An abstinence that would result in a disability for devotion would be a hindrance and not a help. Discretion must be used in making a rule which goes beyond the traditional general rule. The vocational activities must be considered first of all. Persons engaged in work which makes demands on physical energy, or which involves exacting mental labor or exhausting nervous strain, must have a rule of abstinence which will not impair the working efficiency. Invalids will require certain special dispensations. The Prayer Book provides a general rule for exterior mortifications and lays emphasis on interior mortifications. This is the approved traditional rule for persons called to an active life in the world.

It is of interior mortifications that I am writing. But first we must define our terms. What is meant by an interior mortification? What in the first place is a mortification? The content of the word is the idea of dying, to sin. You remember that the Catechism teaches that the inward and spiritual grace of Baptism is a death unto sin, and a new birth unto righteousness. In the Collect for Easter Even we shall pray that "by continually mortifying our corrupt affections, we may be buried with Him, and that through the grave and gate of death, we may pass to our joyful resurrection." So by mortification is meant dying to sin. Interior mortification means the use of such discipline over our inward thoughts and feelings as shall restrain us from giving expression to all thoughts and feelings that are wrong. It is this interior mortification which is the end for which certain selected exterior mortifications are means. The imposition of the exterior mortification may cease at the end of Lent. The increased capacity for interior mortifications will be the permanent possession.

But what is the interior mortification to be? That is what we must determine for ourselves. Lent is a penitential season. The first exercise of penitence is self-examination. It is our business to learn by self-examination what there is in us which most needs mortifying. We ought to make a thorough self-examination before Lent. The name given to the day before Lent indicates this penitential preparation. It is called Shrove Tuesday. Shrove means pardon. Shrove Tuesday is a day to be shriven. It is a day to remember the words of the Prayer Book, which declares that "Almighty God hath given power and commandment to his ministers to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the Absolution and Remission of their sins." Being penitent means that we are to "acknowledge and confess our manifold sins and wickedness." With this Shrove Tuesday preparation we begin Lent with a definite purpose.

One purpose will be to discipline our thoughts. We will not bother our heads over suggestions. Suggestions are like street cries, distracting but negligible. Thoughts are serious mental processes to which the consent of the will is given.

Another is to discipline our speech. We will cultivate self-restraint in our use of words. We will practice silence. We will learn how to keep from talking.

Another is to discipline our acts. We will learn how to resist impulse. How to do nothing under excitement. How to wait. How to keep quiet.

All this is very difficult. It is interior mortification. It is what Saint Paul calls dying daily.

It is to keep the fast of Lent.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima Sunday

March 2, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 226 "Love divine, all loves excelling"

Le Jeune

Introit. Be thou my God and defender, and a place of refuge that thou mayest save me: for thou art my upholder, my refuge, and my Saviour: and for thy holy Name's sake be thou my leader, and my sustainer.

Ps. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion; but rid me, and deliver me in thy righteousness. Glory be.

Kyrie

Cherubini

Gradual. Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people. Thou hast mightily delivered thy people: even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Tract. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God. It is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Sequence Hymn 121 "Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost"

Stainer

Credo

Lloyd in E flat

Offertory. Blessed art thou, O Lord; O teach me thy statutes: with my lips have I been telling of all the judgments of thy mouth.

Hymn 404 "Immortal Love, forever full"

Anderson

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Lloyd in E flat

Motet—Ave Verum

Elgar

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate
Of the Virgin Mary born;
On the Cross Thy sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from Thy pierced side.
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now, and in death's agony.

O Jesu, hear us, Son of Mary.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Carillon

Elgar

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 12, 13, 14

Tones IV-9, III-4, VII-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in C

Hymn 206 "Father of All, whose love profound"

Dykes

Anthem — Melody 'the old 124th Psalm' arranged by Gustav Holst

Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways
Old now is Earth, and none may count her days,
Yet thou, her child: whose head is crowned with flame,
Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim
'Turn back, O man. forswear thy foolish ways!'

Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise.
Age after age their tragic empires rise.
Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep
Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep
Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one,
Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done,
Now, even now, once more from earth to sky
Peals forth in joy man's old undaunted cry
'Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!'

—Clifford Bax.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Meditation

Harvey Grace

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The hours for Confession on Shrove Tuesday are from 4 to 5 and from 8 to 9.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Thursday, March 6, 1930, at 7.45 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parlor of the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, March 6, 1930, at 3 P. M. Speaker, Mrs. Edward Ingersoll.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Sacramental Principle."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

This letter is concerned with the meaning of the word "devotion." The general meaning is giving something under a vow. In its religious application it means vowing and giving to God. The motive for so doing is the desire to render to God that which is His due.

First of all comes self-devotion. The devout person desires to present self, soul and body, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice. Self-devotion is the acknowledgment of the debt of gratitude to God for creation, preservation and all the blessings of this life, and above all for redemption, the means of grace and the hope of glory. It means giving the best that one is and may become for the fulfilment of the will of God. It means returning life service for life received. It means regarding life as a trust. The devotion of self to God is the essential devotion which gives value to all other specialized forms of devotion. It is in fact the quality of charity without which, as Saint Paul says, everything one may say or do is meaningless. "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal." "And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing."

Prayers without self-giving may be merely the result of sentimental adherence to habit. Delight in religious ceremonial may be merely the emotional reaction to sensuous attractions. Both may exist without real regard for Divine law or even with deliberate abandonment to sin.

The giving of money to the Church, without self-giving, may mean nothing more than an amiable, meaningless benevolence or a calculating regard for public opinion. The gift without the giver is bare.

The gift of self must always antedate the giving of money. One must have given one's self to God, before one presumes to the privilege of giving one's money to God. Otherwise the material offering only dishonors God. A person who disregards every precept of God's religion and good humoredly "puts something generous into the collection," only adds absurd ostentation to habitual neglect. The gifts of the faithful are offerings, not collections. The offerings of the faithful are presented at the Altar. They are a privileged devotion.

The faithful make their offerings because they are thankful. They are thankful for being Baptized. They are thankful for being Confirmed. They are thankful for having absolution for their sins. They are thankful for having received Holy Communion. They are thankful for the ministrations of the priests. They are thankful for the open Church for daily refuge. They are thankful for the continual offering of the sacrifice of the death of Christ and of the benefits which they receive thereby. They are thankful, in this place, that they have what was mentioned concerning a great London Church, described as situated in "a hive of hotels; a church which is really quiet; where the Blessed Sacrament is reserved; where the offices and mass are said daily."

So offerings for Church maintenance are acts of devotion. They are not "alms" but "dues."

So long as the amount given is in right proportion to the means of the giver, whether it is large or small, it is acceptable with God.

Whatever is given over and above the church "dues" for charitable purposes is an "alms."

But we must not confuse "dues" with "alms."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 23

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

March 9, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 123 "Forty Days and Forty Nights"

Introit. He shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto him; I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with length of days will I satisfy him.

Ps. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Salve semperque (tenth century)

Gradual. He shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Tract. Whose dwelleth under the defence of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold, my God, in him will I trust. For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter and from the noisome pestilence. He shall defend thee under his wings and thou shalt be safe under his feathers. His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler, thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night. Nor for the arrow that flieth by day: for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day. A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand but it shall not come nigh thee. For he shall give his Angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone. Thou shalt go upon the lion and adder; the young lion and the dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him. I will set him up, because he hath known my name. He shall call upon me and I will hear him: yea, I am with him in trouble. I will deliver him, and bring him to honour; with long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Sequence Hymn 134 "Lord, who throughout these forty days"
—St. Flavian

Credo - - - Missa Penitentialis

Offertory. He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: his faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Hymn 126 "Christian! dost thou see them" St. Andrew of Crete

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa Penitentialis

Ave Verum (English Hymnal 311) Proper Melody, Rouen version.

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,	Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;	Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
Thou who truly hangedst weary	O mayst thou, dear Lord, be given
On the Cross for sons of earth;	At death's hour to be my food.

O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in C major - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 47, 48, 49 - - - Tones VII-6, I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Stanford in C

Hymn 122 "Lord, in this thy mercy's day" St. Philip

Anthem - - - Sir George Martin

Ho! every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat.

Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live.

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

Then ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Andante (Sonata IV) - - - Guilmant

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Following books for Lent reading may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street :

The Eucharistic Sacrifice, by Samuel Stone.
Our Communion, by T. H. Passmore.
The Life of Prayer, by Baron VonHugel.
The New and Living Way, by T. H. Passmore.
Assistants at the Passion, by H. F. B. Mackay.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "Holy Baptism."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church Instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil." Picture Our Lord alone in the wilderness. He has gone there to be tempted of the devil. The first Adam was tempted in a garden. The second Adam is tempted in a wilderness. The first Adam changed a garden into a wilderness. The second Adam changed a wilderness into a garden. Temptation may be the occasion for the doing of either. Temptation yielded to will devastate the fairest garden. Temptation overcome will transform the most desolate wilderness. Temptation itself is not sin. It may be the occasion of sin. It may be the occasion of virtue. This is what it is meant to be. The temptations that follow penitence are really causes for encouragement. Because they provide opportunities for winning back lost gardens. So Saint James writes, "My brethren, count it all joy when ye enter into divers temptations."

Repentance readjusts our minds. Contrition revives our hearts. Temptation restores our wills. We all need the bracing experience of winning back the ground we lost.

*"O wisest love, that flesh and blood
Which did in Adam fail,
Should strive afresh against the foe,
Should strive and should prevail."*

The occasions of temptation are to be avoided. We must never place ourselves in the way of temptation. We must pray that we may not be led into temptation. But every prayer has its "nevertheless." So Our Lord taught us to say "but deliver us from evil." The occasions of temptation will come in crowded places. The actual battles are fought in solitude. They are best fought there. So we are led into the wilderness in times of decision. We find Our Lord there. We fight our lonely battles never less alone than when we are alone with Him. We emerge established, strengthened, settled. Angels rejoice over our repentance. They minister to us after our temptations and recognize us as companions.

Lent is our time for intensive training in the technique of dealing with temptation. It is a time for the cultivation of virtue, as well as repentance of sin. Indeed the two cannot be separated. One is the complement of the other. We must bring forth fruits worthy of repentance. The sorrows of old sins must end in the joys of new virtues.

The first thing to do is to find out as nearly as we can just what most needs attention in our lives. This can only be done by careful self-examination. By this means we see our faults. The Prayer Book is very definite as to this duty. And it is no less definite as to the duty of Confession. Absolution releases the soul for fresh adventures in the practice of virtue. Our forgiven sins are stepping stones to the opposite virtues. We are to leave the old sins behind and press on to the new virtues.

We must never be in doubt as to the outcome of our efforts. No matter how far we may be from the virtue we desire, we shall arrive at it if we persevere. We must remember to add faith to our repentance. God pardons and absolves all those who truly repent, and, this is what we must not forget, unfeignedly believe His Holy Gospel. Faith is always accompanied with humility. Doubt is always accompanied with pride.

The humble person accepts God's forgiveness, trusts God's grace, and neither seeks nor fears temptation.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 24

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

March 16, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, 12.10 daily. Stations, Wednesday, 8.00 P. M.
Processional Litany, Fridays, 4.00 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal 66)

O kind Creator, bow thine ear
To mark the cry, to know the tear
Before thy throne of mercy spent
In this thy holy fast of Lent.

Our hearts are open, Lord, to thee:
Thou knowest our infirmity;
Pour out on all who seek thy face
Abundance of thy pardoning grace.

We pray thee, Holy Trinity,
One God, unchanging Unity,
That we, from this our abstinence,
May reap the fruits of penitence. Amen.

Introit. Call to remembrance thy tender compassion and mercy, O Lord, and thy loving-kindness toward us, which have been ever of old: neither suffer our enemies to triumph against us; deliver us, O God of Israel, out of all our misery and trouble.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie (Missa de Sancto Albano)

Healey Willan in E flat

Gradual The sorrows of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and misery: and forgive me all my sin.

Tract The Lord said unto the woman of Canaan: It is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table. Jesus said unto her, Woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt.

Sequence Hymn 393 "Lord Jesus, think of me"

St. Bride

Credo

Willan in E flat

Offertory. My delight shall be in thy commandments, which I have loved: my hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved.

Hymn 131 "O Jesus! Lord most merciful"

Need

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Willan in E flat

Ave Verum

Willan

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;
On the Cross Thou hangedst weary
To redeem the sons of earth.

Thou whose side was deeply riven,
Shedding forth true stream of Blood,
O mayst thou, dear Lord, be given
In death's hour to be our Food.

O faithful, O gracious, O blessed Jesu,
Son of Mary, O grant us thy mercy. Amen.

Angers Church Melody

Our sins are many, this we know;
Spare us, good Lord, thy mercy show;
And for the honour of thy name
Our fainting souls to life reclaim.

Give us the self-control that springs
From discipline of outward things,
That fasting inward secretly
The soul may purely dwell with thee.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ Epilogue

Willan

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 82, 83, 84, 85

Tones VIII-2, VII-1, III-1, IV-5

Magnificat Tone IV } with alternate verses in faux bourdon
Nunc Dimittis Tone III } by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn 399 "At even, when the sun was set"

Angelus

Anthem

Coleridge-Taylor

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Sion.

As for our harps, we hanged them upon the trees that are therein. For they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness. Sing us one of the songs of Sion.

How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, yea, if I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth.

Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said, Down with it, even to the ground.

O daughter of Babylon, wasted with misery, yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children and throweth them against the stones.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale-Prelude "By the Waters of Babylon"

J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Offering for today is the second Offering for Missions.

This week I shall be preaching at 12:10 each day at the Transfiguration, New York City. I shall keep my early morning, late afternoon and evening engagements.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and Friends of S. Margaret's Community on Wednesday, March 26th, at S. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia. Conductor: The Rev. Alfred M. Smith. The Retreat begins with Mass at 8. A. M. and ends at 4:30 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Following books for Lent reading may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street:

- The Eucharistic Sacrifice, by Darwell Stone.
- Our Communion, by T. H. Passmore.
- The Life of Prayer, by Baron VonHugel.
- The New and Living Way, by T. H. Passmore.
- Saints and Leaders, by H. F. B. Mackay.
- Assistants at the Passion, by H. F. B. Mackay.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Holy Eucharist: The Christian Feast."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church Instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN LENT, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Any person who habitually uses the Prayer Book Collects for private devotion will bear testimony to the fact that words and phrases work their way into personal prayers at times of special need. The Collects give one a prayer vocabulary. They educate one in the language of prayer. Not adults only, but children are susceptible to the Collects as examples of vocal prayer. Indeed we are all children in the practise of prayer.

We acquired our conversational English in our homes. Our vocabulary, our accent, our intonations are home products for the most part. Whatever the school may do, the home leaves the lasting impress. It is no less true of the household of faith. We learn our language in the family of God which is the Church. Old Doctor Lavender was a wise pastor. He taught his children to recite the Collects. They learned in the Collect Class how to pray. I do hope that people today are teaching their children to say the Collects. We learn more than the language of prayer by using the Collects. We learn the doctrines and practises of the Christian Religion.

Take for example the Collect for today. Note that the petition is that we may be kept "both outwardly in our bodies and inwardly in our souls, that we may be defended from all adversities which may happen to the body, and from all evil thoughts which may assault and hurt the soul."

The Catholic religion is mindful of both body and soul. It does not disregard the body. It sanctifies the body as the instrument with which the soul works. It teaches that the flesh must be subdued to the spirit, in order that the body may be the servant of the soul. The body has its place and share in the spiritual life. The body shares in the life of grace. This is why outward and spiritual grace is given under outward and visible signs. The body has its share in the sacramental life.

The water of Baptism is applied to the body.

The laying of hands is applied to the body in Confirmation.

The body is used in the confession of sin, and absolution is received through the body, in Penance.

The Blessed Sacrament is received by the body, that, with the soul, it may be preserved unto everlasting life.

The body is anointed with oil in the Sacrament of Unction.

The body is ministered to from the beginning to the end. God has given us our bodies and in our bodies we are working out our salvation with fear and trembling, yet in sure confidence that the grace given us is sufficient for our salvation.

The body has its share with the soul in worship. The externals of worship are not for aesthetic purposes. They have aesthetic value. But their purpose is to give the body a share in worship. Every bodily sense is used as an avenue of approach. Every art is used as a handmaid of religion. Architecture, sculpture, painting, music—these all offer their first fruits, in order that the body may have freedom to worship.

The body has its share in the work of prayer. So it is taught the postures and trained in the gestures of prayer.

All the while the body is disciplined that it may be submissive to the motions of the spirit.

Then when the great day comes, it will rise completely spiritualized. We shall adore and serve God forever in Heaven, "both outwardly in our bodies and inwardly in our souls."

Affectionately in our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

March 23, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, 12.10 daily. Stations, Wednesday, 8.00 P. M.
Processional Litany, Fridays, 5.00 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal 68)

Rouen Church Melody

The glory of these forty days
We celebrate with songs of praise;
For Christ, by whom all things were made,
Himself has fasted and has prayed.

So Daniel trained his mystic sight,
Delivered from the lion's might;
And John, the Bridegroom's friend, became
The herald of Messiah's name.

Alone and fasting Moses saw
The loving God who gave the Law;
And to Elijah, fasting, came
The steeds and chariots of flame.

Then grant us, Lord, like them to be Full oft in fast and prayer with thee;
Our spirits strengthen with thy grace,
And give us joy to see thy face.

Father and Son and Spirit blest,
To thee be every prayer address,
Who art in three-fold Name adored,
From age to age, the only Lord. Amen.

Introit. Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net; look thou upon me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate and in misery.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Merbecke

Gradual. Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand: let the heathen be judged in thy sight. While mine enemies are driven back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

Tract. Unto thee lift I up mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heavens. Be-hold even as the eyes of servants: look unto the hands of their masters. And as the eyes of a maiden: unto the hand of her mistress. Even so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God: until he have mercy upon us. Have mercy upon us, O Lord: have mercy upon us.

Sequence Hymn 235 "O Love that casts out fear" Smart

Credo - - - - - Merbecke

Offertory. The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart: sweeter also than honey in the honeycomb; moreover by them is thy servant taught.

Hymn 497 "Come, labour on!" Noble

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Merbecke

Hymn 336 "Bread of the world, in mercy broken" Hodges

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Andante Sostenuto (Agnus Dei) - Saint-Saens

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 114, 115 - - - Tonus Peregrinus

Magnificat Tone IV } with alternate verses in faux bourdon
Nunc Dimittis Tone III } by Geoffrey Shaw.

Hymn 128 "Christian, seek not yet repose" Monk

Anthem (from Stabat Mater) - - - Dvorak

At thy feet in adoration,
See, dear Lord, I lie,
Wrapt in earnest contemplation
Of the Cross where thou didst die.

There, where all our sins thou bearest
On that bitter Tree,
In compassion fullest, rarest,
For this dark world's misery.

Lord, accept my deep devotion;
Fix my heart on thee,
Fill my soul with love's emotion,
Till at last thy face I see.

Cross of Love, and Tree of Glory!
Rings the whole world with thy story,
The story of Calvary.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale Prelude, "O World, I e'en must leave thee" Brahms

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

There will be a Corporate Communion of the Mothers' Union on the Feast of the Annunciation, Tuesday, March 25th, at 7.00 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Altar Society will be made on the Feast of the Annunciation, Tuesday, March 25th, at 7.45 A. M.

Following books for Lent reading may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street:

The Eucharistic Sacrifice, by Darwell Stone.
Our Communion, by T. H. Passmore.
The Life of Prayer, by Baron VonHugel.
The New and Living Way, by T. H. Passmore.
Saints and Leaders, by H. F. B. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion, by H. F. B. Mackay.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Holy Eucharist: The Christian Offering."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In today's Gospel Our Lord points out to us the example of His Blessed Mother. She heard the word of God and kept it. "She kept all these things and pondered them in her heart" always. So she was never dismayed. She always knew. She never faltered. She could be meek and magnified. She could rejoice and be the Mother of Sorrows. She could be handmaiden and queen. For she heard the word of God and kept it. It is for Christians to follow her example.

The word of God is spoken to each one of us. If we listen we may hear it. If we keep it, we shall be blessed. Purity of heart is necessary for hearing. Quietness of mind is necessary for receiving. Integrity of will is necessary for keeping.

By purity of heart is meant the exclusion of all affections which would alienate the heart from God.

By quietness of mind is meant the disregard of all suggestions that would distract the mind from God.

By integrity of will is meant the rejection of all intentions which would divert the will from God.

This three-fold adjustment of heart and mind and will is the objective of all Sacramental and prayer life. Religion means a right relation. The purpose of all religious practises is to attain this right relationship with God.

The Sacramental life establishes and preserves the relationship.

The prayer life exercises the functions of this relationship.

By means of the Sacraments we are regenerated, confirmed, released and renewed. We are established in communion with God. We are equipped with the spiritual faculties which make spiritual discernment of spiritual things possible. We are saved from the perils of self-deception. We are given minds that are stayed in God. We are saved from the dangers of the false peace which is within our understanding. We are given the peace of God which passes our understanding. We are delivered from the deceptive consolations which are rooted in the senses. We are given the joy and peace which are fruits of the spirit.

Experimental prayer life without the Sacramental foundation has always proved unsatisfactory. The neglect or abandonment of the Sacramental life has always led into quietistic heresies and false mysticism.

There is a revived interest in mysticism today. There are many popular books on the subject. There is much of ill-considered rushing in where angels fear to tread. The kind of mystic who is ignorant of the age-long experience of the Catholic Church, or who is hostile to the system under which Catholic saints have been produced, can never be a safe guide for Christians.

There is but one way. That way is the way of the Catholic saints. It is the way of the common life. Those who would set out on that way must first become as little children. They must ask nothing, desire nothing, expect nothing. They must be content with the common way. They must yield themselves, their souls and their bodies, to God in the Sacraments. They must have but one desire, and that desire is to do the will of God, to accept the will of God, to find peace in the will of God. They must study to be quiet. They must learn to be still.

Then will come the silence. In that silence the still, small voice will be heard.

There will be no startling revelations. There will be a sweetly ordered life.

There will be no spectacular events. There will be consolations, desolations, silences, waitings. No waiting will be in vain. All things will work together for good. All will be well in the end. The blessing for the hearing and waiting will come.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 26

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 30, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, 12.10 daily. Stations, Wednesday, 8.00 P. M.
Processional Litany, Fridays, 5.00 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 317 "The Lord my pasture shall prepare" Carey's Tune
Prelude by Charles Wood

Introit. Rejoice ye with Jerusalem; and be ye glad for her, all ye that delight in her: exult and sing for joy with her, all ye that in sadness mourn for her; that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations.

Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Merbecke

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Tract. They that put their trust in the Lord, shall be even as the mount Syon: which may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. The hills stand about Jerusalem: even so standeth the Lord round about his people; from this time forth for evermore.

Sequence Hymn 224 "In Heavenly Love Abiding" Bentley

Credo - - - - - Foster in C

Offertory. O praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious; O sing praises unto his Name, for it is lovely: whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven and in earth.

Hymn 326 "The King of Love my Shepherd is" Dominus Regit Me

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Foster in C

Ave Verum - - - - - Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate
Of the Virgin Mary born;
On the Cross Thy sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from Thy pierced side.
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now, and in death's agony.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Preludes on "Our Father who art in heaven"
by Bach and Pachelbel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 147, 148, 149, 150 Tones VIII-1, VII-2, VI, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Tours in F

Hymn (English Hymnal 93) - - - University

The God of Love my Shepherd is,
And he that doth me feed;
While he is mine and I am his,
What can I want or need?

Or if I stray, he doth convert,
And bring my mind in frame,
And all this not for my desert,
But for his holy Name.

He leads me to the tender grass,
Where I both feed and rest;
Then to the streams that gently pass:
In both I have the best.

Yea, in death's shady black abode
Well may I walk, not fear;
For thou art with me, and thy rod
To guard, thy staff to bear.

Surely thy sweet and wondrous love
Shall measure all my days;
And as it never shall remove
So neither shall my praise. Amen.

Anthem - - - - - Attwood

Turn thy face from my sins, and put out all my misdeeds; make me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Prelude on University tune - - - Harvey Grace

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Thursday, April 3rd, 1930, at 7.45 A.M.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, April 3rd, 1930, at 3 P. M. Speaker: Rev. Shirley C. Hughson, O. H. C.

A set of vestments is needed for Alaska. The vestments may be procured for $120.00. Contributions, however small, may be sent to the Parochial Secretary, Mrs. E. H. Wiegand, 1625 Locust Street.

Father Anderson, O. H. C., Pryor of St. Andrew's, writes most appreciatively of the books sent by the Parish. He states: "I can never be able to express the gratitude I feel to all."

Father Williams, S. S. J. E., will make an address on Evangelism in the Parish House of the Church of the Holy Trinity, on March 31st, at 8 P. M. Bishop Taitt will preside. A cordial welcome is extended to all who can attend.

During the last ten days I have had an unusual number of applicants for food and shelter. Through an arrangement with the Gallilee Mission, men applying for aid have received tickets of admission at our charge. I am therefore in need of contributions to the Discretionary Fund. Checks may be sent to the Parochial Secretary, designated "Rector's Discretionary Fund."

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "Repentance."

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1930.
MID-LENT

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Offices of Instruction set forth in the Book of Common Prayer provide excellent religious instruction for daily reading. It would be a profitable rule to read one question and answer each day. The result would be a definite knowledge of what the Church teaches.

There is abundant opportunity to learn, if one cares to, what many men of diverse minds think about religion. Pulpits, platforms, books, magazines, newspapers, radio, stage and screen arrange for all that.

The tolerance of indifference is the prevailing temper of the day. Now and then there is a sporadic outburst of spectacular but unconvincing atheism.

When each claimant for public attention has had his day and his say, the great mass of people turn away, wondering what it is all about. If here and there a man appears to be violently excited because he is convinced that he has no soul, no one seems to share in his excitement. The general impression is that when a man reaches a point when he thinks he has no soul, he has something to be excited about. When a man seems to be making frantic efforts to attract attention to the fact that he has no religion or no morals, the general impression is that he is wasting his efforts. The fact will make itself evident in other ways.

It is a sub-normal state of mind that leads a man to forget his soul. It is an abnormal state of mind that leads a man to abandon his religion.

In every department of knowledge the normal person seeks out the accredited centres where reliable information may be obtained from competent instructors. There are dependable institutions of learning in which one may study philosophy or science or letters or art.

The Church is the accredited institution for religious instruction. There one expects to find the canon of truth, the rule of faith. We go to the Church to learn what the Church teaches. Our reason for going to the Church is that we believe that the Church is One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic. If a man does not believe that, he has no reason for turning to the Church.

We used to hear the cry "back to Christ." Time has proved that people must get "back to the Church" before they can get "back to Christ." The farther people have got from the Church, the farther they have got from Christ. If you do not believe me, remember the "popular lives" of Him.

The next movement will be "back to the Church." Spiritual unrest, the disasters following the abandonment of traditional moral standards, the shadows of the horrors of religious persecutions are having their effects. Worshippers of God, the world over, are drawn to organized, common intercession. The potentialities of unity are exercising suggestive influences. Zeal for the sight of the Church, with schisms healed, and heresies banished from separated communities, has begun to fire the imagination of religious people. Soon all this will become articulate. Soon the cry "back to the Church" will be heard. That cry will be heard around the world. No human power will be able to resist that movement, once it gets under way. Back in the Church, Christians will find Christ their King.

We who are in the Church will do our part best by being ready to give a reason for the faith that is in us. That we can only do by knowing the faith which the Church teaches.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Passion Sunday

April 6, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, 12.10 daily. Stations, Wednesday, 8.00 P. M.
Processional Litany, Fridays, 5.00 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 338 (Part I) "Now, my tongue, the mystery telling"
Pange Lingua

Introit. Give sentence with me, O God, and defend the cause of my soul against the ungodly people: deliver me, and rid me from the wicked and deceitful man; for thou, O Lord, art my God, and my strong salvation.

Ps. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me: and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

Kyrie . . . Missa Penitentialis

Gradual. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee. It is the Lord that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth me up above mine adversaries: thou shalt deliver me from the wicked man.

Tract. Many a time have they fought against me: from my youth up. May Israel now say: yea, many a time have they vexed me from my youth up. But they have not prevailed against me: the plowers ploughed upon my back. And made long furrows: but the righteous Lord hath hewn the snares of the ungodly in pieces.

Sequence Hymn 154 "When I survey the wondrous cross"
Rockingham

Credo . . . Missa Penitentialis

Offertory. I will give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart: O do well unto thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word; quicken thou me, according to thy word, O Lord.

Hymn 157 "Sweet the moments, rich in blessing" Moravian Melody

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei . . . Missa Penitentialis

Hymn 338 (Part II) "Therefore we, before Him bending"
Pange Lingua

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Toccata Prelude on "Pange Lingua." - Bairstow

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 32, 33, 34 . . . Tones I-8, III-5, VII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tonus Peregrinus
with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 151 "Go to dark Gethsemane" Petra

Anthem from "Stabat Mater" - Dvorak

By Thy glorious Death and Passion,
Saving me in wondrous fashion,
Saviour, turn my heart to Thee.

Thou, O Christ, art my salvation,
Hear and heed my invocation,
Let thy mercy light on me.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale-Prelude "O Sacred Head" - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "Confirmation."

Following books for Lent reading may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street:

The Eucharistic Sacrifice, by Darwell Stone.
Our Communion, by T. H. Passmore.
The Life of Prayer, by Baron VonHugel.
The New and Living Way, by T. H. Passmore.
Saints and Leaders, by H. F. B. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion, by H. F. B. Mackay.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The pain-smitten question of Passiontide is "why do ye not believe me?" This was Our Lord's real pain. The pain of body He shared with us gladly. The sorrow which was His was the sorrow of rejection. He had come into the world, and the world had not known Him. He had come unto His own, and His own had not received Him. He had spoken as no other had ever spoken and they would not hear Him. He had told them the truth, and they would not believe Him. "Why?"

He answers that question Himself. "Ye hear them not, because ye are not of God." That was the truth spoken in the love of the Passion.

Each age must be redeemed. Human nature is the same in every age. The world today is what it was in the day that Our Lord first asked "why do ye not believe?" Some will hear. Some will not. Some will believe. Some will doubt. Each Passiontide presents the question—"why?" The Cross brings that test. It cannot be long evaded. Each man must make his own decision. Back of that decision is the fact which determines it. A man must either be of God or not of God. This is the foundation upon which the whole super-structure of faith is built. A man must love God with all his heart; with all his mind; with all his soul; and with all his strength. From this basic love he will go on to worship Him; to give Him thanks; to put his whole trust in Him; to call upon Him; to honor His Holy Name and His Word. This is what Godliness means. The Godly man is the man who loves God. Only the man who loves God can know Him. Love comes before knowledge. This is true in all personal relationships. The child loves the parents first and grows in knowledge of them as he grows in love toward them. The better he loves them, the better he knows them. This human love is the instinct of relationship.

So it is with the love of God. It is the consciousness of relationship. God gives both the relationship and the love. The deepening of the one and the development of the other lies with man. If he deepens his relationship and develops his love, he will grow in his knowledge of God, and he will grow more and more acutely sensitive to hear the words of God. If he neglects the one and rejects the other, he will lose his spiritual sense of hearing. He will become spiritually deaf. He will cease to hear God because he will have ceased to be of God. He who is not God's man, cannot hear God's words.

The whole world needs to be told why men cannot hear God's words. And it needs to be told how men may hear them. They have been told why. But they forget. They need to be reminded. Passiontide is the yearly reminder.

It comes as a shock. But it is a salutary shock. So many men are under the impression that the reason why they do not hear the words of God is that they have outgrown the words of God. They are under the impression that they have arrived at an intellectual altitude at which their own words are more weighty than the words of God. The applause of a world, itself alienated from God, confirms them in their belief in their own infallibility.

The church lifts up the Cross before these men with finality. She echoes the words of Her Lord. "Ye are not of God."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 28

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

April 13, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, 12.10 daily.

Stations, Wednesday, 8.00 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns { 143 "All Glory, Laud and Honour" St. Theodolph
in Procession { 145 "Ride on! ride on in majesty" Winchester

Introit. O Lord, remove not thy succour afar from me; have respect to my defence, and hear me: deliver me from the mouth of the lion: yea, from the horns of the unicorns hast thou regarded my cry.

Ps. My God, my God, look upon me; why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health, and from the words of my complaint.

Kyrie . . . Willan in E flat

Gradual. Thou hast holden me by my right hand: thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and after that receive me with glory. Truly God is loving unto Israel: even unto such as are of a clean heart. Nevertheless, my feet were almost gone: my treadings had well nigh slipt. And why, I was grieved at the wicked: I do also see the ungodly in such prosperity.

Tract. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? And art so far from my health: and from the words of my complaint? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season also I take no rest. And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel. Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliver them. They called upon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded. But as for me, I am a worm, and no man: a very scorn of men: and the outcast of the people. All they that see me laugh me to scorn; they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying: He trusted in God, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, if he will have him. They stand staring and looking upon me: they part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. Save me from the lion's mouth: thou hast heard me also from among the horns of the unicorns. O praise the Lord, ye that fear him; magnify him, all ye of the seed of Jacob. They shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation: they shall come, and the heavens shall declare his righteousness. Unto a people that shall be born; whom the Lord hath made.

Sequence Hymn 162 "Glory be to Jesus" Filite

Credo . . . Willan in E flat

Offertory. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness: I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man: neither found I any to comfort me; they gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they gave me vinegar to drink.

Hymn 158

"O Sacred Head surrounded"

Passion Chorale

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Willan in E flat

Ave Verum

Healey Willan

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him; all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude "O Man thy grievous sin bemoan" Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 69, 70

Tones II-1, IV-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus
with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 144 "The Royal Banners forward go"

Vexilla Regis

Anthem

J. S. Bach

Rest here in peace, Redeemer blest and holy, Henceforth no more will I bewail Thee. Rest here in peace, and lead Thou me to peace; the grave will not forever close me in; but when God my Redeemer calls, then haste I forth, then haste I glorified the God of Heaven to meet.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—"As Jesus stood beside the Cross"

Samuel Scheidt

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

On Easter Even the hours for Confession will be 2 to 3.30 and 8 to 9.30.

Father Blake will preach a course of sermons on Confirmation each Sunday afternoon at Evensong. The subject for today will be "The Christian Rule of Life."

Following books for Lent reading may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street:

The Eucharistic Sacrifice, by Darwell Stone.
Our Communion, by T. H. Passmore.
The Life of Prayer, by Baron VonHugel.
The New and Living Way, by T. H. Passmore.
Saints and Leaders, by H. F. B. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion, by H. F. B. Mackay.

The Rector's Good Friday Addresses for 1929 are published in book form under the title of "Crucified." The book is on sale at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

On Sunday afternoons immediately after Evensong the Rector will conduct the Office of Instruction as contained in the new Prayer Book. This Instruction is intended for all persons who desire church Instruction, whether they are to be Confirmed or not.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

PALM SUNDAY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Palm Sunday procession is a witness to an inescapable reality. However the passer-by may regard it, he cannot quite avoid it. He will meet that procession again and again as he follows his winding way through life. He will meet it just because his way is winding. For this Palm Sunday procession goes straight. It is the only one that does. It goes through things and not around them. It is the only one that can. The Central Figure in this procession overcomes what every one else tries to avoid. This is what it all amounts to for the passer-by. Even he has to face the realities of life sooner or later. After a while he will grow tired of trying to avoid disconcerting realities. He will not cast in his lot with this Palm procession, the realities will crush him. And that will be the end of his story.

What does this Palm procession mean? Where is it going? Who is this Person who is the centre of attraction? What is He doing? The only way to find the answers to these questions is to follow through the crowded events of this week. The following will not be an ordinary adventure. Strange and startling and terrible things will be happening. But here is the point. They will all be true to life. They will be so real that they will make everything else real, even the things that did not seem to matter. This procession leads one up to the realities which have to be faced. After that one is free to turn back or go on. But no one who has seen, really seen, will want to turn back.

The procession means that the Saviour of the world is on His way to offer Himself as a sacrifice for sin, and to be the Saviour of sinners.

The Saviour is on His way to be condemned and crucified by sinners.

He is God Incarnate. He is the Eternal Son of the Father who so loved the world that He gave Him for us men and for our salvation, to die for our sins and to rise again for our justification.

Now here is the point about the Palm procession. This is what it means so far as we are concerned.

Before the week is over it will halt in Gethsemane. In that Garden will be fought and won the victory which will lift suffering up into sacrifice.

Before the week is over it will halt on Calvary. On that Hill will be fought and won the victory that will take away sin.

There is no other way. Suffering voluntarily accepted and borne for the sake of some one else will change it into joy.

Self-sacrifice consummated in self-oblation will, in union with Our Lord's Sacrifice, deliver a soul from the power of sin, and set it free for a joyful and new life. For he who suffers with Our Lord, will reign with Him. And he who dies with Him, will rise with Him.

Mark the word "with." For we do not stand and watch this procession by. Where He goes we follow. We must identify ourselves with this procession and see it through to the end.

And what will the end be? The final and complete attainment of everything that makes life satisfying in time and eternity. The possession of hope and fulfilment hereafter. The palm is the symbol of victory through sacrifice. For he who bears the Cross will win the Crown.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 29

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Easter

April 20, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong, Sermon and Procession	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns { 168 "Hail, Festal Day" - Baden-Powell
in Procession { 172 "Jesus Christ is Risen today" Lyra Davidica

Introit. I am risen, and am still with thee, alleluia; thou hast laid thine hand upon me, alleluia; thy knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O Lord, thou hast searched me out and known me: thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Dvorak in D

Gradual. This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will be joyful and glad in it. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth forever.

Alleluia! Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us.

Sequence. Christians, to the Paschal Victim offer your thankful praises. A Lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless, reconcileth sinners to the Father. Death and Life have contended in that combat stupendous: The Prince of Life, who died, reigns immortal.

Speak, Mary, declaring what thou sawest wayfaring?

"The Tomb of Christ, who is living, the glory of Jesu's resurrection: Bright angels attesting, the shroud and napkin resting. Yea, Christ my hope is arisen; to Galilee he goes before you."

Christ indeed from death is risen; our new life obtaining.

Have mercy, victor King, ever-reigning. Amen. Alleluia.

Hymn 175 "Christ the Lord is Risen Today" Monkland

Credo - - - Dvorak in D

Offertory. The earth trembled and was still when God arose to judgment, Alleluia!

Hymn 173 "The strife is o'er, the battle done" Palestrina

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Dvorak in D

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Dvorak in D

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale in A minor - - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 113, 114, 118 - Tones V-2, Peregrinus 1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Smart in B flat

Hymn 172 "Jesus Christ is Risen today" Lyra Davidica

Anthem - Melody by Melchior Vulpinus, 1609, arranged by Henry G. Ley

The strife is o'er, the battle done;
Now is the Victor's Triumph won:
O let the song of praise be sung, Hallelujah.

Death's mightiest powers have done their worst,
And Jesus hath His foes dispersed,
Let shouts of praise and joy outburst, Hallelujah.

On the third morn He rose again,
Glorious in majesty to reign:
O let us swell the joyful strain, Hallelujah.

Lord, by the stripes which wounded Thee,
From death's dread sting Thy servants free,
That we may live and sing to Thee, Hallelujah.

Hymn in Procession 555 "O Sons and Daughters, let us Sing"
O Filii et Filiae

Solemn Te Deum - Vaughan-Williams in G

Devotions

Organ—Fantasia in G minor - - - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The offering today is divided equally between Parish and Missions.

There will be a 9.30 Mass on Easter Monday, Easter Tuesday and Thursday.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

EASTER DAY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Christ is risen. Alleluia! He is risen indeed. Alleluia! This is the traditional Easter salutation. The joy of Easter is joy in Our Lord's resurrection. Easter joy is joy in Our Lord. It is inseparable from Him. Christians rejoice because Christ is risen. Christians rejoice because in Christ shall all be made alive. In Christ. These are the sustaining words of Easter. In Christ. Our own resurrection is with Him. Our joy is that we are risen with Him. With Him. These are also the sustaining words of Easter. With Him.

In Him. With Him. He in us. We in Him. He with us. We with Him. Union with Our Lord is the secret of the joyful life after death, and it is the secret of the joyful life before death. In his Presence is the fulness of joy.

This union is not a state which can only be enjoyed by the saints. The saints have the greatest capacity for enjoying it. But we who are not saints have the capacity for enjoying within our own limitations. And we are called to be saints. As we grow in grace, our realization of our union with Our Lord deepens, and our joy increases. But all the while the union is a reality. Our Baptism made it that. For in Baptism we were made members of Christ.

Our Communions stablish and strengthen and settle that union. For by Communion He dwells in us, and we in Him.

Our life is hid with Christ in God, by virtue of our Baptism and our Communions. We are in Christ now. We are with Christ now.

The meaning of Christmas is that we have this union.

The meaning of Passion-tide is that Redemption saves this union.

The meaning of Easter is that the Resurrection perpetuates it.

The meaning of the mysteries of the Incarnate Life is that sin is conquered and death is vanquished and the union is preserved. That is the joy.

Our joy today is to be in Christ. The joy of the Saints is to be in Christ. The joy of the faithful departed is to be in Christ. The union of each is the Communion of all in the joy of being in Christ. For in Him shall all be made alive.

We who are in the flesh now are in the stage of probation. We are being proved and tried and tested. Our chief business is overcoming sin. Sin is our present enemy. So all our energies are concentrated in this particular conflict. But as we struggle we are in Him. It is in this union that we have strength. In His victory we shall share. He has conquered sin. He will conquer sin, in us, through us, for us, by us, with us. His Grace is sufficient.

The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. There will be no uncertainty about that. But just now we are engaged in the conquering of the first enemy, which is sin. What we want now is the first victory. When the time comes for the last victory we shall have no difficulty in passing through the doors of everlasting life. Our Risen Lord has opened wide the gates.

So Easter is the day of the union that cannot be broken. We live in union with Our Lord. We live in union with the saints. We live in union with those whose union with us has been God's gift to us in the human relationship which His Providence has ordered and His Blessing has made holy and happy. And we shall live forever and forever and forever. Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 30

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter

April 27, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 174 "Come, see the place where Jesus lay" Innsbruck

Introit. As new-born babes, alleluia; desire ye the sincere milk of the word; alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God, our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Parker in E

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. And after eight days, when the doors were shut: stood Jesus in the midst of his disciples, and said, Peace be unto you. Alleluia. The Angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. Alleluia.

Hymn 171 "The day of resurrection!" Rotterdam

Credo - - - Parker in E

Offertory. The earth trembled, and was still: when God arose to judgment, Alleluia!

Hymn 520 "Alleluia, Alleluia!" Lux Eoi

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Parker in E

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Parker in E

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Finale in E major - - - Bossi

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131
Tones I-2, II-1, III-5, IV-4, IV-6, VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Barnby in E

Hymn 278 "We praise Thy grace, O Saviour" St. Alphege

Anthem—150th Psalm - - Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O Praise ye the Lord, Praise God for His greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of His power. Praise ye Him for His mighty acts, Praise ye Him, according to His wondrous works.

Praise ye Him with the sound of the trumpet: Praise ye Him with the psaltery and harp. Praise ye Him with the timbrel, Praise ye Him with the dance, Praise ye Him with the organ and stringed instruments. Praise ye Him upon the loud cymbals. Praise ye Him upon the high sounding cymbals.

Let everything that hath breath Praise the Lord!

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Priere - - - Jongen

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Thursday, May 1st, 1930, at 7.45.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, May 1st, 1930, at 3 P. M.

There will be a Missionary meeting in the Academy of Music on Monday evening, May 5th, at eight-fifteen. The Missionary Bishops will outline the Church's program for advance work. Tickets can be procured at the office.

Books and contributions of money are always gratefully appreciated by the Church Periodical Club. The former may be sent to Miss A. L. Croasdill at the Parish House, and the latter by check payable to C. Newbold Taylor.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Forty Days of Joy upon which we are now entered are days of importance. The Forty Days of Penitence were important. But these would be without their Christian meaning if they were not followed by the Forty Days of Joy. Redemption is followed by Resurrection. The old life passes in order that the new life may begin. The former things pass away in order that all things may be made new. Being freed from the old life we are free to walk in newness of life. To walk is to progress. To walk in newness of life is to make progress in new things. This is the lesson of the Forty Days of Joy.

The obvious subjects for meditation in these days after Easter are the appearances of Our Lord. We follow them in the Easter Gospels. We should read the records of the appearances over and over again, saying the Lord's Prayer before, and the Easter Collect, after reading.

Of all the appearances it seems to me that the one that comes nearest to us is the appearance to the two disciples on the road to Emmaus. That road may be the street on which you live or the road that leads to your house, if you happen to live in the country. And the disciples were so human and so natural and so simple that they seem very approachable. One does not have to climb to reach them. They were just walking and communing together and reasoning. They were completely absorbed in their conversation. They were sad and wondering and not expecting anything. Certainly they were not expecting Our Lord. Because the chief priests and rulers had delivered Him to be condemned to death. He had been crucified too. Besides all this, that day was the third day since these things were done. And they had trusted! And nothing had happened!

Yet all the while as they walked and talked, Our Lord was walking and talking with them. Afterward they remembered that their hearts had burned within them while the unrecognized Person had talked with them by the way. But they did not sense that at the time. It was not until He had taken bread and blessed it and given it to them, that their eyes were opened and they knew Him. And then He vanished out of their sight. And after that they walked by faith. But their hearts were singing "The Lord is risen indeed." They could keep the remembrance too that He had been known to them in the breaking of the bread. That remembrance made all the difference in the world to them. After that they always walked with Him, wherever they went. They did not need to see Him with the eyes of the body. For they saw Him with the eyes of the soul.

All this happened a very, very long time ago. And all this is happening today on ever so many streets and roads and country lanes. This is the wonder of the Forty Days of Joy and all the days of common life which are not always days of joy.

But that makes no difference. The fact that nothing changes is that Our Lord walks with each disciple wherever their daily duties lead them. Their minds may be filled to overflowing with the affairs from which they may not escape. Whatever the affairs may be, Our Lord knows and cares and shares. Down underneath the sensed emotions is the joy that the world can neither give nor take away. For the Lord is risen! He is risen indeed.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 31

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter

Within the Octave of St. Mark

May 4, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in } 266 "Ye Watchers and ye Holy Ones" Vigili et Sancti
Procession } 278 "We praise Thy grace, O Saviour" St. Alphege

Introit. Thou has hidden me, O God, from the gathering together of the froward, alleluia: from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from the fear of the enemy. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Dvorak in D

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. Thou hast set, O Lord: a crown of pure gold upon his head. Alleluia. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful. Alleluia.

Hymn 288 "Come, pure hearts, in sweetest measures" Lauda Sion

Credo - - - - - Dvorak in D

Offertory. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him:
and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia, alleluia.

Hymn 267 (Stanzas 1, 9, 19, 20) "From all Thy Saints" Paeon

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Dvorak in D

Gloria in Excelsis - - - - - Dvorak in D

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral Song and Fugue - - - S. S. Wesley

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 22, 23 - - - - - Tones II-I, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Barnby in E

Hymn (English Hymnal 220) - - - Brockham

The Saint who first found grace to pen
The Life which was the life of men,
And shed abroad the Gospel's ray,
His fame we celebrate today.

O holy mind, for wisdom fit
Wherein that Life of lives stood writ,
May we through minds of like accord
Show forth the pattern of our Lord.

Lo, drawn by Pentecostal fire,
His heart conceived its great desire,
When pure of mind, inspired, he heard
And with his hand set forth the Word.

And so may all whose minds are dark
Be led to truth by good Saint Mark,
And after this our earthly strife
Stand written in the Book of Life.

Then, clearly writ, the Godhead shone
Serene and fair to look upon;
And through that record still comes power
To lighten souls in death's dark hour.

Praise God who made the world so fair,
And sent his Son our Saviour there,
And by his Holy Spirit wist
To teach the first Evangelist.

Anthem - - - - - S. S. Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to His abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

But as He which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Pass the time of your sojourning here in fear.

Love one another with a pure heart fervently, see that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the word of the Lord endureth for ever, for evermore, Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Adagio in E major - - - Saint-Saens

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Last Sunday I reminded you that, during these Forty Days of Joy, you will do well to meditate upon the appearances of Our Lord after His Resurrection. By doing this you will saturate your minds with thoughts of the disciples' joy in having their Lord with them, actually with them. This was what they were thinking about and talking about. The wonder of the Forty Days was the wonder of His Presence.

While they saw and wondered and rejoiced, they were bidden to wait for another wonder. A wonder which would make all the people in all the world glad. They were to wait for the Holy Ghost to lead them into the knowledge of the new wonder. Later on they were to learn that Our Lord would quite literally fulfill his promise to be with His disciples in His Church unto the end of the world. All this was to come a little later. And we shall be hearing about it at Pentecost. Today my point is that it is very much more important for us to learn to find the joy in Our Lord's Presence here and now in this life, in this world, than it is to meditate upon the joy of the life in the world to come. The best preparation for that is to learn to simply live with Our Lord here. Then we shall go on doing it quite simply hereafter.

Before we can learn to live simply with Our Lord here, there are three things that we must first thoroughly understand.

The first is that Our Lord lives in His Church.

The second is that Our Lord works through His Church.

The third is that He lives and works as the Good Shepherd of Souls.

He has explained all this. It ought to be clear enough for any one to understand. I think it is clear enough to any one who believes the three facts.

Our Lord is the Shepherd. The church is the sheep-fold. We are the sheep.

The shepherd calls his sheep into the sheep-fold to heal them, to feed them, and to protect them.

Our Lord calls us into His Church to heal us, to feed us, and to protect us. He Himself is there to do it.

He does it through His Sacraments of Baptism, Penance, Communion and Unction.

He administers these Sacraments to us by the hands of under-shepherds, called priests. They are only agents whose business it is to administer supernatural gifts infinitely beyond their own human power. They are only under-shepherds. Our Lord is the Chief Shepherd.

The religious experience of Christians in the Christian Church is the experience of being shepherded by the Chief Shepherd. They must see Jesus. And they must see no man save Jesus only.

The under-shepherds may not exalt themselves lest they bar the way of the sheep to the Chief Shepherd. They may not neglect their one business of transmitting the gifts of the Chief Shepherd to the sheep. The Lord has anointed them to preach good tidings unto the meek. He has sent them to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. Parish priests are primarily pastors. In all their work they reveal their Chief Pastor.

In their parish churches they guard the fold and exalt the Good Shepherd. At the Font they take care of the lambs.

In the Confessional they liberate the captives.

At the Altar they feed the sheep.

In their unceasing pastoral visits they exercise the ministry of the Good Shepherd who follows His sheep wherever they may be.

In the last Sacraments of Penance, Communion and Unction, they lead their sheep to the threshold of the Eternal Fold, from which they will never pass out.

From first to last and all the way, the Good Shepherd is the Central Figure, who is never lost sight of.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

No. 32

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

May 11, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn

Melody by Melchoir Vulpius, 1609 set by Henry G. Ley

The strife is o'er, the battle done;
Now is the Victor's Triumph won:
O let the song of praise be sung,
Hallelujah!

On the third morn He rose again,
Glorious in majesty to reign:
O let us swell the joyful strain,
Hallelujah!

Death's mightiest powers have done their worst,
And Jesus hath His foes dispersed,
Let shouts of praise and joy outburst.
Hallelujah!

Lord, by the stripes which wounded
Thee,
From death's dread sting Thy servants
free,
That we may live and sing to Thee,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, alleluia; sing praises unto the honour of his Name, alleluia: make his praise to be exceeding glorious, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works, O Lord: through the greatness of thy power. Glory be.

Kyrie

Noble in G minor

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see me, saith the Lord Jesus: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man taketh from you. Alleluia.

Hymn 259 "Praise to the Holiest in the height"

Gerontius

Credo

Noble in G minor

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul: while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Hymn 339 "Let all mortal flesh keep silence"

Picardy

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Noble in G minor

Gloria in Excelsis

Noble in G minor

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude on the Tune "Picardy"

Noble

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 59, 60, 61

Tones IV-7, VI, VIII.1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Harwood in A flat

Hymn 180

"Forty days of Eastertide"

Newington

Anthem

Stainer

They have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him. Woman, why weepest thou? Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him. Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? Sir, if thou have borne Him hence, Tell me where thou hast laid Him? Mary! Master!

O Death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Hallelujah. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mecklin Melody

Organ—Kyrie Eleison

Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The characteristic of Christian joy is that it is centred in, and proceeds from, the Person of Our Lord. It is joy in a Person. It is joy from a Person. The joy is inseparable from the Person. It is joy in the abiding Presence of that Person. The abiding Presence is the wonder of that joy. It is a joy no man can take from the Christian, because no man can take away the Person.

The enemies of Our Lord tried to do that when they crucified Him. But on the third day He rose again.

They tried to take Him away when they introduced heresies which centred attacks on His Person. But the Catholic Church enshrined the truth concerning Him in unalterable and imperishable Creeds.

They tried to take Him away when heresies were introduced which centred upon His Eucharistic Presence. But the Catholic Church preserved Eucharistic truth and perpetuated Eucharistic devotion in an inviolable Sacramental System which exalts the Presence of Our Lord in the august solemnities of the Eucharistic Sacrifice. No man has, no man ever can, banish the Eucharistic Presence from the world. So the joy remains. In the Presence is the fulness of joy.

The enemies of Our Lord never relax their efforts. They try today to overthrow the faith and to undermine the morals and to suppress the devotions of Christians. But the victory remains with Christians. They continue to be of good cheer. They have with them the Lord who has overcome the world.

It is the Presence of Our Lord in the Church which explains the simple confidence with which she exercises Divine authority. It is because people have never understood that Our Lord really dwells in and works through His Church that they are timorous and apologetic, and very often quite antagonistic to affirmations concerning the Church, which seem to them to tend toward an undue exaltation of the Church. Of course, if a person really believes in the absence of Our Lord, he is quite logical in entertaining a low estimation of the Church. If the Church were only a human society which is making the endeavour to follow the precepts of a Person who left this world nearly two thousand years ago, it could not be other than fallible and feeble. It would be no wiser and stronger than its human constituents. It is a low conception of Our Lord's provision for man's spiritual needs which accounts for a low conception of the powers of His Church.

But if and when it is understood that the abiding Presence of Our Lord in His Church is a fact, then the height of the Church reaches to Heaven. For the Church is the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth. The Church is a Divine Organism with a human mission. She is the reservoir of Grace and the repository of truth. Grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. From Him and through His Church they come to us. So there is joy in the Church. There are no sorrows of earth which are not healed in the Church.

When the Real Presence of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament is perceived, the Christian finds the joy that no man can take away. The Christian finds the life that is hid with Christ in God. Christ in him is his hope of glory. Wherever he lives, he lives with Our Lord. Whatever he endures, he endures with Our Lord. Neither life nor death separate him from Our Lord. So his heart rejoices always.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 33

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter

May 18, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 176 "Jesus lives!" St. Albinus

Introit. O sing unto the Lord a new song, alleluia; for the Lord hath done marvellous things, alleluia: in the sight of the nations hath he shewed his righteous judgments, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. With his own right hand, and with his holy arm: hath he gotten himself the victory. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - Noble in G minor

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. I go to him that sent me: but because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your hearts Alleluia. I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go away. Alleluia.

Hymn 326 "The King of Love my Shepherd is" Dominus Regit Me

Credo - - - - Noble in G minor

Offertory. O be joyful in God all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what things he hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn 556 "Joy dawned again on Easterday" Puer Nobis

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Noble in G minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Noble in G minor

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in E flat (St. Anne) - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 93, 94 - - - Tones V-3, IV-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Harwood in A flat

Hymn 472 "Triumphant Sion, lift thy head" Wareham

Anthem - - - - Elgar

Doubt not thy Father's care,
For every grief He finds relief,
And answers every prayer.
Night comes: the sun is lost;
Night comes: He doth provide
In the heavens wide
The gleam of a starry host.
Night comes: the soul is dark;
All joy is dead, All gladness fled,
And life has missed its mark.
Then Thou, the wounded soul,
In that sad hour, With healing power,
Dost touch, and makest whole.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Prelude on "Rhosymedre" - Vaughan-Williams

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

During the Forty Days of Eastertide, the Disciples had the supreme satisfaction of seeing Our Lord, with their bodily eyes, and of hearing His voice with their bodily ears. But it was only for forty days. And it was only for them. Our Lord had told them that they would not always have this particular satisfaction. He had told them that He would go His way to Him that sent Him. This had made them very sorrowful. Our Lord knew how they were feeling. He went on to explain that it was expedient for them that He should go away. He said that if He did not go, the Comforter would not come. He promised that if He went He would send the Comforter. The Comforter, He explained, would be the Spirit of truth who would guide them into all truth. From the Holy Ghost they would learn the whole truth, only a part of which they had learned in the midst of the first glad surprise of the Resurrection. The Holy Ghost would give to them the sense of the Presence of their Lord and Master. He would give to them the sense of union with Him, so that they would go on in a perfectly satisfying discipleship. They had enjoyed the bodily sight of Him. They would go on in the enjoyment of a much fuller Communion with Him. It would be for all the disciples who would come after them to enjoy this conscious discipleship in its full Communion.

They had been blessed with the special privilege of bodily vision. It had been made very easy for them. For those who would never see Him as they had seen Him, for those whom the Spirit of truth would lead into the new vision of Him, there would be reserved a special blessing. This special blessing would be the reward of faith. The joy of the disciples, during the Forty Days of Eastertide, had been a sensible joy. It had been a joy produced by their sense of sight and hearing and touch. They were to be led to something beyond sensible joy. They were to know the meaning of spiritual joy, which is quite above and independent of sensible joy.

After the Holy Ghost came, they were given this spiritual joy. They rose above mere sensible joy. On this higher plane Christians have lived ever since.

Each year in mid-Eastertide we need to be reminded of this. And we need to remember it all through the year. We are human and we cannot help longing for the sight of Our Lord and the sound of His voice. We cannot help wishing for sensible contact with Him. We are so dull spiritually. We would like to see, and we can't. We would like to hear, and we can't. There is so much waiting. It is the waiting that we mind most of all.

It is just at this point that we escape from the senses. The Holy Ghost comes to our help. He guards our union, deep down below the senses. He prays for the things we cannot pray for. He gives the peace which passes understanding. We in this our own Easter have a blessing all our own.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday after Easter

Rogation Sunday

May 25, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 337 "Thou, Who at Thy first Eucharist didst pray"
Sacramentum Unitatis

Introit. With a voice of singing declare ye this, and let it be heard, alleluia :
utter it even unto the ends of the earth ; the Lord hath delivered his people, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Lovelock in A minor

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my Name: ask, and ye shall receive. Alleluia. Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion over him. Alleluia.

Hymn 431 "Lord, while for all mankind we pray" Dunfermline
Credo - - - Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. O praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: who holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip.
Praised be God, who hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercy from me, alleluia.

Hymn 183 "Lord, in Thy Name Thy servants plead" Westminster

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lovelock in A minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Lovelock in A minor

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Allegro (Sonata VII) - Rheinberger

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 73-104 - - Tones I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in B flat

Hymn 181 "O Jesus, crowned with all renown" Barnby

Anthem - - - Maurice Greene

Thou visitest the earth and blessest it;
Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness.

Now thank we all our God, Johann Cruger
With heart, and hands, and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In Whom His world rejoices;
Who from our mother's arms
Hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours today. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in E minor - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

On Ascension Day, Thursday, May 29th, in addition to the Masses for Communion at 7 and 7.45, there will be a High Mass at 9.30

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are Rogation Days.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1930.

ROGATION SUNDAY.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

We are waiting today for the observance of the Ascension of Our Lord. Next Thursday will be Ascension Day. On this day the Son of God returned from war. He returned as Victor. He has overcome sin and death. By His death He has destroyed death. By His rising to life again He has restored to us everlasting life.

As we celebrate Christmas Day as Earth's greatest day, so we celebrate Ascension Day as Heaven's greatest day. On Christmas Day the multitude of the Heavenly host accompanied Our Lord to our frontiers. On Ascension Day a multitude of the earthly host should accompany Him to Heaven's frontiers. Of all times, Ascension Day is the time to return thanks for God's perfect gift. Of all places, the Church is the place to do it. The way to do it is to be present at the offering of the Sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving, for the Father's gift of His only Son Jesus Christ, and receiving the most precious Body and Blood, and being made one body with Him, to ascend in heart and mind and with Him continually to dwell.

It is such a simple, salutary and satisfying experience to follow the Christian Year through. It is such a futile experience to follow it in a fragmentary way. Why not begin with the shepherds, worshipping Our Lord in the manger, and end with the disciples, worshipping Him as He is carried up into Heaven?

Christmas Day has been commercialized. Easter Day has been socialized. Ascension Day has been ostracized. But devout Christians need not, and must not, be affected by that. Devout Christians are not to be conformed to this world. The Christian who follows the blessed steps of Our Lord's most holy life, from Bethlehem on to Nazareth and Jerusalem, would not miss the wonder and the glory of the Ascension for anything this world has to give.

You will hear a great deal this year of the Passion Play. People will cross continents and oceans to witness it. They will be captivated by the perfect dramatic art of it. The discerning will analyze its perfection into its elements of sincerity, simplicity and beauty. This much the student will perceive. But the innermost and underlying secret of it will baffle him until he has penetrated the innermost lives of the actors in the drama. These people learned the truth before they could give it dramatic interpretation. They began as children to live through the realities of it, before they were selected and permitted to render artistic expression of it. To them, intense as the play is, it is always and only a religious drama. The reality of the drama is rooted in the realities which lie back of it.

These realities are the realities of the sacramental and devotional life of the Catholic Church. They are the realities of Baptism and Confession and Communion and Mass and prayer and meditation. Without these the idea of the Passion Play would not have been conceived and could not have been offered as an act of religion.

Now my point is this. In your own parish Church you have the historic realities. In the actual events you have the living parts. It is you who adores the Manger, sorrows at the Cross, rejoices in the Garden and worships on the Mount of the Ascension. You are able to do this because, by virtue of your Sacramental Union with Our Lord, you dwell in Him and He in you.

This is why you must make your Communion on Ascension Day. Do you see?

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ♣ Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

June 1, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession 184 "Hail Festal Day" Baden-Powell

Introit. Consider, O Lord, and hear me when I cry unto thee, alleluia; unto thee my heart hath said, Thy face, Lord, have I sought; thy face, Lord, will I seek: O hide not thou thy face from thy servant, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. The Lord is my light, and my salvation: whom then shall I fear? Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Lovelock in A minor

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon his holy seat. Alleluia. I will not leave you comfortless: I go away and come again unto you, and your heart shall rejoice. Alleluia.

Hymn 188 "The head, that once was crowned with thorns" Jeremiah Clark

Credo - - - Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: as long as I have any being I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Hymn 193 "Alleluia! sing to Jesus" S. S. Wesley

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lovelock in A minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Lovelock in A minor

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude on Croft's 136th - Hubert Parry

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 6, 7, 8 - - Tones VIII-5, I-I, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Parker in E

Hymn 190 "Crown Him with many crowns" Diademata

Anthem - - - Handel

Lift up your heads, O ye gates! and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of Glory shall come in.

Who is the King of Glory?

The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.

Who is the King of Glory?

The Lord of Hosts; He is the King of Glory.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Andante (from Grand Piece Symphonique) Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE SUNDAY AFTER ASCENSION DAY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again I leave the world, and go to the Father." This is the word of Our Lord.

"So then the Lord Jesus, after He had spoken to them, was received up into Heaven." This is the witness of the New Testament.

"He ascended into Heaven." This is the witness of the Creed.

"Jesus Christ Our Lord, after His most glorious Resurrection, manifestly appeared to all His Apostles, and in their sight ascended up into Heaven." This is the record of the Liturgy.

"Christ did truly rise again from death, and took again His body, with flesh, bones, and all things appertaining to the perfection of man's nature; wherewith He ascended into Heaven, and there sitteth, until He return to judge all men at the last day." This is the witness of the Book of Common Prayer.

"For us men and for our salvation, He came down from Heaven." For us men and for our salvation, He ascended into Heaven. "He that descended is the same also that ascended far above all Heavens."

In Heaven Our Lord ever liveth to make intercession for us. He is our Heavenly High Priest. "We have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God." "We have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities." "Let us, therefore, come boldly unto the throne of grace."

As Our Lord ascends as our great High Priest, "He is able to save to the uttermost them that draw near unto God through Him." As our mediator He makes it possible for us to come boldly unto the throne of grace and to draw near unto God. As our Advocate He transacts our business of reconciliation. He pleads our case and obtains the verdict, by which we obtain eternal redemption by His Blood, even the Blood of the Cross. The heavenly oblation which Our Lord offers is the memorial of His death on the Cross.

On the Cross He offered, for our redemption, the one oblation of Himself, once offered, a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world. In Heaven, His appearing is the appearing of the Saving Victim of the Cross, the lamb sacrificed for our salvation, who hath taken away the sins of the world. The Sacrifice on Calvary lives on in Heaven.

The Eucharistic Sacrifice of the Body and Blood of Our Lord on the Altars of His Church on earth is one with the Sacrifice on the Cross. It is the perpetual memory of that, His most precious death and sacrifice. The Sacrifice on Calvary lives on in the Eucharistic Sacrifice. In the Eucharistic offering the priest prays "And we earnestly desire thy fatherly goodness, mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching thee to grant that, by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood we, and all thy whole Church may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of his passion. The priest at the Altar is the earthly minister of Him who is both Priest and Victim. He is the same yesterday, today and forever.

Therefore we say "Blessed, praised, hallowed and adored be Jesus Christ on His Throne of Glory, and in the most holy Sacrament of the Altar."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Whitsunday

June 8, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon		11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days		7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns { 195 "Hail! Festal Day!" - Luard-Selby
in Procession { 197 "Spirit of mercy, truth and love" Samuel Webbe

Introit. The Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world, alleluia: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him. Glory be.

Kyrie - (Messe de Paques) - Gounod in E flat

Alleluia. Alleluia, alleluia. O send forth thy Spirit, and they shall be made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. The Holy Spirit, proceeding from the throne, came down in unseen majesty; as on this day, upon the Twelve, purifying their most inmost hearts.

Sequence (Hymn 196) "Come, Thou Holy Spirit, come" Samuel Webbe

Credo - - - Gounod in E flat

Offertory. Stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in us: for thy temple's sake at Jerusalem, shall kings bring presents unto thee, alleluia.

Hymn 198 "Creator Spirit, by Whose aid" Thomas Attwood

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Gounod in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Gounod in E flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in D minor (The Dorian) - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 104 - - - Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Parker in E

Hymn 199 "Our Blest Redeemer" Dykes

Anthem - - - Steggall

God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran, His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of His praise.

He stood and measured the earth; he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; and the everlasting mountains were scattered, and the perpetual hills did bow.

His ways are everlasting,

Hallelujah! Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Cantabile - - - Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

There will be a third Mass at 9.30 on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

We celebrate today the Festival of the Holy Ghost. The day especially commemorates the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the Apostles, to dwell in the Church forever, according to the promise of Our Lord.

The Proper Preface at Mass declares that on this day, as "we give thanks unto thee, O Lord, Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God," we do so with special intention, "through Jesus Christ Our Lord; according to whose most true promise, the Holy Ghost came down as at this time from heaven, lighting upon the disciples, to teach them, and to lead them into all truth; giving them boldness with fervent zeal constantly to preach the Gospel unto all nations; whereby we have been brought out of darkness and error into the clear light and true knowledge of Thee, and of Thy Son Jesus Christ."

At Baptism, the Church prays for the persons to be Baptized, "Give thy Holy Spirit to this child (or this thy servant)."

At Confirmation the Church prays, "Almighty and Everlasting God, who has vouchsafed to regenerate these thy servants by water and the Holy Ghost, and hast given unto them forgiveness of all their sins; strengthen them, we beseech thee, O Lord, with the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, and daily increase in them thy manifold gifts of grace; the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true godliness; and fill them, O Lord, with the spirit of thy holy fear."

So the Christian receives both the indwelling of the Holy Ghost, and the bestowal of the Seven Gifts of the Holy Ghost, through the Sacraments of Baptism and Confirmation.

Saint Paul has written, "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?"

Saint Paul has also written that "the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance."

Saint Paul has also written, "likewise the spirit also helpeth our infirmities; for we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered."

So the Holy Ghost has brought to remembrance and led the church into all the truth contained in Our Lord's promise; "I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever; even the spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you."

Here then we have the facts for the headings of our special thanksgiving today. The Holy Ghost came down. He lives in the church to teach and lead us into all truth. We have received His indwelling Presence. We have received His seven-fold gifts. We have Him as our intercessor and comforter. He will produce in us the nine-fold fruits, which are His to give.

Personal devotion to the Holy Ghost can only come from personal knowledge of Him. Personal thankfulness to the Holy Ghost can only come from personal experience. Experience can only begin with the clear understanding that we cannot live without Him. "Every virtue we possess, and every victory won, and every thought of holiness, are His and His alone." It is from Him that we receive all holy desires, all good counsels. He alone can give the peace which the world cannot give. He alone can give us a right judgment in all things. He alone can cause us to rejoice in His holy comfort.

The first thing of all to do is to pray to Him constantly. We should make habitual use of the Collects for Pentecost and the nineteenth Sunday after Trinity, and the hymn, "Come Holy Ghost Our Souls Inspire." These should be daily prayers.

And the next thing is to remember that without Him it is impossible to please God. We must utterly abandon ourselves to Him, and trust Him implicitly and without reserve.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 37

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

June 15, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession

English melody, Tune 439

Eternal Light, Divinity,
O Unity in Trinity,
Thy holy name thy servants bless,
To thee we pray, and thee confess.

The Three are One Immensity,
The Three One highest Verity,
The Three One perfect Charity,
And they are man's Felicity.

We praise the Father, mighty One;
We praise the sole-begotten Son;
We praise the Holy Ghost above,
Who joins them in one bond of love.

O Verity! O Charity!
O Ending and Felicity!
In thee we hope, in thee believe,
Thyself we love, to thee we cleave.

For of the Father infinite
Begotten is the Light of light,
And from his love eternally
Proceeds the Spirit, God most high.

Thou First and Last, from whom there springs
The Fount of all created things,
Thou art the Life which moves the whole,
Sure Hope of each believing soul.

None can more high or holy be,
Co-equal is their Deity,
The substance of the Three is One,
And equal laud to them is done.

O Father, Source of God the Word,
O Word with him co-equal Lord,
O Spirit of like majesty,
O Triune God, all praise to thee. Amen.

Introit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the undivided Unity: we will praise and glorify him, because he hath shewed his mercy upon us.

Ps. Let us bless the Father and the Son: with the Holy Spirit. Glory be.

Kyrie - (Messe de Paques) - Gounod in E flat

Gradual. Blessed art thou, O Lord, which beholdest the great deep: and sittest upon the Cherubim. O bless the Lord of heaven: for he hath shewed mercy upon us.

Alleluia. Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and worthy to be praised for ever more.

Hymn 207 "Round the Lord in glory seated" Dykes

Credo - - - Gounod in E flat

Offertory. Blessed be God the Father, and the only begotten Son of God; and blessed be the Holy Spirit: for the mercy he hath done unto us.

Hymn 205 "Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty" Dykes

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Gounod in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Gounod in E flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Postlude in B minor

Vierne

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 93, 150 - - - Tones V-3, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Martin in G

Hymn 525 "I bind unto myself today" Ancient Irish Melody

Anthem - - - Spohr

Come up hither, and I will shew thee what shall be hereafter: And lo! a throne was set in heaven, and on the throne One stood! And a rainbow was round about the throne; and the Elders knelt before the throne, clad in white raiment, and on their heads were crowns of gold; and from the throne came thunders and lightnings, and voices, crying day and night, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts! God Almighty, who wast, and who art, and art to come!

Behold the Lamb that was slain!

Weep no more, Weep not! Behold He that died is risen, and hath conquered Death and Hell.

And the Elders fell down before the Lamb, with their harps, and golden urns burning odours, singing this song of praise,

All glory to the Lamb that died, exalted now at God's right hand, in blessing, in wisdom, in honour and praise, for ever.

—From the "Last Judgment."

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Eklog - - - Kramer

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Thursday, June 19th, is the Feast of Corpus Christi. There will be a High Mass at 9.30 A. M.

First Vespers of Corpus Christi will be said on Wednesday after Evensong. Second Vespers will be said on Corpus Christi after Evensong, followed by a business meeting of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament, in the Parish Parlor.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1930.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the Apostles' Creed we say: "I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth: And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord. I believe in the Holy Ghost."

In the Offices of Instruction, in answer to the question "What do you chiefly learn in these articles of your belief?" we answer: "First, I learn to believe in God the Father, who hath made me, and all the world. Secondly, in God the Son, who hath redeemed me, and all mankind. Thirdly, in God the Holy Ghost, who sanctifieth me, and all the people of God. And this Holy Trinity, One God. I praise and magnify, saying, Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen."

We know about God through living in the Church. We know God by living with God. The two ought to mean the same thing. We must take care that they do. Our life with God is lived in His Church. Sacraments, worship, prayer are all in God, with God, through God. Our social relations, our work, our recreations are all in God, with God, through God. Everything is bound up with God and is inseparable from God. It is by living with God in every department of life, that we cease to have compartments. We find the unity of life.

We must never live apart from God. No matter how irrelevant or inconsequential the matter which engages our attention may seem, it is to be lived with God. We must never divide our activities into what we would describe as religious and secular. If one does this, life becomes constrained and complicated. The charm of life with God is that it includes the whole of life. It includes worship and work and play. We do not have to stop doing what we do most of the time, to be religious for a part of the time. There are no breaks in the life with God, because it is all in right relationship. Religion is right relationship with God.

We live with God in the Sacramental life, and we know Him there. We live with God in worship, and we know Him there. We live with God in prayer, and we know Him there. We live with God in work, and we know Him there. We live with God in social relationships, and we know Him there. We live with God in our recreations, and we know Him there.

We can only know a person by living with that person. We can only know God by living with Him. Perhaps in actual experience the order of events in the prayer of Saint Richard of Chichester may sometimes be reversed. As we "follow Him more nearly, we love Him more dearly, and see Him more clearly."

The first great commandment is "thou shalt love the Lord thy God." The reward for that is to see Him. A saint has written: "He guides from the lower to the higher; from wandering to rest; from seeing Him through a glass darkly to seeing Him face to face."

We walk by faith not by sight, through our period of probation and purification. As we walk the dawn of illumination appears. All the while union deepens. Then when perfection is attained will come the Beatific Vision. Then we shall see Him as He is. Blest Trinity in Unity.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Trinity

Within the Octave of Corpus Christi

June 22, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal, 330)

Mechlin Melody

The Word of God, proceeding forth
Yet leaving not his Father's side,
And going to his work on earth,
Had reached at length life's eventide;

In birth, man's fellow-man was he,
His meat while sitting at the board;
He died, his ransom to be,
He reigns to be his great reward.

By false disciple to be given
To foemen for his blood athirst,
Himself the living Bread from heaven,
He gave to his disciples first.

O saving Victim! Opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press hard on every side.—
Thine aid supply, thy strength bestow.

In twofold form of sacrament
He gave his Flesh, he gave his Blood,
That man, of twofold substance blent,
Might wholly feed on mystic food.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end
In our true native land with thee.

Amen.

Introit. He fed them also with the finest wheat flour, alleluia: and with honey from the rock hath he satisfied them, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie

Missa Marialis

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand, and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed: he that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

Hymn 332 "Bread of heaven, on thee we feed"

Archbishop MacLagan

Credo

Healey Willan in D

Offertory. The priests of the Lord do offer the offerings of the Lord, made by fire and the bread of their God: therefore they shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the Name of their God, alleluia.

Hymn 333 "And now, O Father, mindful of the love"

William H. Monk

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Missa Marialis

Gloria in Excelsis

Healey Willan in D

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Andante Cantabile (Fourth Symphony)

Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 108, 109

Tones VIII-2, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Martin in G

Hymn 339

"Let all mortal flesh keep silence"

Picardy

Anthem

Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross Thy sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from Thy pierced side,
Feed us with Thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Toccata per l'Elevazione

Frescobaldi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Feast of S. Peter, Apostle

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 29, 1930

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 85 "The Son of God goes forth to war" St. Anne

Intrott. Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his Angel: and hath delivered me from the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

Ps. And when Peter was come to himself: he said, Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - Missa Marialis

Gradual. Thou shalt make them princes over all the earth: they shall have thy Name in remembrance, O Lord. Instead of thy fathers thou shalt have children: therefore shall the people give thanks unto thee.

Alleluia. Thou art Simon Bar-Jona, and to thee hath been revealed the word of the Father: not by flesh and blood, but by my Father which is in heaven.

Hymn 283 "Forsaken once, and thrice denied" Elmhurst

Credo - - - Healey Willan in D

Offertory. Thou shalt make them princes in all lands: they shall remember thy Name, O Lord, from one generation to another.

Hymn 267 (verses 1, 13, 19, 20) "From all thy Saints" Paeon

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa Marialis

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Healey Willan in D

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude on St. Anne - Tertius Noble

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 141, 142, 143 - - Tones VIII-4 VI, VII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Cruickshank in G

Hymn 301 "Give me the wings of faith" Southwell

Anthem Melody by N. Herman (1560); arranged by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the Throne, a glorious band,
The Saints in countless myriads stand,
Of every tongue redeemed of God,
Arrayed in garments washed in blood, Hallelujah!

Through tribulations great they came:
They bore the Cross, despised the shame:
From all their labours now they rest,
In God's eternal glory blest, Hallelujah!

They see their Saviour face to face,
And sing the triumphs of his grace:
Him day and night they ceaseless praise,
To him the loud thanksgiving raise: Hallelujah!

Worthy the Lamb, for sinners slain,
Through endless years to live and reign:
Thou hast redeemed us by thy Blood,
And made us kings and priests to God, Hallelujah!

O may we tread the sacred road
That Saints and holy Martyrs trod:
Wage to the end the glorious strife,
And win, like them, a crown of life, Hallelujah! Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale-Prelude "Deck thyself, my soul" - Brahms

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Services

July, 1930

Sundays

Low Mass	-	-	-	8.00 A. M.
Matins	-	-	-	10.30 A. M.
High Mass	-	-	-	11.00 A. M.
Evensong	-	-	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	-	-	7.00 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	-	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	-	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	-	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	-	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

JULY 6—THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

The Common of the Mass

Willan in D

Hymns 316, 232

Introit. Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, O Lord; for I am desolate, and in tribulation: look thou on mine affliction, and my travail; and forgive me all mine iniquities, O my God.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded. Glory be

Gradual. O cast thy burden upon the Lord: and he shall nourish thee. When I cried unto the Lord, he heard my voice: from the battle that was against me.

Alleluia. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour.

Offertory. They that know thy Name will put their trust in thee; for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee: O praise the Lord which dwelleth in Syon; for he forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

JULY 13—THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

The Common of the Mass

Willan in D

Hymns 223, 258

Introit. The Lord is my light, and my salvation, whom then shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life, of whom shall I be afraid? when mine enemies pressed sore against me, they stumbled and fell.

Ps. Though an host of men were laid against me: yet shall not my heart be afraid. Glory be.

Gradual. Be merciful, O Lord, unto our sins: wherefore do the heathen say, Where is now their God? Help us, O God of our salvation: and for the honour of thy Name, deliver us, O Lord.

Alleluia. The King shall rejoice in thy strength, O Lord: exceeding glad shall he be of thy salvation.

Offertory. Lighten mine eyes, that I sleep not in death; lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him.

JULY 20—THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

The Common of the Mass

Missa Marialis, Plainchant

Hymns 4, 465

Introit. Consider, O Lord, and hear me, when I cry unto thee: be thou my succour, O cast me not away, neither forsake me utterly, O God of my salvation.

Ps. The Lord is my light, and my salvation: whom then shall I fear? Glory be.

Gradual. Behold, O God, our defender: and look upon thy servants. O Lord God of Hosts: hear the prayers of thy servants.

Alleluia. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust, let me never be put to confusion: rid me and deliver me in thy righteousness, bow down thine ear to me, make haste to help me.

Offertory. I will bless the Lord, who have given me counsel; I have set God always before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

JULY 27—THE SIXTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

The Common of the Mass

Missa Marialis, Plainchant

Hymns 284, 541

Introit. The Lord is the strength of his people, and a stronghold of salvation to his Anointed One: O Lord, save thine people, and give thy blessing unto thine inheritance; O feed them also, and set them up forever.

Ps. Unto thee will I cry, O Lord; my God, be not silent unto me: lest, if thou make as though thou hearest not, I become like them that go down into the pit. Glory be.

Gradual. Turn thee again, O Lord, at the last: and be gracious unto thy servants. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another.

Alleluia. O deliver me from mine enemies, O God: defend me from them that rise up against me.

Offertory. O hold thou my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not; incline thine ear unto me, and hearken unto my words: show thy marvellous loving-kindness: thou that art the Saviour of them which put their trust in thee, O Lord.

Notices

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Leila's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Rector.

No. 1

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 4, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal, 242) —Rouen Church Melody

Christ, the fair glory of the holy Angels,
Thou who hast made us, thou who o'er us rulest,
Grant of thy mercy unto us thy servants
Steps up to heaven.

Send thy Archangel, Michael, to our succour;
Peacemaker blessed, may he banish from us
Striving and hatred, so that for the peaceful
All things may prosper.

Send thy Archangel, Gabriel, the mighty;
Herald of heaven, may he from us mortals
Spurn the old serpent, watching o'er the temples
Where thou art worshipped.

Send thy Archangel, Raphael, the restorer
Of the misguided ways of men who wander,
Who at thy bidding strengthens soul and body
With thine anointing.

May the blest Mother of our God and Saviour,
May the assembly of the Saints in glory,
May the celestial companies of Angels
Ever assist us.

Introit. Give peace, O Lord, to them that wait for thee, and let thy Prophets be found faithful: regard the prayers of thy servant, and of thy people Israel.

Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie ————— Parker in E

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Alleluia. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Alleluia.

Hymn 257 Sing, my soul, His wondrous love J. B. Dykes

Credo ————— Parker in E

Offertory. Moses consecrated an altar unto the Lord, offering burnt offerings upon it, and sacrificing peace offerings: and he made an evening sacrifice for a sweet-smelling savour unto the Lord God, in the sight of the children of Israel.

Hymn 289 Stars of the morning, so gloriously bright Henry Smart

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei ————— Parker in E

Gloria in Excelsis ————— Parker in E

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ Prelude and Fugue in A minor Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 22, 23 ————— Tones II-I, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis ————— Martin in G

Hymn 264 Ye holy angels bright John Darwall

Anthem ————— George C. Martin

Ho! every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

Incline your ear, and come unto me, hear, and your soul shall live.

Then ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the mountains and hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 ————— Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ Larghetto in F Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Rector's Discretionary Fund needs to be replenished. Two hundred dollars will bring it up to a normal balance on hand.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 2

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 11, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 46 Safely through another week Henry Smart

Introit. I am the saving health of my people, saith the Lord God: out of whatsoever tribulation they shall pray to me, I will surely help them, and I will be their God for ever and ever.

Ps. Hear my law, O my people: incline your ears unto the words of my mouth. Glory be.

Kyrie - - Healey Willan in E flat

Gradual. Let my prayers be set forth in thy sight: O Lord, as the incense: And let the lifting up of my hands: be an evening sacrifice.

Alleluia. They that put their trust in the Lord shall be even as the mount Syon: he who dwelleth in Jerusalem may not be removed, but standeth fast forever. Alleluia.

Hymn 38 Three in One, and One in Three Friedrich Filitz

Credo - - Willan in E flat

Offertory. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me, O Lord: thou shalt stretch forth thy right hand upon the furiousness of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Willan in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - Willan in E flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—I Cieli Immensi (Psalm XIX) - Marcello

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 59, 60, 61 - Tones IV-7, VI, VIII-I

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Martin in G

Hymn 25 All praise to Thee, my God, this night Tallis' Canon

Anthem (150th Psalm) - Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of his power. Praise ye him for his mighty acts, Praise ye him according to his wondrous works.

Praise ye him with the sound of the trumpet:

Praise ye him with the psaltery and harp.

Praise ye him with the timbrel,

Praise ye him with the dance,

Praise him with the organ and stringed instruments.

Praise ye him upon the loud cymbals,

Praise ye him upon the high-sounding cymbals.

Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord. Hallelujah!

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Prelude on Rhosymedre - Vaughan-Williams

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE NINETEENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the Collect for today we pray that the Holy Spirit may in all things direct and rule our hearts. In every prayer, we must always remember, we assume responsibility for preparing ourselves for God's answer. We must make ourselves receptive so far as it lies in our power. We must do our part in creating an atmosphere which may serve as a medium of transmission. We must put our whole selves into our prayer, our souls, our minds, our bodies, our thoughts, our desires and our wills. Back of every prayer there must be the development of a compelling need. We must mean what we say before we can say what we mean.

The beginning of the development of the particular need which lies back of this particular Collect is expressed in the opening clause. "Without Thee we are not able to please Thee" is not merely a devotional ejaculation, it is a statement of a discovery. The way to this discovery led through strange and startling and unforgettable experiences. It was only at the cost of many failures that we learned the short limits of our own strength and the instability of our natural resources. It is worth while if in the end the conviction is forced in upon us that without God everything is impossible. After that it is but a step to the discovery that with God all things are possible. The moment we discovered that we needed to be directed we found our way. The moment we discovered that we needed to be ruled we found our freedom.

The Holy Spirit requires for His operations a sensitive, responsive and obedient subject, if His motions to direct and rule are to be effective. The spiritual mechanism must be in working order if it is to be accurate and reliable. The keeping of this delicate instrument is committed to us. We can make it or mar it. We can develop it or wreck it. There need only be deliberate intention and a sustained effort and the thing is done. After all it is only normal for a spiritual being to be subject to the Holy Spirit. It is sub-normal to be dull. It is abnormal to be disobedient.

The process of attaining to spiritual normality works along these lines.

First, there comes the turning of the mind from self to God. This turning implies distrust of self and trust in God. It is called conversion.

Second, there comes a sorrow for the sins which have offended God, dimmed our vision and dulled our sensibilities. This is called contrition.

Third, there comes the fulfilment of contrition by confession, satisfaction and amendment.

Fourth, there comes the forgiveness which heals the breach and effects at-one-ment with God.

Fifth, there comes Communion whereby the whole being, soul, mind and body are brought into vital contact with God. Understanding, affections and will are energized by this contact with the current of Divine Life. The mind is stayed in God, and there is serenity. The heart is fixed in God, and there is stability. The will is united with God, and there is strength.

Sixth, there comes surrender whereby an oblation of self is consummated. This oblation goes down to the deepest and innermost recesses. All must be discovered and surrendered. Every instinct, appetite, desire, affection, emotion, inclination and impulse must be surrendered. Every thought, suggestion, imagination, memory and association must be surrendered.

Then at last comes the flood of light which makes the way plain. Then comes the inrush of the sense of freedom. Then comes the thrill of the possession of power. Then comes the peace of right adjustment. This is religion.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Rector's Discretionary Fund needs to be replenished. Two hundred dollars will bring it up to a normal balance on hand.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Feast of Saint Luke, Evangelist The Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

October 18, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal 175)

Aeterna Christi Munera

The eternal gifts of Christ the King,
The Apostles' glorious deeds, we sing;
And while due hymns of praise we pay,
Our thankful hearts cast grief away.

'Twas thus the yearning faith of Saints,
The unconquered hope that never faints,
The love of Christ that knows not shame,
The prince of this world overcame.

The Church in these her princes boasts,
These victor chiefs of warrior hosts;
The soldiers of the heavenly hall,
The lights that rose on earth for all.

In these the Father's glory shone;
In these the will of God the Son;
In these exults the Holy Ghost;
Through these rejoice the heavenly host.

Redeemer, hear us of thy love,
That, with this glorious band above,
Hereafter, of thine endless grace,
Thy servants also may have place. Amen.

Introit. Right dear, O God, are thy friends unto me, and held in highest honour; their rule and governance is exceeding stedfast.

Ps. O Lord, thou hast searched me out and known me: thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising. Glory be.

Kyrie

Schubert in G

Gradual. Their sound is gone out into all lands: and their words unto the ends of the world. The heavens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handiwork.

Alleluia. I have chosen you out of the world: that ye should go and bring fruit, and that your fruit should remain. Alleluia.

Hymn 288 Come, pure hearts, in sweetest measures Lauda Sion

Credo

Schubert in G

Offertory. Right dear are thy friends unto me, O God, and held in highest honour: their rule and governance is exceeding stedfast.

Hymn 292 What thanks and praise to Thee we owe Thomas Turton

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Schubert in G

Gloria in Excelsis

Schubert in G

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Marche Pontificale (Symphony I)

Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Tones V-3, IV-4

Psalms 93, 94

Stanford in C

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Hymn (English Hymnal, 175)

Aeterna Christi Munera

(Words on previous page)

Anthem

Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor: He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord; To give unto them that mourn a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness: That they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Solemn Melody in F

Walford-Davies

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 12 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

The following is a copy of a letter received by the Rector from the National Unemployment Relief Committee:

"THE PRESIDENT'S ORGANIZATION ON UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF."

Dear Sir:

October 1, 1931.

The President has created this organization to do everything possible to make sure that those who are unemployed during the coming winter may receive adequate relief.

Our work is based on the broad policy that unemployment relief can best be dealt with by each local community through a unified local organization or committee.

It is important that every force in each community should support local activities concerned in the raising of funds for unemployment relief, wisely administering relief and increasing opportunities for employment.

The Committee on Cooperation is charged with the duty of inviting all organizations to participate in the work, and looks to the churches, as one of the influential organizations, for assistance in inspiring the people to give the heartiest support to the movement in their own communities. May we not count on you to keep in touch with your community organization for unemployment relief, to keep your people informed as to its plans, and to urge them to lend all strength and influence to the end that distress from unemployment may be kept at a minimum?

Sincerely yours,

(Signed)

WALTER S. GIFFORD, Director

The President's Organization on Unemployment Relief.

(Signed)

ELIOT WADSWORTH, Chairman

Committee on Cooperation with National Groups and Associations.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

SAINT LUKE'S DAY.

THE TWENTIETH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Saint Paul mentions Saint Luke as "the beloved physician." A modern Commentator on Holy Scripture describes Saint Luke as being obviously "an educated man of literary habits," and also supports the tradition of his having been educated as a physician. He became Saint Paul's companion. He wrote the Gospel of Saint Luke and the Acts of the Apostles. The Commentary adds, "there is hardly a cynic to be found who would refuse to cry, 'Thank God for Saint Luke.'" So we may consider Saint Luke as the patron saint of physicians. He was a man of letters; an artist; a physician. Above all this he was a Saint and Evangelist. Today we thank God for Saint Luke and we invoke him to pray for us.

The point that I emphasize today is the ideal of the beloved physician. As I write, my memory goes back over the thirty-five years of my life in Holy Orders. I value my association, and it has been a close one, with physicians and surgeons. I treasure names which I have never ceased to honor. I remember the industry, the integrity and the self-sacrifice of the doctors whom I have known and know today. I value the friendships which have been formed in homes and hospitals. I know why physicians are beloved. And so do you.

The New York Times this week reported a distinguished medical man as speaking in the Conference of the American College of Surgeons of "the half truths and misrepresentations and downright falsehoods" to which physicians not infrequently are compelled to submit. This physician "finds it hard to believe that an occasional grateful patient has not tried to say something in our favor." We must always remember that the payment of fees by no means terminates our obligations to our doctors. We owe them for all time our gratitude and our loyalty. The Book of Ecclesiasticus gives instruction not to be forgotten. "Honour a physician with the honour due unto him for the uses which ye have of him; for the Lord hath created him. For of the most High cometh healing, and he shall receive honour from the King. The skill of the physician shall lift up his head; and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration. The Lord hath created medicines out of the earth: and he that is wise will not abhor them."

A few verses on we find instruction for the sick. "My son, in thy sickness be not negligent; but pray unto the Lord, and he will make thee whole. Leave off from sin, and order thine hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all wickedness. Then give thyself to the physician, for the Lord hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him."

It is at this stage that the priest appears. It is the priest's business in the sick room to administer the medicines which heal the sicknesses of the soul. The priest will guide the sick person to make a satisfactory confession. The priest will absolve the penitent invalid. The priest will administer the most comfortable Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ. The priest at his discretion will administer the Sacrament of Unction. When the priest's work is done, he will give place to the physician and he will hand over to the physician a patient who is possessed of a healthy soul, a quiet mind and a responsive body. That is precisely what the doctor wants.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity

October 25, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 305

O for a closer walk with God

Dykes

Introit. O Lord Almighty, everything is in subjection unto thee; and there is no man that is able to resist thy power: for thou hast created everything; heaven and earth, and all the wonders which under heaven's vault are contained; thou art the Lord and King of all things.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie

Mode IV

Gradual. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Hymn 128

"Christian, seek not yet repose"

Monk

Credo

Martin in C

Offertory. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job: perfect and upright, and one that feared God. And Satan sought to tempt him: and power was given him by the Lord over his possessions, and over his flesh. And he destroyed all his substance and his sons: and he smote his flesh with sore boils.

Hymn 213

A mighty Fortress is our God

Ein Feste Burg

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Martin in C

Gloria in Excelsis

Martin in C

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in E flat (St. Ann)

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119 (verses 73-104)

Tones I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in C

Hymn 26

God, that madest earth and heaven

Monk

Anthem

How lovely are thy dwellings, O Lord of Hosts! My soul longeth, yea, fainteth, for the courts of the Lord: My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God. Yea, the sparrow hath found her a house, and the swallow a nest where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O Lord of Hosts, my King and my God.

O Lord God of Hosts, hear my prayer. I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. For a day in Thy courts is better than a thousand.

Liddle

God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth. For the Father seeketh such to worship Him.

Bennett

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Epithalame

Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10⁰⁰ to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The first Vespers of the Dead will be said on Sunday night, November 1, 1931, directly after Evensong.

There will be a Solemn High Requiem Mass and Sermon on All Souls' Day, November 2, at 9.30 A. M.

Names for Commemoration on All Souls' Day may be sent to the Rector's Office.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish Building, 1625 Locust Street, on Monday, November 2, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

Wednesday will be the Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The weekly meetings of the Mission Sewing Class will be held on Thursdays at 10 o'clock, starting Thursday, November 5th.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-FIRST SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The pressing problems of the day are concerned with social ills. But the social ills are only surface symptoms. Back of the symptoms and far down underneath lurk the spiritual diseases of which the symptoms are signals. We must read the signs rightly if we would treat the diseases intelligently. Something more than a tidy bandage is needed for an infected hand.

Human readjustments must be made and made quickly. But such readjustments will be neither satisfactory nor permanent unless something more is accomplished. As a matter of fact human readjustments can only be a secondary product of the fundamental readjustment of mankind with God. The pressing problem is at root not a material but a spiritual one.

The radio exhortations to remember and to emulate the conquering courage of our pioneer forefathers do not go beyond the merely rhetorical until and unless we are exhorted to remember the spiritual vision and the religious motives which generated that courage. The cheering reminders of present rich material resources are misleading if we fail to remember that our forefathers achieved heroic adventures and accomplished impressive results through hardships. They knew how to abound and how to suffer need, because they knew that they could do all things through Christ who strengthened them. I do not idealize them all, but the ones who mattered were like that. The average may have been about the same as it is today among us. But there is no getting away from the fact that their religion made them what they were.

The spiritual giants in those days were the men and women who knew that they were engaged in war against spiritual wickedness. This was their first and chief concern. There are too many moral spendthrifts today who, having squandered the income, are living on the capital of the religious heritage of their ancestors. The result of that sort of thing is moral and social bankruptcy.

From countless Altars today the inspired words of Saint Paul will be read. Only the faithful will be there to hear. But it will be the faithful who in the long run will save the world from its present predicament. It always has been so. And it always will be so. It is a thousand pities that the whole world has not ears to hear. However that may be, the Church is confident. We have heard. We shall remember. We shall yield neither to despondency nor panic.

"My brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For ye wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God." Truth. Righteousness. Peace. Faith. The word of God. Prayer. We shall need them all in this business of quenching the fiery darts of wickedness which kindle our social conflagrations.

We need a religious reformation. There can be no hope of a social reformation until we have it. The attempts at social reformation are leaving religion out of the reckoning. They are either violently anti-religious or designedly non-religious. Religion is regarded as being an active menace or a passive impracticability. Now it cannot be both. By this time the world ought to have learned that it is neither. But history will repeat itself. The reaction will follow. Religion will be re-discovered as being the only foundation of human happiness.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

All Saints' Day

The Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

November 1, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 295 For All the Saints

Sine Nomine

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy-day in honour of all the Saints: in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Schubert in

Gradual. O fear the Lord, ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Alleluia. The Saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever and ever. Alleluia.

Sequence - - - - - Mode

Spouse of Christ, in arms contending,
O'er each clime beneath the sun,
Blend with prayers for help ascending
Notes of praise for triumphs won.

In your heavenly habitations,
In your blessed home on high
Hear, ye Saints, our aspirations,
As to God we lift our cry.

As the Church today rejoices
All her Saints to join on high
So from earth let all our voices
Rise in solemn harmony.

Ever praising, ever praying,
Help ye thus your brethren here,
That the will of God obeying
We in peace may persevere.

So may we, with hearts devoted,
Serve our God in holiness;
So may we, by God promoted,
Share that heaven which ye possess.

Credo - - - - - Schubert in

Offertory: O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel: he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God, alleluia,

Hymn 297 Hark! the sound of holy voices Dyke

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Schubert in

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude Maestoso (Symphony I)

Vier

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 1, 146

Tones I-I, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 266 Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones

Vigili et Sancti

Anthem

Stanford

And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

And lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms were in their hands; and cried with a loud voice, saying,

Salvation to our God, which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb. Amen.

Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Clair de lune

Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The first Vespers of the Dead will be said on Sunday night, November 1, 1931, directly after Evensong.

THERE WILL BE A SOLEMN HIGH REQUIEM MASS
AND SERMON ON ALL SOULS' DAY, NOVEMBER 2,
AT 9.30 A. M.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish Building, 1625 Locust Street, on Monday, November 2, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Thursday, November 5, at 7.45.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, November 5, at 3 P.M. Speaker: Mrs. William J. Haines, about the General Convention.

The weekly meetings of the Mission Sewing Class will be held on Thursdays at 10 o'clock, starting Thursday, November 5th.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

ALL SAINTS' DAY, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we pay our tribute of reverence to the Saints. Throughout the year we have observed the days dedicated to individual Saints. Today we remember the innumerable company of all the Saints. We recognize their virtues. We celebrate their victories. We exalt them as examples. We invoke their prayers.

What is a Saint? A Saint is a person who has been made perfect by the grace of God.

Why do we honor the Saints? We honor the Saints as the workmanship of God.

Why do we ask the Saints to pray for us? We ask the Saints to pray for us because they have attained to perfection in the science and art of prayer.

How do the Saints know that we invoke them? The Saints know that we invoke them because they are with Him who ever liveth to make intercession for us.

Why should the Saints pray for us? For the same reason that anybody prays for anybody else.

Is there a danger in honoring the Saints, lest we rob God of the honor due to Him alone? We do not rob God when we honor the Saints. We worship God alone. We give one kind of honor to the Saints, and another kind to the Blessed Virgin. God made the Saints and magnified Mary. To God alone is ascribed all honor, glory, worship, might, majesty and dominion.

There are people who regard reverence for the Saints as being superstitious. What is superstition? Superstition is the placing of the creature above God. No one does that. In the whole history of the Christian Religion no one ever did that.

But this is what has happened. Neglect of the duty of rightly honoring the Saints has led to the neglect of the duty of rightly honoring God. The loss of the sense of reverence for Saints has led to the loss of the sense of reverence for sanctity. The disregard for good people has led to the disregard for goodness. And that is where the world is today. The reason why people have lost the old standards is that people have lost the old standard bearers.

The Saints believed that by walking in the Spirit they would avoid fulfilling the lusts of the flesh. They believed that they were not debtors to the flesh to live after the flesh. They believed that if men live after the flesh they shall die; but that if men, through the Spirit, do mortify the deeds of the body, they shall live. They believed that the flesh can be subdued to the Spirit. And they demonstrated it. They energized a jaded, pessimistic world with the certain hope of spiritual and moral freedom. They proclaimed the gospel of fearlessness. "Ye have not received the Spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit beareth witness with our spirit that we are the children of God."

The worst depression that afflicts the world today is moral depression. An obsession of moral pusillanimity has settled like a cloud of poisonous gas over the world. People are being told that they are debtors to the flesh to live after the flesh. That the flesh cannot be subdued to the spirit. That self-control and self-restraint are impossible. That marital fidelity is an outworn tradition. That parental responsibility is outmoded. That divorce and contraception are necessities.

The only persons who have it in their power to bring the world back to sanity are the people who kept their sanity by keeping their sanctity.

The Saints are the only social reformers who can rescue the world from the moral panic, for which erotic psychologists and neurotic novelists are responsible.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity Within the Octave of All Saints

November 8, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 299 Let saints on earth in concert sing St. Flavian

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Beethoven in C

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 254 How wondrous and great Michael Haydn

Credo - - - West in A

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 544 O what the joy and the glory must be O Quanta Qualia

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - West in A

Gloria in Excelsis - - - West in A

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in B minor Healey Willan

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 41, 42, 43

Tones III-2, V.1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Anthem

Elgar

Light of the World, we know Thy praise
The angels and archangels raise
And all the host of Heaven,
More worthily than our faint hymns,
Whose jarring sound that glory dims,
Which God to Thee has given.

But Thou didst not disdain to take
Our low estate, or e'en to make
The tomb Thy resting place;
So Thou might bring into our night
The dawn of Thine eternal Light
To shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin, is Lord,
But Thou, O Son of God,
Thy Word is now our sov'reign law.
Therefore we thank Thee, and we pray
Thy Light may shine unto the Perfect Day
On us for evermore.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Sicilienne

Bach-Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA

THE TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY.
OCTAVE OF ALL SAINTS, 1931.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a meeting of the St. Mark's Altar Society on Thursday morning, November 12, after the 9.30 Mass.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Last week I suggested a thought about the Saints. Today I am writing to you about the souls who have finished the stage of probation in this world and who have gone on to the stage of purgation in the next world.

Life in this world is plunged in warfare. Saint Paul has told us about it. "I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man; But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?"

Remember that a Saint wrote this. It ought to help us to understand the sympathy of the Saints. If Saints can be as humble and simple and as friendly as this, we ought to be humble and simple and friendly. If religion ever seems to us to be harsh and forbidding and discouraging, it is because we ourselves are not sufficiently humble and simple and friendly.

We must see and we must never forget that every human being is in a state of interior warfare. In every person there is a law in the members warring against the law of the mind, and bringing into captivity to the law of sin which is in the members. God only knows how hard and bitter and terrifying this war is.

When a person is suffering under a temporary defeat, such a person may instinctively seek refuge in a protective armour of seeming stolidity. But inside the soul is crying "O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" It is at such moments that the Saints come to the rescue to inspire the courage which will arouse the cry, "I thank God through Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through Jesus Christ Our Lord."

This is the way we must think of our dead. This is the only judgment of the dead which we may permit our minds to harbor. We must see them as the Saints see them. It will make all the difference in the world to them and to us if we do. The more vividly we sense their struggle in the time of their probation, the more fervently we shall be moved to pray for them in the time of their purgation. We shall pray for our dead in hope. And we shall pray in peace.

What shall we do for them? Keep on doing what we always did for them. Think about them. Love them. Be loyal to them. Try to be good for their sake. Pray for them. See that the Holy Sacrifice is offered for them. Give them a share in our Communion.

What good will this do them? The same good that it always did. We helped them more than they or we ever knew while they were in their state of probation. We ourselves are being helped more than we know by people who pray for us and remember us at their Communion. We all need to be helped in our way of probation. In our state of probation we make deliberate choice and register our aspirations. In our state of purgation we shall be free to advance unhindered toward the things we have always desired. There will be no more temptations. There will be the cleansings and the corrections and the refinings which will speed us on toward perfection. It will be a new experience. Purgations are always accompanied by pains. But the pains are growing pains. They are life-giving, and peace-giving and joy-giving. We have had some experience of this here on earth. We have had foretastes in deep and searching adventures in penitence. We have learned more than once that the way to a happy Easter traces its course through a purifying Lent. So it is for faithful souls in Purgatory. The sure hope of Heaven illumines the path. The prayers of friends give aid and comfort.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity

November 15, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 387 Come unto me, ye weary

Dykes

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Harwood in E flat

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and puttest them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 235 O Love that casts out fear

Smart

Credo Harwood in A flat

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 339 Let all mortal flesh keep silence French Folksong

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude on 'Picardy'

Noble

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 78

Tone I. 1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Barnby in E

Hymn 29

The Day Thou Gavest

Scholefield

Anthem

Maurice Greene

My lips shall speak of thy praise when thou hast taught me thy statutes.
Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy words, for all thy commandments are righteous.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Pastorale (Sonata I)

Guilmant

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

ster Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

If you desire to act as a worker in the United Campaign, will you kindly send your Name, Address and Telephone Number to the Rector as soon as possible.

What gifts to the United Campaign will provide for—

Amount	Number of Families Cared for	Estimated Number of Men, Women and Children Helped
$ 120	1 Family	5
240	2 Families	10
600	5 "	25
1,200	10 "	50
6,000	50 "	250
12,000	100 "	500
30,000	250 "	1,250
60,000	500 "	2,500
120,000	1,000 "	5,000

The Church Periodical Club asks for books to help two libraries in the South. Please send all books to the Parish House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

For the last two Sundays we have been thinking of the Saints and of the faithful departed. Today we shall think of our Communion with them. The Epistle for today begins, "We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have for all the Saints." Saint Paul wrote these words to the Colossians, They are passed on to us. They help us to realize the meaning of the intimacy of the Communion of Saints.

This week I have been attracted by a sentence in a secular book that I have read. "A whole world, invisible without, a man creates within his own personality." There are many worlds that a man can create within his own personality. Little worlds and great worlds. Good worlds and bad worlds. They all depend upon the man and his ideals and his methods. But every man carries about within himself, invisible without, a world of his own choice and of his own creation. The same author began by saying, "solitude is not the exceptional state of man: it is the normal. Every man spends most of his time alone with himself. If he cannot command this world of his own making, he is miserable indeed."

The happy heritage of the Christian is that he is enabled to have share in the largest and best of all possible worlds, invisible without, but inseparably within his own personality. He does not have to create it. He finds it ready. He has only to enter in and dwell there. It is just because it is not of his own creation that he enters in wonder and dwells in peace.

The philosopher creates his world. The poet creates his world. The artist creates his world. The musician creates his world. But for philosopher, poet, artist and musician, satisfaction would mean stagnation. Their worlds confessedly fall just short of perfection. The quest is endless.

Because the Christian's world is the perfect world, his satisfaction spurs him on to adapt himself to its perfection. The Lord of his world is ever saying, "be ye therefore perfect." It is a world of Saints, and he himself is called to be a Saint. He must live up to his world.

In the midst and in the turmoil of the world which is visible without, he must live his life and take his part. He has no restless discontent over it. For he knows that only by acquitting himself creditably there, can he keep his invisible world intact. He owes his best to both.

He awakens every day to an inescapable, visible world. In the midst of his visible world stands his church, the gateway of his invisible world. In the stillness of the early morning he unites himself with the Angelic legions. The Sacrifice of Calvary surrounds him. He sees and adores and receives his Lord who comes to dwell within him. The Angelus will call him to the memorial of the Incarnation three times in the day. He may salvage a few moments for a visit to his Lord in the tabernacle. As he kneels in the dim, silent church, the Presence soothes and blesses him. Then and there he realizes, as nowhere else, that the things which are seen are temporal, and that the things which are not seen are eternal.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent

November 22, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal, 536)

Hast Du Denn, Jesu

Praise to the Lord, the Almighty, the King of creation;
O my soul, praise him, for he is thy health and salvation:
All ye who hear,
Brothers and sisters draw near,
Praise him in glad adoration.

Praise to the Lord, who o'er all things so wondrously reigneth,
Shelters thee under his wings, yea, so gently sustaineth;
Hast thou not seen
How thy entreaties have been Granted in what he ordaineth?

Praise to the Lord, who doth prosper thy work, and defend thee;
Surely his goodness and mercy here daily attend thee:
Ponder anew
What the Almighty can do,
If with his love he befriend thee.

Praise to the Lord! O let all that is in me adore him!
All that hath life and breath come now with praises before him!
Let the amen
Sound from his people again:
Gladly for ay we adore him. Amen.

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Beethoven in C

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hpmn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God St. Cecilia

Credo West in A

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 253 The God of Abraham praise Hebrew Melody, 1770

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei West in A

Gloria in Excelsis West in A

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in B minor

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Tones VIII.2, IV-6

Psalms 108, 109

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Barnby in E

Hymn 114 Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings

Beethoven

Anthem

Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts! For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my soul and body crieth out for the living God.

O blest are they that dwell within thy house. They praise thy name evermore!

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude 'Jesus, my Safety'

Bach

Thanksgiving Day

November 26, 1931

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 420, 421

The Ordinary of the Mass

Willan in D

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

ster Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE OFFERING ON THANKSGIVING DAY IS FOR THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a Solemn High Mass at 9.30.

Contributions for the United Campaign for Unemployment Relief may be sent, marked for that purpose, to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SUNDAY NEXT BEFORE ADVENT, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

This is the last Sunday in the Christian Year. It is a day for retrospect. We have made the round of commemorations. We have received the Sacraments. We have persevered in the prayer life. We have made our offerings of possessions and time and energy. Or else we have not. But in either event the year has gone. God and we alone know what we have done with it.

It is also a day of preparation. The new year lies ahead. Four weeks of penitence will usher it in. The preparatory word will be "repent." Repentance is rooted in faith and illumined by hope. The Kingdom of Heaven is not beyond reach. It is at hand. Whatever we made of the old year, we can make something of the new.

Religion is a much more simple thing than we are apt to suppose. It is much less complicated than we are inclined to imagine. The first step toward making it simple is to be simple ourselves. The first step toward making it direct is to be direct ourselves. Our Lord has told us this. He has told us that we must become as little children. Little children are simple and direct. They have other delightful traits. Their humility disarms us. Their charity melts us. Their capacity for forgiveness pierces us. Their trustfulness startles us. But it is their simplicity and directness which take us by storm. We have our responsibility for educating them. But God help us if we do not allow them to educate us. The love of children is the chief human civilizing influence. It was John Fiske who said that we owe our civilization to the lengthened period of human infancy. It has always been so. "A little child shall lead them." When Advent is over we shall be kneeling at the manger in which shall lie the Holy Child who leads us. If we follow Him to the end, we too shall have become as little children. Then we shall be ready to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. For then we shall have become humble, charitable, forgiving, trustful, simple and direct.

If during this past year we have made even a little progress towards the virtues of childhood, we shall be able to bear the sight of our failures. I have often quoted from "Delight in the Lord," by Father Considine. He wrote, "when a person of mere ordinary virtue commits a sin, it takes him some time to feel the same towards God, as he did before. He cannot realize the wonderful generosity of the Heart of God. When a Saint commits a sin, he runs to God at once like a little child to its mother, and confesses it humbly, without excuse or palliation, like a brave, honest, confiding child. Then the next moment he is just as happy with God as he was before. The Saint understands sin better than the ordinary person, but what is far more important, he understands God better.

Then don't you think it would help us all if we regained our childlike simplicity in the use of the Sacraments? After all we need not explain the Sacraments so laboriously. We really do not know enough about God and the supernatural to do that very well. But when we use the Sacraments simply, they have a wonderful way of explaining themselves. A penitent may know as much about the Sacrament of Penance as a theologian. A Communicant may know as much about the Eucharistic Mysteries as a doctor of Divinity.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 9

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent

November 29, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice

Monk

Introit. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Ps. Shew me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths. Glory be.

Kyrie

Cascolini

Gradual. For all they that look for thee: shall not be ashamed, O Lord. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

Alleluia. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

Hymn 56 Thy kingdom come! Day's Psalter, 1562

Credo Mode IV

Offertory. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Hymn 66 O come, O come, Emmanuel Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Cascolini

Hymn (English Hymnal, 311) Proper Melody, Rouen Version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth:

Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O may'st Thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be my food.

O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in B minor

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Tones VIII.4, VI, VII.1

Psalms 141, 142, 143
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus, with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn (English Hymnal, 1)

Mode IV

Creator of the stars of night,
Thy people's everlasting light,
Jesu, Redeemer, save us all,
And hear thy servants when they call.

At whose dread name, majestic now,
All knees must bend, all hearts must bow,
And things celestial thee shall own,
And things terrestrial, Lord alone.

Thou, grieving that the ancient curse
Should doom to death a universe,
Hast found the medicine, full of grace,
To save and heal a ruined race.

O thou whose coming is with dread
To judge and doom the quick and dead,
Preserve us, while we dwell below,
From every insult of the foe.

Thou cam'st, the Bridegroom of the bride,
As drew the world to evening-tide;
Proceeding from a virgin shrine,
The spotless Victim, all divine:

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, Three in One,
Laud, honour, might and glory be
From age to age eternally. Amen.

Anthem

Sir John Goss

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them: and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: Behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; He will come and save you.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing:

For in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; The unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there: And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads. They shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Rex Glorioso (English Hymnal, 183)

Organ Chorale-Prelude on 'Our Father'

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Tomorrow, November 30th, is St. Andrew's Day and there will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, November 29th, at 8 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, December 3rd, at 3.00 P. M. Speaker: Archdeacon Claiborne, of Sewanee, Tennessee.

Father Blake is beginning a series of Sermons on the Office of Instruction. These will be given immediately after Evensong on Sundays, in the Lady Chapel.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The word repent does not convey the real sense of the original meaning. Translations often fail to do this. The Greek word means "to change one's mind."

The present common use of the word conveys the meaning "to change one's feelings." Feelings are fickle. One can change one's feelings without changing one's mind at all. One can be carried away by feelings without even stopping to think. This is the danger of emotional uprisings. They cause individuals to be erratic and crowds to be irresponsible. They not infrequently create difficult and dangerous situations which may and do get beyond control.

It has often happened in the field of religious activities that a wave of unreasoning emotion has supplied the current for extraordinary manifestations of religious excitement which have swept through an entire community like a fire, leaving an entire area devastated. I remember hearing, years ago, of a whole state that had been religiously burnt over. This was given as a reason for a baffling spiritual desolation of long continuance. The same thing happens with individuals. Overloaded and uncontrolled religious emotionalism may leave a person cold and dead. A period of violent reaction is an extremely likely consequence. Here and there the opposite symptom of morbidity or fanaticism will appear as a melancholy remnant.

All this sort of thing is not religious at all. Religion means a right relationship. Religion has to do with the process of bringing the mind and will and heart into right relationship with God and man. Proportion is preserved. Balance is maintained. This is a delicate operation. Like every delicate operation it requires intelligence, skill and precision. Quietness is indispensable. Excitement is dangerous. Maladjustment of the mind causes scrupulosity. Maladjustment of the will causes servility. Maladjustment of the heart causes fear. All three are symptoms of disorders which, if they become deeply rooted, are extremely difficult to dislodge, leaving wounds slow to heal.

This explains why it is so very necessary to make clear from the beginning that repentance is a change of mind rather than feeling. After the change of mind there will follow a change in will. After that feeling is negligible and is usually better disregarded. Ignorance of this is the cause sometimes of life-long distress and of spiritual and moral failure. A person may hear something in a sermon which profoundly moves to willingness for genuine response. Too often the person is left to self-guidance. It is taken for granted that after a spiritual awakening the soul may be left to itself. It is not realized that careful, accurate, painstaking education must follow the awakening. The fact that there is such a thing as the science of the spiritual life, the art of living it, and the technique of practising it, seems to be unknown. The experience and the wisdom born of the experience of centuries is disregarded. The age-long witness of Saints is a sealed book. The deprivation of theological foundation is followed by the forfeiture of devotional background, and the loss of moral ideal completes the tragedy. The very vocabulary of all this constitutes an unknown language to many today.

Today is the first day of the Christian Year. Once more the Church will patiently unfold the theological, devotional and moral principles of the spiritual life. Her voice is the voice of Him who said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." They who will hear will find peace. They who will not must wait. How long? Who knows?

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent

December 6, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 55 Come, thou long-expected Jesus Gotha, 1715

Introit. O people of Sion, behold, the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations: and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard.

Ps, Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Mode IV

Gradual. Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beauty. Gather my saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice.

Alleluia. For the powers of heaven shall be shaken: and they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Alleluia.

Hymn 59 Lord, thy word abideth Ave Hierarchia, 1567

Credo - - - - - Mode IV

Offertory. Wilt not thou turn again, O God, and quicken us; that thy people may rejoice in thee: shew us thy mercy, O Lord; and grant us thy salvation.

Hymn 62 Wake, awake, for night is flying Philip Nicolai, 1599

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa Penitentialis

Hymn (English Hymnal 323) - Munster Gesangbuch, 1677

O most merciful! O most bountiful!
God the Father Almighty!
By the Redeemer's sweet intercession
Hear us, help us when we cry. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude on 'Wachet Auf' - Karg-Elert

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 32, 33, 34 - - - Tones I.8, III-5, VII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tonus Peregrinus, with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 56 - - - Day's Psalter, 1562

Anthem (Dies Irae from the Requiem) - Mozart

Day of vengeance, day of burning,
Seer's and Sybil's word confirming,
Heaven and earth to ashes turning.

When the Judge supreme is seated,
All's disclosed that's now secreted,
Every wrong's redress completed.

Oh, how great the tribulation
When the Judge shall take his station,
Judging strictly man's probation.

Trembling at his indignation,
When shall I make supplication!
Scarce the righteous find salvation.

Hark, the angel trumpet sounding,
Through sepulchral realms rebounding,
See the dead the throne surrounding.

King tremendous, Judge all-seeing,
Yet by mercy sinners freeing,
Save me, great and holy being.

Death and nature view affrighted,
Dust and spirit reunited,
Man arisen to judgment cited.

Day of mourning, day of weeping,
When from ashes rise the sleeping,
Guilty man to hear his sentence.

Then is shown the book containing
Written deeds the world arrainging,
Open guilt, and guilty feigning.

God of mercy, spare, repentance,
Holy Jesus, hear, oh hear our prayer,
Let the wicked cease from trembling,
And the weary be at rest. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Rex Glorioso (English Hymnal, 183)

Organ—Elegie - - - - - Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

PLEDGE CARDS FOR THOSE WHO DO NOT ALREADY SUBSCRIBE TOWARD THE MAINTENANCE OF THE PARISH MAY BE OBTAINED FROM THE USHERS AFTER ANY SERVICE, OR AT THE OFFICE OF THE PAROCHIAL SECRETARY.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and Friends of St. Margaret's Community on Thursday, December 10th, at St. Margaret's House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia. Conductor: The Rev. Spence Burton, Supr. S. S. J. E., Boston, Mass.

The Retreat begins with Mass at 8 o'clock and ends at 4.30 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

A sale of articles made by the residents of the Harrison Home will be held on December 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th at the Episcopal Hospital, Front and Lehigh Avenue, from ten in the morning until three in the afternoon.

Contributions for the United Campaign for Unemployment Relief may be sent, marked for that purpose, to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Church Kalendars may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake is preaching a series of Sermons at Evensong on Sundays.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

These are the opening words of the Epistle for today. Truly they are timely. There are so many people this year whose patience is strained to the snapping point. There are so many people who have looked for comfort and found none. There are so many people who have hoped without result.

Governments are harassed. Commissions are baffled. Ministers of State are perplexed. The world is confused. There are muttered counsels of despair and rumored rumblings of violence. There are conflicting testimonies. Last week I heard one man include religion in a trilogy of irrelevancies. The next morning I read that an eminent person had said, "To settle the crisis men come and go, cross seas, cross mountains, meet and discuss, but in all that talking, conference and debating, who has mentioned God?"

It is not fairly to be assumed that individuals engaged in public activities do not think of God; nor mention Him in personal conversation; nor pray to Him before they go into conference. Nor is it fair to say that God is not mentioned in legislative bodies. Congress has its official Chaplains—and opens its sessions with prayer. Last month the President issued his annual proclamation for a day of thanksgiving to God. The Italian Minister of Finance, who has just completed an official visit here, was reported as having attended Mass on Sunday. As a rule the acts of religious devotion of public men are unobserved and unrecorded. We all shun even the appearance of ostentation. I have the idea that men in public life concentrate their religious effort in striving to think rightly and to do justly. The absence of religious phraseology in official findings and opinions by no means indicates absence of personal religion in the officials.

On the other hand there are to be found atheists in most communities. I have never known one, however, who had any marked influence in this direction, over the rank and file of the community in which he lived.

I feel justified in continuing to believe that man is incurably religious today and that man always will be, as he always has been. Of course, if this instinct is left to nature it will be groping and grotesque. But it will be there.

For this reason I believe that the Advent reminder of the treasures of Holy Scripture will not fall upon deaf ears, uncomprehending minds or perverse wills. The Scriptural records of the past provide means for learning the significance of the present. If they are rightly read, marked, learned and inwardly digested, they will inculcate patience, instill comfort and inspire hope. It is practical advice that the Church gives us today. Read your Bibles.

"No prophecy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

No weighty document is of private interpretation. Its interpreter is its custodian. This applies to Church as well as State. The Church is the custodian and interpreter of the Bible.

You are familiar with the Sacramental preparation which precedes, the devotional development which follows and the religious setting which surrounds the solemn reading of Holy Scripture. You are familiar with the traditional methods of meditation.

Whatever else you are reading, read your Bible devotionally, and you will never lack patience, comfort and hope.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent

December 13, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 317

The Lord my pasture shall prepared

Henry Carey, 1723

Introit. Rejoice ye in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice ye; let your moderation be known unto all men, the Lord is at hand: be careful for nothing, nor troubled; but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving; let your requests be made known unto God.

Ps. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding: shall keep your hearts and minds. Glory be.

Kyrie

Willan in E flat

Gradual. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubim: stir up thy strength and come. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia. Stir up thy strength, O Lord: and come and help us. Alleluia,

Hymn 456 Ye servants of the Lord

Gauntlett, 1848

Credo

Willan in E flat

Offertory. O Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land; thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob: thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people.

Hymn 282 On Jordan's bank the Baptist's cry Hamburg, 1600

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Willan in E flat

Hymn (Songs of Syon, 350)

Heinrich Albert

Lo, he comes! let all adore him:
'Tis the God of grace and truth.
Go, prepare the way before him,
Make the rugged places smooth:
Lo, he comes! the mighty Lord:
Great his work and his reward.

Let the valleys all be raised,
Go and make the crooked straight:
Let the mountains be abased,
Let all nature change its state:
Through the desert mark a road,
Make a highway for our God.

From the hills and lofty mountains,
Rivers shall be seen to flow:
There the Lord will open fountains,
Hence supply the plains below:
As he passes, every land
Shall confess his powerful hand. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in E flat (St. Ann)

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 69, 70

Tones II-1, IV-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones IV, III-4, with faux bourdons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn (English Hymnal, 93)

University

The God of love my Shepherd is
And he that doth me feed;
While he is mine and I am his,
What can I want or need?

Or, if I stray, he doth convert,
And bring my mind in frame,
And all this not for my desert,
But for his holy name.

He leads me to the tender grass,
Where I both feed and rest:
Then to the streams that gently pass:
In both I have the best.

Yea, in death's shady black abode
Well may I walk, not fear;
For thou art with me, and thy rod
To guard, thy staff to bear.

Surely thy sweet and wondrous love
Shall measure all my days;
And as it never shall remove
So neither shall my praise.

Anthem

J. S. Bach

The Lord my faithful Shepherd is,
He has me in his keeping:
He fills my soul with plenteousness,
His goodness never fails me.
He pastures me in meadows green,
He leads me out by cooling streams,
Within his fold I dwell secure.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Rex Glorioso (English Hymnal, 183)

Organ—Reverie on University tune

Harvey Grace

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE LAST MISSIONARY OFFERING FOR THIS YEAR
WILL BE RECEIVED NEXT SUNDAY, THE FOURTH
SUNDAY IN ADVENT, DECEMBER 20.

ALL OFFERINGS FOR THAT DAY ARE FOR MISSIONS.

THE HOSPITAL AT SEWANEE WAS TOTALLY DESTROYED
BY FIRE LAST WEEK.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained from the ushers after any service, or at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Church Kalendars may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake is preaching a series of Sermons at Evensong on Sundays.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

What does this word mysteries mean? In the first place it means "that which is known to the initiated": "the secret doctrines." In the New Testament it means "the things once hidden but now revealed in the Gospel." Mysteries are facts. Myths are fables. Mysteries can only be imparted to the spiritually receptive. Myths may be related to lovers of fiction. It is extremely important to be on one's guard in this matter of distinguishing between mysteries and myths. Mysteries are for Christians. Myths are for pagans. Our Lord reserved the mysteries until His disciples were prepared to receive them. "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth shall come, he will guide you into all truth."

It is the function of the minister of Christ to turn the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just. It is the function of the steward of the mysteries of God to impart revealed truths to those who are enabled to bear them by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Baptism and a period of growth as babes in Christ. Catechetical instruction in the principles of the doctrine of Christ. Confirmation which is the strengthening with the Holy Ghost, and is accompanied with daily increase in the manifold gifts of grace: the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the Spirit of knowledge and true godliness and the Spirit of holy fear. All this must come first. Then comes the climax of the final initiation into the Eucharistic Mysteries. After that the unfolding of the life which is hid with Christ in God. So is "the mystery, which hath been hid from ages and from generations, made manifest to his saints: To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles: which is Christ in you the hope of glory."

There is no short cut in this business of becoming a Christian. The only time saving device is the wisdom which redeems the time. The Christian possesses his soul in his patience. His strength is in his quietness and confidence.

When the world is disturbed and the crowd is distracted, the wise, patient, quiet men find the way out of difficulties and save situations. But back of this selected group who may be men of all religions and of no religion, there is always the reserved selection, the holy and humble men of heart, the initiate in the mysteries of God, who through the turmoil and blunders and tragedies of secularists, continue instant in prayer. It is this regiment which time after time, when the captains and the kings have departed, have appeared to clear the ruins of the kingdoms which have fallen and to reveal to the despairing the kingdom against which the gates of hell have not prevailed. This has been the history of the world. This has been the history of the Church.

No one knows from day to day what is going to happen next. The whole world is on the qui vive. We wonder what the winter will bring forth. We read editorials. We listen to speeches on the radio. We do our bit where and when and as best we can. In the welter of uncertainties there is the gleam of one certainty, The Church. She is infallible, indestructible and invincible.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent

December 20, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God!

St. Cecilia

Introit. Remember us, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit us with thy salvation: that we, beholding the felicity of thy chosen, may rejoice in the gladness of thy people; and may glory with thine inheritance.

Ps. We have sinned with our fathers: we have done amiss and dealt wickedly. Glory be.

Kyrie Casciolini

Gradual. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him: yea, all such as call upon him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name.

Alleluia. Come, O Lord, and tarry not: forgive the misdeeds of thy people. Alleluia.

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding Monk

Credo Mode IV

Offertory. Be strong, fear not; behold, our God will come with a recompense: he will come and save us.

Hymn 66 O come, O come, Emmanuel Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Casciolini

Hymn (English Hymnal, 335) Rouen Church Melody

Wherefore, O Father, we thy humble servants
Here bring before thee Christ thy well-beloved,
All-perfect Offering, Sacrifice immortal,
Spotless Oblation.

See now thy children, making intercession
Through him our Saviour, Son of God incarnate,
For all thy people, living and departed,
Pleading before thee. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Marche du Veilleur de Nuit Bach-Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 104

Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones IV, III-4, with faux bourdons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn (Songs of Syon, 350)

Heinrich Albert

Lo, he comes! let all adore him:
'Tis the God of grace and truth.
Go, prepare the way before him,
Make the rugged places smooth:
Lo, he comes! the mighty Lord:
Great his work and his reward.

Let the valleys all be raised,
Go and make the crooked straight:
Let the mountains be abased,
Let all nature change its state:
Through the desert mark a road,
Make a highway for our God.

From the hills and lofty mountains,
Rivers shall be seen to flow:
There the Lord will open fountains,
Hence supply the plains below:
As he passes, every land
Shall confess his powerful hand. Amen.

Anthem Percy W. Whitlock

Glorious in Heaven are the souls of all saints who walked in the way of Christ the Lord Jesus; They loved him and followed his footsteps; and as they died for the Saviour, losing life for his sake, They reign with him for ever. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Rex Gloriosa (English Hymnal, 183)

Organ—Prelude Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The hours for Confession on Christmas Eve are 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

The Services on Christmas Day will be—Masses for Communion at 7, 8 and 9 A. M. Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon at 11 A. M.

On Saturday, St. Stephen's Day, there will be a third Mass at 9.30.

St. John the Evangelist's Day falls on Sunday, with the regular Sunday Services.

There will be a Breakfast in the Parish House on Christmas morning after the 8 and 9 o'clock Masses for those who come from a distance. Please address a post card to Sister Helen, S.S.M., Parish House, 1625 Locust Street, notifying of intention to come to breakfast.

Church Kalendars may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Father Blake is preaching a series of Sermons at Evensong on Sundays.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:
That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth and height! and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God." This is Saint Paul's prayer for us all. If we grasp its significance and its scope we shall be prepared for the thing which came to pass in Bethlehem. And we shall understand that the thing which came to pass in Bethlehem will come to pass in our hearts in our Christmas Communion. In that happy moment when we receive the Body of Our Lord, we shall be admonished to feed on Him in our hearts by faith with thanksgiving. The joyful mystery which awaits us is the coming of the Lord to dwell in our hearts.

The Communicant to be devout needs only to be simple and humble and penitent. If he lacks contrition let him ask God and God will give it. The fruits of contrition will follow, confession, satisfaction and amendment. The heart will be only a stable at best. But it can be a clean stable. The manger can be fresh and fragrant. That much at least we can arrange for. Our Lord does not demand a palace or even an inn. He knows we have neither. But He will come to the stable. He will be content with the best that we have. The root and the ground of the matter is the love of God. God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son. This is the fact and this is the wonder.

There are so many who lose sight of the fact and miss the wonder, through sheer pressure of domestic and social and commercial circumstances, each right enough and inescapable, but out of place if it dims the significance of the great festival of the Nativity of Our Lord. Sometimes I wonder which is the worse, the old Puritan's studied non-observance of Christmas, or the modern pagan's curiously modern variant of the Yuletide of our heathen forefathers. Yuletide had at least a religious significance to the old heathen. To the modern heathen the word is merely commercial jargon. I would not write unkindly of them. I do not forget the virtues of the Puritan. I respect the old pagan. I love the modern pagan enough to wish that he may get and keep Christmas. The greens and the lights and the presents and the parties are all delightfully appropriate. The laughter of little children and everything that makes "The Night Before Christmas" a classic, Santa Claus, the stockings and the tree. Yes, we want to make the most and the best of all that, especially the children. They lead us back to the reality of the day. They lead us to the Child whose day it is. The Child who is God Incarnate. The Child who comes to us in the Eucharistic Mysteries. Christmas is Christ's Mass. This is the centre and the soul of the day.

The Christmas Communion makes our Christmas.

We have five days left to prepare our souls. Five days of penitence, and expectation.

Then will come Christmas Eve. The day and the night before Communion. We should be absolved and in a state of grace. Nothing must be allowed to distract our minds or interfere with our plans for the chief business of Christmas Day, which is to receive Holy Communion.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Feast of St. John, Evangelist
The First Sunday after Christmas

December 27, 1931

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 72 O come, all ye faithful Adeste Fideles

Introit. In the midst of the congregation he opened his mouth; and the Lord filled him with the spirit of wisdom and understanding: in a robe of glory he arrayed him.

Ps. A treasure of joy and gladness: hath he given him for an inheritance. Glory be.

Kyrie Mozart in B flat

Gradual. Then went the saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him; He shall not die. But, if I will that he tarry till I come: follow thou me.

Alleluia. This is the disciple which testified of these things: and we know that his testimony is true. Alleluia.

Hymn 86 O Thou, who gavest Thy Servant grace Eisenach

Credo Mozart in B flat

Offertory. The righteous shall flourish like a palm tree: and shall spread abroad like a cedar in Libanus.

Hymn 73 Hark! the herald angels sing Mendelssohn

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Mozart in B flat

Gloria in Excelsis Mozart in B flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Finale (Symphony II) Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 1, 15

Tones I-1, III-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Noble in B minor

Hymn 87

Alstone

CAROLS

Come Unto Him

Handel

(Solo—Herman Logan)

Angels from the Realms of Glory

French

Little Jesus, sweetly sleep (Rocking)

Czech

Neighbor, what was the sound, I pray (Waking Time) French

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia

Mechlin melody

Visit to the Creche

Prayers

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night

Franz Gruber

Organ—Chorale Prelude on 'Puer Nobis'

Healey Willan

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

OUR QUOTA FOR MISSIONS FOR 1931 AMOUNTS TO $12,164.00. OF THIS AMOUNT WE HAVE RECEIVED $10,931.96, INCLUDING THE OFFERING OF LAST SUNDAY. THIS LEAVES A BALANCE OF $1,232.04.

Monday, December 28th, is Holy Innocents' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

Father Blake is preaching a series of Sermons at Evensong on Sundays.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS DAY, 1931.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Manger is the throne of Divine condescension. The throne of Divine glory is in Heaven. We are concerned now with the throne of Divine condescension. Yet we should keep these two thrones together in our minds. The throne of condescension; The throne of glory: Upon each of them God reigns supreme.

On Christmas Day, God the Son came forth from the Father. On Ascension Day He ascended to the Father. We must keep these two days together in our minds. God came down from Heaven. God ascended into Heaven. We who have met at the Manger must not fail to meet at the Mountain. Christmas Day brought tidings of joy to men. Ascension Day brought tidings of joy to angels. The test of the reality of Christmas Day devotion is the reality of Ascension Day devotion.

The Holy Child has a long and terrible road before Him. He will battle His way on from Bethlehem to Egypt, to Nazareth, to the desert, to Jerusalem, to Gethsemane, to Calvary, to the garden, before He arrives at the mountain and the cloud, on the far side of which He will see the Gates of Heaven flung open wide to receive Him. That road is the road of life. It is your road and my road, and the road of any one and every one who cares enough to follow. It is the road of repentance, redemption and release. It is the road that leads out and away from the former things, straight on and into the new. It is the road of miracles. For it comes to pass that they who take it are cleansed as they go. It is the road of life. For they who travel it find more abundant life. It is an ageless road. For they who follow it become as little children.

The Holy Child is the Saviour of the world. His mission is to save from their sins those who call upon His Name. It is a mission upon which only the Son of God could be sent. Its fulfilment lies infinitely beyond the power of man. The forgiveness of sins is a Divine mystery. This is why it is an article of the Creed. It comes after the mysteries of the Three Divine Persons. It comes after the mystery of the Church. It is followed by the mystery of the resurrection of the body. All these mysteries are recognized and believed as mysteries. But the forgiveness of sins is rarely recognized and believed as a Divine mystery. It is treated as being within the compass of human understanding. It is measured by the range of human analogy and sounded by the shallowness of human experience. The result is that very frequently orthodox Christians miss the mystery of Divine forgiveness, even though they believe all the other articles of the Creed. The consequence is that they lose the very joy that God came to bring and the very faith which would save them. Their religion at this point degenerates into servile fear, self-regarding bargaining and debilitating scrupulosity.

Now the cure for this is to learn and to remember that sin is so serious a disorder of human nature that only God Himself can cure it. The second thing to learn and to remember is that God did come to cure it.

This is the one thing above all others that the world needs to understand if it would be extricated from its present plight. When it does learn it will find at the Manger a Merry Christmas.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 14

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Christmas

January 3, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 549 Good Christian men, rejoice In Dulci Jubilo

Introit. Whenas all the world was in profoundest quietness, and night was in the midst of her swift course: thine almighty word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne.

Ps. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his glorious apparel, and girded himself with strength. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Gounod in E flat

Gradual. Thou art fairer than the children of men: full of grace are thy lips. My heart is inditing of a good matter; I speak of the things which I have made unto the King; my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

Alleluia The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Alleluia.

Hymn 90 Jesus! Name of Wondrous love St. Bees

Credo - - - Gounod in E flat

Offertory. God hath made the round world so sure that it cannot be moved: ever since the world began hath thy seat, O God, been prepared; thou art from everlasting.

Hymn 349 Once in royal David's city Irby

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Gounod in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - Gounod in E flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—'In Thee is Gladness' - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 91 - - - Tone VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - Noble in B minor

Hymn 79 It came upon the midnight clear Willis

CAROLS

O Bethlehem - Basque Folk Song (arr. by Dickinson)

Lute-Book Lullaby - English, early seventeenth century

All poor men and humble Welsh (Dr. Caradog Roberts)

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia - - Mechlin melody

Visit to the Creche

Prayers

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night - Franz Gruber

Solo (Richard Crider) Sleep, Holy Babe Frances McCollin

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THERE WILL BE A THIRD MASS AT 9.30 ON THE FEAST OF THE EPIPHANY, WEDNESDAY, JANU-ARY 6th.

The balance due on our apportionment for Missions is $1,100.00.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, January 3rd, 1932, at 8 A. M.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, January 7th, 1932, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Miss Mary McGill, on leper work in Japan.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for, by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS DAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The angels who came from Heaven to praise God for Our Lord's Nativity sang, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men of good will."

How quickly the men of bad will appeared on the scene. Herod was the first. So Saint Joseph took Our Lord and His Mother and fled into Egypt. The bad will began so frightfully early. And we know that it followed Him all the way. The men of bad will were always in the majority. They always seemed to win. And they always lost in the end. The men of good will were always in the minority. They always seemed to lose. And they always won in the end.

It has been so ever since. History has gone on repeating itself. And the world has gone on repeating the blundering notion that the complacency of the majority can hold forever against the good will of the minority. The superstition of numbers has never been dispelled.

The command of Our Lord that the Gospel should be preached to the whole world was not joined with a promise that the whole world would believe. The responsibility for preaching the Gospel was to rest with the Apostles and their successors. The responsibility for believing was to rest with the world. Individuals as they believed were to be called out of the world into the Church. This is what the Greek word for Church means, "called out."

The manger is the most peaceful spot in all the world. Yet only men of good will find peace there. There is a stern reality. There is an inexorable demand. There is a searching test. No will escapes. A choice must be made. It can neither be evaded nor delayed. Either there will be the will to adore and offer gifts or there will be the will for the massacre which caused the flight into Egypt and the eventual will for the murder at Calvary. Year after year, ever since that first Christmas, history has repeated itself. This present year is no exception.

The world needs this note of sternness to bring it to its senses. The world needs to be shocked into a realization of the majesty of the manger. The world needs to be thrilled with the piercing revelation that the simple company assembled at Bethlehem, Mary, Joseph and the Shepherds is terrible in its simplicity, terrible as an army with banners. It has gathered its recruits, wise men, children, martyrs, saints, virgins, confessors and a multitude of penitents which no man can number, of all nations and tongues. It has marched resistlessly through life and death. It has conquered the world. It has stormed Heaven. It has never halted until it has prostrated itself before the throne of the Triune God.

The Altar, like the manger, has always remained a mystery to the world. Like the Manger it has been to men of good will a place of peace. To men of bad will it has been and is a place to be feared and hated.

This is inevitable. At the Altar the Lord of Bethlehem reveals Himself to men of good will and veils Himself from the world.

He enters into the souls of those who receive Him and gives them power to become the Sons of God.

He lives on in the world in His Eucharistic Life. The place of testing is transferred from the manger to the Altar. To adore the Blessed Sacrament is to adore the Child of Bethlehem.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after the Epiphany

January 10, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 94 As with gladness men of old
Procession { 93 Earth has many a noble city

*Kocher, 1838
Gotha, 1715*

Introit. On a throne exalted I beheld, and lo, a man sitting, whom a legion of angels worship, singing together: behold, his rule and governance endureth to all ages.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness.
Glory be.

Kyrie . . . Harwood in E flat

Gradual. Blessed be the Lord, even the God of Israel: which only doeth wondrous things. The mountains also shall bring peace, and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness.
Alleluia.

Hymn 101 Joy to the world! Haweis, 1792

Credo . . . Harwood in A flat

Offertory. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God.

Hymn 95 Brightest and best Harding, 1862

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei . . . Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis . . . Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord, Glory be.

Organ—Pastorale . . . Cesar Franck

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 66 . . . Tone 1-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis . . . Stanford in A

Hymn 553 Saw you never, in the twilight Tours, 1881

CAROLS

Sleep, Little Dove . . . Old Alsatian Noel
(Solos—Walter Applegate, Joseph Frost, Jr.)

Kings in Glory . . . Martin Shaw
(Solo—Winfield Vickery)

O Little One Sweet . . . German, S. Scheidt, 1650

Rocking (Little Jesus, sweetly sleep) . . . Czech Carol

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia . . . Mechlin melody

Visit to the Creche

Prayers

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night . . . Franz Gruber

Solo—'Lo, How a Rose' . . . Brahms

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The balance due on our 1931 apportionment for Missions is $780.00.

The first offering for Missions for 1932 will be made next Sunday, January 17th.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

There are many roads to Bethlehem. There are many signs to guide. The shepherds' road was a short one. The sign was an angelic song. The Wise Men's road was a long one. The sign was a star. There is a road for each of us. There is a sign for each. The road begins where we live. The sign appears in the place most familiar to us.

The shepherds knew the fields. The wise men knew the skies. The song was heard in the fields. The star was seen in the skies. As it was for them, so it is for us. The song may be heard in the familiar place. The star may be seen in the accustomed environment. We only need ears to hear and eyes to see.

There are no biographies so filled with human interest as spiritual biographies. In them may be found the deepest mysteries, the widest ranges and the farthest reaches of human experience. From the calling of the first disciple to the conversion of the latest sinner, may be found the records of the most thrilling of human adventures. The lives of the saints are the real beacon lights of history.

But not so very many people are quite convinced of this. Not so very many people are apt to be attracted by the lives of the Saints. But when here and there one sees a Saint in the making, one's attention is arrested. In some unexpected place, some unsuspected person, under some most ordinary circumstance is observed. The ordinary thing is being done extraordinarily well. The difficulties are obvious. The adversities are crushing. The setting is uninspiring. There is nothing spectacular. There is nothing exciting.

Then it gradually dawns on one that a spiritual genius has been discovered. If one watches long enough the conviction deepens that one has found a real person, who has followed a real sign, made a real journey, short or long, and really arrived at Bethlehem. Such a person is worth a long journey to see. And very likely if we make the journey, we may hear our own song, see our own star, and arrive at Bethlehem ourselves.

But whatever our own exterior sign may be, it will not serve us unless there is the interior disposition for response. There must be something within us which at just the right moment will move us to go even unto Bethlehem to see for ourselves what the Lord hath made known unto us. The Lord who makes known also gives the will to go. The story of the appearance of a sign, of a journey, an approach and an arrival is the record of an Epiphany. That story is the spiritual biography of each person who has seen the Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

It is a profitable Epiphany devotion to examine our own experience. We shall find cause for thanksgiving, penitence and perseverance. No two experiences will be precisely alike. Yet there are broad general lines of identification.

The way of penitence is the most traveled road. And it is the beginning for everybody, and the continuance as a matter of fact. The way of penitence prepares for the way of Sacraments and the way of Sacraments lays the foundation for the way of prayer. Light is provided all along each of these ways. The daily response is the way that leads on to the way of final union, in which the soul finds Our Lord. Whatever the adventure on the way, the end is the same.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after the Epiphany

January 17, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 480 Jesus shall reign Duke Street

Introit. All the earth shall worship thee, O God, and sing of thee: they shall sing praise to thy Name, O most Highest.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie Noble in G minor

Gradual. The Lord sent his word and healed them: and they were saved from their destruction. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, all ye angels of his: praise him, all his host. Alleluia.

Hymn 282 On Jordan's bank the Baptist's cry Winchester New

Credo Noble in G minor

Offertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God; and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn 99 Hail to the Lord's Anointed Havergal, 1859

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Noble in G minor

Gloria in Excelsis Noble in G minor

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Sur un theme Breton Guy Ropartz

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 89 Tone 1-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stanford in A

Hymn 98 How bright appears the morning star Nicolai, 1599

Anthem Gustav Holst

In the bleak mid-winter
Frosty wind made moan,
Earth stood hard as iron,
Water like a stone;
Snow had fallen, snow on snow,
Snow on Snow
In the bleak mid-winter,
Long ago,

Our God, heaven cannot hold him
Nor earth sustain;
Heaven and earth shall flee away
When he comes to reign:
In the bleak mid-winter
A stable-place sufficed
The Lord God Almighty
Jesus Christ.

Enough for him, whom Cherubim
Worship night and day,
A breastful of milk,
And a mangerful of hay;
Enough for him, whom Angels
Fall down before,
The ox and ass and camel
Which adore.

Angels and Archangels
May have gathered there,
Cherubim and Seraphim
Thronged the air—
But only his mother
In her maiden bliss
Worshipped the Beloved
With a kiss.

What can I give him
Poor as I am?
If I were a shepherd
I would bring a lamb;
If I were a wise man
I would do my part;
Yet what I can I give him—
Give my heart.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin melody

Organ—Psalm XIX Marcello

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

St. Mark's Missionary apportionment for 1931 has been paid in full.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The first fact of the Christian Religion is that "the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us."

The second fact is that Christ lives in the Christian. The Eucharist is the Extension.

The Incarnation is the foundation. The Eucharist is the Extension. We have finished the happy devotions of Christmas and Epiphany. If there were nothing more, we should be left with the pious memory of a Person who once lived a very long time ago, in a place very far off, for a very short period, and who then withdrew into an astronomical heaven remote beyond calculation or imagination. We should have nothing left but the consciousness of an absent Christ. The memory of the past and the hope for the future would be overshadowed by a cheerless sense of a real absence.

Now this was precisely what the first disciples did not have. They were keenly aware of a real Presence. They were not lonely on Ascension Day. On the contrary they were comforted and confident. The secret of their comfort and confidence was their sure and certain faith in the real Presence of their Lord. After Pentecost they learned the mystery of the extended Presence to be continued even unto the end of the world. In the Breaking of the Bread the eyes of all disciples ever since have been opened to know the Lord. Faith the outward sense befriending has made the inward vision clear. The Eucharistic Presence is the fulfilment of Our Lord's assurance that He would never leave us nor forsake us. It is the keeping of His promise to be with us even unto the end of the world.

The Christmas Festival is over. The Crib has been packed away. But Our Lord lives on in the souls of Christians. Each soul is a Bethlehem or a Nazareth or a Calvary. Christ in each soul is the hope of the glory of the Easter garden and the triumph of the mount of Ascension.

Our Lord brought redemption to the world by living in it. He brings redemption to each soul by living in it. How does He do this?

His first miracle illustrates it. He commanded that water pots should be filled with water to the brim. He received this offering. Then he changed the water into wine.

In the Eucharist we make an oblation of bread and wine. He accepts this oblation and changes the bread into His Body, and the wine into His Blood.

In the Eucharist Christians offer and present to Him, themselves, their souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice. Nothing may be kept back. The water pots must be filled to the brim.

The body must be presented with all its instincts, appetites, desires, disorders, inclinations and impulses.

The mind must be presented with all its thoughts, suggestions, imaginations, memories and associations.

The will must be presented with all its ambitions, intentions and purposes.

The heart must be presented with all its affections and emotions.

The soul must be presented for purging of everything that is foreign to Him.

The whole being with all its shrinkings and rebellions must be surrendered to be brought into captivity to His law, to be literally and completely and irrevocably the prisoner of Christ.

Then everything is ready for the miracle. The elemental, natural life, at its primary source is ready to be changed into the supernatural life which is the Eucharistic gift.

This is the miracle in process in the soul of the communicant. It is a gradual process. Because Christ lives in the Christian.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 17

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Septuagesima Sunday

January 24, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 113

Fight the good fight

Boyd, 1864

Introit. The sorrows of death came about me; the pains of hell gat hold upon me: and in my tribulation I made my prayer unto the Lord, and he regarded my supplication out of his holy temple.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord, my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie

Ancient melody, arranged by Pearce

Gradual. The Lord will be a refuge in the time of trouble; and they that know thy Name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee. For the poor shall not always be forgotten; the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish forever: up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand.

Tract. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well: the voice of my complaint. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss: O Lord, who may abide it? For there is mercy with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

Hymn 118

My soul, be on thy guard Cantica Laudis, 1850

Credo

Lloyd in E flat

Offertory. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord: and to sing praises unto thy Name, O Most Highest.

Hymn 115

Soldiers of the cross, arise de Corbeil, 1222

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Lloyd in E flat

Motet (Ave Verum)

Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born;
On the Cross thy sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from thy pierced side.
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Larghetto in F

Handel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119 (verses 1 to 32)

Tones III-4, VII-7

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Brewer in E flat

Hymn 271

We sing the glorious conquest Meiningen, 1693

Anthem

Gustav Holst

Turn back, O man; forswear thy foolish ways
Old now is earth, and none may count her days,
Yet thou, her child, whose head is crowned with flame,
Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim
'Turn back, O Man, forswear thy foolish ways!'

Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise,
Age after age their tragic empires rise.
Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep
Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep
Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one,
Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done.
Now, even now, once more from earth to sky
Peals forth in joy man's old undaunted cry
'Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!'

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin melody

Organ—Adagio (Sonata I)

Mendelssohn

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday, January 25th, tomorrow, is the Feast of the Conversion of Saint Paul. There will be third Mass at 9.30.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., in the Sister's Office.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

The Church Mission Institute will meet at St. Mark's Parish House on Tuesday, January 26th. The Conferences will be led by Mrs. John E. Hill, Diocesan Missionary Secretary. The time is as follows:

- 7.45—Mass.
- 10.00—First Conference.
- 11.15—Second Conference.
- 12.30—Intercessions in Church.
- 1.00—Lunch.
- 2.00—Third Conference.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

SEPTUAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The shadows fall swiftly this year. We have had only two Sundays after the Epiphany. Now comes the third Sunday before Lent. The Collect sounds a penitential note. "We beseech thee favorably to hear the prayers of thy people, that we who are justly punished for our offences, may be mercifully delivered by thy goodness."

The guilt of sin. The justice of punishment. The mercy of deliverance. The goodness of God. These are the realities of life. They may be temporarily obscured. They cannot ultimately be ignored. Sooner or later they must be faced. It is the course of wisdom to face them fairly. To do this requires preparation. The three weeks before Lent afford the time for preparation.

We are all following more or less attentively the proposed outlines for the remedy of social ills. Unconsciously we are acquiring a vocabulary which registers as a sign of the times. Industrial depression: Unemployment relief: Financial readjustment: War debts: Reparations: Disarmament: League of Nations: World Court. These words have passed out from council chambers into the language of the street. Not much of their grave import has been lost in the transference. And they are grave, very grave words. They are grave because they are the utterances of a grave thought impelled by circumstances serious beyond need of exaggeration, and unparalleled in history. The world is forced at last to take itself seriously. But just how seriously remains to be seen. This will depend upon how deeply it digs below the surface of its ills.

The Church takes the world very seriously indeed. Because it is the mission of the Church to save the world. It is the mission of the Church to lay the ax unto the root of the trees which are not bringing forth good fruit. It is the mission of the Church to save the world by going to the roots of the evil which is oppressing it.

The Church also has a vocabulary all her own. But it is not new. It is old, so old as to have been forgotten just because it is so familiar. So old that it has become new. Sin. Guilt. Justice. Punishment. Mercy. Deliverance. Goodness. God. The Church's vocabulary never becomes obsolete. Its significance is never lost. It applies for all men, always and everywhere. It is indelibly inscribed in the dictionary of human experience. Heaven and earth may pass away, but these words never pass away.

Guilt is the salutary pain which indicates the presence of sin. While there is a sense of guilt there is hope.

Sin is a disease which challenges cure. That challenge was taken up by the Saviour of the world.

Justice is the righteous judgment of truth and law and order.

Punishment is the inexorable consequence of disobedience of the laws of life, which may serve as a deterrent from repetition, and an instrument of purgation.

Mercy is the quality of Divine Love which desires not the death of the sinner, but rather that he should turn from his sin and be saved.

Deliverance is the shattering of the chains, the breaking of the fetters and the opening of the doors of the prison of sin.

Goodness is the nature of God which would impart itself to the sinner to make him good.

God is the Creator, the Redeemer, the Sanctifier of man. Without God man is restless and rests not until he finds Him.

The Church has kept her festival of the Manger and the Star. She turns now toward the Cross. By the Cross the world may be redeemed. Will it turn?

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 18

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Sexagesima Sunday

January 31, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 109 Not by thy mighty hand

Introit. Arise, O Lord, wherefore sleepest thou? awake, and cast us not away forever: wherefore hidest thou thy countenance, and forgettest our adversity and misery? our belly cleaveth unto the ground; arise, and save us, O Lord, our helper and our deliverer.

Ps. O God, we have heard with our ears: our fathers have told us. Glory be.

Kyrie . . . D. Lorenzo Perosi

Gradual. Let the nations know that thou, whose Name is Jehovah: art only the Most Highest over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a wheel: and as the stubble before the wind.

Tract. Thou hast moved the land, O Lord: and divided it. Heal the sores thereof: for it shaketh. That they may triumph because of the truth: that thy beloved may be delivered.

Hymn 117 He who would valiant be Winfred Douglas, 1917

Credo . . . Missa de Angelis

Offertory. O hold thou up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not; incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words: shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O Lord; thou that art the Saviour of them that put their trust in thee.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei . . . Perosi

Motet (English Hymnal, 311) Proper Melody, Rouen Version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth;

Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be my food:

O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, Holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Canon in B major . . . Schumann

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 147, 148, 149, 150 - Tones VIII-1, VII-2, VI, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Brewer in E flat

Hymn 17 The sun is sinking fast Irons, 1861

Anthem (from 'Hymn of Praise') - Mendelssohn

The sorrows of death had closed all around me, and Hell's dark terrors had got hold upon me, with trouble and deep heaviness.

But, said the Lord, Come, arise from the dead, and awake, thou that sleepest, I bring thee salvation.

We called through the darkness, Watchman, will the night soon pass? The Watchman only said: Though the morning will come, the night will come also; Ask ye, enquire ye, ask if ye will, enquire ye, return again, ask; Watchman, will the night soon pass?

The night is departing. Therefore let us cast off the works of darkness, and let us gird on the armour of light!

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin melody

Organ—Arioso in Ancient Style - Rogers

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Tuesday will be the Feast of the Purification. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, January 31st, 1932, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, February 4th, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Mrs. Grafton Burke, who will tell of the work at Ft. Yukon, Alaska.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., in the Sister's Office.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

SEXAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

These Sundays before Lent and the week days between are intended to move us to prepare a definite rule for the observance of the Forty Days. The Prayer Book tells us that "the Church requires such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion."

The abstinence is to be measured by the avocation and circumstances of the individual. A measure of abstinence which would unfit the individual for the performance of the required duties of an avocation would defeat its purpose. So also would be a measure of abstinence which would incapacitate a person for extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion. Lent abstinence should have a definite moral and spiritual purpose. The purpose is to gain an increase in moral and spiritual growth. Moral growth is gained by doing penance for our sins. Spiritual growth is gained by more closely identifying ourselves with Our Lord.

To abstain from flesh meats on Wednesdays and Fridays, to eat meat once a day only on other days (Sundays excepted), and to add a measured rule of devotion suitable to personal circumstances and beyond the ordinary acts and exercises would be all that could be safely recommended for a general direction. And it would be sufficient. There are avocations which require modifications. There are circumstances which require dispensations. Persons who are subject to exhausting working conditions: persons who are habitually subjected to intense nervous strain: invalids: young mothers: children: persons over sixty years of age: for all of these there must be modifications and dispensations. And I have no hesitation in saying that strict all day fasts should not be attempted. The measure of Lent abstinence should be sane and adaptable. There should be no ill-advised heroics. After this has been said, the rest must be left to the conscience and common sense of the individual.

Self discipline means precisely what the words literally imply. The discipline applies to the whole, entire self. Discipline of the body, its senses, appetites and desires. Discipline of the tongue. Discipline of the thoughts. Discipline of the emotions. Discipline of the temper. A self-disciplined person will never fail in the end to find the right way of conquering impossible situations. The self-disciplined person learns how to watch in solitude: to listen in silence: to wait in patience.

But there is a higher reward for self-discipline than this. The self-disciplined person becomes more and more acutely sensitive to the motions of God. The self-disciplined person registers, and responds to, the currents of Godly motions which direct, sanctify and govern the soul and the body. The self-disciplined person reacts more and more readily to holy desires, good counsels, and just works. The self-disciplined person may not be defended from enemies, Satanic and human, but the self-disciplined person is defended from the fear of them. The heart of the self-disciplined person is set to obey God's Commandments. The self-disciplined person finds that peace which the world cannot give.

It is this state of peace of soul which clarifies the mind, and sensitizes the body, which qualifies the self-disciplined person, first for ordinary, and then for extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion.

Without this disciplinary preparation, acts and exercises of devotion may be facile but futile. Without discipline there cannot be humility.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima Sunday

February 7, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 226 Love divine, all loves excelling

Le Jeune

Introit. Be thou my God and defender, and a place of refuge that thou mayest save me: for thou art my upholder, my refuge, and my Saviour; and for thy holy Name's sake be thou my leader, and my sustainer.

Ps. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliver me in thy righteousness. Glory be.

Kyrie Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people. Thou hast mightily delivered thy people: even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Tract. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God. It is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Hymn 121 Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost Stainer, 1868

Credo Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. Blessed art thou, O Lord: O teach me thy statutes: with my lips have I been telling of all the judgments of thy mouth.

Hymn 234 My God, I love Thee Cologne, 1741

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lovelock in A minor

Motet (Ave Verum) Gounod

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross thy Sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from thy pierced side.
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.

O Jesu, hear us,
O Jesu, spare us,
Jesu, Son of Mary,
O grant us, Lord, thy mercy, Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ — Allegro Appassionata

Harwood

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 37

Tone I-10

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II-2, III
with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn 23 The day is past and over Brown, 1862

Anthem Philip James

I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient time,
And now, as then, thy mercies hold
Their hope of grace divine.

I have remembered my song at night,
Communing with my heart,
And know thy love is still my right
Nor ever will depart.

Thy voice was in the thunders,
The waters were afraid;
Yet in my day of trouble
I called on thee for aid!

Who is so great a God as the Lord!
His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer outpoured,
Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin melody

Organ—Andante Harwood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Bishop will bless the new St. Michael's Chapel, Longacre Boulevard and Cypress Street, Yeadon, next Friday, February 12th, at 10 A. M. Take Route 13 on Walnut Street.

St. Mark's exceeded the Missionary Expectation for 1931.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday-mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., in the Sister's Office.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

We are reminded today that self-discipline is a means to an end. It is not itself the end. There must always be a purpose for self-discipline. Otherwise it will be dull and futile. We lose our courage when we lose sight of our goal.

Self-discipline is naturally irksome to a small boy. But later on, if the boy develops a taste for athletics, he will cheerfully undergo rigorous training. Nothing seems to be hard for him. If he has it in him to be something more than an athlete, if he has an ambition to become a student, he will sacrifice play time for study without being urged. If he really wants to do something he will accept necessary hardships.

This does not sound devotional. As a matter of fact it comes straight out of the most devotional book in the world, the Holy Bible. It does not sound like the language of the saints. As a matter of fact it is a free translation of the language of one of the greatest saints who ever lived, Saint Paul. Saint Paul said that he kept his body under, and brought it into, subjection because he did not want to be a castaway. He endured cruel hardships to be a Christian. He went through incredible perils to be an Apostle. He acquired virtue after virtue. But he was never satisfied until he had gained charity. He said that all the other virtues amounted to nothing without charity. He tried for all the others. He had all the others. But charity was the virtue that mattered most.

He had thought thoroughly and prayed unceasingly and struggled hard for the crowning virtue. Read the Epistle for today and see how much he knew about charity. He understood every point and application. He had so very evidently lived the thing he was writing about. He had learned by experience to meet every test. He had learned the technique of charity. He wrote a handbook of tactics. No one could have done this without a long course of practice.

Read the list of his adventures in last Sunday's Epistle. And then note what he writes of these adventures. "All that amounts to nothing to me or to anyone else, if I have not grown long-suffering and kind and magnanimous and generous in my judgments of people. It amounts to less than nothing and worse, for it is all as unconvincing as the banging of a gong or the tinkling of a cymbal, if I am not charitable." He knew what we all know, that nothing does so much harm to the cause of religion as uncharitableness. The uncharitable pious people are the pests of Christendom.

So the last lesson given to us before we go into Lent is that whatever we may attempt in the way of self-discipline, we must never forget that the purpose of the discipline is to make us charitable. That whatever virtues we may set out to develop, the indispensable virtue is charity.

We all need to write as a heading for our Lent rule, "For their sakes I sanctify myself." Whatever I give up must be for God's sake and for the sake of my family, and the people who have to live with me, I shall do it for them.

This is the only motive that will bear the strain of temptation. Self-regard will snap under sufficient pressure. Spiritual prudence rooted in self-interest will melt away under the fire of temptation. But the charity which amounts to the love which would hesitate at no sacrifice, will gladly endure any hardship and submit to any discipline.

So Lent discipline is obedience to the two great Commandments of the Law, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and thy neighbor as thyself."

Its object is an increase in charity.

Without self discipline the love of self will constrain us. With self-discipline the love of Christ will constrain us. Through discipline we lose our life, Through charity we find it.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

February 14, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 and 12.10 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 123

Forty days and forty nights

Introit. He shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto him; I will deliver him, and bring him to honour; with length of days will I satisfy him.

Herbst

Ps. Whoso dwelleth under the defense of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Glory be.

Kyrie

Gradual. He shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Mode IV

Tract. Whoso dwelleth under the defense of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold: my God, in him will I trust. For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter: and from the noisome pestilence. He shall defend thee under his wings: and thou shalt be safe under his feathers. His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler: thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night. Nor for the arrow that flieth by day; for the pestilence that walketh in darkness: nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day. A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee. For he shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy way. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone. Thou shalt go upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him up, because he hath known my Name. He shall call upon me, and I will hear him: yea, I am with him in trouble. I will deliver him and bring him to honour: with long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Credo

Mode IV

Offertory. He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: his faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Hymn 126

Christian! dost thou see them

Dykes

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Missa Penitentialis

Motet (English Hymnal, 323)

Munster Gesangbuch., 1677

O most merciful,

O most bountiful!

God the Father Almighty!

By the Redeemer's sweet intercession,

Hear us, help us when we cry. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Maestoso-Con Moto

Harwood

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 73, 74

Tones VII-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones II-2, III

with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn (English Hymnal, 65)

Rouen Church Melody

The fast, as taught by holy lore,
We keep in solemn course once more;
The fast, to all men known, and bound
In forty days of yearly round.

More sparing, therefore let us make
The words we speak, the food we take,
Our sleep and mirth,—and closer barred
Be every sense in holy guard.

The laws and seers that were of old
In divers ways this Lent foretold,
Which Christ, all seasons' King and Guide,
In after ages sanctified.

Forgive the sin that we have wrought;
Increase the good that we have sought;
That we, at length, our wanderings o'er,
May please thee here and evermore.

We pray thee, Holy Trinity,
One God, unchanging Unity,
That we from this our abstinence
May reap the fruits of penitence. Amen.

Anthem

George C. Martin

Whoso dwelleth under the defense of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold, my God, in him will I trust.

He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers. His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

O Jesus, King of Paradise, O keep me in thy love,
And guide me to that happy land of perfect rest above,
Where loyal hearts and true stand ever in the light,
All rapture through and through, in God's most Holy sight.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

T. Campion, 1575-1619

Organ—Ave Maria Stella

Titelouze

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

The Rector's Discretionary Fund needs to be replenished.

There will be a day of Retreat for teachers and business women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia, on Saturday, February 20th. Conductor: The Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Germantown, Pa. Retreat begins with Mass at 8.00 A. M. and ends at 4.00 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Our Lord was led of the Spirit into the wilderness. In solitude He overcame the first enemy, sin, which is the sting of death. Later on we shall see Him in solitude overcoming the last enemy which is death.

All great conflicts take place in solitude. The results are revealed later on. The great achievements of life are accomplished by persons who have first been led by the spirit into the wilderness. The decisive hours of life are the hours of solitude. One cannot live deeply until one has learned to live alone. This holds true for any one who has an object of any kind in life. The object is discerned in solitude. Desire for attainment is kindled in solitude. Determination for sustained effort is set in solitude. Toil is spurred on in solitude. Temptations are overcome in solitude. Privations are endured in solitude. Renunciations are sealed in solitude. This is true first and supremely in the adventures of the soul. The soul that would seek adventure must first seek solitude.

Solitude in the centre of a great city would seem impossible. Solitude in some remote spot would seem sheer loneliness. But the kind of solitude we are thinking about is possible anywhere and makes loneliness impossible. It means voluntary detachment from environment and at least temporary indifference to adverse circumstances. It brings peace to the harassed, cheer to the lonely, clarity to the confused, strength to the weak, consolation to the sorrowful. And why? Because in interior solitude God makes Himself known. "Be still and know that I am God."

Lent is the time for learning the science and cultivating the art of interior solitude. It is the time to practise the Presence of God. The meaning of the several kinds of abstinences is that they are methods of escape from the distractions that crowd out the things that matter more. If Lent is anticipated with this in mind, it will afford a most welcome prospect. Our Lord is calling a very tired world this Lent. "Come ye apart into a desert place and rest awhile."

There usually comes at this time of the year a sense of strain which is the result of the pressure of the cares from which no one is free. Frequently an escape is sought in a change of scene. But what is really needed is a change of mind. It is astonishing to find how many of the cares of life disappear when once a changed outlook has been acquired. Spirits revive, confidence returns, nerves grow steady.

The change of mind which we seek in Lent goes very much deeper than merely getting rid of material anxieties, though this may be one of the results. It means staying the mind in God. The mind that is stayed in God will be kept in perfect peace.

It means letting the mind which was in Christ Jesus be in us. This mind will transform passive suffering into active sacrifice. This mind overcomes the world by the power of the Cross.

For this spiritual exercise there is a safely charted way. It lies within the power of any one who is willing to follow it.

The first stage is the practise of simple penitence. Examination of conscience: confession of sin: purpose of amendment: readiness to make satisfaction for injuries done to others.

The second stage is the practise of prayer: the reading of Holy Scripture: the reading of approved spiritual writers: the setting apart of fixed times for solitude and silence, preferably in Church: the practise of thinking quietly about God.

The third stage is the frequent, regular and devout reception of Holy Communion. The aim should be the increase of the frequency of Communion. This must be accompanied by the practise of realizing union with God. The life of Christ in the soul must be the great reality.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

February 21, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 and 12.10 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, Thou Joy of loving hearts! Christe Redemptor

Introit. Call to remembrance thy tender compassion and mercy, O Lord, and thy loving-kindnesses toward us, which have been ever of old: neither suffer our enemies to triumph against us; deliver us, O God of Israel, out of all our misery and trouble.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - - Cascolini

Gradual. The sorrows of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and misery, and forgive me all my sin.

Tract. The Lord said unto the woman of Canaan: It is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table. Jesus said unto her, Woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt.

Hymn 393 Lord Jesus, think on me Samuel Howard, 1762

Credo - - - - - Missa de Angelis

Offertory. My delight shall be in thy commandments, which I have loved: my hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved.

Hymn 125 Lord, as to Thy dear Cross we flee Cologne, 1741

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - - - Cascolini

Motet (Ave Verum) - - - - - Elgar

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross thy Sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from thy pierced side
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony

O Jesu, hear us,
Son of Mary.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Cantabile - - - - - Jongen

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 106 - - - - - Tone VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - - - Stanford in B flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 65) - - - - - Rouen Church Melody

The fast, as taught by holy lore,
We keep in solemn course once more;
The fast, to all men known, and bound
In forty days of yearly round.

More sparing, therefore let us make
The words we speak, the food we take,
Our sleep and mirth,—and closer barred
Be every sense in holy guard.

The laws and seers that were of old
In divers ways this Lent foretold,
Which Christ, all seasons' King and Guide,
In after ages sanctified.

Forgive the sin that we have wrought;
Increase the good that we have sought;
That we, at length, our wanderings o'er,
May please thee here and evermore.

We pray thee, Holy Trinity,
One God, unchanging Unity,
That we from this our abstinence
May reap the fruits of penitence. Amen.

Anthem - - - - - Marcello

Give ear unto me, Lord, I beseech thee, for I have walked in thy commandments: Let me be judged with righteous judgment, O let my sentence come from thy presence.

O hold thou me up; guide me in the path of thy commandments: I am thy servant, teach me thy statutes, hold up my goings in all thy paths; so that my footsteps may not be moved.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - - - T. Campion, 1575-1619

Organ—Toccata per l'Elevazione - - - - - Frescobaldi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

It was a sick child who brought the woman of Canaan to Our Lord. There is always something in life that can bring us to Him. That something is the thing that has gone beyond endurance. When a person arrives at that stage, one of two things will happen. Either the person will turn toward Our Lord or away from Him. Everything depends upon the use made of the occasion and this in turn depends upon the previous preparation or lack of it. Whatever that may have been, the fact of the matter is that trouble may bring a person to prayer or despair. If there is no knowledge or experience of prayer, the power of resistance breaks down. If there is even a feeble remnant of prayer instinct which has survived persistent neglect, it may be sufficient to impel a soul to struggle Godward through hindrances and delayed answers. It is in such struggles that faith grows and results are obtained. This is the faith that overcomes the world.

Faith is the most practical thing in the world. Faith is practical because it faces facts. Optimism is futile because it evades. Pessimism is fatal because it exaggerates. Faith sees things as they are and at the same time sees far enough ahead to see what they may become, because it sees far enough above to see God. And it is God who makes the difference.

Of late we have had a surfeit of the word depression. It has developed a morbid obsession. I do not deny the facts which have superinduced the depression. But what I do say is that the facts can just as easily call for faith. These days can be days of faith. It would be much more healthy-minded to make them so. Depression is destructive. It gets nowhere excepting farther down. Faith is constructive. It recovers and regains and restores. Days of faith. Why not?

The answer to this is that one must have God. It is not faith in man or natural resources that can save the world. Only faith in God can do this. And faith in God has for a long time been systematically minimized. God has been forgotten. Worship has been neglected.

Fear is the reaction to faithlessness. It is a logical consequence. "Why are ye so fearful, O ye of little faith?" So it is not fear but faithlessness that needs attention.

There is something underneath the faithlessness, however, which causes it. Before any one can believe it is necessary to know Him in whom the belief is centred. Here is where the root of the trouble lies. Faith is the first of the Theological Virtues. It is the power by which man knows God and Jesus Christ whom He has sent. This knowledge is life eternal. It carries the soul beyond the boundaries of time, place and circumstance. In its light life is seen in the large. Little things are seen as little. Great things are seen as great. The things that are seen by natural vision are recognized as temporal. The things that are not seen are sensed as eternal. A sense of proportion is established. A true perspective is gained. It is perceived that nothing happens without mystery. Each event becomes luminous with the Presence of God.

From this follows the Virtue of Hope. "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." "We are saved by hope: for what a man hath, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it?" Hope then is not an emotional will o' the wisp. It is the attraction of an unseen, substantial reality, perceived by Faith. Hope is a steady and compelling virtue. It lifts up the heart above emotion and sentiment, above mood and temperamental agitation. The soul possessed by it is literally saved from soul, mind and body over and over again. The sporadic outbreaks of suicide have been the ghastly results of the lack of it.

Charity or the Love of God is the crowning Virtue of the three. By the virtue of charity the soul rests in the confidence which supports it in the dark hours of paralysis of prayer. In the crisis when "we know not what we should pray for" it moves the soul to depend upon the Spirit who helps its infirmities, and it moves intercession according to the will of God. The soul sees clearly that all things work together for good to them that love God.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

February 28, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 134 Lord, who throughout these forty days Day's Psalter, 1562

Introit. Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net: look thou upon me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate and in misery.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - D. Lorenzo Perosi

Gradual. Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand: let the heathen be judged in thy sight. While mine enemies are driven back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

Tract. Unto thee lift I up mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heavens. Behold, even as the eyes of servants: look unto the hand of their masters. And as the eyes of a maiden: unto the hand of her mistress. Even so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God: until he have mercy upon us. Have mercy upon us, O Lord: have mercy upon us.

Hymn 235 O Love that casts out fear Henry Smart, 1881

Credo - - - Missa de Angelis

Offertory. The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart: sweeter also than honey in the honeycomb; moreover by them is thy servant taught.

Hymn 128 Christian, seek not yet repose William H. Monk, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Perosi

Hymn (English Hymnal, 329) - Ancient Irish Hymn Melody

Strengthen for service, Lord, the hands That holy things have taken;
Let ears that now have heard thy songs To clamour never waken.
Lord, may the tongues which 'Holy' sang Keep free from all deceiving;
The eyes which saw thy love be bright, Thy blessed hope perceiving.

The feet that tread thy holy courts
From light do thou not banish;
The bodies by thy Body fed
With thy new life replenish. Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral - - - Bossi

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 136, 137, 138

Tones III-6, I-9, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis -

Stanford in B flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 67) -

T. Campion, 1575-1619

Now is the healing time decreed
For sins of heart, of word or deed,
When we in humble fear record
The wrong that we have done the Lord;

Therefore with fasting and with prayer,
Our secret sorrow we declare;
With all good striving seek his face,
And lowly hearted plead for grace.

Who, alway merciful and good,
Has borne so long our wayward mood,
Nor cut us off unsparingly
In our so great iniquity.

Cleanse us, O Lord, from every stain,
Help us the meed of praise to gain,
Till with the Angels linked in love
Joyful we tread thy courts above.

Father and Son and Spirit blest,
To thee be every prayer address,
Who art in three-fold Name adored,
From age to age, the only Lord. Amen.

Anthem - - - Coleridge-Taylor

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Sion.

As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees that are therein, for they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness.

Sing us one of the songs of Sion! How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, yea, if I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth.

Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said, Down with it, even to the ground.

O daughter of Babylon, wasted with misery, yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children, and throweth them against the stones.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Andernach Gesangbuch, 1608

Organ—Chorale-Prelude 'O Sacred Head' - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, February 28th, 1932, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, March 3d, 1932, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Rev. Edgar H. Goold, Principal of S. Augustine's School, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Copies of the Rector's letter for last Sunday will be found on the table at the door. The weekly issue of the letters has been increased from 500 to 700.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The most eloquent prayers are the hearty desires of humble people. They are articulate but they rise above the stage of vocal prayers. They fill the mind yet will not rest until they have gone beyond mental prayer. They energize the affections and they ascend to God and are set forth in His sight as the incense. They are the hidden oblations of the unknown souls.

Saint Catherine of Sienna wrote "lose thy self wholly, and the more thou shalt lose, the more thou shalt find, and God will not despise thy desire."

The desire of the heart is the gift of God. It is greater than the thing desired. It is an affinity with God who is the sum of all desire. It does not make much difference whether the particular thing desired at the moment is gained or not. If the desire raises the heart to God, it has served its purpose. It may never have found expression in words nor called down a sign from heaven. It is sufficient that God has looked upon it.

It was Saint Catherine of Sienna who wrote also, "Care not to present a finished work to God who is Infinite Love and demands from thee only infinite desire."

If the silent prayer of desire is as the incense, the desire itself is as the kindled charcoal which sends the fragrant cloud heavenward.

There are many books dealing with the subject of prayer. There are books about the difficulties of prayer. There are books about the science and the art and the method of prayer. These books should be read and studied. The principles contained in them should be practised under competent direction. But it must always be remembered that the essence of the reality of prayer is the desire of God. Without the desire of God what seems to have the semblance of prayer is only the expression of self-will.

It is good to be reminded that the hearty desires of humble people are the most acceptable offerings in God's sight. And that these desires are born in the deep experiences of life. Not extraordinary experience possible only for privileged souls, but the ordinary experiences of ordinary people. The desire of God is kindled in as many ways as there are souls. The desire may lie like a spark buried under the ashes of dire disaster. But the spark is there. At such times as Saint Jane Frances has written, "The truest system of prayer is when there is no system, when the Holy Spirit has mastered the soul who prays, for He can do with it what He wills."

I wonder if there is any one among those who practise prayer who cannot remember hours, and perhaps days, when under an agony of anxiety or grief or physical pain, the accustomed method of prayer seemed to break down. Any one who has paced up and down a hospital corridor waiting for the return of some one from an operating room, will know what I mean. Any one who has known the numbness of a grief that time cannot heal, will know what I mean. Any one who has known pain that lasts not for a few moments, but persists for days and nights that seem endless, will know what I mean. And in these days there are unrecorded experiences of men and women who have walked miles of streets looking for the one that could not be found. All bad enough when there is no one to ask at the end of the day, "did you find anything?" But to look forward to this and the daily "no" that stabs two hearts! Only those who have lived through this can know what it means.

What can it all mean? There is only one answer to this question, I think. There was a great preacher once who had done much to teach people to pray. One day he was asked to be allowed to see his library. He took them to his cell and pointed to his Crucifix. For the prayer of desire the Crucifix is your library and guide.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 23

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✕ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 6, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and friends of St. Margaret's Community, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia, on Thursday, March 10. Conductor: The Rev. Herbert S. Hastings, of St. Luke's Church, New York City. Retreat begins with Mass at 8.00 A. M. and ends at 4.00 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The miracle of the feeding of the five thousand was an introduction to Our Lord's teaching concerning the bread of life, which follows the recording of the miracle, through the rest of the Sixth Chapter of Saint John's Gospel.

First came the physical miracle. Five barley loaves and two small fishes were offered to Our Lord. He took them, blessed them, distributed them to His Disciples, and the disciples to five thousand men who were amply fed. The fragments of the loaves which remained were gathered together and filled twelve baskets.

A miracle is a work of God. It supercedes but does not violate natural law. It reveals a supernatural law of God, not known to man. It manifests a Divine power beyond the range of human power. It is one of the things that are impossible with men, but possible with God. God is omnipotent. His power is infinite. Man can neither measure nor limit it.

Our Lord manifested this power by a work of compassion. By the power of God, he revealed the love of God. He did this from the beginning of His earthly mission. He was miraculously born of a Virgin. He rose from the dead. He graciously gave many signs and wonders. They were all signs and wonders of Divine love. They revealed to us laws above the laws we know. They gave evidence of powers above the powers we have discovered or can discover, except in Him. They taught us that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand. That the Kingdom of God is not remote in some far off astronomical space. That by faith we may enter into it, here and now, and comprehend for ourselves what is the breadth, and length, and depth and height; and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge; and that He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think.

But clearly it was not the will of God that there should continue a miraculous ministry which would forever banish the temporal ills of human life. Hunger and sickness and sorrow and death were not to be abolished for us any more than they were for Him, who was made Man for us men and for our salvation. But just as clearly it was God's will to show us that in all these things we may be more than conquerors through Him that loved us. That nothing that may befall us in life or death can separate us from the love of God.

In the part of the Chapter which follows, Our Lord taught us the means by which this was brought about. He declared that He was the bread of life. That the bread which He would give is His Flesh.

In the night in which He was betrayed, He took bread: and when He had given thanks, He brake it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, Take, eat, this is my Body, which is given for you. He took the Cup, and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this; for this is my Blood which is shed for you.

Here is the miraculous feeding of the multitude which no man can number, which continues to the end of the world. In this multitude you have your place. With them you are fed. You did not see the first and lesser miracle. But you may see and share the greater at the Altars of the Church today and every day.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 24

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Passion Sunday

March 13, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 338 (Part I) Now, my tongue the mystery telling

Pange Lingua

Introit. Give sentence with me, O God, and defend the cause of my soul against the ungodly people. Deliver me, and rid me from the deceitful and wicked man; for thou, O Lord, art my God, and my strong salvation.

Ps. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me: and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

Kyrie

Mode IV

Gradual. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee. It is the Lord that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth me up above mine adversaries: thou shalt deliver me from the wicked man.

Tract. Many a time have they fought against me: from my youth up. But they have not prevailed against me the plowers ploughed upon my back. And made long furrows: but the righteous Lord hath hewn the snares of the ungodly in pieces.

Hymn 154 When I survey the wondrous Cross

Rockingham

Credo

Mode IV

Offertory. I will give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart: O do well unto thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word: quicken thou me according to thy word, O Lord.

Hymn 158 O Sacred Head surrounded

Hassler, 1601

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Missa Penitentialis

Hymn 338 (Part II) Therefore we, before Him bending

Pange Lingua

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude 'O Man, Bewail'

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 69, 70

Tones II-1, IV-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones IV, III-4 with faux-bourbons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn 144 The Royal Banners forward go Vexilla Regis, Mode 1

Anthem (from the St. John Passion)

Bach

O Lord, who dares to smite thee?
And falsely to indict thee?
Deride and mock thee so?
Thou needest not confession,
Who knowest not transgression,
As we and all our children know.

Why doth the Saviour languish
Beneath this load of anguish?
Whence comes this mortal woe?
The wrath that sinners merit,
The sinless doth inherit,
And pays the debt his debtors owe.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Andernach Gesangbuch, 1608

Organ—Cantabile

Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 338 (Part I) Now, my tongue the mystery telling

Pange Lingua

Introit. Give sentence with me, O God, and defend the cause of my soul against the ungodly people. Deliver me, and rid me from the deceitful and wicked man; for thou, O Lord, art my God, and my strong salvation.

Ps. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me: and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

Kyrie

Mode IV

Gradual. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee. It is the Lord that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth me up above mine adversaries: thou shalt deliver me from the wicked man.

Tract. Many a time have they fought against me: from my youth up. But they have not prevailed against me: the plowers ploughed upon my back. And made long furrows: but the righteous Lord hath hewn the snares of the ungodly in pieces.

Hymn 154 When I survey the wondrous Cross

Rockingham

Credo

Mode IV

Offertory. I will give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart: O do well unto thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word: quicken thou me according to thy word, O Lord.

Hymn 158 O Sacred Head surrounded

Hassler, 1601

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Missa Penitentialis

Hymn 338 (Part II) Therefore we, before Him bending

Pange Lingua

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude 'O Man, Bewail'

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 69, 70

Tones II-1, IV-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones IV, III-4 with faux-bourbons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn 144 The Royal Banners forward go Vexilla Regis, Mode 1

Anthem (from the St. John Passion)

Bach

O Lord, who dares to smite thee?
And falsely to indict thee?
Deride and mock thee so?
Thou needest not confession,
Who knowest not transgression,
As we and all our children know.

Why doth the Saviour languish
Beneath this load of anguish?
Whence comes this mortal woe?
The wrath that sinners merit,
The sinless doth inherit,
And pays the debt his debtors owe.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Andernach Gesangbuch, 1608

Organ—Cantabile

Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, MUS. BAC., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

My DEAR PEOPLE:

The Church begins today to prepare us for the contemplation of Our Lord's suffering for us men and for our salvation. The mystery of the Passion is the theme of the week. Suffering and redemption are the key words. They cannot be separated as Christians understand and use them. Redemption through suffering is the way of the Cross. The Cross is the medicine of the world. The medicine which is the cure for the sins of the world.

Two questions may be asked by the non-Christian. Is there any other cure? Is the Cross the cure? What are the answers?

Take the first one. Suffering is an inescapable fact. Christian and non-Christian are confronted with it. It is not possible to overlook it. The world is full of it. There can be no difference in opinion about this. The differences of opinion begin when methods of meeting suffering are discussed. I do not at the moment remember more than four methods that have ever been propounded. Endure it. Drown it. Escape it. Use it. Despair. Madness. Suicide. Redemption. The first three are the only methods discovered, and the only counsels given by the non-Christian philosophies. The last is the method and the counsel of the Christian Religion which stands alone over against the other three. All four have been submitted to the test of experience. The tests are open for observation.

Just what has purposeless endurance of suffering accomplished by way of alleviation? Just how has it improved the conditions of life in this world? Has it aroused intelligent sympathy? Has it stimulated scientific study? Has it advanced the practise of medicine and surgery? Has it developed the art of nursing? Has it inspired the building of hospitals? Has it developed a type of character to be fairly described as admirable? Has it done anything constructive?

Just what has the method of drowning suffering accomplished? The post-war orgie of sensualism and dissipation have afforded us opportunities for first hand observation. Is any one really content with our present social conditions? Does any one seriously assert that life is as it should be? It is true that gangsters and racketeers who have organized to pander to vice are condemned. But does it occasionally occur to the world at large that back of the supply of vice is the demand for it? Will the thought soon suggest itself that the agents of organized vice are the creatures of the vicious? No, the method of drowning suffering has not worked.

Just what has the method of escape with its counsel of suicide accomplished? The record of achievement is too ghastly to invite close inspection. Though close inspection is forced upon those whose function it is to serve behind the scenes. No sane person advocates it. But what of the insane persons who have been driven to it? What of the maladjusted moral and social relations which have led to bleak, black, blind, despair and death. We shudder at effects while we shun frank consideration of the causes.

The answer therefore to the first question is that no other cure has ever been satisfactory.

The second question will be answered in Holy Week. The final words of the answer will be given to the world on Good Friday. Passion Week, in anticipation of the answer, is concerned with certain preparatory considerations.

Suffering is the inevitable sequence of sin.

Suffering may be redemptive or destructive.

Penitence effects the one, impenitence the other.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 25

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

March 20, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Monday to Wednesday, at 12.10

Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 143 All Glory, Laud and Honour -
Procession { 145 Ride on! ride on in majesty Teschner
Winchester New

Introit. O Lord, remove not thy succour afar from me; have respect to my defense and hear me: deliver me from the mouth of the lion; yea, from the horns of the unicorns hast thou regarded my cry. My God, my God, look upon me; why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health and from the words of my complaint.

Kyrie Claudio Casciolini

Gradual. Thou hast holden me by my right hand; thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and after that receive me with glory. Truly God is loving unto Israel: even unto such as are of a clean heart. Nevertheless, my feet were almost gone: my treadings had well-nigh slipped. And why, I was grieved at the wicked: I do also see the ungodly in such prosperity.

Tract. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? And art so far from my health: and from the words of my complaint? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest. And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel. Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliver them. They called upon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded. But as for me, I am a worm, and no man: a very scorn of men, and the outcast of the people. All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying: He trusted in God, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, if he will have him. They stand staring and looking upon me: they part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. Save me from the lion's mouth: thou hast heard me also from among the horns of the unicorns. O praise the Lord, ye that fear him: magnify him, all ye of the seed of Jacob. They shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation: they shall come, and the heavens shall declare his righteousness. Unto a people that shall be born: whom the Lord hath made.

Credo Mode IV

Offertory. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness: I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man: neither found I any to comfort me: they gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they gave me vinegar to drink.

Hymn 157 Sweet the moments, rich in blessing Moravian Melody
Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Claudio Casciolini

Hymn (English Hymnal, 311) Proper Melody, Rouen Version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth;

Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be my food:

O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, Holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—'As Jesus Stood beside the Cross'

Scheidt

Solemn Ebensong

Tone III-I

Psalm 104
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II-2, VIII-1
with faux-bourbons

Hymn 144 The Royal Banners forward go Vexilla Regis, Mode I
Anthem (from the St. John Passion) Bach

Rest here in peace, Redeemer blest and holy, Henceforth no more will I bewail thee, Rest here in peace, and lead thou me to peace.

The grave will not for ever close me in, but when my Redeemer calls, then haste I glorified the God of heaven to meet.

Lord Jesus, thy dear angel send,
Whene'er my mortal life shall end,
And bear my soul to heaven.
Within its narrow chamber keep
My body safe in painless sleep,
Till thy last call be given.
And when from death thou wakest me,
In bliss untold mine eyes shall see,
O Son of God, thy glorious face,
My Saviour and my Fount of Grace.
Lord Jesus Christ, O hear thou me,
Thee will I praise eternally.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Andernach Gesangbuch, 1608

Organ—Chorale-Prelude: 'Ah, how fleeting' Bach

Maundy Thursday

March 24, 1932

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9:30 A. M.

Hymns 320, 328, 338

The Ordinary of the Mass Willan in D

Introit. But as for us, it behoveth us to glory in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ: in whom is our salvation, our life, and resurrection; by whom we are saved, and obtained our freedom.

Ps. God be merciful unto us and bless us: and shew us the light of his countenance, and be merciful unto us.

Gradual. Christ became obedient for our sakes unto death: even the death of the Cross. Wherefore hath God highly exalted him: and given him the Name which is above every name.

Offertory The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

THE ACCOUNTING WARDEN ANNOUNCES THE RECEIPT OF CONTRIBUTIONS IN AN AMOUNT SUFFICIENT TO DISCHARGE THE CURRENT INDEBTEDNESS OF THE PARISH BY THE PAYMENT OF THE LOAN TO THE BANK.

THE RECTOR ANNOUNCES THAT THE VESTRY HAVE DECIDED TO DEVOTE THE EASTER OFFERING TO THE FUND WHICH THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE IS RAISING TO DISCHARGE THE MISSIONARY RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIOCESE. A SPECIAL COMMUNICATION ON THE SUBJECT WILL BE SENT TO THE PARISHIONERS DURING HOLY WEEK.

St. Mark's Branch of the Church Periodical Club asks for books for three Mission Libraries, also for the new Benson Library at St. Augustine's College, Raleigh, North Carolina. Please send books to St. Mark's Parish House, addressed to the Church Periodical Club.

The Confirmation Class for boys will meet on Saturday morning at 11.30 in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Monday afternoon, at 3 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The mind of the people who had heard that Our Lord was coming to Jerusalem was for going out to meet Him. As they met the approaching procession, they were filled with enthusiasm. They joined in the tribute and spread their garments in the way and cast their palm branches upon the ground and cried "Hosanna."

What was the mind of Our Lord? His mind was to make Himself of no reputation, to take upon Him the form of a servant, to humble Himself, and to become obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

It is this contrast of minds which lends to Palm Sunday the brave sadness which brings tears to the eyes and blurs the sight of the waving palms. It is the searing of this mind set on sacrificial dying, which brings a lump to the throat and changes a triumphant hosanna to a sharp cry of pain.

The fickle mind of the people. The unmoveable mind of Our Lord. The singing crowd: The silent Figure: The waiting city: The intrepid Victim: The tribute of the moment: The tragedy of the week: Words cannot express it. Art cannot portray it.

How does Palm Sunday in this year of nineteen hundred and thirty-two compare with that first day of palms? The procession today is vastly multiplied in numbers. But has the crowd that waits for the signal to drown the Hosannas with the savage cries of Crucify diminished? Has the world changed so very much. It is true that for the most part, and with few exceptions, men are not crying "Crucify" today. Neither are they given very much to "Hosannas." There is tolerance of a sort. But it is the tolerance of indifference. The indifferent very often hold the balance of power. They may be roused to right or wrong. When they are roused they make history. A teacher of mine years ago used to say that the problem of the indifferent is to make them different? But what will make the difference?

Saint Paul answers the question so far as Christians are concerned. "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." "We have the mind of Christ," he wrote to the Corinthian Christians. It was and is the mind of Christ which makes the difference. The mind which moves us, for His sake, to make ourselves of no reputation, to take upon ourselves the form of a servant, to humble ourselves and to become obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross. The martyrs in the days of persecution had the mind of Christ. A martyr is a witness. As the word is most commonly used it denotes a witness who has died for his faith. A witness who avows his religion in face of danger, but does not suffer death is a confessor. The martyr dies for his religion. The confessor lives for it. Both have the mind of Christ.

No one who reads this letter is in the least likely to become a martyr. But we are all bound to be confessors. Not in a particularly heroic way. But in a way that will be telling in our own sphere.

If we can gain and keep and be kept in the mind of Our Lord through the ordinary life, in the ordinary way; if we can be humble and serviceable and obedient to the demands for sacrifice in the affairs of life in which we have part; we may take our palms and go forth in peace.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Easter

March 27, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00, 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 168 Hail! Festal Day
Procession { 172 Jesus Christ is Risen Today Baden-Powell Lyra Davidica,

1708

Introit. I am risen, and still with thee, alleluia; thou hast laid thine hand upon me, alleluia; thy knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me, alleluia.

Ps. O Lord, thou hast searched me out and known me: thou knowest my downsitte, and mine uprising. Glory be.

Kyrie (Messe Solennelle de Paques) Gounod

Gradual. This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will be joyful and glad in it. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for ever.

Alleluia. Christ, our Passover: is sacrificed for us.

Sequence. Christians, to the Paschal Victim offer your thankful praises. A Lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless, reconcileth sinners to the Father. Death and Life have contended in that combat stupendous: The Prince of Life, who died, reigns immortal.

Speak, Mary, declaring what thou sawest wayfaring?

'The Tomb of Christ, who is living, the glory of Jesu's resurrection: Bright angels attesting, the shroud and napkin resting. Yea, Christ my hope is arisen; to Galilee he goes before you.'

Christ indeed from death is risen, our new life obtaining.

Have mercy, victor King, ever reigning! Amen. Alleluia.

Credo Gounod in E flat

Offertory. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, alleluia.

Hymn 178 At the Lamb's high feast we sing Hintze, 1678

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Gounod in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis Gounod in E flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcome will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Piece Heroique Cesar Franck

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 113, 114, 118 Tones V-2, Peregrinus, I-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Walmisley in D major

Hymn 172 Jesus Christ is Risen Today Lyra Davidica, 1708

Anthem (from the Messiah) Handel

Hallelujah! for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

The kingdom of this world is become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

King of Kings, and Lord of Lords! Hallelujah!

Hymn in Procession, 555 O Sons and Daughters, let us Sing

Mode II

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Fantasia in G minor Bach

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

 Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR THE FUND WHICH THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE IS RAISING TO DISCHARGE THE MISSIONARY RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIOCESE.

There will be a third Mass at 9.30 on Monday and Tuesday.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The troubles of the world sink to proportionate significance today under the impact of the overwhelming joy of the Easter proclamation. We are chiefly bound to praise God for the glorious resurrection of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord; for He is the very Paschal Lamb, which was offered for us, and hath taken away the sin of the world; who by His death hath destroyed death, and by His rising to life again hath restored to us everlasting life.

The troubles of the world cannot but be regarded with a truer sense of proportion, in the light of the two supreme victories which in the end include all the minor victories. When once we realize that Our Lord has overcome sin and death, we implicitly trust His victory over the world. His victory in the field of the temporal things is swallowed up in His astounding victory over the things that are eternal. He who is Lord of the Universe is Lord of the world. To those who receive Him is given the power to become the sons of God. There are no such words as doubt, fear or gloom in the vocabulary of the sons of God. The sons of God are an upstanding, virile, venturesome, victorious breed. They fear neither man nor devil. They will plunge through darkness and death to follow, through earth, the air and hell, their Leader whose very Name rouses them to a pitch of unquenchable enthusiasm which sweeps the last and the least of them straight through and clear through the wide open gates of Heaven, to join their fellows who have gone before, panting to see face to face their glorious Leader whom they adore.

The troubles of the world! What are they? They are the symptoms of sin. The Son of God has taken away the sin of the world. Taken it away from the soul of each man and the souls of all men who will grasp the Cross and claim its benefits. There is no one for whom repentance is impossible. There is no sin that cannot be forgiven. There is no sin for which reparation cannot be made. There is no stain that is indelible. There is no wound that cannot be healed. There is nothing broken that cannot be mended. There is nothing lost that cannot be found. There is no defeat that cannot be turned into victory. There is no sorrow that cannot be turned into joy. When the Lord of the Universe declared that His work of taking away sin was finished, it was finished. It was finished to His satisfaction. It was finished to His Father's satisfaction. It was finished for time. It was finished for eternity.

Today when we triumphantly affirm the articles of our Christian faith, we affirm our belief in the forgiveness of sin, the sins of every penitent in the world and the sins of our own souls. In that faith we live; in that faith we shall die. In that faith we shall stand before God at the day of judgment. We trust our Leader with a confidence that makes devils tremble and angels rejoice.

Death! What does death mean to the sons of God? The Son of God has destroyed it. It has no dominion over the sons of God. They may die in their beds, they may die in the streets, but wherever they die, they die on their crosses. From their crosses they reign and by their deaths they conquer. Everlasting life has been restored to them. They die with an Alleluia.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter

April 3, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 173 The Strife is o'er Palestrina

Introit. As new-born babes, alleluia: desire ye the sincere milk of the word, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God, our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie (Messe Solennelle de Paques) Gounod

Alleluia. And after eight days, when the doors were shut: stood Jesus in the midst of his disciples, and said, Peace be unto you. Alleluia.

The Angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. Alleluia.

Hymn 175 Christ the Lord is risen today Monkland

Credo Gounod in E flat

Offertory. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, alleluia.

Hymn 170 Come, ye faithful, raise the strain Sullivan, 1870

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Gounod in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis Gounod in E flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Finale (Symphony II) Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 131, 132 - - Tones VIII-2, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Walmisley in D major

Hymn 277 Blest are the pure in heart Franconia

Anthem Elgar

Star of ocean fairest Mother, God who barest, Virgin, thou immortal, Heaven's blissful portal.	Mother's care displaying, Offer him thy praying, Who, when born our Brother, Chose thee for his Mother.
---	--

'Ave' thou receivest, Gabriel's word believest; Change to peace and gladness Eva's name of sadness.	Virgin, all-excelling, Gentle past our telling; Pardon'd sinners render Gentle, chaste and tender.
--	---

Loose the bonds of terror, Lighten blinded error; All our ills repressing, Pray for every blessing.	In pure paths direct us; On our way protect us; Till, on Jesus gazing We shall join thy praising.
--	--

Father, Son, eternal,
Holy Ghost supernal,
With one praise we bless thee,
Three in One confess thee. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Salve Regina (Symphony II) Widor

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE EASTER OFFERING FOR THE BISHOP'S FUND TO DISCHARGE THE MISSIONARY RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIOCESE WAS $7,791.36.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, April 3rd, at 8 A. M.

Father Hughson, Superior of the Order of the Holy Cross, will be the speaker at the regular monthly meeting held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, April 7th, at 3 P. M. Father Hughson will speak on the work of his Order in Liberia.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Superstition cannot resist the impact of truth. The reason for this is that superstition is founded on fancy, while truth is founded on fact. The superstitious person is a prey to fancy. He has no knowledge of facts. He becomes the victim of his imaginations. It is observable in man at every stage of his development. One sees it in the primitive man. One sees it in the modern man. The modern man is rather inclined toward a return to the primitive. He need not have far to go.

All that is needed is sufficient ignorance of the facts of life. This is very easily acquired. After that the way is open for a wide range of poetic imagination and a luxuriant wealth of superstition. The age in which we live is an excellent one for observation. It is a notably superstitious age. Perhaps it would be difficult to find one more thoroughly saturated with diverse and picturesque superstitions. The converse side of all this must also be noted by the candidly free-thinking person. The converse side is that our age is notably ignorant of a very important fact. That fact is the fact of God. And that fact is the one effective foe of superstition. Ignorance of God and superstition are necessarily inseparable. For examples we may take the primitive man who was superstitious about thunder, and we may take the modern man who is superstitious about death. Each being ignorant of God was and is compelled to take refuge in superstition. The modern man may smile at the primitive man. But after all there may not be much choice between a fantastic fetish and a fatalistic chemistry.

I am thinking now of the modern superstitions concerning death. There is a weird and dreary accumulation which includes everything from spiritualism to suicide. The numerous varieties are the cause of untold mental unrest and emotional suffering. The efforts to escape are pathetic and tragic. The sad part is the lack of the knowledge which would so swiftly expel the superstitions. The knowledge of one fact would banish the misery.

That one fact is this: "Christ is risen from the dead: and become the first fruits of them that slept. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." In the light of this fact all superstitions concerning death vanish. Knowledge banishes ignorance. Ignorance is the mother of superstition. Christ is risen from the dead. This is the fact. To this fact the reason must be adjusted. Death is not what it seemed to be. It is all very astounding. It is all very upsetting to preconceived notions. But there it is. The superstitious people are wrong.

Christ rose from the dead. The body that died on the Cross and was buried in the sepulchre, rose, left the sepulchre empty and walked in the garden.

On the night in which He was betrayed, He instituted the Sacrament of His Body and Blood. He declared that whosoever should eat that Flesh and drink that Blood should live forever and that He would raise him up at the last day. In the power of the Eucharistic life the Christian's body will rise after death, lacking nothing essential to its integrity and identity, and possessed of new powers adapted to the risen life. This is the fact founded on fact. So the Christian standing in the clear light of the fact of the resurrection and well above the last shadow of superstition, affirms, "I believe in the resurrection of the body and the life of the dead to come."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 28

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter

April 10, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 317 The Lord my pasture shall prepare Henry Carey, 1723

Introit. The loving-kindness of the Lord filleth the whole world, alleluia: by the word of the Lord were the heavens stablished, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Lovelock in A minor

Alleluia. I am the good Shepherd: and know my sheep, and am known of mine.
Alleluia. The good Shepherd hath risen: who hath given his life for his sheep, Alleluia.

Hymn 176 Jesus lives! Gauntlett, 1852

Credo - - - Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: and lift up my hands in thy Name, alleluia.

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven Goss, 1869

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock in A minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - Lovelock in A minor

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata and Fugue in D minor

Back

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 53, 54, 55 - - Tones III-5, IV-6, I-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Parker in E

Hymn 180 Forty Days of Eastertide MacLagan, 1875

Anthem - 17th Century melody, arr. by Alfred Whitehead

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!
O sons and daughters, let us sing!
The King of heaven, the glorious King
O'er death today rose triumphing.
Alleluia!

That Easter morn, at break of day,
The faithful women went their way
To seek the tomb where Jesus lay.
Alleluia!

An angel clad in white they see,
Who sat and spake unto the three,
'Your Lord doth go to Galilee.'
Alleluia!

That night the apostles met in fear;
Amidst them came their Lord most dear,
And said, 'My peace be on all here.'
Alleluia!

How blest are they who hath not seen,
And yet whose faith hath constant been,
For they eternal life shall win.
Alleluia!

On this most holy day of days,
To God your hearts and voices raise
In laud and jubilee, and praise.
Alleluia!

Devotions

Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Postlude in B minor - - Vierne

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE ENVELOPE IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE PARISHIONER. THE LOOSE OFFERING IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE VISITOR.

The Rev. A. R. VanMeter, Executive and Field Secretary of the Executive Council of the Diocese, has written to me as follows:

"I was instructed by the Finance Department to inform you that the Rector and Vestry of St. Mark's Church, Philadelphia, were given a unanimous vote of thanks from the Department for the splendid Easter Offering which your parish had taken to help the Diocese of Pennsylvania. It was their hope that every one of your parishioners would realize the great appreciation of the Diocese for this most generous action."

The Occupational Therapy Class of the Harrison Home of the Episcopal Hospital will hold an exhibition and sale of work of the patients of the Home, all of whom are incurables, in the Parlor of St. Mark's Parish House, 1625 Locust Street, on Thursday, April 21st, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

There will be a retreat for teachers and other women, under the auspices of St. Ursula's Guild, on Saturday, April 16th, at St. Mark's Church. The Rev. F. L. Vernon, D. D., will be the Conductor.

The Rector's Lent Friday Sermons are being published in serial form in the American Church Monthly beginning with the May number.

Subscription blanks for this magazine may be obtained from the rector's secretary. The cost is $3.00 per year or twenty-five cents a copy.

Your prayers are asked for the repose of the soul of Frank W. Wallace, builder of St. Michael's Chapel.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Collect for the day indicates the chief privilege and duty of Eastertide. We are taught to pray for grace that we may always most thankfully receive the inestimable benefit of the sacrifice for sin which Our Lord has consummated for us and also that we may daily endeavor ourselves to follow the blessed steps of His most holy life. The believing Christian lives in the eternal Eastertide. Through the Spirit he waits for the hope of righteousness by faith. He believes that the Crib, the Cross and the Garden have brought the inestimable benefit. In each he recognizes the miracle. The Crib has brought him adoption. The Cross has brought him redemption. The Garden has brought him resurrection. There stretches before him the new road of a new life. The road that has no turning. The life that has no ending. He accepts the facts.

The facts of life cannot be lightly regarded or casually accepted. They demand serious consideration. They demand constant acceptance. They must be the determining factors in the estimates of life and the conduct of life. When certain facts of life are of such a nature as to cause apprehension, we naturally hesitate and shrink from accepting them. But these facts of which we are thinking are facts which come to us as good news. When the significance of the facts dawns on us, we can have but one impulse to most thankfully receive them as an inestimable benefit. Once we have received them, we shall continue to pass through periods of penitence, but the prevailing note of life will be thankfulness.

Thankfulness is the consequence of faith. To deepen faith is to increase thankfulness. So the spiritual duty of Eastertide is to deepen faith and to cultivate thankfulness. We must do this as methodically and as carefully as we tried to perform our Lent duty of deepening penitence and cultivating sorrow for sin. We shall need as much grace for the one as the other. This is precisely what the Collect for today leads us to pray for. We must remember that the Christian Year is so planned as to arrange for ten weeks of penitence and forty-two weeks of thankfulness. It may sometime seem as though it were an act of humility to reverse the scheme. It is not. On the contrary it is an act of pride. It is an unwarranted exchange of faithlessness for faith. Nothing could be farther removed from the spirit of the first disciples on that first Easter Day. Their joy was spontaneous. It is true they had at first some little difficulty because what they saw seemed too good to be true. But it only took a moment or so to grasp the fact that it was true just because it was good. I have never thought that Saint Thomas was the sort of doubter that so many people seem to think he was. I think he had felt his sorrow so deeply that it took him a little longer to shake it off. A man who could cry out "my Lord and my God" was never an unfaithful man. He was a passionate believer. And I suspect that his difficulty is the difficulty of many of us. We are so inclined to think that some things are too good to be true. So we have to be helped to grasp the thought that the news is true because it is good.

Saint John saw it and was glad. "Beloved," he wrote, "now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that when He shall appear, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him, as He is. And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as He is pure." Saint John had stood beside the Cross. He had seen the sacrifice for sin. He had no doubts of the sufficiency of the sacrifice. He most thankfully received the inestimable benefit of the forgiveness of sin. The completeness of the forgiveness revealed the Father's love. His own forgiveness opened his eyes to his sonship. He set no limits to the final outcome of that sonship. It did not then appear to him what he would be. But of one thing he was sure. When His Lord appeared he would be like Him. It was a bold hope. But he had it in him. And it urged him on in the work of his purification. No effort of his should be lacking. He would follow the steps of his Lord's most holy life on to the end. Thankful endeavor would henceforth be the ruling motive of his life. It ought to be for our lives too.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

F. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

April 17, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 356 Fairest Lord Jesus Silesian Folksong

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, alleluia; sing praises unto the honour of his Name, alleluia: make his praise to be exceeding glorious, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works, O Lord: through the greatness of thy power. Glory be.

Kyrie - - Harwood in E flat

Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see me, saith the Lord Jesus: and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man taketh from you. Alleluia.

Hymn 179 He is risen! Neander, 1680

Credo - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul; while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Hymn 520 Alleluia! Alleluia! Sullivan, 1874

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Moderato in F - - Niels Gade

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 89 - - - Tone 1-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Parker in E

Hymn 171 The day of resurrection! Tours, 1875

Anthem - - - S. S. Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Pass the time of your sojourning here in fear.

Love one another with a pure heart fervently. See that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the word of the Lord endureth forever, forevermore. Amen!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Diapason Movement - William Walond

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

 Notices

THE TOTAL EASTER MISSIONARY OFFERING IS EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS (8,000.00).

The Occupational Therapy Class of the Harrison Home of the Episcopal Hospital will hold an exhibition and sale of work of the patients of the Home, all of whom are incurables, in the Parlor of St. Mark's Parish House, 1625 Locust Street, on Thursday, April 21st, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

The Rector's Lent Friday Sermons are being published in serial form in the American Church Monthly beginning with the May number.

Subscription blanks for this magazine may be obtained from the rector's secretary. The cost is $3.00 per year or twenty-five cents a copy.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The first disciples on the first Easter were blessed with the physical sight of our Risen Lord. It was a blessing all their own. They walked with Him. They talked with Him. They had Him visibly, audibly, sensibly, tangibly for forty days. Their experience is accurately recorded. But it could never be adequately expressed. It was all beyond words.

In the midst of the wonders of the forty days, Our Lord spoke of those whose would be to possess the blessing reserved for those who, having not seen, yet would believe. This is the blessing which is all our own. We walk by faith. They walked by sight. To walk by sight is natural. To walk by faith is supernatural.

While the disciples were walking by sight they were really walking in a half sight. It was not until after Our Lord had been received out of their sight and the Holy Ghost had descended upon them that the full flood of light came. It was then that all things that Our Lord had told them came to their remembrance with perfect understanding. They have left the priceless records of those things which were most surely believed among them, even as they were delivered unto them, which from the beginning were eye witnesses. The jewel in the casket is the faith now delivered. This we share with them. Their faith is our faith. Their joy is our joy. And we have the special blessing all our own in addition.

Their faith changed their lives. It gave them new motives. It gave them new power. Every single one of them became a new person. They made the most of it. This is what we have to learn from them.

In their time persecution was the trial of faith. In our time indifference is the trial of faith. Which is the more difficult? Certainly persecution is the more exciting. Yet indifference is the more exacting. There was no lack of the spectacular for them. There is no lack of the monotonous for us. The great demand upon them was for courage. The great demand upon us is for perseverance. We need not forget that perseverance is only another form of courage. After all and again their lot and ours is not so unlike. It is as difficult and as easy to be a Christian in one age as another.

And how easy it is! The saints have always been the people who succeeded in taking Our Lord at His word. The saints have always been the people who attained to the highest degree of simplicity. Again they took Our Lord literally. They became as little children.

It seems to me that Christians are not given a chance to take their religion simply today. They seem to be insistently treated as though they were all theologians and philosophers and scientists and historians, and every conceivable diet of experts in every department of knowledge to which in actual private life they make no pretence whatever. And all the while they are as a matter of fact, whatever their attainment or lack of it, human beings with human hearts, in which are rooted the longings and aspirations which are inseparable from human life.

The first disciples found the highest good. And we find it in precisely the same way, by becoming disciples. The disciples are the only persons who have made the announcement as unique as it is triumphant: "I believe in the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 30

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter

April 24, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 556 Joy dawned again on Easter Day Prætorius, 1609

Introit. O sing unto the Lord a new song, alleluia; for the Lord hath done marvellous things, alleluia: in the sight of the nations hath he shewed his righteous judgments, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. With his own right hand, and with his holy arm: hath he gotten himself the victory. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Cavaliere, 1600

Alleluia. I go to him that sent me: but because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your hearts. Alleluia. I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go away. Alleluia.

Hymn 199 Our blest Redeemer Dykes, 1861

Credo - - - Cavaliere

Offertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what things he hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn 339 Let all mortal flesh keep silence French Folksong

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Cavaliere

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Cavaliere

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude on 'Picardy' - Noble

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 91 - - - Tone VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in C

Hymn 278 We praise thy grace, O Saviour Gauntlett, 1852

Anthem (from the 'Mount of Olives') - Beethoven

Hallelujah unto God's Almighty Son!
Praise the Lord, ye bright angelic choirs, in holy songs of joy.
Man, proclaim his grace and glory, Hallelujah!
Praise the Lord in holy songs of joy.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Adagio - - - John Bennett

Saint Mark the Evangelist

April 25, 1932

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 278, 267 (verses 1, 9, 19, 20)

The Ordinary of the Mass - Piggott in D

Introit. Thou hast hidden me, O God, from the gathering together of the froward, alleluia: from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from the fear of the enemy. Glory be.

Alleluia. Thou hast set, O Lord: a crown of pure gold upon his head. Alleluia. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful. Alleluia.

Offertory. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him; and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia, alleluia.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Tomorrow, Monday the 25th, will be St. Mark's Day. There will be a High Mass at 9.30.

THE GUILD OF ALL SOULS

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The Golden Jubilee of the Guild of All Souls will be commemorated at the annual meeting to be held in the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York, on Wednesday, April 27, 1932, beginning with High Mass at 11 o'clock. Preacher, the Rev. Franklin Joiner, of Philadelphia, Superior of the Guild.

Immediately afterward a collation will be served to the members, followed by the Jubilee meeting, at which an address will be given by the Rev. George D. Rosenthal, of Birmingham, England.

All members are earnestly asked to attend.

T. E. SMITH, General Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The promise of the coming of the Holy Ghost is given to us in today's Gospel. Eastertide is leading us on. We are reminded that the life, restored to us by the Resurrection, is illumined by the Holy Spirit, by whom we are to be guided into all truth. It is into no dim and shadowy life that Our Lord has brought us. It is God's will that we should know the truth, and that the truth should make us free. Our Lord told His disciples that He had many things to say unto them, but they would not bear them then. When the Spirit of truth had come, He would shew them things to come. So having been prepared, the disciples lived on through their Eastertide. They were content and confident. One step was enough for them. He had risen. That was sufficient. Our Lord was showing Himself alive after His Passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them for forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. All these things would be brought to their remembrance and understanding by the Holy Ghost after He had come. They were being led very gently. But a new life lay before them. Soon they would see it and live it gloriously. It would begin as an earthly life and continue on through death, and on to a heavenly life. It would be all of one piece. There would be no interruption. There would be no abrupt change. Eternal life had been restored to them. They were to enter it instantly and live it constantly. As they went on, they would go from truth to truth. Nothing would come before they could bear it. When it came it would fit into the life they had come to know. And all the while they would live to good effect. They would do the will of God. In that they would find their peace. There was nothing strained or unreal in their Eastertide.

So the time has come for us who are keeping the great forty days to consider our own practical use of the Festival. The Festival will pass, but the life will go on. We must make good use of it. Everlasting life is the gift of the Son to us. We must use it for Him, if we would keep it.

The first thing to realize is that we each have a vocation wherewith we are called. The external marks of this vocation are the obvious obligations and duties and contacts of daily life. They are obvious, simple and commonplace for the most part. They are common things. We are to try to do them uncommonly well. Saint Paul tells us that the secret of this is to be lowly, and meek and forbearing. Such an ideal set down in words would not seem to easily commend itself to a world in which ambition is the keynote. Yet even in the world, the men and women who are finally, if reluctantly, acknowledged as having achieved greatness, exhibit these very qualities of lowliness, meekness and forbearance. They are invariably the hall marks of greatness.

To do common things uncommonly well is the use of everlasting life which God expects. It means living one day at a time. It means seeing eternal life in each day. It means settling down to do the things that are given us to do, and doing them for Our Lord.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Rogation Sunday

Within the Octave of St. Mark

May 1, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 266—Ye watchers and ye holy ones Cologne, 1623
Procession { 278—We praise Thy grace Gaunlett, 1852

Introit. With a voice of singing, declare ye this, and let it be heard, alleluia: utter it even unto the ends of the earth; the Lord hath delivered his people, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - - Mozart in B flat

Alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my Name: ask, and ye shall receive. Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion over him. Alleluia.

Hymn 183 Lord, in Thy Name, Thy servants plead Turle, 1835

Credo - - - Mozart in B flat

Offertory. O praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: who holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip. Praised be God, who hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercy from me, alleluia.

Hymn 181 O Jesus, crowned with all renown Barnby, 1838-96

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Mozart in B flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Mozart in B flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata (Symphony V)

Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 1, 15 - - - Tones I-I III-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in C

Hymn 279 Thou art the Way Courteville, 1697

Anthem - - - Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts. For my soul longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God.

Blest are they, O blest are they that dwell within thy house; they praise thy name evermore!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—'Lo, how a Rose' - - Brahms

Ascension Day

May 5, 1932

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 186, 188

The Ordinary of the Mass - Missa de Angelis

Introit. Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? alleluia: in like manner as ye have seen him going up into heaven, so shall he come again, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven, as he went up: behold, two men stood by them in white apparel, which said unto them. Glory be.

Alleluia. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet. Alleluia. Christ to highest heaven ascending, led captivity captive: and gave gifts unto men. Alleluia.

Offertory. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet, alleluia.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THURSDAY WILL BE ASCENSION DAY. THERE WILL BE A SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30.

There will be a third Mass at 9.30 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. (SS. Philip and James' Day and Rogation Days.)

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, May 1st, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, May 5th, at 3 P. M.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER.
ROGATION SUNDAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"I ascend unto my Father, and your Father." Our Lord spoke these words to Saint Mary Magdalene and bade her go to tell them to the disciples. The fifth Sunday after Easter, the Sunday before Ascension Day, is the Sunday on which we are instructed on prayer. Then follow three days of solemn supplication, which are called Rogation Days.

The thought concerning prayer to which I give emphasis this year is contained in the text which I have quoted at the beginning of this letter.

Our Lord announced that He was about to ascend to His Father and their Father and our Father. He taught His disciples, and He taught us, to pray. The first words of His prayer were "Our Father." "Through Him," wrote Saint Paul to the Ephesians, "we both have access by one spirit unto the Father." "Now," he continues, "therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God."

You see what a cloud of misapprehensions concerning prayer is dispersed. Prayer can no longer be strange and foreign to us. It can no longer be a lonely transaction. It can no longer be a timorous, doubtful experiment, carried on in dark isolation.

On the contrary we have the picture of a Father in His own household, surrounded by His own children who belong there. They are not strangers and foreigners. They are fellow citizens with the members of the household. They belong there. They are in their Father's house. They have access to their Father. They turn to Him instinctively. They go to Him unhesitatingly. They make His love for granted. He takes it for granted that they will. Nothing that concerns them is too small for His interest and solicitude.

Picture a human family on earth. We recognize that the ideal human family is a family in which each child feels securely at home. In such a family each child goes confidently to the father. No matter what happens love casts out fear. The good father will not betray his child's trust nor neglect his child's interests. The child is at peace because of implicit trust.

The child knows the need of the father. The child knows that only the father can do some of the things that no one else can do. The child finds so many things that are beyond understanding. But then the child is comforted by the thought that the father can do what needs to be done and that the father understands. So the child lives in effortless humility and is care-free.

The child does not always realize this. Sometimes the child forgets. Sometimes the child is disobedient. Things never go well then. It is not a happy time. But the good father understands disobedience too. He understands that disobedience makes the disobedient very unhappy. And he knows how to unravel the tangle. He knows how to get people out of their troubles. So the child learns the lessons of happy obedience. He finds that obedience is a protective device against unhappiness.

No human family is perfect. Only the Holy Family was that. But every human family ought to be a little image of God's family. It is in this family idea that we learn our lesson about prayer. It is very simple. We must become as little children. We must remember that God is our Father. That we are members of His household. We must be trustful, humble and obedient. If so we shall honor Our Father by being fearless and happy.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 32

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

May 8, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession

Hail the day that sees Him rise,
To His throne above the skies;
Christ, the Lamb for sinners given,
Enters now the highest heaven.

Alleluia!

There for Him high triumph waits;
Lift your heads, eternal gates;
He hath conquered death and sin;
Take the King of glory in.

Alleluia!

Lo! the heaven its Lord receives,
Yet He loves the earth He leaves;
Though returning to His throne,
Still He calls mankind His own.

Alleluia!

Hymn 186 Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates! William Knapp

Introit. Consider, O Lord, and hear me, when I cry unto thee, alleluia; unto thee my heart hath said, Thy face, Lord, have I sought; thy face, Lord, will I seek: O hide not thou thy face from thy servant, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom then shall I fear? Glory be.

Kyrie Ancient Melody, arr. by C. W. Pearce

Alleluia. God reigneth over the heaven: God sitteth upon his holy seat. Alleluia. I will not leave you comfortless: I go away and come again unto you, and your heart shall rejoice. Alleluia.

Hymn 188 The head, that once was crowned with thorns

Jeremiah Clark

Credo Stanford in B flat

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: as long as I have any being I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Hymn 193 Alleluia! sing to Jesus! S. S. Wesley

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Stanford in B flat

Gloria in Excelsis Stanford in B flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Maestoso-Con moto (from the Sonata) Harwood

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 46, 47

Tones V-3, VII.6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Harwood in A flat

Hymn 190 Crown Him with many crowns

George J. Elvey

Anthem (from the Redemption)

Gounod

Unfold, ye portals, everlasting, with welcome to receive Him ascending on high!

Behold, the King of Glory! He mounts up through the sky, back to the heavenly mansions hasting. Unfold, for lo, the King comes nigh.

But who is He, the King of Glory?

He who death overcame, the Lord in battle mighty.

But who is He, the King of Glory?

Of hosts He is the Lord; of angels and of powers: the King of Glory is the King of the saints.

Devotions

Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Fantasia

Jose Maria Beobide

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Tuesday, May 17th, at 1.15 P. M., at the Pennsylvania Hotel, there will be a luncheon with the Church Mission of Help. Mrs. John M. Glenn, President, National Council Church Mission of Help, will preside. Miss Bertha C. Reynolds, Associate Director, Smith College School of Social Work, will speak on "The Church and Individual Security."

Tickets will be on sale at the ticket booth at the National Conference, Convention Hall, and will cost one dollar.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SUNDAY AFTER ASCENSION DAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

We are celebrating the Festival of the Ascension of Our Lord into Heaven. We are giving thanks that He who was born for us; who by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary His mother; after His most glorious Resurrection, manifestly appeared to all His apostles, and in their sight ascended up into heaven, to prepare a place for us; that where He is, thither we might also ascend, and reign with Him in glory.

You will recognize that these words are quoted from the Proper Prefaces for Christmas and Ascension. We should constantly read the Proper Prefaces until our minds are saturated with their contents.

I suggest three points for meditation during Ascensiontide. The first is that in Christ all are made alive so in Christ all ascend to Heaven. It was Saint John Damascene who wrote, "Now Christ is in heaven, and since we are but one with Him, we are already in heaven." When we receive Holy Communion on Ascension Day, we are again made one body with Him, that He may dwell in us, and we in Him. In Him we ascend. Nothing separates us from Him. Our bodies are on earth, yet we share in His ascended life. Our bodies are on earth, yet we share in His risen life. Our bodies are on earth, yet we share in His life which was cradled in Bethlehem. Our Christmas Communion, Our Easter Communion, our Ascension Communion unite us with Our Lord. We are carried from Bethlehem to Heaven. The Ascension Communion completes that journey. It is the climax of the Christmas Communion. Without the Ascension Communion we have gone only a part of the way. We have stopped a stage short from Heaven. But Heaven is the journey's end. Why stop? The Communion of the Christian Year lead us on stage by stage. The Ascension Communion is the goal. We cannot possibly miss it. Having begun with Our Lord we must go all the way, all the way to Heaven.

The second point is that Our Lord has gone before to prepare a place for us. We need to be prepared for the place. So we follow on more slowly. Our preparation requires some time. While we are in the body we are receiving the preparation that can only come by enduring tests. We are being proved by temptations. Temptations resisted correct deformities. First come the temptations which correct the deforming curvatures of our characters. Then ordinarily comes a period of rest for recuperation. Then comes a second period of temptations. These are for over-correction. They bend our characters yet farther away from the tendency to curve from normal straightness. Then we slip into permanent straightness.

The third point is that Our Lord has appointed a place of purgation. It comes after death. It is a merciful period in which the stains of earth are cleaned. The tears of earth's experiences are wiped away. The fruits of grace begun on earth are brought to perfection. The prayers for virtues always desired are granted. The supplications of our friends on earth aid us. And always the sacrifice offered on earthly altars speeds us on. Then we shall be ready at the last for the place prepared for us.

So the Christian's Creed ends with the triumphant clause, "And the life of the world to come." It is the faith in the life of the world to come which inspires us to the life of the world which is present.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 33

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Pentecost

May 15, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns { 196 Come, Thou Holy Spirit, come! Webbe
in Procession { 197 Spirit of mercy, truth and love Webbe

Introit. The Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world, alleluia: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Mozart in B flat

Alleluia. O send forth thy Spirit, and they shall be made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. The Holy Spirit, proceeding from the throne, came down in unseen majesty: as on this day, upon the Twelve, purifying their most inmost hearts.

Hymn 201 Come, gracious Spirit, heavenly Dove Dyer, 1828

Credo - - - Mozart in B flat

Offertory. Stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in us: for thy temple's sake at Jerusalem, shall kings bring presents unto thee, alleluia.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 158) - Winchester Old

When God of old came down from heaven, And as on Israel's awe-struck ear
In power and wrath he came; The voice exceeding loud,
Before his feet the clouds were riven, The trump, that Angels quake to hear,
Half darkness and half flame: Thrilled from the deep dark cloud;

But when he came the second time, So, when the Spirit of our God
He came in power and love: Came down his flock to find,
Softer than gale at morning prime A voice from heaven was heard abroad,
Hovered his holy Dove. A rushing mighty wind.

The fires that rushed on Sinai down It fills the Church of God; it fills
In sudden torrents dread; The sinful world around;
Now gently light, a glorious crown; Only in stubborn hearts and wills
On every sainted head. No place for it is found.

Come. Lord, come Wisdom, Love, and Power,
Open our ears to hear;
Let us not miss the accepted hour;
Save, Lord, by love or fear. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Gloria in Excelsis

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia!

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in F minor

Handel

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 145

Tone V-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Harwood in A flat

Hymn 202

Spirit divine, attend our prayers

Calkin, 1873

Anthem

Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor: He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord; To give unto them that mourn a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; That they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations; as the earth bringeth forth her bud.

Devotions

Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Andante (from the Sonata)

Harwood

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE OFFERING TODAY IS THE ANNUAL OFFERING FOR NASHOTAH HOUSE. CHECKS MAY BE MADE OUT TO MR. CHARLES P. MAULE, ACCOUNTING WARDEN, AND MAILED TO THE PAROCHIAL SECRETARY.

The Rector will be out of town this week, expecting to be in church Saturday afternoon at 4.30 instead of 4 o'clock.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

PENTECOST, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"When the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all filled with the Holy Ghost." This is the event which we are commemorating today.

The Holy Ghost is the Third Person of the Blessed Trinity. He is the Lord and Giver of Life, Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son, Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified; Who spake by the Prophets. So we confess our faith in Him when we rehearse the Articles of our Belief.

He came down from Heaven, lighting upon the disciples, to teach them, and to lead them into all truth; giving them boldness with fervent zeal constantly to preach the Gospel unto all nations; whereby we have been brought out of darkness and error into the clear light and true knowledge of the Father and of His Son Jesus Christ." So we praise Him as we celebrate the Divine Liturgy.

"Receive the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Bishop in the Church of God, now committed unto thee by the Imposition of our hands."

So says the Presiding Bishop when he, with the Bishops present lay their hands on the head of the Elected Bishop kneeling before them.

"Receive the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Priest in the Church of God, now committed unto thee by the Imposition of our hands." So says the Bishop when he bestows the Order of Priesthood on the Receiver.

"Defend, O Lord, this thy Child with thy heavenly grace; that he may continue thine forever; and daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more, until he come unto thy everlasting Kingdom." So says the Bishop when he lays his hand upon the head of every one severally kneeling before him to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation.

So were you on your Confirmation Day strengthened with the Holy Ghost, the Comforter. So you received His manifold gifts of grace; the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true godliness. So were you filled with the spirit of holy fear.

Then followed the day of your First Communion. In that Communion and every subsequent Communion the gifts of the Holy Ghost were stirred up within you to daily increase that they might produce in you the Fruits of the Spirit, Love, Joy, Peace, Longsuffering, Gentleness, Goodness, Faith, Meekness, Temperance.

"Know ye not," says Saint Paul, "that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you." "What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?"

We are not our own, Saint Paul reminds us. We are bought with a price. Therefore, he says, we must glorify God in our bodies, and in our spirit, which are God's. This is the substance of our devotion to the Holy Ghost. In our Pentecost Communion we offer our souls, our minds and bodies to the Holy Ghost.

We must develop our life of prayer to the Holy Ghost. We must arrange for special prayers to the Holy Ghost. The Veni Creator, the Collect for Pentecost, the Collect for Quinquagesima, the Collect for the Ninth Sunday after Trinity, the Collect for the nineteenth Sunday after Trinity should be kept in constant personal use.

The prayer in the Office of Institution, at the top of page 564 of the Prayer Book should be used frequently for our Parish.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

May 22, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession 525 I bind unto myself today
Ancient Irish Melody

Introit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the undivided Unity: we will praise and glorify him, because he hath shewed his mercy upon us.

Ps. Let us bless the Father and the Son: with the Holy Spirit. Glory be.

Kyrie . . . T. L. Vittoria (17th Century)

Gradual. Blessed art thou, O Lord, which beholdest the great deep: and sittest upon the cherubim. O bless the Lord of heaven: for he hath shewed mercy upon us.

Alleluia. Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and worthy to be praised forever more. Alleluia.

Hymn 206 Father of all, whose Love profound Dykes, 1866

Credo . . . West in A

Offertory. Blessed be God the Father, and the only begotten Son of God: and blessed be the Holy Spirit: for the mercy he hath done unto us.

Hymn 205 Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty! Dykes, 1861

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei . . . West in A

Gloria in Excelsis . . . West in A

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Credo: We All Believe in One God . . . Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 93, 97, 150 . . . Tones V-3, V-2, VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis . . . Walmisley in D major

Hymn 11 O Trinity of Blessed Light Mode VIII

Anthem—Hymn to the Trinity . . . Tschaikowski

Blessed angel spirits offer praise undying,
Ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth
Saint and Martyrs praise Thy Name,
Trinity life-giving,
Earth-borne sorrow leaving before Thy throne,
Ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.
Father omnipotent, mighty in glory,
Christ Thy Son, our Saviour, who died that we might live,
Holy Spirit, Mystic dove, dwelling with us evermore,
We praise Thee, Blessed Trinity.
With the Angels' sacred hymn all Thy might proclaiming,
With the mystic cherubim, in songs of praise we join,
Holy, Holy, Holy, Join we all in songs of praise for ever;
Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 . . . Mechlin Melody

Organ—Eklog . . . Cramer

Corpus Christi

May 26, 1932

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 336, 339

Ordinary of the Mass . . . H. E. Piggott in D

Introit. He fed them also with the finest wheat flour, alleluia: and with honey from the rock hath he satisfied them, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. My Flesh is Meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed: he that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

Offertory. The priests of the Lord do offer the offerings of the Lord, made by fire and the bread of their God: therefore they shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the Name of their God, alleluia.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THERE WILL BE A HIGH MASS AT 9.30 ON CORPUS CHRISTI, THURSDAY OF THIS WEEK.

First Vespers of Corpus Christi will be said on Wednesday after Evensong. Second Vespers will be said on Corpus Christi after Evensong, followed by a business meeting of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament in the Parish Parlor.

The Altar Guild of the Diocese of Pennsylvania will hold its Ninth Diocesan Meeting at the Churchwoman's Club, 134 South 22nd Street, Thursday, May 26th, 1932.

6.00 P. M.—Supper (35 cents).

7.00 P. M.—Address, "Altar Guilds and Missions," followed by an instruction on the vestments of the clergy and the altar, with a practical demonstration of their use. By the Rev. James M. Niblo, Rector of St. John's Church, Norristown, Pa.

7.45 P. M.—Evensong in St. James' Church.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we celebrate the Festival of The Holy Trinity. "It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God, Who, with Thine Only-begotten Son, and the Holy Ghost, art one God, one Lord, in Trinity of Persons and in Unity of Substance, For that which we believe of Thy glory, O Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference or inequality."

So the Preface of the Feast of Trinity praises God and summerizes our belief. Worship is the expression of love. Love is the great Commandment of the Law. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." This is our response to the revelation of the love of God. God is love. Man's love for God is the only answer to God's love for man. The Divine Revelation is a personal revelation of the Father through the Person of the Incarnate Son, according to whose most true promise, the Holy Ghost came down to teach us and to lead us into all truth. Our knowledge of the mystery of the Trinity is a personal knowledge attained through a personal experience of the love of the Three Persons of one substance, power, and eternity. This pure, disinterested love of man for God is that essential purity of heart which enables us, when that love is made perfect, to see God. God's path to man, and man's path to God, is the path of love. "If a man love me," says Our Lord, "he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Throughout the Christian year each stage has marked a revelation of the love of God. In Advent we prepared ourselves in penitence to respond to the love of the Father, who so loved the world, that He gave to us His Only Begotten Son. At Christmas we beheld His Glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth.

On Good Friday we saw the love of Our Lord who gave Himself to die for us on the Cross.

On Easter Day we saw the love of Our Lord overcoming death and opening to us the gate of everlasting life.

On Ascension Day we saw the love of Our Lord returning to Heaven to be our Mediator and Advocate.

At Pentecost we saw the love of the Holy Ghost Who came down to give us the certainty of His light and the joy of His comfort.

As we look back upon it all today, we see God in Advent, God at Christmas, God on Good Friday, God at Easter, God on Ascension Day, God at Pentecost, and the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, Three Persons, yet ever One God.

In the daily experiences of life the Three Mystic Rays of glory shine. In the moments of realized helplessness we are reassured by the flash of the ray of the Father's love. In the moments of realized unworthiness we are kept from despair by the flash of the ray of the Saviour's compassion. In the moment of bewildering perplexity we are cheered by the ray of the Holy Spirit's guidance.

At the journey's end we shall have the beatific vision of the Holy Trinity.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 35

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Trinity
Within the Octave of Corpus Christi

May 29, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 316 Jesus, the very thought of thee

Dykes, 1866

Istroit. He fed them also with the finest wheat flour, alleluia: and with honey from the rock hath he satisfied them, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie

Willan in E flat

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. My Flesh is Meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed: he that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

Sequence

Mechlin Vesperale, Mode IV

Laud, O Syon, thy Salvation.
Laud with hymns of exultation
Christ, thy King and Shepherd true
Bring him all the praise thou knowest,
He is more than thou bestowest,
Never canst thou reach his due.

Here beneath these signs are hidden
Priceless things, to sense forbidden;
Signs, not things, are all we see;
Blood is poured, and Flesh is broken,
Yet in either wondrous token
Christ entire we know to be.

Full and clear ring out thy chanting,
Joy, nor sweetest grace be wanting,
From thy heart let praises burst;
For today the Feast is holden
When the institution olden
Of that Supper was rehearsed.

Whoso of this Food partaketh,
Rendeth not the Lord nor breaketh
Christ is whole to all that taste;
Thousands are, as one, receivers,
One, as thousands of believers,
Eats of him who cannot waste. Amen.

Credo

Willan in E flat

Offertory. The priests of the Lord do offer the offerings of the Lord, made by fire and the bread of their God: therefore they shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the Name of their God, alleluia.

Hymn 337 Thou, Who at Thy First Eucharist

Lloyd, 1885

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Willan in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis

Willan in E flat

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude du Deluge

Saint-Saens

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 141, 142, 143

Tones VIII-4, VI, VII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D major

Hymn 339

Let all mortal flesh keep silence

French Folksong

Anthem

Healey Willan

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth,
On the Cross Thou hangedst weary
To redeem the sons of earth.

Thou Whose side was deeply riven,
Shedding forth true stream of Blood;
O mayst Thou, dear Lord, be given
In death's hour to be our Food.

O faithful, O gracious,
O blessed Jesu, Son of Mary,
O grant us Thy mercy. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Nunc Dimittis

Charles Wood

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 5, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds Reinagle, 1836

Introit. The Lord was my refuge and my upholder; and he brought me forth into a place of liberty: he delivered me because he delighted in me.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Missa de Angelis

Gradual. When I was in trouble I called upon the Lord: and he heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips: and from a deceitful tongue.

Alleluia. God is a righteous judge, strong and patient: and God is provoked every day.

Hymn 305 O for a closer walk with God Dykes, 1875

Credo - - - Missa de Angelis

Offertory. Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul: O save me for thy mercies' sake.

Hymn 89 To the Name of our salvation Cantica Sacra, 1840

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa de Angelis

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Missa de Angelis

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude (Symphony I) - - - Vierne

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 27, 28, 29 - Tones VII-3, IV-2, V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis *Tones IV-1, VI, with faux bourdons
by Healey Willan*

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest Dykes, 1868

Anthem - - - Eric Thiman

Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round
Of circling planets singing on their way;
Guide of the nations from the night profound
Into the glory of the perfect day;
Rule in our hearts that we may ever be
Guided and strengthened and upheld by thee.

We are of thee, the children of thy love,
The brothers of thy well-beloved Son;
Descend, O Holy Spirit, like a dove,
Into our hearts, that we may be as one:
As one with thee, to whom we ever tend;
As one with him, our Brother and our Friend.

We would be one in hatred of all wrong,
One in our love of all things sweet and fair,
One with the joy that breaketh into song,
One with the grief that trembles into prayer,
One in the power that makes the children free
To follow truth, and thus to follow thee.

O clothe us with thy heavenly armour, Lord,
Thy trusty shield, thy sword of love divine;
Our inspiration be thy constant word;
We ask no victories that are not thine;
Give or withhold, let pain or pleasure be;
Enough to know that we are serving thee. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale - - - Bossi

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 37

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Trinity

June 12, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 309 Before Jehovah's awful throne Hamburg, 1690

Introit. Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, O Lord: for I am desolate, and in tribulation: look thou on mine affliction, and my travail: and forgive me all mine iniquities, O my God.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie - - - Noble in G minor

Gradual. O cast thy burden upon the Lord: and he shall nourish thee. When I cried unto the Lord, he heard my voice: from the battle that was against me.

Alleluia. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour.

Hymn 277 Blest are the pure in heart König, 1738

Credo - - - Noble in G minor

Offertory. They that know thy Name will put their trust in thee; for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee: O praise the Lord which dwelleth in Syon; for he forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.

Hymn 255 O worship the King Croft, 1708

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Noble in G minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Noble in G minor

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude on 'Rhosymedre' - Vaughan-Williams

Solemn Chensong

Psalms 65, 66, 67 - Tones VII-5, I-3, VIII-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV-1, VI, with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn 24 Saviour, breathe an evening blessing Bortniansky, 1818

Anthem - - - Richard Dering

Above Him stood the Seraphim, and one cried unto another, and said Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of Hosts, the whole earth is full of His glory.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Reverie on 'University' - - Harvey Grace

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Trinity

June 19, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 237 When all Thy mercies, O my God Tallis, 1567

Introit. The Lord is my light, and my salvation, whom then shall I fear? the Lord is the stronghold of my life, of whom shall I be afraid? when mine enemies pressed sore against me, they stumbled and fell.

Ps. Though an host of men were laid against me; yet shall not my heart be afraid. Glory be.

Kyrie Missa Marialis

Gradual. Be merciful, O Lord, unto our sins: wherefore do the heathen say, Where is now their God? Help us, O God of our salvation: and for the honour of thy Name, deliver us, O Lord.

Alleluia. The King shall rejoice in thy strength, O Lord: exceeding glad shall he be of thy salvation.

Hymn 243 Saviour, source of every blessing Mendelssohn, 1840

Credo Missa de Angelis

Offertory. Lighten mine eyes, that I sleep not in death: lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him.

Hymn 494 Where cross the crowded ways of life Gardiner, 1815

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Missa Marialis

Gloria in Excelsis Missa Marialis

Post-Communion. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Pastorale (Sonata I) Guilmant

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 98, 99, 100, 101 Tones VI, IV-4, VIII-I, VII-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tonus Peregrinus with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 23 The day is past and over Brown, 1862

Anthem Barnby

Sweet is thy mercy, Lord,
Before thy mercy-seat,
My soul adoring pleads thy word,
And owns thy mercy sweet.

Where'er thy Name is blest,
Where'er thy people meet,
There I delight in thee to rest,
And find thy mercy sweet.

Light thou our weary way,
Lead thou our wandering feet;
That while we stay on earth we may Still find thy mercy sweet.

Thus shall the heavenly host
Hear all our songs repeat,
To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.
My joy, thy mercy sweet. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Sicilienne Bach-Widor

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 1

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 2, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 289 Stars of the morning, so gloriously bright Smart, 1868

Introit. O praise the Lord, all ye his Angels: excelling in power, that execute his commandment and hearken unto the voice of his words.

Ps. Praise the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me praise his holy Name. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Perosi in D minor

Gradual. O praise the Lord, ye Angels of his, ye that excel in strength: ye that fulfil his commandment. O praise the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me praise his holy Name.

Alleluia. In the presence of the Angels: will I praise thee, O Lord my God.
Alleluia.

Hymn 291 Around the throne of God N. Herman, 1560

Credo - - - Missa de Angelis

Offertory. An Angel stood by the altar of the temple, having a golden censer in his hand: and there was given unto him much incense, and the smoke of the incense ascended up to God, alleluia.

Hymn 264 Ye holy angels bright Darwall, 1770

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Perosi in D minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Missa de Angelis

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in A minor - J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Tone VII-2

Psalm 34

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tone VIII with faux bourdons by Caesar de Zacheriis

Hymn 289 Stars of the morning, so gloriously bright Smart, 1868

Anthem

Kastalsky

O Light Divine, of the heavenly Father immortal,
Ever-holy, Blessed Jesus Christ:
And now, having come to the sun's hour of rest,
As we see the golden twilight shine,
We praise the Father, Son and Holy Spirit Divine
With undefiled tongue.
O Son of God, gracious giver of life,
Therefore all the world doth glorify thee,
O Son of God.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Chorale

M. Enrico Bossi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Rector's Discretionary Fund is exhausted and any sum sent in for that purpose will be greatly appreciated.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

October 9, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 465 We love the place, O God Henry L. Jenner, 1861

Introit. Everything that thou hast brought upon us, O Lord God, thou hast done in righteousness and judgment: for we have trespassed against thee, and have not obeyed thy commandments; but give glory and honour to thy Name, and deal with us according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

Ps. Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Perosi in D minor

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 376) H. Lahee

Come, let us join our cheerful songs
With Angels round the throne;
Ten thousand thousand are their tongues, And blessings more than we can
But all their joys are one. give
Be, Lord, for ever thine.

'Worthy the Lamb that died,' they cry
'To be exalted thus';
'Worthy the Lamb,' our lips reply,
'For he was slain for us.'

The whole creation join in one
To bless the sacred name
Of him that sits upon the throne,
And to adore the Lamb. Amen.

Credo Missa de Angelis

Offertory. By the waters of Babylon we sat down, and wept: when we remembered thee, O Syon.

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven John Goss, 1869

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Perosi in D minor

Gloria in Excelsis Missa de Angelis

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude—Maestoso (Symphony I) Vierne

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 118 Tone I-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tone VIII with faux bourdons by Caesar de Zacheriis

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Mode VIII

Anthem Antonin Dvorak

God is my shepherd, I want for nothing. My rest is in the pleasant meadows, He leadeth me where quiet waters flow! My fainting soul doth He restore, and guideth me in the ways of peace, to glorify His name. And though in death's dark valley my steps must wander, my spirit shall not fear, for Thou art by me still; Thy rod and staff are with me, and they shall comfort me.

I will sing new songs of gladness, I will sing Jehovah's praises upon a ten-stringed psaltery. Every day will I extol Thee, and will bless Thy holy name, I will bless Thy holy name. Great is God and great His mercy; who shall tell of all His greatness? Who shall His power declare? My song shall be of praise and honour, and of Thy glorious acts, Thy works are wonderful, past our knowing. Yea, men shall tell of Thy great kindness, and of Thy wondrous might, and my voice shall proclaim aloud Thy glory.

(Soloist, Dr. Charles Kauffeld.)

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to Thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Prelude on 'Rhosymedre' Vaughan-Williams

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

I have appointed Mrs. Alfred Hand, Treasurer of the St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, as Treasurer of the United Thank Offering, in succession to the late Mrs. Frank Staley, who had served in this office with notable fidelity since the day of her appointment by Doctor Nicholson.

A bookcase is needed for the choir boys' library. If any member of the congregation has one to donate, will they kindly communicate with the Choirmaster.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity

October 16, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 254 How wondrous and great Thy works
Michael Haydn, 1737-1806

Introit. O Lord Almighty, everything is in subjection unto thee; and there is no man that is able to resist thy power: for thou hast created everything; heaven and earth, and all the wonders which under heaven's vault are contained; thou art the Lord and King of all things.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Hymn 113 Fight the good fight William Boyd, 1864

Credo - - - Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job: perfect and upright, and one that feared God. And Satan sought to tempt him: and power was given him by the Lord over his possessions, and over his flesh. And he destroyed all his substance and his sons: and he smote his flesh with sore boils.

Hymn 339 Let all mortal flesh keep silence French Folksong

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock in A minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - Lovelock in A minor

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Piece Heroique - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 133, 134, 135 Tones VIII-3, VIII-1, VII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II-2, III, with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn (English Hymnal, 159) Chartres Church Melody

Be present, Holy Trinity,
Like splendour, and one Deity:
Of things above, and things below,
Beginning, that no end shall know.

Thee all the armies of the sky
Adore, and laud, and magnify;
And Nature, in her triple frame,
For ever sanctifies thy name.

And we, too, thanks and homage pay,
Thine own adoring flock to-day;
O join to that celestial song
The praises of our suppliant throng.

Light, sole and one, we thee confess,
With triple praise we rightly bless;
Alpha and Omega we own,
With every spirit round thy throne.

To thee, O unbegotten One,
And thee, O sole-begotten Son,
And thee, O Holy Ghost, we raise
Our equal and eternal praise. Amen.

Anthem - - - Tschaikowsky

Blessed angel spirits offer praise undying,
Ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.
Saints and Martyrs praise thy Name, Trinity life-giving,
Earth-borne sorrow leaving before thy throne,
Ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.
Father omnipotent, mighty in glory,
Christ, thy Son, our Saviour, who died that we might live,
Holy Spirit, mystic dove, dwelling with us evermore,
We praise thee, Blessed Trinity.
With the Angels' sacred hymn all thy might proclaiming,
With the mystic cherubim, in songs of praise we join,
Holy, Holy, Holy, Join we all in songs of praise for ever;
Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Passacaglia in D minor - Buxtehude

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

During the past week I received the Red Cross reminder of the Roll Call of the Southeast Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Red Cross, which began on Saturday, October 15th, and unofficially ends on Armistice Day, November 11th. Membership fees should be sent to Mr. Thomas S. Gates, 2100 DeLancey Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

October 23, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 315 I love thy kingdom, Lord Aaron Williams, 1763

Introit. If thou, O Lord, wilt be extreme to mark iniquities, Lord, who may abide it: for unto thee belongeth mercy, O God of Israel.

Ps. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is: brethren, to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head: that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard.

Alleluia. He healeth those that are broken in heart: and bindeth up their wounds. Alleluia.

Hymn 235 O Love that casts out fear Henry Smart, 1881

Credo - - - Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. Remember me, O Lord, King of all power: and put a well-ordered speech in my mouth, that my words may be pleasing in thy sight.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock in A minor

Gloria in Excelsis - - Lovelock in A minor

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in E flat - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Tonus Peregrinus

Psalms 114, 115

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II-2, III, with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn (English Hymnal, 51)

Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light.
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Lest, sunk in sin, and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life:
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost, and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem (150th Psalm)

Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of his power. Praise ye him for his mighty acts, Praise ye him according to his wondrous works.

Praise ye him with the sound of the trumpet:

Praise ye him with the psaltery and harp.

Praise ye him with the timbrel,

Praise ye him with the dance,

Praise him with the organ and stringed instruments.

Praise ye him upon the loud cymbals,

Praise ye him upon the high-sounding cymbals.

Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord. Hallelujah!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Fugue in E flat (St. Ann)

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Dom Anselm Hughes, O.S.B., Hon. Secretary-Treasurer of the Plainsong and Mediaeval Music Society, England, will give two lectures on Church music in the Parish Hall on the evenings of November 2nd and 3rd at 8.30 P. M. The lectures are free to the public and will be illustrated by musical examples. The congregation is cordially invited to attend.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity

October 30, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn

See now the Christ in triumph high,
Unfurl his standard to the sky!
Ye nations, fall before his feet;
The King of Kings with homage greet.

The kingdoms that he claims as Lord
He hath not willed by fear or sword
To quell; but on the Cross raised high
He would on love alone rely.

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 312 God of mercy, God of grace Henry Smart, 1866

Credo Mode IV

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 507 Light's abode, celestial Salem Henry Smart, 1866

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Missa Dominicalis

Gloria in Excelsis Missa Dominicalis

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Adagio and Allegro (Chorale in A minor) César Franck

Deus Tuorum Militum

That civic state how trebly blest
Where Christ bears rule, by man confessed;

The edicts of high heaven run;
And upon earth God's will is done.

May this thy light, for which we pine,
Sweet King of love, upon us shine;
And all the earth, in holy peace,
From thy glad praises never cease.

Solemn Ebensong

Tones VIII-1, VII-2, VI, IV-6

Psalms 147, 148, 149, 150
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Hymn (English Hymnal, 51)

O Blest Creator of the light,
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

Lest, sunk in sin, and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life:
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost, and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem

Light of the World, we know Thy praise
The angels and archangels raise
And all the host of heaven,
More worthily than our faint hymns,
Whose jarring sound that glory dims,
Which God to Thee has given.

But Thou didst not disdain to take
Our low estate, or e'en to make
The tomb Thy resting place;
So Thou might bring into our night
The dawn of Thine eternal Light
To shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin, is Lord,
But Thou, O Son of God,
Thy word is now our sovereign law.
Therefore we thank Thee, and we pray
Thy Light may shine unto the Perfect Day
On us for evermore.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Choral—Vorspiel: Jesu, Priceless Treasure Back

All Saints' Day

NOVEMBER 1, 1932.

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 299, 295

The Ordinary of the Mass Missa de Angelis

All Souls' Day

NOVEMBER 2, 1932.

SOLEMN HIGH MASS OF REQUIEM AT 9.30 A. M.

Missa pro defunctis

Sequence Hymn 65

*Plainchant
Modes I and II*

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

- The first Vespers of the Dead will be said at St. Mark's Church, Locust above 16th Street, on Tuesday night, November 1st, 1932, directly after Evensong.
- On Wednesday, November 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the departed members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M.
- There will be a Solemn High Requiem Mass and Sermon on Wednesday, November 2nd, at 9.30 A. M.
- Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M., and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M.
- Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.
- The names of Departed Members to be remembered at the Altar on All Souls' Day should be sent in to the office of the Rector.
- The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish Building, 1625 Locust Street, on Wednesday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.
- The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, October 30th, 1932, at 8 A. M.
- The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, November 3rd, 1932, at 3 P. M. The Rector will make the address.
- The Mission Sewing Class will hold its first weekly meeting as usual on the first Thursday in November.
- Dom Anselm Hughes, O.S.B., Hon. Secretary-Treasurer of the Plainsong and Mediaeval Music Society, England, will give two lectures on Church music in the Parish Hall on the evenings of November 2nd and 3rd at 8.30 P. M. The lectures are free to the public and will be illustrated by musical examples. The congregation is cordially invited to attend.
- Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.
- Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 6

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity
Within the Octave of All Saints

November 6, 1932

Services Today

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession 295 For all the Saints Vaughan-Williams

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy-day in honour of all the Saints: in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Mozart in B flat

Gradual. O fear the Lord, all ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Alleluia. The saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever. Alleluia.

Hymn Mode I

Spouse of Christ, in arms contending,
O'er each clime beneath the sun,
Blend with prayers for help ascending
Notes of praise for triumphs won.

In your heavenly habitations,
In your blessed home on high
Hear, ye Saints, our aspirations,
As to God we lift our cry.

As the Church today rejoices
All her Saints to join on high
So from earth let all our voices
Rise in solemn harmony.

Ever praising, ever praying,
Help ye thus your brethren here,
That the will of God obeying
We in peace may persevere.

So may we, with hearts devoted,
Serve our God in holiness;
So may we, by God promoted,
Share that heaven which ye possess.

Credo Mozart in B flat

Offertory. O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel, he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God, Alleluia.

Hymn 266 Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones Cologne, 1623

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Mozart in B flat

Gloria in Excelsis Mozart in B flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in F minor Handel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 112, 121, 149 Tones VII-5, I-4, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 297 Hark! the sound of holy voices Dykes, 1871

Anthem Percy W. Whitlock

Glorious in Heaven are the souls of all saints who walked in the way of Christ the Lord Jesus; They loved him and followed his footsteps; and as they died for the Saviour, losing life for his sake, They reign with him for ever. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Harmonies du Soir Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and hoirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a meeting of St. Mark's Altar Society, in the Parish Parlor, on Thursday morning, November 10th, after the 9.30 Mass.

St. Ursula's Guild for Teachers is an organization composed of women engaged in educational work, who are Communicants of the Episcopal Church. Interesting meetings are held one Friday evening each month. Come to the next meeting at 7.30 on Friday, November 11th, at 1831 Pine Street, or communicate with Miss Jeannette Thornton, the President, Springside School, Chestnut Hill, Pennsylvania.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity

November 13, 1932

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, Thou Joy of loving hearts
Sarum Plainsong, Mode 1

Intrott. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Orbis factor (10th century)

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat.
Alleluia.

Hymn 225 My spirit on thy care Louis Bourgeois, 1551

Credo - - Mode IV (6th century)

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 389 Hark, my soul! it is the Lord John B. Dykes, 1862

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa Dominicalis

Gloria in Excelsis - Missa Dominicalis

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in B minor - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 69, 70 - - Tones II-1, IV-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Noble in B minor

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Anthem (from the Requiem) - Mozart

Offering of prayer and of praise we bring to thee, God of Israel, Father most merciful. We render thee thanks for thy saints departed who have finished their course in thy faith and fear.

Grant us to have our perfect bliss in thy glory eternal, as thou to Abraham and his children didst promise forever.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Riposo - Rheinberger

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The House of St. Michael and All Angels, for colored crippled children, at 607 N. 43rd Street, will have its Annual Donation Day on Thursday, November 17th. Money, no matter how small the sum, is urgently needed. Groceries and clothing for children will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Tea will be served from 4 to 6.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Last week I wrote to the Director of Public Welfare asking for advice in the matter of responding to solicitations from street mendicants. The Director gives me permission to publish as follows:—

"Acknowledging your inquiry of October 6th with regard to a working rule for responding to solicitations from street mendicants, let me say there is a general agreement among social workers and the officials of charity organizations that there should be no money given to street applicants. They should be referred to some one of the established charitable organizations.

"During all of last winter I carried a little book of ten tickets, issued by the Galilee Mission; each ticket entitling the holder to a night's lodging and two meals, an evening one and a morning one. It really served as an insurance policy, for at the end of five months I had not been able to get any street applicant to accept one of the tickets. They all wanted money.

"I do not mean to say there were no worthy street applicants, but they are very few and far between. Not one of the cases that I followed up during the past winter proved to be worthy. In many instances the names and addresses were both fictitious.

"To sum up, I suggest that if you do not want to carry one of the little books that Mr. Wilkins issues from the Galilee Mission, that you give to the applicant a card containing the address of the Union Benevolent Association, 716 Spruce St.; Jewish Welfare Federation, 9th and Spruce Sts.; St. Vincent de Paul Society, 1616 N. 21st St., and our own City Mission, 225 S. 3rd St. All of these institutions will give sympathetic attention to the applicant and through the Social Service Exchange will be able to sort out the worthy from the unworthy cases."

No. 8

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent

November 20, 1932

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 456 Ye servants of the Lord Henry J. Gauntlett, 1848

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Cavaliere, 1600

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God! Leighton G. Hayne, 1863

Credo Cavaliere

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Hymn 253 The God of Abraham praise Hebrew melody, 1770

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Cavaliere

Gloria in Excelsis Cavaliere

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Canon in B minor Schumann

Thanksgiving Day

November 24, 1932

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 422, 421

The Ordinary of the Mass

Willan in D

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 104 Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Noble in B minor

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Anthem (from 'The Dream of Gerontius') Edward Elgar

Softly and gently, dearly-ransomed soul,
In my most loving arms I now enfold thee,
And, o'er the penal waters, as they roll,
I poise thee, and I lower thee, and hold thee.

And carefully I dip thee in the lake,
And thou, without a sob or a resistance,
Dost through the flood thy rapid passage take,
Sinking deep, deeper, into the dim distance.

Angels, to whom the willing task is given,
Shall tend, and nurse, and lull thee, as thou liest;
And Masses on the earth, and prayers in heaven,
Shall aid thee at the Throne of the Most Highest.

Farewell, but not for ever! brother dear,
Be brave and patient on thy bed of sorrow;
Swiftly shall pass thy night of trial here,
And I will come and wake thee on the morrow.

Lord, thou hast been our refuge: in every generation.
Bring us not, Lord, very low; for thou hast said, Come back again, ye sons of Adam.
Come back, O Lord! how long: and be entreated for thy servants.

Praise to the Holiest in the height,
And in the depth be praise:
To us his elder race he gave
To battle and to win,
Without the chastisement of pain,
Without the soil of sin. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Adagio (1st Sonata) Mendelssohn

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE OFFERING ON THANKSGIVING DAY IS FOR THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a Solemn High Mass at 9.30.

Contributions for the United Campaign for Unemployment Relief may be sent, marked for that purpose, to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

The following is a copy of a letter from the Director of Public Welfare regarding street mendicants, and published with his consent:—

"Acknowledging your inquiry of October 6th with regard to a working rule for responding to solicitations from street mendicants, let me say there is a general agreement among social workers and the officials of charity organizations that there should be no money given to street applicants. They should be referred to some one of the established charitable organizations.

"During all of last winter I carried a little book of ten tickets, issued by the Galilee Mission; each ticket entitling the holder to a night's lodging and two meals, an evening one and a morning one. It really served as an insurance policy, for at the end of five months I had not been able to get any street applicant to accept one of the tickets. They all wanted money.

"I do not mean to say there were no worthy street applicants, but they are very few and far between. Not one of the cases that I followed up during the past winter proved to be worthy. In many instances the names and addresses were both fictitious.

"To sum up, I suggest that if you do not want to carry one of the little books that Mr. Wilkins issues from the Galilee Mission, that you give to the applicant a card containing the address of the Union Benevolent Association, 716 Spruce St.; Jewish Welfare Federation, 9th and Spruce Sts.; St. Vincent de Paul Society, 1616 N. 21st St., and our own City Mission, 225 S. 3rd St. All of these institutions will give sympathetic attention to the applicant and through the Social Service Exchange will be able to sort out the worthy from the unworthy cases."

No. 9

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent

November 27, 1932

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 56 Thy kingdom come! Day's Psalter, 1562

Introit. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Ps. Shew me thy ways, O Lord, and teach me thy paths. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - Deus genitor alme, Mode IV

Gradual. For all they that look for thee: shall not be ashamed, O Lord. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

Alleluia. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding
William H. Monk, 1850

Credo - Mode IV, 6th century

Offertory. Unto thee, O Lord; lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Hymn 65 O come, O come, Emmanuel Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa Penitentialis

Hymn (English Hymnal, 311) - Proper melody, Rouen version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary, Spotless Virgin's virgin birth; Thou who truly hangedst weary On the Cross for sons of earth;	Thou whose sacred side was riven, Whence the Water flowed and Blood, O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given At death's hour to be my food:
---	---

O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral-Vorspiel: Deck thyself my soul Brahms

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 96, 97

Tones VIII-1, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn (English Hymnal, 1)

Mode IV

Creator of the stars of night,
Thy people's everlasting light,
Jesu, Redeemer, save us all,
And hear thy servants when they call.

At whose dread name, majestic now,
All knees must bend, all hearts must bow;
And things celestial thee shall own,
And things terrestrial, Lord alone.

Thou, grieving that the ancient curse
Should doom to death a universe,
Hast found the medicine, full of grace,
To save and heal a ruined race.

O thou whose coming is with dread
To judge and doom the quick and dead,
Preserve us, while we dwell below,
From every insult of the foe.

Thou cam'st, the Bridegroom of the bride,
As drew the world to evening-tide;
Proceeding from a virgin shrine,
The spotless Victim all divine:

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, Three in One,
Laud, honour, might and glory be
From age to age eternally. Amen.

Anthem—"The Wilderness"

Sir John Goss

The words selected from Isaiah XXXV.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Rex Glorioso, 1608

Organ—Sicilienne

Bach-Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Wednesday, November 30th, is St. Andrew's Day, and there will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, November 27th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, December 1st, at 3 P. M. Rev. H. Cresson McHenry will tell about the work of the City Mission.

There will be a day of Retreat for Associates and friends of St. Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Wednesday, December 7th. Conductor: the Rev. Oliver B. Dale, S.S.J.E., of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City.

The Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Whatever the forecasts for the secular year may be, no one will pretend that they can be more than guesses. The future is unknown. The secular year is filled with uncertainties.

It is not so with the Christian Year. The Christian Year unfolds the record of facts beyond the bounds and changes of time, for they are eternal. They are the foundations upon which life—past, present and future—rests. The Christian Year is filled with certainties.

The secular year is concerned with the things which are seen and temporal. The Christian Year is concerned with the things that are not seen and are eternal.

Saint Paul wrote of a light affliction. To us his affliction seems a heavy one. But it seemed light to him. And why? He had a time sense. "It is but for a moment," he wrote. He saw in it the opportunity for achieving a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. You see he was able to sense time and to see eternity. This is what I mean when I say that he had a time sense.

Time was for him a thing of the moment. Eternity was the thing that mattered. He could afford to endure. He knew how to wait. He was not depressed by the things that he saw. He knew that they were temporal. He sensed the unseen things. He knew that they were eternal. Just because of this he was able to conquer temporal adversities and out of his conquest to gain eternal glory as few men ever have in the history of the world. He was able to say, as a battle-scarred life was drawing to a close, "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day, and not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing."

"Not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing." Here is the hope of Christians whose lot it is to live in this year of nineteen hundred and thirty-two. Let there be said all and the worst that can be said of the present time. After all is said and seen, the fact remains that all there is to be seen is temporal. It will pass. Over and above and beyond, and yet interpenetrating, is eternity and the things which belong to it. These unseen things are eternal. They will remain after everything else has passed.

The things that are seen are to be faced, but they are to be seen in the light of eternity. They are to be dealt with, but they are to be dealt with in such a spirit and in such a manner as shall make for a righteousness which shall be an eternal possession.

The Christian Year begins today. Its calendar will spread before us the days which record the eternal verities. The solemnities of the Liturgy will commemorate the Divine events of revelation and redemption. The Sacraments will transport us out of time and into eternity. The prayer life makes speech with God possible for everyone. The Communion of Saints compasses the lonely with a great cloud of witnesses. The celestial hosts surround the embattled with an innumerable company of angels.

"Wherefore let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent

December 4, 1932

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 55 Come, thou long-expected Jesus Gotha, 1715

Introit. O people of Sion, behold, the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations: and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard.

Ps. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sancti Joannis Evangelistae)
Everett Tilcomb, 1930

Gradual. Out of Sion hath God appeared in perfect beauty. Gather my saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice.

Alleluia. For the powers of heaven shall be shaken: and they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Alleluia.

Hymn 59 Lord, thy Word abideth Ave Hierarchia, 1567

Credo - - - Mode IV, 6th century

Offertory. Wilt thou not turn again, O God, and quicken us; that thy people may rejoice in thee: shew us thy mercy; O Lord; and grant us thy salvation.

Hymn 62 Wake, awake, for night is flying Philip Nicolai, 1599

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Everett Tilcomb, 1930

Hymn (English Hymnal, 323) - Munster Gesangbuch, 1677

O most merciful!
O most bountiful!
God the Father Almighty!
By the Redeemer's Sweet intercession
Hear us, help us when we cry. Amen.

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral-Vorspiel: Sleepers, wake - Karg-Elert

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 22, 23 - - - Tones II-I, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 58 O Word of God incarnate Meiningen, 1693

Anthem—(from the Requiem) - - - Mozart

Day of vengeance, day of burning,
Seer's and Sybil's word confirming,
Heaven and earth to ashes turning.

When the Judge supreme is seated,
All's disclosed that's now secreted,
Every wrong's redress completed.

Oh, how great the tribulation
When the Judge shall take his station,
Judging strictly man's probation.

Trembling at his indignation,
When shall I make supplication!
Scarce the righteous find salvation.

Hark, the angel trumpet sounding,
Through sepulchral realms rebounding,
See the dead the throne surrounding.

King tremendous, Judge all-seeing,
Yet by mercy sinners freeing,
Save me, great and holy being.

Death and nature view affrighted,
Dust and spirit reunited,
Man arisen to judgment cited.

Day of mourning, day of weeping,
When from ashes rise the sleeping,
Guilty man to hear his sentence.

Then is shown the book containing
Written deeds the world arraigning,
Open guilt and guilty feigning.

God of mercy, spare, repentance,
Holy Jesus, hear, O hear our prayer,
Let the wicked cease from trembling,
And the weary be at rest. Amen.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Rex Glorioso, 1608

Organ—Agnus Dei - - - Saint-Saens

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a day of Retreat for Associates and friends of St. Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Wednesday, December 7th. Conductor: the Rev. Oliver B. Dale, S.S.J.E., of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City.

The Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

The following is a copy of a letter from the Director of Public Welfare regarding street mendicants, and published with his consent:—

"Acknowledging your inquiry of October 6th with regard to a working rule for responding to solicitations from street mendicants, let me say there is a general agreement among social workers and the officials of charity organizations that there should be no money given to street applicants. They should be referred to some one of the established charitable organizations.

"During all of last winter I carried a little book of ten tickets, issued by the Galilee Mission; each ticket entitling the holder to a night's lodging and two meals, an evening one and a morning one. It really served as an insurance policy, for at the end of five months I had not been able to get any street applicant to accept one of the tickets. They all wanted money.

"I do not mean to say there were no worthy street applicants, but they are very few and far between. Not one of the cases that I followed up during the past winter proved to be worthy. In many instances the names and addresses were both fictitious.

"To sum up, I suggest that if you do not want to carry one of the little books that Mr. Wilkins issues from the Galilee Mission, that you give to the applicant a card containing the address of the Union Benevolent Association, 716 Spruce St.; Jewish Welfare Federation, 9th and Spruce Sts.; St. Vincent de Paul Society, 1616 N. 21st St., and our own City Mission, 225 S. 3rd St. All of these institutions will give sympathetic attention to the applicant and through the Social Service Exchange will be able to sort out the worthy from the unworthy cases."

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Saint Peter wrote that "no prophecy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

Private interpretation means taking the Scripture out from its setting, disregarding its traditional interpretation and substituting an individual interpretation formed on the basis of private judgment.

What is the setting? The Church. The Bible is the Church's Book. The Church teaches. The Bible confirms. Church teaching and Bible truth cannot be separated. They are one. They come from one and the same source. That source is the Holy Ghost. "Church and Scripture are both necessary factors in the production of a faith which is at once sound and adequate, and neither can displace the other or fulfil its function" (Hall, Authority Ecclesiastical and Biblical.)

On this Second Sunday in Advent our attention is directed to the Holy Scriptures. We are reminded that they "were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

Before we begin to meditate upon the Scriptures the Church teaches us a special prayer, the Collect for the day. Then she gives us a part of Saint Paul's Epistle to the Romans. Then she gives us a part of Saint Luke's Gospel. Then she directs us to recite the Nicene Creed. This Collect, Epistle, Gospel and Creed are parts in her solemn Liturgy in which she offers the "continual remembrance of the sacrifice of the death of Christ."

In her daily offices at Matins and Evensong she orders the recitation of the Psalter, the reading of chapters from the Old and New Testaments, of certain Canticles and the Apostles' Creed. She enshrines the Scriptures in her solemnities of sacrifice and prayer. She does this not only on one day in seven, but on every day throughout the year. In her cycle of devotion she commemorates the events and sets forth the truths of Divine revelation. While she teaches and as she teaches she introduces the readings of her sacred writings for the confirmation of her teaching. The Church speaks and refers to her Scriptures. All the while she calls into action our faculties of perception and response, that we may in such wise hear, read, mark, learn and inwardly digest; that by patience and comfort we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life. In the Sacramental life which the Church administers to us, she gives us that life itself.

The Church is the reservoir of grace and the well of truth. The channels of Grace are the Sacraments. The channels of truth are the living voice of the Church and the written word of her Scriptures. The experience of the Christian will persuade him beyond a peradventure that the Holy Scriptures contain all Doctrine taught by the living voice of the Church as necessary for eternal salvation.

This experience is to be gained in the fulfilment of the Baptismal Vows of renunciation, faith and obedience. The battles of renunciation will drive the Christian to have constant recourse to the Sacraments which are the means of grace by which he receives the medicines to heal his spiritual wounds, to cure his spiritual sickness, to nourish him with the Heavenly Food which restores and sustains his strength.

The Articles of the Christian Faith as contained in the Creed will be the foundation stones of his sure and certain belief. The Scriptures will supply him with the comfort of the Word of God. They will give to him the changeless promises and inspire him with confidence steadfastly to believe them, live by them and die by them. Meditation upon them will give to him an ever-open door through which he will find escape from the disquietude of the world.

The self-discipline required for the obedient keeping of God's Will and Commandments will save him from the tragedies of self-will and safeguard his spiritual pilgrimage all the days of his life.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 11

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent

December 11, 1932

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is John B. Dykes, 1868

Introit. Rejoice ye in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice ye; let your moderation be known unto all men, the Lord is at hand: be careful for nothing nor troubled; but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

Ps. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding: shall keep you hearts and minds. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Claudio Casciolini

Gradual. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubim: stir up thy strength and come. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia. Stir up thy strength, O Lord: and come and help us.

Hymn 492 Rise up, O men of God! William H. Walter, 1904

Credo Missa de Angelis

Offertory 'O Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land; thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob: thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people.

Hymn 61 Rejoice, rejoice, believers! Henry Smart, 1836

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Claudio Casciolini

Hymn (Songs of Syon, 350) Heinrich Albert, 1604-51

Lo, he comes! let all adore him:
'Tis the God of grace and truth:
Go, prepare the way before him,
Make the rugged places smooth:
Lo, he comes! the mighty Lord
Great his work and his reward.

Let the valleys all be raised,
Go and make the crooked straight:
Let the mountains be abased,
Let all nature change its state:
Through the desert mark a road,
Make a highway for our God.

From the hills and lofty mountains
Rivers shall be seen to flow:
There the Lord will open fountains,
Hence supply the plains below:
As he passes, every land
Shall confess his powerful hand. Amen.

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Marche du Veilleur de Nuit Bach-Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 59, 60, 61 Tones IV-7, VI, VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stanford in B flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 1) Mode IV

Creator of the stars of night,
Thy people's everlasting light,
Jesu, Redeemer, save us all,
And hear thy servants when they call.

At whose dread name, majestic now,
All knees must bend, all hearts must bow;
And things celestial thee shall own,
And things terrestrial, Lord alone.

Thou, grieving that the ancient curse
Should doom to death a universe,
Hast found the medicine, full of grace,
To save and heal a ruined race.

O thou whose coming is with dread
To judge and doom the quick and dead,
Preserve us, while we dwell below,
From every insult of the foe.

Thou cam'st, the Bridegroom of the bride,
As drew the world to evening-tide;
Proceeding from a virgin shrine,
The spotless Victim all divine:

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, Three in One,
Laud, honour, might and glory be
From age to age eternally. Amen.

Anthem Henry Purcell, 1658-95

Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say, rejoice. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ our Lord.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Rex Glorioso, 1608

Organ—Reverie on 'University' tune Harvey Grace

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE LAST MISSIONARY OFFERING FOR THIS YEAR
WILL BE RECEIVED NEXT SUNDAY, THE FOURTH
SUNDAY IN ADVENT, DECEMBER 18th.

ALL OFFERINGS FOR THAT DAY ARE FOR MISSIONS.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Collect for today is a prayer for the ministers and stewards of the mysteries of the Christian Religion. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days. The word Ember means a seasonal circuit of prayer observed in Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter; on the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays after the First Sunday in Lent; Pentecost; Holy Cross Day, September fourteenth; and Saint Lucy's Day, December thirteenth. The Embertide prayer is for those who are to be admitted into Holy Orders. The Collect for today is specifically for those who are in Holy Orders.

It would be well, by way of preparation for the Ember Seasons, to read the Ordinal or Form and Manner of Making, Ordaining and Consecrating Bishops, Priests and Deacons. The Preface to the Ordinal should be read. It explains the intention of the Ordinal, which is that the Orders which have been from the Apostles' time may be continued and reverently used and esteemed in this Church. This continuance is called the Apostolic Succession. So vitally important is this continuance that as the Preface states, "no man shall be accounted or taken to be a lawful Bishop, Priest or Deacon in this Church, or suffered to execute any one of the said Functions, except he be called, tried, examined and admitted thereunto according to the Form hereafter following, or hath had Episcopal consecration or Ordination."

As you read the Ordinal you will observe that the Bishop at his Consecration receives the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Bishop in the Church of God, not merely in a national Church, not in a separate Communion, but in the whole Church of God. He is a Catholic Bishop. You will observe that the Laying on of the hands of the Consecrating Bishops accompanies the words of Consecration. This Laying on of hands is the actual Succession which forms a living link with the Apostles themselves.

You will observe that the Priest at his Ordination receives the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Priest in the Church of God, and that this Order is committed by the Imposition of hands, together with the words of Ordination. The power to offer Sacrifice is the Priestly function. The Ordinal also specifies the power to forgive and retain sins.

You will observe that the Deacon receives authority to execute the Office of a Deacon, and that the Laying on of the hands of the Bishop accompanies the words pronounced by the Bishop.

Kingdoms have risen and fallen. One Kingdom has never fallen. Down through the ages the Kingdom of Our Lord has lived unchanged and changeless. Dynasty after dynasty has been shattered. The Apostolic Succession has never been broken. Of that it may be said, and by Divine authority, there will be Bishops, Priests, and Deacons until the end of the world, and after the end of the world. For these Priests are Priests forever.

Ring through the Ordinal is the promise of Our Lord, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." Our Lord exercises His Priesthood through His priests. It is He, and not the natural man upon whom He has laid the awful responsibility of Priesthood, who sacrifices, absolves, gives Communion, blesses and anoints. He gives you nothing less than His own Priesthood through the priest who ministers to you.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 12

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent

December 18, 1932

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 57

Lo, He comes with clouds descending

Cantus Diversi, 1751

Introit. Remember us, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit us with thy salvation: that we, beholding the felicity of thy chosen, may rejoice in the gladness of thy people; and may glory with thine inheritance.

Ps. We have sinned with our fathers: we have done amiss and dealt wickedly. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Everett Titcomb, 1930

Gradual. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him: yea, all such as call upon him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name.

Alleluia. Come, O Lord, and tarry not: forgive the misdeeds of thy people.

Hymn 56

Thy kingdom come!

Day's Psalter, 1562

Credo

Missa de Angelis

Offertory. Be strong, fear not: behold, our God will come with a recompense: he will come, and save us.

Hymn 66

O come, O come, Emmanuel

Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Everett Titcomb, 1930

Hymn (English Hymnal, 331)

Proper Melody, Solesmes version

Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, thee,
Who in thy Sacrament art pleased to be;
Both flesh and spirit in thy presence fail,
Yet here thy Presence we devoutly hail.

O blest Memorial of our dying Lord,
Who living Bread to men doth here afford!
O may our souls for ever feed on thee,
And thou, O Christ, for ever precious be.

Amen.

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Solemn Melody in F

Walford Davies

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 93, 94

Tones V-3, IV-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in B flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 1)

Mode IV

Creator of the stars of night,
Thy people's everlasting light,
Jesu, Redeemer, save us all,
And hear thy servants when they call.

At whose dread name, majestic now,
All knees must bend, all hearts must bow;
And things celestial thee shall own,
And things terrestrial, Lord alone.

Thou, grieving that the ancient curse
Should doom to death a universe,
Hast found the medicine, full of grace,
To save and heal a ruined race.

O thou whose coming is with dread
To judge and doom the quick and dead,
Preserve us, while we dwell below,
From every insult of the foe.

Thou cam'st, the Bridegroom of the bride,

As drew the world to evening-tide;
Proceeding from a virgin shrine,
The spotless Victim all divine:

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, Three in One,
Laud, honour, might and glory be
From age to age eternally. Amen.

Anthem (The Messiah)

Handel

Comfort ye, comfort ye, my people, saith your God; speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem; and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned.

The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness:—Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill made low, the crooked straight and the rough places plain.

(Soloist, Mr. Alfred Gonzalez.)

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Rex Glorioso, 1608

Organ—Adagio (Symphony II)

Saint-Saens

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Wednesday will be St. Thomas' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The hours for Confession on Christmas Eve are 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

The Services on Christmas Day will be—Masses for Communion at 7, 8 and 9 A. M. Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon at 11 A. M.

There will be a breakfast in the Parish House on Christmas morning, after the 8 and 9 o'clock Masses, for those who come from a distance. Please address a post card to Sister Helen, S.S.M., Parish House, 1625 Locust Street, notifying of intention to come to breakfast.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1932.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the life and letters of a distinguished ecclesiastic I found the following paragraph. "I venture to define the feast of Christmas as la fête des joyeux abaisséments. Self-abasement is a wonderful source of union with God, provided it is sincere, and if it be joyful and childlike, there is no discouragement or despondency in it."

The joyous self-abasement of the Son of God! That is the true note of Christmas. It is the dominant note. Or it ought to be. But is it? The ringing note of joy. Even non-Christians sense that. The haunting note of abasement. Only the Christian senses that. God is the Child. The Child is God. "For us men and for our salvation, He came down from heaven, and was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man." Our response is our own self-abasement. In our self-abasement we shall find our joy. This is the paradox of the Christian life.

What is self-abasement? There is a spurious self-abasement born of servility. True self-abasement is realized in sacrifice. It is the expression of the love which lays down its life for its friends. Self-abasement is sacrificial love. It is the unmistakable hall-mark of nobility. It possesses a splendor and a dignity all its own. It is the freedom of the greatest to become the companion of the least. The world has never yet yielded lasting gratitude to any one who has not in some degree measured up to this standard.

Our Lord has given us the standard of perfection. He, who is God, made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of man: and being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross. In His joyous self-abasement He revealed the glory which impels every knee to bow, of things in Heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth. In His self-abasement He opened a way for the world out of its worst and into its best. The only men and women who have succeeded as guides along that way have been those who have most notably approached His example. The men and women who from time to time have plunged the world into disaster have been those who have conspicuously rejected His standards and refused to follow Him.

The joyousness of Christian self-abasement consists in the consciousness of a long and unbroken succession of victories. From the Manger on the record stands. Sacrificial love is the one and only redemptive force in the world.

When you enter the Church on Christmas Day you will be pausing at the Crib for a few moments of meditation. Then you will go on to the Altar to adore the Holy Child Himself. You will open the door of the manger of your hearts and you will receive Him and give Him dwelling within you.

For a half-hour you will have left a world more troubled than it has been for a long, long time. If your Communion has armed you with the mind that is in your Lord, you will go back into that world inspired with the joyousness of the self-abasement which can mend the world. There will be no discouragement or despondency in you. This Christmas may be the happiest because it must be the bravest Christmas you have ever had.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Circumcision

January 1, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 79 It came upon the midnight clear
Richard S. Willis, 1850

Introit. Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Angel of Mighty Counsel.

Ps. O sing unto the Lord a new song: for he hath done marvellous things. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Schubert in C

Gradual. All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God: O be joyful in God, all ye lands! The Lord hath declared his salvation: in the sight of the heathen hath he openly shewed his righteousness.

Alleluia. God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the Prophets: hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son. Alleluia.

Hymn 88 The ancient law departs Louis Bourgeois, 1551

Credo - - - Schubert in C

Offertory. The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine; thou hast laid the foundations of the round world, and all that therein is; righteousness and equity are the habitation of thy seat.

Hymn 89 To the Name of our salvation C. Ett, 1840

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in C

Gloria in Excelsis . . . Schubert in C

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Pastorale - - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 103 - - - - Tone V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - Martin in G

Hymn 73 Hark! the herald angels sing Mendelssohn, 1840

CAROLS—

Balulalow (O my deir heart) - Peter Warlock

Cherubim Song - - Bortniansky

Lute-Book Lullaby (Sweet was the song) W. Ballet, 17th Cent.

Susanni (A little Child there is yborn)
German tune, 15th century

Angels from the realms of glory - French tune

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Visit to the Creche

Prayers

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber

Organ—In dulci jubilo - - - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FEAST OF THE CIRCUMCISION.
OCTAVE OF CHRISTMAS—1933.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

FRIDAY, JANUARY 6, WILL BE THE FEAST OF THE EPIPHANY. THERE WILL BE A THIRD MASS AT 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, January 1st, 1933, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, January 5, 1933, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Mr. Paul Rusch of St. Paul's University, Tokyo, Japan.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation
are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Festival of the Nativity of Our Lord is the jewel of the joyful mysteries of redemption. There is a long, straight and steep road leading out from Bethlehem. It leads through villages and cities, through deserts, and over mountains. Beyond the peak of the last mountain is Heaven. All this lies ahead of the little Child whom we are adoring as He sleeps peacefully in His Manger Crib. It was not long before the Blessed Mother learned that a sword would pierce her heart. Myrrh as well as gold and incense was an offering to the Holy Child. Christmas is a joyful feast. But without remembrance of what is to follow, and without resolute determination to follow on into the future of the Child, Christmas devotion would deteriorate into sentimentality. Picture a mother brooding over her child. She rejoices and at the same time she senses the hopes and fears of all the years that are to come. It is the blend of joy and hope and fear and courage which constitutes the strength of maternal love.

On the Octave of the Holy Nativity we shall do well if we make resolutions of loyalty to the Holy Child. We shall please God if we follow Him on His way. Each Festival and Feast of His will be dear to us. We shall go on to Nazareth, and to Jerusalem, and on to the end of the road. Nothing short of the whole journey will satisfy us.

We shall resolve to keep an indomitable spirit of joy. He did. We must. He has overcome the world. We shall be of good cheer. Good cheer is the witness to faith, and cheerfulness is the mark of growth in grace. Not fictitious surface cheerfulness, but a spontaneous and deep undertone of joy. Not a joy in ourselves or our temporal circumstances, but in Our Lord. We can never regard ourselves with complacency. And our temporal circumstances are fluctuating. It must be the joy of utter trust in the Lord who has declared that He has overcome the world. There is no such word as depression in the dictionary of a believing Christian.

We shall resolve to keep the spirit of hope. Hope is only genuine when we cannot see the thing we hope for. Hope is a theological virtue. Optimism is a temperamental accident. Hope is an anchor of the soul. It is the only force capable of resisting the currents of adversity. Hope embraces crosses undismayed and senses the joys that are set before. Hope, together with Faith and Charity, were given to us at Baptism. Hope, no less than Faith and Charity, must be cultivated by habitual exercise. We must pray to be delivered from sins against Hope. We are saved by Hope. By our own example of Hope we may electrify the areas of despondency. We may unconsciously energize more people than we know and surround them with an atmosphere of sanity. The world has a right to expect this from Christmas.

We shall resolve to face fears without flinching and to meet them with the power of the perfect love that casts out fear. We shall give short shrift to fear.

If we learn this obvious lesson from the brave Baby of Bethlehem, we shall do Him service. We have offered Him adoring hearts. Now we shall give Him valiant hearts.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after the Epiphany

January 8, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 94 As with gladness men of old Kocher, 1838
 Procession { 93 Earth has many a noble city Gotha, 1715

Introit. On a throne exalted I beheld, and lo, a man sitting, whom a legion of Angels worship, singing together: behold, his rule and governance endureth to all ages.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Beethoven in C

Gradual. Blessed be the Lord, even the God of Israel: which only doeth wondrous things. The mountains also shall bring peace: and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: Serve the Lord with gladness. Alleluia.

Hymn 480 Jesus shall reign Hatton, 1793

Credo - - - West in A

Offertory. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God.

Hymn 98 How bright appears the morning star Nicolai, 1599

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - West in A

Gloria in Excelsis - - - West in A

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude on 'How bright appears' - Pachelbel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 66, 67 - - - Tones I-3, VIII-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in C

Hymn 553 Saw you never, in the twilight Tours, 1881

CAROLS—

O Holy Night - - - Adolphe Adam

Let all together praise our God - - - Bach

Three Kings of Orient - - - J. H. Hopkins

Rocking (Little Jesus, sweetly sleep) Czech Carol

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Visit to the Creche

Prayers

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber

Organ—Chorale-Prelude: 'Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring' Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1933.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE FIRST OFFERING FOR MISSIONS FOR 1933 WILL BE MADE NEXT SUNDAY, JANUARY 15th.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"We have seen his star and are come to worship." A manifestation and a response. Both are adapted to individual circumstance and capacity. The star appears to every one at least once in a life-time. The true light lighteth every man that cometh into the world. The manifestation is the great romance. The response is the great adventure.

It would be a profitable spiritual exercise to make an Epiphany self-examination. When did I first see the star? Where? Under what circumstances? Over what road did I come? What were my difficulties? When did I find Him? Where? How did I worship? What did I offer? What use have I made of the light? Have I been faithful to it? The answer to these questions would serve as the chapter titles of the spiritual autobiography of each one of us; the book that we have never written. Yet the events are recorded in the Lamb's book of life. We might ask ourselves one more question. What kind of book would mine make? Some day we shall know.

One night last week I looked out of one of the windows of the Clergy House, and I saw something that I would like to share with you. The day had been one of those dear, gray days when the city had been veiled with a comforting, restful, reassuring mist. At night the mist had become luminous with the glow of city lights. To the city lover they have a charm all their own. The picture that I saw caught one's eyes at three points. A soaring building with its top disappearing in the gray night. The spire of Saint Mark's, once in the simpler old days impressive for its physical dominance, and now in these days revealing a symbol of arresting spiritual beauty. And between the two, and high above, a single star. Do you see? It was all there. The whole Epiphany episode. The skyscraper—that was modern life. The spire—that was changeless life. The star—that was eternal life. And I have seen the wise men. I see them every day. They come from the skyscrapers. They come early in the morning. They come one by one through the day. They come and worship. And they go away. They complete the Epiphany pageant. And the star? And the individual circumstances? And the response? God only knows. The gifts? The gold of agonized obedience. The incense of simple worship. The myrrh of mute suffering. God only sees. But what God knows and what God sees is making a thrilling book about a modern street in a modern city. It is the story of the modern Epiphany. Locust Street, bathed with Epiphany starlight, is a street to love and remember.

Children see the star. It appears at a prayer time. They see. They never forget. It appears at a visit to a church. The silence, the dim light, the red lamp. They never forget. A priest at the Altar. The sound of a bell. The sight of the Crib. A breath of incense. And they never forget. I know that this is so. I have carried for more than fifty years the picture of a priest saying Mass in a tiny church in an isolated hamlet, remote, and except for the priest, desolate.

Penitents see: "Go in peace, for the Lord hath put away thy sins." They depart into their own country. But they depart another way.

Communicants see and open their treasures, and in return perceive within themselves the fruits of redemption.

In one way or another the wise see and come and worship.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after the Epiphany

January 15, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God Hayne, 1863

Introit. All the earth shall worship thee, O God, and sing of thee: they shall sing praise to thy Name, O most Highest.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Willan in E flat

Gradual. The Lord sent his word and healed them: and they were saved from their destruction. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, all ye angels of his: praise him, all his host. Alleluia.

Hymn 282 On Jordan's bank the Baptist's cry Hamburg, 1690

Credo - - Willan in E flat

Offertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God; and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn 99 Hail to the Lord's Anointed Havergal, 1850

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Willan in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - Willan in E flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Sur un theme Breton - Guy Ropartz

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 45, 46 - - Tones VIII-1, V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in C

Hymn 101 Joy to the world! the Lord is come Haweis, 1792

Anthem - - Dr. William Crotch

Lo! star-led chiefs Assyrian odours bring, and bending Magi seek their infant King!

Marked ye, where, hovering o'er his radiant head, the dove's white wings celestial glory shed.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale-Prelude: In thee is joy - J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1933.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Epistle for today gives us instructions for our guidance as we go out from Bethlehem to follow the steps of Our Lord's most holy life. On Ascension Day we hope to arrive at the mountain to see the end of His journey. We saw the arrival on Christmas Day. On Ascension Day we shall see the triumphant return. We must link these Festivals. We can do that by devout observance of the Christian Year.

Today's letter concerns our duty to our neighbor. Some of our neighbors may not know about the Christian year. But they do know us. If we disappoint them in any way, or give them just cause for distrust, our religious observances will fairly forfeit even the consideration of conventional courtesy. The only proof of the reality of the Christian Year to us will be the reality of the Christian life revealed to them in the ordinary affairs and contacts of daily life.

The sum of the rule of life as it is outlined in the Epistle is this. "Having gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, let us use them, in faith, in service, with simplicity, with diligence, with mercy. "Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. Be kindly affectioned one to another; not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; hopeful, patient, prayerful, generous; hospitable, sympathetic, humble, friendly." These are our marching orders as we start from Bethlehem on the crusade of the Christian Year.

Our Lord's first miracle was the changing of water into wine. His first miracle in us is the changing of the water of the natural into the wine of the supernatural. We each of us have at least some gifts differing according to nature. We must make the most of them by diligent use. We must fill the waterpots to the brim. We must present ourselves, our souls and bodies to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice, humbly beseeching that by the gift of grace we may do all such good works as God has prepared for us to walk in. Here is the purpose of our use of the Sacraments. The Sacraments are the touch of the finger of God, transforming nature by grace. We shall then have gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us. The things that are naturally impossible for us will become possible supernaturally. We shall surmount the insurmountable. We shall brush aside obstacles, hindrances, difficulties. In tribulations, distresses, even in persecutions, famine, nakedness, or peril, or sword, we shall be more than conquerors, since none of these things are able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus Our Lord.

This is the tone and the temper of the army which turns from Bethlehem and marches on to Nazareth. At Nazareth we shall learn the meaning of discipline. We shall learn the value of the private preparedness which must precede public performance. We shall learn how and why we must obey before we can become fit to command. We shall learn how to purge ourselves of the desire to command. We shall learn the satisfaction of selfless and purposeful subjection. We shall learn that our business in life is not to be ministered unto, but to minister. We shall learn that we are not our own, because we belong to God and our neighbors. We shall learn that the secret of finding our lives is to lose them.

Without the ruling passion for all this, our religion would be mere religiosity. With it religion makes a rightly related, resilient, resistless life, possible for the last and the least of us.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after the Epiphany

January 22, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 256 Songs of praise the Angels sang Handel, 1728

Introit. All ye angels of God, fall down, and worship before him: Syon heard, and was exceeding joyful, and the daughters of Juda were glad.

Ps. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Cavaliere, 1600

Gradual. The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Syon: and when his glory shall appear.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Alleluia.

Hymn 100 Light of those whose dreary dwelling
Moravian Melody, 1745

Credo Cavaliere

Offertory. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Hymn 96 Songs of Thankfulness and Praise Jakob Hintze, 1763

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Cavaliere

Gloria in Excelsis Cavaliere

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fuga in D Pachelbel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 108, 109 Tones VIII-2, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Brewer in E flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 51) Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light,
Who mak'st the day with radiance
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Lest, sunk in sin, and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life;
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem from 'Christus' Mendelssohn

When Jesus, our Lord, was born in Bethlehem, in the land of Judaea: behold, from the east to the city of Jerusalem there came wise men, and said: Say, where is He born, the King of Judaea? for we have seen His star, and are come to adore Him.

There shall a star come out of Jacob, and a sceptre shall rise out of Israel; with might destroying princes and cities.

As bright the star of morning gleams, so Jesus sheddeth glorious beams of light and consolation. Thy Word, O Lord, Radiance darting, Truth imparting, gives salvation; Thine be praise and adoration.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Sonatina: God's Time is Best J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Of your charity pray for the repose of the soul of the Rt. Reverend William Walter Webb, D. D., Bishop of Milwaukee.

Wednesday, January 25th, is the Feast of the Conversion St. Paul. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Centenary Catholic Congress will be held in Philadelphia, October 23rd to 26th. The subject of the Congress Papers will be "The Catholic Revival and the Kingdom of God." The General Chairman will be the Rt. Rev. Benjamin F. P. Ivins, D. D., Bishop-Coadjutor of Milwaukee. Congress notices will be given from time to time.

Father Hughson has kindly consented to be our Congress preacher on October 2nd at High Mass.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Be not overcome with evil, but overcome evil with good." This injunction, delivered by Saint Paul, comes like a breath of fresh air. There is in it the quality of clarity and the note of confidence for which one may look in vain in the anti-Christian world.

If one were to attempt a similar summing up of that world's injunction concerning good and evil, it would read, "Be overcome with evil, but call that evil good." Each super-intellectual essayist and brilliant lecturer and daring dramatist and realistic novelist will give you this solution of the problem of evil as a freshly discovered gospel of freedom, hitherto withheld from the world, but now revealed to modern men and women too long enslaved by an effete religion and a cramped morality. Thousands will read the essays, listen to the lecturers, see the plays and buy the books. A certain percentage will welcome release from inhibitions that have become irksome. But there will always be a percentage, and I believe not a small one, who possess the natural virtues of sanity and wholesomeness. These will continue to exercise reason and conscience. Their answer will be, "no, that will not do. The good is normal. The evil is abnormal. The normal must expel the abnormal."

We are not passing through a new phase of life. We are passing through an ancient phase of life. We are passing through a recrudescence of very ancient paganism. The short cut of calling evil good has been tried, many, very many times before. It has failed, been forgotten, rediscovered, and failed again. It is an old and tiresome story.

The word "sophisticated" was listed as a much overworked word by a writer in the New York Times. It is. And it is a misunderstood word. So much so that it is frequently used to convey a compliment. The Oxford Dictionary defines the word sophisticate as meaning "to mislead, to make artificial, to tamper with texts for the sake of argument." It would seem then that a sophisticated person is a tamperer with truth. The sophisticated person is an other worldly person. He lives in quite another world from the real world. He lives in any other world but the right one.

The Christian is not driven to such desperate extremities. It is the Christian's business to see the world as it is. He has a philosophy which enables him to do it. And he does see it as it is. He sees the good in it. He sees the evil in it. He calls the good good. He calls the evil evil. He recognizes the conflict. He knows the way through. He knows that there can be no compromise. He is quite clear about that. He knows that good can overcome evil. He is quite confident about that. Where did he get his light? Where did he get his knowledge? Where did he get his confidence? The answer is simple. But it will not interest the sophisticated person. It must be withheld from him until pain has restored him to simplicity. As a matter of fact the Christian got his light from a star, which stood over a Manger in a place called Bethlehem. He got his knowledge from a Cross which stood on a hill called Calvary. He got his confidence at an empty Tomb in a Garden.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after the Epiphany

January 29, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 102 O very God of very God Tans'ur, 1734

Introit. All ye angels of God, fall down, and worship before him: Syon heard, and was exceeding joyful, and the daughters of Juda were glad.

Ps. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Harwood in E flat

Gradual. The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Syon: and when his glory shall appear.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Alleluia.

Hymn 225 My spirit on thy care Bourgeois, 1551

Credo - - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Hymn 104 Thou whose Almighty Word Giardini, 1769

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Moderato in F

Gade

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 141, 142, 143

Tones VIII-4, VI, VII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Brewer in E flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 51)

Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light,
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Lest, sunk in sin, and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life;
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem (from St. Paul)

Mendelssohn

Recit.—And Paul came to the congregation, and preached freely the Name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Then spake the Holy Ghost: 'Set ye apart Barnabas and Paul for the work whereunto I have called them.' And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

Duettino—Now we are ambassadors in the Name of Christ, and God beseecheth you by us, in the Name of Christ.

Chorus—How lovely are the messengers that preach us the gospel of peace! To all the nations is gone forth the sound of their words, throughout all the lands their glad tidings.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Melodia in E flat

Bossi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
 Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
 from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Feast of the Purification will be observed on Thursday, February 2nd. There will be the usual Mass at 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, January 29th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, February 2nd, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be the Rev. Francis W. Parker, O. H. C., Prior of St. Andrew's School, St. Andrew's, Tennessee.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Last Wednesday we were observing the Feast of the Conversion of Saint Paul. Next after the Festivals of the Blessed Virgin Mother, the commemoration of Saint Paul's conversion may well be considered as of first importance to Gentile Christians. Saint Paul was and is the Apostle of the Gentiles. He gave his life, his labors and his prayers. God used his preaching to cause the light of the Gospel to shine throughout the world. His letters are inspired expositions of Christian Theology. We do well to pray that we, having his wonderful conversion in remembrance, may show forth our thankfulness for the same, by following the holy doctrine which he taught. To know that doctrine we need to saturate our minds with it by constant reading of the Epistles. They afford a complete library of treatises on Dogmatic, Moral, Ascetical and Mystical Theology.

In the octave of his Festival, we have his wonderful conversion in mind. From his conversion we shall learn more and more of the mysteries of conversion. The Epistle for the Festival is taken from the ninth Chapter of the Book of Acts. Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, desiring letters from the high priest, that he might bring bound men and women to Jerusalem, is suddenly surrounded by a light from heaven. He hears a voice. He cries, "Who art thou, Lord?" He hears the answer. "I am Jesus whom thou persecutest." He, trembling and astonished, said, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" He receives a command. "Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do." So Saul the persecutor was turned into Paul the Apostle. There followed the period of penitence. And what a penitence! Who has written with deeper knowledge of the process and the technique and the fruits of penitence? He is the master of penitents because he was a master penitent. There followed the period of deeper illumination. Who has written of the mystic way of illumination as he has? There followed an experience of the way of union. Who has realized as he did the rapture of union which brought from the depths of his soul the ecstatic cry, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me."

He attained to a devotion to Christ crucified, so vivid and so absorbing, that he could say, "I am crucified with Christ." So intense was his devotion to the Passion of Our Lord that he "died daily." He "suffered with Him." He died with Him. He was buried with Him. He rose with Him. He reigned with Him. Such meditations! Such prayers! Such heights and such depths! And with all this a knowledge of human nature, an understanding of men, a piercing intellect, a balanced judgment, a power for unerring and swift decision and a brilliant something that took all kinds and ranks of men by storm. God gave us a giant to be our apostle.

There is only one Saint Paul. But there is a conversion for every one. We are expected to be the kind of person God wants us to be. The contrast between Saul and Paul indicates the contrast which is to be between the old self and the new self that our own conversion will bring about.

Not all or even many, conversions are sudden and startling. The conversion normally is accomplished by steady growth in grace, by unemotional sacramental life, by ordered habits of prayer, by steady fidelity to simple leadings in the common life, by methodical performance of inconspicuous duties. This is the normal process by which a person becomes rightly orientated. By constant turning to the more perfect we are ultimately established in the most perfect. The simple rule is to choose the more perfect of two possible actions. By inclining the heart repeatedly we fix it habitually.

There will be in varying degrees constant conversions. Every act of penitence is the result of a conversion. Every perception of something that needs to be corrected is a conversion. Every awakening to deeper self-knowledge is a conversion. From Saint Paul's conversion we learn how to make a simple, quiet and lasting surrender.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 39

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 25, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds Reinagle, 1836

Introit. The Lord was my refuge and my upholder; and he brought me forth into a place of liberty: he delivered me because he delighted in me.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Harwood in E flat

Gradual. When I was in trouble I called upon the Lord: and he heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips: and from a deceitful tongue.

Alleluia. God is a righteous Judge, strong and patient: and God is provoked every day.

Hymn 254 How wondrous and great thy works
Michael Haydn, 1737-1806

Credo - - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul: O save me for thy mercies' sake.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest in the height Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasia in G minor - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 73-104 - - Tones I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and III with faux bourdons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn (English Hymnal, 51) - - Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light,
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Lest, sunk in sin and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life;
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain;
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem - - - Sir Edward Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor:

He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord;

To give unto them that mourn a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth;

So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mode VIII

Organ—Sursum Corda - - - Elgar

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Beginning with the first Sunday in July, and continuing during July, August and September, the Services are as follows:

SUNDAY—	8.00 A. M.	-	Low Mass
	10.30 A. M.	- -	Matins
	11.00 A. M.	-	High Mass
	4.00 P. M.	- -	Evensong

DAILY—	7.00 A. M.	-	Low Mass
	9.00 A. M.	- -	Matins
	12.30 M.	-	Intercessions
	5.00 P. M.	- -	Evensong

Confessions—Saturdays, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 20

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Septuagesima Sunday

February 12, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds Reinagle, 1836

Introit. The sorrows of death came about me; the pains of hell gat hold upon me: and in my tribulation I made my prayer unto the Lord, and he regarded my supplication out of his holy temple.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord, my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Casciolini

Gradual. The Lord will be a refuge in the time of trouble; and they that know thy Name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee. For the poor shall not always be forgotten; the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish for ever; up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand.

Tract. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well: the voice of my complaint. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss: O Lord, who may abide it? For there is mercy with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

Hymn 118 My soul, be on thy guard Cantica Laudis, 1850

Credo III Missa de Angelis, 17th Century

Offertory. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord: and to sing praises unto thy Name, O Most Highest.

Hymn 115 Soldiers of the Cross, arise Pierre de Corbeil, d. 1222

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Casciolini

Motet (Ave Verum)

Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born;
On the Cross thy Sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from thy pierced side,
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Preludio (Sonata VI)

Rheinberger

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 104

Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

*Tone II with faux bourdons
by Carolus Andreas, 16th Century*

Hymn 113

Fight the good fight

William Boyd, 1864

Anthem

Sir George Martin

Ho! every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live.

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live.

Then shall ye go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of fields shall clap their hands, instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree.

Ho! every one that thirsteth, come to the waters.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

T. Campion, 1575-1619

Organ—Martyrs' Tune

Charles Wood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
 Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
 from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a day of Retreat for teachers and other women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Saturday, February 18th. Conductor: The Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, Rector of St. George's Church, West Philadelphia. Retreat begins with Mass at 8.00 A. M. and ends at 4.00 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The seventieth day before Easter. So we are reminded that the time has come to plan for Lent. And that means planning a rule for Lent, which if it is intelligently planned and faithfully kept, will prepare us for Easter. The Church's days of discipline are never purposeless. There is always an object in view. Sunday follows Friday. Christmas follows Advent. Easter follows Lent. The Fast prepares for the Feast. The Christian Religion comes not to destroy life but to fulfill it. So our first thought of Lent is that it is a way that leads to more abundant life. It is not a season of temporary restriction for the mere sake of restriction. It is a time of giving up the lesser things of life in order that we may gain the greater. It is not only in religion that one must do this. Everywhere one must do it. In every department of human activity the people who attain to success are the people who consistently sacrifice the lesser things in order that they may gain the greater. Why should any one expect it to be different in religion? Or more difficult? Or less inspiring? Perhaps some of us started with a wrong idea of Lent. Perhaps we have never quite corrected it.

The Prayer Book tells us that there are days on which the Church requires extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion. It explains that certain measures of abstinence are especially suited to extraordinary devotion. The purpose of the abstinence seems to be to rid life of whatever interferes with extraordinary devotion. The only thing about this that frightens people is the word extraordinary. No one wants anything extraordinary, and extraordinary devotion may seem simply appalling.

I suppose it all depends upon what is meant by extraordinary. I myself do not know. But I think I know what ordinary devotion means. That would be the devotion ordered by the Church. I think also that if the Prayer Book direction for a Table of Fasts prescribed such a required measure of abstinence as is more suited to ordinary acts and exercises of devotion, we should have a very much more sensible and profitable Lent rule. The fact is ordinary devotion is extraordinary nowadays. And my point is that the most sensible and profitable thing to do in Lent is to build up a rule of ordinary devotion to be kept all the year round. Ordinary devotion builds stability. Extraordinary devotion kindles fervor. The trouble all about us today is that there is much more fervor than stability. We headline the extraordinary. We ignore the ordinary. And we pay a heavy price for a silly mistake.

The ordinary devotions of ordinary Christians should be our aim in Lent. If we know how to practise ordinary devotion in one season, we shall know how to practise ordinary devotion in every season. There will be nothing extraordinary about devotion at any season. And there ought not to be.

For this reason I do not think that Lent programs should be drawn up with the intention of providing extraordinary features, which make extraordinary demands on time and energy and emotional excitement. That sort of thing may do lasting good, but I doubt it. For this reason I do think that the ordinary devotions of the Church should be made accessible to the ordinary person in an ordinary way.

I think that Lent devotions should reflect the ordinary life of the Church in such a manner as can be adapted to secular life as it must be lived by Christians living in the world today.

In the next letters I shall invite your attention to some of the ordinary practises of devotion.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Sexagesima Sunday

February 19, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 119

O thou to whose all-searching sight

Pleyel, 1757-1831

Introit. Arise, O Lord, wherefore sleepest thou? awake, and cast us not away for ever: wherefore hidest thou thy countenance, and forgettest our adversity and misery? our belly cleaveth to the ground; arise, and save us, O Lord, our helper and deliverer.

Ps. O God, we have heard with our ears: our fathers have told us. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

E. A. Steffen, 1932

Gradual. Let the nations know that thou, whose Name is Jehovah: art only the Most Highest over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a wheel: and as the stubble before the wind.

Tract. Thou hast moved the land, O Lord: and divided it. Heal the sores thereof: for it shaketh. That they may triumph because of the truth: that thy beloved may be delivered.

Hymn 117

He who would valiant be Winfred Douglas, 1917

Credo III

Missa de Angelis, 17th Century

Offertory. O hold thou up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not; incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words: shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O Lord; thou that art the Saviour of them that put their trust in thee.

Hymn 259

Praise to the Holiest in the height Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

E. A. Steffen

Hymn (English Hymnal 331)

Proper melody, Solesmes version

Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, thee,
Who in thy Sacrament art pleased to be;
Both flesh and spirit in thy presence fail,
Yet here thy Presence we devoutly hail.

O blest Memorial of our dying Lord,
Who living Bread to men doth here afford!
O may our souls for ever feed on thee,
And thou, O Christ, for ever precious be. Amen.

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Wir glauben all' an einen Gott

J. Pachelbel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 139

Tone VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

*Tone II with faux bourdons
by Carolus Andreas, 16th Century*

Hymn 23

The day is past and over Arthur H. Brown, 1862

Anthem

Johannes Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O Lord of Hosts! For my soul longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea for the living God.

Blest are they that dwell within thy house, they praise thy Name evermore.

How lovely is thy dwelling-place.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

T. Campion, 1575-1619

Organ—Wir glauben all' an einen Gott

Marcel Dupre

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Friday will be the Feast of St. Matthias. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.

These books may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

SEXAGESIMA, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Last Sunday I wrote that the consideration of ordinary acts of devotion would afford a more profitable preparation for Lent than the consideration of extraordinary acts. Without the solid foundation of ordinary devotion, extraordinary acts are of doubtful value.

Lent is a period of forty week days devoted to the commemoration of the days spent by Our Lord in the wilderness in fasting, prayer and temptation. The Climax of Lent is the last week, called Holy Week, devoted to the Commemoration of the last events of Our Lord's life. The ordinary devotion of Lent centres upon the Fasting and Temptation; the Agony and Bloody Sweat; the Cross and Passion; the precious Death and Burial of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This devotion has found expression in the short and simple ejaculatory prayer, "O Saviour of the world, who by thy Cross and Passion hast redeemed us, save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord." The Christian believes that by his own sins he has shared in the Crucifixion of Our Lord. For his own sins he desires to offer repentance. And by the merits of the Holy Cross he hopes for forgiveness. The ordinary devotion of Lent is the commerce by which interchange of human penitence and Divine Compassion is effected between the heart of man and the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Christian repentance has its ordinary mode of expression tried by the experience of centuries and ratified by the witness of forgiven penitents who have come out of great tribulation and washed their robes in the blood of the Lamb. Lent is not a time for extraordinary experiment in penitence. It is a time for ordinary penitence. "The way and means thereto is: First to examine your lives and conversations by the rule of God's Commandments; and whereinsoever ye shall perceive yourselves to have offended, either by will, word or deed, there to bewail your own sinfulness to Almighty God, with full purpose of amendment of life: if there be any of you who by this means cannot quiet his conscience, let him come to me or some other minister of God's word and open his grief."

The Book of Common Prayer cannot be fairly faulted for neglect in teaching the practise of penitence. But undoubtedly there exists widespread neglect of setting forth the teaching. There has been a timid reticence or a tacit disbelief which have together combined to form a conspiracy of silence which has disastrously concealed the Church's ministry of reconciliation. I say disastrously concealed, because the result has been that puzzled penitents, finding no help from the Church, have been driven to seek other means for the relief of distressed consciences. It is not really fair to ridicule the substitutes or condemn those who have sought them. The burden of blame rests on those who ought to have taught confession as simply and as explicitly as any other sacramental doctrine is taught. The fault lies ultimately at the doors of the theological seminaries in which candidates for the priesthood are not technically trained to be confessors. No priest can train a confessor who is not himself a trained confessor. And no priest can be a confessor who is not himself a practising penitent.

The first ordinary Lent devotion for clergy and laity is the practise of penitence. It is to be practised with special thoroughness in Lent in order that it may be the ordinary devotion, systematized and stabilized as a permanent practise.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 22

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima Sunday

February 26, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10	Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, thou Joy of loving hearts.
Sarum, Plain-song, Mode I

Introit. Be thou my God and defender, and a place of refuge that thou mayest save me: for thou art my upholder; my refuge, and my Saviour; and for thy holy Name's sake be thou my leader, and my sustainer.

Ps. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliver me in thy righteousness. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Noble in G minor

Gradual. Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people. Thou hast mightily delivered thy people; even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Tract. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God. It is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Hymn 121 Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost Stainer, 1868

Credo Noble in G minor

Offertory. Blessed art thou, O Lord; O teach me thy statutes: with my lips have I been telling of all the judgments of thy mouth.

Hymn 234 My God, I love thee Cologne, 1741

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Noble in G minor

Motet—(Ave Verum) Elgar

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate, Of the Virgin Mary born; On the Cross thy Sacred Body, For us men with nails was torn.	Cleanse us by the Blood and Water Streaming from thy pierced side, Feed us with thy Body broken, Now and in death's agony.
--	---

O Jesu, hear us,
Son of Mary.

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Dorian Fugue

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 145 to 176 Tones I-4, III 4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tone VIII with faux bourdons by Cesar de Zachariis

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is Dykes, 1868

Anthem Philip James

I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient time, and now, as then, thy mercies hold their hope of grace divine.

I have remembered my song at night, communing with my heart, and know thy love is still my right, nor ever will depart.

Thy voice was in the thunder, the waters were afraid; yet in my day of trouble I called on thee for aid!

Who is so great as God the Lord! His law shall rule us aye. He answers our each prayer outpoured, our guidance and our stay. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 T. Campion, 1575-1619

Organ—Andante from Sonata Basil Harwood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Shrove Tuesday the hours for Confession will be 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, February 26th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, March 2nd, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Mrs. Frank Bonyge, on Indian Missions in S. Dakota.

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.

These books may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The climax of Lent is the Crucifixion and Death of Our Saviour. The message of the Lent preaching is "I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures." Before our eyes Jesus Christ is evidently set forth, crucified among us. The Cross stands forth in mystic glow. The message is not to be obscured. The picture is not to be dimmed. So far the preaching of the Cross serves us. More than this is needed however. The fact of the death must be shown forth. This can be done only by the way appointed by Our Lord. It is the Eucharistic Sacrifice which shews forth the Lord's death. The Eucharistic Sacrifice is "the continual remembrance of the sacrifice of the death of Christ, and of the benefits which we receive thereby." Consider what happens at Mass.

"All glory be to thee, Almighty God, our heavenly Father, for that thou of thy tender mercy, didst give thine only Son Jesus Christ to suffer death upon the Cross for our redemption." Here we have the worshipful acknowledgment of the benefits which we receive from Our Lord, who made (by His one oblation of Himself once offered) a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction for the sins of the whole world."

"And did institute and in his holy Gospel command us to continue, a perpetual memory of that his precious death and sacrifice, until His coming again." Here we have the remembrance of the institution of the Christian Eucharist as the Divinely appointed means of extending and perpetuating the Sacrifice of Calvary.

After the Consecration, we have holy gifts on the altar. Before the Consecration we had only the bare outward signs of bread and wine. After Consecration we have the Body and Blood of Christ. These are the Holy gifts which we now offer. "We earnestly desire thy fatherly goodness, mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving, humbly beseeching thee to grant that, by the merits and death of thy son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood, we and all thy whole church, may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of his passion." Here we have the Eucharistic Sacrifice.

"And here we offer and present unto thee, O Lord, our selves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy, and living sacrifice unto thee." Here we have the oblation of our selves in union with our crucified Saviour, that we may be made one body with him, that he may dwell in us and we in him. So the Christian is united with Christ crucified.

I have quoted every word of this Eucharistic teaching from the Bible and the Prayer Book. So I say, this is the Christian Doctrine of the Christian Eucharist. This is what has been believed by all men, always and everywhere. This is what we mean when we affirm that this is the Catholic doctrine of the Eucharist. This is what the Mass means.

In Lent our attention is to be concentrated upon Our Lord's atoning sacrifice. The Eucharistic Sacrifice brings Calvary to us and us to Calvary.

The ordinary act of devotion in Lent, therefore, is to increase the frequency of our attendance at the Eucharistic Sacrifice.

As penitents we shall be setting the Passion of Our Lord between our sins and their reward. We shall be offering to God the only offering perfect in His eyes, the one, true, pure, immortal sacrifice. By doing this we shall be spending Lent with Our Lord. In the Mass we shall find the peace that passes understanding.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2. Vernon

No. 23

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

March 5, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 134 Lord, who throughout these forty days
Day's Psalter, 1562

Introit. He shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto him; I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with length of days will I satisfy him.
Ps. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Mode IV, 11th Century

Gradual. He shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Tract. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold: my God, in him will I trust. For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter: and from the noisome pestilence. He shall defend thee under his wings: and thou shalt be safe under his feathers. His faithful-ness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler: thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night. Nor for the arrow that flieth by day; for the pestilence that walketh in darkness: nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day. A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee. For he shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone. Thou shalt go upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him up, because he hath known my Name. He shall call upon me, and I will hear him: yea, I am with him in trouble. I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Credo I Mode IV, 11th Century

Offertory. He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: his faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Hymn 126 Christian! dost thou see them Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus Mode V, 11th Century

Agnus Dei Mode VIII, 13th Century

Hymn (English Hymnal, 311) Proper Melody, Rouen version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth;
O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, Holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be my food:

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Ricercare per organo - Garolamo Cavazzoni (1542)

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 1 to 32 Tones III.4, VII.7

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tone VIII with faux bourdons by Cesar de Zachariis

Hymn (English Hymnal, 65) Mode I

The fast, as taught by holy lore,
We keep in solemn course once more;
The fast, to all men known, and bound
In forty days of yearly round.

More sparing, therefore, let us make
The words we speak, the food we take,
Our sleep and mirth,—and closer barred
Be every sense in holy guard.

The laws and seers that were of old
In divers ways this Lent foretold,
Which Christ, all seasons' King and Guide,
In after ages sanctified.

Forgive the sin that we have wrought;
Increase the good that we have sought;
That we, at length, our wanderings o'er,
May please thee here and evermore.

We pray thee, Holy Trinity,
One God, unchanging Unity,
That we from this our abstinence
May reap the fruits of penitence. Amen.

Anthem Henry Aldrich (1647-1710)

Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord, Lord, hear my voice.
O let thine ear consider well the voice of my complaint; For, if thou,
Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss, O Lord, who may abide it.

For there is mercy with thee, therefore shalt thou be feared.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mode VIII

Organ—Salve Regina Peter Cornet (1600)

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.

These books may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Our Lord spent forty days in solitude. There was no inactivity in that solitude. There was intense spiritual activity. The forty days were days of fasting and prayer. They were days of war with Satan. Three sharp encounters and the dominion of the devil was broken. All great spiritual battles are fought and won in solitude.

Sometimes we are wise enough to seek solitude. More often it is forced upon us. Voluntary or involuntary solitude wrongly sought or rebelliously received will only result in selfishness or loneliness as the case may be. Voluntary solitude sought as a preparation for a spiritual effort will yield an increase of power. Involuntary solitude utilized as a God-given opportunity will prove to be the means by which many a deep lesson will be learned.

Nevertheless it is only for a few that solitude is easily accepted for any length of time. To most of us it is not easy. Yet a certain amount of it is inevitable. It makes a great deal of difference to us if we know how to use the enforced periods of solitude. As for voluntary periods for religious use, we really require no little courage and knowledge of the technique to make spiritual gain. There is a fascinating literature on the subject of solitude. The Bible is the inspired Book. The sum of the matter is stated in nine words. "Be still then and know that I am God." The solitude of Our Lord is the supreme example. The saints and spiritual writers have given us studies in solitude, written out of their own experience. Retreats and quiet days are available for personal practise. By these means the technique may be acquired. There are open churches to which one may go to be alone with God at any hour of the day. After a little practise, moments may be seized for interior solitude in the midst of crowds and in spite of many distractions.

If and when we have happily become sufficiently proficient in this exercise, we find to our endless comfort, and perhaps to our surprise, that the interior castle of the soul is a near and sure refuge at any and all times of stress. The habit of recollection is the habit of collecting our thoughts and directing them towards and centering them upon God.

When we remember that by virtue of Holy Communion Our Lord dwells in us, this all becomes quite simple. Being alone means being with Him. We find our religious solitude in our prayers, our meditations, our visits to the Church, our short ejaculatory prayers at various times during the day, and by a last act at night of resigning ourselves to God's keeping as we are going to sleep. Our sleeping hours may become hours of religious solitude.

You see that it is interior solitude, not exterior. We cannot often arrange for exterior solitude. But by practise we can learn to keep interior solitude by an act of will, on the shortest notice, in the midst of a crowd and under harassing perplexities. We can do it just long enough to check a regrettable speech, or to restrain an unfortunate action, or to control a temperamental impulse, or to avoid a mistaken decision. We can do it just long enough to see clearly the thing that is right. I do not mean to say that we can make ourselves infallible. But we can place ourselves in God's hands and resign ourselves to His overruling Providence. We can do it just long enough to seek peace and ensue it.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

March 12, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 123 Forty days and forty nights Martin Herbst, 1676

Introit. Call to remembrance thy tender compassion and mercy, O Lord, and thy loving-kindness toward us, which have been ever of old: neither suffer our enemies to triumph against us; deliver us, O God of Israel, out of all our misery and trouble.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Richard Farrant, c. 1600

Gradual. The sorrows of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and misery: and forgive me all my sin.

Tract. The Lord said unto the woman of Canaan: It is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table. Jesus said unto her, Woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt.

Hymn 393 Lord Jesus, think on me Samuel Howard, 1762

Credo I Mode IV, 11th Century

Offertory. My delight shall be in thy commandments, which I have loved: my hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved.

Hymn 127 Jesus, Lord of life and glory E. J. Hopkins, 1862

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Richard Farrant

Hymn (English Hymnal, 329) Ancient Irish Hymn Melody

Strengthen for service, Lord, the hands That holy things have taken;
Let ears that now have heard thy songs The eyes which saw thy love be bright,
To clamour never waken. Thy blessed hope perceiving.

The feet that tread thy holy courts
From light do not thou banish;
The bodies by thy Body fed
With thy new life replenish. Amen.

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale: Aus der Tiefe rufe ich

J. S. Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 33 to 72

Tones I-10, IV-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn (English Hymnal, 65)

Mode I

The fast, as taught by holy lore,
We keep in solemn course once more;
The fast, to all men known, and bound
In forty days of yearly round.

More sparing, therefore, let us make
The words we speak, the food we take,
Our sleep and mirth,—and closer barred
Be every sense in holy guard.

The laws and seers that were of old
In divers ways this Lent foretold,
Which Christ, all seasons' King and
Guide,

Forgive the sin that we have wrought;
Increase the good that we have sought;
That we, at length, our wanderings o'er,
May please thee here and evermore.

In after ages sanctified.

We pray thee, Holy Trinity,
One God, unchanging Unity,
That we from this our abstinence
May reap the fruits of penitence. Amen.

Anthem

Gustav Holst

Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways. Old now is earth, and none may count her days, Yet thou, her child, whose head is crowned with flame, still wilt not hear thy inner God proclaim 'Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways!'

Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise, Age after age their tragic empires rise. Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep, would man but wake from out his haunted sleep, earth might be fair and all men glad and wise.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one, Nor till that hour shall God's whole work be done. Now, even now, once more from earth to sky peals forth in joy man's old undaunted cry, 'Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!'

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Ricercare

Palestrina

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.

These books may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN LENT, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

This week our subject is silence. Voluntary silence requires self-imposed discipline of the tongue. Lent is the season for intensive training in general mortification. It is the season for special exercises in the mortification of the senses and appetites of the body. It is the season for special mortification of the mind, for self-imposed discipline of thoughts, imaginations, suggestions and memories. The purpose of bodily mortification is to make the body more sensitive to the motions of God. The purpose of mortification of the mind is to cast down imaginations and to bring into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ.

Of bodily mortifications the discipline of the tongue is emphasized by Saint James as being of prime importance. "If any man among you seemeth to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain." "Of infinite importance is the ruling of this small member," wrote a master in the spiritual life. "Silence is one of the most profitable mortifications in the spiritual life. It cuts off countless evils by which the spirit of devotion and recollection is apt to be dissipated; for the subjects of conversation are too often murmuring, detraction, vain distracting disputes, news, gossip and so forth," wrote the same author. Silence is disciplinary. It is also salutary and protective. Every discipline brings its own reward. The reward of silence is peace. The reward is well worth the price of the discipline. The supreme reward of silence is the peace of God and the control of the tongue.

Persons who visit for the first time a convent or a monastery are apt to be dismayed by the strictness of the rule of silence. When they learn more about the Religious Life, they are not slow to perceive that the silence rule is a fortress in which the Religious live in safety and contentment. Silence is an inalienable privilege of the Religious.

A person who goes into Retreat for the first time is apt to experience the same sensations. The tendency is to be dismayed. But after the first day, and very likely after a few hours, the silence reveals unimagined possibilities of spiritual profit.

But there is no reason why silence should be regarded as a daring adventure only to be made in Religious Houses and Retreats. It is a protective discipline wisely cultivated in domestic life.

A domestic house cannot have a fixed rule of silence. But there can be a tacit understanding that each member of the family requires and may take periods of silence without seeming queer. If you are as devoted to 'Puck of Pook's Hill' and 'Rewards and Fairies' as I am, you will share with me the conviction that discreet silences help to make happy families.

In a city many persons live alone. Family life is, alas, a fragrant but distant memory. For individuals there is, therefore, an enforced silence which, together with the solitude which imposes it, needs to be rightly used to make it profitable and enjoyable. I do not mean perpetual, brooding, morbid silence. I only mean the cultivation of the art of living alone. There is no reason why a person who has to live alone should be miserable. In this letter I am not writing of the recreations of the silent, though I know a few things about that. What I have in mind is religious silence. Mind you, I do not press the subject of recreation because I take it for granted that every one recognizes and realizes the necessity of recreation for mental health. Nor do I mean to convey the impression that religious silence is to be unregulated, oppressive or left to unguarded moods. This would certainly be disastrous.

What I mean is this. We all fast from midnight before receiving Holy Communion. To this fast we could add a fast from speech, a silence rule on the way to church, while we are in church, after Communion and on the way home.

We could keep a religious silence daily for fifteen minutes or a half hour, in the church, kneeling before the Blessed Sacrament, or on the way to or from work. That would be a definite and sufficiently flexible rule of silence.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 25

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

March 19, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 128

Christian, seek not yet repose

William H. Monk, 1868

Introit. Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net: look thou upon me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate, and in misery.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Everett Titcomb, 1930

Gradual. Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand: let the heathen be judged in thy sight. While mine enemies are driven back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

Tract. Unto thee lift I up mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heavens. Behold, even as the eyes of servants: look unto the hand of their masters. And as the eyes of a maiden: unto the hand of her mistress. Even so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God: until he have mercy upon us. Have mercy upon us, O Lord: have mercy upon us.

Hymn 235

O Love that casts out fear

Henry Smart, 1881

Credo I

Mode IV, 11th Century

Offertory. The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb; moreover by them is thy servant taught.

Hymn 328

Jesus, thou Joy of loving hearts!

Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Everett Titcomb, 1930

Hymn 336

Bread of the world

J. S. B. Hodges, 1868

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral Varie

Georges Hue

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 73-104

Tones I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn (English Hymnal, 67)

T. Campion, 1575-1619

Now is the healing time decreed
For sins of heart, of word or deed,
When we in humble fear record
The wrong that we have done the Lord;

Therefore with fasting and with prayer,
Our secret sorrow we declare;
With all good striving seek his face,
And lowly hearted plead for grace.

Who, alway merciful and good,
Has borne so long our wayward mood,
Nor cut us off unsparingly
In our so great iniquity.

Cleanse us, O Lord, from every stain,
Help us the meed of praise to gain,
Till with the Angels linked in love
Joyful we tread thy courts above.

Father and Son and Spirit blest,
To thee be every prayer address,
Who art in three-fold Name adored,
From age to age, the only Lord. Amen.

Anthem

S. Coleridge-Taylor

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Sion.

As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees that are therein, For they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness: Sing us one of the songs of Sion.

How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, yea, if I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth.

Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said, Down with it even to the ground.

O daughter of Babylon, wasted with misery, yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children, and throweth them against the stones.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Pastorale

Jean Henry

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Saturday, March 25th, will be the Feast of the Annunciation. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and friends of St. Margaret's Community, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia, on Thursday, March 23rd. The Conductor will be the Rev. Leicester C. Lewis, Rector of St. Martin's-in-the-Field, Chestnut Hill, Pa. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Contributions for the League of Intercessions would be acceptable at any convenient time. I am aware that the present time may be most inconvenient, but would you keep the League in mind.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN LENT, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The purpose of religious solitude and silence is to deepen personal religion. The word religion means rebinding. In the stress of life contacts may become weakened. Some of them may suffer breakage. It requires solitude and silence in order that the condition of religious contacts may be examined and where necessary repaired.

Personal religion is personal contact with God. God must be first. Self must be second. If self is allowed to come first, personal religion becomes self-centred. Self-centred religion quickly becomes self-willed, eccentric and morbid. The first problem of personal religion is to empty it of self. This is not only a first problem; it is a life-long battle. When at last personal religion is really Christo-centric, the Christian may affirm "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me."

How do we attain to this rightly-centred personal religion? The normal life in the Church provides the means and the way. The infant is brought to the Church and is Baptized. The child is made a member of Christ, the child of God and an inheritor of the Kingdom of Heaven. The child lives through the years of infancy, unconscious of its spiritual environment. Consciousness dawns slowly and gently. Yet all the while God is all in all. When the age of discernment arrives, when consciousness of environment and sensitiveness to its influences have developed, the child is brought to Confirmation, to be strengthened and confirmed by special gifts of the Holy Ghost in order that the child may be prepared for the impacts of the world which is organized apart from God, in which nevertheless it must live. The child is presented and received as a child. God does not expect a child to be a trained theologian. God knows the child is a child facing an unknown and untried future. God would equip and protect the child. God would not have a religiously self conscious child. A child should not be self conscious at any time, certainly not in religion.

So the child is confirmed, thinking about the Holy Ghost. The child receives first Communion, knowing that the Body and Blood of Christ are given to be a medicine and a food. The Blessed Sacrament is Our Lord and the child adores Him. The child knows that Our Lord is in the soul of the Communicant, and the child lives in Him and with Him. The child knows that Christ in the soul of a child will make a child good. So religion becomes more and more Christ-centred. The child prays and God is very real and very near and prayer is very simple. There is no self consciousness about it.

This is all about the religion of childhood. I know it. I mean it to be. Unless you and I can keep or get back to the religion of childhood we cannot enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

When the child has passed out of the years of actual childhood, the speech and the understanding and the thoughts of childhood are indeed put away. But why? Because the things once seen through a glass darkly are in mature years seen face to face. As a young man once wrote to me, "for me a man's experience has confirmed a child's faith." This is the path to all right relationships. The parents, the home, the friends live on in a treasured memory. The experience of the years brings a clearer understanding of the meaning of it all, and a deeper sense of the value. It is the path of personal religion.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 26, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10	Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 465

We love the place, O God

Jenner, 1861

Introit. Rejoice ye with Jerusalem; and be ye glad for her, all ye that delight in her: exult and sing for joy with her, all ye that in sadness mourn for her: that ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations.

Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: We will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Richard Farrant, c. 1600

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Tract. They that put their trust in the Lord, shall be even as the mount Syon: which may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. The hills stand about Jerusalem: even so standeth the Lord round about his people: from this time forth for evermore.

Hymn 312

God of mercy, God of grace

Smart, 1866

Credo I

Mode IV, 11th Century

Offertory. O praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious; O sing praises unto his Name, for it is lovely: whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven and in earth.

Hymn 326

The King of love my Shepherd is

Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Richard Farrant

Motet (Ave Verum)

Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born;
On the Cross thy Sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from thy pierced side,
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now and in death's agony.

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale: O Mensch, bewein' dein' Sunde gross J. Pachelbel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 105-144

Tones VII-3, V-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn (English Hymnal, 67)

T. Campion, 1575-1619

Now is the healing time decreed
For sins of heart, of word or deed,
When we in humble fear record
The wrong that we have done the Lord;

Therefore with fasting and with prayer,
Our secret sorrow we declare;
With all good striving seek his face,
And lowly hearted plead for grace.

Who, alway merciful and good,
Has borne so long our wayward mood,
Nor cut us off unsparingly
In our so great iniquity.

Cleanse us, O Lord, from every stain,
Help us the meed of praise to gain,
Till with the Angels linked in love
Joyful we tread thy courts above.

Father and Son and Spirit blest,
To thee be every prayer address,
Who art in three-fold Name adored,
From age to age, the only Lord. Amen.

Anthem

J. S. Bach

The Lord my faithful Shepherd is,
He has me in his keeping:
He fills my soul with plenteousness,
His goodness never fails me.
He pastures me in meadows green
He leads me out by cooling streams,
Within his fold I dwell secure.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Toccata Septimá

J. E. Eberlin

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
Hurrell Froude. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.
John Henry Newman. F. L. Cross.
John Keeble. Kenneth Ingram.
Edward Bouverie Pusey. L. Prestige.
Dean Church. S. L. Ollard.
After the Tractarians. M. Donovan.

These books may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

This is the true record of an adventure in prayer. There were five thousand hungry people. They had followed Our Lord up into a mountain. Our Lord asked Philip, "Whence shall we buy bread?" He himself knew what He would do. He asked the question to prove Philip. Philip might have answered, "Lord, give these people a miracle." The answer he actually made was, "Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little." Andrew, Simon Peter's brother said, "There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves and two small fishes; but what are they among so many?" Our Lord said, "Make the men sit down." He took the loaves and when He had given thanks, He distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down, and likewise of the fishes as much as they would." The fragments that remained filled twelve baskets.

In making our meditation on this miracle I suggest six points.

First—Our Lord saw the need. Second—He knew His disciples' helplessness. Third—He knew what He would do? Fourth—He asked a disciple what could be done, to prove him. Fifth—He answered a confession of discouragement by calling out an act of faith. Sixth—Then came the miracle.

This is only one of the adventures in prayer. There are many others. They are not all like the one we are thinking about. But in the end the result is similar; if the requirement is fulfilled.

(1) However great our need, we must always remember that Our Lord sees the need.

(2) However helpless we may feel, we must remember that our very helplessness is our strong appeal to Our Lord.

(3) However perplexed we may be, we must remember that Our Lord knows what He will do.

(4) However inadequate our resources, we must remember to make our small offering in confidence.

(5) However great our sense of discouragement, we must remember that an act of faith under a sense of discouragement has great merit and power.

(6) However hopeless a situation may seem, we must remember that hopeless situations are the occasions for miracles.

In every adventure of prayer we must keep these points well in mind. Then there is another thing to understand and to remember. Our Lord wills to use us in the working out of His plans. Therefore we must be ready and keen and observant and obedient. The seemingly small matters are most important. Some of them may seem negligible, but they are not. They are links of a chain of events. We cannot afford to miss one of them. I suppose that many of us learned a long time ago to live twenty-four hours at a time, not looking back, not looking forward, but living our life as though it were our whole life in each day.

I remember a book, written by Bishop Chandler, on the cult of the passing moment. The point was that we are now living in eternity and each moment is a tiny fragment of eternity. When we realize this we find ourselves settling into patience. There seems to be less necessity for hurry in reaping the results of prayer. Delays cease to fret us. We learn that a thousand years are in God's sight but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

Over and over again miracles will happen. Not the miracles we expected, but greater miracles than we were ever able to imagine.

In a true adventure in prayer we must be prepared to give our all. There must be a complete surrender of will. There must be the obedience which ensures interior integrity. And all the while we must remember that it is given to us to work out our own salvation with fear and trembling. This is only to prove us. All the while Our Lord knows what He will do. We may work or we may hinder. If we pray, if we work, if we believe, there will be a miracle.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 27

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Passion Sunday

April 2, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 338 (Part I) Now, my tongue, the mystery telling

Mode III

Introit. Give sentence with me, O God, and defend the cause of my soul against the ungodly people: deliver me, and rid me from the deceitful and wicked man; for thou, O Lord, art my God, and my strong salvation.

Ps. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me: and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

Kyrie Eleison

Mode IV, 11th Century

Gradual. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee. It is the Lord that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth me up above mine adversaries: thou shalt deliver me from the wicked man.

Tract. Many a time have they fought against me: from my youth up. May Israel now say: yea, many a time have they vexed me from my youth up. But they have not prevailed against me: the plowers ploughed upon my back. And made long furrows: but the righteous Lord hath hewn the snares of the ungodly in pieces.

Hymn 154 When I survey the wondrous Cross E. Miller, 1790

Credo I

Mode IV, 11th Century

Offertory. I will give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart: O do well unto thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word: quicken thou me, according to thy word, O Lord.

Hymn 160 We sing the praise of Him who died Leipzig, 1625

Sanctus, Benedictus

Mode V, 11th Century

Agnus Dei

Mode VIII, 13th Century

Hymn 338 (Part II) Therefore we, before Him bending Mode III

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Chorale: O Man, bewail thy grievous sin

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 145-176

Tones I-4, III-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 144

The Royal Banners forward go

Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Anthem

Thomas Attwood

Turn thy face from my sins, and put out all my misdeeds. Make me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy Holy Spirit from me.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Chorale: As Jesus stood beside the Cross

Scheidt

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
Hurrell Froude. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.
John Henry Newman. F. L. Cross.
John Keeble. Kenneth Ingram.
Edward Bouverie Pusey. L. Prestige.
Dean Church. S. L. Ollard.
After the Tractarians. M. Donovan.

Locust Street is reputed to be a favorite resort for an undesirable type of mendicants. I advise you not to give them any money.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, April 2nd, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, April 6th, at 3 P. M. The Speaker will be Father Hughson, O. H. C., who will tell of the Holy Cross work in Liberia.

The semi-annual contributions to the United Thank Offering are now due and may be sent to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday mornings at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

PASSION SUNDAY, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Passion Week is the time of preparation for Holy Week. The Agony and Bloody Sweat, the Cross and Passion, the Death and Burial will be commemorated in Holy Week. In Passion Week we shall do well to read in advance the Gospel records. We shall do well to pray for grace and light to mark, learn and inwardly digest the significance of the facts contained in the records. We shall do well to prepare a simple statement of the application to ourselves as individuals. What does it mean to me? How much does it mean? What difference will it make, not only for me, but in me? These are the questions to ask ourselves. Our answers will give us our answer to the great question, "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" The Passion is everything or nothing. It is everything if we understand.

There is so much that passes understanding. Yet each year we may learn something new. This is as it should be. As life goes on and experience deepens, knowledge widens. We shall never get to the end of all. The all is the infinite love of God. But one thing we can learn is that the love is so amazing, so divine, that it demands our souls, our lives, our all. We can never pass by. It is everything to us. If by the end of Passion Week we shall have made even some little advance we shall have made our escape from the crowd; the mad, wild, wilful crowd who will find nothing in the Passion.

That crowd will surge about you and jostle you this Holy Week as it surged and jostled in the first Holy Week. You will hear the same jeering and deriding and blaspheming. Only this year you will mark a difference. The present crowd is more intellectual in a superficial way. It shows signs of a social privilege which was lacking in the old crowd. It has intellectualized its vices. It is supremely confident that a new order has made a new world. It makes its boasts that the new world is emancipated from the Cross. It even labors under the delusion that it is the newest crowd. It does not even suspect that it has not been reserved for the twentieth century to invent new blasphemies.

So your lot and your tests will be the old lot and the old tests. One Holy Week is pretty much like another, take any century you will. Human nature is the same, choose any country you like. Sin is the ever present tragedy. The wages are the same. The Cross is the medicine of the world. The Crucified Saviour is the only one who is good enough to pay the price and open the gates of Heaven and let us in. "O, Saviour of the world, who by Thy Cross and Passion hast redeemed us, save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee," will be the cry of understanding penitents until the end of the world.

With that army of penitents we are to prepare ourselves, in Passion Week, to seek the refuge of the Cross. "Judge yourselves brethren," the Church exhorts us in the words understood by us all, "that ye be not judged of the Lord; repent you truly for your sins past; have a lively and steadfast faith in Christ Our Saviour."

We cannot be detached observers of the Passion. We must share the Passion. Our Lord must not only suffer for us. He must suffer in us. We must offer our sufferings with our sin. This is the lesson of Passion Week.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 28

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

April 9, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Monday to Wednesday, at 12.10

Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 143 All glory, laud and honour
Procession { 145 Ride on! ride on in majesty

*Teschner, c. 1613
Hamburg, 1690*

Introit. O Lord, remove not thy succour afar from me; have respect to my defense, and hear me: deliver me from the mouth of the lion; yea, from the horns of the unicorn hast thou regarded my cry.

Ps. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health, and from the words of my complaint.

Kyrie Eleison

Claudio Casciolini

Gradual. Thou hast holden me by my right hand: thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and after that receive me with glory. Truly God is loving unto Israel: even unto such as are of a clean heart. Nevertheless, my feet were almost gone: my treadings had well-nigh slipt. And why, I was grieved at the wicked: I do also see the ungodly in such prosperity.

Tract. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? And art so far from my health: and from the words of my complaint? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest. And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel. Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliver them. They called upon thee: and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded. But as for me, I am a worm, and no man: a very scorn of men, and the outcast of the people. All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying: He trusted in God, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, if he will have him. They stand staring and looking upon me: they part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. Save me from the lion's mouth: thou hast heard me also from among the horns of the unicorns. O Praise the Lord, ye that fear him: magnify him, all ye of the seed of Jacob. They shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation: they shall come, and the heavens shall declare his righteousness. Unto a people that shall be born: whom the Lord hath made.

Credo I

Mode IV, 11th Century

Offertory. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness: I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man: neither found I any to comfort me; they gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they gave me vinegar to drink.

Hymn 114 The Royal Banners forward go Sarum Plainsong, Mode I
Casciolini

Stnctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Hymn (English Hymnal, 311) Proper Melody, Rouen version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth;
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth;

Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be my food;

O most kind! O gracious One!

O sweetest Jesu, holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Variant: Valet will ich dir geben

J. S. Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 22, 23

Tones II-I, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

*Tone II with faux bourdons
by Carolus Andreas, 16th Century*

Hymn 144

The Royal Banners forward go

Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Anthem (from the St. John Passion)

Bach

Lord Jesus, thy dear Angel send,
Whene'er my mortal life shall end,
And bear my soul to heaven.
Within its narrow chamber keep
My body safe in painless sleep,
Till thy last call be given.

And when from death thou wakest me,
In bliss untold mine eyes shall see,
O Son of God, thy glorious face,
My Saviour and my Fount of Grace,
Lord Jesus Christ, O hear thou me,
Thee will I praise eternally.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Chorale: Ach, wie nichtig

Bach

Maundy Thursday

April 13, 1933

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 320, 328, 338

The Ordinary of the Mass

Missa de Angelis

Introit. But as for us, it behooveth us to glory in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ: in whom is our salvation, our life, and resurrection; by whom we are saved, and obtained our freedom.

Ps. God be merciful unto us and bless us: and shew us the light of his countenance, and be merciful unto us.

Gradual. Christ became obedient for our sakes unto death: even the death of the Cross. Wherefore God hath highly exalted him: and given him the Name which is above every name.

Offertory. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Easter Even the hours for Confession will be 2 to 3.30 and 8 to 9.30 P. M.

Suggested Book List for Lent

Studies in the Ministry of Our Lord. Mackay.
The Adventure of Paul of Tarsus. Mackay.
Difficulties in the Way of Discipleship. Mackay.
Saints and Leaders. Mackay.
The Message of Francis of Assisi. Mackay.
Assistants at the Passion. Mackay.
Hurrell Froude. Mackay.
The Story of the Catholic Revival. Kelway.
Elements of the Spiritual Life. Harton.
John Henry Newman. F. L. Cross.
John Keeble. Kenneth Ingram.
Edward Bouverie Pusey. L. Prestige.
Dean Church. S. L. Ollard.
After the Tractarians. M. Donovan.

There will be a Confirmation Class for boys on Saturday morning at 11.30, in the upper hall of the Parish Building. The Class for girls will be on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 P. M., at the Sisters' House, 1831 Pine Street. Instruction for adults by appointment.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Palm Sunday procession is a familiar devotion. It presents an appeal to which many people give ready response. Palm Sunday congregations are notably large and devout in most churches. The devotion to the day is quite spontaneous. It very evidently comes straight from the hearts of people. What is the explanation? The mere aesthetic attraction may account for the few for whom ritual has no very vital relation with religion. But the number of such is happily very small. By far the overwhelming majority of people are drawn by a genuine religious motive. It may be undefined and in a measure inarticulate, but it is none the less genuine. What is it that they and we sense?

It is the brave splendor of sacrifice. That always makes one's heart beat faster. The sacrifice lends majesty to the suffering. The victory gleams through the mystery. It is life at its best. Nothing else seems to matter. To share it would be the one adventure most worth while. And the Collect gives us just the phrase that suits the awakened aspiration. "That all mankind should follow the example of His great humility." That is it. That is what this procession means. "Grant that we may both follow the example of His patience, and also be made partakers of His resurrection," we whisper, and we clasp our palm tightly, and we guard our secret sorrows as a treasure. It is life. It is our life. It is everybody's life. It is the life that we all live or are trying to live. We fall in and swing along with the others. Our spirits are braver. Our hearts are kinder. It is such a human procession, just because it passes over familiar ground. It is a comforting procession because we do not pass over it alone. Pass over it we must. It was being alone that disheartened us. The impact of the world, the agonies of the night, the sorrow of the day, the crushing cross, the crucifixion at the end, lose their terror when Our Lord leads the way.

The palms have their meaning. They signify victorious suffering. We are naturally inclined to think of the mystery of suffering. The longer we think the darker the mystery becomes. Why should it be? There seems to be no answer. Suffering seems so needless. It seems so cruelly destructive. We give up the problem in despair. But here is something new. Here at last is a clue. There is victory in suffering. There are victories that are only won through suffering. Why, of course. The great victories have all been won through suffering. The Divine victory was won on the Cross.

"For it became Him, for whom are all things and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through suffering." Suffering endured to the end is victory. The victory at the end explains the mystery at the beginning. We no longer need to dwell upon the mystery of suffering, we no longer need to rebel against it. The mystery ceases to be a mystery in the light of the victory, and the victory is the thing that matters and lasts.

Our Lord endured the Cross for the joy that was set before. He never lost sight of the joy. The saints have always been joyful. Joy is the mark of a saint. It is not because saints do not suffer. They have the keenest capacity for the most sensitive suffering. But they know how to rejoice in suffering. This is because they know the meaning of suffering. They never try to escape it. They are not content merely to endure it. They use it. And they use it to good purpose. They use it for expiation and gain peace. They use it for discipline and gain strength. They use it for sanctification and gain holiness. This is what we learn on Palm Sunday.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Easter

April 16, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 172 Jesus Christ is risen today
Procession { 173 The strife is o'er

*Lyra Davidica
Palestrina*

Introit. I am risen, and am still with thee, alleluia; thou hast laid thine hand upon me, alleluia: thy knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me, alleluia,
alleluia.

Ps. O Lord, thou hast searched me out, and known me: thou knowest my down-sitting and mine uprising. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Schubert in G

Gradual. This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will be joyful and glad in it. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for ever.

Alleluia. Christ, our Passover: is sacrificed for us.

Sequence. Christians, to the Paschal Victim offer your thankful praises. A Lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless, reconcileth sinners to the Father. Death and life have contended in that combat stupendous: The Prince of Life, who died, reigns immortal.

Speak, Mary, declaring what thou sawest wayfaring?

'The Tomb of Christ, who is living, the glory of Jesu's resurrection:
Bright Angels attesting, the shroud and napkin resting. Yea, Christ my hope is arisen; to Galilee he goes before you.'

Christ indeed from death is risen, our new life obtaining.

Have mercy, victor King, ever reigning! Amen. Alleluia.

Credo

Schubert in G

Offertory. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, Alleluia.

Hymn 178 At the Lamb's high feast we sing

Hintze, 1678

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Schubert in G

Gloria in Excelsis

Schubert in G

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata in the Dorian Mode

Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 113, 118

Tones V-2, I-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

E. W. Naylor in A

Hymn 555 O Sons and Daughters, let us sing

Solesmes Version, Mode II

Anthem

Beethoven

Hallelujah unto God's Almighty Son!

Praise the Lord, ye bright angelic choirs, in holy songs of joy;

Man, proclaim his grace and glory, Hallelujah!

Praise the Lord in holy songs of joy.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Postlude in B minor

Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO PAROCHIAL SUPPORT.

There will be a third Mass at 9.30 on Monday and Tuesday.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The natural impulse at Easter time is to think of a future life. To think of survival after death and to turn to the spring time of nature for abundant and beautiful evidence. This natural thought of Easter is commonly symbolized by cards which picture the wonders of the budding life which follows winter. It is a natural impulse, and it is purely natural. I do not mean to say that it is to be despised because it is natural, only that it is to be recognized as pagan.

The Christian Festival of Easter is quite another thing. It is a festival of the supernatural not of the natural world. It is the festival of a Person, not of a season. It is the Queen of Christian Festivals, one of a sequence of Festivals. The Festival of the Nativity of Our Lord came first. Christians assembled at the Manger to worship God Incarnate. "Our Lord Jesus Christ is the only-begotten Son of God: Begotten of His Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of Very God; Begotten not made; Being of one substance with the Father; By whom all things were made; Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, and was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary and was made Man."

In the ordered course of the Christian Year, Christians assembled at the Cross. For Our Lord was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate; He suffered and was buried.

And the third day He rose again according to the Scriptures. Christians assemble at Easter to adore the Risen Lord in His glorious Resurrection.

After forty days they will assemble to adore Him as He ascends into Heaven. These festivals are festivals of Our Lord. He is the centre of Christian adoration. But chiefly are we bound to give praise for the glorious Resurrection of Jesus Christ Our Lord; for He is the very Paschal Lamb, which was offered for us, and hath taken away the sin of the world; who by His death hath destroyed death, and by His rising to life again hath restored to us everlasting life.

So we are not thinking of a future life. We are giving thanks for everlasting life. The Christian life is an uninterrupted, unbroken life. It is ours now. It is not that the present life is to be destroyed and another life given us in the future. The present life is a stage of everlasting life. There is no break in the continuity. Everlasting life is continuous life without end. We are in possession of it now. Each moment of it is eternity. We live. We go on living. We shall always live. Life with God is Heaven. Life without God is hell. The only thing to make sure of is that the present life is hid with Christ in God. Christians are buried with Christ in His death. They are also partakers of His resurrection. On God's appointed day we shall be changed. For this corruptible body must put on incorruption, and this mortality must put on immortality for death is swallowed up in victory. Through all the change life goes on. It is ours now and it is ours forever.

This is the record, that God hath given us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life. The Christian's first thought on Easter Day is Holy Communion, for by Holy Communion the Christian receives the Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ. The Body and Blood of Christ preserves the Christian's body and soul unto everlasting life. Our Lord has said, "Whoso eateth my flesh and drinketh my Blood hath everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day." So the Christian has more than a hope for everlasting life in the future. The Christian has everlasting life in body and soul, here and now.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 30

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter

April 23, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 176 Jesus lives! Henry J. Gauntlett, 1852

Introit. As new-born babes, alleluia: desire ye the sincere milk of the word, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God, our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Messe Solonnelle de Paques) Gounod in E flat

Alleluia. And after eight days, when the doors were shut: stood Jesus in the midst of his disciples, and said, Peace be unto you. Alleluia.

The Angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. Alleluia.

Hymn 175 Christ the Lord is risen today John B. Wilkes, 1861

Credo Gounod in E flat

Offertory. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, Alleluia.

Hymn 520 Alleluia! Alleluia! Arthur S. Sullivan, 1874

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Gounod in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis Gounod in E flat

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Marche Pontificale (Symphony I) Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 2, 57 Tones III-4, VIII-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis E. W. Naylor in A

Hymn 173 The strife is o'er Palestrina

Anthem Alfred Whitehead, 1932

O sons and daughters, let us sing!
The King of heaven, the glorious King
O'er death today rose triumphing,
Alleluia! That night the apostles met in fear;
Amidst them came their Lord most dear,
And said, 'My peace be on all here.'
Alleluia!

That Easter morn, at break of day,
The faithful women went their way
To seek the tomb where Jesus lay.
Alleluia! How blest are they who hath not seen,
And yet whose faith hath constant been,
For they eternal life shall win.
Alleluia!

An Angel clad in white they see,
Who sat and spake unto the three,
'Your Lord doth go to Galilee.'
Alleluia! On this most holy day of days,
To God your hearts and voices raise
In laud and jubilee, and praise.
Alleluia!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Epithalame Vierne

St. Mark the Evangelist

April 25, 1933

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 278, 266

The Ordinary of the Mass Healey Willan in D

Introit. Thou hast hidden me, O God, from the gathering together of the forward, alleluia: from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from the fear of the enemy. Glory be.

Alleluia. Thou hast set, O Lord, a crown of pure gold upon his head, alleluia. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia.

Offertory. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him; and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia, alleluia.

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1933.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

TUESDAY, APRIL 25th, WILL BE ST. MARK'S DAY.
THERE WILL BE A HIGH MASS AT 9.30.

The Church Periodical Club is asking for books for Missions and for the library of the Episcopal Hospital. Also for magazines to be sent to Hospitals and Homes. Send to St. Mark's Parish House, addressed to the Church Periodical Club.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

I wonder when and where the curious notion crept in that the Sunday after Easter marks the beginning of a gradual decline in religious devotion and a general lowering of spiritual temperature. Do you suppose that Low Sunday, as today is called, could possibly convey this deplorable suggestion? Low Sunday is the Octave of Easter. The Octave of any Festival reflects the splendor of its Feast and sustains its note of special devotion. The Christian Year is a sublime symphony. It has its majors and minors, its crescendos and its diminuendos, but all this is part of the entrancing movement. It bears us on from Crib to Cross, to Empty Tomb, to the Mount of Ascension, to the fiery descent of the Holy Ghost and on and up to the Great White Throne of the Undivided Trinity. It carries us on through peaceful Ferial Seasons, with stations of Saints, through valleys of penitence and back to the Crib again and on in a celestial harmony that rests not day and night, without weariness or rest. That this Symphony of Heaven should ever cease is unthinkable. Perhaps the curious idea that the end of Lent means the end of worship originated in the minds of people who have only been attracted to Lent devotions and have been oblivious to the rest of the Christian Year. But one cannot help being at first puzzled and then amused at the quaint suggestion that now that Lent is over the period of well-earned rest has arrived. It is as though some one suggested that now that winter is over we may, with an easy conscience, cease from living until winter comes again.

As a matter of fact the Great Forty Days of Eastertide are quite too interesting to miss. They are as absorbingly interesting to us as they were to the first Christians. Everything that has gone before has been a preparation for Eastertide. The wonders of Eastertide for the first Christians were the appearances of Our Lord and the joys of being with Him. The wonders of Eastertide for us are the Eucharistic appearances of Our Lord, and the joys of being with Him in the Eastertide Communion. "He that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood hath everlasting life." We have begun to live all over again. We are in the full flood of life at Eastertide. We are tasting the joy of living in Our Lord. Every moment is precious. It is too good to lose. We can count it all joy when we enter into divers temptations. Our temptations are occasions for the testing of the power of the resurrection life within us. Our confidence in that power makes us bold to reckon ourselves to be dead indeed unto sin. The thrill of the resurrection life is to be found in each resistance and victory. The daily burdens and cares of ordinary life remain, but Eastertide offers insistent encouragement to seek the things that are above burdens and cares. Eastertide inspires us to disentangle our affections from the things that are on the earth, the things that have no spiritual roots, the weeds of life. Eastertide sets our affections upon the things that really are above the things that are not worth while. Eastertide makes us conscious of an imperishable life within us that is hid with Christ in God. Eastertide lifts up our eyes to Christ who is our life. Eastertide fills us with a sure and certain hope that when He shall appear, then we shall also appear with Him in glory. Lose Eastertide? How could we? It is the Queen of Seasons. And we have forty days to cultivate the joy in everlasting life. Forty days of intensive cultivation of joy in order that our joy may remain to give color and tone to everything that we are and everything that we do.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter

Within the Octave of St. Mark

April 30, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 266 Ye Watchers and ye Holy Ones Cologne, 1623
Procession { 278 We praise thy grace, O Saviour

Henry J. Gauntlett, 1852

Introit. Thou hast hidden me, O God, from the gathering together of the forward, alleluia: from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from the fear of the enemy. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Cavaliere, c. 1600

Alleluia. Thou hast set, O Lord, a crown of pure gold upon his head, alleluia. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 179) S. S. Wesley, 1864

Come sing, ye choirs exultant,
Those messengers of God,
Through whom the living Gospels
Came sounding all abroad!
Whose voice proclaimed salvation
That poured upon the night,
And drove away the shadows,
And flushed the world with light.

He chose them, our Good Shepherd,
And, tending evermore
His flock through earth's four quarters,
In wisdom made them four;
True Lawgiver, he bade them
Their healing message spread,
One charter for all nations,
One glorious title-deed.

Foursquare on this foundation,
The Church of Christ remains,
A house to stand unshaken
By floods or winds or rains.
O glorious happy portion
In this safe home to be,
By God, true Man, united
With God eternally! Amen.

Credo Cavaliere

Offertory. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him; and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia, alleluia.

Hymn 267 (stanzas 1, 9, 19, 20) From all thy Saints
Frederic Weber, 1856

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Cavaliere

Gloria in Excelsis Cavaliere

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata and Fugue in D minor J. S. Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 91 Tone VIII.1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Smart in B flat

Hymn (English Hymnal, 220) Jeremiah Clark, 1670-1707

The Saint who first found grace to pen
The Life which was the life of man,
And shed abroad the Gospel's ray,
His fame we celebrate today.

O holy mind, for wisdom fit
Wherein that Life of lives stood writ,
May we through minds of like accord
Show forth the pattern of our Lord.

Lo, drawn by Pentecostal fire,
His heart conceived its great desire,
When pure of mind, inspired, he heard
And with his hand set forth the Word.

And so may all whose minds are dark
Be led to truth by good Saint Mark,
And after this our earthly strife
Stand written in the Book of Life.

Then, clearly writ, the Godhead shone
Serene and fair to look upon;
And through that record still comes power
To lighten souls in death's dark hour.

Praise God who made the world so fair,
And sent his Son our Saviour there,
And by his Holy Spirit wist
To teach the first Evangelist. Amen.

Anthem Percy W. Whitlock, 1927

Glorious in heaven are the souls of all Saints, who walked in the way of Christ, the Lord Jesus: They loved him and followed his footsteps: and as they died for the Saviour, losing life for his sake, They reign with him for ever. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Larghetto (Tenth Concerto) Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday, May 1st, is SS. Philip and James' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, April 30th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, May 4th, at 3 P. M.

The Spring Presentation Service of the United Thank Offering for 1933 will be held on Thursday, May 4th, at 10.30 A. M., at the Church of the Saviour, 38th and Chestnut Streets, West Philadelphia. The Right Reverend Philip Cook, Bishop of Delaware, will be the specially invited speaker.

This service has become one of the big annual events of the women of this Diocese, and everyone is welcome.

On Saturday, May 6th, there will be a Retreat for teachers and other women, under the auspices of St. Ursula's Guild, at St. Mark's Church. The Rev. F. L. Vernon will be the Conductor.

The new building of the Episcopal Hospital will be formally opened for inspection on Saturday, May 6th, at 3 P. M. Members of the Parish are cordially invited to attend. The Hospital is at Front and Lehigh Avenue.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER IN THE OCTAVE OF ST. MARK, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today gives to us Our Lord's teaching concerning Himself, in which He announces that He is the Good Shepherd of Christians, presiding over the one fold which is His Church. He gives His life for His people. The wolf, who is the devil, is always seeking to catch and scatter Christians. The desire of the devil is to separate people from the Church. So long as they are in the church they are safely under the care of the Shepherd of their souls. The only possible way to alienate them from the Shepherd is to alienate them from the Church. Once alienated, separated, scattered, they may be caught and devoured, as unshepherded, wandering sheep are caught and devoured by the ravening wolf. It is a vivid illustration. History has proved it to be a true one.

The history of the Church Militant is a record of the warfare of the Church against the devil. It is a history of the attempts of the devil to separate Christians from the Church which he cannot destroy.

The Litany lists the devices of the devil and teaches us to pray to be delivered from them. "Evil, mischief, sin, crafts and assaults, blindness of heart, pride, vainglory, hypocrisy, envy, hatred, malice, uncharitableness, inordinate and sinful affections, deceits of the world, the flesh, and the devil, murder, sedition, privy conspiracy, rebellion, false doctrine, heresy, schism, hardness of heart, contempt of God's Word and Commandments." Saint Paul warns us of this conflict. "We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

He then tells us how to be prepared. "Take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all to stand." The war is a desperate one. Nothing short of the whole armour will be sufficient. The shepherds appointed by the Chief Shepherd must guard the sheep, at the peril and when need demands at the cost of their own lives. The fold must be protected at all hazards that the sheep may have safety within. The parable is a blend of battle and peace. There is a picture of battling shepherds and peaceful sheep. The alternative is the picture of fleeing, hireling shepherds and of wolves devouring deserted sheep. Both pictures are true to life. But the history of the Church has been the history of the good shepherds. Under the Chief Shepherd and Bishop of our souls, the Shepherds and Bishops of the Church have in their several generations fought the fight and kept the Faith. There have been places and times when Bishops have been hireling shepherds. Then Shepherd Priests have guarded the fold and saved the sheep. These were not normal times. Yet under God they were used as times of needed reformation. From such times of distress the Church has emerged purified with broken altars restored. However dark the times, the gates of hell have never prevailed. The Fold stood. Faithful shepherds remained. The sheep were safe. So it will be until the end of time.

We are celebrating this year the Centenary of the Catholic Revival in the Anglican Communion. That revival is the record of the war upon the wolf. It is the record of the victory of the Shepherd. It is the record of successful resistance against principalities, and powers and the rulers of the darkness of this world. It is the record of the recovery of the whole armour of God. It is the record of shepherds who were good shepherds. It is the record of an indestructible fold. The whole faith has been restored. The wholesacramental life has been restored. The whole heritage of worship has been restored. The shepherds have given their lives for their sheep. The sheep are safe. Thanks be to God.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

F. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

May 7, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 171 The day of resurrection! Berthold Tours, 1875

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, alleluia; sing praises unto the honour of his Name, alleluia: make his praise to be exceeding glorious, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works, O Lord: through the greatness of thy power. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Schubert in G

Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see me, saith the Lord Jesus: and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man taketh from you. Alleluia.

Hymn 180 Forty days of Eastertide William D. MacLagan, 1875

Credo - - - - Schubert in G

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul; while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in G

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Schubert in G

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Carillon-Sortie in D - - - Henri Mulet

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 37 - - - - Tone I-10

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Smart in B flat

Hymn 556 Joy dawned again on Easter-Day Praetorius, 1609

Anthem - - - - S. S. Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy, in all manner of conversation; Pass the time of your sojourning here in fear.

Love one another with a pure heart fervently, See that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the word of the Lord endureth for ever, for evermore. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Chorale-Prelude 'Puer Nobis' - Healey Willan

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The following notice was not received in time to advertise last Sunday:

The Fifty-first Annual Meeting of The Guild of All Souls will be held on Monday, May 8th, 1933, in Saint Paul's Church, Brooklyn, New York, beginning with a Solemn High Mass at 11.30 A. M., Preacher, the Rev. Father Hughson, O.H.C.

Saint Paul's Church is easily reached by subway to Borough Hall, and Court Street car to Carroll Street, then one block east to Clinton Street.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The disciples wept at the Cross while the world rejoiced. The disciples rejoiced at the Empty Tomb while the world doubted. The disciples lived with Our Lord in the joy of His resurrection. The world went on living without Him.

The disciple has something that the worldling has not. What is it? Why does the disciple have it? Why does the worldling miss it? What is a disciple? What is a worldling? What is it all about?

It is about a Person. It all centres about a Person. The Person is Our Lord. What about Him? He is God. He was made man for us. He died on the Cross for us. He rose from the dead for us. He ascended into Heaven for us. He built His Church for us. He sent the Holy Ghost to dwell in the Church for us. He ordained a Ministry to whom He gave His power to be ministers of reconciliation and grace for us. He provided the means of grace necessary for salvation for us.

He is Sacramentally present on the Altars of His Church even unto the end of the world for us.

What is a disciple? A disciple is a baptized person. A disciple is vowed to live according to the Baptismal vows of renunciation, faith and obedience. Renunciation of the devil. Faith in the Creed. Obedience to the Commandments. A disciple by Baptism is made a member of Christ. In Holy Communion he is fed with the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of his Saviour Jesus Christ and is made a very member incorporate in His mystical body. The disciple is admitted into the fellowship of Christ's Religion, which is the Communion of Saints. He lives in union with all disciples in this world, and with all disciples in the world beyond, and with angels and archangels and all the company of Heaven. The disciple is in intelligent and articulate communion with the life and prayers of all the whole company on earth and in heaven.

What is a worldling? A worldling is a person whose life is rooted in this world and bounded by this world. He has neither vision nor desire beyond it. He finds his satisfaction in what he can contribute to it. If he is of less fine clay, he finds his satisfaction in what he can get out of it. Or if he is an average person he finds equal satisfaction in each. If his life runs pleasantly, the world is a good place. If not—well, then it is not so good. And after this world? Who knows? That is on the lap of the gods.

How do these two types compare as to character? They cannot be compared as types. If any two individuals are to be compared they must be chosen fairly. The best of one type must not be compared with the worst of the other. And each must be measured by his own standard. The worldling must be measured by the standards of the natural virtues. If he has reached high attainment in these, he is an admirable man. The disciple must be measured by the standard of the Christian virtues. If he has reached high attainment in these he is a holy man. He will have the natural virtues supernaturalized, and he will have in addition the Christian virtues. But this is not the real difference.

The real difference is that the disciple has Our Lord and the worldling has not. This is the secret of the disciple's joy. It does not depend upon his own righteousness but upon his Master's manifold and great mercies. The Christian penitent comprehends breadths and lengths and depths and heights that pass the knowledge of the worldling at his best.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 33

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter

May 14, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal, 534)

German Processional Melody, 14th Century

Praise the Lord of heaven; praise him in the height;
Praise him, all ye Angels; praise him, stars and light;
Praise him, skies and waters, which above the skies,
When his word commanded, stablished did arise.

Praise the Lord, ye fountains of the deeps and seas,
Rocks and hills and mountains, cedars and all trees;
Praise him, clouds and vapours, snow and hail and fire,
Stormy winds fulfilling only his desire.

Praise him, fowls and cattle, princes and all kings;
Praise him, men and maidens, all created things;
For the name of God is excellent alone;
On the earth his footstool, over heaven his throne. Amen.

Introit. O sing unto the Lord a new song, alleluia; for the Lord hath done marvellous things, alleluia: in the sight of the nations hath he shewed his righteous judgments, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. With his own right hand, and with his holy arm: hath he gotten himself the victory. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Charles Wood, Mode VIII

Alleluia. I go to him that sent me: but because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your hearts. Alleluia. I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go away. Alleluia.

Hymn 199 Our blest Redeemer John B. Dykes, 1861

Credo - - - Martin in C

Offertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what things he hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn 265 Sing Alleluia forth in duteous praise Wm. H. Monk, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Martin in C

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Martin in C

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Allegro Appassionato (from the Sonata) Basil Harwood

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 73, 74 - - - Tones VII-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Cruickshank in G

Hymn 180 Forty days of Eastertide William D. MacLagan, 1875

Anthem Melody by Melchoir Vulpius, 1609, arr. by Henry G. Ley

The strife is o'er, the battle done;
Now is the Victor's triumph won:
O let the song of praise be sung, Hallelujah.

Death's mightiest powers have done their worst,
And Jesus hath his foes dispersed,
Let shouts of praise and joy outburst. Hallelujah.

On the third morn he rose again,
Glorious in majesty to reign:
O let us swell the joyful strain, Hallelujah.

Lord, by the stripes which wounded thee,
From death's dread sting thy servants free,
That we may live, and sing to thee, Hallelujah, Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

Organ—Intermezzo (Sonata VI) - Rheinberger

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ON ASCENSION DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 25th, IN ADDITION TO THE USUAL MASSES AT 7, 7:45, AND THE HIGH MASS AT 9:30, THERE WILL BE A LOW MASS AT 12:10 FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Our Lord had prepared His disciples for the withdrawal of the visible Presence which would comfort them after His resurrection. It would be expedient for them that in this sense He would go away. This withdrawal by ascension into Heaven would be followed by the coming of the Holy Ghost who would guide them into all truth and show them things to come. Then they would understand that the glorification of the Sacred Humanity of Our Lord would not be completed until, having ascended, He would sit at the right hand of the Father. Then they would understand that He would be with them always in a manner much more real than they had imagined and much more wonderful because He would be with all men, always and everywhere, even unto the end of the world. He had spoken of all this before it came to pass. And after His resurrection through the Forty Days, He spoke more fully because they were better able to understand the things that pertained to the Kingdom of God. Then the Holy Ghost when He came would call all these things to their remembrance. And then they would go into all the world and teach all men and baptize them and so the Church would be the Mystical Body, of which they and the people they baptized would be the members and the Lord Himself would be the Head. And He would give "some apostles, and some prophets; and some evangelists; and some pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ." They would lead the vast multitude of the faithful of all the ages "in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." They and their successors would be the pastors of the spiritual children as members of the one body. They would together "grow up into Him in all things, which is the head, even Christ: from whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the measure of every part maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love. They would understand that they were members of the body of Christ and members in particular, in an organic unity so closely knit "that whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it."

They had never dreamed of having Him like that. They had only thought of having Him to themselves. They gradually became accustomed to the light during the Forty Days, and in that light they caught their first glimpse of the Catholic Church which would be the light of the world down through all the centuries until the end of time. And in that church the one, central Reality would be the adorable Presence of Jesus Christ, the Chief Shepherd and Bishop of all souls.

From the Great High Priest there come the gifts of grace which He alone can give, through the Apostles who sent the Bishops, through the Bishops who send the Priests who administer in Him, through Him, with Him, by Him, for Him the Sacraments which are the channels through which the grace flows necessary for our salvation. It is Our Lord who baptizes and absolves, and sacrifices and feeds and blesses. The Christian sees, in Baptism, Penance, Mass and Communion, no man save Jesus only. The unspeakable comfort of the Catholic Religion is that it puts no man between the soul and God. The bracing certainty of the Catholic Faith is that it speaks with the infallible authority of God, undimmed by the private interpretations of men. The richness of the Catholic Sacramental life is that the things which are possible with God are unlimited by the things that are impossible with men. The freedom of the Catholic Religion is that it opens wide the gate of Heaven to man below.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ♣ Pennsylvania

Rogation Sunday

May 21, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 446 O God of Bethel Scottish Psalter, 1615

Introit. With a voice of singing declare ye this, and let it be heard, alleluia: utter it even unto the ends of the earth; the Lord hath delivered his people, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Willan in E flat

Alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my Name: ask, and ye shall receive. Alleluia. Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion over him. Alleluia.

Hymn 183 Lord, in thy Name thy servants plead James Turle, 1835

Credo Willan in E flat

Offertory O praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: who holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip. Praised be God, who hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercy from me, alleluia.

Hymn 181 O Jesus, crowned with all renown
Joseph Barnby, 1838-96

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Willan in E flat

Gloria in Excelsis Willan in E flat

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasie in D minor Merkel

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 106 Tone VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Cruikshank in G

Hymn 182 To thee our God we fly Charles Steggall, 1858

Anthem George C. Martin

Hail, gladdening Light, of his pure glory poured,
Who is the Immortal Father, Heavenly, Blest,
Holiest of Holies, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Now we are come to the sun's hour of rest,
The lights of evening round us shine,
We hymn the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit Divine.

Worthiest art Thou at all times to be sung,
With undefiled tongue, Son of our God, Giver of Life, Alone!
Therefore in all the world thy glories, Lord, they own.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Andantino Paul Allix

Ascension Day

May 25, 1933

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 186, 188

The Ordinary of the Mass Missa Marialis

Introit Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? alleluia: in like manner as ye have seen him going up into heaven, so shall he come again, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven, as he went up: behold, two men stood by them in white apparel, which said unto them. Glory be.

Alleluia. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet. Alleluia. Christ to highest heaven ascending, led captivity captive: and gave gifts unto men. Alleluia.

Offertory. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet. Alleluia.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY OF THIS WEEK
ARE ROGATION DAYS.

ON ASCENSION DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 25th, IN ADDI-TION TO THE USUAL MASSES AT 7, 7:45, AND THE
HIGH MASS AT 9:30, THERE WILL BE A LOW MASS
AT 12:10 FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE.

Pictures of the church may be purchased in the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation
are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

ROGATION SUNDAY, 1933.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The three days before Ascension Day are Rogation Days. The Fifth Sunday after Easter, being the week in which the Rogation Days occur, takes its name from them and is called Rogation Sunday. The Rogation Days were instituted at an early period in the history of the church, sometime before 452. They were instituted for the purpose of asking God's blessing on the earth that it might yield a fruitful harvest. The word "rogation" means "asking". The church offers her devotions on the Rogation Days with special intention.

I am writing today of the church's work of corporate prayer. Prayer is the church's work of God. Her Cathedrals, Parish Churches, Monastic Churches and Chapels are dedicated for the work of prayer. Its fulfilment requires the offering of the Holy Sacrifice and the recitation of the Divine Office with unflinching regularity. It is the first duty of the parish priest to maintain this regularity. The parish priest is obligated to his Altar and Office daily. The people are bound to certain days of obligation. But the priest is bound to all days.

At his Altar with his server he offers the Holy Sacrifice daily. Whether the congregation numbers one or one thousand it is all the same to him. He offers his Mass for all his people, present or absent, living or dead.

In his stall in choir he recites his Office. Whether the church is full or empty, it is all the same to him. He recites his Office with special intention for the needs of his people. They are excused from Office. He is never excused, except some notable duty prevent him, in which case he is bound to complete his Office before midnight. People whose leisure permits them have the privilege of daily Mass and daily Office. This will depend upon the demands of the state of life to which they have been called. They must be governed by the law of charity and fidelity. The days of obligation require attendance at Church. The days not of obligation require first that the duties of home and daily work be lovingly fulfilled and faithfully performed. The people, wherever they are and whatever they are doing, are sustained, guided and protected by the priest at his work of prayer in the parish church. The "notable duties" which might interrupt his Rule are rare. A suddenly ill or a dying person would require immediate attention, which could not be postponed. Emergencies take the right of way. A properly regulated day is a day without avoidable irregularities. The word regular comes from the Latin word which means rule. The rule of prayer is the priest's rule.

The church, wherever it may be, is a house of prayer. It may be a little brown church on a village roadside. It may be a Cathedral on the elm shaded street of a colonial city. It may be a parish church overshadowed by towering buildings in the centre of a metropolis. Wherever it is, it is always the same. Within its sacred walls the mighty energy of prayer is at work with equal power. No church is little if its prayer life is strong. No church is great if its prayer life is feeble and intermittent. The majesty of the Mass is not measured by the size of the edifice. The effectiveness of the Divine Office is not gauged by the number of people reciting it. At every Mass there are angels and archangels and all the company of heaven assisting. At every Office the nine choirs of angels are in attendance.

This is the corporate prayer life of the Church which surrounds you and encloses your homes.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 35

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

May 28, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession

W. H. Monk

Hail the day that sees Him rise,
To His throne above the skies;
Christ, the Lamb for sinners given,
Enters now the highest heaven.
Alleluia!

There for Him high triumph waits;
Lift your heads, eternal gates;
He hath conquered death and sin;
Take the King of Glory in.
Alleluia!

Lo! the heaven its Lord receives,
Yet He loves the earth He leaves;
Though returning to His throne,
Still He calls mankind His own.
Alleluia!

See! He lifts His hands above;
See! He shows the prints of love;
Hark! His gracious lips bestow
Blessings on His Church below.
Alleluia!

Still for us He intercedes,
His prevailing death He pleads;
Near Himself prepares our place,
He, the first-fruits of our race.
Alleluia!

Lord, though parted from our sight
Far above the starry height,
Grant our hearts may thither rise,
Seeking Thee above the skies.
Alleluia.

Hymn 186 Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates Wm. Knapp, 1738

Introit. Consider, O Lord, and hear me, when I cry unto thee, alleluia; unto thee my heart hath said, Thy face, Lord, have I sought; thy face, Lord, will I seek: O hide not thou thy face from thy servant, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. The Lord is my light, and my salvation: whom then shall I fear? Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Mozart in B flat

Alleluia. God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon his holy seat. Alleluia. I will not leave you comfortless: I go away and come again unto you, and your heart shall rejoice. Alleluia.

Hymn 188 The head, that once was crowned with thorns
Jeremiah Clark, 1709

Credo Mozart in B flat

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: as long as I have any being I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Hymn 190 Crown Him with many crowns George J. Elvey, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Mozart in B flat

Gloria in Excelsis Mozart in B flat

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata (Symphony V) Widor

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 46, 47

Tones V-3, VII.6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 193

Alleluia! sing to Jesus!

Samuel S. Wesley, 1868

Anthem

Händel

Lift up your heads, O ye gates! and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of Glory shall come in.

Who is the King of Glory?

The Lord, strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.

The Lord of Hosts, He is the King of Glory.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Chorale: Heut' Triumphiret Gottes Sohn

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The 7.45 Mass on Memorial Day will be a Requiem.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again I leave the world, and go to the Father." On Christmas Day we worshipped Him in the Manger. On Ascension Day we worship Him in Heaven. We worship Him as He comes. We worship Him as He goes. We cannot separate the two Festivals. "Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ. Thou art the everlasting Son of the Father. When thou tookest upon thee to deliver man, thou didst humble thyself to be born of a Virgin. When thou hadst overcome the sharpness of death, thou didst open the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers. Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father. We therefore pray thee, help thy servants, whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious blood. Make them to be numbered with thy saints in glory everlasting."

The Church's Hymn of Praise summarizes our faith, our gratitude and our expectation. In the Te Deum we return thanks for the miracle of mercy which manifested its depths in the Manger and its heights on the Mount. Midway stands the Cross on which the sharpness of death was overcome, and the Kingdom of Heaven was opened. Once more we have been permitted to assist as pilgrims in the Divine Drama of Redemption. In the Sacred Banquet, in which Christ is received, our memories of His Passion have been renewed, our minds have been filled with grace, and a pledge of future glory has been given us.

Today we can do no better thing than to sum it all up into the simple terms of a working religion. The first point is this. When Our Lord humbled Himself to be born of a Virgin, He did deliver man from the tyranny of the flesh over the spirit. "Therefore, brethren, we are debtors not to the flesh, to live after the flesh." Through the spirit we can mortify the deeds of the body. The flesh can be subdued to the spirit. We have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear. God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. This is the Christian answer to the flood of sensualism which has drenched press and stage and poisoned an undiscerning public and deceived the undisciplined with its jargon of cant words, inhibition, repression, expression, attempting to perfume putridity under pretext of intellectualizing bestiality. To all that sort of thing the Christian Religion rings clear and rings true from Bethlehem, "if ye live after the flesh ye shall die; but if ye mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live." This is precisely what the Incarnation has made possible. This is the liberty wherewith we have all been made free.

The second point is that the sharpness of death has been overcome. The sting of death is sin. The Cross has taken away the sting. There is no sin that cannot be forgiven. There is no defilement that cannot be cleansed. There is no stain that cannot be removed. There is no infected area that cannot be sterilized. There is no diseased tissue that cannot be cured. There is no maladjustment that cannot be corrected. There is no impress that cannot be removed. There is no habit that cannot be reversed. There is no vice that cannot be eliminated. There is no virtue that cannot be cultivated. There is no sinner who cannot become a saint. The Kingdom of Heaven is wide open to the whole world of penitents.

The third point is this. The Lord whom we adore at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father, is our High Priest. Jesus the Son of God is passed into the heavens. He is the same Jesus who lay in the Manger and hung upon the Cross. Exalted in glory as He is, nevertheless He is touched with the feeling of our infirmities; because He, for our sakes, was tempted in all points like as we are, yet without sin. Therefore the last of us and the least of us and the worst of us may and must come boldly unto the throne of grace, and find grace to help in time of need. No one who comes will be cast out.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Feast of Pentecost

June 4, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 195 Hail! Festal Day
Procession { 197 Spirit of mercy

Luard Selby, 1904
Samuel Webbe, 1782

Introit. The Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world, alleluia: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Noble in G minor

Alleluia. O send forth thy Spirit, and they shall be made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. The Holy Spirit, proceeding from the throne, came down in unseen majesty: as on this day, upon the Twelve, purifying their most inmost hearts.

Sequence Hymn 196

Come, Thou Holy Spirit, Come

Samuel Webbe, 1782

Offertory. Stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in us: for thy temple's sake at Jerusalem, shall kings bring presents unto thee, alleluia.

Credo

Noble in G minor

Hymn 198

Creator Spirit, by whose aid

Thomas Attwood, 1831

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Noble in G minor

Gloria in Excelsis

Noble in G minor

Post Communion. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral Song

S. S. Wesley

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 145

Tone V-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D minor

Hymn (English Hymnal, 158)

Winchester Old

When God of old came down from heaven,
In power and wrath he came;
Before his feet the clouds were riven,
Half darkness and half flame.

And as on Israel's awe-struck ear,
The voice exceeding loud,
The trump, that Angels quake to hear,
Thrilled from the deep, dark cloud.

But when he came the second time,
He came in power and love:
Softer than gale at morning prime Hovered his holy Dove.

So, when the Spirit of our God
Came down his flock to find,
A voice from heaven was heard abroad,
A rushing mighty wind.

The fires that rushed on Sinai down
In sudden torrents dread,
Now gently light, a glorious crown,
On every sainted head.

It fills the Church of God; it fills
The sinful world around;
Only in stubborn hearts and wills
No place for it is found.

Come, Lord, come Wisdom, Love, and Power,
Open our ears to hear;
Let us not miss the accepted hour;
Save, Lord, by love or fear. Amen.

Anthem

Charles Steggall

God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise. He stood, and measured the earth; He beheld, and drove asunder the nations; and the everlasting mountains were scattered, and the perpetual hills did bow.

His ways are everlasting. Hallelujah! Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Adagio: Veni Creator

Maurice Durufle

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"I believe in the Holy Ghost, The Lord and Giver of Life, Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son; Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified; Who spake by the Prophets." This is our profession of faith. The Holy Ghost is the Third Person of the Holy Trinity. He illuminates and sanctifies the people of God. The prophets wrote under His inspiration. He inspired the writers of the books of the Bible. By His operation we are born again. He bestows His seven-fold gifts upon us in Confirmation. He speaks through the Church, teaching us and leading us into all truth. "His that gentle voice we hear, soft as the breath of even, that checks each fault, that calms each fear, and speaks of heaven. And every virtue we possess, and every victory won, and every thought of holiness are His alone."

We have a personal relation with, and a personal obligation to, the Holy Ghost. Without Him we cannot have a true religion. We owe Him personal worship. We owe Him personal obedience. We owe Him personal dedication. We owe Him personal gratitude, because it is only by Him that we are enabled to think and do what is right. It is only by Him that we are enabled to perceive and know such things as are right. It is only by His power that we are enabled to perform the same. We owe Him the dedication of our bodies because they are the temples of the Holy Ghost.

If any one wants the Christian Faith the way to get it is to pray to the Holy Ghost. He answers the prayer even before the person who prays knows what the Christian Faith is. He answers the prayer and leads the person towards the truth and finally into it even before the person knows what the truth is. He gives the desire to pray even before the person has the desire to pray.

He leads gently. He never forces. He never demands more than can be given. He gives the power to take the first step, however short it may be. He is more gentle than a mother teaching a child to walk.

Imagine a person who knows nothing whatever about the Christian Religion, who has not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost. Some day on some seemingly chance occasion of a casual visit to a church, visited not with any idea of devotion, such a person hears the words 'Holy Ghost'. For some unaccountable reason the words make an impression, soon forgotten, yet lodged in some cavern of the subconscious mind and never lost. Very often such an impression is made by the words "the sin against the Holy Ghost", because "it shall not be forgiven". Quite unexpectedly later on a piercing regret for some past sin haunts the memory. Could that have been the unforgivable sin? Or some arresting uneasiness concerning a contemplated action produces an arresting hesitancy. The conscience is aroused. The result is a sequence of experiences of regret, remorse, fear: A process of conversion is set in motion which, if followed step by step, leads to contrition, pardon and peace. This is the work of the Holy Ghost.

From deeply rooted penitence comes the hunger and thirst after righteousness. The aspirations for increase of grace produce devotion to the Sacraments. The Sacraments are seen to be, not occasional luxuries, but constant necessities. So they are eagerly sought as medicine in sickness and food in hunger. Dire need, keenly sensed, is the stimulus to Sacramental life. The hunger and the thirst and the aspirations and the sense of need are the elements which constitute the reality of sacramental practise so far as our part goes. These dispositions prepare us for the right use of the Sacraments. These dispositions are the gifts of the Holy Ghost. So He leads us into the truth about the Sacraments afterwards verified by experiential use.

All the while the impulse to prayer becomes more and more imperative. The prayers will be simple, direct, often brief but constant. Meditation on the words of Holy Scripture will provide welcome refreshment. The mind will become saturated with the counsels and promises of God. The right judgment and the sure comfort will be the sure reward of persevering devotion to the Holy Ghost.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.
There will be a Third Mass at 9.30.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

June 11, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 525 I bind unto myself today
Ancient Irish Melody

Introit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the undivided Unity: we will praise and glorify him, because he hath shewed his mercy upon us.

Ps. Let us bless the Father and the Son: with the Holy Spirit. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Vittoria

Gradual. Blessed art thou, O Lord, which beholdest the great deep: and sittest upon the Cherubim. O bless the Lord of heaven: for he hath shewed mercy upon us.

Alleluia. Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and worthy to be praised for evermore. Alleluia.

Hymn 38 Three in One, and One in Three Filitz, 1847

Credo - - - West in A

Offertory. Blessed be God the Father, and the only begotten Son of God; and blessed be the Holy Spirit: for the mercy he hath done unto us.

Hymn 205 Holy, Holy, Holy! Dykes, 1861

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - West in A

Gloria in Excelsis - West in A

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasia in C minor - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalms 93, 97 . . . Tones V-3, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Martin in G

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Mode VIII

Anthem - - - Tschaikowski

Blessed angel spirits offer praise undying, ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Saints and Martyrs praise thy Name, Trinity life-giving, Earth-borne sorrow leaving before thy throne, ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Father Omnipotent, mighty in glory, Christ thy Son, our Saviour, who died that we might live, Holy Spirit, mystic dove, dwelling with us evermore, we praise thee, Blessed Trinity.

With the Angels' sacred hymn, all thy might proclaiming, With the mystic cherubim, in songs of praise we join, Holy, Holy, Holy, Join we all in songs of praise for ever; Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mode VIII

Organ—Andante (Sonata III) - Mendelssohn

Corpus Christi

June 15, 1933

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 339, 338

Ordinary of the Mass - - Missa Dominicalis

Introit. He fed them also with the finest wheat flour, alleluia; and with honey from the rock hath he satisfied them, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed: he that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood dwelleth in me, and I in him.

Offertory. The priests of the Lord do offer the offerings of the Lord, made by fire and the bread of their God: therefore they shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the Name of their God, alleluia.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THURSDAY, JUNE 15th, WILL BE THE FEAST OF CORPUS CHRISTI. THE MASSES FOR COMMUNION ARE AT 7 AND 7.45. THERE WILL BE A HIGH MASS AT 9.30 AND A LOW MASS FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE AT 12.10.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today the Church celebrates the Festival of the Holy Trinity. "It is very meet, right and our bounden duty, that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto thee, O Lord, Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God, Who, with thine only-begotten Son, and the Holy Ghost, art one God, one Lord, in Trinity of Persons and in Unity of Substance, For that which we believe of thy glory, O Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference of inequality."

This is the Preface for Trinity Sunday. The Prefaces are summaries of the Mysteries for the days dedicated to their commemoration. After each Preface the Liturgy directs the devotional intention of the faithful: "Therefore with Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious Name; evermore praising thee." Then Priest and People say or sing together, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of hosts, Heaven and Earth are full of thy glory: Glory be to thee, O Lord Most High." In the clear, white light of each mystery the Christian lauds, magnifies and praises the Lord Most High. The light is the light of Heaven. The mystery is the mystery of God.

Just a moment before this act of praise, the Christian has acknowledged and bewailed the sins and wickedness, most grievously committed from time to time, by thought; word, and deed against the Divine Majesty, and has prayed for the forgiveness of all that is past. The response of precatory absolution has returned swiftly from the Altar. The mercy of God is reassuringly revealed in the shining glory of His Majesty. The Christian is encouraged to offer praise in the company of the inhabitants of Heaven, not as a stranger and foreigner, but as a fellow-citizen with the saints and of the household of God. In the holy city the Christian sees the glories of its mysteries in the light of the city which has no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God lightens it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

The Christian makes the ascent of the mysteries gradually and sweetly. At Christmas the Preface explains that Jesus Christ, by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary his Mother. At the Epiphany the Preface explains that Jesus Christ, in substance of our mortal flesh, manifested forth his glory, that He might bring us out of darkness into his own glorious light. At the Purification, Annunciation and Transfiguration, the Preface explains that in the Mystery of the Word made flesh God caused a new light to shine in our hearts, to give knowledge of His glory in the face of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord. At Easter the Preface explains that Jesus Christ by His death has destroyed death, and by His rising to life again has restored to us everlasting life. At Ascension the Preface explains that Jesus Christ, after His most glorious Resurrection, ascended up into heaven, to prepare a place for us; that where He is, thither we might also ascend, and reign with Him in glory. At Whitsuntide the Preface explains that the Holy Ghost came down from heaven, lighting upon the disciples, to teach them, and to lead them into all truth, giving them boldness with fervent zeal constantly to preach the Gospel unto all nations; whereby we have been brought out of darkness and error into the clear light and true knowledge of God.

So we are led, until on Trinity Sunday in clear light and true knowledge we adore the Holy Trinity.

The Prefaces are the milestones of the pilgrimage of the Christian Year. As we make the annual pilgrimage we engage ourselves in the use of Collects, Epistles, Gospels, Psalms, Lessons, Canticles, self-examinations, confessions, Communions and the constant effort for the attainment of that purity of heart which ensures the vision of God. Each day roots and grounds us in the love of God. In the light of that love we are enabled to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height of the love which passes knowledge and fills us with all the fulness of God. So the first Commandment is to love God. Only they who love can know.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 39

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 25, 1933

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	11 to 12 A. M., 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds Reinagle, 1836

Introit. The Lord was my refuge and my upholder; and he brought me forth into a place of liberty: he delivered me because he delighted in me.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Harwood in E flat

Gradual. When I was in trouble I called upon the Lord: and he heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips: and from a deceitful tongue.

Alleluia. God is a righteous Judge, strong and patient: and God is provoked every day.

Hymn 254 How wondrous and great thy works
Michael Haydn, 1737-1806

Credo - - - Harwood in A flat

Offertory. Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul: O save me for thy mercies' sake.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest in the height Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harwood in A flat

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Harwood in A flat

Post-Communion. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasia in G minor - - - Bach

Solemn Ebensong

Psalm 119, verses 73-104 - - Tones I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and III with faux bourdons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn (English Hymnal, 51) - - Angers Church Melody

O Blest Creator of the light,
Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
And o'er the forming world didst call
The light from chaos first of all;

Lest, sunk in sin and whelm'd with strife,
They lose the gift of endless life;
While thinking but the thoughts of time,
They weave new chains of woe and crime.

Whose wisdom joined in meet array
The morn and eve, and named them Day:
Night comes with all its darkling fears;
Regard thy people's prayers and tears,

But grant them grace that they may strain
The heavenly gate and prize to gain;
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.

Anthem - - - Sir Edward Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor:

He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord;

To give unto them that mourn a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth;

So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mode VIII

Organ—Sursum Corda - - - Elgar

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Beginning with the first Sunday in July, and continuing during July, August and September, the Services are as follows:

SUNDAY—	8.00 A. M.	-	Low Mass
	10.30 A. M.	- -	Matins
	11.00 A. M.	-	High Mass
	4.00 P. M.	- -	Evensong

DAILY—	7.00 A. M.	-	Low Mass
	9.00 A. M.	- -	Matins
	12.30 M.	-	Intercessions
	5.00 P. M.	- -	Evensong

Confessions—Saturdays, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Membership Enrollment Blanks for the Centenary Congress, to be held in Philadelphia October 22nd to 26th, will be found on the table at the door of the Church. It is desired that applications be made as soon as possible. I trust that every member of the parish will enroll.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 1

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 6, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 465 We love the place, O God Henry L. Jenner, 1861

Introit. Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I have called daily upon thee: for thou, O Lord, art gracious and merciful, and plenteous in thy loving-kindness toward all them that call upon thee.

Ps. Bow down thine ear, O Lord, and hear me: for I am poor and in misery. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Schubert in G

Gradual. The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Syon: and when his glory shall appear.

Alleluia. Ye that fear the Lord, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper, and defender. Alleluia.

Hymn 257 Sing, my soul, his wondrous love John B. Dykes, 1862

Credo - - - Schubert in G

Offertory. Look down, O Lord, to help me; let them be ashamed, and confounded together, that seek after my soul to destroy it: look down, O Lord, to help me.

Motet - - - Tschaikowsky

Blessed Angel spirits offer praise undying, ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth. Saints and Martyrs praise thy Name, Trinity life-giving, earth borne sorrow leaving before thy throne, ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Father omnipotent, mighty in glory, Christ, thy Son, our Saviour, who died that we might live, Holy Spirit, mystic Dove, dwelling with us ever more, we praise thee, Blessed Trinity.

With the Angels' sacred hymn all thy might proclaiming, with the mystic cherubim, in songs of praise we join, Holy, Holy, Holy, join we all in songs of praise forever, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in G

Communio. O Lord, I will make mention of thy righteousness only; thou, God, hast taught me from my youth up until now: forsake me not in my old age, when I am gray headed.

Gloria in Excelsis - - Schubert in G

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven, Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in E flat (St. Ann) - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 33 - - - Tone III.5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 264 Ye holy angels bright John Darwall, 1870

Anthem (Sixth Chandos Anthem) - Handel

Praise Him, all ye that in his house attend with constant care; with those that to his utmost courts with humble zeal repair.

O Praise the Lord with one consent, and magnify his Name. Let all the servants of the Lord his worthy praise proclaim.

Solo—Winfield Vickery, Alto.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Chorale in D flat - - Bossi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Collections for the United Thank Offering are now being made and may be sent in any time during October to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

The Presentation of the Offering takes place the first Thursday in November.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Seventeenth Sunday after Trinity

October 13, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 312 God of mercy, God of grace Henry Smart, 1866

Introit. Righteous art thou, O Lord, and true is thy judgment: deal with thy servant according unto thy merciful kindness.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) - Everett Tilcomb

Gradual. Blessed is the people whose God is the Lord: and blessed are the folk that he hath chosen to him to be his inheritance. By the Word of the Lord were the heavens made: and all the hosts of them by the breath of his mouth.

Alleluia The right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass: the right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence. Alleluia.

Hymn 463 One sole Baptismal sign John Goss, 1853

Credo IV - - - Mode I

Offertory. I, Daniel, prayed unto the Lord my God, and said: Hear, O our God, the prayer of thy servant. Cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary: and behold, O God, this thy people, who are called by thy Name.

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven John Goss, 1869

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Everett Tilcomb

Communio. Promise unto the Lord your God, and keep it: all ye that are round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared. He shall refrain the spirit of princes: and is wonderful among the kings of the earth.

Gloria in Excelsis - Everett Tilcomb

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata-Prelude on Pange Lingua - Bairstow

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 69

Tone II.1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 11

O Trinity of Blessed Light

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Anthem (150th Psalm)

Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of his power. Praise ye Him for his mighty acts, Praise Him for his mighty acts. Praise ye Him, Praise ye Him, according to his wondrous works.

Praise ye Him, Praise ye Him, with the sound of the trumpet: Praise ye Him, Praise ye Him, with the psaltry and harp. Praise ye Him, with the timbrel, Praise ye Him with the dance, Praise Him with the organ and stringed instruments.

Praise ye Him, Praise ye Him upon the loud cymbals; Praise ye Him, Praise ye Him upon the high-sounding cymbals. Let everything that hath breath, Praise the Lord. Hallelujah!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Prelude in D minor

J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

A special meeting of St. Mark's Woman's Auxiliary is called for Tuesday, October 15th, at 3 P. M., to plan about the Fair.

Collections for the United Thank Offering are now being made and may be sent in any time during October to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

The Presentation of the Offering takes place the first Thursday in November.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 20, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 5 Now that the sun is gleaming bright
A. R. Reinagle, 1836

Introit. Give peace, O Lord, to them that wait for thee, and let thy Prophets be found faithful: regard the prayers of thy servant, and of thy people Israel.

Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Alleluia. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Alleluia.

Hymn 237 When all thy mercies, O my God Thomas Tallis, 1567

Credo - - - Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. Moses consecrated an altar unto the Lord, offering burnt offerings upon it, and sacrificing peace offerings: and he made an evening sacrifice for a sweet-smelling savour unto the Lord God, in the sight of the children of Israel.

Motet - - - Healey Willan

Hail, true Body, born of Mary, Spotless Virgin's virgin birth, On the Cross thou hangedst weary To redeem the sons of earth.	Thou whose Side was deeply riven, Shedding forth true stream of Blood; O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given In death's hour to be our Food.
---	--

O faithful, O gracious,
O blessed Jesu, Son of Mary,
Grant us thy mercy, Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock in A minor

Communio. Bring offerings, and come into his courts: O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

Gloria in Excelsis - - Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Adagio and Allegro (Chorale in A minor) Cesar Franck

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 104 - - - Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Tones II and III, polyphony by Healey Willan

Hymn 28 Before the ending of the day French Plainsong, Mode VI

Anthem (Sixth Chandos Anthem) - Handel

With cheerful notes let all the earth
To heaven their voices raise,
Let all inspired with godly mirth,
Sing solemn hymns with praise.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Adagio (Symphony V) - Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held at the Church House, 202 S. 19th Street, on Thursday, November 7th, at 11 A. M. All contributions to the Offering should be sent before that date to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

The Minton Pyne Singers meet on Monday evenings at eight o'clock in the Choir Room. Young men of the congregation are invited to see the Choirmaster if they desire to become members.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 27, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, Thou Joy of loving hearts!
Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Introit. I am the saving health of my people, saith the Lord God: out of whatsoever tribulation they shall pray to me, I will surely help them, and I will be their God for ever and ever.

Ps. Hear my law, O my people: incline your ears unto the words of my mouth. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa de Sancte Albano) - Healey Willan

Gradual. Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight: O Lord, as the incense. And let the lifting up of my hands: be an evening sacrifice.

Alleluia They that put their trust in the Lord shall be even as the mount Syon: he who dwelleth in Jerusalem may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. Alleluia.

Hymn 225 My spirit on thy care Louis Bourgeois, 1551

Credo - - - Healey Willan

Offertory. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me, O Lord: thou shalt stretch forth thy right hand upon the furiousness of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Healey Willan

Communio. Thou hast charged that we shall diligently keep thy commandments: O that my ways were made so direct, that I might keep thy statutes.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Healey Willan

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in F minor - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Tone VIII-1

Psalm 107
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Tones II and III, polyphony by Healey Willan

Hymn 293 For Thy dear Saints, O Lord
Henry J. Gauntlett, 1848

Anthem - - - Josef Haydn

Distracted with care and anguish,
When hearts despairing languish,
Madly they seek for comfort
Where it doth ne'er abide.

For us no rest remaineth,
If earth our love retaineth,
And heaven we cast aside.
Relief he only gaineth,
And peace at last attaineth,
Whom God vouchsafes to guide.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven

R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Salve Regina - - - Peter Cornet

All Saints' Day

November 1, 1935

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 299, 302

The Ordinary of the Mass - - - Willan in D

All Souls' Day

November 2, 1935

SOLEMN HIGH MASS OF REQUIEM AT 9.30 A. M.

Missa pro defunctis

Sequence, Hymn 65

Plainchant

Modes I and II

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday is the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude. There will be a third Mass at 9.30

There will be a High Mass at 9.30 on All Saints' Day, Friday, November 1st.

The First Vespers of the Dead will be said on Friday night, November 1st, directly after Evensong. On Saturday, November 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., and a Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M., and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M. Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.

Names of Departed Members to be remembered at the Altar on All Souls' Day should be sent in not later than Wednesday, October 30th.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls will be held in the Parish Building, on Saturday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

The attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary is called to the Intercession schedule posted in the porch. Volunteers for the ~~weekly~~ Thursday Intercessions are asked to sign their names in the time space, indicating the half hour for which responsibility for Intercessions will be pledged. Copies of the Auxiliary Intercessions will be found on the table by the door.

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held in the Church House on Thursday, November 7th, at 11 A. M. Contributions should be sent, before that date, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

Within the Octave of All Saints

November 3, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 295 For All the Saints

R. Vaughan-Williams

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy-day in honour of all the Saints: in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Mass in D)

Sir George Henschel

Gradual. O fear the Lord, all ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Alleluia. The Saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever. Alleluia.

Sequence

Mode I

Spouse of Christ, in arms contending
O'er each clime beneath the sun,
Blend with prayers for help ascending,
Notes of praise for triumphs won.

As the Church today rejoices
All her Saints to join on high,
So from earth let all our voices
Rise in solemn harmony.

In your heavenly habitations,
In your blessed home on high,
Hear, ye Saints, our aspirations,
As to God we lift our cry.

Ever praising, ever praying,
Help ye thus your brethren here,
That the will of God obeying
We in peace may persevere.

So may we, with hearts devoted,
Serve our God in holiness;
So may we, by God promoted,
Share that heaven which ye possess.

Credo

Henschel

Offertory. O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel, he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God, alleluia.

Motet

Percy W. Whitlock

Glorious in heaven are the souls of all Saints, who walked in the way of Christ the Lord Jesus: They loved him, and followed his footsteps: and as they died for the Saviour, losing life for his sake, they reign with him for ever. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Henschel

Communio. The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God: and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: but they are in peace.

Gloria in Excelsis

Henschel

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Improvisation on a Gregorian Theme: 'Gaudeamus' Everett Titcomb

Solemn Evensong

Tone III-1

Psalm 84

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in C

Hymn 299

Let saints on earth in concert sing

Day's Psalter, 1562

Anthem (from 'The Dream of Gerontius')

Sir Edward Elgar

Softly and gently, dearly-ransomed soul, in my most loving arms I now enfold thee, and o'er the penal waters, as they roll, I poise thee, and I lower thee, and hold thee. And carefully I dip thee in the lake, and thou, without a sob or a resistance, dost through the flood thy rapid passage take, sinking deep, deeper, into the dim distance.

Come back, O Lord! how long: and be entreated for thy servants.

Angels, to whom the willing task is given, shall tend, and nurse, and lull thee, as thou liest: and Masses on the earth and Prayers in heaven, shall aid thee at the Throne of the Most Highest.

Praise to the Holiest in the height, and in the depth be praise!

Farewell, but not for ever! brother dear, be brave and patient on thy bed of sorrow; swiftly shall pass thy night of trial here, and I will come and wake thee on the morrow.

Bring us not, Lord, very low: for thou hast said, Come back again, ye sons of Adam.

To us his elder race he gave to battle and to win, without the chastisement of pain, without the soil of sin.

Praise to the Holiest in the height. Amen.

Solo—Charles Conway

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Ricercare

Palestrina

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, November 3rd, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, November 7th, at 3 P. M. The Rector will make the address.

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held in the Church House on Thursday, November 7th, at 11 A. M. Contributions should be sent, before that date, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Worshippers in the Lady Chapel are cautioned and advised not to leave their personal belongings in the church while they are in the Chapel.

The attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary is called to the Intercession schedule posted in the porch. Volunteers for the Intercession periods on the third Thursday of the month are asked to sign their names in the time space, indicating the quarter hour for which responsibility for Intercessions will be pledged. Copies of the Auxiliary Intercessions will be found on the table by the door.

The Minton Pyne Singers meet on Monday evenings at eight o'clock in the Choir Room. Young men of the congregation are invited to see the Choirmaster if they desire to become members.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 6

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity

November 10, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 446 O God of Bethel

Scottish Psalter, 1615

Introit. O Lord Almighty, everything is in subjection unto thee; and there is no man that is able to resist thy power: for thou hast created everything; heaven and earth, and all the wonders which under heaven's vault are contained; thou art the Lord and King of all things.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Cavaliere, c. 1600

Gradual. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Hymn 128 Christian, seek not yet repose W. H. Monk, 1868

Credo

Cavaliere

Offertory. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job: perfect and upright, and one that feared God. And Satan sought to tempt him: and power was given him by the Lord over his possessions, and over his flesh. And he destroyed all his substance and his sons: and he smote his flesh with sore boils.

Hymn

N. Herman, 1560, arranged by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the throne, a glorious band,	They see their Saviour face to face,
The Saints in countless myriads stand,	And sing the triumphs of his grace:
Of ev'ry tongue redeemed of God,	Him day and night they ceaseless
Arrayed in garments washed in blood,	praise,
Hallelujah	To Him the loud thanksgiving raise:
	Hallelujah!

Through tribulation great they came:	Worthy the Lamb, for sinners slain,
They bore the Cross, despised the shame;	Through endless years to live and
From all their labours now they rest,	reign:
In God's eternal glory blest,	Thou hast redeemed us by thy Blood,
Hallelujah!	And made us Kings and Prieststo God,
	Hallelujah!

O may we tread the sacred road
That Saints and holy Martyrs trod:
Wage to the end the glorious strife,
And win like them, a crown of life,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Cavaliere

Communion. My soul hath longed for thy salvation; and I have a good hope in thy word: when wilt thou be avenged of them that persecute me? They persecute me falsely: O be thou my help, O Lord my God.

Cavaliere

Gloria in Excelsis

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasie in C major

Cesar Franck

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 133, 134, 135

Tones VIII-3, VIII-1, VII-2

Hymn 23 The Day is Past and Over Arthur H. Brown, 1862

Anthem

T. Tertius Noble

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God,
Nor hurt, nor torment cometh them anigh,
O holy hope of immortality,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Soul of the righteous in the hand of God,
To eyes of men unwise they seemed to die.
They are at peace, O fairest liberty,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

On earth as children chastened by love's rod,
As gold in furnace tried, so now on high
They shine like stars, a golden galaxy,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Requiem Aeternam

Basil Harwood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a meeting of St. Mark's Altar Society in the parish parlor on Thursday morning, November 14th after the 9.30 Mass.

At the Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering, held at the Church House, on Thursday, November 7th, St. Mark's contributed $195.41; St. Mary's Chapel, $32.00, and St. Michael's Chapel, Yeadon, $13.60. An increase in the number of contributors from this Parish is urgently needed.

In accordance with our custom, the "Fair" will be held on Thursday, November 21st, from 2 to 6 P. M., for the ~~Foreign~~ Mission Committees of the Woman's Auxiliary. Donations of flowers, cake and candies, books and useful articles for Christmas gifts, also toys and articles of interest to children, may be sent to the Parish Building marked "For the Fair." We hope you will come and bring your friends.

Worshippers in the Lady Chapel are cautioned and advised not to leave their personal belongings in the church while they are in the Chapel.

The attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary is called to the Intercession schedule posted in the porch. Volunteers for the Intercession periods on the third Thursday of the month are asked to sign their names in the time space, indicating the quarter hour for which responsibility for Intercessions will be pledged. Copies of the Auxiliary Intercessions will be found on the table by the door.

The Minton Pyne Singers meet on Monday evenings at eight o'clock in the Choir Room. Young men of the congregation are invited to see the Choirmaster if they desire to become members.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 27, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, Thou Joy of loving hearts!
Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Introit. I am the saving health of my people, saith the Lord God: out of whatsoever tribulation they shall pray to me, I will surely help them, and I will be their God for ever and ever.

Ps. Hear my law, O my people: incline your ears unto the words of my mouth. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa de Sancte Albano) - Healey Willan

Gradual. Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight: O Lord, as the incense. And let the lifting up of my hands: be an evening sacrifice.

Alleluia They that put their trust in the Lord shall be even as the mount Syon: he who dwelleth in Jerusalem may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. Alleluia.

Hymn 225 My spirit on thy care Louis Bourgeois, 1551

Credo - - - Healey Willan

Offertory. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me, O Lord: thou shalt stretch forth thy right hand upon the furiousness of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Healey Willan

Communio. Thou hast charged that we shall diligently keep thy commandments: O that my ways were made so direct, that I might keep thy statutes.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Healey Willan

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in F minor - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Tone VIII-1

Psalm 107
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Tones II and III, polyphony by Healey Willan

Hymn 293 For Thy dear Saints, O Lord
Henry J. Gauntlett, 1848

Anthem - - - Josef Haydn

Distracted with care and anguish,
When hearts despairing languish,
Madly they seek for comfort
Where it doth ne'er abide.

For us no rest remaineth,
If earth our love retaineth,
And heaven we cast aside.
Relief he only gaineth,
And peace at last attaineth,
Whom God vouchsafes to guide.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven

R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Salve Regina - - - Peter Cornet

All Saints' Day

November 1, 1935

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 299, 302

The Ordinary of the Mass - - - Willan in D

All Souls' Day

November 2, 1935

SOLEMN HIGH MASS OF REQUIEM AT 9.30 A. M.

Missa pro defunctis

Sequence, Hymn 65

Plainchant

Modes I and II

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday is the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude. There will be a third Mass at 9.30

There will be a High Mass at 9.30 on All Saints' Day, Friday, November 1st.

The First Vespers of the Dead will be said on Friday night, November 1st, directly after Evensong. On Saturday, November 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., and a Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M., and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M. Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.

Names of Departed Members to be remembered at the Altar on All Souls' Day should be sent in not later than Wednesday, October 30th.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls will be held in the Parish Building, on Saturday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

The attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary is called to the Intercession schedule posted in the porch. Volunteers for the ~~weekly~~ Thursday Intercessions are asked to sign their names in the time space, indicating the half hour for which responsibility for Intercessions will be pledged. Copies of the Auxiliary Intercessions will be found on the table by the door.

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held in the Church House on Thursday, November 7th, at 11 A. M. Contributions should be sent, before that date, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

Within the Octave of All Saints

November 3, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 295 For All the Saints

R. Vaughan-Williams

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy-day in honour of all the Saints: in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Mass in D)

Sir George Henschel

Gradual. O fear the Lord, all ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Alleluia. The Saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever. Alleluia.

Sequence

Mode I

Spouse of Christ, in arms contending
O'er each clime beneath the sun,
Blend with prayers for help ascending,
Notes of praise for triumphs won.

As the Church today rejoices
All her Saints to join on high,
So from earth let all our voices
Rise in solemn harmony.

In your heavenly habitations,
In your blessed home on high,
Hear, ye Saints, our aspirations,
As to God we lift our cry.

Ever praising, ever praying,
Help ye thus your brethren here,
That the will of God obeying
We in peace may persevere.

So may we, with hearts devoted,
Serve our God in holiness;
So may we, by God promoted,
Share that heaven which ye possess.

Credo

Henschel

Offertory. O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel, he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God, alleluia.

Motet

Percy W. Whitlock

Glorious in heaven are the souls of all Saints, who walked in the way of Christ the Lord Jesus: They loved him, and followed his footsteps: and as they died for the Saviour, losing life for his sake, they reign with him for ever. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Henschel

Communio. The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God: and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: but they are in peace.

Gloria in Excelsis

Henschel

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Improvisation on a Gregorian Theme: 'Gaudeamus' Everett Titcomb

Solemn Evensong

Tone III-1

Psalm 84

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in C

Hymn 299

Let saints on earth in concert sing

Day's Psalter, 1562

Anthem (from 'The Dream of Gerontius')

Sir Edward Elgar

Softly and gently, dearly-ransomed soul, in my most loving arms I now enfold thee, and o'er the penal waters, as they roll, I poise thee, and I lower thee, and hold thee. And carefully I dip thee in the lake, and thou, without a sob or a resistance, dost through the flood thy rapid passage take, sinking deep, deeper, into the dim distance.

Come back, O Lord! how long: and be entreated for thy servants.

Angels, to whom the willing task is given, shall tend, and nurse, and lull thee, as thou liest: and Masses on the earth and Prayers in heaven, shall aid thee at the Throne of the Most Highest.

Praise to the Holiest in the height, and in the depth be praise!

Farewell, but not for ever! brother dear, be brave and patient on thy bed of sorrow; swiftly shall pass thy night of trial here, and I will come and wake thee on the morrow.

Bring us not, Lord, very low: for thou hast said, Come back again, ye sons of Adam.

To us his elder race he gave to battle and to win, without the chastisement of pain, without the soil of sin.

Praise to the Holiest in the height. Amen.

Solo—Charles Conway

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—Ricercare

Palestrina

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, November 3rd, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, November 7th, at 3 P. M. The Rector will make the address.

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held in the Church House on Thursday, November 7th, at 11 A. M. Contributions should be sent, before that date, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Worshippers in the Lady Chapel are cautioned and advised not to leave their personal belongings in the church while they are in the Chapel.

The attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary is called to the Intercession schedule posted in the porch. Volunteers for the Intercession periods on the third Thursday of the month are asked to sign their names in the time space, indicating the quarter hour for which responsibility for Intercessions will be pledged. Copies of the Auxiliary Intercessions will be found on the table by the door.

The Minton Pyne Singers meet on Monday evenings at eight o'clock in the Choir Room. Young men of the congregation are invited to see the Choirmaster if they desire to become members.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 6

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity

November 10, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 446 O God of Bethel

Scottish Psalter, 1615

Introit. O Lord Almighty, everything is in subjection unto thee; and there is no man that is able to resist thy power: for thou hast created everything; heaven and earth, and all the wonders which under heaven's vault are contained; thou art the Lord and King of all things.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Cavaliere, c. 1600

Gradual. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Hymn 128 Christian, seek not yet repose W. H. Monk, 1868

Credo

Cavaliere

Offertory. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job: perfect and upright, and one that feared God. And Satan sought to tempt him: and power was given him by the Lord over his possessions, and over his flesh. And he destroyed all his substance and his sons: and he smote his flesh with sore boils.

Hymn

N. Herman, 1560, arranged by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the throne, a glorious band,	They see their Saviour face to face,
The Saints in countless myriads stand,	And sing the triumphs of his grace:
Of ev'ry tongue redeemed of God,	Him day and night they ceaseless
Arrayed in garments washed in blood,	praise,
Hallelujah	To Him the loud thanksgiving raise:
	Hallelujah!

Through tribulation great they came:	Worthy the Lamb, for sinners slain,
They bore the Cross, despised the shame;	Through endless years to live and
From all their labours now they rest,	reign:
In God's eternal glory blest,	Thou hast redeemed us by thy Blood,
Hallelujah!	And made us Kings and Prieststo God,
	Hallelujah!

O may we tread the sacred road
That Saints and holy Martyrs trod:
Wage to the end the glorious strife,
And win like them, a crown of life,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Cavaliere

Communion. My soul hath longed for thy salvation; and I have a good hope in thy word: when wilt thou be avenged of them that persecute me? They persecute me falsely: O be thou my help, O Lord my God.

Cavaliere

Gloria in Excelsis

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasie in C major

Cesar Franck

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 133, 134, 135

Tones VIII-3, VIII-1, VII-2

Hymn 23 The Day is Past and Over Arthur H. Brown, 1862

Anthem

T. Tertius Noble

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God,
Nor hurt, nor torment cometh them anigh,
O holy hope of immortality,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Soul of the righteous in the hand of God,
To eyes of men unwise they seemed to die.
They are at peace, O fairest liberty,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

On earth as children chastened by love's rod,
As gold in furnace tried, so now on high
They shine like stars, a golden galaxy,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Requiem Aeternam

Basil Harwood

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a meeting of St. Mark's Altar Society in the parish parlor on Thursday morning, November 14th after the 9.30 Mass.

At the Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering, held at the Church House, on Thursday, November 7th, St. Mark's contributed $195.41; St. Mary's Chapel, $32.00, and St. Michael's Chapel, Yeadon, $13.60. An increase in the number of contributors from this Parish is urgently needed.

In accordance with our custom, the "Fair" will be held on Thursday, November 21st, from 2 to 6 P. M., for the ~~Foreign~~ Mission Committees of the Woman's Auxiliary. Donations of flowers, cake and candies, books and useful articles for Christmas gifts, also toys and articles of interest to children, may be sent to the Parish Building marked "For the Fair." We hope you will come and bring your friends.

Worshippers in the Lady Chapel are cautioned and advised not to leave their personal belongings in the church while they are in the Chapel.

The attention of members of the Woman's Auxiliary is called to the Intercession schedule posted in the porch. Volunteers for the Intercession periods on the third Thursday of the month are asked to sign their names in the time space, indicating the quarter hour for which responsibility for Intercessions will be pledged. Copies of the Auxiliary Intercessions will be found on the table by the door.

The Minton Pyne Singers meet on Monday evenings at eight o'clock in the Choir Room. Young men of the congregation are invited to see the Choirmaster if they desire to become members.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

No. 7

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

November 17, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 356 Fairest Lord Jesus Silesian Folksong

Introit. If thou, O Lord, wilt be extreme to mark iniquities, Lord, who may abide it: for unto thee belongeth mercy, O God of Israel.

Ps. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Schubert in C

Gradual. Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is: brethren, to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head: that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard.

Alleluia. He healeth those that are broken in heart: and bindeth up their wounds. Alleluia.

Hymn 235 O Love that casts out fear Henry Smart, 1881

Credo - - - Schubert in C

Offertory. Remember me, O Lord, King of all power, and put a well-ordered speech in my mouth, that my words may be pleasing in thy sight.

Hymn 339 Let all mortal flesh keep silence French Folksong

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in C

Communio. I say unto you, there is joy among the Angels of God: over one sinner that repenteth.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Schubert in C

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord: who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in B minor - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 136

Tone III-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Tonus Peregrinus, with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 20 Sun of my soul - Vienna, c. 1774

Anthem (from the Sixth Chandos Anthem) - Handel

Solo: That God is great, we often have by glad experience found, and seen how He, with wondrous power, above all gods is crowned.

Chorus: Ye boundless realms of joy, exalt your Maker's fame. His praise your song employ above the starry frame.

Chorus: Your voices raise, ye Cherubim and Seraphim, to sing His Praise, Alleluja.

Solo—C. F. Kauffeld, Bass.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—'Jesu, Hilf siegen' - - Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The 'Fair' for the five Missionary Committees of the Woman's Auxiliary, will be held on Thursday, November 21st, from two to six P. M. Donations of flowers, cakes and candies, books and useful articles for Christmas gifts; also toys and articles of interest to children, may be sent to the Parish Building marked "for the Fair." We hope you will come and bring your friends.

On Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 28th, all Offerings will be for the Episcopal Hospital.

Worshippers in the Lady Chapel are cautioned and advised not to leave their personal belongings in the church while they are in the Chapel.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent

November 24, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 422 Now thank we all our God Johann Cruger, 1647

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sancti Joannis de Evangelistae)
Everett Titcomb

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and puttest them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flower of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 247 Lead us, heavenly Father, lead us Dulce Carmen, 1782

Credo IV - - - - - Mode I

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Anthem - - - - - Johannes Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O Lord of Hosts! For my soul longeth, yea, fainteth, for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God. O blest are they that dwell within thy house; they praise thy Name evermore!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Everett Titcomb

Communion. Verily I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray: believe that ye receive them, and it shall be done unto you.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - - - Everett Titcomb

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord; who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Piece Heroique - - - - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 148, 149, 150 - Tones VII-2, VI, Peregrinus

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Tonus Peregrinus, with faux bourdons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 445 O God, our help in ages past William Croft, 1708

Anthem (Evening Cantata) - Percy W. Whitlock

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Round me falls the night;
Saviour, be my light:
Through the hours in darkness shrouded
Let me see thy face unclouded;
Let thy glory shine
In this heart of mine. | 2. Earthly work is done,
Earthly sounds are none;
Rest in sleep and silence seeking,
Let me hear thee softly speaking;
In my spirit's ear,
Whisper, I am near. |
| 3. In thine arms I rest me,
Foes who would molest me
Cannot reach me here.
O may my soul on thee repose
And may sweet sleep
My eyelids close. | 4. Blessed, heavenly Light,
Shining through earth's night;
Voice, that oft of love hast told me;
Arms, so strong to clasp and hold me;
Thou thy watch wilt keep,
Saviour, o'er my sleep. |

I will lay me down in peace, and take my rest;
For it is thou, Lord, only, that makest me dwell in safety. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—'Schmucke dich' - - - - - Brahms

Thanksgiving Day

November 28, 1935

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 422, 421

The Ordinary of the Mass Missa Dominicalis, Plainchant

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a Solemn High Mass at 9.30.

ALL OFFERINGS ON THANKSGIVING DAY WILL BE FOR THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.

I quote a paragraph from the letter sent out by Bishop Taft:—

“In the Episcopal Hospital we find multitudes afflicted with diverse diseases and deprived of the opportunity of supporting wives and families. It is one of the largest hospitals in the world and receives no help either from the State or Welfare Fund. We appeal to you, on this day, to think of these suffering brethren and to show your gratitude for your mercies by a substantial gift for their relief and restoration to health.”

The ladies in charge of the Fair, held on Thursday afternoon, wish to thank all the members of the congregation for their interest and generous support in making the undertaking a success. The amount realized for the five Missionary Committees is over $200.00

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates of St. Margaret's Community, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, December 4th. Conductor: The Rev. Alfred M. Smith. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Worshippers in the Lady Chapel are cautioned and advised not to leave their personal belongings in the church while they are in the Chapel.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent

December 1, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days.

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 66

O come, O come, Emmanuel

French Plainsong, Mode I

Introit. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph me: for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Ps. Shew me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Deus genitor alme)

Mode IV

Gradual. For all they that look for thee: shall not be ashamed, O Lord. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

Alleluia. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding Wm. H. Monk, 1850

Credo I

Mode IV

Offertory. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Motet

Healey Willan

Lo, in the time appointed the Lord will come; the mountains and the hills shall break forth into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands: for the Lord God shall come into his everlasting kingdom: and upon the throne of David shall he reign for ever. Alleluia.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Modes V and VIII

Communio. The Lord shall shew loving kindness: and our land shall give her increase.

Tantum ergo

Anton Bruckner, 1869

Therefore we, before Him bending,	Glory let us give and blessing
This great Sacrament revere;	To the Father and the Son,
Types and shadows have their ending.	Honour, thanks and praise addressing,
For the newer rite is here;	While eternal ages run;
Faith, our outward sense befriending,	Ever too his love confessing
Makes our inward vision clear.	Who from Both with Both is One.

Amen.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata

Claudio Merulo, 1533-1604

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 96, 97

Tones VIII-1, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones IV and III with faux bourdons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn 56

Thy kingdom come

Day's Psalter, 1562

Motet

Heinrich Albert, 1642

Lo, he comes! let all adore him:
'Tis the God of grace and truth.
Go, prepare thy way before him,
Make the rugged places smooth:
Lo, he comes! the mighty Lord:
Great his work and his reward.

Let the valleys all be raised,
Go and make the crooked straight:
Let the mountains be abased,
Let all nature change its state:
Through the desert mark a road,
Make a highway for our God.

From the hills and lofty mountains
Rivers shall be seen to flow:
There the Lord will open fountains,
Hence supply the plains below:
As he passes, every land
Shall confess his powerful hand. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—'Herr Christ, der ein'ge Gottes-Sohn'

J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1935.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Corporate Communion of St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, December 1st, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, December 5th, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Mrs. Baker, who will talk on Alaska.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates of St. Margaret's Community, at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, December 4th. Conductor: The Rev. Alfred M. Smith. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Christian Year begins today. The Church once more begins "to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us" - "That thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed." The Church appoints a series of commemorations, by means of which the teaching of the Christian Religion is set forth in prescribed order, in proper sequence, as contained in Holy Scripture, summarized in the Creed, symbolized in the Liturgy.

The gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is proclaimed from the beginning. There is no end. "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."

In order that we may get to the meaning of this Gospel, the Church gives us a season of preparation. The season is called Advent. Advent means "coming," the coming of Our Lord Jesus Christ. The preparation is a penitential one. "Repent ye: for the Kingdom of heaven is at hand." Repentance, as we all know, means much more than remorse. Repentance means a change of mind from one point of view to another; from our own point of view to God's point of view. It means seeing sin as God sees it. It means seeing sinners as God sees them, seeing ourselves as God sees us. Unless we do "truly and earnestly repent us" of our sins, we cannot have the inducement nor the capability for getting at the meaning of the Gospel. It can have no attraction. It can have no interest for us. We may possibly fancy some of the externals. But we cannot get to the root of the matter.

If we were left by ourselves to get to God, we should be left groping in darkness. The Gospel means that God came to us.

If we began to dread the darkness, the Gospel means that God gave us the dread to open our eyes to the light.

If we began to be sorry for our sins, the Gospel means that God made us sorry.

If we began to desire to be forgiven, the Gospel means that God came to forgive us.

If we began to long to be different, the Gospel means that God came to make us different.

Every one who has lived ever so little beneath the surface of life knows what all this groping and dreading and sorrowing and desiring and longing means. Not very many of us have escaped it. Very, very few succeed in avoiding it. The only question we all have to answer, and we have to answer it alone by ourselves, is "what is to become of us?" Either we are to be destroyed or saved. The Gospel answers "saved." There is all the difference between life and death in that answer.

The Gospel is concerned with much more than casting away the works of darkness. There follows the adventure of the armour of light and the rising to the life immortal. The night has become far spent. The day is at hand. In the dawn of that wonderful morning a new person looks out upon a new and shining road that leads straight on and up to the very gates of heaven. The day that is at hand is the day that has no end. He travels that road; goes from strength to strength and is renewed and transformed as he goes. He is coming "in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." He is becoming what God meant him to be when He created him and redeemed him.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 10

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent

December 7, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 57 Lo, He comes with clouds descending
Cantus Diversi, 1751

Introit. O people of Sion, behold, the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations: and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard.

Ps. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Kyrie Eleison . . . Claudio Casciolini

Gradual Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beauty. Gather my saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice.

Alleluia. For the powers of heaven shall be shaken: and they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Alleluia.

Hymn 59 Lord, thy Word abideth Ave Hierarchia, 1567

Credo I . . . Mode IV

Offertory. Wilt not thou turn again, O God, and quicken us; that the people may rejoice in thee: shew us thy mercy, O Lord; and grant us thy salvation.

Hymn 58 O Word of God Incarnate Meiningen, 1693

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei . . . Casciolini

Communio. Jerusalem, haste thee, and stand on high: and behold the joy and gladness that cometh unto thee from God thy Saviour.

Motet (Ave Verum) . . . Edward Elgar

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us, by the blood and water
Streaming from thy pierced Side;
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now, and in death's agony.

O Jesu, hear us, Son of Mary!

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in B minor . . . Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 25, 26

Tones I-10, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and III with faux bourdons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn 66 O come, O come, Emmanuel
French Plainsong, Mode I

Anthem (from the Requiem) . . . Mozart

Day of vengeance, day of burning,
Seer's and Sybil's word confirming,
Heaven and earth to ashes burning.

When the Judge supreme is seated,
All's disclosed that's now secreted,
Every wrong's redress completed.

Oh, how great the tribulation
When the Judge shall take his station,
Judging strictly man's probation.

Trembling at his indignation,
Where shall I make supplication!
Scarce the righteous find salvation.

Hark! the angel trumpet sounding,
Through sepulchral realms rebounding,
See the dead the throne surrounding.

King tremendous, Judge all-seeing,
Yet by mercy sinners freeing,
Save me, great and holy being.

Death and nature view affrighted,
Dust and spirit reunited,
Man arisen to judgment cited.

Day of mourning, day of weeping,
When from ashes rise the sleeping,
Guilty man to hear his sentence.

Then is shown the book containing
Written deeds the world arraigning,
Open guilt, and guilty feigning.

God of mercy, spare, repentance,
Holy Jesu, hear, oh, hear our prayer,
Let the wicked cease from troubling,
And the weary be at rest. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 . . . Mecklin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Gottes Sohn ist kommen . . . Bach

Charles Conway, Treble
Alfred Gonzalez, Tenor

Winfield Vickery, Alto
Charles F. Kauffeld, Bass

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1935.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The last Missionary Offering for this year will be received next Sunday, the Third Sunday in Advent, December 15th. All Offerings on that day are for Missions.

We are again planning the usual Christmas cheer and entertainment for the people at St. Mary's and St. Michael's, as well as for the Choir and Acolytes here. May we ask all those who wish to have a part in this endeavor to kindly send in their contributions to the Christmas Fund as early as convenient.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The reward for devout use of the Holy Scriptures is unfailing. The use must be devout, that is, the Scriptures must be read devotionally. The Bible is a treasury of sublime literature. The reward for reading it as literature is literary pleasure. The reward for reading it as the holy word of God is the knowledge of God. In the knowledge of God will be found the patience, comfort and hope that God alone can give. It is not possible to be always patient if one senses time only. It is possible to be patient the moment one begins to sense eternity, not as something which is to be, but as something which is.

It is impossible to find comfort under the pressure of the changes and chances of time. It is possible to find comfort when one senses the moment as a passing moment, as a drop of water in the limitless ocean of eternity. It is impossible to be hopeful if one sees nothing beyond the temporal. It is possible to be hopeful if one embraces and holds fast to the things which are not seen and are eternal. It gives one a new and a true sense of proportion, when one hears, reads, marks, learns, and inwardly digests the lesson that a thousand years in God's sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

The person who has learned how to read the Bible has learned how to wait. This is the patience of the saints. This must be the patience of those who would prove fit to govern the temporal affairs of the world. Impatience is the seed-plot of disaster, both spiritual and temporal.

All this is rooted in the revelation that God is Love. Divine Love is infinite. Holy Scripture instructs us in the love of God. The supreme truth about Divine Love is that God so loved the world, that He gave His Only Begotten Son, to the end that all that believe in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. The Holy Scriptures convey the invitation of the Incarnate Son to a tired world. "Come unto me, all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you."

Now the simple fact about the non-acceptance of this message of Holy Scripture is that a person is left with nothing more than a frantic search for some other philosophy of life. So far no other philosophy has been found to be satisfying. Though philosophers have been diligent, their philosophies have proved at best to have been serviceable only if they have produced an incurable restlessness to press on to a better hope; at worst they have ended in bleak agnosticism or devastating despair. The acceptance of the message of Holy Scripture has, without exception, resulted in the attainment of the peace of God which passeth understanding and keeps the heart and mind in the knowledge of God and of His Son Jesus Christ.

Just what is meant by a devout use of Holy Scripture? First there must be the desire to learn, through the word of God, what the way of God is for us. Second, there must be faithful use of all the means of grace known to us, in order that we may be able to follow that way. Third, there must be faithful practise of prayer, in order that we be able to exercise right dispositions to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest the content of the Scripture. Fourth, there must be a simple rule of reading at least a few verses of Holy Scripture every day.

If we are faithful in these four practices we shall find that the Church provides all the means for their fulfilment in the course of the liturgical year.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent

December 15, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 317 The Lord my pasture shall prepare Henry Carey, 1723

Introit. Rejoice ye in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice ye; let your moderation be known unto all men, the Lord is at hand: be careful for nothing, nor troubled; but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

Ps. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding: shall keep your hearts and minds. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Kyrie Altissime, Mode V

Gradual. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubim: stir up thy strength and come. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia. Stir up thy strength, O Lord: and come and help us. Alleluia.

Hymn 456 Ye servants of the Lord Henry J. Gauntlett, 1848

Credo I - - - Mode IV

Offertory. O Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land; thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob: thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people.

Hymn 61 Rejoice, rejoice, believers! Henry Smart, 1836

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - J. Guy Ropartz

Communio - - - Everett Titcomb

Say to them that are of a fearful heart: be strong, fear not; behold, your God will come and save you.

Motet (English Hymnal, 323) Munster Gesangbuch, 1677

O, most merciful!

O, most bountiful!

God the Father Almighty!

By the Redeemer's sweet intercession

Hear us, help us when we cry. Amen.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Sur un theme Breton - - - J. Guy Ropartz

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 93, 94 - - - Tones V-3, IV-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Tones II and VIII with faux bourdons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 55 Come, thou long-expected Jesus Gotha, 1715

Anthem (from the Light of Life - - - Edward Elgar

Doubt not thy Father's care!
For every grief he finds relief,
And answers every prayer
Night comes: the sun is lost;
Night comes: He doth provide
In the heavens wide
The gleam of a starry host.

Night comes: the soul is dark;
All joy is dead, all gladness fled
And life has missed its mark.
Then Thou, the wounded soul,
In that sad hour, with healing power
Dost touch, and makest whole.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Nun komm' der Heiden Heiland - - - Back

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Friday is St. Thomas' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercession.

May we ask that all who are able to help us in our Christmas plans for the people of St. Mary's and St. Michael's, as well as the Choir and Acolytes here, send in their contributions as early as convenient? This will enable us to proceed accordingly with our plans.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1935.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days, days of prayer "for those who are to be admitted into Holy Orders." The Ember Days occur "at the Four Seasons, being the Wednesday, Friday and Saturday after the First Sunday in Lent; the Feast of Pentecost; September 14 and December 13th." The Prayer Book provides a Collect, Epistle and Gospel for the Ember Days and two prayers, one or the other to be used at the Choir Offices of Daily Morning and Evening Prayer.

The Ember Days are included in the Prayer Book Table of Fasts, "on which the Church requires such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion." Abstinence from flesh meat fulfils this regulation.

The Collect for today is a prayer for the ministers and stewards of the mysteries, and is directly addressed to Our Lord Jesus Christ who liveth and reigneth with the Father, and the Holy Spirit ever, one God, world without end." The Ember Collect is also used.

The Epistle is from Saint Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians and sets forth the Apostle's teaching that the ministers, that is servants, of Christ are the "stewards of the mysteries of God." "It is required in stewards," writes Saint Paul, "that a man be found faithful."

The Preface to the Ordinal states, "It is evident unto all men, diligently reading Holy Scriptures and ancient Authors, that from the Apostle's time there have been these Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church,—Bishops, Priests and Deacons."

"Receive the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Bishop in the Church of God." These are the words of the Bishops as they lay their hands upon the head of the Elected Bishop.

"Receive the Holy Ghost for the Office and work of a Priest in the Church of God." These are the words of the Bishop when he lays Hands upon the Head of every one that receiveth the Priesthood.

The Bishops have continued as the stewards of the mysteries which they have received through unbroken succession from the Apostles, upon whom the Lord Jesus breathed, and said unto them, "Receive ye the Holy Ghost: Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained."

The mysteries of Grace and Truths are God's mysteries. The Bishops and Priests are God's stewards. They administer what God only can give. There is no function so utterly impersonal as that exercised by a Bishop or Priest in the Church of God. Because this function is so utterly impersonal, I can risk being personal, when I write to you the record of just this one day, an ordinary day shared by brother priests all over the world.

Early this morning I offered the Holy Sacrifice to the Divine Majesty, humbly beseeching Him that we, and all the whole Church, might obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of His Passion.

At the Altar-rail, and in two hospitals, I gave Holy Communion to waiting Christians. "The Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life." In the afternoon, in a third hospital, and after that in a sick room, I gave to two waiting Christians the Absolution that Our Lord Jesus Christ has left power in His Church to pronounce. "By His authority committed to me, I absolve thee from all thy sins, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

Tonight at Evensong I knew that my people had been visited by the Lord and Giver of the mysteries of love and grace. And I thanked Him, that I, who am not worthy so much as to gather up the crumbs under His table, had been allowed to serve Him as His steward.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent

December 22, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (Songs of Syon, 350)

Heinrich Albert, 1642

Lo, he comes! let all adore him:
'Tis the God of grace and truth.
Go, prepare thy way before him,
Make the rugged places smooth:
Lo, he comes! the mighty Lord:
Great his work and his reward.

Let the valleys all be raised,
Go and make the crooked straight:
Let the mountains be abased,
Let all nature change its state:
Through the desert mark a road,
Make a highway for our God.

From the hills and lofty mountains
Rivers shall be seen to flow:
There the Lord will open fountains,
Hence supply the plains below:
As he passes, every land
Shall confess his powerful hand. Amen.

Introit. Remember us, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit us with thy salvation: that we, beholding the felicity of thy chosen, may rejoice in the gladness of thy people; and may glory with thine inheritance.

Ps. We have sinned with our fathers: we have done amiss and dealt wickedly. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevis in E flat)

Healey Willan

Gradual. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him: yea, all such as call upon him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name.

Alleluia. Come, O Lord, and tarry not: forgive the misdeeds of thy people. Alleluia.

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding Wm. H. Monk, 1850

Credo I Mode IV

Offertory. Be strong, fear not; behold, our God will come with a recompense: he will come, and save us.

Anthem Henry Purcell, 1658-1695

Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say, rejoice. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

Be careful for nothing; but in everything, by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Healey Willan

Communio. Behold, a Virgin shall conceive, and bear a Son: and his Name shall be called Emmanuel.

Palestrina, 1525-1594

Motet

Very Bread, good Shepherd, tend us, Thou who all things canst and knowest,
Jesus, of thy love befriend us. Who on earth such food bestowest.
Thou refresh us, thou defend us, Grant us, with thy Saints, though lowest,
Thine eternal goodness send us Where the heavenly Feast thou showest,
In the land of life to see. Fellow-heirs and guests to be. Amen.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Wir glauben all' an einen Gott

Pachelbel

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 103

Tone V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tone II and VIII with faux bourdons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 70 The King shall come when morning dawns

William Jones, 1789

Motet

Healey Willan

Lo, in the time appointed the Lord will come; the mountains and the hills shall break forth into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands: for the Lord God shall come into his everlasting kingdom: and upon the throne of David shall he reign for ever. Alleluia.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven

R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Jesus, meine Zuversicht

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE HOURS FOR CONFESSION ON CHRISTMAS EVE
ARE 4 TO 5 AND 8 TO 9 P. M. ALSO BY APPOINT-MENT.

The Services on Christmas Day will be as follows:

7, 8 and 9 A. M.—Masses for Communion
11 A. M.—Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon
5 P. M. — Said Evensong

There will be the usual Mass at 9.30 A. M. on the following days:

Thursday—St. Stephen's Day
Friday—St. John the Evangelist's Day
Saturday—Holy Innocents' Day

If you have not turned in your 1936 Subscription Blank, will you please do so as soon as conveniently possible. If you have not received a subscription blank, you can obtain one at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Our Christmas Fund is still open for those who wish to send in contributions to help in our Christmas plans.

A pair of Spectacles was found in the Church and can be obtained by applying to the Sexton or at the office.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1935.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Collect for the day directs and expresses our aspirations in preparation for the Festival of the Nativity of Our Lord. It begins with supplication, "O Lord, raise up we pray thee thy power and come among us, and with great might succour us." It continues with penitence, "whereas, through our sins and wickedness, we are sore let and hindered in running the race that is set before us." It ends with hope, "thy bountiful grace may speedily help and deliver us." Through supplication, penitence and hope we approach the day upon which the Saviour was born.

The state of penitence is the state of self-knowledge. God in His mercy leads us gradually into this self-knowledge. The ascending degrees of penitence are measured for us. God never gives us more than we can bear. We begin with a very imperfect attrition in which the motive is self-regard, and the ruling passion is fear. It is imperfect, but it serves a purpose if it leads to the discovery that sin is a missing of the mark; that it is a mistake; so very far is it from being a natural form of self-expression that it lets and hinders us from the running of the race that is set before us; that we miss the goal of the expression of our best selves. Yet, if self-expression at our best is the final goal, we are still in a state of imperfect penitence, because we are still in a state of self love. Self love is always haunted by fear. But at least we may be on the way.

God leads us on this way into deeper knowledge, through failures which shatter self-confidence. It is strange that we should need such a schooling. But we do. We are not naturally inclined to take our temptations seriously until we have learned better. We are apt to be quite confident that we can overcome them—when we want to. But when? Why anytime. It is only a matter of self control. But is it? Are we sure that it is nothing more than that? Later on we find out. Temptations become persistent and tyrannous, and at last devastating. At last we discover that "we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

In that terrifying moment we are ready to cry, "O Lord, raise up, we pray thee, thy power, and come among us, and with great might succour us." There is no human deliverer. There is no natural deliverance. The Saviour for whom we must look must be none other than the only-begotten Son of God: Begotten of his Father before all worlds. For us men and for our salvation, He must come down from heaven. This is the Divine Saviour.

In this spirit of supplication, penitence and hope we adore the Incarnate God on Christmas Day. "Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ. Thou art the everlasting Son of the Father."

Without presumption we may repeat the words of the Blessed Mother, "My spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour." This is the joy of Christmas.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Christmas

December 29, 1935

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 78 O Little Town of Bethlehem! Lewis H. Redner, 1868

Introit. Whenas all the world was in profoundest quietness, and night was in the midst of her swift course: thine Almighty Word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne.

Ps. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel and girded himself with strength. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Mass in D) Dvorak

Gradual. Thou art fairer than the children of men: full of grace are thy lips. My heart is inditing of a good matter; I speak of the things which I have made unto the King.

Alleluia. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength, Alleluia.

Hymn 73 Hark! the Herald Angels Sing Mendelssohn, 1840

Credo Dvorak

Offertory. God hath made the round world so sure that it cannot be moved: ever since the world began hath thy seat, O God, been prepared; thou art from everlasting.

Hymn 74 Of the Father's Love Begotten Plainsong, Mode V

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Dvorak

Communion. Take the young Child and his Mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young Child's life.

Gloria in Excelsis Dvorak

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata and Fugue in D minor Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 91

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Hymn 551 The First Nowell

VIII-1

John E. West in G

Traditional Melody, pub. 1833, arranged by Healey Willan

Carols:

While Shepherds watched Dutch: arranged by Jungst

O Little One Sweet German: Samuel Scheidt, 1650

Sleep, Little Dove of Mine Alsatian: arranged by Manney

A Rose breaks into bloom (Organ) Johannes Brahms

Angels from the Realms of Glory French: arranged by Martin Shaw

Christmas Eve Southern: arranged by Lefebvre

God is With Us Russian: Kastalsky

The Coventry Carol English: arranged by K. K. Davis

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Processional Hymn 72 O Come, all ye Faithful Adeste Fideles, 1751

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber, 1818

Organ—Prelude on 'Puer Nobis' Healey Willan

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 1st, IS THE FEAST OF THE CIRCUMCISION. THERE WILL BE A THIRD MASS
AT 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, December 29th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, January 2nd, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Mrs. Frank Bonyngé on Bishop
Carson's work in Haiti.

If you have not turned in your 1936 Subscription Blank, will you please do so as soon as conveniently possible. If you have not received a subscription blank, you can obtain one at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS DAY, 1935.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us." So Saint John begins his Gospel.

"I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God; Begotten of His Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of Very God, Begotten, not made: Being of one substance with the Father; By whom all things were made: Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, and was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man." And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man." So do we proclaim our belief.

The Bible confirms what the Church teaches, and we are witnesses of these things. Our witness is very much needed in the world this Christmas. Perhaps more than we realize. This Christmas of 1935 must be a Christmas of witness to the things which are most surely believed among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses. Each one of us has a direct, personal and inescapable responsibility to witness, before the world, that God so loved the world that He gave His Only-Begotten Son, Jesus Christ, to be born as at this time for us; who by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary his Mother.

The greatest service that we can render to the world, and the service which is nearest to the Divine Will, is to give our part in the sending out of a universal "I believe" which shall ring throughout the world, as did the Angels' Gloria on the night of the Holy Nativity.

The world is sick unto death. There is distress of nations, with perplexity; men's hearts are failing them for fear. So great is the darkness that men do not know where to look after those things which are coming on the earth. To whom can the world look but to Christians, who in the light and peace of the Church, hear, as they kneel before their Altars, the triumphant song of the Angels, "Glory be to God on high, and on earth peace, good-will toward men." Peace to men of good-will. Peace from men of good-will to a world that gasps for peace. The peace of God which passes understanding, because it keeps the hearts and minds of men in the knowledge and love of God, and of His Son Jesus Christ.

He was in the world, and the world knew Him not. It was so on the first Christmas Day. It has been so on every Christmas Day since. "To as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God." It was so on the first Christmas Day. It has been so ever since. What can you and I do about it? We can be among those who receive Him, meekly kneeling on our knees to receive the Sacrament of His Body and Blood, that He may dwell in us, and we in Him.

Every day we have been praying for peace for the nations of the world. Every time I have said the prayer for peace, I have been pierced with the thought that such a peace can only be possible when all the nations are Christians, not before. I have awakened to the sense of the solid fact that the only power on earth which can bring justice and good-will and peace to this world is the power of Christian Missions, everywhere, to the uttermost ends of the earth. Without this one force, leagues and courts and conferences will continue their ghastly careers of failure.

We are witnesses. Let us pray God that the Holy Church throughout the world may succeed in making this Christmas a world-arresting, world-compelling Festival of Witness.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Christmas

January 5, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 80 Angels from the Realms of Glory French Carol

Antroit. Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Mozart in B flat

Gradual And the glorious majesty of the Lord our God be upon us: prosper thou the work of our hands upon us; O prosper thou our handiwork. All the ends of the earth: have seen the salvation of our God.

Antiphona. This man was born in her: the Highest himself shall establish her.

Hymn 71 While Shepherds Watched Winchester Old, 1592

Crede Mozart in B flat

Tertory. Shew thy servants thy work, and their children thy glory: I will hearken what the Lord God will say concerning me, for he shall speak peace unto his people.

Hymn 79 It Came upon the Midnight Clear R. S. Willis, 1850

Intrus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Mozart in B flat

Communio. Take the young Child and his Mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young Child's life.

Gloria in Excelsis Mozart in B flat

Epiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

San—Finale (Symphony II) Widor

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 110, 111 Tones III-2, IV-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stanford in A

Hymn 553 Saw you never in the twilight Berthold Tours, 1881

Carols:

Good News from Heaven J. S. Bach

The Virgin by the Manger Cesar Franck

Rocking (Little Jesus, sweetly sleep) Czech

O Bethlehem Basque; arranged by Dickinson

A Child is Born William Self

Lo, star-led Chiefs William Crotch

Sleep, Holy Babe Clement R. Gale

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Processional Hymn 94 As with gladness men of old
Conrad Kocher, 1838

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber, 1818

Organ—Prelude on 'Winchester Old' James Hopkirk

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS DAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the past week we have commemorated the Feast of the Circumcision. "And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, His name was called Jesus." Concerning that Name, which is above every name, the angel of the Lord had spoken to Saint Joseph. "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins." It was to save us from our sins that Almighty God gave us His only-begotten Son to take our nature upon Him, and to be born of a pure virgin: It was to make us God's children by adoption and grace, that we might daily be renewed by the Holy Spirit, through the same Lord Jesus Christ, that the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us.

"O wisest love! That flesh and blood,
Which did in Adam fail,
Should strive afresh against the foe,
Should strive and should prevail
And that a higher gift than grace
Should flesh and blood refine;
God's Presence, and His very Self,
And essence all Divine."

Saint Paul wrote of this mystery as "the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints: To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory."

When you received your Christmas Communion you heard the Church pray that you "and all others who shall be partakers of this Holy Communion, may worthily receive the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son Jesus Christ, be filled with thy grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with Him, that He may dwell in us, and we in Him." You heard the Church pray "grant us therefore, gracious Lord, so to eat the flesh of thy dear Son Jesus Christ, and to drink His blood, that our sinful bodies may be made clean by His Body, and our souls washed through His most precious blood, and that we may evermore dwell in Him, and He in us."

You see? Jesus saving us from our sins, that He may dwell in us and be our Emmanuel, God with us. Not for the few moments of the actual reception of the Blessed Sacrament does this mystery last. It is for evermore. "That we may evermore dwell in Him, and he in us." It is the "evermore," in desire, intention, renewal, and perseverance that establishes, strengthens and settles us in the life that is in Christ Jesus, the life that is hid with Christ in God. This is what the Christian Religion means. It means being saved not only from the guilt of sin. It means infinitely more than that. It means being saved from the power of sin through Jesus Christ. It means the indwelling of Jesus Christ, as Emmanuel, God with us, in the soul. It means that Jesus Christ will evermore dwell in the soul. We do not receive Him at Bethlehem only to put Him back in the Manger; forget Him in Nazareth, join Him again at the Cross, meet Him in the Garden of the Resurrection, watch Him on the Mount of the Ascension, and then wait for another Christmas. That would mean rather an inconstant hope of glory. We are to follow Our Lord all the way from Bethlehem to Heaven.

We can never say that this ideal is beyond us. We can never say that such an ideal could only be possible for the spiritually privileged. To say so would be to contradict the records of the Gospels. Our Lord shared every human experience except sin. He declared that He came to call sinners to repentance. His enemies taunted Him as being the friend of sinners. He took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses. There is no feeling of infirmity, of any kind that could afflict us which does not instantly appeal to His compassion.

There are no hindrances within; there are no obstacles without that are irremovable or insurmountable if He dwells in us. We can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth us. This is the hope of glory that cannot be dimmed.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

MONDAY, JANUARY 6th, WILL BE THE FEAST OF
THE EPIPHANY. THERE WILL BE A THIRD MASS
AT 9.30.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Epiphany

January 12, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 94 As with gladness Conrad Kocher, 1838
99 Hail to the Lord's Anointed
W. H. Havergal, 1859

Introit. On a throne exalted I beheld, and lo, a man sitting, whom a legion of Angels worship, singing together: behold, his rule and governance endureth to all ages.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Mass in D) Sir George Henschel

Gradual. Blessed be the Lord, even the God of Israel: which only doeth wondrous things. The mountains also shall bring peace: and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness.

Hymn 93 Earth has many a noble city Gotha, 1715

redo Henschel

Gloss. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God.

ntem William Crotch

Lo! star-led chiefs Assyrian odours bring, and bending Magi seek their infant King! Marked ye, where, hovering o'er his radiant head, the dove's white wings celestial glory shed.

unctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Henschel

Communio. Son, why hast thou thus dealt with me? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing: And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

loria in Excelsis Henschel

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

gan—How bright appears the Morning Star Pachelbel

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 66, 67

Tones I-3, VIII-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Smart in B flat

Hymn 95 Brightest and best

J. P. Harding, 1862

Carols:

The Coventry Carol English: arranged by K. K. Davis

Christmas Song of the 14th Century arranged by Healey Willan

Cold December's wintry Blast Catalonian: arranged by Lefebvre

Lo, how a rose Michael Praetorius, 1609

Kings in Glory Martin Shaw

In the Bleak Midwinter Gustav Holst

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Processional Hymn 94 As with gladness men of old
Conrad Kocher, 1838

Carol, 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber, 1818

Solo—Sleep, Holy Babe Frances McCollin

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"The star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was." The star was there for all in the east to see. Many must have seen it. But only three observed it. Only three considered it. The very word 'consider' is derived from the Latin word for star. Only three were prepared to follow it, for any distance, and at all costs. Only three were eager to find the King. All three were ready to fall down and worship Him, if only they might find Him. Each had a treasure to lay at His feet.

The Festival of the Epiphany brings so many points for meditation. In this letter I shall select one. I shall be writing as to one person, as though that person were the only person.

My first thought I find in the words "in the East." It was the part of the world in which the Wise Men lived. It stands for the place where you live. It may be north, south, east or west. This does not matter. The thing that does matter is that it is the place which God has appointed or permitted for you. And because God has appointed or permitted you to be where you are, somewhere there, if you look for it, you will find your star. It is there for you to see. It is shining over the place where you are now.

The next point in this little meditation is in the words, "the Star which they saw in the East, went before them." One day there came into your life something that made you think of God, as you never had before. Something that made you realize His presence in a strangely compelling way. You found yourself looking up toward Him. You became conscious of Him. And you could not forget. You had a new light. It was not above the brightness of the noon-day sun, such as Saint Paul saw. It was only a star. But it was your star. And it called you on. It called you in strange ways. You could not explain it to yourself. It was something you did not want to talk about. Yet it always went before you. Your desire to follow it was at times fitful, yet it was deepening. It made all the difference in the world in your life. It gave you something to live for. I know what I am writing about, when I write that this happens to every kind of person in every kind of place, in the most unlikely environments. The star that goes before is God's gift to all who have eyes in their souls to see, and wills to follow.

The next point is in the words, "till it came and stood over where the young child was." The star is only the sign. The Young Child is the reality. He is the true Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, because He is God of God, Light of Light. Through circumstances and strange combinations of circumstances you grew into the knowledge of Him. You found Him at last. It demanded a long following of your star. It tested your loyalty, your devotion, your willingness for sacrifice. But when at last you saw the Young Child, you had something to offer to Him. Your loyalty had turned into gold; your devotion into frankincense; your sacrifice into myrrh.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Beginning tomorrow, January 13th, the Mission Study Class will be held at 11 A. M. on Monday of each week, instead of Tuesday.

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercession.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Pledge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

No. 16

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Epiphany

January 19, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 312 God of mercy, God of grace Henry Smart, 1866

Antiphon. All the earth shall worship thee, O God, and sing of thee: they shall sing praise to thy Name, O most Highest.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Gloria Eleison - Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. The Lord sent his word and healed them: and they were saved from their destruction. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, all ye angels of his: praise him, all his host. Alleluia.

Hymn 254 How wondrous and great thy works J. Michael Haydn

redo - Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God; and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn 98 How bright appears the Morning Star
Philip Nicolai, 1590

sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lovelock in A minor

Communio. There came a voice from heaven, saying: Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Gloria in Excelsis - Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in E minor - Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 45, 46 - Tones VIII-1, V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - West in G

Hymn 96 Songs of thankfulness and praise Jakob Hintze, 1678

Anthem - Sir John Goss

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice, even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: Behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; He will come and save you.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing:

For in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion, with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: They shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Larghetto in F - Handel

Jack Conway, Soprano
Winfield Vickery, Alto

Alfred H. Gonzalez, Tenor
Charles F. Kauffeld, Bass

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for the Second Sunday after Christmas brought us to Nazareth. The Gospel for the First Sunday after Epiphany tells us that "when He was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast." The Gospel for the Second Sunday after Epiphany tells us that "it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan."

First we have the years of hidden life in Nazareth. Then an appearance. Then more years of hidden life in Nazareth. The thirty years are hidden from us. Only one thing is told us, "He went down with them to Nazareth, and was subject unto them; but His mother kept all these sayings in her heart. And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

This is all we have to meditate upon. But it is enough. The obedient son: The understanding mother: The hidden life. When the time for the public life came, the hidden life was revealed. This is the important thing to think about. Because it explains the life that Christians are required to imitate. "Your life is hid with Christ in God," wrote Saint Paul, "when Christ who is our life shall appear, then shall ye also appear with Him in glory." The Christian life must first be hid with Christ in God. If the hidden life is sound, the public life will be effective. The hidden life is the source of unconscious influence. Unconscious influence never fails to register the good or the evil of the hidden life.

We shall be making good use of these weeks after Epiphany if we give our attention to the duty of cultivating the hidden life of our souls. So long as our motive is the better fulfilment of our duty to God and our neighbor, we may rest assured that we shall escape all danger of falling into self-centredness. "For their sakes I sanctify myself."

The example of Our Lord's life in Nazareth teaches us that we are to find our opportunities in the simple duties of that state of life unto which it has pleased God to call us. Our present environment is our Nazareth in which, by God's grace, we may increase in the wisdom and stature in the spiritual life which prepares for advance toward future duties unto which it shall please God to call us. We must not allow ourselves to yield to discontent. We must not allow ourselves to indulge in day dreams of what we might be under what would seem to us to be a more favorable environment. All this is enough to show that the really practical person is the person who gives first and constant attention to the development of the hidden life of the soul.

We cannot safely be left to our own devices to do this. There is a science of the spiritual life. There is an art of spiritual practise. Even when we realize this, if we are left to ourselves, we are apt to rush to mock heroics. The safest course is to trust ourselves to the wisdom of the Church. Faithful use of the Sacraments: A simple rule of daily prayer; of daily reading at least a few verses of the Bible; of dutiful observance of the devotions of the Christian Year as prescribed in the public services of the Church will provide us with everything that is necessary. Armed with the mind that was in Our Lord in Nazareth we may face the duties of life in quietness and confidence.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Saturday, January 25th, is the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul.
There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Edge cards for those who do not already subscribe toward the maintenance of the parish may be obtained at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Epiphany

January 26, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 356 Fairest Lord Jesus Silesian Folksong, 1842

troit. All ye Angels of God, fall down and worship before him: Syon heard, and was exceeding joyful, and the daughters of Judah were glad.

Ps. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Glory be.

Glorie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) Everett Titcomb

radual. The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. When the Lord shall build up Syon: and when his glory shall appear.

leluia. The Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the isles may be glad thereof. Alleluia.

Hymn 480 Jesus shall reign John Hatton, 1793

Crede IV - - Mode I

ertory. The right hand of the Lord hath the pre-eminence; the right hand of the Lord bringeth mighty things to pass; I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

Hymn 339 Let all mortal flesh keep silence French Folksong

nctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Everett Titcomb

mmunio. The Lord said unto them: Fill the water-pots with water, and bare unto the governor of the feast. When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, he saith unto the bridegroom: Thou hast kept the good wine until now. This beginning of miracles: did Jesus before his disciples.

oria in Excelsis - Everett Titcomb

tiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

In Memoriam

His Majesty King George II

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God,
Nor hurt, nor torment cometh them anigh,
O only hope of immortality,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God,
To eyes of men unwise they seemed to die.
They are at peace, O fairest liberty.
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

On earth as children chastened by love's rod,
As gold in furnace tried, so now on high
They shine like stars, a golden galaxy,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

T. Tertius Noble

Organ—Requiem Aeternam

Basil Harwood

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 27 - - Tone VII-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Orlando Gibbons in A flat

Hymn 101 Joy to the world! Thomas Haweis, 1792

Anthem - - Sir George Martin

Hail, gladdening Light, of his pure glory poured
Who is the Immortal Father, Heavenly, Blest,
Holiest of Holies, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Now we are come to the sun's hour of rest,
The lights of evening round us shine,
We hymn the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit Divine.

Worthiest art Thou at all times to be sung,
With undefiled tongue, Son of our God, Giver of life, Alone!
Therefore in all the world thy glories, Lord, they own.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

Organ—Danket dem Herrn Buxtehude

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth His glory, and His disciples believed on Him." The Greek word for "miracle" in this text means "a sign of secret power." A general definition of miracle is "an event for which no force or combination of forces known to man can account." Our Lord declared to His apostles that all power is given to Him in heaven and earth. All His miracles were signs of supernatural power. Our Lord's miracles were signs "not to believers but to unbelievers." For believers His word was sufficient. "If ye will not believe me," said Our Lord to the Jews, "believe the works." Belief in His word was a more perfect act of faith than belief in a work.

The signs were given to the shepherds at His birth. Signs were given throughout His public ministry. They were given at His death, and after His death at His resurrection and ascension. Unbelievers remained unconverted and grew bitter in unbelief, adding hatred to doubt. Conversions came through His word to the men of good will to whom He said, "I call you friends." Their discipleship grew out of personal trust in Him.

Satan demanded signs of power and was refused. The curiously-minded sought such signs and were rebuffed. The Jews demanded that He come down from the Cross, as an acceptable sign to them that He was truly the Son of God. They were all refused.

The miracles were for those who had faith. For them water was changed into wine, loaves were multiplied, diseases were cured, the dead were raised and sins were forgiven. All who in simple trust called upon Him were helped. But always there was imposed the test of trust. "Believest thou? If thou canst believe. Thy faith hath saved thee." This test of faith was even applied to the Blessed Mother, as we read in today's Gospel, "Woman, what have I to do with thee? Mine hour is not yet come." Mary trusted and knew how to wait. "Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it."

To the Mother whom all generations shall call blessed, to all alike, always, everywhere the test is the same, the test of personal trust in Our Lord and in His word. This trust is the foundation of unswerving discipleship. This personal trust is something far removed from and far above mere wonder at a miracle.

The lives of the disciples proved this. The Blessed Mother gave to them their example. She saw her Son crucified, dead, and buried. The disciples were ready to endure martyrdom from which they never prayed to be delivered. There was no happy escape for them. But there was a glorious friendship with Our Lord which triumphed over every persecution. Like Saint Stephen they saw their Master in the sky. In the end each saw the miracle. But it was a greater miracle than they had ever imagined or hoped for.

So long as ages of faith shall last, so long ages of miracles will last. We have only to look back over our own lives to prove this. We need not unveil the circumstances under which we gained our experiences in prayer. Broadly speaking our experiences have been alike. Our anxieties, sorrows, penitence brought us intimately to Our Lord. And now as we look back we see that over and over again, our lives have been governed, guided and changed by a secret power, for which no natural force or combination of forces known to man can account. Our lives have been filled with miracles.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 J. E. M. M.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

BISHOP'S JUBILEE.

There will be a reception and tea at the Church House on Monday,
February 3rd, from 3 to 6 P. M., for all members of the Diocese.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

No. 18

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Feast of the Purification

February 2, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal 208)

Bayeux Church Melody

All prophets hail thee, from of old announcing,
By the inbreathed Spirit of the Father,
God's Mother, bringing prophecies to fullness,
Mary the maiden.

Thou the true Virgin Mother of the Highest,
Bearing incarnate God in awed obedience,
Meekly acceptest for a sinless offspring
Purification.

In the high temple Simeon receives thee,
Takes to his bent arms with a holy rapture
That promised Saviour, vision of redemption,
Christ long awaited.

Now the fair realm of Paradise attaining,
And to thy Son's throne, Mother of the Eternal,
Raised all glorious, yet in earth's devotion
Join with us always. Amen.

Antiphon. We have waited, O God, for thy loving-kindness in the midst of thy temple: according to thy Name, O God, so is thy praise unto the world's end: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

Ps. Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Messe de Paques)

Gounod

Gradual. We have waited, O God, for thy loving-kindness in the midst of thy temple: according to thy Name, O God, so is thy praise unto the world's end. Like as we have heard, so have we seen in the city of our God: even upon his holy hill.

Alleluia. The old man carried the Child: but the Child governed the old man. Alleluia.

Hymn 277

Blest are the pure in heart

Havergal, 1840

Credo

Gounod

Offertory. Full of grace are thy lips: because God hath blessed thee for ever.

Hymn 273

In his temple now behold him

Meiningen, 1693

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Gounod

Communio. It was revealed unto Simeon by the Holy Spirit: that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Anointed.

Gloria in Excelsis

Gounod

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in F minor

Handel

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 84

Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Orlando Gibbons in A flat

Hymn 274

Hail to the Lord who comes

Est's Psalter, 1592

Motet (Ave Maris Stella)

Edward Elgar

Star of ocean fairest!
Mother, God who barest,
Virgin, thou immortal,
Heaven's blissful portal.

Mother's care displaying,
Offer him thy praying,
Who, when born our brother,
Chose thee for his mother.

Ave thou receivest,
Gabriel's word believest,
Change to peace and gladness,
Eva's name of sadness.

Virgin all-excelling,
Gentle, past our telling,
Pardoned sinners render
Gentle, chaste and tender.

Loose the bonds of terror,
Lighten blinded error,
All our ills repressing
Pray for every blessing!

In pure paths direct us,
On our way protect us,
Till on Jesus gazing
We shall join thy praising!

Father, Son, Eternal,
Holy Ghost supernal,
With one praise we bless thee,
Three in One confess thee. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Salve Regina

Peter Cornet, c. 1600

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

BISHOP'S JUBILEE.

There will be a reception and tea at the Church House on Monday, February 3rd, from 3 to 6 P. M., for all members of the Diocese.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, February 2nd, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, February 6th, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Archdeacon Baskervill, who will speak on his work in South Carolina.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE PURIFICATION OF SAINT MARY THE VIRGIN.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Kalender calls us back to the Holy Childhood of Our Lord. It is a welcome call. We were loathe to leave the Festival after Epiphany. We knew that strange and stern events pressed for commemoration. The Fourth Sunday after Epiphany ordinarily would call us to consider the miracle of the healing of the centurion's servant. But the Festival entitled "The Presentation of Christ in the Temple" commonly called "The Purification of Saint Mary the Virgin" falls this year on the Fourth Sunday after Epiphany and takes precedence. So then, we shall think of the double event commemorated by this festival and we shall take them in the order of the Prayer Book.

The Presentation of Christ in the Temple. What did it mean? The Gospel tells us, "they brought Him to Jerusalem, to present Him to the Lord." Our Lord carried to the Temple by the Blessed Mother and offered to the heavenly Father. In that offering Mary offered the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world. Her offering was unique. Mary was not as other mothers. Her Son was not as other sons. Other mothers presented their sons "as it was written in the law of the Lord. Every male child that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord. But "this child," as Simeon declared, "is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel, and for a sign which shall be spoken against."

Led by the Spirit, Simeon came into the Temple at the time of the Presentation. "Then took he Him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, 'Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace according to thy word: for mine eyes have seen thy salvation, which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.'" So did Mary present her Son in the exercise of the ministry appointed to her by God, and announced to her by the message of an angel.

"And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, Mary came to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtle-doves or two young pigeons." There was no need for her to offer that sacrifice. An angel from heaven had saluted her, "Hail, thou that art highly favored, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God."

Mary is ever Virgin, before, during and after the conception and in the bringing forth of Her only Child. Of that Child she is Mother. Because this Child is called, as the angel announced, the Son of God, the Church, "to safeguard the truth of the one Person of the Child, at the Council of Ephesus, as well as at the Council of Chalcedon twenty years later, declared that the Blessed Virgin Mary is rightly called Mother of God, that is, the Mother not of the divine nature, but of Him who in all that pertains to both His natures, human and divine, is personally God." This is the meaning of the Festival we celebrate today.

The Collect teaches us to pray that as the only-begotten Son was this day presented in the Temple in substance of our flesh, so we may be presented with pure and clean hearts, by the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 19

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Septuagesima Sunday

February 9, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 4 Christ, whose glory fills the skies

Werner's Choralbuch, 1815

Antiphon. The sorrows of death came about me; the pains of hell gat hold upon me: and in my tribulation I made my prayer unto the Lord, and he regarded my supplication out of his holy temple.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord, my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Farrant in A minor

Gradual. The Lord will be a refuge in the time of trouble; and they that know thy Name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee. For the poor shall not always be forgotten; the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish for ever: up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand.

Tract. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well: the voice of my complaint. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss: O Lord, who may abide it? For there is mercy with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

Hymn 116 Oft in danger, oft in woe

Henry J. Gauntlett, 1852

Credo III

Mode V

Offertory. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord: and to sing praises unto thy Name, O Most Highest.

Anthem

Sir John Goss

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice, even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: Behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; He will come and save you.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing:

For in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion, with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: They shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Farrant in A minor

Communio. Shew thy servant the light of thy countenance, and save me for thy mercies' sake: let me not be confounded, O Lord, for I have called upon thee.

Tantum Ergo

Anton Bruckner, 1869

The words of Hymn 338, Part II

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in B minor

Healey Willan

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 104

Tone III.1

Magnificat

Tone I, with fauxbourdons by Robert Fayrfax

Nunc Dimittis

Tone VII, with fauxbourdons by an unknown

Edwardine composer

Hymn 255

O worship the King

William Croft, 1708

Anthem

Sir Edward Elgar

Light of the World, we know thy praise the Angels and Archangels raise, and all the hosts of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has given.

But thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb thy resting place; so thou might bring into our night the dawn of thine eternal Light to shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin is Lord, but thou, O Son of God! Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank thee, and we pray thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us for evermore.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mecklin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide

All praise and thanks to thee ascend

The gate of heaven to man below,

For evermore, blest One in Three;

Our foes press on from every side,

O grant us life that shall not end,

Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven

R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Prelude in D

Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
 Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
 from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

 Notices

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
 at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we begin to prepare for Lent. In Lent we shall be preparing for Easter which is about seventy days distant.

The name of this Sunday reminds us of the reward of a well-spent Lent. Christian self-discipline is the means by which we attain to a definite end. Discipline is not an end in itself. It can only be useful and effective if it is regarded as a means. We must never lose sight of the end. The disciplinary seasons of the Christian year are days "on which the Church requireth such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion." The purpose of extraordinary acts of devotion is to raise the permanent standard of the ordinary devotional life. The purpose of the extraordinary acts of devotion on Sundays is to raise the tone of the devotional life of the other six days in the week. So it is with Lent.

The purpose of keeping forty days of penitence, discipline and prayer is to stablish, strengthen and settle us in the habitual practise of penitence, discipline and prayer. The purpose of the extraordinary acts of devotion on the Christian Festivals is to stablish, strengthen and settle us in the spirit of thankfulness, stability and joy. No fast or festival is an end in itself. Each is a pressing toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. The Festivals and Fasts, if rightly used, will enable us to reach the balance of the Christian life. Penitence and thankfulness: Discipline and stability: Prayer and joy.

A preliminary self-examination concerning these points will prove to be the best preparation for Lent. Are we penitent? Are we thankful? Are we disciplined? Are we stable? Are we prayerful? Are we joyful? Not spasmodically, but habitually. Is our religion rightly balanced? At what points is it weak? What needs mending? The result of this examination ought to suggest an intelligent, definite, helpful rule for Lent.

The rule must be a hopeful rule. The Epistle for today gives this note of hope. "So run, that ye may obtain." We shall gain what we seek. "I therefore run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air." We shall need this encouragement all through Lent. Perhaps most of all in mid-Lent. The Church gives us Refreshment Sunday in mid-Lent. The symbols of penitence are for that one day suffused with the light of hope, the violet changes to rose color. The remembrance that the prize for which we strive is an incorruptible crown arms us with fresh courage to enter Passion Week and to advance to Holy Week.

Whatever may be gained in Lent is to be kept. The Easter flowers will fade. The Lent prize will not fade. It is to be kept as a fadeless possession to signify an advance in the spiritual life. Our Lent life should lead us to a higher level for all the rest of the year, and for all the years.

For this reason we should exercise moderation in making our Lent rule. It is a long race that is set before us. The tendency is to forget this and to make a rule that we cannot make permanent. We are apt to set ourselves a task into which we enter feverishly, endure grimly and escape gladly. This sort of rule is sure to result in reactions marked by laxity.

There is a fictitious Easter joy which is only based on relief that Lent is over. The true Easter joy is joy in walking with Our Lord in newness of life. It is this newness that is the prize of Lent.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Sexagesima Sunday

February 16, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest - J. B. Dykes, 1868

Introit. Arise, O Lord, wherefore sleepest thou? awake, and cast us not away for ever: wherefore hidest thou thy countenance, and forgettest our adversity and misery? Our belly cleaveth unto the ground; arise, and save us, O Lord, our helper and our deliverer.

Ps. O God, we have heard with our ears: our fathers have told us, Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - Kyrie Altissime, Mode V

Gradual. Let the nations know that thou, whose Name is Jehovah: art only the Most Highest over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a wheel: and as the stubble before the wind.

Tract. Thou hast moved the land, O Lord: and divided it. Heal the sores thereof: for it shaketh. That they may triumph because of the truth: that thy beloved may be delivered.

Hymn 117 He who would valiant be Winfred Douglas, 1917

Credo III - Mode V

Offertory. O hold thou up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not; incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words: shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O Lord; thou that art the Saviour of them that put their trust in thee.

Anthem - Sir Edward Elgar

Light of the World, we know thy praise the Angels and Archangels raise, and all the hosts of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has given:

But thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb thy resting place; so thou might bring into our night the dawn of thine eternal Light to shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin is Lord, but thou, O Son of God! Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank thee, and we pray thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us for evermore.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - J. Guy Ropartz

Communio. I will go unto the Altar of-God: even unto the God of my joy and gladness.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 331) Proper Melody, Solesmes version

Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, thee,
Who in thy Sacrament are pleased to be;
Both flesh and spirit in thy presence fail,
Yet here thy Presence we devoutly hail.

O blest Memorial of our dying Lord,
Who living Bread to men doth here afford!
O may our souls for ever feed on thee,
And thou, O Christ, for ever precious be. Amen.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Preludio (Sonata VI) - Rheinberger

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 139 - Tone VI

Magnificat - Tone 1, with fauxbourdons by Robert Fayrfax

Nunc Dimittis - Tone VII, with fauxbourdons by an unknown Edwardine composer

Hymn 115 Soldiers of the Cross, arise! Pierre de Corbeil, d. 1222

Anthem - Philip James

I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient time,
And now, as then, thy mercies hold
Their hope of grace divine.

I have remembered my song at night,
Communing with my heart,
And know thy love is still my right,
Nor ever will depart.

Thy voice was in the thunder,
The waters were afraid,
Yet in my day of trouble
I called on thee for aid!

Who is so great a God as the Lord!
His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer outpoured,
Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Intermezzo (Sonata VI) - Rheinberger

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercession.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

I have received the following communication from the Bishop:—

"For several years there has been a Corporate Communion for men in the Church of the Holy Trinity on Washington's Birthday at 8 A. M. There will be a service this year also at the same time at Holy Trinity and I will be the Celebrant. I will be glad to see as many men of the Diocese as possible present at this Celebration."

There will be a day of Retreat for Teachers and Business Women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Saturday, February 22nd. Conductor: The Reverend Vincent F. Pottle. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P.M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in Charge.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"When much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable." And when Our Lord had finished the simple parable, and as he looked at the crowd who had listened attentively, he said, "he that hath ears to hear, let him hear." Had the parable meant anything to them? Did they understand? Did one single person come to Him to ask for the explanation? There is no record of anyone doing so.

His disciples came and asked Him, "what might this parable be?" They had not understood. But they cared enough to ask for the explanation. Because they cared, he said, "Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of God."

To others who cared neither for Him nor His words, the parables were only parables, interesting but not convincing. Their minds were like unfenced fields by a roadside, open to flocks of suggestions destructive of serious thoughts. Their minds were as shallow as the thin layer of soil in a rocky field. Their minds were overgrown with absorbing anxieties concerning riches and pleasures; they never could afford the time to think about the deep things of life. So they saw in a blurred way, but never saw clearly. So they heard, but they never really understood. The reason was that they never were inclined to take the pains to try. If they had been so inclined on the day they listened to the parable of the sower, they would have been as welcome as the disciples, and it would have been given to them to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of God.

You see how this parable may be used as a preparation for Lent? Lent is the time when we go to Our Lord to learn the deeper meaning of the many mysteries of the Kingdom of God. The Church unfolds them, season by season, through the Christian Year. The Collects, Epistles, Gospels and Lessons set them forth in order. The Liturgy commemorates what the Creeds contain and the Scriptures confirm. The Catechism inculcates the principles of the Sacramental life. The channels of Divine Grace are opened for our use. The path of the spiritual life is clearly marked. The voice of God is heard daily in His Church; if we have ears to hear. If we have, then it will be given to us to know the mysteries. If we have not, then the year of mysteries will be only a year of parables. Nothing will be real to us.

The question to ask ourselves is, "how real is our religion?" Is our religion the greatest force and the most absorbing interest in our lives? Does it sublimate all our lesser interests? Does it spiritualize every bit of our everyday life?

When we seriously question ourselves most of us will feel in sympathy with the crowd who lost so much of what Our Lord was trying to make them understand. You notice Our Lord did not rebuke them. He was only sad because they did not understand. And He read the secrets of their hearts and knew the reason why. They needed escape from the waysides, and the shallow places and the thorns of life, just as you and I do.

This is just what Lent can do for us. Lent can rescue us from the waysides and shallow places and thorns of life.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima Sunday

February 23, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5. P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, Thou joy of loving hearts

Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Introit. Be thou my God and defender, and a place of refuge that thou mayest save me: for thou art my upholder, my refuge, and my Saviour; and for thy holy Name's sake be thou my leader, and my sustainer.

Ps. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliver me in thy righteousness. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevis in E flat) Healey Willan

Gradual. Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people. Thou hast mightily delivered thy people: even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Tract. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God. It is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Hymn 235 O Love that casts out fear Henry Smart, 1881

Credo III Mode V

Offertory. Blessed art thou, O Lord; O teach me thy statutes: with my lips have I been telling of all the judgments of thy mouth.

Anthem Philip James

I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient time,
And now, as then, thy mercies hold their hope of grace divine.
I have remembered my song at night, communing with my heart,
And know thy love is still my right, nor ever will depart.
Thy voice was in the thunder, the waters were afraid,
Yet in my day of trouble I called on thee for aid!
Who is so great a God as the Lord! His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer outpoured, Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Healey Willan

Communio. They did eat, and were well filled, for the Lord gave them their own desire: they were not disappointed of their lust.

Motet Palestrina, 1525-1594

Very Bread, good Shepherd, tend us, Thou who all things canst and knowest,
Jesus, of thy love befriend us. Who on earth such food bestowest.
Thou refresh us, thou defend us, Grant us, with thy Saints, though lowest,
Thine eternal goodness send us Where the heavenly Feast thou showest,
In the land of life to see. Fellow-heirs and guests to be. Amen.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in A major

Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 111, 112 Tones IV-6, VII-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stanford in B flat

Hymn 326 The King of Love my Shepherd is J. B. Dykes, 1868

Anthem Henry Aldrich, 1647-1710

Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.
O let thine ears consider well the voice of my complaint; for if thou,
Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss, O Lord, who may abide it.
For there is mercy with thee, therefore shalt thou be feared.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.
All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Praeludium

Zoltan Kodaly

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday will be the Feast of St. Matthias. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

On Shrove Tuesday the hours for Confession will be 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M. Also by appointment.

LENT BOOKS

Contemplative Prayer—By Hughson
The Elements of the Spiritual Life—By Harton
Holy Wisdom—By Baker

These books can be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Collect for today is given to us as a final prayer of preparation for Lent. It is a prayer for Charity. Charity means a loving spirit toward God and toward man. "Hear what our Lord Jesus Christ saith. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great Commandment. And the second is like unto it; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two Commandments hang all the law and the Prophets."

This we hear every time we attend upon the Eucharistic Mysteries. Immediately the Church leads us to pray, "Lord have mercy upon us. Christ have mercy upon us. Lord have mercy upon us." Whatever may be the sins for which we need mercy, each and every sin proceeds from a lack of charity. So we are to pray that the Holy Ghost may pour into our hearts that most excellent gift of charity. Without charity all our doings are nothing worth. Without charity whosoever liveth is counted dead before God. Charity is the fulfilling of the law of God. Charity worketh no ill to his neighbor. Charity is the fulfilling of the law of man.

Lent will call us to extraordinary acts and exercises of penitential devotion. Self-examination will reveal many sins for which we shall need to repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance. But more and more as our repentance deepens we shall be moved to say, "Lord, it is my chief complaint, that my love is weak and faint." At this point our repentance will have reached contrition. Then love will be released for our rescue. Charity will grow more perfect. It is perfect love that casts out fear. There is no fear in love. Loving penitence will rouse us to filial confidence. Filial confidence will banish servile fear; disentangle us from the net work of morbid introspection; free us from panic-stricken scrupulosity, and give us courage to say, "I will arise and go unto my Father."

This is what we shall all be doing in Lent. We shall be arising and going unto our Father. It is comforting to know that while we are yet a great way off, He will come out to meet us. Indeed He will be waiting while we are first arising, on Shrove Tuesday.

The Epistle for the day gives us instruction concerning the second commandment of the law. It contains a summary of points for meditation upon charity. The same points will serve for examination of conscience. Saint Paul warns us that all our doings without charity are nothing worth. "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as a sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge, and though I have all faith and have not charity, I am nothing. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing." Charity, he declares, is greater than faith and hope. We must have it then at all costs.

Saint John is no less emphatic. "If a man say, I love God and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen."

Whatever our Lent rule may be, the objective must be growth in charity. For the sake of charity our rule must be adapted to our state in life. It must help us to perform the duties of our state. It must help us to do the ordinary things with extraordinary kindness. The Christian life is a hidden life: It is manifested only in charity.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

March 1, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5. P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 123 Forty days and forty nights Martin Herbst, 1676

Introit. He shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto him; I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with length of days will I satisfy him.

Ps. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Deus genitor alme) Mode IV, eleventh century

Gradual. He shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Tract. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold: my God, in him will I trust.

For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter: and from the noisome pestilence.

He shall defend thee under his wings: and thou shalt be safe under his feathers.

His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler: thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night.

Nor for the arrow that flieth by day; for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day.

A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

For he shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways.

They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Thou shalt go upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet.

Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him up, because he hath known my Name.

He shall call upon me, and I will hear him: yea, I am with him in trouble.

I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Credo I - - Mode IV, sixth century

Offertory. He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: his faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Hymn 126 Christian! dost thou see them John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus and Benedictus King Henry VI, (fifteenth century)

Agnus Dei - - Mode VIII, thirteenth century

Communio. Whoso drinketh of the water that I shall give him, saith the Lord: it shall be in him a well of water springing up unto life eternal.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 311)

Proper Melody, Rouen version

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth:
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth;

Thou whose sacred side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be my food:

O most kind! O gracious One!
O sweetest Jesu, holy Mary's Son! Amen.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral: Aus der Tiefe rufe ich - J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, verses 1-32 - - Tones III-4, VII-7

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 134 Lord, who throughout these forty days
Day's Psalter, 1562

Cantata for Alto voices - - J. S. Bach

Aria—Watch and pray when trials beset thee, lest the tempter should prevail. On the strength of God relying, or in living, or in dying, let not fear thy soul assail.

Recitative—The way of wicked men, how fair and pleasant it appears; but they who walk therein find only disappointment and bitterness of soul. All radiantly it shines, as it were paved with gold; but soon the shadows gather round and all is darkness. 'Tis like a tree in Sodom planted, and none who in its fruit take pleasure can enter into God's own kingdom. 'Tis like a sharp two-edged sword that can the soul and body both destroy.

Aria—He who o'er sin would be the victor must ever pray to God for aid. His strength alone the victory gaineth, His grace alone the heart sustaineth, when evil thoughts the mind invade.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Erbarm' dich mein, O Herre Gott J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made
Sunday, March 1st, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, March 5th, at 3 P. M.
The speaker will be the Rev. Shirley C. Hughson, Superior,
Order of the Holy Cross, about the work in Liberia.

LENT BOOKS

Contemplative Prayer—By Hughson

The Elements of the Spiritual Life—By Harton

Holy Wisdom—By Baker

These books can be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712
Locust Street

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today narrates the history of Our Lord's temptation in the wilderness. There were eyewitnesses of other events in Our Lord's life. These eyewitnesses became ministers of the word, spoken and written. There were many eyewitnesses at the time when Our Lord "was baptized of John in Jordan." When "immediately the spirit driveth Him into the wilderness, and He was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan, and was with wild beasts," no human eyes saw, no human ears heard, no human voice consoled, no human hands ministered. The angels ministered unto Him. But no man was there. Only Our Lord knew what happened.

So the description must have come straight from Our Lord's own lips. From Our Lord's own lips we receive it, a priceless gift, recorded now for us to read, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

Of all the mysteries in human life, the mystery of temptation is the darkest and the most terrifying. It is always a mystery. Can there be anything more beautiful than the innocence in the face of a little child given back to the parents after Baptism? Can there be anything more appealing than the carefree laughter of the child who only sees "the world so full of a number of things" that he is "sure we should all be as happy as kings?" Why can't it last? Ah, that has been the question of every parent from the first moment, which could not be avoided nor postponed, on the day when first the child went off to school. Can't the child be sheltered all the way? No. Why?

We find the answer in the Gospel for the day. Our Lord came down from heaven to answer our question. Before He was born it was announced by the angel of the Lord that His name should be called Jesus; "for He shall save His people from their sins." He did not come to save His people from temptation.

Today we read that He was tempted. He did not come to save his people from temptation. He came to save his people through temptation. He came to save us all, not through escape but through endurance. He came to make it possible for us to endure temptation. The sign of the Cross marked upon our foreheads at Baptism means just that. He who would follow Our Lord must first take up his Cross. First the Cross, then the crown.

Temptation is not sin. Rightly used it is the opportunity for gaining virtue. Virtue is power. Virtue is the precious metal which has been tried in the fire of temptation. As we are, and as the world is, virtue can only be acquired by a process of testing. The angels in heaven were tempted. Why should we on earth expect to be exempt?

Our Lord conquered for us in His wilderness. He will conquer in us and through us in our wilderness. They who have continued with Him in his temptations shall share in the Kingdom, as his Father hath appointed unto him. This is one of the promises of Our Lord. Saint James wrote, "my brethren, count it all joy when ye enter into divers temptations."

It is true that Our Lord has taught us to pray, "lead us not into temptation." We are to avoid temptations that we well know are for us occasions of sin. But when God suffers us to be tempted, then we may enter the struggle faithfully, fearlessly, joyfully. We may use the temptation as a means of expiation, reparation and virtue.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 23

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

March 8, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5. P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 124 Lord, when we bend before thy throne
Christopher Tye, 1553

Introit. Call to remembrance thy tender compassion and mercy, O Lord, and thy loving-kindness towards us, which have been ever of old: neither suffer our enemies to triumph against us; deliver us, O God of Israel, out of all our misery and trouble.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevissima) - Casciolini

Gradual. The sorrows of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and misery: and forgive me all my sin.

Tract O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth forever. Who can express the noble acts of the Lord, or shew forth all his praise: blessed are they that alway keep judgment, and do righteousness. Remember me, O Lord, according to the favour that thou bearest unto the people: O visit me with thy salvation.

Hymn 125 Lord, as to thy dear Cross we flee Cologne, 1741

Credo I - - - Mode IV, sixth century

Offertory. My delight shall be in thy commandments, which I have loved: my hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved.

Anthem - - - Henry Aldrich, 1647 1710

Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ear consider well the voice of my complaint; for if thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss, O Lord, who may abide it. For there is mercy with thee, therefore shalt thou be feared.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Casciolini

Communion. Consider my meditation; O hearken thou unto the voice of my calling, my King and my God: for unto thee will I make my prayer.

Motet - Melody by J. R. Ahle, Harmonized by Bach

Jesu, joyaunce of my heart,	Nought is lovelier than thou,
Blessed Jesu;	Dearest Jesu;
Bliss unto my soul thou art,	None is friendlier than thou,
Holy Jesu;	Gentlest Jesu;
Sure defence from Satan's dart,	Nor is any sweet as thou,
Sweetest Jesu; Jesu, sweetest Jesu.	Sweetest Jesu; Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Kyrie, Gott, Heiliger Geist - - Back

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, (verses 33-72) - - Tones I-10, IV-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and VI with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 128 Christian, seek not yet repose William H. Monk, 1868

Anthem - - - Coleridge-Taylor

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Sion. As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees that are therein; for they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness.

Sing us one of the songs of Sion! How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, yea, If I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth.

Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said, Down with it, even to the ground.

O daughter of Babylon, wasted with misery, yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children, and throweth them against the stones.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Vater unser im Himmelreich - - Back

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE OFFERING NEXT SUNDAY IS FOR DIOCESAN,
DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The Rector's Discretionary Fund is very low at present.

The Passion according to Saint John of Johann Sebastian Bach will be sung by the Choir of the Church and Soloists at Evensong on the following Sundays: March 22nd, 29th and April 5th.

LENT BOOKS

Contemplative Prayer—By Hughson

The Elements of the Spiritual Life—By Harton

Holy Wisdom—By Baker

These books can be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712
Locust Street

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN LENT, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the Collect for the day we pray that we may be delivered from all evil thoughts that may assault and hurt the soul. In the Collect for last Sunday we prayed for grace to use such abstinence that our flesh may be subdued to the spirit, and that our wills may ever obey godly motions in righteousness and true holiness.

Last Sunday we prayed for grace for the discipline of the body and the will. Today we pray for grace for the discipline of the mind. This discipline is developed and maintained under pressure of temptation.

Temptation is not sin. We learned this from last Sunday's Gospel. Temptation affords opportunity for discipline of body, will and mind. When all three respond promptly and contentedly to discipline the result is serenity for the body, stability for the will, and strength for the mind. These qualities are the marks of a normal person. This must be clearly understood. It is a very common mistake to think of discipline as an occasional exercise just above and beyond the normal. It does not require much thought to convince us, nor much experience to demonstrate, nor much observation to illustrate that the undisciplined person is the abnormal person.

Remembering this we should take kindly to discipline. This is not to say that we can expect discipline to be pleasurable. As a matter of fact it may seem and be grievous at the time. But if it is and when it is grievous, it only proves that the point where it hurts most is the very point at which we are not quite normal. We need a certain degree of pressure to correct, perhaps to over-correct, in order that we may be brought back to normal. We readily recognize this in ordinary secular life, which is after all only a fraction of life. It becomes inescapable when we come to consider life as a whole, with which religion has to do. The function of religion is to bring life as a whole into right relationship with the whole of life. In other words it is the function of religion to make us normal.

When we seriously set ourselves to discipline our minds, we must then prepare ourselves for temptation. Not until we are settled down to this business do we begin to know what temptations of the mind can be. Unless we are prepared by definite instruction and provided with a sound technique we cannot escape being terrified and demoralized. In attempting an outline of instruction on temptations of the mind, and on the technique in meeting them, I can only in a brief letter, such as this must be, deal with the subject in a general way. That is, I can only consider in a general way evil thoughts that assault and hurt the soul. But what I write here will serve for a working rule in all such temptations. So I shall write numbered directions in the order in which they will probably be used.

1. Temptations are not sins.

2. Suggestion is the first attack. The suggestion may be vivid, and persistent. It may come in squalls. It may develop into a protracted gale. It may stir up rocking, pitching, tossing waves of emotion. It may produce a terrifying tempest. But up to this point, whatever the involuntary disturbances may be, there is no sin.

3. The technique is to concentrate on keeping the will steady. Never mind the storm. Keep the will quiet and steady. Remember the disciples in the boat. When they rushed to Our Lord in a panic, he rebuked them. "Why are ye so fearful, O ye of little faith." They ought to have been faithful. So ought we to be. If the will has not given consent, we have not sinned. In due time Our Lord will rebuke the winds of suggestion and the waves of emotion. There will follow a great calm. Until the next time.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 24

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

March 15, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5. P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 134 Lord, who throughout these forty days

Day's Psalter, 1562

Voit. Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net: look thou upon me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate, and in misery.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Grie Eleison (Messa Davidica) Lorenzo Perosi

adual. Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand: let the heathen be judged in thy sight. While mine enemies are driven back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

act. Unto thee lift I up mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heavens. Behold, even as the eyes of servants: look unto the hand of their masters. And as the eyes of a maiden: unto the hand of her mistress. Even so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God: until he have mercy upon us. Have mercy upon us, O Lord: have mercy upon us.

Hymn 237 When all thy mercies, O my God Thomas Tallis, 1567

edo I Mode IV, sixth century

ertory. The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb; moreover by them is thy servant taught.

them Coleridge-Taylor

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Sion. As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees that are therein; for they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness.

Sing us one of the songs of Sion! How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, yea, If I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth.

Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said, Down with it, even to the ground.

O daughter of Babylon, wasted with misery, yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children, and throweth them against the stones.

actus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lorenzo Perosi

munio. The sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest where she may lay her young: even thy altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be always praising thee.

Motet (Ave Verum)

Edward Elgar

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born,
On the Cross thy sacred Body
For us men with nails was torn.
O Jesu, hear us, Son of Mary!

Cleanse us, by the blood and water
Streaming from thy pierced Side;
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now, and in death's agony.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—'An Wasserflussen Babylon'

J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, (verses 73-104)

Tones I-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus, with faux-bourbons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 127 Jesus, Lord of life and glory Edward J. Hopkins, 1862

Anthem (from Cantata 78)

J. S. Bach

Chorale: Jesu, my beloved Saviour, by thy death thou dost me save,
Out of darkness and destruction, from the terror of the grave,
By thy might the victory gaineth, and thy truth to us revealeth,
In thy Holy, Blessed Word: Be thou still our help, O Lord.

Aria Duetto: We hasten with feeble, but diligent footsteps, O Jesus, O Master, for help unto thee!

Thou tenderly seekest the sick and the erring. Ah, hear us!
We lift up our voices, for succour we pray thee! Vouchsafe unto us the light of thy countenance.

Chorale: Lord, thy word have I believed, let despair affright me not.
Grant that strength may be received, when to death my soul is brought;
In thy goodness all confiding, in thy mercy still abiding,
Lord, protect me by thy grace, till I meet thee, face to face.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—'Wenn wir in hochsten Nothen sind'

J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The Corporate Communion of the Altar Society will be made on Sunday, March 22nd, at 7.45 A. M.

LENT BOOKS

Contemplative Prayer—By Hughson

The Elements of the Spiritual Life—By Harton

Holy Wisdom—By Baker

These books can be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712
Locust Street

The Passion according to Saint John of Johann Sebastian Bach will be sung by the Choir of the Church and Soloists at Evensong on the following Sundays: March 22nd, 29th and April 5th.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN LENT, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

When Our Lord was led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted, the tempter was the devil. When the temptation was finished, Our Lord said to the tempter, get thee hence Satan. The name Satan is a Hebrew word. In Greek it is translated by the word diabolos, which means accuser, adversary. The English word for diabolos is devil. Who is he? What is he?

The answer to this question is contained in the twelfth chapter of the Book of the Revelation of St. John the Divine, in the seventh, eighth and ninth verses, part of the Epistle for Saint Michael and All Angels Day. "Be sober, be vigilant," warns Saint Peter, "because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: whom resist steadfast in the faith."

It seems a long time ago since I first heard old-fashioned skeptics expressing doubts as to the existence of a personal devil. I suppose that most of them are dead by this time. They would be far behind the times if they were living now. The modern skeptic has advanced in knowledge since then. He has discovered that the world and the flesh are no longer the fields of temptation. He has discovered that there is no such thing as temptation. He has discovered that there is no such thing as sin. He has discovered that the way to attain to freedom from temptation is to yield to it. He has discovered that the way to escape sin is to sin. This was called at first the new morality. I think that it is beginning to lose the interest of novelty. The unimaginative majority of people are stupid enough to say that it is only the old immorality. Demoniacal possession is as common today as it ever was.

I am not interested in arguing this point, partly because it needs no argument, but chiefly because I want to call attention to a lesson to be gained from the record of the miracle in today's Gospel: "When the devil was gone out, the dumb spake." This person, while he was possessed of the devil, was deprived of the use of a faculty. When the devil was gone out the man regained his freedom for self-expression. That freedom was the gift of Our Lord. Our Lord came into this world to restore to man the glorious liberty of the children of God. He came that we might have life, and that we might have it more abundantly.

The enemy of life and liberty is the devil. Those whom he beguiles and enslaves are lured into a life of perpetual frustration. The spiritual faculties become deadened through disuse. The bodily faculties become brutalized through misuse. Social bonds of love and loyalty are destroyed by passion and treachery. In the end everything worth having in this world and the next is lost. The awakening, when it is too late, to this consciousness of irretrievable loss, brings with it the worst pain of hell, which the theologians call poena damni, the pain of loss.

"Jesus was casting out a devil, and it was dumb." So Our Lord looks into a devil-possessed soul. He sees within it, buried under the diseased tissue, the wasted form of the imprisoned person, who in spite of captivity and madness yet retains the remnant of a personality capable of restoration by the exercise of the virtue which He alone possesses. He speaks the word which exorcises. The devil is cast out. The victim regains consciousness. Our Lord cleanses, heals, restores, and releases the faculties which belong to the Sons of God, to praise the God who created, redeemed and illuminated them.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 22, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5. P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 465 We love the place, O God Henry L. Jenner, 1861

Introit. Rejoice ye with Jerusalem; and be ye glad for her, all ye that delight in her: exult and sing for joy with her, all ye that in sadness mourn for her; that ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation.

Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: We will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Farrant in A minor

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Tract They that put their trust in the Lord, shall be even as the mount Syon: which may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. The hills stand about Jerusalem: even so standeth the Lord round about his people; from this time forth for evermore.

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is John B. Dykes, 1868

Credo I - - - Mode IV, sixth century

Offertory. O praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious; O sing praises unto his Name, for it is lovely: whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven and in earth.

Antiphon (from the St. John Passion) - J. S. Bach

I follow Thee also, my Saviour, with gladness, and will not forsake Thee, my Life and my Light. O! let me not stray, my God, from thy way, should ever my life be encompassed with sadness.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Farrant in A minor

Communio. Jerusalem is built as a city that is at unity in itself; for thither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the Lord, to give thanks unto the Name of the Lord.

Chorale - - - J. S. Bach

Thy will, O Lord, our God, be done,
On earth, as round thy heavenly throne.
In time of sorrow patience give,
Obedient ever make us live.
With thy restraining Spirit fill
Each heart that strives against thy will.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—'Schmucke dich, O liebe Seele' - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, (verses 105-144) - Tones VII-3, V-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII
with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 125 Lord, as to thy dear Cross we flee Cologne, 1741

The Passion according to Saint John John Sebastian Bach

Part I—The words will be found on a separate list

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—'Ich ruf' zu dir, Herr Jesu Christ' - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Wednesday, March 25th, the Feast of the Annunciation, there will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Altar Society will make its Corporate Communion on the Feast of the Annunciation, Wednesday, March 25th, at 7.45 A. M.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and friends of St. Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Thursday, March 26th. The Conductor will be the Rev. Walter C. Pugh, Rector of St. Andrew's Church, Yardley, Pa. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in Charge.

LENT BOOKS

Contemplative Prayer—By Hughson

The Elements of the Spiritual Life—By Harton

Holy Wisdom—By Baker

These books can be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street

The Passion according to Saint John of Johann Sebastian Bach will be sung by the Choir of the Church and Soloists at Evensong on the following Sundays: March 22nd, 29th and April 5th.

Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Litany in Procession is sung by the full Choir of the Church.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

I am inclined to recommend for your attention the last verse of the Epistle for today. "So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free." The Christian Religion is the religion of liberation for the sons of men. Saint Paul, in his Epistle to the Romans, describes, in terms that cannot be successfully disputed, the condition of mankind alienated from God. Individual men may not recognize it, but the fact remains. "For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body."

The longing for this redemption of our body keeps alive the hope by which man is saved from despair. "For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God." In this earnest expectation we are encouraged by the promise, "the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God." This is "the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free."

Note that the body is the medium through which this liberty is bestowed and received. The body is the outward and visible sign of the inward and spiritual reality, which is the soul. All our life is sacramental. All the outward and visible signs of truth and goodness and beauty are communicated through the body, translated by the mind and assimilated by the soul. The perception of truth, goodness and beauty is conditioned by the freedom of soul, mind and body. There must be no bondage. And this freedom, like every other good gift, comes to us through the body. The free body is to be the instrument of the free mind, and both together are to be the instruments of the free soul.

So the foundation of the Christian Religion, which is the religion of liberty, is the Incarnation. "The Word, (the Second Person of the Holy Trinity) was made Flesh."

Our Lord Jesus Christ is the giver of this glorious liberty which makes us the free sons of God. The gift of this sonship He bestows sacramentally in Baptism and renews, refreshes and nourishes in Holy Communion. This gift he imparts by the Gift of His own Life to live in us. "A higher gift than grace, doth flesh and blood refine, God's Presence and His very Self, and Essence all Divine." Our Lord Christ lives in the Christian. "So now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death," wrote Saint Paul. Christ magnified in the body carries it triumphantly through its two wars for freedom. Christ Crucified carries it through the first. Christ Risen carries it through the second.

In the first the objective is to bring every instinct, appetite, desire, inclination and impulse into working obedience to the law of God. The body dies to sin to become alive to God. So Christ is magnified in the body in life.

In the second the Christ-controlled body meets and passes triumphantly through death to rise with Christ to everlasting life. So Christ is magnified in the body in death.

The death of the body to sin is a matter of daily dying. Every time that we mortify the desires of the body we advance the body one stage nearer to the freedom which only the body that has become dead to sin can sense and enjoy.

When the time comes to face the last enemy the body schooled by life-long discipline will meet death unafraid. The virtue of the indwelling Christ-life will carry the body through to a joyful resurrection.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

Passion Sunday

March 29, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5. P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 338 (Part I) Now, my tongue, the mystery telling Mode III

Antiphon. Give sentence with me, O God; and defend the cause of my soul against the ungodly people: deliver me, and rid me from the deceitful and wicked man; for thou, O Lord, art my God, and my strong salvation.

Ps. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me: and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

Glorie Eleison (Deus genitor alme) - Mode IV, eleventh century

Gradual. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee. It is the Lord that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth me up above mine adversaries: thou shalt deliver me from the wicked man.

Ract. Many a time have they fought against me: from my youth up. May Israel now say: yea, many a time have they vexed me from my youth up. But they have not prevailed against me: the plowers ploughed upon my back. And made long furrows: but the righteous Lord hath hewn the snares of the ungodly in pieces.

Hymn 159 There is a green hill far away Wm. Horsley, 1844

Introit - Mode IV, sixth century

Fertory. I will give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart: O do well unto thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word: quicken thou me, according to thy word, O Lord.

Agnus (From the St. John Passion) - J. S. Bach

Beloved Saviour, wilt Thou answer, as Thou hast now the Cross endured, and Thyself hast said, It is finished, am I from death delivered? Can I, through Thy eternal merit, the heavenly realms inherit? Shall all the world redemption see? Thou canst for anguish now say nothing, yet Thou dost bow Thy head, and say, in silence, yea.

Jesus, Thou who knowest death, Other Saviour need I none,
Art alive for ever, Since Thou dost receive me,
When I yield my dying breath, Lord, to share what Thou hadst won,
Lord, forsake me never. Of Thy mercy give me.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Missa Penitentialis

Communio. This is my Body, which is given for you; this cup is the new Testament in my Blood, saith the Lord: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

Hymn 338 (Part II) Therefore we, before Him bending
Spanish Plainsong, Mode V

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—'O Mensch, bewein' dein' Sunde gross' - Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 119 (verses 145-176) - Tones I-4, III-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and VI with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 160 We sing the praise of Him who died Leipzig, 1625

The Passion according to Saint John John Sebastian Bach

Part II—The words will be found on a separate list

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—'Da Jesus an dem Kreuze stund' - Bach

ALFRED H. GONZALEZ, Tenor.

FRANCIS J. STENZ, Baritone.

CHARLES F. KAUFFELD, Bass.

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE PARISHES OF THE DIOCESE HAVE BEEN ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TO A FUND INTENDED TO MARK THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF BISHOP TAITT'S ORDINATION. WHATEVER MONEY IS CONTRIBUTED IN THIS WAY WILL GO TO THE FUND FOR THE ENDOWMENT OF THE EPISCOPATE. CONTRIBUTIONS DESIGNATED FOR THIS FUND MAY BE SENT TO THE ACCOUNTING WARDEN.

Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, March 29th, at 8 A. M.

Regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, April 2nd, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Miss Gillespie, who will tell about the mountain mission work in North Carolina.

Second Part of the Passion according to Saint John of Johann Sebastian Bach will be sung at Evensong today. The third and concluding part will be sung on Palm Sunday afternoon.

LENT BOOKS

Contemplative Prayer—By Hughson

The Elements of the Spiritual Life—By Harton

Holy Wisdom—By Baker

These books can be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street

Friday afternoon, at 5 P. M., the Litany in Procession will be sung by the full Choir.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIFTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1936
PASSION SUNDAY.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we enter Passiontide. The Epistle supplies the subject for meditation. "Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building; neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us."

Passion Week prepares us for Holy Week. Holy Week means everything to the well instructed Christian. It means nothing to the passerby. The passerby does not understand. In Passion Week the Church explains.

The word passion means suffering. Suffering is the cost of sacrifice. The word as the Church uses it refers to the suffering of Our Saviour endured by Him in the sacrifice of His death upon the Cross. On the Cross he made (by his one oblation once offered) a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world.

On the actual day when Our Lord offered himself on the Cross for the sins of the whole world, the whole world mocked, derided and passed him by. Why? Our Lord when he prayed for the world said, "they know not what they do." They had no sense of sin, so they felt no need for sacrifice.

The sacrificial instinct has been kept alive in our nature by the mercy of God. It has, it is true, found strange and savage expressions, but it has always registered in all men everywhere. It cannot be wilfully stifled without bad consequences to human nature. God has given consciences to all men everywhere. Every tribe and race and individual has a conscience and a code of some kind. When the conscience is disregarded and the code violated there follows a sense of guilt, of fear, of shame; of desperation if the person is left alone, unvisited and unhelped. This is remorse.

The sense of sin may lead along an upward path to a sense of sorrow for the harm done to another, a desire to offer reparation, to suffer expiation, to offer something which will go toward the payment of the debt to the offended by the offender. This is repentance.

The conscientious penitent is not satisfied until he has made all the reparation that lies within his power. But having made it, he is not satisfied. Then at last he looks for a Redeemer, for the perfect Person who can pay his debt for him.

So God led his chosen people along the sacrificial way. He taught them about the sin offering and the burnt offering and the peace offering. At the end of that way he taught them, by the mouth of his prophets, to look for the Redeemer who would come to them to make the "only offering perfect in God's eyes, the one true, pure, immortal sacrifice."

In the appointed time the Redeemer came to Bethlehem. On Calvary he offered the atoning sacrifice.

On Good Friday we shall be meeting at the foot of the Cross to meditate upon the blessed passion and precious death of our Saviour.

On the day before, on Maundy Thursday, we shall remember Our Redeemer's command to continue the perpetual memory of his precious death and sacrifice. "If any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous, and he is the Propitiation for our sins." In the Eucharistic sacrifice any man, every man, finds the Advocate of his heart's desire, and the Propitiation for all his sins.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 27

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

April 5, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.35 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Monday to Wednesday, at 12.10

Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

ymns in { 143 All glory, laud and honor Teschner, c. 1613
Procession { 145 Ride on! ride on in majesty Hamburg, 1690

troit. O Lord, remove not thy succour afar from me; have respect to my defence, and hear me: deliver me from the mouth of the lion; yea, from the horns of the unicorn hast thou regarded my cry.

Ps. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health, and from the words of my complaint.

ryrie Eleison (Missa Brevisissima) - Claudio Casciolini

radual. Thou hast holden me by my right hand: thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and after that receive me with glory. Truly God is loving unto Israel: even unto such as are of a clean heart. Nevertheless, my feet were almost gone: my treadings had well-nigh slipped. And why, I was grieved at the wicked: I do also see the ungodly in such prosperity.

tract. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? And art so far from my health: and from the words of my complaint? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel. Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliver them.

They called upon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee and were not confounded.

But as for me, I am a worm, and no man: a very scorn of men, and the outcast of the people.

All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying:

He trusted in God, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, if he will have him.

They stand staring and looking upon me: they part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

Save me from the lion's mouth: thou hast also heard me from among the horns of the unicorn.

O praise the Lord, ye that fear him: magnify him, all ye of the seed of Jacob.

They shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation: they shall come, and the heavens shall declare his righteousness.

Unto a people that shall be born: whom the Lord hath made.

redo I - - Mode IV, sixth century

ffertory. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness: I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man: neither found I any to comfort me: they gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they gave me vinegar to drink.

anthem (from the St. John Passion) - J. S. Bach

Lord Jesus, thy dear angel send,
Whene'er my mortal life shall end,
And bear my soul to heaven.

Within its narrow chamber keep
My body safe in painless sleep,
Till thy last call be given.

And when from death thou wakest me,
In bliss untold mine eyes shall see,
O Son of God, thy glorious face,

My Saviour and my Fount of Grace.
Lord Jesus Christ, O hear thou me,
Thee will I praise eternally.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Casciolini

Communio. O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it: thy will be done.

Chorale (from the St. John Passion)

J. S. Bach

Within our inmost being,
Thy Name and Cross alone,
'The light of all our seeing,'
Prevailing influence own.

O breathe this comfort over us,
When low in grief we lie,
That thou, Lord Jesus, for us
Hast given thyself to die.

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Variant: Valet will ich dir geben

J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 22

Tone II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tonus Peregrinus, with faux-bourbons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 144

The Royal Banners forward go

Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

The Passion according to Saint John

John Sebastian Bach

Part III—The words will be found on a separate list

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

Organ—'Ach wie nichtig, ach wie flüchtig'

J. S. Bach

Maundy Thursday—April 9, 1936

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 328, 320, 338

The Ordinary of the Mass

Willan in D

ALFRED H. GONZALEZ, Tenor.

CHARLES F. KAUFFELD, Bass.

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
The Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Easter Even the hours for Confession will be 2.30 to 3.30 and 8 to 9 P. M. Also by appointment.

Confirmation—Easter Even, 4 P. M.

The third and concluding part of the Passion according to Saint John of Johan Sebastian Bach will be sung today.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

PALM SUNDAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross."

Pride is the root of sin. Humility is the cure.

So Our Saviour made himself of no reputation in Bethlehem. So he humbled himself in Calvary. This is the mind which was in him. This is the mind which must be in us as we enter into Holy Week. If we would enter into Our Saviour's Kingdom we must arm ourselves with humility as he did when he entered into the Kingdom of this world, in which he found us in captivity. He did not shrink from humiliation in seeking us. We must not shrink from humiliations in seeking him. Humiliations may be bitter. Humility itself is sweet. Humility is sanity. Humility is the state of seeing God as He is: ourselves as we are: and ourselves as, under God, we may become.

So the first expression of humility is worship in recognition of the exaltation of Our Saviour, whose name is above every name, at whose name every knee should bow. He is the only-begotten Son of God. Begotten of His Father before all worlds. For us men and for our salvation He came down from Heaven. In Him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. We adore Him in the Manger. We adore Him on the Cross. We follow Him adoringly today as we commemorate His entry into Jerusalem. We shall adore Him on Maundy Thursday, present in the Sacrament instituted by Him on that day. We shall adore Him as we watch beside His Cross on Good Friday.

As we adore we remember what we ourselves are. The memory of our sins becomes grievous in the light of the presence of our sinless Saviour. In our effort to find words to express our abasement we turn to the penitential prayers of the Church. We look to the treasuries of devotion bequeathed to us by great penitents who become great saints. We are gladly engulfed in the currents of penitence and carried on to find refuge in the Sacraments of the Church. We are filled with courage to seek and endure the humiliations which promise peace. We are cheered by the hope that at last we are escaping from the former pride which was our undoing. Then we are faced with a sudden and subtle temptation to pride. Unconsciously we had only been trying to escape humiliations. Pride, so difficult to dislodge, had been taking the form of presumptuousness.

Then pride appears in a new form. We begin to yield to discouragement. Discouragement leads to despondency. Despondency leads to scrupulosity. Scrupulosity, if unchecked, leads to despair. We mistake all this for humility. And it is not humility at all. It is pride. We have to learn our lesson in humility all over again. We must shun presumptuousness and despair.

Then by God's mercy and patience we are led to look away from ourselves and to look up to Him who loved us, and gave Himself for us. It is not God's will that one of us should be lost. It is God's will that we should become what he always intended us to be. He who created us can recreate us. We can be changed. It is God's will to change us. By the mystery of the holy Incarnation, by the holy Nativity, by the Agony and Bloody Sweat; by the Cross and Passion; by the precious Death and Burial; by the glorious Resurrection and Ascension, Almighty God accomplished our redemption and gave to us the effectual means of grace to restore our hope of glory.

"This is the Lord's work and it is marvelous in our eyes," we cry at last. At last we are humble. At last we can say, "I believe."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 28

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Easter

April 12, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	7.00, 8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in } 172 Jesus Christ is risen today Lyra Davidica, 1708
 Procession { 178 At the Lamb's High Feast we sing
Jacob Hintze, 1678

troil. I am risen, and am still with thee, alleluia: thou hast laid thine hand upon me, alleluia: thy knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O Lord, thou hast searched me out and known me: thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising. Glory be.

grie Eleison (Messe Solonnelle de Paques) Charles Gounod

radual. This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will be joyful and glad in it. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth forever.

leluia. Christ our Passover: is sacrificed for us.

quence. Christians, to the Paschal Victim offer your thankful praises. A Lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless, reconcileth sinners to the Father.

Death and life have contended in that combat stupendous: the Prince of Life, who died, reigns immortal.

Speak, Mary, declaring what thou sawest wayfaring?

'The Tomb of Christ, who is living, the glory of Jesu's resurrection: bright angels attesting, the shroud and napkin resting.

Yea, Christ my hope is arisen: to Galilee he goes before you.'

Christ indeed from death is risen, our new life obtaining.

Have mercy, victor King, ever reigning! Amen. Alleluia.

edo - - - - - Gounod tertory. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, alleluia.

ymn 173 Alleluia! The strife is o'er Palestrina, 1525-1594

nctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Gounod

mmunio. Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us, alleluia: therefore let us keep the feast with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

oria in Excelsis - - - Gounod tiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

gan—Alleluia, Pascha Nostra - Everett Titcomb

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 118 - - - - - Tone 1-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in A

Hymn 555 O Sons and Daughters, let us sing
French, fifteenth century

Anthem - - - - - Handel

Hallelujah! For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. Hallelujah!

The kingdom of this world is become the kingdom of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

King of Kings, and Lord of Lords! Hallelujah!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
 The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
 Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
 Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.

R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Christ lag in Todesbanden - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
The Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO PAROCHIAL SUPPORT.

There will be a third Mass at 9.30 on Monday and Tuesday.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

EASTER DAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The third day He rose again from the dead. This is the fact proclaimed today by the most venerable institution in the world: The institution which has claimed and kept the allegiance of her members for nearly twenty centuries: The institution which treasures a roll of saints and martyrs unique in the chronicles of history: The institution which has enshrined the fact of the resurrection in her creeds, confirmed it in her scriptures, shown it forth in her Liturgy, and having staked her very existence upon its historicity, remains unmoved by every effort to compel her to alter her testimony, and having outlived each generation of her adversaries, proclaims with sublime assurance on this Easter precisely, and in the very words, the fact which she announced on the first. The Easter salutation common among Christians down through the ages, is the common salutation of Christians on this Easter of nineteen hundred and thirty-six; confident, vibrant and world-encircling: "The Lord is risen, He is risen indeed. Alleluia."

Christians today treasure the records of the appearances of the Risen Lord to his disciples. The very conversations are read and re-read with joy no less than the joy which thrilled the disciples who first heard them. "Mary!" "What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?" "Peace be unto you." "Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: Handle me, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have."

These records are not guarded timidly in secret and inaccessible archives. They are printed in a Book. The Book is sent to every part of the world. That Book heads the list of all books sought and bought. It is to be found everywhere for everyone to read. Its impregnable defence is its unchallengeable veracity. Its unconquerable guardian is the One Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church; whose strength is her indestructible unity; whose credibility is her indisputable holiness; whose convincing authority is her catholicity; whose stability is her accredited apostolicity.

The bodily resurrection of Our Lord is the promise and pledge of our own bodily resurrection. As He rose, so shall we. Our bodies will be raised lacking nothing essential to their identity. They will be changed in that they will be spiritualized. They will be raised from the infirmities of the natural body before death into the power of the life-giving Body of the Risen Lord. They will have flesh and bones as they have now. But they will be changed in that they will have put off corruption and put on incorruption. They will have put off mortality and put on immortality. They will be made like unto Our Lord's risen, glorious body. As He was after His resurrection so shall we be after our resurrection. So the Christian looks for the resurrection of the dead, and believes in the resurrection of the Body. "There is a natural body and there is a spiritual body."

In Baptism we are incorporated into the Body of Christ. "We are made members of His Body, of His Flesh, and of His Bones." From the moment of our Baptism the process of the spiritualizing of our bodies begins. The first action of this spiritualizing of our bodies consists in the mortifying of the sinful desires of the flesh. The body becomes dead to sin that it may become partaker of the resurrection.

By the Eucharistic Food of the Body and Blood of Christ, the body and soul are preserved unto everlasting life. "Whoso eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath everlasting life, and I will raise him up at the last day."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter

April 19, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 171 The Day of Resurrection! Berthold Tours, 1875

Introit. As new-born babes, alleluia: desire ye the sincere milk of the word, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Lovelock in A minor

Alleluia. And after eight days, when the doors were shut: stood Jesus in the midst of his disciples, and said, Peace be unto you. Alleluia. The Angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. Alleluia.

Hymn 175 Christ the Lord is risen today
Arr. by J. B. Wilkes, 1861

Credo - - - Lovelock

Gospel. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, alleluia.

Hymn 520 Alleluia! Alleluia! Arthur S. Sullivan, 1874

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock

Communio. Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more, alleluia: death hath no more dominion over him, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - Lovelock

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Pastorale in E major - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 2, 57 - - Tones II-4, VIII-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in A

Hymn 173 Alleluia! The strife is o'er Palestrina, 1525-1594

Anthem - - Makarov, 19th century

An Angel said to Mary, full of grace: Hail, O Virgin most pure, rejoice, Thy Son is risen from the tomb on the third day as He said, and all the dead are risen through Him.

All peoples of the earth, rejoice; new Jerusalem, receive the light, for the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee: chant songs of joy, O Sion.

And thou, O Mary, most pure mother of God, rejoice in the resurrection of thy Son. Praise our Redeemer, our Lord. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Cantabile in B major - Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Saint Mark's Day

Saturday, April 25, 1936

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 288, 278

The Ordinary of the Mass - Everett Titcomb

Office Hours

Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

TURSDAY, APRIL 25th, WILL BE ST. MARK'S DAY.
THERE WILL BE A SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30.

the third Sunday after Easter, May 3rd, at the request of the Bishop, a Missionary Address will be given in all parishes throughout the Diocese. In St. Mark's the sermon will be omitted. After High Mass the Address will be given by the Rector's Warden, Mr. George Wharton Pepper.

Spring Presentation Service and in-gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held on Thursday, May 7th, at Calvary Church, Germantown, at 10.30 A. M. Bishop Taitt will be the Celebrant and Rev. Henry G. Mitchell, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Wayne, will preach. Contributions to the Offering should be sent, before May 1st, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Mr. Hughson, Superior, O. H. C., has written the following:—

'Father Huntington lies buried in the crypt of our Chapel at Holy Cross. We want to build over his tomb an altar as a memorial of his life and work. Dr. Cram has made a design, attractive in its simplicity, as the Father would have wished. It is to be of Indiana limestone and the cost will be about two thousand dollars.'

A general appeal is being made for this memorial. However, feeling there are many who knew and loved him that would wish to have a part in the Father Huntington Memorial, the clergy and parishes have been informed of this plan. Any contributions toward this work will be gratefully appreciated, and can be sent direct to Rev. S. C. Hughson, O. H. C., West Park, N. Y.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord." That was the joy of the disciples on the first Easter. This is the joy of all disciples on every Easter. Easter joy is a personal joy, centred in the Person of the Risen Lord, whose disciples are joyful because He is alive forevermore. By His death He has destroyed death, and by His rising to life again He hath restored to us everlasting life. But even that is not our first and chief Easter joy.

The first and chief Easter joy is that Our Lord is the Living Lord. He is alive forevermore. He is alive to be with His disciples wherever they are and always, even as He promised unto the end of the world. Life and immortality without Him would be empty, as empty as the lonely life through which the first disciples lived from Good Friday afternoon until Easter. They were desolate because they thought they had lost Him. They were glad when they saw Him. They went on being glad even after they saw Him ascend into Heaven, because they knew that He would always live with them. They knew that they would never be separated from Him again.

This was all they thought about. They had neither the inclination nor the time to think about anything else. They have not left a word to indicate that they were thinking about the gift of everlasting life to themselves. Their Easter gift was the gift of their Lord restored to them. That meant everything to them. Their joy was selfless. They were contented because they had Him. He was their life. All life for them was bound up in Him. He had risen. That was enough. Everything was all right again. Everything would go on as it had before.

They were real disciples. Their Lord had changed the life of each one of them. They believed it and lived accordingly. They knew Him intimately. They loved and adored Him, each for a reason all his and her own. They have left us the record of the reasons.

Saint Mary Magdalene had a reason for undying gratitude. So had Saint Peter. So had the other disciples. The life with Him before the Crucifixion had given them new selves and a new world. Then came the dismay and the darkness. Then came the joy and the light. He was the joy and the light. He had come back. They were glad when they saw Him. This is the whole story of the first Easter.

After Easter they literally walked in newness of life. They were manifestly new persons. They left their former lives on one side of the Cross. They took up new lives on the other side of the Cross. The former things had passed away. All things had become new. The former sins dropped away. Our Lord never mentioned them. Their former weaknesses were not remembered. They were transformed by the power of the Resurrection. Our Lord trusted them with responsibilities and duties in His Kingdom. They never doubted nor hesitated. They believed in their forgiveness. They accepted their transformation. They were frankly happy. They were wonderfully peaceful. They belonged to Our Lord and they knew it. The power of His resurrection made spiritual giants of them all. So they went from strength to strength through the Great Forty Days of Eastertide. So they were prepared for Ascensiontide. When the day of Pentecost came, they were ready for it.

Our Lord expects us to do what they did. We can do it. We are His disciples. We have our share in the power of His resurrection. We need have no fear of being presumptuous in this matter, because we are trusting Him, not ourselves. We trust in the power of His resurrection to make us new creatures. "Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter Within the Octave of St. Mark

April 26, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 544 O what the joy - La Feillee, 1808
Procession { 278 We praise thy grace Gauntlett, 1852

Introit. Thou hast hidden me, O God, from the gathering together of the forward, alleluia: from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Henschel in D

Alleluia. O Lord, the very heavens shall praise thy wondrous works: and thy truth in the congregation of the Saints. Alleluia. Thou hast set, O Lord: a crown of pure gold upon his head. Alleluia.

Sequence

Praise the true heart's offer Let our voices proffer, And our thanks to Christ resound For the Faith's four Preachers And unshaken teachers, Whom his grace hath made renown'd.	Christ is Head and Ending Of their aim and tending, He whose Presence all things fills; By the blest inditing Of their holy writing Stands the Church secure from ills.
--	--

Here are those four rings golden Well may be beholden Which the Ark of God upbore; Christ, the good seed sowing. And the fruit bestowing In the doctrine of the Four.	At their supplication, Grant us, Lord, salvation From eternal death and woe; By their holy teaching Safe and happy reaching Of celestial joys bestow.
--	--

Credo - - - Henschel

Offertory. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia, alleluia.

Hymn 266 Ye watchers and ye holy ones Cologne, 1623

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Henschel

Communio. He that will come after me, let him deny himself: and take up his cross, and follow me, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Henschel

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Toccata (Symphony V) - - Widor

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 116, 117 - - Tones II-1, Peregrinus

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in A

Hymn (English Hymnal, 220) - Jeremiah Clark, 1670-1707

The Saint who first found grace to pen The Life which was the Life of men, And shed abroad the Gospel's ray, His fame we celebrate today.	O holy mind, for wisdom fit Wherein that Life of lives stood writ, May we through minds of like accord Show forth the pattern of our Lord.
--	---

Lo, drawn by Pentecostal fire, His heart conceived its great desire, When, pure of mind, inspired, he heard And with his hand set forth the Word.	And so may all whose minds are dark Be led to truth by good Saint Mark, And after this our earthly strife Stand written in the Book of Life.
--	---

Then, clearly writ, the Godhead shone Serene and fair to look upon; And through that record still comes power To lighten souls in death's dark hour.	Praise God, who made the world so fair, And sent his Son our Saviour there, And by his Holy Spirit wist To teach the first Evangelist. Amen.
---	---

Anthem (from "The Mount of Olives") - Beethoven

Hallelujah! Hallelujah unto God's Almighty Son.
Praise the Lord, ye bright angelic choirs, in holy songs of joy.
Man, proclaim his grace and glory. Praise the Lord in songs of joy.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Adagio (Symphony V) - - Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1936.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
 Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
 from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Friday, May 1st, is SS. Philip and James' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

On the Third Sunday after Easter, May 3rd, at the request of the Bishop, a Missionary Address will be given in all parishes throughout the Diocese. In St. Mark's the sermon will be omitted. After High Mass the Address will be given by the Rector's Warden, Mr. George Wharton Pepper.

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday, April 29th. The luncheon on that day will be at 12.30 o'clock in the Penn Athletic Club. Tickets, costing $1.00, may be secured at the Church House, 202 S. 19th Street.

The Spring Presentation Service and in-gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held on Thursday, May 7th, at Calvary Church, Germantown, at 10.30 A. M. Bishop Taitt will be the Celebrant and Rev. Henry G. Mitchell, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Wayne, will preach. Contributions to the Offering should be sent, before May 1st, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Father Hughson, Superior, O. H. C., has written the following:—

'Father Huntington lies buried in the crypt of our Chapel at Holy Cross. We want to build over his tomb an altar as a memorial of his life and work. Dr. Cram has made a design which will cost about two thousand dollars.'

While no general appeal is being made for this work, the clergy and parishes have been informed of this plan, as there are no doubt many who would wish to have a part in the Father Huntington Memorial. Contributions should be sent direct to Rev. S. C. Hughson, O. H. C., West Park, N. Y.

There will be a Laymen's Retreat at vanRoden Farm, Media, beginning Friday afternoon, May 1st, and ending Sunday afternoon, May 3rd. The Conductor will be Father Chalmers of the Order of the Holy Cross. Expenses will be kept down to a minimum and will not exceed $6 per man. All who expect to attend are asked to notify Mr. E. Leroy vanRoden, 106 County Building, Media, Pa. Telephone, Media 1660. For further particulars see notice on Board in the porch.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Last Sunday, The Octave of Easter, we were thinking in church of Our Lord's appearance to the eleven disciples assembled in the room, the doors being shut. Saint Thomas was present, making the eleventh. After this appearance, Saint John tells us, "Jesus showed himself again to the disciples at the Sea of Tiberius: and on this wise shewed he himself. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, we also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately: and that night they caught nothing. But when the morning was come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith unto them, Children have ye any meat? They answered him, No. And He said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it in for the multitude of the fishes. Therefore the disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord."

We disciples who are keeping Eastertide in 1936 came to the Altar on Easter Day to see and worship and receive the Risen Lord, when it was yet very early. Then we returned to praise "for the glorious Resurrection of thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord: for He is the very Paschal Lamb, which was offered for us, and hath taken away the sin of the world: who by His death hath destroyed death, and by His rising to life again hath restored to us everlasting life."

Since Easter Day we have gone on in the glad observance of the Great Forty Days which will reach the climax on Ascension Day. Then we shall wait for Pentecost. Forty Days of praise and glory. The Liturgy reminds us that we are lauding and magnifying the glorious Name, with Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of heaven. We need the Angels to help us keep this Festival. It is comforting to remember that they are helping us.

On Easter Monday we remembered that we were but men. We all went back to work again. Out in the world Easter Monday was only another Monday. Just the first work day of another work week. The same old duties. They were no easier. The same old environment. It was no different. The same old discouragements. We came to the church whenever we could. An early Communion whenever it was possible. But it was difficult to arrange, for daily schedules were not elastic. A visit to pray and to make a meditation when we could. But the days left us little time for anything except the day's work. Perhaps we were disheartened. The glow of Easter devotion may have dimmed a little between Sundays. Worship may have seemed to be a luxury denied to us to some extent. And work may have seemed a drudgery.

It is just at this stage that we need encouragement. It is just in this experience of the first disciples that we find it. They went back to ordinary work. And in ordinary work they saw the Lord. They were glad again.

We are not Angels. We are humans. We have human work. Work is not often heroic or dramatic. It is just ordinary work. Sometimes after we have finished it, it seems unimportant. We only discover how important a commonplace work is when we neglect it. A neglected, unimportant work is a matter of serious importance. Who hasn't learned that? I think that we also have learned that the blessing attached to a required daily schedule of work is that it ensures our being in the right place at the right time all through the day. It is in these right places, wherever they are, that we may always see Jesus standing on the shore.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 31

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

May 3, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 464 The Church's One Foundation S.S. Wesley, 1864

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, alleluia; sing praises unto the honour of his Name, alleluia; make his praise to be exceeding glorious, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works, O Lord: through the greatness of thy power. Glory be.

Gloria Eleison - - Cavaliere, c. 1600

Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see me, saith the Lord Jesus: and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man taketh from you.

Hymn 180 Forty days of Eastertide William D. MacLagan, 1875

Crede - - - Cavaliere

Gloss. Praise the Lord, O my soul; while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Cavaliere

Communio. A little while, and ye shall not see me, alleluia: and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Cavaliere

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Mein Jesu, der du mich - Johannes Brahms

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 123, 124, 125 - Tones II-1, VII-7, VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is John B. Dykes, 1868

Anthem - - - Samuel Sebastian Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

To an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. Love one another with a pure heart fervently, see that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Herzliebster Jesu - Johannes Brahms

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
 Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
 from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Today, at the request of the Bishop, a Missionary Address will be given in all parishes throughout the Diocese. In St. Mark's the sermon will be omitted. After High Mass the Address will be given by the Rector's Warden, Mr. George Wharton Pepper.

The Corporate Communion of the St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, May 3rd, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, May 7th, at 3 P. M.

The Spring Presentation Service and in-gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held on Thursday, May 7th, at Calvary Church, Germantown, at 10.30 A. M. Bishop Taitt will be the Celebrant and Rev. Henry G. Mitchell, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Wayne, will preach.

The Annual Concert of the Minton Pyne Singers, under the direction of H. William Hawke, will be given on Wednesday evening, May 6, at 8.30 o'clock, in St. Mark's Parish Hall, 1625 Locust Street. Tickets of admission may be obtained from the Church Office at forty cents each. The Singers will be assisted by William Klensz, Violoncellist.

The Committee of the Supply Bureau invites the members of the Auxiliary to the Annual Exhibit of articles for Mission Fields on Wednesday, May 6th, at 202 S. 19th Street, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. and 7.30 P. M. to 9 P. M. Tea will be served.

The shelves of the Church Periodical Club book case are empty! All books and magazines may be left, with the name of the donor, at the Parish House, marked for C. P. C. They will be gratefully acknowledged and carefully distributed where they will be much appreciated.

Will you subscribe to a magazine to be sent to a missionary? Will you forward regularly one or more of your magazines to a missionary or shut-in? If you will, please write to the Secretary, C. P. C., 1625 Locust Street.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Saint Paul, in the fifteenth Chapter of First Corinthians, records the next appearance of Our Lord after His resurrection, to above five hundred brethren at once: "of whom," he writes, "the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep." "After that, he was seen of James: then of all the apostles. And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time."

This is the testimony of a witness whose "manner of life from his youth, which was at the first among his own nation at Jerusalem, and known of all the Jews; which knew him from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect he lived a Pharisee." This is the testimony of a witness whose manner of life is known of all Christians who revere him as Apostle and Martyr and of non-Christians of honest mind and good will who refer to him as a reliable expositor of the Christian Religion.

Today I suggest that you meditate upon the appearance of Our Lord to the five hundred at one and the same time. I know of no fact in history supported by such testimony of so many witnesses of such calibre. These witnesses had nothing to gain and everything to lose. As a matter of fact they did lose everything which is reckoned to be humanly desirable. They lost family ties, social security and personal safety. They realized all this. With impressive intrepidity they unanimously and unhesitatingly affirmed the fact which they could not and would not deny as honest men. Many of them sealed their testimony with their own blood.

I believe that if such testimony for any fact whatsoever were to be offered in any court in our own country today, that the principles of justice as we have come to know them, would arouse a country-wide sentiment in favor of the witnesses. If witness to the fact of the resurrection of Our Lord is to be the only exception, then I believe that the exception may fairly be attributed to invincible prejudice.

The five hundred are described as brethren. Each was intimately known in his own circle in the fellowship. Their names are not recorded for us to read. This matters not at all. They witnessed in their own time. We treasure their tradition. We share in the blessing that belongs to those who have not seen, and yet have believed.

We have our means of witnessing, which also we share with the multitude that no man can number, who have "continued steadfastly in the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread and in prayers." This witness of ours is not the least impressive, and certainly not less in importance. Just think for a moment what it means, remembering that it is the Lord's own appointed way of witness for us. Each one of us is honored by being numbered with the long, long, line of disciples of every race and tongue, who for nearly twenty centuries at the Altars of the Church, according to the institution of God's dearly beloved Son our Saviour Jesus Christ, do celebrate and make before the Divine Majesty, with the holy gifts, which we offer, the memorial God's Son hath commanded us to make; having in remembrance his blessed passion and precious death, his mighty resurrection and glorious ascension; rendering most hearty thanks for the innumerable benefits procured unto us by the same. This Eucharistic witness is the perpetual memorial commanded in the holy Gospel to be continued until his coming again.

This witness, impressive as it is, is no less impressive in the personal witness of each Christian, made possible by Holy Communion, whereby each Christian, receiving the most precious Body and Blood of Jesus Christ, is filled with grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with Him. The virtue of the indwelling life of Christ in the soul enables each Christian, each in his own vocation, to witness to the power, as well as the fact, of the resurrection. It is written concerning the first disciples, "when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled: and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus."

"And ye are witnesses of these things."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Easter

May 10, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 176 Jesus lives! - Henry J. Gauntlett, 1852

Introit. O sing unto the Lord a new song, alleluia; for the Lord hath done marvellous things, alleluia: in the sight of the nations hath he shewed his righteous judgments, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. With his own right hand, and with his holy arm: hath he gotten himself the victory. Glory be.

Glorie Eleison (Missa de Sancto Albano) Healey Willan

Alleluia. I go to him that sent me: but because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your hearts. Alleluia. I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go away. Alleluia.

Hymn 199 Our Blest Redeemer John B. Dykes, 1861

redo - - - Healey Willan

Fertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 534)
German Processional Melody, 14th century

Praise the Lord of heaven; praise him in the height;
Praise him, all ye Angels; praise him, stars and light;
Praise him, skies and waters, which above the skies.
When his word commanded, stablished did arise.

Praise the Lord, ye fountains of the deeps and seas,
Rocks and hills and mountains, cedars and all trees;
Praise him, clouds and vapours, snow and hail and fire,
Stormy wind fulfilling only his desire.

Praise him, fowls and cattle, princes and all kings;
Praise him, men and maidens, all created things;
For the name of God is excellent alone;
On the earth his footstool, over heaven his throne. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Healey Willan

Communio. When the Comforter, the Spirit of Truth, is come; he shall reprove the world of sin: and of righteousness, and of judgment, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Healey Willan

Epiphany. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Dorian Toccata - - J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms, 129, 130, 131 - Tonas IV-4, IV-6, VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Brewer in E flat

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest John B. Dykes, 1868

Anthem Melchior Vulpius, 1609, arranged by Henry G. Ley

The strife is o'er, the battle done;
Now is the Victor's Triumph won:
O let the song of praise be sung,
Hallelujah!

Death's mightiest powers have done their worst,
And Jesus hath his foes dispersed,
Let shouts of praise and joy outburst,
Hallelujah!

On the third morn he rose again,
Glorious in majesty to reign:
O let us swell the joyful strain,
Hallelujah!

Lord, by the stripes which wounded thee,
From death's dread sting thy servants free,
That we may live, and sing to thee,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Komm, heiliger Geist, Herre Gott - Buxtehude

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The shelves of the Church Periodical Club book case are empty! All books and magazines may be left, with the name of the donor, at the Parish House, marked for C. P. C. They will be gratefully acknowledged and carefully distributed where they will be much appreciated.

Will you subscribe to a magazine to be sent to a missionary? Will you forward regularly one or more of your magazines to a missionary or shut-in? If you will, please write to the Secretary, C. P. C., 1625 Locust Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

On these Sundays in Eastertide we have been meditating upon the appearances of Our Lord after His resurrection. We have been thinking of the disciples' joy in the personal presence of Our Lord. "He shewed unto them His hands and His side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord."

The Gospel for today takes us back to one of Our Lord's conversations with the disciples before the Crucifixion and Resurrection. Our Lord is preparing them for the day when his personal presence would be taken from them at His Ascension. He was teaching them that this withdrawal of his physical presence would be expedient for them. "If I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you." "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth."

With the coming of the Comforter the disciples would know the spiritual presence of Our Lord as they had not known it before. In this spiritual presence their hearts would rejoice, and that joy no man could take from them. We shall recall when we meditate on the Ascension that even then, before Pentecost, they could return to Jerusalem with great joy, believing in the promise of the abiding, spiritual presence of their Lord. After the coming of the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, their joy was full.

From that day to this the disciples of Our Lord have rejoiced in the real presence of Our Lord. The manifestation of the presence has been made known in the Breaking of Bread. The Real Presence of Our Lord in the Sacrament of His Body and Blood has been and ever will be the central reality of Christian worship and the supreme joy of Christian life. "What is the outward part or sign of the Lord's Supper? Bread and Wine, which the Lord has commanded to be received. What is the inward part, or thing signified? The Body and Blood of Christ, which are spiritually taken and received by the faithful in the Lord's Supper. What are the benefits wherof we are partakers thereby? The strengthening and refreshing of our souls by the Body and Blood of Christ, as our bodies are by the Bread and Wine." Signum. Res. Virtus. Sign. Thing. Power. These are the key-words of Eucharistic Faith and Worship. In one language or another these words have been kept, guarded and treasured by every community of Christians who have continued steadfastly in the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

As we approach Ascension Day and Pentecost, we must pray for the quickening of sacramental sensibilities to discern the Lord's Body. We must pray for the deepening of sacramental devotion, that in the Sacramental Presence of Our Lord we may find the fullness of joy. It is not an absent Christ whom we worship. It is not an absent Christ who reminds us of a future joy. It is a Present Christ whom we worship. It is a Present Christ who causes our hearts to rejoice in this present time.

"Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." "I am He that liveth, and was dead: and behold, I am alive for evermore." This is the lasting joy of Eastertide. This is the joy of all the year and all the years. Our Lord is alive for evermore. Our Lord is always with us. The first disciples were sustained by this joy through persecutions. This same joy has sustained disciples who have been and are enduring persecution.

We in our country of religious freedom have been spared that. Yet in our normal lives we find in our experiences of temptation, sorrow, sickness, anxiety, perplexity, our hearts failing us for fear. Anyone who has formed the habit of regular and frequent Communion knows well how unfailingly Our Lord keeps his promise. "Come unto me, all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. J. Emerson

No. 33

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Rogation Sunday

May 17, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 183 Lord, in thy Name thy servants plead James Turle, 1835

Introit With a voice of singing declare ye this, and let it be heard, alleluia: utter it even unto the ends of the earth; the Lord hath delivered his people, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) Everett Titcomb

Alleluia. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my Name: ask, and ye shall receive. Alleluia. Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion over him. Alleluia.

Hymn 181 O Jesus, crowned with all renown
Joseph Barnby, 1838-1896

Credo IV - - - Plainsong, Mode I

Offertory. O praise the Lord, our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: who holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip. Praised be the Lord who hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercy from me, alleluia.

Hymn 445 O God, our help in ages past William Croft, 1708

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Everett Titcomb

Communio. O sing unto the Lord, alleluia: sing unto the Lord, and praise his Name; by telling of his salvation from day to day, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - Everett Titcomb

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Carillon-Sortie in D - Henri Mulet

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 132, 133, 134 - Tones VI, VIII-3, VIII 1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Brewer in E flat

Hymn 182 To Thee our God we fly Charles Steggall, 1858

Motet (Crucem Sanctam subiit) Palestrina, 1525-1594

He endured the Holy Rood.
He whom Satan's host subdued;
Begirt with power was God, and then:
The third day saw Him rise agen,
Alleluia!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Angelus du Soir - Joseph Bonnet

Ascension Day

Thursday, May 21, 1936

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 186, 188

Ordinary of the Mass - Missa Dominicalis

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY OF THIS WEEK ARE ROGATION DAYS.

ON ASCENSION DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 21st, IN ADDI-TION TO THE USUAL MASSES AT 7, 7.45, AND THE
HIGH MASS AT 9.30, THERE WILL BE A LOW MASS
AT 12.10.

At the Spring Presentation of the United Thank Offering, held on May 7th, 1936, St. Mark's contributed $631.85, St. Mary's Chapel contributed $38.00 and St. Michael's Chapel contributed $9.25.

The weekly Sewing Class of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's finished their allotment of 91 garments, and in addition sent the following knitted articles: 14 sweaters, 4 scarves, 3 pairs of socks, 1 child's skirt, a baby sacque and wristlets.

The May Fete at the Episcopal Hospital will be held on Wednesday,
May 27th, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M. In addition to the many tables of attractive and useful articles, a Mexican Fiesta will be presented from 4 to 5 P. M. A cafeteria luncheon will be served. Come and bring your friends for entertainment and show them the Hospital.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1936.
ROGATION SUNDAY.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Ascension Day are called Rogation Days because they are days on which special prayers are said for fruitful seasons. The great day of this week is of course Ascension Day. We cannot and we would not fail in the grateful observance of this Festival.

Think of what it meant to Our Lord. Think of what it means to us. On Christmas Day we worshipped Our Lord Jesus Christ, who was "born as at this time for us, who by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary His Mother; and that without spot of sin, to make us clean from all sin."

At the Epiphany we worshipped "Jesus Christ our Lord; who in substance of our mortal flesh, manifested forth his glory; that he might bring us out of darkness into his own glorious light." In Holy Communion, in the Liturgy, in our prayers, we tried as best we could to follow the blessed steps of His most holy life. In heart and mind we lived with Him in Nazareth: We followed Him to the wilderness: We followed Him through His public ministry: We followed Him through the events of Holy Week; the Institution of the Sacrament of His Body and Blood; the Agony in the Garden; the Betrayal; the Judgment and Condemnation; the Crucifixion and the Death.

We followed Him to the Garden of the Resurrection and through the Forty Days of Eastertide. We followed Him in penitence, because it was for us men and for our salvation that He came and lived and suffered and died. We followed Him in hope, because it was for our justification that He rose again.

How can we refrain from following Him to the Mount on the day that commemorates His Ascension into heaven to sit on the right hand of the Father?
We worshipped Him when he descended. We must worship Him when He ascends. Christmas Day revealed His condescension. Ascension Day reveals His glory. "Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ. Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father."

Ascension Day is a supremely satisfying day. It celebrates the triumph of the Divine Saviour. The Son of God returns triumphantly from war. He has conquered Satan, sin and death. He has redeemed man. He has delivered him from the spirit of bondage to fear, and restored to him the spirit of adoption, whereby he may cry, Abba Father. He has made it possible for man to affirm confidently, "we are debtors not to the flesh to live after the flesh." He has made it possible for man, through the spirit, to mortify the deeds of the body. He has freed man from the law of sin and death. He has opened for man the door of repentance whereby he is made capable of receiving forgiveness of sins.

He has opened for man the channels of the infinite reservoir of grace whereby man may be regenerated, washed, sanctified, justified, transformed into a new creature. He has overcome death, and opened unto man the gate of everlasting life. He has won for man the inestimable gifts of the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting.

He has built for man His Church, One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic, against which the gates of hell shall not prevail. He has established that Church to be the ark of salvation, the treasury of truth, the refuge for sinners, and the home of saints. Within that Church penitents and saints live in mystic, sweet Communion with the faithful departed, with angels and archangels, and all the Company of Heaven, as one whole family in heaven and earth, fitly joined together and compact by that which every joint supplieth, that all may grow up into Him in all things, which is the head even Christ.

For all this and more than we can desire or deserve we owe Our Lord praise and thanks on the Festival of His Ascension into Heaven.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

May 24, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

ymns in { 191 Hail, thou once-despised Jesus!
 Procession { Ancient Dutch Melody
 186 Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates
Wm. Knapp, 1738

troit. Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? alleluia:
 in like manner as ye have seen him going up into heaven, so shall he come again, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O clap your hands together, all ye people: O sing unto God with the voice of melody. Glory be.

ymrie Eleison - - - Schubert in G

leluia. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet. Alleluia. Christ to highest heaven ascending, led captivity captive: and gave gifts unto men. Alleluia.

ymn 188 The head that once was crowned with thorns
Jeremiah Clark, 1709

edo - - - Schubert in G

tertory. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet, alleluia.

ymn 190 Crown Him with many crowns George J. Elvey, 1868

nctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in G

ommunio - - - Everett Titcomb, 1934

Sing ye to the Lord, who ascended the heaven of heavens: to the sun-rising, alleluia.

oria in Excelsis - - Schubert in G

tiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet
 Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

rgan—Prelude in E flat - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 46, 47 - - - Tones V-3, VII-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones VIII and III with polyphony
by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 193 Alleluia! sing to Jesus Samuel S. Wesley, 1868

Anthem - - - Henry Smart

O God, the King of glory, who hast exalted thine only Son Jesus Christ with great triumph unto thy Kingdom in heaven; We beseech thee, leave us not comfortless; but send to us thine Holy Ghost to comfort us, and exalt us unto the same place whither our Saviour Christ is gone before, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
 The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
 Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
 Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
 R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Heut' triumphiret Gottes Sohn - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

At the Spring Presentation of the United Thank Offering, St. Mark's lead the Diocese in the amount contributed.

The envelopes which are being distributed to you today are for your convenience in making your offering to the "Emergency Special" fund for Missions on Whitsunday.

The May Fete at the Episcopal Hospital will be held on Wednesday,
May 27th, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M. In addition to the many tables of attractive and useful articles, a Mexican Fiesta will be presented from 4 to 5 P. M. A cafeteria luncheon will be served. Come and bring your friends for entertainment and show them the Hospital.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's will hold a Fair for the five
Missionary Committees of the Auxiliary on December 2nd.
Members are asked to collect useful and fancy articles and books during the summer for it.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to Children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SUNDAY AFTER ASCENSION DAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"He was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight." "It came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven." "He ascended into heaven." "It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto thee, O Lord, Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God, through thy most dearly beloved Son Jesus Christ our Lord; who, after his most glorious Resurrection, manifestly appeared to all his Apostles, and in their sight ascended up into heaven, to prepare a place for us; that where he is, thither we might also ascend, and reign with him in glory." "Grant, we beseech thee, Almighty God, that like as we do believe thy only-begotten Son Our Lord Jesus Christ to have ascended into the heavens; so we may also in heart and mind thither ascend, and with him continually dwell."

This is the testimony of the Bible, the Creed, the Liturgy. This is the testimony to which Christians bear witness from the first beginnings in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea unto the uttermost part of the earth to the present day.

In the Collect for Ascension Day we pray that as we believe Our Lord to have ascended into the heavens; so we may in heart and mind thither ascend, and with him continually dwell. The fact of the Ascension of Our Lord is one of the Articles of the Christian Faith, as contained in the Apostles' Creed.

At Confirmation the Bishop's first question was, "Do ye here in the presence of God, and of this Congregation, renew the solemn promise and vow that ye made, or that was made in your name, at your Baptism; ratifying and confirming the same; and acknowledging yourselves bound to believe and do all those things which ye then undertook, or your sponsors undertook for you?" And every one of us audibly answered, "I do." We promised to believe and to do.

The Christian Faith is a living Faith in a living Lord. Note that in the Collects which memorialize the mysteries of Our Lord's life, there is always a petition that we may be given grace to do something, to make our faith a living faith. Look for these petitions in the Collects for Christmas Day, for Easter Day and for Ascension Day, "That we may also in heart and mind thither ascend, and with him continually dwell," not eventually, but now.

How are we to do this? The first thing to do is to saturate our minds with the words of the Bible, the Creed and the Liturgy. To do this we must read the words over and over again. We can do this most profitably by reading devotionally on our knees, first saying the Lord's Prayer and the Collect for the Second Sunday in Advent as a preparation. Then we should spend at least a few minutes, fifteen perhaps, and as much longer as we can, to quietly think of the meaning of the words, to visualize the scene as it is recorded, to become a part of it. Then we should ask ourselves what we should do to make ourselves actually a part of it. To ask what it all means to us in our own lives, here and now. Then we may end the meditation by saying the Collect for the day.

The next step will be to make the customary preparation for Holy Communion and to receive at the first opportunity. The words of the Liturgy convey the meaning of Holy Communion so clearly that we cannot fail to understand. "That we who shall be partakers of this Holy Communion, may worthily receive the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son Jesus Christ, be filled with thy grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with him, that he may dwell in us, and we in him."

You see? Holy Communion consummates what meditation contemplates. Meditation lifts up our hearts and minds to our Ascended Lord, but leaves us gazing up into Heaven. Holy Communion unites us with Our Lord in heaven itself.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The Feast of Pentecost

May 31, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

mnns in { 195 Hail! Festal Day - Luard-Selby, 1904
Procession { 197 Spirit of Mercy Samuel Webbe, 1782

Ps. The Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world, alleluia: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him. Glory be.

rie Eleison - - - Henschel in D

luia. O send forth thy Spirit, and they shall be made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. The Holy Spirit, proceeding from the throne, came down in unseen majesty: as on this day, upon the Twelve, purifying their most inward hearts.

uence—Hymn 196 Come, Thou Holy Spirit, Come
Samuel Webbe, 1782

do - - - Henschel in D

rtory. Stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in us: for thy temple's sake at Jerusalem, shall kings bring presents unto thee, alleluia.

nn - - - Winchester Old, 1592

en God of old came down from heaven, And as on Israel's awe-struck ear, power and wrath he came, The voice exceeding loud, re his feet the clouds were riven, The trump, that Angels quake to hear, alf darkness and half flame. Thrilled from the deep, dark cloud.

when he came the second time, So, when the Spirit of our God
e came in power and love: Came down his flock to find, er than gale at morning prime A voice from heaven was heard abroad, covered his holy Dove. A rushing, mighty wind.

fires that rushed on Sinai down It fills the Church of God: it fills sudden torrents dread, The sinful world around; gently light, a glorious crown, Only in stubborn hearts and wills n every sainted head. No place for it is found.

Come, Lord, Come, Wisdom, Love and Power,
Open our hearts to hear;
Let us not miss the accepted hour;
Save, Lord, by love or fear. Amen.

ctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Henschel in D

Communion - - - Everett Titcomb, 1934

I will not leave you comfortless; I will come to you yet again, alleluia: and your heart shall be joyful, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - Henschel in D

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Maestoso (Symphony I) - - Vierne

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 104 - - - Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones VIII and III with polyphony by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 475 O Spirit of the living God Samuel Webbe, 1782

Anthem - - - Charles Steggall

God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise. He stood, and measured the earth; He beheld, and drove asunder the nations, and the everlasting mountains were scattered, and the perpetual hills did bow.

His ways are everlasting. Hallelujah! Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, Alleluia.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, Alleluia.

Organ—Epithalame - - - Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Monday and Tuesday of this week there will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

Envelopes for the "Emergency Special" fund can be placed in the Offering today or sent in during the week to the Accounting Warden.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's will hold a Fair for the five
Missionary Committees of the Auxiliary on December 2nd.
Members are asked to collect useful and fancy articles and books during the summer for it.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

WHITSUNDAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"When the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place, And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost."

Eleven days after Our Lord's Ascension into Heaven to present Himself as our High Priest offering His sacrifice for us, the Holy Ghost came down as Our Lord had promised.

The Fifth Article of Religion states, "The Holy Ghost proceeding from the Father and the Son, is of one substance, majesty, and glory, with the Father and the Son, very and eternal God."

In the Nicene Creed we say, "I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Lord, and Giver of Life, Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son; Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified; who spake by the Prophets."

In the Collect for the Day, we pray, "O God, Who as at this time didst teach the hearts of thy faithful people, by sending to them the light of thy Holy Spirit; Grant us by the same spirit to have a right judgment in all things, and evermore to rejoice in His holy comfort."

In the Preface for Whitsunday, and six days after, we give thanks "through Jesus Christ Our Lord, according to whose most true promise, the Holy Ghost came down as at this time from heaven, lighting upon the disciples, to teach them, and to lead them into all truth; giving them boldness with fervent zeal constantly to preach the Gospel unto all nations; whereby we have been brought out of darkness and error into the clear light and true knowledge of thee, and of thy Son Jesus Christ."

When the Bishop, a successor of the Apostles, laid his hands upon our heads in Confirmation, he prayed, "Defend, O Lord, this thy child with thy heavenly grace; that he may continue thine for ever; and daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more, until he come unto thy everlasting Kingdom." Here you have the links of the chain which bind you in your parish church today with the Apostles on the day of Pentecost. The Sacrament of Confirmation is the means whereby the faithful people receive the Holy Ghost by the Laying on of Hands by the Successors of the Apostles.

Saint Paul wrote, "Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own. For ye are bought with a price: Therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit which are God's."

Personal devotion to the Holy Ghost, habitual prayer to the Holy Ghost, conscious reliance upon the fellowship of the Holy Ghost; these are the elements of Pentecostal devotion. It must be very personal. The Holy Ghost cleanses the thoughts of our hearts by His inspiration. The Holy Ghost gives us all holy desires, and all good counsels. The Holy Ghost gives us the directions of right judgment and the joy of holy comfort.

All this is, as you observe, taken from the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer. If we add the Collects which direct us to the Holy Ghost, and finally the prayer for a parish in the Office of Institution, we shall see that the Prayer Book is saturated with devotion to the Holy Ghost, and we shall see how large a place this devotion should have in our private prayers. One thing is certain. It is Our Lord's will that it should be so. "I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever: even the Spirit of truth."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 36

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

June 7, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Gymn in Procession, 525 I bind unto myself
Ancient Irish Melody

troit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the undivided Unity: we will praise and glorify him, because he hath shewed his mercy upon us.

Ps. Let us bless the Father and the Son: with the Holy Spirit. Glory be.

Gymn Eleison - - Lovelock in A minor

gradual. Blessed art thou, O Lord, which beholdest the great deep: and sittest upon the Cherubim. O bless the Lord of heaven: for he hath shewed mercy upon us.

Alleluia. Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and worthy to be praised for evermore. Alleluia.

Gymn 206 Father of all, whose love profound
John B. Dykes, 1866

redo - - - Lovelock in A minor.

Versatory. Blessed be God the Father, and the only begotten Son of God; and blessed be the Holy Spirit: for the mercy he hath done unto us.

Gymn 205 Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty
John B. Dykes, 1861

unctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock in A minor

ommunio - - - Everett Titcomb, 1934

Let us bless the God of heaven; and in the sight of all living will we give thanks unto him: because he hath done done to usward after his loving kindness.

Gloria in Excelsis - - Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

rgan—Prelude in C major (9-8 time) - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm's 93, 97 - - - Tones V-3, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light - Mode VIII

Anthem - - - Tschaikowsky

Blessed angel spirits offer praise undying,
Ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Saints and Martyrs praise thy Name, Trinity life-giving,
Earth-borne sorrow leaving before thy throne:

Father omnipotent, mighty in glory,
Christ thy Son, our Saviour, Who died that we might live,
Holy Spirit, mystic Dove; dwelling with us evermore,
We praise thee, blessed Trinity.

With the Angels' sacred hymn, all thy might proclaiming,
With the mystic cherubim, in songs of praise we join,
Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Toccata - - - Frescobaldi

Corpus Christi

Thursday, June 11, 1936

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 328, 339

Ordinary of the Mass - - Piggott in D

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THURSDAY, JUNE 11th, WILL BE THE FEAST OF
CORPUS CHRISTI. THE MASSES FOR COMMUNION
ARE AT 7 AND 7.45. THERE WILL BE A HIGH
MASS AT 9.30 AND A LOW MASS FOR BUSINESS
PEOPLE AT 12.10.

First Vespers of Corpus Christi will be said on Wednesday after Evensong. Second Vespers will be said on Corpus Christi after Evensong, followed by a business meeting of the Confraternity
of the Blessed Sacrament in the Parish Parlor.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's will hold a Fair for the five
Missionary Committees of the Auxiliary on December 2nd.
Members are asked to collect useful and fancy articles and books during the summer for it.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Catechism, that is to say, an Instruction, to be learned by Every Person before he be brought to be Confirmed by the Bishop, requires each person to "rehearse the Articles of thy Belief." It is to be remembered that for the most part these persons are children, under the spiritual care of sponsors who have promised to "take heed that this Child so soon as sufficiently instructed, be brought to the Bishop to be Confirmed by him." One part of this instruction provides that the child shall be able to say the Creed.

The Catechism follows the request for the rehearsal of the Articles of Belief with another question, "What dost thou chiefly learn in these Articles of thy Belief?" The answer to this question is: "First I learn to believe in God the Father, who hath made me, and all the world. Secondly in God the Son, who hath redeemed me and all mankind. Thirdly, in God the Holy Ghost, who sanctifieth me and all the people of God."

The Catechism leaves the matter at this point, resting upon the authority of the Church. It leaves the matter with a question which contains the arresting phrase, "What dost thou chiefly learn in these Articles of thy Belief?" Then the necessary steps for learning are prescribed. The moral Law governing conduct. The question once more, "What dost thou chiefly learn by these Commandments?" and the answer, "I learn two things: my duty towards God, and my duty towards my neighbor."

Then follows the instruction upon the necessity of special grace, and of the duty of constant and diligent prayer.

Then follows the instruction upon the Sacraments. The meaning of the word Sacrament; The preparation for reception; The benefits received.

From this point on the education in the science and art of prayer is provided by the Church in the Book of Common Prayer, which provides in the Liturgy for an ordered showing forth of the revelations of the Being of God, the mysteries of redemption, of the Church which conveys the means of grace, of the fellowship of the family of God in The Church Militant, Expectant and Triumphant, and the life of the world to come.

The duty of devout, frequent and habitual reception of the Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ is unceasingly enjoined. The penitential preparation is explained and directed.

The practise of private vocal prayer, of the reading of Holy Scripture, of meditation is no less insistently enjoined. The ways are opened and the method explained by which each person may advance toward whatever degree of contemplation the Holy Ghost wills for their attainment.

All the while the training and growth in penitence leads the person into the Way of Purgation. The experience of penitence in Sacraments and prayer develops the knowledge of God which will let in upon the soul the light which will shine more and more in the Way of Illumination. The experience in each and both together of the Ways of Purgation and Illumination leads into the more perfect love of God, which is the Way of Union.

This is the way by which we learn the meaning of the Articles of Belief which we receive on authority. In living the Christian life we learn to believe in God the Father who hath made us, in God the Son who hath redeemed us, in God the Holy Ghost who sanctifieth us. That which we believe of the Glory of the Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference of inequality, One God, one Lord, in Trinity of Persons, and in Unity of Substance.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Trinity

Within the Octave of Corpus Christi

June 14, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, thou Joy of loving hearts

Mode I

Introit. He fed them also with the finest wheat-flour, alleluia: and with honey from the rock hath he satisfied them.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our strength: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Altissime, Mode V

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O God: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed: he that eateth my Flesh, and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

Sequence

Mechlin Vesperale, Mode IV

Laud, O Syon, thy salvation,
Laud with hymns of exultation
Christ, thy King and Shepherd true.
Bring him all the praise thou knowest,
He is more than thou bestowest
Never canst thou reach his due.

Here beneath these signs are hidden
Priceless things to sense forbidden;
Signs, not things, are all we see;
Blood is poured, and Flesh is broken,
Yet in either wondrous token
Christ entire we know to be.

Full and clear ring out thy chanting,
Joy, nor sweetest grace be wanting,
From thy heart let praises burst;
For today the Feast is holden
When the institution olden
Of that Supper was rehearsed.

Whoso of this Food partaketh,
Rendeth not the Lord nor breaketh,
Christ is whole to all that taste.
Thousands are, as one, receivers,
One, as thousands of believers,
Eats of him who cannot waste.

Credo III

de Angelis, Mode V

Offertory. The priests of the Lord offer burnt offerings and bread unto God, and therefore shall they be holy unto their God, and shall not profane his Name. Alleluia.

Hymn 339 Let all mortal flesh keep silence

French Folksong

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

J. Guy Ropartz

Communio. As often as ye eat this Bread, and drink this cup, we do shew the Lord's death till He come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat this Bread and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily shall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord. Alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis

J. Guy Ropartz

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Cantabile

Jongen

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 19

Tone IV-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 25 All praise to Thee, my God, this night

Thomas Tallis, c. 1567

Anthem

Bachmetiev

Take the Body of Christ, O taste the source of immortality. Alleluia.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Antiphon: 'He remembering his mercy'

Dupre

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's will hold a Fair for the five
Missionary Committees of the Auxiliary on December 2nd.
Members are asked to collect useful and fancy articles and books during the summer for it.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

No. 38

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 21, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds Reinagle, 1836

Antroit. The Lord was my refuge and my upholder; and he brought me forth into a place of liberty: he delivered me because he delighted in me.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Claudio Casciolini

Gradual. When I was in trouble I called upon the Lord: and he heard me. Deliver, O Lord, my soul, from lying lips: and from a deceitful tongue.

Alleluia. God is a righteous Judge, strong and patient: and God is provoked every day. Alleluia.

Hymn 316 Jesus, the very thought of Thee Dykes, 1866

Credo III - - - de Angelis, Mode V

Offertory. Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul: O save me for thy mercies' sake.

Hymn 89 To the Name of our salvation Caspar Ett, 1840

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Claudio Casciolini

Communio. I will sing of the Lord, because he hath dealt so lovingly with me: yea, I will praise the Name of the Lord Most Highest.

Gloria in Excelsis - - de Angelis, Mode V

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Dir, dir, Jehovah, will ich singen - Karg-Elert

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 10 - - - Tone VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Plainsong, Mode VIII

Anthem - - - Palestrina

Like as the hart desireth the water-brooks, even so longeth my soul after Thee, O God.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Freu dich sehr, o meine Seele - Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Thursday is St. John the Baptist's Day. There will be a third Mass
at 9.30 A. M.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

No. 39

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Trinity

June 28, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 312 God of mercy, God of grace Henry Smart, 1866

Introit. Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, O Lord; for I am desolate, and in tribulation: look thou on mine affliction, and my travail; and forgive me all mine iniquities, O my God.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Claudio Casciolini

Gradual. O cast thy burden upon the Lord: and he shall nourish thee. When I cried unto the Lord, he heard my voice: from the battle that was against me.

Alleluia. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour. Alleluia.

Hymn 254 How wondrous and great thy works
Michael Haydn, 1737-1806

Credo III - - - de Angelis, Mode V

Offertory. They that know thy Name will put their trust in thee; for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee: O praise the Lord which dwelleth in Syon; for he forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest - John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Claudio Casciolini

Communion I have called unto thee, O God, for thou shalt hear me: incline thine ear unto me, and hearken unto my words.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - de Angelis, Mode V

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Fugue in G minor (the lesser) - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 91 - - - Tone VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 283 Forsaken once, and thrice denied
Edwin Drewett, 1887

Anthem • Melody by N. Herman, arranged by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the throne, a glorious band,
The Saints in countless myriads stand,
Of every tongue redeemed of God,
Arrayed in garments washed in blood,
Hallelujah!

Through tribulation great they came:
They bore the Cross, despised the shame:
From all their labours now they rest,
In God's eternal glory blest,
Hallelujah!

They see their Saviour face to face,
And sing the triumphs of his grace:
Him day and night they ceaseless praise,
To Him the loud thanksgiving raise:
Hallelujah!

Worthy the Lamb, for sinners slain,
Through endless years to live and reign:
Thou hast redeemed us by thy Blood,
And made us kings and priests to God,
Hallelujah!

O may we tread the sacred road
That Saints and holy Martyrs trod:
Wage to the end the glorious strife,
And win like them a crown of life,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Carillon - - - Delamarter

ARNOLD LYNCH, Deputy Organist.

Notices

Monday will be Saint Peter's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

At a recent meeting of the Vestry, Dr. Burton Chance was duly elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Philip H. Brice.

PLEASE TAKE THIS HOME WITH YOU FOR REFERENCE PURPOSES

Beginning on the first day of July, and continuing during July, August and September, the Services are as follows:

SUNDAY— 8.00 A. M.—Low Mass
10.30 A. M.—Matins
11.00 A. M.—High Mass
4.00 P. M.—Evensong

DAILY — 7.00 A. M.—Low Mass
9.00 A. M.—Matins
12.30 P. M.—Intercessions
5.00 P. M.—Evensong

Confessions—Saturdays, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

A Priest is always on duty. The Clergy House telephone number is Pennypacker 5195.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 2

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 11, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, thou Joy of loving hearts
Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Introit. Give peace, O Lord, to them that wait for thee, and let thy Prophets be found faithful: regard the prayers of thy servant, and of thy people Israel.
Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Cavaliere, c. 1600

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Alleluia The heathen shall fear thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy majesty. Alleluia.

Hymn 234 My God, I love Thee - Cologne, 1741

Credo - - - Cavaliere

Offertory. Moses consecrated an altar unto the Lord, offering burnt offerings upon it, and sacrificing peace offerings: and he made an evening sacrifice for a sweet-smelling savour unto the Lord God, in the sight of the children of Israel.

Motet - - - Tschaikowsky

Blessed Angel spirits offer praise undying, ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth. Saints and Martyrs praise thy Name, Trinity life-giving, earth-borne sorrow leaving before thy throne. Father omnipotent, mighty in glory, Christ thy Son, our Saviour, who died that we might live; Holy Spirit, mystic Dove, dwelling with us evermore; we praise thee, Blessed Trinity. With the Angels' sacred hymn, all thy might proclaiming; with the mystic Cherubim in songs of praise we join. Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Cavaliere

Communio. Bring presents, and come into his courts: O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Cavaliere

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Mein Jesu, der du mich - - Brahms

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 106 - - - Tone VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tonus Peregrinus, with faux-bourbons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 23 The day is past and over Arthur H. Brown, 1862

Motet - - - Alfred Whitehead, 1933

O Lord, support us all the day long of this troublous life, until the shadows lengthen, and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and our work done.

Then, Lord, in thy mercy, grant us safe lodging, a holy rest, and peace at the last; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Andantino con moto - Joseph Baichere

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercession will begin on Thursday, October 15th, and will continue on the third Thursday of each month through the month of May.

Intercession leaflets will be found on the table at the door of the church.

Those who take part are at liberty to choose any convenient quarter hour. It is recommended that Intercession preferably be made in the church before the Blessed Sacrament. Reminder post cards will be sent monthly.

An appointment card is posted in the porch for the use of those who desire to indicate a specific quarter hour.

Tickets of admission to the Missionary Meeting at the Academy of Music on Thursday, October 22nd, will be found on the table at the Church door.

In olden times it was customary to have an image of the Patron Saint on the north side of the High Altar and on the south side one of St. Mary.

The erection of the two statues in the Sanctuary is in memory of Gavin W. and Virginia M. Hart.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

October 25, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Introit. Everything that thou hast brought upon us, O Lord God, thou hast done in righteousness and judgment: for we have trespassed against thee; and have not obeyed thy commandments; but give glory and honour to thy Name, and deal with us according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

Ps. Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison . . . Orbis factor, Mode I

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. O God, my heart is ready, my heart is ready: I will sing and give praise with the best member that I have. Alleluia.

Hymn 256 Songs of praise the Angels sang Handel, 1728

Credo I . . . Mode IV, Sixth century

Offertory. By the waters of Babylon we sat down, and wept: when we remembered thee, O Syon.

Motet . . . Everett Titcomb

My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer, saith the Lord: in it every one that asketh receiveth: and he that seeketh findeth, and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

Let us bless the God of heaven; and in the sight of all living will we give thanks unto him: because he hath done to usward after his loving kindness.

Sanctus and Benedictus . . . Mode IV

Agnus Dei . . . Mode VIII

Communio. Remember thy word unto thy servant, O Lord, wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust: the same is my comfort in my affliction.

Gloria in Excelsis . . . Mode I

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue on the Kyrie . . . Couperin

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 118

Tone I-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and III, with faux-bourbons by Geoffrey Shaw

Hymn 265 Sing Alleluia forth in duteous praise
Wm. H. Monk, 1868

Motet . . . Bachmetev
Take the Body of Christ, O taste the source of immortality. Alleluia.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 . . . Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Exaudi orationem meam . . . Bottigliero

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Wednesday is the Feast of S. S. Simon and Jude. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The first Vespers of the Dead will be said at St. Mark's Church on Sunday night, November 1st, directly after Evensong. On Monday, November 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., and a Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M., and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M. Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.

The names of Departed Members to be remembered at the Altar on All Souls Day should be sent in not later than Wednesday, October 28th.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish Building, 1625 Locust Street, on Monday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

The Bishop's Committee to procure the necessary funds to defray the expenses of the Missionary Meeting which was held on Thursday in the Academy of Music asks if we will contribute from Ten to Twenty-five Dollars toward the amount. I would suggest that we contribute Twenty-five Dollars and I shall subscribe myself. If you are inclined to do likewise, will you send your contribution to the Parochial Secretary, marked for "Expenses of Missionary Meeting."

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held at the Church House on Thursday, November 5th. Contributions to the Offering may be sent during October to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 5

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

All Saints' Day

November 1, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession, 295 For all the Saints R. Vaughan-Williams

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy day in honour of all the Saints: in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Quinti Toni) Orlando di Lasso

Gradual. O fear the Lord, ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Alleluia. The Saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever. Alleluia.

Sequence Mode I

Spouse of Christ, in arms contending
O'er each clime beneath the sun,
Blend with prayers for help ascending
Notes of praise for triumphs won.

In your heavenly habitations,
In your blessed home on high,
Hear, ye Saints, our aspirations,
As to God we lift our cry.

As the Church today rejoices
All her Saints to join on high,
So from earth let all our voices
Rise in solemn harmony.

Ever praising, ever praying,
Help ye thus your brethren here,
That the will of God obeying
We in peace may persevere.

So may we, with hearts devoted,
Serve our God in holiness;
So may we, by God promoted,
Share that heaven which ye possess.

Credo di Lasso

Offertory. O God, how wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel, he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God. Alleluia.

Motet Percy Whitlock

Glorious in heaven are the souls of all Saints, who walked in the way of Christ the Lord Jesus: They loved him and followed his footsteps: and as they died for the Saviour, losing life for his sake, They reign with him for ever. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei di Lasso

Communio. The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God: and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: but they are in peace.

Gloria in Excelsis di Lasso

Antiphon. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna, and a new name.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Gaudeamus

Everett Titcomb

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 112, 121 Tones VII-5, I 4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III, with polyphony by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 302 How bright these glorious spirits shine!
Joseph Barnby, 1838-1896

Motet Bortniansky

How great in Sion thou art praised, no mortal tongue, O Lord, can tell. Above the sky thy Throne is raised, all of earth's creatures laud thee well. O Lord, thy greatness everywhere reigneth, all things thy heavenly might ordaineth.

The lamb of gold upon thine Altar showeth to us thine effigy. We sing to thee with lyre and psalter, Incense and myrrh we bring to thee. Borne in the clouds from censers burning riseth to thee our heart's deep yearning.

The sun's bright rays to us thou ledest, thy love is like a father's love, The hungry ones with manna feedest, callest us to thy realms above. The sinner fears thy visitation, But to the blessed comes salvation.

O God, unto thy heavenly dwelling send we our voices e'er anew. Our hearts' deep yearning ever telling, flow forth our tears like morning dew. An Altar in our hearts we raise thee, ever, O Lord, we sing and praise thee.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Toccata per l'Elevazione Frescobaldi

All Souls' Day

November 2, 1936

Missa pro defunctis Plainchant
Sequence Hymn 65 Modes I and II

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, November 1st, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, November 5th, at 3 P. M. The Rector will make the address.

The first Vespers of the Dead will be said this evening, directly after Evensong. Tomorrow there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., and a Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls will be held in the Parish Building tomorrow, immediately after the Requiem High Mass.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M., and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M. Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.

The Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be held at the Church House on Thursday, November 5th. Contributions to the Offering may be sent to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

November 8, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 299 Let saints on earth in concert sing
Day's Psalter, 1562

Introit. If thou, O Lord, wilt be extreme to mark iniquities, Lord, who may abide it: for unto thee belongeth mercy, O God of Israel.

Ps. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Cavaliere, c.1600

Gradual. Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is: brethren, to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head: that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard.

Alleluia. He healeth those that are broken in heart: and bindeth up their wounds. Alleluia.

Hymn 465 We love the place, O God Henry L. Jenner, 1861

Credo Cavaliere

Offertory. Remember me, O Lord, King of all power: and put a well-ordered speech in my mouth, that my words may be pleasing in thy sight.

Motet T. Tertius Noble

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God,
Nor hurt, nor torment cometh them anigh,
O only hope of immortality,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God,
To eyes of men unwise they seemed to die,
They are at peace, O fairest liberty,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

On earth as children chastened by love's rod,
As gold in furnace tried, sonow on high
They shine like stars, a golden galaxy,
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Cavaliere

Communio. I say unto you, there is joy among the Angels of God: over one sinner that repenteth.

Gloria in Excelsis Cavaliere

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral Sauvrezis

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 136 Tone III-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III, with polyphony by Everett Tilcomb

Hymn 297 Hark! the sound of holy voices John B. Dykes, 1871

Motet Palestrina

Very Bread, good Shepherd, tend us, Thou who all things canst and knowest,
Jesus, of thy love befriend us. Who on earth such food bestowest.
Thou refresh us, thou defend us, Grant us, with thy Saints, though lowest,
Thine eternal goodness send us Where the heavenly Feast thou showest
In the land of life to see. Fellow-heirs and guests to be. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody
O Saving Victim, opening wide All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below, For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side, O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow. In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Auf meinen lieben Gott Johann Kuhnau

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a meeting of St. Mark's Altar Society in the Parish Parlor on Thursday morning, November 12th, directly after the 9.30 Mass.

THE GUILD OF ALL SOULS

Founded March, A. D. 1873

OBJECTS :

1st. Intercessory Prayer. 1: 1: for the Dying; 2: for the Repose of the Souls of Deceased Members, and all the Faithful Departed.

2nd. To provide furniture for burials, according to the use of the Catholic Church, so as to set forth the two great doctrines of the "Communion of Saints," and the "Resurrection of the Body."

3rd. The publication and distribution of literature pertaining to the objects of the Guild.

Persons desiring to become Members of St. Mark's Branch are requested to write to the Secretary, Mrs. David English Dallam, 2034 Locust Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity

November 15, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 305 O for a closer walk with God John B. Dykes, 1875

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa de Sancto Albano) - Healey Willan

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and puttest them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 225 My spirit on thy care Louis Bourgeois, 1551

Credo - - - - - Willan

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Motet - - - Henry Aldrich, 1647-1710

Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well the voice of my complaint; for if thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss, O Lord, who may abide it. For there is mercy with thee, therefore shalt thou be feared.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Willan

Communio. Verily, I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray: believe that ye receive them, and it shall be done unto you.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Willan

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Adagio - - - C. Ph. E. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 140, 141 - - -

Tones III-5, VIII-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - -

Orlando Gibbons in A flat

Hymn 11

O Trinity of blessed light

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Motet - - - - -

Ahle-Bach

Jesu, joyaunce of my heart,
Blessed Jesu;

Bliss unto my soul thou art,
Holy Jesu;

Sure defence from Satan's dart,
Sweetest Jesu; Jesu, sweetest Jesu,

Nought is lovelier than thou,
Dearest Jesu;

None is friendlier than thou,
Gentlest Jesu:

Nor is any sweet as thou,
Sweetest Jesu; Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - -

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Fughetta - - -

J. E. Rembt

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26th, all Offerings will be for the Episcopal Hospital. Special envelopes for this Offering, for the benefit of those who are not already supplied with them, will be found on the table at the door.

The Minton Pyne Singers will give a Concert in the Parish Hall of St. Michael's Chapel, Yeadon, on Tuesday evening, November 17th, at 8 P. M.

There will be a Fair in the Parish Building on Wednesday, December 2nd, from 2 to 6 P. M. for Missions.

Persons are asked to contribute flowers, books, useful and fancy articles, cake and candy, which can be left at the Parish Building.

THE GUILD OF ALL SOULS

Founded March, A. D. 1873

OBJECTS :

1st. Intercessory Prayer. 1: 1: for the Dying; 2: for the Repose of the Souls of Deceased Members, and all the Faithful Departed.

2nd. To provide furniture for burials, according to the use of the Catholic Church, so as to set forth the two great doctrines of the "Communion of Saints," and the "Resurrection of the Body."

3rd. The publication and distribution of literature pertaining to the objects of the Guild.

Persons desiring to become Members of St. Mark's Branch are requested to write to the Secretary, Mrs. David English Dallam, 2034 Locust Street.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 8

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent

November 22, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High. Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 255 O worship the King, all glorious above
William Croft, 1708

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Aeterna Christi munera) Palestrina

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 309 Before Jehovah's awful throne Hamburg, 1690

Credo IV Mode I

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Motet Tschaikowsky

O praise the Lord, laud ye the Name of the Lord; praise it, O ye servants of the Lord. Alleluia.

O praise Him. Praised be the Lord out of Zion! Praised be the Lord, who dwelleth at Jerusalem. Alleluia.

O commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass. Alleluia.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Casciolini

Communio. Verily, I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray: believe that ye receive them, and it shall be done unto you.

Gloria in Excelsis Palestrina

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasia Pachelbel

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 148, 149, 150 Tones VII-2, VI, Peregrinus

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Orlando Gibbons in A flat

Hymn 253 The God of Abraham praise Hebrew Melody, 1770

Motet Sterndale Bennett

God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth. For the Father seeketh such to worship Him.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,

R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Fantasia F. W. Zachow

Thanksgiving Day

November 26, 1936

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 422, 421

Ordinary of the Mass Missa Dominicalis, Plainchant

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a Solemn High Mass at 9.30.

ALL OFFERINGS ON THANKSGIVING DAY WILL BE
FOR THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.

The following is quoted from a letter received from Bishop Taitt regarding the Thanksgiving Day Offering for the Episcopal Hospital.

"On Thursday, November 26, we meet in our respective Churches to thank God for His benefits and blessings in the past year. It is fitting that we should make an offering to Him for His goodness to us.

"No appeal could be greater than that of the Episcopal Hospital. Here we have the sick and suffering, whose distresses are alleviated and to whom health and strength may be restored. This Hospital receives no State aid, and has many more free than paying patients. It is one of the largest and best equipped hospitals in the world. While there is a watchful care over all its expenditures, the cost of maintenance is large.

"Its expanding work is evidenced by the comparison of this year with last.

	1936	1935	Increase
No. of patients admitted	5,532	5,251	281
No. of patient days	93,127	88,116	5,011
Dispensary visits	100,920	100,436	484

"That it may continue this blessed work, it must receive generous contributions. Will not every member of this Church, with a liberal offering, remember this great Institution for suffering humanity, on the day when we thank God for His mercies to us."

There will be a Fair in the Parish Building on Wednesday, December 2nd, from 2 to 6 P. M. for Missions.

Persons are asked to contribute flowers, books, useful and fancy articles, cake and candy, which can be left at the Parish Building.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

No. 9

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia * Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent

November 29, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 53 Hosanna to the living Lord! John B. Dykes, 1865

Introit. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Ps. Shew me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) - Everett Titcomb

Gradual. For all they that look for thee: shall not be ashamed, O Lord. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

Alleluia. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

Hymn 56 Thy kingdom come! - Day's Psalter, 1562

Credo IV - - - Mode I

Offertory. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Hymn 66 O come, O come, Emmanuel - Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Titcomb

Communio. The Lord shall shew loving kindness: and our land shall give her increase.

Motet - - - Palestrina

Very Bread, good Shepherd, tend us Thou who all things canst and knowest,
Jesus, of thy love befriend us. Who on earth such food bestowest.
Thou refresh us, thou defend us Grant us, with thy Saints, though lowest,
Thine eternal goodness send us Where the heavenly Feast thou showest
In the land of life to see, Fellow-heirs and guests to be. Amen.

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Kleines harmonisches Labyrinth - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 96, 97 - - - Tones VIII-1, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 267 (verses 1, 2, 19, 20) - Frederic Weber, 1856
From all Thy Saints in warfare

Motet - - - Healey Willan

Lo, in the time appointed the Lord will come; the mountains and the hills shall break forth into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands: for the Lord God shall come into his everlasting kingdom: and upon the throne of David shall he reign for ever. Alleluia.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.
All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Adagio (Fantasie in C) - Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday is St. Andrew's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and friends of St. Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, Philadelphia, December 10th. Conductor, The Rev. William Hoffman, S.S.J.E., Church of S. Mary the Virgin, New York City. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A.M. and ends at 4 P.M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

There will be a Fair in the Parish Building on Wednesday, December 2nd, from 2 to 6 P. M. for Missions.

Persons are asked to contribute flowers, books, useful and fancy articles, cake and candy, which can be left at the Parish Building.

At the Fall Presentation of the United Thank Offering on November 5th, 1936, the following amounts were given: From St. Mark's, $245; from St. Mary's Chapel, $44; from St. Michael's Chapel, Yeadon, $13.28.

THE GUILD OF ALL SOULS

Founded March, A. D. 1873

OBJECTS:

1st. Intercessory Prayer. 1: 1: for the Dying; 2: for the Repose of the Souls of Deceased Members, and all the Faithful Departed.

2nd. To provide furniture for burials, according to the use of the Catholic Church, so as to set forth the two great doctrines of the "Communion of Saints," and the "Resurrection of the Body."

3rd. The publication and distribution of literature pertaining to the objects of the Guild.

Persons desiring to become Members of St. Mark's Branch are requested to write to the Secretary, Mrs. David English Dallam, 2034 Locust Street.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

One of the questions in the Prayer Book Offices of Instruction reads, "What is your bounden duty as a member of the Church?" The answer reads, "My bounden duty is to follow Christ, to worship God every Sunday in His Church; and to work and pray for the spread of His Kingdom."

Today as we begin the Christian Year, we shall do wisely and well if we consider our bounden duty in its observance.

The catechetical instruction quoted above authoritatively defines our duty. The instruction, as you may observe, emphasizes duty rather than discipline. The word 'duty' conveys the idea of personal responsibility. It implies an interior personal obligation, the fulfilment of which determines our integrity. Mere discipline with its promises of reward for obedience and of punishment for disobedience has some place and usefulness in controlling those who are not naturally inclined to keep the law. But obedience enforced under pressure of fear indicates nothing more than self-regarding caution. Only voluntary response to an accepted obligation attains to virtue. Whatever we do must be done through love not fear.

"Perfect love casteth out fear. There is no fear in love. He that feareth (that is with servile fear) is not made perfect in love." Holy fear we must all have and pray for daily increase, because it is one of the Seven Gifts of the Holy Ghost, given to us in the Sacrament of Confirmation. Holy Fear is loving anxiety to please God. It moves us to regard our duty toward God as a bounden duty of love. This being the nature of Holy Fear, we can readily see how it is closely related with another of the Seven Gifts—True Godliness—which is reverent and loving piety.

My point about all this is that such a conception of duty is more compelling than the conception of duty based on servile fear. The very fact that we are inspired by the duty of love places upon us an obligation which cannot be disregarded. There is no discipline so rigorous as the discipline of conscience. It is far better to be ruled by love than by fear, but the individual responsibility is far greater and more grave. We must always remember this.

"My bounden duty is to follow Christ." This is a very definite duty. The observance of the Christian Year is the school in which we are trained to literal obedience. The Church takes us to the Manger in Bethlehem and leads us step by step to the Cross, and beyond to the very gate of Heaven. The Church makes each season live and make us live in it and through it. By the teaching of the Scriptures the facts are rehearsed. By the teaching of the Liturgy the scenes are reproduced. By the teaching of the Prayers the hearts of the worshippers are lifted up to the Lord.

By the Eucharistic Sacrifice, the entire Gospel is shown forth in one sublime act of sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving.

By the action of Holy Communion the Christian is made one with Christ, that, assisted with His grace, he may do all such good works as God has prepared for him to walk in.

So the way of life and the means of grace are set before us, to the end that we may fulfil the three-fold bounden duty, "to follow Christ, to worship God every Sunday in His Church; and to work and pray for the spread His Kingdom."

Here we arrive at the centre of religion. Religion can be nothing less than the centre of life. It can never be a secondary consideration, a mere side issue. It must be the centre from which we work out to the circumference. Religion only can widen as well as deepen life. Our Lord said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent

December 6, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 58 O Word of God Incarnate Meiningen, 1693

Introit. O people of Sion, behold, the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations: and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard.

Ps. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevis No. 1) Healey Willan

Gradual. Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beauty. Gather my saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice.

Alleluia. For the powers of heaven shall be shaken: and they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Alleluia.

Hymn 59 Lord, thy Word abideth Ave Hierarchia, 1567

Credo III Mode V

Offertory. Wilt not thou turn again, O God, and quicken us; that thy people may rejoice in thee: shew us thy mercy, O Lord; and grant us thy salvation.

Hymn 57 Lo, He comes with clouds descending Cantus Diversi, 1751

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Healey Willan

Communio. Jerusalem, haste thee, and stand on high: and behold the joy and gladness that cometh unto thee from God thy Saviour.

Motet Ahle-Bach

Jesu, joyaunce of my heart,	Nought is lovelier than thou,
Blessed Jesu;	Dearest Jesu;
Bliss unto my soul thou art,	None is friendlier than thou,
Holy Jesu;	Gentlest Jesu;
Sure defence from Satan's dart.	Nor is any sweet as thou,
Sweetest Jesu; Jesu, sweetest Jesu.	Sweetest Jesu; Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Vorspiel Joseph Haas, Op. 88

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 25, 26 Tones 1-10, VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 55 Come, thou long-expected Jesus Gotha, 1715

Motet Henry Aldrich, 1647-1710

Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well the voice of my complaint; for if thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss, O Lord, who may abide it. For there is mercy with thee, therefore shalt thou be feared.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—In Te confido Bottiglieri

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made
Sunday, December 6th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, December 10th, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Miss Charlotte L. Brown, who will talk about Mission work in Nevada.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and friends of St.
Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831
Pine Street, Philadelphia, December 10th. Conductor, The Rev. William Hoffman, S. S. J. E., Church of S. Mary the Virgin,
New York City. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge.

We are again planning the usual Christmas cheer and entertainment for the people at St. Mary's and St. Michael's, as well as for the Choir and Acolytes here. May we ask all those who wish to have a part in this endeavor to kindly send in their contributions to the Christmas Fund as early as convenient.

Church Kalendars, Religious Christmas Cards, Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book, 1712 Locust Street.

The ladies in charge of the Fair, held on Wednesday afternoon, wish to thank all the members of the congregation for their interest and generous support in making the undertaking a success.
The amount realized for the five Missionary Committees is approximately $194.00.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

There can be no uncertainty about the message for the Second Sunday in Advent. The Collect, Epistle and Gospel direct us to cultivate the devotional use of the Scriptures.

The Collect is a prayer that "we may in such wise hear them, read, mark, learn and inwardly digest them; that by patience and comfort of thy holy Word, we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life, which thou hast given us in our Saviour Jesus Christ."

The Epistle tells us that "whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

The Gospel gives us Our Lord's own words, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away."

One of the questions asked by the Bishop at the Ordination of Priests is, "Are you persuaded that the Holy Scriptures contain all Doctrine required as necessary for eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ? And are you determined, out of the said Scriptures, to instruct the people committed to your charge; and to teach nothing, as necessary to eternal salvation, but that which you shall be persuaded may be concluded and proved by the scriptures?" The answer of the Priest is, "I am so persuaded, and have so determined by God's grace."

Two things must be remembered as guides to Bible reading. The first is,
"that no prophecy of scripture is of any private interpretation."

"The Church teaches and defines, while the Bible confirms and illustrates, everything that is necessary to be believed. Nothing may be held that contradicts Catholic doctrine, and nothing may be required to be believed as necessary to salvation that is not contained in the Scriptures." (Hall—Authority, Ecclesiastical and Biblical.)

The second thing to be remembered is "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

Spiritual discernment requires spiritual gifts. Spiritual gifts are conferred through the Sacraments.

Baptism conveys the Virtues of Faith, Hope, Charity.

Confirmation conveys the Gifts of Wisdom, Knowledge, Counsel, Understanding, Ghostly Strength, True Godliness, Holy Fear.

The subsequent Sacramental life of the Church removes interior hindrances to discernment in the Sacrament of Penance and advances the soul in grace, in Holy Communion, enabling it to stir up the gifts received and by the exercise of the gifts to make progress in spiritual discernment.

The Church provides that each Baptized person shall be duly instructed in all things that a Christian ought to know and believe to his soul's health. What the Church teaches by the spoken word, she confirms by the written word of the scriptures, of which she is custodian and interpreter.

The Church by her Liturgy teaches the faithful to commemorate the facts of the Faith and to render the sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving. At the same time she educates in the science and art of prayer, encouraging perseverance in the practice of prayer, advancing each soul, in proportion to its capacity and conformity to its vocation, along the ascent in the prayer life; vocal, mental, affective, simple, contemplative. In her Scriptures she teaches that "there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit, and that the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal."

With this background of careful instruction the Church saturates the minds of the faithful with the words of Holy Scripture, and bids each form and develop the daily habit of reading, marking, learning and inwardly digesting some spiritual truth contained in Holy Scripture. I do not for a moment expect that there will be a rigid uniformity in practice, but I expect without fear of disappointment, that all of us alike, through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, will embrace, and ever hold fast, the blessed hope of everlasting life.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent

December 13, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 317 The Lord my pasture shall prepare Henry Carey, 1723

Introit. Rejoice ye in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice ye; let your moderation be known unto all men, the Lord is at hand: be careful for nothing, nor troubled; but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

Ps. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding: shall keep your hearts and minds. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Aeterna Christi Munera) Palestrina

Gradual. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubim: stir up thy strength and come. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia. Stir up thy strength, O Lord: and come and help us. Alleluia.

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding W. H. Monk, 1850

Credo III Mode V

Offertory. O Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land; thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob: thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people.

Hymn 61 Rejoice, rejoice, believers! Henry Smart, 1856

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Palestrina

Communio. Say to them that are of a fearful heart: Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come and save you.

Motet Gastoldi, 1591

Jesus, all-holy,
Gentle and lowly,
Snow-white lily of the vale:
Sovran supernal,
Son of th'Eternal,
Born of Mary-maiden, hail!
Thou art our Master,
Monarch and Pastor,
Priest, Interceder,
Prophet and Leader,
Refuge, Defender,
Loving and strong.
Fountain of gladness,
Solace in sadness,
More than a brother,
Father or mother,
To thee we render
Tribute of song.

Jesus, we bless thee,
Worship, confess thee;
Shepherd of the sheep thou art:
Shelter, protect us,
Tend and direct us,
Strong of arm, and kind of heart:
Shadow and moonlight
Turn into noon-light;
Soften the scorner,
Comfort the mourner,
Rule our behaviour,
Order our way:
Bide with us, giving
Grace to the living,
Shrift to the dying
Freely supplying,
Be thou our Saviour
Ever and aye.

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in D minor Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 93, 94 Tones V-3, IV-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III, with polyphony by Healey Willan

Hymn 62 Wake, awake, for night is flying Philip Nicolai, 1599

Motet Heinrich Albert, 1642

Lo, he comes! let all adore him:
'Tis the God of grace and truth.
Go, prepare the way before him,
Make the rugged places smooth:
Lo, he comes! the mighty Lord:
Great his work and his reward.

Let the valleys all be raised,
Go and make the crooked straight:
Let the mountains be abased,
Let all nature change its state:
Through the desert mark a road,
Make a highway for our God.

From the hills and lofty mountains
Rivers shall be seen to flow;
There the Lord will open fountains,
Hence supply the plains below:
As he passes, every land
Shall confess his powerful hand. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.
All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Andantino Maurice Blazy

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ARE EMBER DAYS.

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercessions.

The last Missionary Offering for this year will be received next Sunday, the Fourth Sunday in Advent. All Offerings on that day are for Missions.

May we ask that all who are able to help us in our Christmas plans for the people at the two Missions, as well as the Choir and Acolytes here, send in their contributions as early as convenient? This will enable us to proceed accordingly with our plans.

Church Kalendars, Religious Christmas Cards, Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book, 1712 Locust Street.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Shop

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The words "ministers and stewards of mysteries" occur in the Collect and Epistle for today. The word "minister" means a servant. The word "steward" means one who administers under the authority of his master that for which he must render account. The word "mysteries" means, as it is used here, the spiritual truths revealed by God to those who are prepared to receive them. This is the standard set before us by Saint Paul. "Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God." This is the first point for our meditation today.

The next point is made clear by the words which occur in the Collect: "Grant that the ministers and stewards of thy mysteries, may likewise so prepare and make ready thy way by turning the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just," as Saint John the Baptist prepared the way for Our Lord's first coming.

The two points may be summed up in two Statements:

(1) The Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church, Bishops, Priests and Deacons, must always remember that they are the subordinate ministrants of gifts beyond their human power to bestow. They are stewards of mysteries beyond their human right to minimize.

(2) We, clergy and laity alike, must always remember that unless we are prepared by repentance, that is the turning of our disobedient hearts to the wisdom of the just, we are incapable of receiving the gifts and discerning the mysteries.

So, as we pray at Embertide, we find ourselves meekly kneeling on our knees, each according to our vocations and ministries; Bishops, Priests, Deacons, Ordinals, Communicants whose august honor it is to carry the Lord Christ enshrined in their hearts, praying for that flawless humility which banishes self-consciousness and cries, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me," cries the Bishop. "I lay my hands anointed with Divine power and Apostolic authority upon the heads of men, and Christ in me perpetuates the Christian Ministry. I lay my hands anointed with Divine power and Apostolic authority upon the heads of Baptized Christians, and they receive the Holy Ghost."

"I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me," cries the priest. "By His power committed to me in the Laying on of Apostolic Hands, I Baptize, and souls are made regenerate with the Holy Spirit, and received as members of Christ, children of God, and are incorporated into the Holy Church. I, by Christ's authority committed to me, absolve penitents from all their sins, and whomsoever I loose on earth is loosed in Heaven. I take the bread, give thanks and break it. I repeat the words of my Lord's Institution, 'This is my Body.' I take the cup, give thanks and repeat the words, 'This is my blood.' I offer the Sacrifice that we and all the whole Church may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of His Passion. I administer to the Faithful the Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ, and their bodies and souls are preserved unto everlasting life."

"I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me," cries the Christian. "I am filled with my Lord's grace and heavenly benediction. I am made one body with Him, that He may dwell in me, and I in Him. I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me. By the virtue of His indwelling life I can overcome the temptations of the world, the flesh, and the devil. By His grace I can follow where He has gone before. By His grace I can continually mortify my corrupt affections. By my Communion with Him, I can, unafraid, be buried with Him and pass through the grave and gate of death. By the power of His resurrection, I can pass to my joyful resurrection."

Are we "low church"? Yes, as low as the last and the least and the worst of us in the abasement of our penitence. Are we "high Church"? Yes, as high as Our Lord Christ, who with the Holy Ghost, is most high in the glory of God the Father.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Advent

December 20, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 54 Hark! the glad sound! Edward Hodges, 1641

Introit. Remember us, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit us with thy salvation: that we, beholding the felicity of thy chosen, may rejoice in the gladness of thy people; and may glory with thine inheritance.
Ps. We have sinned with our fathers: we have done amiss and dealt wickedly. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevis No. 1) Healey Willan

Gradual. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him: yea, all such as call upon him faithfully. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy Name.

Alleluia. Come, O Lord, and tarry not: forgive the misdeeds of thy people. Alleluia.

Hymn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God! Leighton G. Hayne, 1863

Credo III - - - - - Mode V

Offertory. Be strong, fear not; behold, our God will come with a recompense: he will come, and save us.

Hymn 66 O come, O come, Emmanuel - - - Mode I

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Healey Willan

Communio. Behold, a Virgin shall conceive, and bear a Son: and his Name shall be called Emmanuel.

Motet - - - Bohm Bruder, 1694, harm. by Bach

Once He came in blessing,
All our ills redressing,
Came in likeness lowly,
Son of God most holy;
Bore the Cross to save us,
Hope and freedom gave us.

Still He comes within us,
Still his voice would win us,
From the sins that hurt us
Would to truth convert us,
From our foolish errors
Ere He comes in terrors.

Thus if thou hast known Him,
Not ashamed to own Him,
Nor dost love Him coldly,
But will trust Him boldly;
He will now receive thee,
Heal thee, and forgive thee.

Antiphon O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in E minor - - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 84 - - - - - Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III, with polyphony by Healey Willan

Hymn 269 O Thou who didst, with love untold
Scottish Psalter, 1615

Motet - N. Herman, 1560, arranged by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the Throne, a glorious band, The Saints in countless myriads stand, Of every tongue redeemed of God, Arrayed in garments washed in blood, Hallelujah!	They see their Saviour face to face, And sing the triumphs of his grace: Him day and night they ceaseless praise, To Him the loud thanksgiving raise: Hallelujah!
---	---

Through tribulation great they came: They bore the Cross, despised the shame: From all their labours now they rest, In God's eternal glory blest, Hallelujah!	Worthy the Lamb, for sinners slain, Through endless years to live and reign: Thou hast redeemed us by thy Blood, And made us kings and priests to God, Hallelujah!
---	--

O may we tread the sacred road
That Saints and holy Martyrs trod:
Wage to the end the glorious strife,
And win like them, a crown of life,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Aria in F - - - Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Monday is St. Thomas' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

The hours for Confession on Christmas Eve are 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M. Also by appointment.

The Services on Christmas Day will be as follows:

7, 8 and 9 A. M.—Masses for Communion
11 A. M.—Procession, Solemn High Mass and Sermon
5 P. M.—Said Evensong

Saturday is St. Stephen's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

If you have not turned in your subscription blank for 1937, will you please do so as soon as conveniently possible. If you have not received a subscription blank, you can obtain one at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Our Christmas Fund is still open for those who wish to help us in our Christmas plans.

Church Kalendars, Religious Christmas Cards, Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Epistle for today prepares us for the joy of Christmas. It gives the reason for the joy. It gives us the secret of possessing it. It gives us a detailed instruction in the art of cultivating and keeping it. It makes it quite clear that the joy of Christmas is an interior joy. Interior joy is the only real joy because it does not depend upon external circumstances. Rather it masters external circumstances so thoroughly that it is capable of turning sorrow into joy.

It ought not to be rare. But it is. We are living in a pleasure-seeking age. It is not a joyful age. There are plenty of pleasure-sated faces. But they are all so sad. When we do see a joyful face, we turn to look at it again. "That person," we say, "is really happy." Radiant is the word. What is the secret?

I am going to make an assertion now. I don't much care whether it is contradicted or not, because I know that the assertion is based upon fact. The convincing joy that I have just spoken of is only to be observed in the faces of persons who have attained to a well developed and finely balanced spiritual life. They are not always smiling. Sometimes they are arrestingly grave. But always they are radiant. Something shines through them. They illuminate the dark spots in life. They stand the tests that shrivel merely nervous, fictitious gaiety. When every other light goes out, their light remains. Every one is impressed by it. Every one admires it. Every one desires it. Every one really is interested to know more about it. Well, as I say, we must go to the Saints to learn.

Today the Church sends us to Saint Paul. He makes use of short sentences and gives simple directions.

"Rejoice," he writes, "rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say rejoice."
"In the Lord." This is the secret. The fulness of joy is to be found in the presence of Our Lord. Find Him and you find joy. It is a purely personal matter of a purely personal relation. We cannot explain the mysteries of personal relationships. They just happen. That is all. Our Lord said, "These things I have spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. Your joy no man taketh from you." Now the point is that Our Lord does just that for us.

The next direction is, "Let your moderation be known unto all men." The New Testament word means a little more than our word "moderation" means to us. It also means "equitable, fair, reasonable, gentle." This quality is the second requisite. It must not be reserved for special friends; it must be known to all men. It is the glass through which joy radiates. Without it even joy that started as real joy would become self-contained. That moment it would die. Joy must be shared to be kept. Not necessarily boisterously or hilariously, but through the medium of being evenly equitable and fair and reasonable and gentle and kind to everybody.

The next direction is, "Be careful, be anxious for nothing." We are bidden to avoid anxiety. But can any one do that? Ought anyone to do that? Is anxiety a sin? Isn't it often a duty? The answer to that is found in the rest of the sentence: "In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." We must share our anxieties with God. We must share our joys with each other. We must keep our anxieties for God. This combination is a hard thing to manage. But it can be done. But it can't be done in a day or a year or in any fixed time. It requires unlimited endurance, until it becomes habitual endurance, gained through hard working prayer and steel-ribbed trust.

Then comes the promise. "The peace of God, which passes all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." Here we have Saint Paul's sermon on a Merry Christmas.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Feast of Saint John Apostle and Evangelist

December 27, 1936

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 78 O little town of Bethlehem Lewis H. Redner, 1868

Introit. In the midst of the congregation he opened his mouth; and the Lord filled him with the spirit of wisdom and understanding: in a robe of glory he arrayed him.

Ps. A treasure of joy and gladness: hath he given him for an inheritance. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Henschel in D

Gradual. Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him; He shall not die. But, if I will that he tarry till I come; follow thou me.

Alleluia. This is the disciple which testifieth of these things: and we know that his testimony is true. Alleluia.

Hymn 288 Come, pure hearts, in sweetest measures
Gerard F. Cobb, 1838-1904

Credo Henschel in D

Offertory. The righteous shall flourish like a palm tree: and shall spread abroad like a cedar in Libanus.

Carol Gustav Holst

In the bleak mid-winter
Frosty wind made moan,
Earth stood hard as iron,
Water like a stone;
Snow had fallen, snow on snow,
Snow on snow,
In the bleak mid-winter,
Long ago.

Our God, heaven cannot hold him
Nor earth sustain;
Heaven and earth shall flee away
When he comes to reign:
In the bleak mid-winter
A stable-place sufficed
The Lord God Almighty
Jesus Christ

Enough for him, whom cherubim
Worship night and day,
A breastful of milk,
And a mangerful of hay;
Enough for him, whom Angels
Fall down before,
The ox and ass and camel,
Which adore.

Angels and Archangels
May have gathered there,
Cherubim and Seraphim
Thronged the air:
But only his mother
In her maiden bliss
Worshipped the Beloved
With a kiss.

What can I give him,
Poor as I am?
If I were a shepherd
I would bring a lamb;
If I were a wise man
I would do my part
Yet what I can I give him—
Give my heart.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Henschel in D

Communio. Then went abroad this saying among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come.

Gloria in Excelsis

Henschel in D

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—'Puer Nobis'

Everett Titcomb

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 24

Tone VII-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 86 O Thou, who gav'st Thy Servant grace J. H. Schein, 1628

CAROLS

Good News from Heaven

a. Pachelbel version for Organ

b. Bach version for Chorus and Organ

Christmas Eve

arranged by Channing Lefebvre

All poor men and humble

Welsh melody

Hymn 551 The First Nowell

English Traditional melody

(for Congregation and Choir)

Coventry Carol

English, arranged by K. K. Davis

Man, be merry as bird on berry

Alec Rowley

Little Jesus, sweetly sleep (Rocking)

Czech Lullaby

DEVOTIONS

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

VISIT TO THE CRECHE

Procession Hymn 78 O Little Town of Bethlehem

Lewis H. Redner, 1868

Our Father—

Hail, Mary—

Carol 546 Silent Night, Holy Night

Franz Gruber, 1868

Solo—Come unto Him (Messiah)

Handel

William Macnamara, Soprano

Organ—Pastoral Symphony (Messiah)

Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday is Holy Innocents' Day. There will be third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Friday, January 1st, is the Feast of the Circumcision. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

If you have not turned in your 1937 Subscription Blank, we would appreciate receiving it as soon as conveniently possible.

Church Kalendars, Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS DAY, 1936.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God; Begotten of His Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of very God; Begotten not made; Being of one substance with the Father; By whom all things were made; Who for us men and for our salvation came down from Heaven, And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man."

So the Holy Church throughout the world proclaims the Faith concerning the Incarnation of Him whose Nativity we celebrate on Christmas Day. Throughout the world Christians assemble in their Churches, stand before their Altars and make solemn affirmation of their most holy Faith.

At their Altars Christians give thanks to the "Lord, Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God, Because thou didst give Jesus Christ, thine only Son, to be born as at this time for us; who by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary His Mother; and that without spot of sin, to make us clean from all sin."

At their Altars Christians meekly kneeling on their knees, receive the most precious Body and Blood of Jesus Christ, that they may be filled with grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with Him, that He may dwell in them, and they in Him. Each heart becomes a Manger. Each Christian carries in the heart the Holy Child of Bethlehem.

These are the three religious acts of Christmas. The act of Faith in the Holy Child. The act of Hope in the Holy Child. The act of Love to the Holy Child.

It is all as real today as it was to the shepherds on the first Christmas Day, because on the Altar the Holy Child is really present in the Blessed Sacrament of His Body and Blood. We are as near, and nearer, than the shepherds were. When they had seen, they went away and made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning the child. When we go away from the Altar, the Child goes with us because He dwells in us, and we in Him. We also are to make known abroad the saying which has been told us concerning the Child. Sometimes in words, but always by the virtue of his indwelling life. He is to live in us, through us, for us, assisting us with His grace, that we may do all such good works as He has prepared for us to walk in.

There is a selflessness in the Christmas devotions not to be found in the other Festivals. This selflessness is the secret of the charm. At Easter the glorious risen Lord restores everlasting life. At Ascension the mighty Ascending Lord opens the gates of heaven.

But at Christmas a Child in a Manger draws us with bands of love. No bands of love are so cleansing, so compelling, so bracing as the love of and for a child. This is why God came as a Child. Only this Child could lead us out from the stable into life to win the battle of life; to win battles against the world, the flesh and the devil. To triumph through peril, toil and pain. To do all this for love of the Child. "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Christmas

January 3, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	.	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	.	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	.	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	.	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	.	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	.	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	.	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	.	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	.	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	.	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 80 Angels from the realms of glory Henry Smart, 1867

Introit. Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. And the glorious majesty of the Lord our God be upon us: prosper thou the work of our hands upon us; O prosper thou our handiwork. All the ends of the earth: have seen the salvation of our God.

Alleluia. This man was born in her; the highest himself shall establish her. Alleluia.

Hymn 73 Hark! the herald angels sing Felix Mendelssohn, 1840

Credo Lovelock

Offertory. Shew thy servants thy work, and their children thy glory: I will hearken what the Lord God will say concerning me, for he shall speak peace unto his people.

Hymn J. S. Bach

Good news from Heaven the angels bring,	Ah! dearest Jesus, Holy Child,
Glad tidings to the earth they sing;	Make thee a bed, soft undefiled,
To us this day a Child is given,	Within my heart that it may be
To crown us with the joy of heaven.	A quiet chamber kept for thee.

Praise God upon his heavenly throne,
He gave to us his only Son;
For this his hosts on joyful wing,
A blest New Year of mercy sing.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lovelock

Communio. Take the young Child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young Child's life.

Gloria in Excelsis Lovelock

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—'Deck thyself, my soul, with gladness' Johannes Brahms

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 66 Tone 1-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stanford in A

Hymn 549 Good Christian men, rejoice Fourteenth Century Melody

CAROLS

God is with us Kastalsky

Solo—C. F. Kauffeld, Bass

Cold December's wintry blast (Catalonian)
arr by Channing Lefebvre

In the bleak mid-winter Gustav Holst

Hymn 349 Once in royal David's city Henry J. Gauntlett, 1858

The Virgin by the Manger Cesar Franck

While Shepherds watched their sheep (Dutch) arr by Hugo Jungst

O Little One sweet (German) S. Scheidt, 1650

DEVOTIONS

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

VISIT TO THE CRECHE

Procession Hymn 72 O Come, all ye Faithful Adeste Fideles

Our Father—
Hail, Mary—

Carol 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber, 1818

Solo—O Holy Night Adolphe Adam

Jack Conway, Soprano

Organ—'Jesu, Priceless Treasure' Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS DAY, 1937.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6TH, WILL BE THE FEAST OF
THE EPIPHANY. THERE WILL BE A THIRD MASS
AT 9.30.

THE BISHOP WILL VISIT THE PARISH FOR CONFIR-MATION ON EASTER EVEN, MARCH 27TH. ALL PERSONS DESIRING TO BE CONFIRMED SHOULD GIVE THEIR NAMES TO THE RECTOR WITH AS LITTLE DELAY AS POSSIBLE.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, January 3rd, at 8 A. M.

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, January 7th, at 3 P.M.
The speaker will be Miss Bertha Richards from Bishop Tuttle's
Memorial Training School at Raleigh, N. C.

There are several desirable pews and sittings available to those who would be interested in contributing to the income of the parish through this medium. For information apply at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins."
This was the command delivered by the angel to Saint Joseph. "He shall save his people from their sins."

The word used for sin is the word that means "missing the mark". Sin does that. It never gets to what it promises. It misses it. It leaves its victim off the course, out of the running, on the edge of nowhere, confused, dazed, lost. Sin is its own worst punishment. The punishments, and they are endless in number as well as in duration, are the inevitable consequences. There is only one way to escape the consequences and that is to escape from the cause, which is sin.

That was the way man could not find, try as he would. Man could not even guess the way out. During all this period of darkness one ray of hope led him on. The hope of a deliverer; the hope of a Saviour strong enough to save His people from their sins; holy enough to lead man up to God.

"But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made under the law, made of a woman under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons." The angelic messenger announced the news for which a weary world had waited. "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the City of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you."

What would be the sign? A mighty and a terrible God, come with thunderings and lightning? A high and mighty King scattering the foes of the Chosen People; putting the armies of the aliens to flight, and restoring the glories of an ancient Kingdom?

"This shall be a sign unto you. Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger." A sleeping world slept on in the full midnight splendor of the mystery of the Incarnation. Slept on and heard not a sound of "a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." The Saviour had come.
"He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not."

No one except God could have come in that way. No one except God could have lived the hidden life of Nazareth. No one except God could have conquered the devil in the impenetrable solitude of a desert. No one except God could have served the world with infinite compassion and invincible humility. No one except God could have endured contradiction, condemnation and cruelty, and answered never a word.

No one except God could have endured crucifixion in such a manner as to transform an instrument of torture into a symbol of victory. No one except God could have risen from the dead and ascended into heaven. No one except God could have built a church and promised that the gates of hell would not prevail against it. No one except God could have given all power in heaven and earth to frail men to continue his ministry, promising to be with them always, even unto the end of the world. No one except God could have used water to be the matter of a Sacrament of regeneration and bread and wine to be the Sacrament of His Body and Blood.

No one except God could have moved angels to exult; shepherds to worship, and wise men to bring gifts.

No one except God could have reigned from a Manger, and ruled from a Cross.

Truly God's thoughts are not mans' thoughts, neither are mans' ways God's ways.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after the Epiphany

January 10, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in Procession { 94 As with gladness Conrad Kocher, 1838
 { 95 Brightest and best J. P. Harding, 1862

Introit. On a throne exalted I beheld, and lo, a man sitting, whom a legion of Angels worship, singing together: behold, his rule and governance endureth to all ages.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Schubert in G

Gradual. Blessed be the Lord, even the God of Israel: which only doeth wondrous things. The mountains also shall bring peace: and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

Alleluia. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Alleluia.

Hymn 93 Earth has many a noble city Gotha, 1715

Credo Schubert in G

Offertory. O be joyful in the Lord; all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God.

Anthem William Crotch

Lo, star-led chiefs Assyrian odours bring, and bending Magi seek their infant King! Marked ye, where, hovering o'er his head, the dove's white wings celestial glory shed!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Schubert in G

Communio. Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing: And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

Gloria in Excelsis Schubert in G

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata and Fugue in D minor Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 91 Tone VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Noble in B minor

Hymn 553 Saw you never, in the twilight Berthold Tours, 1881

CAROLS

Kings in Glory Martin Shaw

Solo—Gabriel Maioriello

Christmas Song of the 14th century Healey Willan

Lute-Book Lullaby William Ballet, 17th century

Hymn 95 Brightest and best J. P. Harding, 1862

Lo, star-led chiefs William Crotch

Song of the Bagpipers Neapolitan Carol

Sleep, Holy Babe Clement R. Gale

DEVOTIONS

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
 R. Containing in itself all sweetness

VISIT TO THE CRECHE

Procession Hymn 94 As with gladness Conrad Kocher, 1838

Our Father—
 Hail, Mary—

Carol 546 Silent Night, Holy Night Franz Gruber, 1818

Organ—Aus meines Herzens Grunde (Pastorale) Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"That was the true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world."

"When Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea, in the days of Herod the King, behold there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem. And, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his Mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

So the light of Him who is Light of Light, filled with light those who sought Him, journeyed far to find Him, and having found Him, worshipped Him, and opened their treasures to present unto Him gifts. Their gifts were symbolic. Gold was the symbol of their recognition of Him as King. Incense was the symbol of their recognition of Him as God. Myrrh was the symbol of their recognition of Him as Saviour. The full knowledge of the significance of their gifts would dawn upon them later. Meanwhile a spiritual intuition had led them to a spiritual experience which reason would subsequently confirm.

The Epiphany Preface explains the devotional intention of the Festival. We give thanks to the "Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God, Through Jesus Christ our Lord; who in substance of our mortal flesh, manifested forth His glory; that He might bring us out of darkness into His own glorious light." We are giving thanks for the light given to lighten the Gentile world. We are giving thanks for the light which has been given to us as individuals. The light is given to every man that cometh into the world.

The star appears once in a life time at least. It will go before the soul that has the will to follow. It will lead the soul that has the will to follow to the place where the Child is to be found. To the soul that has the will to worship, there will be given some treasure to offer. The length of the journey will vary. It will be long for one and short for another. But the Manger will be the common goal. The Child will be the reward for all alike.

The history of each spiritual journey will be the record of a conversion, or of an awakening. If it is a conversion it will begin with some deep experience in a land far distant from the place where the Child is. The experience may be penitential. It may have its beginning in some deep sorrow. It may be that a longing for a knowledge of the truth will stir the mind to a restless activity which will cause the soul to be restless until it finds rest in God.

There are many paths leading to the highway of God. The three that I have noted are the common ones. They lead the will or the heart or the mind and before the end include most, perhaps all, of the varieties of religious experience. To the soul that perseveres in any one of them will be given the reward of some definite spiritual treasure. That treasure will be the soul's offering to God at the journey's end. Gold, or frankincense or myrrh.

The history of the journey may be the story of an awakening. It is less exciting; less venturesome; but none the less satisfying. It is after all the normal experience. It all happens within the Church. The awakening is gradual, as all awakening to the mysteries of life should be. First will come the training in the practise of the spiritual life. The faithful practise of the Sacraments. The diligent practise of prayer. The intelligent practise of worship. The energy centres in the will. The emotions are not disturbed. The mind is gradually illumined. The soul grows accustomed to walking about the heavenly city, telling the towers, and marking well the bulwarks, as children learn to know a city until it becomes familiar. Then the day comes when the city is loved as home. The soul sees the holy city. And the Lamb who is the light of it.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Rector or to Sister Helen.

A Day's Institute, led by Mrs. Frank Bonyng, instead of a Mission Study Class, will be held Thursday, January 21st, at 10.30 A.M. in the Parish Building.

There are several desirable pews and sittings available to those who would be interested in contributing to the income of the parish through this medium. For information apply at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after the Epiphany

January 17, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 110 Alleluia, song of gladness Dulce Carmen, 1782

Introit. All the earth shall worship thee, O God, and sing of thee: they shall sing praise to thy Name, O Most Highest.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa de Sancto Albano) Healey Willan

Gradual. The Lord sent his word and healed them: and they were saved from their destruction. O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness: and declare the wonders he doeth for the children of men.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, all ye Angels of his: praise him, all his host. Alleluia.

Hymn 480 Jesus shall reign John Hatton, 1793

Credo Healey Willan

Offertory. O be joyful in God, all ye lands; sing praises unto the honour of his Name: O come hither, and hearken, all ye that fear God: and I will tell you what the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

Anthem (150th Psalm) Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of his power. Praise ye Him for his mighty acts; Praise ye Him according to his wondrous works.

Praise ye Him with the sound of the trumpet: Praise ye Him with the psaltery and harp. Praise ye Him with the timbrel; Praise ye Him with the dance; Praise Him with the organ and stringed instruments.

Praise ye Him upon the loud cymbals; Praise ye Him upon the high-sounding cymbals. Let everything that hath breath, Praise the Lord. Hallelujah!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Healey Willan

Communio. There came a voice from heaven, saying; Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Gloria in Excelsis Healey Willan

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet wherein Christ is received, the memory of his Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Pastorale in E Cesar Franck

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 45, 46 Tones VIII-1, V-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Noble in B minor

Hymn 99 Hail to the Lord's Anointed! William H. Havergal, 1859

Anthem George C. Martin

Hail, gladdening Light, of his pure glory poured
Who is the Immortal Father, Heavenly, Blest,
Holiest of Holies, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Now we are come to the sun's hour of rest,
The lights of evening round us shine,
We hymn the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit Divine.

Worthiest art Thou at all times to be sung,
With undefiled tongue, Son of our God, Giver of life, Alone!
Therefore in all the world thy glories, Lord, they own.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide	All praise and thanks to thee ascend
The gate of heaven to man below,	For evermore, blest One in Three;
Our foes press on from every side,	O grant us life that shall not end,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Chorale in D flat Bossi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Father Parcell, O. H. C., will be the Speaker at the Meeting of the Diocesan Altar Guild, Monday, January 18th, at 2.30 P. M., in the Church House. The subject of the Address will be, "The work of the Holy Cross in Liberia."

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Rector or to Sister Helen.

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercession.

The purpose of the Church Periodical Club is to bring together those who have reading matter to share and those who do not have it. In the past year the Parish Branch has distributed 258 books, 968 magazines, 1703 Christmas and Easter cards and 3388 copies of the Rector's letters. Thirty people forward regularly 117 magazines. The Branch sends to five Missionaries a Church paper, and at Christmas a book.

Will you give funds to meet these expenses? Will you give books and magazines? Address Church Periodical Club, St. Mark's Branch, 1625 Locust Street.

A Day's Institute, led by Mrs. Frank Bonyng, instead of a Mission Study Class, will be held Thursday, January 21st, at 10.30 A. M. in the Parish Building.

There are several desirable pews and sittings available to those who would be interested in contributing to the income of the parish through this medium. For information apply at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

When Our Lord was forty days old the Blessed Virgin presented Him in the Temple. According to the law of Moses every Jewish mother was required to fulfil the rites of purification and to present her child to the Lord. If the child was a son, the presentation was made forty-one days after birth. If the child was a daughter, the presentation was made eighty-one days after birth. Also a sacrificial offering was required.

In fulfilment of this law The Divine Saviour was presented by the Virgin Mother. In this Presentation, He who is offered, offers Himself. In this Purification, she who fulfils the law of purification is immaculate. She whom all generations shall call blessed, magnifies the Lord, and her spirit rejoices in God her Saviour.

Simeon, who waited for the consolation of Israel, was led into the Temple by the Holy Ghost, that he might see the Lord's Christ. It was given to him to take Our Lord up into his arms. It had been revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ. He had lived to see his heart's desire. At last he could say, Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word: for mine eyes have seen thy salvation, which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

We have only one week left to us for quiet meditation upon the Infancy of Our Lord. The seasons of the Christian Year will follow in swift sequence, and already we are within the week which will be followed by the Sundays which will prepare us for Lent, the Passion and the Crucifixion. It is necessary that we should be prepared for that preparation. Bethlehem is the starting place.

Christmas to those to whom it is merely a social season is gone, not to be thought of again for a whole year. While it lasted it radiated an atmosphere of good will of men toward men, an atmosphere of kindness and joy. That was good as far as it went. There is every reason why it should last. Christians should unceasingly cultivate the spirit of kindness and joy. Both are marks of holiness. Both are the signs of saints. But the difference between the kindness and joy of the saints, as compared with the kindness and joy of the non-Christian world, is to be discovered in the roots rather than in the fruits.

The root of Christmas kindness is the love of God who so loved the world that he gave his only-begotten Son, to the end that all that believe in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

The root of Christmas good-will is the good-will of God toward man.

The root of Christmas joy is the rejoicing of the spirit in God the Saviour.

The spirit of Christmas is expressed in the Preface. "Because thou didst give Jesus Christ, thine only Son, to be born as at this time for us; who by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary His Mother; and that without spot of sin, to make us clean from all sin."

Remembering this we follow the Holy Child, through childhood and manhood, all the way to Calvary. It is only by doing this that we shall understand how Christ Jesus, having come into the world, saved sinners.

We shall see in each act of His the sacrificial significance. We shall see the sacrificial act in the Manger. We shall see the sacrificial act in the Temple at the Presentation. We shall see the sacrificial act in Nazareth. We shall see it in Gethsemane. We shall see it on Calvary. We shall see it on our own altars where is continued the perpetual memory of His precious death and sacrifice. When at last we arrive at Easter and the Ascension we shall see the triumph of that sacrifice. Then we shall remember that it began in Bethlehem.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 17

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Septuagesima

January 24, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 4 Christ, Whose glory fills the skies
Werner's Choralbuch, 1815

Introit. The sorrows of death came about me; the pains of hell gat hold upon me: and in my tribulation I made my prayer unto the Lord, and he regarded my supplication out of his holy temple.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord, my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Messa Davidica) Lorenzo Perosi

Gradual. The Lord will be a refuge in the time of trouble; and they that know thy Name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee. For the poor shall not always be forgotten; the patient abiding of the meek shall not perish for ever: up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand.

Tract. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O let thine ears consider well: the voice of my complaint. If thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss: O Lord, who may abide it? For there is mercy with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

Hymn 118 My soul, be on thy guard
Mason and Webb's Cantica Laudis, 1850

Credo IV Mode I

Offertory It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord: and to sing praises unto thy Name, O Most Highest.

Anthem Edward Elgar

Light of the World, we know thy praise the Angels and Archangels raise, and all the hosts of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has given.

But thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb thy resting place; so thou might bring into our night the dawn of thine eternal Light to shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin is Lord, but thou, O Son of God! Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank thee, and we pray thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us for evermore.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Perosi

Communion. Shew thy servant the light of thy countenance, and save me for thy mercies' sake: let me not be confounded, O Lord, for I have called upon thee.

Motet (Ave Verum) Mozart

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin Mary born;
On the Cross thy sacred Body,
For us men with nails was torn.

Cleanse us by the Blood and Water
Streaming from thy pierced side,
Feed us with thy Body broken,
Now, and in death's agony.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Wir glauben all' an einen Gott Pachelbel

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 104 Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Walmisley in D minor

Hymn 271 We sing the glorious conquest Meiningen, 1693

Anthem Edward Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind; to preach the acceptable year of the Lord; To give unto them that mourn a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Antiphon: He remembering his mercy Marcel Dupre

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Monday is the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Rector or to Sister Helen.

The purpose of the Church Periodical Club is to bring together those who have reading matter to share and those who do not have it. In the past year the Parish Branch has distributed 258 books, 968 magazines, 1703 Christmas and Easter cards and 3388 copies of the Rector's letters. Thirty people forward regularly 117 magazines. The Branch sends to five Missionaries a Church paper, and at Christmas a book.

Will you give funds to meet these expenses? Will you give books and magazines? Address Church Periodical Club, St. Mark's Branch, 1625 Locust Street.

There are several desirable pews and sittings available to those who would be interested in contributing to the income of the parish through this medium. For information apply at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

The following is a copy of a letter received from the President of The National Council at New York:

"Here at Headquarters we feel confident now that we may expect to come through the year without a deficit in the Missionary work for 1936. The amount is inadequate for the task the Church has undertaken to make Christ known, but there is satisfaction in knowing that the work goes on and is well done, and that without adding to the debt.

This is because of the support given by such parishes as yours, and as we study the report this last month, as President of National Council I desire to send a message of appreciation to you and your people for their continued support.

Times have been difficult for us all, but with all our people taking a share we shall go forward to greater achievement for Christ and His Church."

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Epiphany season is very short this year. Today is the third Sunday before Lent. We are given a time for preparation in order that we may enter Lent with a definite purpose and a rule adapted for that purpose.

After all there need be no sense of haste. I think that we are only the more aware of the meaning of the seasons through which we have passed. We see more clearly the connection of the Crib with the Cross. "This is a true saying, and worthy of all men to be received, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." The Holy Child in the Crib is the Advocate with the Father and the Propitiation for our Sins. He came into the world to save sinners. "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

Christmas is meaningless without the Cross. Good Friday is meaningless without the Crib. The Child in the Crib is truly man. The Man on the Cross is truly man. The Child in the Crib is truly God. The Man on the Cross is truly God. This God-Man is one Divine Person. This is the reason why the Crib and the Cross are the sources of the Divine Power to do what no human power can do. Only God can save sinners from the awful doom of forever being sinners. Only God can take away the sins, not merely the punishment, but the sins of all that believe in Him. This is the mystery of redemption. The change that takes place is a change in man, not in God.

It is God who changes man, not man who changes God. God is more ready to forgive than man is ready to be forgiven. God is more ready to hear than man is ready to pray. Man has no power in himself to help himself. The Son of God, for us men and for our salvation, came down from heaven, And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man; And was crucified for us, and suffered and was buried, and rose again, and ascended into heaven.

The full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation and satisfaction for the sins of the whole world, began in the Crib and was consummated upon the Cross. Between the Crib and the Cross there was the Circumcision, the Baptism, the Fasting, the Temptation, the Agony and Bloody Sweat. All this together made the one oblation of Himself once offered as the Propitiation for our sins. All that man could not do for himself, God did for him. He paid the price of sin. Through faith, in His blood, we and all the whole Church may obtain remission of our sins.

Yet God left something for man to do, and left power with man to do it. "As many as received Him, to them gave he power to become the Sons of God." To as many as would become the Sons of God He gave the command to take up the Cross and follow Him. To each his own Cross, measured and weighed according to the power given to each.

Following the way of the Cross each finds the way of redemption. The way may be long and hard, but it always happens to those who persevere, that in the end it comes to pass that "as they went they were cleansed." What God has so cleansed, neither devil nor man may call common or unclean. Over all such cleansings the angels in heaven rejoice.

During Christmastide and Epiphany we made the procession to the Crib. Today we prepare to make the procession from the Crib to the Cross. We know the route. We have often followed it. We know what to expect. And we remember the joy that is set before. These Sundays before Lent have in them the suggestion of anticipation that makes them shine with hope, and gives to them a brave splendor, which is all their own.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 18

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Sexagesima

January 31, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 119 O Thou to Whose all-searching sight Pleyel 1757-1831

Introit. Arise, O Lord, wherefore sleepest thou? awake, and cast us not away for ever; wherefore hidest thou thy countenance, and forgettest our adversity and misery? our belly cleaveth unto the ground; arise, and save us, O Lord, our helper and our deliverer.

Ps. O God, we have heard with our ears: our fathers have told us, Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Altissimus, Mode V

Gradual. Let the nations know that thou, whose Name is Jehovah: art only the Most Highest over all the earth. O my God, make them like unto a wheel: and as the stubble before the wind.

Tract. Thou hast moved the land, O Lord: and divided it. Heal the sores thereof; for it shaketh. That they may triumph because of the truth: that thy beloved may be delivered.

Hymn 116 Oft in danger, oft in woe Gauntlett, 1852

Credo - - - Harold Darke in F

Offertory. O hold thou up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not; incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words: shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O Lord; thou that art the Saviour of them that put their trust in thee.

Anthem - - - Philip James

I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient time,
And now, as then, Thy mercies hold
Their hope of grace divine.

Thy voice was in the thunder,
The waters were afraid;
Yet in my day of trouble
I called on Thee for aid!

I have remembered my song at night,
Communing with my heart,
And know Thy love is still my right,
Nor never will depart.

Who is so great a God as the Lord,
His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer out-poured,
Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Harold Darke

Communio. I will go unto the Altar of God: even unto the God of my joy and gladness.

Tantum Ergo (Hymn 338, Part II) - - - Anton Bruckner, 1869

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in F minor - - - Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 139 - - - Tone VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Stanford in B flat

Hymn 113 Fight the good fight William Boyd, 1864

Anthem - - - Josef Haydn

Distracted with care and anguish,
When hearts despairing languish,
Madly they seek for comfort
Where it doth ne'er abide.

For us no rest remaineth,
If earth our love retaineth,
And heaven we cast aside.
Relief he only gaineth,
And peace at last attaineth,
Whom God vouchsafes to guide.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Epithalame - - - Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Tuesday, February 2nd, will be the Feast of the Purification. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, January 31st, at 8. A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, February 4th, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be Mrs. George B. Roberts, on the work of the United Thank Offering. The women of the congregation are cordially invited to hear Mrs. Roberts.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Rector or to Sister Helen.

The purpose of the Church Periodical Club is to bring together those who have reading matter to share and those who do not have it. In the past year the Parish Branch has distributed 258 books, 968 magazines, 1703 Christmas and Easter cards and 3388 copies of the Rector's letters. Thirty people forward regularly 117 magazines. The Branch sends to five Missionaries a Church paper, and at Christmas a book.

Will you give funds to meet these expenses? Will you give books and magazines? Address Church Periodical Club, St. Mark's Branch, 1625 Locust Street.

There are several desirable pews and sittings available to those who would be interested in contributing to the income of the parish through this medium. For information apply at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

SEXAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Epistle for today gives us a list of the adventures of Saint Paul, who adds parenthetically, "I speak foolishly". He takes us into his confidence reluctantly. He does not like to talk about himself. But he has a purpose. He is trying to cheer his Christians who were discouraged by difficulties. Possibly they were inclined to feel sorry for themselves. When we are sorry for ourselves, we are inclined to think that no one in the world is having quite as hard a time as we are enduring.

We can imagine them looking at Saint Paul and thinking, "It is all very well for you, the heroic Apostle whom every one admires. You are strong. What do you know of weakness?" And Saint Paul answers. "I know nothing of weakness! Who is weak, and I am not weak? I have no troubles! Why, I have had nothing else it seems to me ever since I was converted. I have no infirmities! I will tell you a few of my experiences."

"Do you suppose for one moment that as I remember them I am not overwhelmed with a sense of my infirmities? Do remember that I am just as human as you are. But there is one thing that I learned and I shall pass it on to you for what it is worth. No one of us can escape the oppressive sense of personal weakness and general infirmity. That is natural. We need waste no time in trying to key ourselves up into conscious heroism. That is absurd. In this matter of managing weaknesses, there are just two things to do. One is to be discouraged by weaknesses. The other is to glory in them. I have chosen to glory in the things which concern my infirmities. And why? Because every weakness presents the opportunity of acquiring strength. It is out of weakness that we are made strong. Every one of my weaknesses has driven me to Our Lord. I am weak, but He is strong. I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me. My weaknesses led me into a daring adventure of trusting Our Lord. That is why I say that I glory in the things that concern my infirmities. And I mean it."

We are not left to suppose that Saint Paul, having passed through so many afflicting adventures, had no other troubles. He had many. He tells us, "When we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side: without were fightings, within were fears. And always there was the 'thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan' to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. For this thing I besought the Lord thrice that it might depart from me. And He said unto me, 'My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness.' Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong."

The Church gives this study of Saint Paul on Sexagesima Sunday as an inspirational preparation for Lent. It requires no comment. The lesson is clear. The individual application will readily suggest itself. The penitential exercises of Lent ought to work out two results. The knowledge of our weaknesses. The development of strength. Self-examination will discover the weak points. Self-discipline will develop strength. The object of Lent will be to gain strength out of weakness. We shall be enabled to do this by a more purposeful and more frequent use of the Sacraments, by systematic and industrious prayer, by such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion: by making use of temptations and afflictions as opportunities for the strengthening of weak moral muscles. We shall need penitence and perseverance. But we have Saint Paul's words and example to assure us that in the end we shall glory in the infirmities which have in times past discouraged us.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 19

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Quinquagesima

February 7, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10	Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328

Jesu, Thou Joy of loving hearts!

Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

Introit. Be thou my God and defender, and a place of refuge that thou mayest save me: for thou art my upholder, my refuge, and my Saviour; and for thy holy Name's sake be thou my leader, and my sustainer.

Ps. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliver me in thy righteousness. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people. Thou hast mightily delivered thy people: even the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Tract. O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness. Come before his presence with a song: be ye sure that the Lord he is God. It is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves: we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Hymn 121

Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost

John Stainer, 1868

Credo

Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. Blessed art thou, O Lord; O teach me thy statutes: with my lips have I been telling of all the judgments of thy mouth.

Anthem

Johannes Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O Lord of Hosts! For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the world; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God. O blest are they that dwell within thy house; they praise thy Name evermore!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus De

Lovelock in A minor

Communio. They did eat, and were well filled, for the Lord gave them their own desire: they were not disappointed of their lust.

Motet

Bortniansky

How great in Sion thou art praised,
No mortal tongue, O Lord, can tell.
Above the sky thy throne is raised,
Our hearts' deep yearning ever telling
All of earth's creatures laud thee well.
Flow our tears like morning dew.
O Lord, thy greatness everywhere
An altar in our hearts we raise thee,
reigneth,
Ever, O Lord, we sing and praise thee.
All things thy heavenly might ordaineth.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in E flat (St. Ann)

Back

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 111, 112

Tones IV-6, VII-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in B flat

Hymn 326

The King of love my Shepherd is

John B. Dykes, 1868

Anthem

John Goss

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: Behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; He will come and save you.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing:

For in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the way-faring men, though fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: They shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,

R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Erbarm' dich mein, o Herre Gott

Back

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

LENT READING

Suggest the New Testament, to be read daily, planning a systematic course with the purpose of completing the Books by the end of Lent.

On Shrove Tuesday the hours for Confession will be 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M. Also by appointment.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Rector or to Sister Helen.

There will be a day of Retreat for Teachers and Business Women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Saturday, February 20th. Conductor, The Rev. Nelson Rightmeyer. The Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge as soon as possible.

There are several desirable pews and sittings available to those who would be interested in contributing to the income of the parish through this medium. For information apply at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The final words of preparation for Lent are given to us today. The Collect is a prayer for Charity. The Epistle explains Charity. The Gospel exemplifies Charity. The lesson is clear.

Growth in charity is to be our common aim. Our measures of abstinence; our extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion will be determined and directed by circumstances of age, avocation and physical capacity. Our particular intentions will indicate particular emphasis upon the besetting sins which we have set ourselves to overcome; upon the opposite virtues which we have set before ourselves for attainment. But for all of us alike the virtue of charity will be the goal of desire. Charity, the Collect teaches, is the most excellent gift; the very bond of peace and of all virtues, without which whosoever liveth is counted dead before God.

It is conceivable, as Saint Paul tells us in the Epistle, that one might practise heroic acts of self-discipline, philanthropy and even what would seem to be martyrdom, and yet lack the essential virtue which provides the motive that makes words and works meritorious. Since charity is the test by which the impressive achievements mentioned in Saint Paul's list are to be judged, how much more it applies to those which we humbler and less ambitious and less heroic folk set for ourselves in Lent.

Whatever our self-imposed regulations may be, (and by these I mean the personal regulations which are attempted beyond, but in the spirit of, the generally prescribed regulations of the Church) the purpose of each course in self-discipline must be the cultivation of charity. We are to be stern with ourselves in order that we may become kind to others. Indeed without self-discipline we are bound to be emotional, temperamental, unreasonable, unsympathetic, resentful, quick-tempered, unkind, harsh and cruel. Only the self-disciplined can be uniformly, dependably kind. The self-disciplined understand how hard it is to be good. So they are able to forgive.

The self-disciplined remember that God has been long-suffering with them. They understand how important it is to suffer long with others. It must always be long. Sometimes it must be life-long. We cannot change ourselves in a minute or a month. But we can change. Only we must have, and give, time.

The self-disciplined are aware of God's kindness. They are aware of the miracles of change that kindness can work. The self-disciplined realize that human kindness may be the only conscious contact that some persons may have in this world of the kindness of God.

The self-disciplined will not feel inclined to be puffed up. No one knows better than they that they have no call for self-complacency.

And so with all the other manifestations of charity mentioned in the Epistle. The person who has seriously sought self-conquest will have learned the values of the virtues for which he has painfully struggled. And he will have learned from experience that Charity is the greatest of the virtues, and that it makes easier the attainment of the other virtues. He will have learned that charity which works no ill to his neighbor is the fulfilling of the law. He will have learned that there is no fear in charity; but perfect charity casteth out fear.

When the self-disciplined person arrives at this stage of escape from the spirit of fear, he has gained the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. He genuinely loves his neighbor because He really loves God. He loves God because God first loved him. He has realized as he never did before the spirit of adoption, whereby he cries, "Abba, Father". And he has a new commandment, that he who loveth God, loveth his brother also.

Growth in charity is the test and the reward of a well-spent Lent.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2. J. Emerson

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Lent

February 14, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 123 Forty days and forty nights Martin Herbst, 1676

Introit He shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto him; I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with length of days will I satisfy him.

Ps. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) Everett Titcomb

Gradual. He shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Tract. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold: my God, in him will I trust.

For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter: and from the noisome pestilence.

He shall defend thee under his wings: and thou shalt be safe under his feathers.

His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler: thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night.

Nor for the arrow that flieth by day; for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day.

A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

For he shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keep thee in all thy ways.

They shall bear thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

Thou shalt go upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet.

Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him up, because he hath known my Name.

He shall call upon me, and I will hear him: yea, I am with him in trouble.

I will deliver him, and bring him to honour: with long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Credo III Mode V

Offertory. He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: his faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Hymn 126 Christian! dost thou see them John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Everett Titcomb

Communion. Whoso drinketh of the water that I shall give him, saith the Lord: it shall be in him a well of water springing up unto life eternal.

Motet (Ave Verum) Healey Willan

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth,
On the Cross thou hangedst weary
To redeem the sons of earth.

Thou whose side was deeply riven,
Shedding forth true stream of Blood;
O may'st thou, dear Lord, be given
In death's hour to be our Food.

O faithful, O gracious,
O blessed Jesu, Son of Mary,
O grant us thy mercy. Amen.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ: Choral—Aus der Tiefe rufe ich J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119 (verses 1-32) Tones III-4, VII-7

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII
with faux-bourbons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 128 Christian, seek not yet repose William H. Monk, 1868

Anthem George C. Martin

Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my stronghold, my God, in him will I trust.

He shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

O Jesu, King of Paradise,
O keep me in thy love,
And guide me to that happy land
Of perfect rest above;
Where loyal hearts and true
Stand ever in the light,
All rapture through and through,
In God's most holy sight.

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Organ—Larghetto in F Handel

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

LENT READING

suggest the New Testament, to be read daily, planning a systematic course with the purpose of completing the Books by the end of Lent.

Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercessions.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Those who desire to be Confirmed at Easter Even, should lose no time in giving their names to the Rector or to Sister Helen.

There will be a day of Retreat for Teachers and Business Women at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Saturday, February 20th. Conductor, The Rev. Nelson Rightmeyer. The Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister-in-Charge as soon as possible.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Collect for today sets forth the motive for disciplinary abstinences. The motive is that the flesh being subdued to the spirit, the spirit may be set free to register and respond to the motions of God. Christian discipline is never purposeless. It is never blindly negative. It removes the lower that it may release the higher. There is nothing unnatural about it. If we have a cinder in an eye it is good practise to have it removed. If we have a natural obstruction to supernatural vision, it is also good practise to remove the obstruction. The principle is the same.

The obstructions of unruly and corrupt affections are removed by mortifying and ruling them, as we pray today, and as we pray on Holy Innocents' Day and at Easter Even, and at other times. But there is always a purpose, "that we may obey thy godly motions in righteousness, and true holiness; that by the innocency of our lives, and constancy of our faith even unto death, we may glorify thy holy Name; that we may pass to our joyful resurrection."

At Baptism the Priest prayed for us that we might die to sin and rise to newness of life; that all sinful affections might die in us, and that all things belonging to the spirit might live and grow in us. "Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord."

We must always set before us a definite purpose for self-discipline. The purpose is the elimination of sin and the substitution of virtue. Before we can eliminate the sin we must first find the root of the sin. This can only be done by self-examination. Having discovered the sin we must expel it. This can only be done by repentance whereby we forsake it. This will require humility in confessing the fault; sincerity in firmly purposing amendment; faith whereby we steadfastly believe the promises of God that "if we confess our sins God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

Belief in the doctrine of the forgiveness of sins demands heroic faith, faith that is strong enough to say, "If thou wilt thou canst make me clean." Faith that is strong to save and hope that is hardy to endure to the end.

Temptations will not end with forgiveness. Who does not know that temptations frequently return with seven-fold fury after absolutions? Saint James told us to count it as all joy when we enter into divers temptations? Why? Because temptations will bring the opportunities for making reparation for past sins and the cultivation of the opposite virtues. The generous desire to make reparation and the brave desire to attain to virtues will occupy and fill the heart that has been swept and garnished. Like Saint Paul we may forget those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, we may press toward the mark of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

In all this Christian discipline we die, and behold, we live. We die to sin to live to God. We lay down a life, which we know to our sorrow to be futile, to find the only life that is worth finding and keeping, and worth all the pains we pay.

Christian discipline is the only way of escape from morbid repression. Because Christian discipline sublimates the elemental energies by disentangling them from perversive and polluting infections and by a process of cleansing, correcting, readjusting and rebuilding, sets them free for the vigorous fulfilment of the will of God, who gives life and gives it more and more abundantly. Without Christian mortification and Christian sublimation, spiritual, moral, mental and physical normality is impossible. I mean to say that a balanced possession of all these is not to be found anywhere, in the gift of any one, except at the foot of the Cross of Him who came that we might have life.

At the very beginning of Lent, for our encouragement, we see the gleam of the joy that is set before the Cross.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Lent

February 21, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 134 Lord, Who throughout these forty days

Day's Psalter, 1562

Introit. Call to remembrance thy tender compassion and mercy, O Lord, and thy loving-kindness towards us, which have been ever of old: neither suffer our enemies to triumph against us; deliver us, O God of Israel, out of all our misery and trouble.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Deus Sempiternae, Mode IV

Gradual. The sorrows of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles, O Lord. Look upon my adversity and misery: and forgive me all my sin.

Tract. The Lord said unto the woman of Canaan: It is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table. Jesus said unto her, Woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt.

Hymn 393 Lord Jesus, think on me Samuel Howard, 1762

Credo III - - : - Mode V

Offertory. My delight shall be in thy commandments, which I have loved: my hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved.

Hymn 127 Jesus, Lord of life and glory Edward J. Hopkins, 1862

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - J. Guy Ropartz

Communion. Consider my meditation; O hearken thou unto the voice of my calling, my King and my God: for unto thee will I make my prayer.

Hymn (English Hymnal, 329) Ancient Irish Hymn Melody

strengthen for service, Lord, the hands Lord, may the tongues which 'Holy' sang
That holy things have taken; Keep free from all deceiving;
Let ears that now have heard thy songs The eyes which saw thy love be bright,
To clamour never waken. Thy blessed hope perceiving.

The feet that tread thy holy courts
From light do thou not banish;
The bodies by thy Body fed
With thy new life replenish. Amen.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Choral—Durch Adam's Fall ist ganz verderbt Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119 (verses 33-72

Tones I-ro, IV-I

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII
with faux-bourbons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 125 Lord, as to Thy dear Cross we flee Cologne, 1741

Cantata 78 - - - J. S. Bach

Chorale: Jesus, my beloved Saviour,
By thy death thou dost me save
Out of darkness and destruction,
From the terror of the grave.
By thy might the victory gaineth
And thy truth to us revealeth
In thy holy, blessed Word.
Be thou still our help, O Lord.

Aria-Duetto: We hasten with feeble, but diligent footsteps, O Jesus, O Master, for help unto thee! Thou tenderly seekest the sick and the erring. Ah! hear us, We lift up our voices, for succour we pray thee! Vouchsafe unto us the light of thy countenance.

Chorale: Lord, thy Word have I believed,
Let despair affright me not.
Grant that strength may be received,
When to death my soul is brought;
In thy goodness all confiding,
In thy mercy still abiding,
Lord, protect me, by thy grace,
Till I meet thee, face to face.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Organ—Adagio (Symphony II) - Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN LENT, 1937.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
 Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
 from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

LENT READING

suggest the New Testament, to be read daily, planning a systematic course with the purpose of completing the Books by the end of Lent.

Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Wednesday will be the Feast of St. Matthias. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Collect for the Second Sunday in Lent is a prayer for deliverance from evil thoughts which may assault and hurt the soul. The Latin version gives to the word translated "evil" in our Collect, the meanings—"distorted, deformed, perverted." In other words an evil thought is a crooked mental outlook upon life, the result of a defective vision, which presents a view of life that is fantastic, wholly false. It misses the normal and throws the abnormal into exaggerated and frightful perspective.

So potent is an evil thought that it is capable of producing bodily adversities. The Collect teaches us that against this so great evil we have no power in ourselves to help ourselves. The line of cleavage which separates the secular psychiatrist from the Christian priest is just at this point. When both psychiatrist and priest are in mutual understanding and agreement that we have no power in ourselves to help ourselves, then psychiatrist and priest may work intelligently and effectively and happily together. The psychiatrist may use his knowledge and skill up to the point when natural maladjustments have been approximately corrected. The priest must go on with the sacramental agencies which introduce the supernatural remedies which supplement the natural.

When God breathed the breath of life into man's nostrils at creation, he became a living soul. When God breathes into man's nostrils the breath of life at his regeneration, his re-creation, he becomes a son of God, a new creature in Christ Jesus, capable of walking in newness of life in the power of His resurrection. In this new supernatural life he receives the power which he lacked in the old, natural life. The power to die to sin and rise to newness of life; the power that causes sinful affections to die and all things belonging to the spirit to live and grow: the power and strength to have victory, and to triumph against the devil, the world and the flesh.

He receives the strength of the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, with daily increase in manifold gifts of grace; the spirit of wisdom and understanding; the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength; the spirit of knowledge and true godliness, and the spirit of holy fear.

He is given the means whereby he may relieve his conscience of the grievous memory and the intolerable burden of the sins which, by reason of his frailty, he has committed. Memories and burdens which become sources of serious disorders, moral and mental, if they are allowed to remain repressed and concealed. He receives the pardon and absolution for which he longs, through a sacrament so convincing that he goes from its gentle ministration in peace, and in the firm assurance that the Lord hath put away his sins.

He receives the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of his Saviour Jesus Christ and is assured thereby of His favor and goodness. His body is made clean, his soul washed. He is made one body with his Saviour, that his Saviour may dwell in him, and he in his Saviour. He receives the assistance of grace whereby he may continue in that holy fellowship, and do all such good works as God has prepared for him to walk in. He can do all things now through Christ who strengthened him.

The Christian has, moreover, the experience of centuries to draw from. Take the matter of dealing with any kind of evil thoughts as a case in point. He is instructed in the technique. He is taught how to distinguish between a thought and a suggestion.

A suggestion is only the presentation of an idea. It can only become a thought after it has been carefully considered, deliberately received and consciously reserved for positive action. If such consent is denied, the suggestion should be treated in a religious matter precisely as one would treat a rejected suggestion in a secular matter, as dismissed and to be given no further consideration.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 22

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Lent

February 28, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations and Sermon, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds
A. R. Reinagle, 1836

Antiphon. Mine eyes are ever looking unto the Lord, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net: look thou upon me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate, and in misery.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded. Glory be.

Gloria Eleison (Missa Quinti Toni) Orlando di Lasso

Gradual. Up, Lord, and let not man have the upper hand: let the heathen be judged in thy sight. While mine enemies are driven back: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

Tract. Unto thee lift I up mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heavens. Behold, even as the eyes of servants: look unto the hand of their masters. And as the eyes of a maiden: unto the hand of her mistress. Even so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God: until he have mercy upon us. Have mercy upon us, O Lord: have mercy upon us.

Hymn 124 Lord, when we bend before thy throne
Christopher Tye, 1553

Credo di Lasso

Offertory. The statutes of the Lord are right, and rejoice the heart: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb: moreover by them is thy servant taught.

Hymn 494 Where cross the crowded ways of life
Gardiner's Sacred Melodies, 1815

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei di Lasso

Communion. The sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest where she may lay her young: even thy Altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be always praising thee.

Motet (Ave Verum) Anton Bruckner

Hail, true Body, born of Mary,
Spotless Virgin's virgin birth,
Thou who truly hangedst weary
On the Cross for sons of earth;
Thou whose sacred Side was riven,
Whence the Water flowed and Blood,
O mayst thou, dear Lord, be given
At death's hour to be our Food.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in F minor Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, (verses 73-104) Tones 1-7, II-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and III, with polphony by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 134 Lord, Who throughout these forty days
Day's Psalter, 1562

Anthem Coleridge-Taylor

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Sion. As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees that are therein. For they that led us away captive required of us a song, and melody, in our heaviness.

Sing us one of the songs of Sion! How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, yea, if I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth.

Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said, Down with it, even to the ground.

O daughter of Babylon, wasted with misery, yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be that taketh thy children, and throweth them against the stones.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Toccata per l'Elevazione Frescobaldi

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

LENT READING

We suggest the New Testament, to be read daily, planning a systematic course with the purpose of completing the Books by the end of Lent.

Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, February 28, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, March 4th, at 3 P. M. The speaker will be the Rev. Shirley C. Hughson, Superior, Order of the Holy Cross.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and Friends of St. Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Tuesday, March 9th. The Conductor will be the Rev. William Eckman, S.S.J.E., Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister in Charge.

On Sundays, March 7, 14, 21, at Evensong, the Choir and soloists of the Church will sing The Passion according to St. John, by Johann Sebastian Bach.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN LENT, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

In the Epistle for this third Sunday in Lent, Saint Paul writes, "Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God." The word "followers" in our English translation in the original means "imitators." "Be ye therefore imitators of God, as dear children; and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice."

This admonition seems an impossible one to obey. How can we imitate God? Surely that is beyond our power. Who could possibly aspire to it? We could attempt almost anything but that. The statement of our duty towards God, as we learned it in the Catechism, does not at first sight seem to expect so much.

But mere duty toward God, Saint Paul tells us, is not enough. We must go far, far beyond formal duty. We must be imitators of God, as children, who are dear to their father and mother, unconsciously imitate the father and mother who are dear to them. A child really does reflect and return the love of the father or the mother. So long as duty is the motive, there can be nothing better than formal obedience. If the duty is neglected there can be nothing better than servile fear. But if love is the motive then there will be fearless filial love.

It is this love which is enjoined in the Epistle. Filial love to the Father who first loved us, who so loved us that he gave his only-begotten Son, who also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for us. It is when we survey the wondrous Cross that we behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God. It is when we begin to comprehend what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height, when we know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that we are bold to say Our Father.

This filial love, Saint John tells us, casts out fear. There are three words for fear in the New Testament, each describing a particular kind of fear. The first of these words means fear in general; the second means servile fear, the kind of fear inspired by a dictator; the third means holy fear or filial reverence.

Saint John uses the first word, fear in general, all kinds of anxious fear, arising from distrust in God. This was the kind of fear that Our Lord rebuked with the question, "why are ye so fearful, O ye of little faith?" There is one power that can control and cast out this kind of fear, and that is absorbing filial love for God. The kind of love a child has for a parent whom he trusts because he loves and knows that he is loved.

The second kind of fear, servile fear, is included in the first. Servile fear, as I have said, is the kind of fear a slave has for a tyrant. We have no idea of the oppressiveness of such a fear, though we can imagine it. Yet, strange to say, it seeps into and infects religion, and we may, before we realize it, become victims of a servile fear which deludes us into thinking of God as a relentless judge who desires our condemnation, and does not hesitate to take advantage of our weaknesses that he may destroy us.

As one writes this or reads this, it seems a dreadful thought, and incredible that we should ever entertain it. But in times of depression we do. There is only one way to get rid of it. An instant, adventurous and bold filial trust in a Father whose love we never doubt will never fail to cast out this unworthy fear which dishonors God, and deceives ourselves.

"Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

March 7, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations and Sermon, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn (English Hymnal, 534)

14th Century German Processional Melody

Praise the Lord of heaven; praise him in the height;
Praise him, all ye Angels; praise him, stars and light;
Praise him, skies and waters, which above the skies,
When his word commanded, stablished did arise.

Praise the Lord, ye fountains of the deeps and seas,
Rocks and hills and mountains, cedars and all trees;
Praise him, clouds and vapours, snow and hail and fire,
Stormy wind fulfilling only his desire.

Praise him, fowls and cattle, princes and all kings;
Praise him, men and maidens, all created things;
For the name of God is excellent alone;
On the earth his footstool, over heaven his throne.

Introit. Rejoice ye with Jerusalem; and be ye glad for her, all ye that delight in her: exult and sing for joy with her, all ye that in sadness mourn for her; that ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations.

Ps. I was glad when they said unto me: We will go into the house of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - Deus Sempiternus, Mode IV

Gradual. I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord. Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

Tract. They that put their trust in the Lord, shall be even as the mount Syon: which may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. The hills stand about Jerusalem: even so standeth the Lord round about his people; from this time forth for evermore.

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is John B. Dykes, 1868

Credo - - - Harold Darke in F

Offertory. O Praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious; O sing praises unto his Name, for it is lovely: whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven and in earth.

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest in the height John B. Dykes, 1868

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Darke in F

Communio. Jerusalem is built as a city that is at unity in itself: for thither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the Lord, to give thanks unto the Name of the Lord.

Motet

Jesu, joyance of my heart,
Blessed Jesu:
Bliss unto my soul thou art,
Holy Jesu:
Sure defence from Satan's dart,
Sweetest Jesu:
Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

J. R. Ahle, harmonized by Bach

Nought is lovelier than thou,
Dearest Jesu:
None is friendlier than thou,
Gentlest Jesu:
Nor is any sweet as thou,
Sweetest Jesu:
Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fantasia in G minor

Bach

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 119, (verses 105-144)

Tones VII-3- VI

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

*Tones II and III, with polyphony
by Everett Titcomb*

Hymn 125 Lord, as to Thy dear Cross we flee Cologne, 1741

THE PASSION ACCORDING TO SAINT JOHN

Johann Sebastian Bach

PART I. The words will be found on a separate list.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,

R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Ich ruf' zu dir

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

LENT READING

I suggest the New Testament, to be read daily, planning a systematic course with the purpose of completing the Books by the end of Lent.

Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

There will be a day of Retreat for the Associates and Friends of St. Margaret's Community at St. Margaret's Mission House, 1831 Pine Street, on Tuesday, March 9th. The Conductor will be the Rev. William Eckman, S.S.J.E., Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City. Retreat begins with Mass at 8 A. M. and ends at 4 P. M. Those wishing to attend will please notify the Sister in Charge.

Today and also on Sundays, March 14th and 21st, at Evensong, the Choir and soloists of the Church will sing The Passion according to St. John, by Johann Sebastian Bach.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Fourth Sunday in Lent is called Midlent Sunday or Refreshment Sunday. The Gospel records the miraculous feeding of the five thousand. St. John relates the miracle as an introduction to Our Lord's sermon on the Bread of Life. "I am that bread of life. This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die. I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world."

In the Collect we pray for the comfort of His grace, that we may be strengthened and by this gift of strength may be relieved, not from our sharing of the Passion of Our Lord, but from the weakness which causes us to shrink from it. The word in the Latin Collect means recover breath. So the purpose of the day is to give us opportunity to recover our breath before we begin the procession to the Cross. We do not pray that we may escape from the Cross, but that we may have strength to bear it.

So we turn to the miracle of the feeding of the multitude. They were in need of bodily refreshment. They had no supply of their own. There was no natural base of supply. If there had been there was no money to buy food. The disciples had nothing to give. Two hundred pennyworth of bread would not be sufficient for them, that every one of them might take a little. Mark the words every one. No one must be neglected. The only person who had anything at all was a little boy, and he had only enough for himself, five barley loaves and two small fishes. A little luncheon for a little boy.

What was that among so many? St. Andrew only mentioned the fact to emphasize the impossibility of the situation. The rest and what happened we know. The men who benefited by the miracle said, "this is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world." If only they had known they might have said, "this is the Saviour that has come into the world." But they did not know.

How many today know about the miracle that is to be witnessed every time Holy Communion is given? This same Jesus has compassion upon the multitude today, and speaks the comfortable words, "Come unto me, all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you."

Make a meditation on this subject. Picture the scene at an Altar at the time of Communion. Picture the people kneeling at the rail. Who are they? All that you may know about them is that they have truly and earnestly repented them of their sins, and that they have drawn near with faith to take the holy Sacrament to their comfort. This is all that you know. But God knows more. He knows the life history of each one.

We only know our own. We know that if we had not been strengthened and refreshed by the Body and Blood of Christ we should have fainted from sheer exhaustion under the pressure of temptations, anxieties, sorrows and nameless, helpless troubles for which the world could offer neither remedy nor relief.

Picture the scene at the Altar rail, and you have the modern miracle, the miraculous feeding which occurs daily in your own Church.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 Vernon

No. 24

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Passion Sunday

March 14, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Daily at 12.10 Stations and Sermon, Wednesday at 8 P. M.
Processional Litany and Sermon, Friday at 5 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 338 (Part I) Now, my tongue, the mystery telling
Sarum Plainsong, Mode III

Introit. Give sentence with me, O God, and defend the cause of my soul against the ungodly people: deliver me and rid me from the deceitful and wicked man; for thou, O Lord, art my God, and my strong salvation.

Ps. O send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me: and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevis No. 1) Healey Willan

Gradual. Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee. It is the Lord that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth me up above mine adversaries: thou shalt deliver me from the wicked man.

Tract. Many a time have they fought against me: from my youth up. May Israel now say: yea, many a time have they vexed me from my youth up. But they have not prevailed against me: the plowers ploughed upon my back. And made long furrows: but the righteous Lord hath hewn the snares of the ungodly in pieces.

Hymn 157 Sweet the moments, rich in blessing
Moravian Melody, 1745

Credo I Mode IV, Sixth century

Offertory. I will give thanks unto the Lord with my whole heart: O do well unto thy servant that I may live, and keep thy word: quicken thou me according to thy word, O Lord.

Hymn 160 We sing the praise of Him who died Leipzig, 1625

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Healey Willan

Communio. This is my Body, which is given for you; this cup is the new Testament in my Blood, saith the Lord: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

Hymn 338 (Part II) Vittoria

Therefore we, before Him bending,
This great Sacrament revere;
Types and shadows have their ending,
For the newer rite is here;
Faith, our outward sense befriending,
Makes our inward vision clear.

Glory let us give and blessing
To the Father and the Son,
Honour, thanks, and praise addressing,
While eternal ages run;
Ever too his love confessing
Who from Both with Both is One.
Amen.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—'O Man, bewail thy grievous sin' Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 119, (verses 145-176) Tones I-4, III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tonus Peregrinus with faux-bourbons by J. S. Bach

Hymn 154 When I survey the Wondrous Cross E. Miller, 1790

THE PASSION ACCORDING TO SAINT JOHN

Johann Sebastian Bach

PART II. The words will be found on a separate list.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—When Jesus hung upon the Cross Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The new Organ will be Blessed on Easter Morning at 11 o'clock.

The Offering next Sunday is for Diocesan, Domestic and Foreign Missions.

Thursday will be the Woman's Auxiliary Day of Intercession.

LENT READING

We suggest the New Testament, to be read daily, planning a systematic course with the purpose of completing the Books by the end of Lent.

Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymnals, religious books, Crucifixes and Religious Statues may be obtained at the Quill Book Shop, 1712 Locust Street.

Today and also on Sunday, March 21st, at Evensong, the Choir and soloists of the Church will sing The Passion according to St. John, by Johann Sebastian Bach.

On Wednesdays during Lent, at 8 P. M., the Stations of the Cross will be sung by the young men of the Minton Pyne Singers.

On Fridays during Lent, at 5 P. M., the Full Choir of the Church will sing the Litany in Procession.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or to Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

PASSION SUNDAY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Today we enter into Passiontide. This week we meditate on the meaning of Our Lord's suffering, in order that we may the more intelligently and devoutly commemorate the final events of Holy Week.

The Passion of Our Saviour was God's remedy for sin. There was no other remedy than the blood of Him who entered in once into the holy place, and obtained eternal redemption for us. Only the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit offered himself without spot to God, could purge our conscience from dead works to serve the living God. For this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. In these words the Epistle for the day lays the foundations of our belief.

Our Saviour Jesus Christ suffered death upon the Cross for our redemption and made there (by his one oblation of himself once offered) "a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world." In these words the Divine Liturgy teaches what Holy Scripture confirms.

"In the night in which He was betrayed, He took Bread; and when He had given thanks, He brake it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, Take eat, this is My Body, which is given for you; Do this in remembrance of me. Likewise after supper, He took the Cup; and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of this; for this is My Blood of the New Testament, which is shed for you, and for many for the remission of sins; Do this, as oft as ye shall drink it, in remembrance of me."

In these words the Divine Liturgy links the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper with the sacrifice of the death of Christ. The Sacrifice of the Altar is one with the Sacrifice of the Cross. Therefore in the Divine Liturgy we pray: "We earnestly desire thy fatherly goodness, mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching thee to grant that by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in His blood, we, and all thy whole Church, may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of His passion."

In the sermons of Passion Week and Holy Week, we shall be led to contemplate the Passion and Death of Our Saviour. In the offering of the Sacrifice of the Altar we shall be given the privilege of participating in the Sacrifice of the Cross. This is the climax of devotion to the Passion, for which preaching can never be more than a preparation. If preaching is less than that it is nothing.

The doctrine of the forgiveness of sins is a Divine Mystery, received by faith. This is why the forgiveness of sins is included in the Creed as an article of belief. It is an aid to faith to consider this mystery in connection with the mysteries which made Divine forgiveness of human sin possible; the mystery of the Holy Incarnation; the Holy Nativity and Circumcision; the Baptism, Fasting and Temptation; the Agony and Bloody Sweat; the Cross and Passion: the precious Death and Burial; the glorious Resurrection and Ascension.

And we must remember the coming of the Holy Ghost, who makes repentance possible; repentance—that searching, surgical operation which awakens, changes and reverses the mind, which corrects mental maladjustments and turns the mind to hate what is evil and to love what is good; to desire pardon, to embrace penance and to desire space for amendment and to lead a better life.

When the penitent meditates upon the Passion, he is comforted by the words of Saint John, "If any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous, and He is the Propitiation for our sins."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 25

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✕ Pennsylvania

Palm Sunday

March 21, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Lent

Mass, Monday to Wednesday, at 12.10

Stations and Sermon, Wednesday at 8 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 143 All glory, laud and honor Teschner, c. 1613
Procession { 145 Ride on! ride on in majesty Hamburg, 1690

Introit. O Lord, remove not thy succour afar from me: have respect to my defence, and hear me: deliver me from the mouth of the lion: yea, from the horns of the unicorn hast thou regarded my cry.

Ps. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health, and from the words of my complaint.

Gloria Eleison (Missa Aeterna Christi Munera) - Palestrina

Gradual. Thou has holden me by my right hand: thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and after that receive me with glory. Truly, God is loving unto Israel: even unto such as are of a clean heart. Nevertheless, my feet were almost gone: my treadings had well-nigh slipped. And why, I was grieved at the wicked: I do also see the ungodly in such prosperity.

Tract. My God, my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? And art so far from my health: and from the words of my complaint? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel. Our fathers hoped in thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee and were not confounded.

But as for me, I am a worm, and no man: a very scorn of men, and the outcast of the people.

All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, saying:

He trusted in God, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him if he will have him.

They stand staring and looking upon me: they part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

Save me from the lion's mouth: thou hast also heard me from among the horns of the unicorn.

O praise the Lord, ye that fear him: magnify him, all ye of the seed of Jacob.

They shall be counted unto the Lord for a generation: they shall come, and the heavens shall declare his righteousness.

Unto a people that shall be born: whom the Lord hath made.

Credo I - Mode IV, 6th century

Offertory. Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heaviness: I looked for some to have pity on me, but there was no man: neither found I any to comfort me; they gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they gave me vinegar to drink.

Hymn 158 O Sacred Head surrounded Hans Leo Hassler, 1601

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Palestrina

Communio. O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it: thy will be done.

Chorale (from the St. John Passion) - J. S. Bach

Within our inmost being, Thy Name and Cross alone, 'The light of all our seeing', Prevailing influence own.	O breathe this comfort o'er us, When low in grief we lie, That thou, Lord Jesus, for us, Hast given thyself to die.
--	--

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord.

Organ—Variant: Valet will ich dir geben - J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 22 - Tone II-I

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tonus Peregrinus with faux-bourbons
by J. S. Bach

Hymn 144 The Royal Banners forward go
Sarum Plainsong, Mode I

THE PASSION ACCORDING TO SAINT JOHN
Johann Sebastian Bach

PART III. The words will be found on a separate list.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Organ—Herzlich thut mich verlangen - J. S. Bach

Maundy Thursday, March 25th, 1937

SOLEMN HIGH MASS, 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 328, 320, 338

The Ordinary of the Mass - Missa Dominicalis

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The new Organ will be Blessed on Easter Morning at 11 o'clock.

On Easter Even the hours for Confession will be 2 to 3.30 and 8 to 9 P. M. Also by appointment.

Confirmation—Easter Even, 4 P. M.

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE FOR DIOCESAN, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The third and concluding part of the Passion according to St. John of Johan Sebastian Bach will be sung today.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

PALM SUNDAY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

Two processions met on that first Palm Sunday. There was the procession of disciples attending upon Our Lord as he entered Jerusalem. The second was the procession that came out from Jerusalem to meet Our Lord.

Probably this procession consisted mostly of strangers who had come up to Jerusalem for the Feast and had already visited the Temple. Many of them were faithful to Our Lord. With them were hostile Pharisees. So it was a mixed multitude, but for the most part friendly and aroused to enthusiasm for a brief time.

They carried with them palm branches. The disciples cut down branches from the trees on the way, and strewed them before Our Lord, making a carpet over which He might ride in simple state. And as they marched they caught up a fragment of a psalm and cried, "Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest."

Hosanna, save us now. This was their cry. It was as sincere as crowd sincerity can be. The enthusiasm was as stable as crowd enthusiasm can be. But no one, not even the disciples, understood the full meaning of the cry. The salvation which was to come was far beyond their present comprehension. Nor did they foresee the method or the cost. The ignorance and the enthusiasm is what constitutes the pathos of that procession. The divine foreknowledge, the infinite love and the unconquerable meekness of Our Lord gave it grandeur, a grandeur which has captivated the imagination of mankind to this day.

The Palm Sunday solemnities still cast a spell and attract crowds to churches, eager to see this strange procession; beautiful as an army with banners, stern as regiments marching into certain death, shouting the time-honored battle cry "Hosanna." You may see it all over the world this morning, this third procession. But with a difference. We live after the triumphant event of the Passion. We have seen the victory of the Cross. We know the whole story.

The week which begins today is a Holy Week for us, because the end of it will bring the gift of holiness and everlasting life. We know that the Cross is the key which unlocks the doors which open into both. The door through which the sinner passes to become penitent. The door through which the penitent passes to become forgiven. The door through which the forgiven passes to freedom to walk in newness of life, a new person, with a new name.

Palm Sunday is a commemoration of Our Lord's victory over the world wherever and whenever it is organized apart from God. "Be of good cheer," said the Lord of this day. "I have overcome the world." Not "I will," but "I have." Many, too many times, the world has made the attempt to live what it likes to call 'its own life', organized apart from God. As many times it has failed. As many times the only Person who loved it enough to die for it has saved it. He won his victory centuries ago. He will maintain it till the world ends.

"In the world ye shall have tribulation," Our Lord said. We need waste no time dreaming of a perfect world, nor in despairing over an imperfect one. But what we must always remember is that Our Lord remains, King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Come what may in our time or in times to follow, in the long run the victory remains with Him.

We who participate in the solemnities of Palm Sunday in this year of grace have another and greater advantage not possible for the multitude in that first Palm Sunday. For we have been permitted to see and to live in the promised Church, built upon the Rock which is Christ. We have seen with our own eyes that never once have the gates of hell prevailed against the Church. So we sing our Hosannas today. And every Hosanna is a ringing note of hope.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 26

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Easter

March 28, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 172 Jesus Christ is risen today Lyra Davidica, 1708
Procession { 170 Come, ye faithful Sullivan, 1872

Introit. I am risen, and am still with thee, alleluia: thou hast laid thine hand upon me, alleluia: thy knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O Lord, thou hast searched me out and known me: thou knowest my downsitte and mine uprising. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Schubert in C

Gradual. This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will be joyful and glad in it. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth forever.

Alleluia. Christ our Passover: is sacrificed for us.

Sequence Christians, to the Paschal Victim offer your thankful praises. A Lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless, reconcileth sinners to the Father.

Death and life have contended in that combat stupendous: the Prince of Life, who died, reigns immortal.

Speak, Mary, declaring what thou sawest wayfaring?

'The Tomb of Christ, who is living, the glory of Jesu's resurrection: bright angels attesting, the shroud and napkin resting.

Yea, Christ my hope is arisen: to Galilee he goes before you.'

Christ indeed from death is risen, our new life obtaining.

Have mercy, victor King, ever reigning! Amen. Alleluia.

Credo - - - Schubert in C

Offertory. The earth trembled and was still: when God arose to judgment, alleluia.

Hymn 178 At the Lamb's high feast we sing Hintze, 1678

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Schubert in C

Communio. Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us, alleluia: therefore let us keep the feast with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Schubert in C

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Piece Heroique - - - Cesar Franck

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 118 - - - Tone I-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in A

Hymn 173 The Strife is o'er Palestrina

Motet (Crucem Sanctam subiit) - Palestrina

He endured the Holy Rood.
He whom Satan's host subdued;
Begirt with power was God, and then:
The third day saw Him rise agen,
Alleluia!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Sarum Plain-song, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness

Organ—Christ lay in bonds of death - Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE NEW ORGAN WILL BE BLESSED AT THE ELEVEN O'CLOCK SERVICE TODAY.

All Offerings today have been assigned to Parochial Support.

There will be a third Mass at 9.30 on Monday and Tuesday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, April 1st, at 3
P. M. The speaker will be Deaconess Shaw, who will tell about the work in the Philippine Islands.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, April 4th, at 8 A. M.

St. Mark's Section of the Philadelphia Branch of The Needlework
Guild during 1936 distributed 656 garments. Also $81.00 through the School Children's Shoe Fund, $59.00 of which was contributed through the generosity of the men of St. Mark's.
The flood sufferers were given $26.00.

During 1936 the Philadelphia Branch of The Needlework Guild distributed over 40,000 garments to more than 200 charities.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

He is risen! Christ is risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. This is the message which fills earth and sky today.

Since very early in the morning long processions of Christians have hastened to meet Our Risen Lord at the Altar in the Blessed Sacrament of His Body and Blood, to worship Him and to receive Him.

As we read the Eastertide Gospels and meditate upon the appearances of Our Lord to the disciples, we must constantly remember the admonition of Saint Paul,
"Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord." We must hold fast the remembrance that we ourselves on this Easter Day of nineteen hundred and thirty-seven are walking in newness of life in the power of His Resurrection, as did the disciples on the first Easter day.

Perhaps we can only faintly sense the joy of the first disciples, but we can fully realize our own. We are actually in Communion with Our Lord in the Sacrament of His Body and Blood. He lives in us. The power of His risen life is preserving our bodies and souls unto everlasting life.

Everlasting life is our present possession, not merely a hope for the future, but something that we have here and now. Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over Him. Because Christ dwelleth in us, it is no longer we who live, but Christ who liveth in us. Therefore death hath no more dominion over us. Our Lord has said "whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day." "If any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world." With all Christians, in all places, in all ages, we make our affirmation of sure and certain faith, "I believe in the resurrection of the body; And the life everlasting."

Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us. He is the very Paschal Lamb, which was offered for us, and hath taken away the sin of the world. He dwells in us, that He may take away our sin. Therefore in Him we are to reckon ourselves to be dead indeed unto sin. The old leaven of malice and wickedness is being purged out. By continually mortifying our corrupt affections we are daily buried with Him. By daily bringing to good effect the good desires which He puts into our minds we daily pass to our joyful resurrection. As we die daily to sin, we live daily unto God. The former things pass away. All things become new.

Now all this is accomplished by living in Christ. It is in Christ that all are made alive. Life in Christ is the perfection of Christian devotion. Compared with this every other kind of devotion is secondary, preparatory, only leading up to perfect discipleship. The Sacraments are means of grace for stabilizing, strengthening, settling us in the life which is hid with Christ in God. Prayer is conversation with God, by which our minds are informed, our wills elevated, our hearts enkindled. The beauty of the ceremonies of the Liturgy is an outward and visible sign of the beauty of holiness. Without holiness we cannot see the Lord.

This may seem to be beyond our capacity. It is beyond our natural capacity.
But the whole point of the Easter message is that in Christ we are made new creatures. We have only to accept the Easter gift, and everything becomes simple. The impressive lesson that we learn from the first disciples on the first Easter is the lesson of simplicity. They were glad when they saw the Lord.
They began without hesitation or misgiving the new life with Him. They never looked back. If we do as they did, and we must, this Easter and every Easter will be a day of wonder and delight.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 27

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Easter

April 4, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 176 Jesus lives!

Henry J. Gauntlett, 1852

Introit. As new-born babes, alleluia: desire ye the sincere milk of the world, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God, our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Lovelock in A minor

Alleluia. And after eight days, when the doors were shut: stood Jesus in the midst of his disciples, and said, Peace be unto you. Alleluia. The Angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. Alleluia.

Hymn 175 Christ the Lord is risen today Arr. by Wilkes, 1861

Credo Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. The earth trembled, and was still: when God arose to judgment, alleluia.

Motet (Crucem Sanctam subiit)

Palestrina

He endured the Holy Rood.
He whom Satan's host subdued;
Begirt with power was God, and then:
The third day saw Him rise agen,
Alleluia!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Lovelock in A minor

Communio. Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more, alleluia: death hath no more dominion over him, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Finale (Symphony II)

Widor

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 2, 57

Tones III-4, VIII-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in A

Hymn 555 O sons and daughters, let us sing!

Mode II

Motet

Makarov

An Angel said to Mary, full of grace: Hail, O Virgin most pure, rejoice, Thy Son is risen from the tomb on the third day as He said, and all the dead are risen through Him.

All peoples of the earth, rejoice; new Jerusalem, receive the light, for the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee: chant songs of joy, O Sion. And thou, O Mary, most pure mother of God, rejoice in the resurrection of thy Son.

Praise our Redeemer, our Lord. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, alleluia,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, alleluia.

Organ—Salve Regina (Symphony II)

Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On the Feast of the Annunciation (transferred to Monday), there will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Altar Society will make its Corporate Communion on Tuesday, April 6th, at 7.45 A. M.

The Rector's Discretionary Fund is very low at present.

The Spring Presentation Service of the United Thank Offering will be held at Holy Trinity Church, Thursday, May 6th, at 10.30 A. M. Contributions to the Offering and contents of the little blue boxes should be sent, before May 1st, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

We are celebrating the Forty Days of Eastertide. Therefore let us keep the Feast. It is no less our duty to keep the forty days of the Feast than it was our duty to keep the forty days of the Fast.

In Lent we were chiefly concerned with the duties of repentance. In Eastertide we are chiefly concerned with the duties of faith. There must be a true balance of repentance and faith. There must be the repentance whereby we forsake sin. There must be the faith whereby we steadfastly believe the promises of God. We must diligently cultivate faith in the forgiveness of the sins for which we offered repentance in Lent. We who watched beside our Saviour's death with sorrow, must with joy witness to our Lord's resurrection.

Easter triumph is the triumph of God, who hath taken away the sin of the world, destroyed death, and restored to us everlasting life. The forty days of Eastertide must be devoted to the practise of the technique of thanksgiving.

As Eastertide advances, its glories increase. The festival carries us on, nearer and nearer, with rapturous joy, until at the Ascension we are lifted up to Heaven itself, and to the place prepared for us. Whitsuntide will lift us up to the Holy Ghost, the giver of the clear light and true knowledge of God.

Finally on Trinity Sunday the gates of Heaven will be opened wide, and we shall have the preparation for, and the foretaste of, the Beatific Vision: With Angels, and Archangels, and with all the Company of Heaven, we shall laud and magnify the glorious Name of God, praising Him and saying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts, Heaven and earth are full of thy glory; glory be to Thee, O Lord Most High. The forty days of Eastertide will be busy days. We cannot afford to miss one of them. We must learn our lessons in the science, and we must practise the art of the worship for which we were created.

We shall need to refresh our memories by reading the records of Our Lord's appearances to His disciples, and of their companionship with Him during their forty days, and after. The thing that we note is that they were glad when they saw Him. They were not thinking about the wonder of His resurrection, nor about their own. They were thinking about Him, and about being with Him. They were rejoicing in the recovery of the former companionship. To be with Him again was everything. Later on they understood that He would be in them, and they in Him, and that He would be with them always.

So when the time for His Ascension came, they were able to return to Jerusalem with great joy. The resurrection joy continued because they continued to live in Him, convinced that He had not left them and would not leave them nor forsake them. When, after Pentecost, they began to teach, they taught that the Christian life is life in Christ. For them life everlasting meant everlasting life in Christ. Immortality without their life in Christ did not occur to them. If it had it would have been a barren, bleak, intolerable prospect in which they would have seen no joy. It was their Lord's joy that remained in them and made their joy full.

So it is with us. The joy of Easter is joy in Him. The everlasting life of Easter is everlasting life in Him. He in us and we in Him. Here, and now, and forever. We do not need to look back over counted centuries, nor forward to uncounted centuries. Our everlasting life in Him has begun. It is ours now. It is renewed in each Communion.

While we are in this world our present prayer is, "Suffer me not to be separated from thee." When the time comes to leave this world, our last prayer will be, "Bid me come to thee, that with thy saints I may praise thee, forever and ever."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 Vernon

No. 28

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Easter

April 11, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 356 Fairest Lord Jesus - Silesian Folksong

Introit. The loving-kindness of the Lord filleth the whole world, alleluia: by the word of the Lord the heavens were stablished, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa de Sancto Albano) Healey Willan

Alleluia. I am the Good Shepherd: and know my sheep, and am known of mine. Alleluia. The Good Shepherd hath risen: who hath given his life for his sheep. Alleluia.

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is John B. Dykes, 1868

Credo - - - - Willan

Offertory. O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: and lift up my hands in thy Name, alleluia.

Motet - - - - Makarov

An Angel said to Mary, full of grace: Hail, O Virgin most pure, rejoice, Thy Son is risen from the tomb on the third day as He said, and all the dead are risen through Him.

All peoples of the earth, rejoice; new Jerusalem, receive the light, for the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee: chant songs of joy, O Sion. And thou, O Mary, most pure mother of God, rejoice in the resurrection of thy Son.

Praise our Redeemer, our Lord. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - Willan

Communio. I am the good Shepherd, alleluia: and know my sheep, and am known of mine, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Willan

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in B minor - - Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 116, 117 - - Tones II-r, Peregrinus

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Noble in B minor

Hymn 180 Forty days of Eastertide MacLagan, 1875

Motet - - - Alfred Whitehead

O sons and daughters, let us sing!
The king of heaven, the glorious king,
O'er death today rose triumphing.
Alleluia!

That night the apostles met in fear,
Amidst them came their Lord most dear,
And said, 'My peace be on all here.'
Alleluia!

That Easter morn, at break of day,
The faithful women went their way
To seek the tomb where Jesus lay.
Alleluia!

How blest are they who hath not seen,
And yet whose faith hath constant been,
For they eternal life shall win.
Alleluia!

An angel clad in white they see,
Who sat and spake unto the three,
'Your Lord doth go to Galilee.'
Alleluia!

On this most holy day of days,
To God your hearts and voices raise
In laud and jubilee, and praise.
Alleluia!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, alleluia,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, alleluia.

Organ—Priere - - - Jongen

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Spring Presentation Service of the United Thank Offering will be held at Holy Trinity Church, Thursday, May 6th, at 10.30 A. M. Contributions to the Offering and contents of the little blue boxes should be sent, before May 1st, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no dominion over Him." This is the sustained note of Eastertide. On this second Sunday after Easter, the Epistle bids us to think of Our Lord as the Shepherd and Bishop of our souls. The Gospel gives us Our Lord's own instruction upon the subject. "I am the good Shepherd." We all love this Gospel. We find great comfort in it. It makes us very humble. But as a matter of fact it tells us the plain truth about ourselves.

In religious matters we are like sheep. Helpless if we are left to ourselves. Confused if we are left to the vagaries of a crowd spirit. Led astray if we are left to misguided leaders. There is something attractive in what is called rugged individualism. But there is also the danger of eccentricity. There is something inspiring in crowds. But there is also the danger of mob hypnotism. It requires vigilance and proper self-control to avoid the dangers of both.

We are conscious of this difficulty in the secular world. We need not be surprised if we encounter it in the religious world. But there is this difference. In religion we have a Shepherd and Bishop of our souls. If we unhappily err and stray like lost sheep, there is always the way of return to the good Shepherd.

This in itself would not be enough. There is need of the good shepherd who giveth his life for the sheep. When the hirelings have all fled at the approach of the wolf, the good shepherd remains to rescue his sheep, if need be at the cost of his own life. The good shepherd knows his sheep. He calls each one by name. His sheep know him. They recognize his voice, and follow when he calls. He leads, they follow into the fold and are safe.

The good shepherd's love overflows and reaches out to other sheep who need to be sought and found and brought into the one fold and under the protection of the one shepherd. The good shepherd loves the lost sheep. The lost sheep hear his voice because it is the voice of love. The good shepherd will not rest until all his sheep are safe in the one fold. They cannot return of themselves, because they have lost their way. They must be brought and he alone can bring them.

"Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no dominion over Him." The risen Lord is our good Shepherd. We are the sheep. The fold is His Church. It is all very simple. The Collect for the day sums it up. "Give us grace that we may always receive that His inestimable benefit, and also daily endeavor ourselves to follow the blessed steps of His most holy life."

There is the wolf. Yes. The wolf is the devil. Where we least suspect him, there he lurks. His attacks are as varied as they are unexpected. But we must always remember that Our Risen Lord has given to us the power to be alive unto God, to walk in newness of life. This new life is a victorious life.

The disciples learned this during their forty days of Eastertide. They became inspired by a victorious faith. All fear was banished. This change is impressively evident. They spoke and acted and lived confidently. They followed their Shepherd without hesitation. They were undaunted by a hostile world. They were in the world, but they were not of the world. They consciously and confidently lived within the fold which they knew to be under the protection of One who had overcome the world. They felt secure in the fold against which the gates of hell could not prevail.

When the time came, they left the upper room in which they first were gathered in fear, and they went boldly to extend the fold until finally it has reached to the uttermost ends of the earth. Into this fold the good Shepherd has called His sheep. The under-shepherds, under His direction, have sought and found and guided those whom He has called. And the sheep have heard and followed the one Shepherd into the one Fold.

So you are living your lives in the Fold. Within the Fold you are living with the Good Shepherd, your risen, victorious Lord. You are singing your Easter praise within His courts. You are being fed and guarded. Your life within the Fold is the lasting joy of Easter. This is the victory that overcometh the world, even your faith.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 29

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Easter

April 18, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 464 The Church's One Foundation S. S. Wesley, 1864

Introit. O be joyful in God, all ye lands, alleluia; sing praises unto the honour of his Name, alleluia; make his praise to be exceeding glorious, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works, O Lord; through the greatness of thy power. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Beethoven in C

Alleluia. A little while, and ye shall not see me, saith the Lord Jesus: and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. Alleluia. But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man taketh from you. Alleluia.

Hymn 225 My spirit on thy care Louis Bourgeois, 1551

Credo Harold Darke in F

Offertory. Praise the Lord, O my soul; while I live will I praise the Lord: yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God, alleluia.

Anthem (150th Psalm) Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of his power. Praise ye Him for his mighty acts. Praise ye Him according to His wondrous works.

Praise ye Him with the sound of the trumpet: Praise ye Him with the psaltery and harp. Praise ye Him with the timbrel; Praise ye Him with the dance; Praise Him with the organ and stringed instruments. Praise ye Him upon the loud cymbals.

Praise ye Him upon the high sounding cymbals; Let everything that have breath Praise the Lord. Hallelujah!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Darke in F

Communio. A little while, and ye shall not see me, alleluia; and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis Darke in F

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in B minor Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 123, 124, 125 Tones II-1, VII-7, VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Noble in B minor

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Anthem Philip James

I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient time,
And now, as then, thy mercies hold
Their hope of grace divine.

Thy voice was in the thunder,
The waters were afraid;
Yet in my day of trouble
I called on thee for aid!

I have remembered my song at night,
Communing with my heart,
And know thy love is still my right,
Nor ever will depart.

Who is so great a God as the Lord!
His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer outpoured,
Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, alleluia,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, alleluia.

Organ—Cantabile Jongen

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

I call your attention to the booklet "Glory of Light" which is being distributed today. The purpose of the booklet is to give information concerning the Drama of Missions. Contributions for this project are asked. It is hoped that every parish in the Diocese will respond and that we at St. Mark's will do our share. Contributions may be sent to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

For two years a Religious Conference for young people of this section has been held at the Valley Forge Military Academy in July with gratifying results. During last summer there were nearly 100 in attendance. An excellent volunteer Faculty provides for Lectures and Instructions. The cost for each person for six days is $16.00.

Many parishes desirous of sending representatives are unable to pay the cost of board and tuition. Will anyone who is desirous of providing a Scholarship, by contributing $16.00, notify Mrs. McFaul, the Rector's Secretary.

Bishop Taitt will be the Celebrant and the Rev. Howard R. Weir the preacher at the Spring Presentation of the United Thank Offering on Thursday, May 6th, at Holy Trinity Church. This being Triennial Year, contributors are asked to make their Offerings as large as possible to offset the deficit of three years ago, and to send them, before May 1st, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The disciples, with bodily sight, saw Our Lord during the forty days after His resurrection. He had promised them that after Pentecost they would see Him with spiritual vision. The bodily sight would be withdrawn at the Ascension. The spiritual sight would remain to cause their hearts to rejoice with a joy that no man could take from them.

This satisfying spiritual sight of Our Lord has been the joy of Christians ever since. Centuries of experience have proved the reality of joy in the abiding presence of Our Lord. Centuries of worldly blindness and indifference have failed to take from Christians the fulness of joy found nowhere else but in their Lord's presence. Our Lord promised a special blessing to those who, not having enjoyed the bodily sight of Him, have believed in and enjoyed His spiritual presence.

This is the blessing in which we share. It follows that our devotion to Our Lord is a living devotion to a living Lord really present. We worship a present, not an absent, Lord. He is present in the Sacrament of His Body and Blood, the Body and Blood of Christ our souls are strengthened and refreshed.

Therefore when the Church calls us to the Eucharistic Mysteries, she repeats the words of her Head, "Come unto Me, all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you." Seeing no man save Jesus only in this Mystery, the Church prays for the gifts to be obtained from Jesus only. "That we may worthily receive the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son Jesus Christ, be filled with Thy grace and heavenly benediction, and made one body with Him, that He may dwell in us, and we in Him. Grant us therefore, gracious Lord, so to eat the flesh of Thy dear Son Jesus Christ, and to drink His Blood, that our sinful bodies may be made clean by His Body, and our souls washed through His most precious Blood, and that we may evermore dwell in Him, and He in us." Christians go to the altar remembering the Lord's promise, "I will see you again." And that joy no man taketh from them.

Christians feed upon their Lord in their hearts by faith with thanksgiving. They know that the Lord is in their hearts. They know that He dwells in them. They know that at any moment of the day or night they may make acts of spiritual communion refreshing their minds with thankful remembrance and renewing their strength by the magnifying of Christ's life in their bodies. Whatever may be the difficulties which surround them, however painful the knowledge of their natural weakness may be, they are inspired by the confidence that they can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth them.

Earth born clouds may envelop them, but the darkness will not daunt them. Darkness does not mean separation. The remembrance of the promise cheers them. "Ye now therefore have sorrow! But I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice and your joy no man taketh from you."

This perpetual communion finds its utterance in prayer. Prayer is the language of communion. It has a vocabulary all its own. There is no speech like it to be found anywhere else. The Lord's Prayer, the Our Father, is the treasury of prayer, in which all treasures of devotion have been found. The Divine Liturgy, the Offices, the Litanies, the vocal prayers of devotion, supplication, thanksgiving, intercession, ascend unceasingly from earth to heaven through Jesus Christ, the only Mediator and Advocate, the heavenly High Priest who ever liveth to make intercession for us.

Earth responds to heaven's Sursum Corda and lifts up the hearts of saints and sinners, the holy aspirations, the sighs of penitence, the grateful thanksgivings, the inarticulate griefs, the hopes and fears, the trustful silences which are considered by some masters in the science of prayer to be the deepest of all acts of prayer. Only God knows the secrets of the prayers offered to Him daily. But one thing we all know, the voice never fails, "Ye now therefore have sorrow; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 30

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Saint Mark the Evangelist

April 25, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 266 Ye Watchers and ye Holy Ones Cologne, 1623
Procession { 278 We praise Thy grace, O Saviour Gauntlett, 1852

Introit. Thou hast hidden me, O God, from the gathering together of the forward, alleluia: from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Henschel in D

Alleluia. Thou hast set, O Lord: a crown of pure gold upon his head. Alleluia. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful. Alleluia.

Sequence H. W. Hawke

Praise, the true heart's offer,	Christ is Head and Ending
Let our voices proffer	Of their aim and tending,
And our thanks to Christ resound	He whose Presence all things fills;
For the Faith's four preachers	By the blest inditing
And unshaken teachers,	Of their holy writing
Whom his grace hath made renown'd.	Stands the Church secure from ills.

Here those four rings golden	At their supplication,
Well may be beholden,	Grant us, Lord, salvation,
Which the Ark of God upbore;	From eternal death and woe.
Christ, the good seed sowing,	By their holy teaching,
And the fruit bestowing	Safe and happy reaching
In the doctrine of the Four.	Of celestial joys bestow.

Credo Henschel in D

Offertory. The righteous shall be joyful in the Lord, and shall put his trust in him: and all the upright of heart shall be thankful, alleluia, alleluia.

Anthem N. Herman, 1560, arr. by Henry G. Ley

Lo, round the throne, a glorious band	They see their Saviour face to face,
The Saints in countless myriads stand,	And sing the triumphs of his grace:
Of every tongue redeemed of God,	Him day and night they ceaseless praise,
Arrayed in garments washed in blood,	To Him the loud thanksgiving raise:
Hallelujah!	Hallelujah!

Through tribulation great they came,	Worthy the Lamb for sinners slain,
They bore the Cross, despised the shame:	Through endless years to live and reign:
From all their labours now they rest,	Thou hast redeemed us by thy Blood,
In God's eternal glory blest,	And made us kings and priests to God,
Hallelujah!	Hallelujah!

O may we tread the sacred road
That Saints and Holy Martyrs trod:
Wage to the end the glorious strife,
And win, like them, a crown of life,
Hallelujah! Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Communio. He that will come after me, let him deny himself: and take up his cross, and follow me, alleluia, alleluia.

Henschel in D

Gloria in Excelsis

Henschel in D

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata (Symphony V)

Widor

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 1, 15

Tones I-1, III-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in C

Hymn

Thomas Turton, 1844

From out the cloud of amber light,	The lion-faced, he told abroad
Borne on the whirlwind of the north,	The strength of love, the strength of faith;
Four living creatures wing'd and bright	He showed the Almighty Son of God,
Before the Prophet's eye came forth.	The Man Divine who won by death.

The voice of God was in the Four	O Lion of the Royal Tribe,
Beneath that awful crystal mist,	Strong Son of God, and strong to save,
And every wondrous form they wore	All power and honour we ascribe,
Foreshadow'd an Evangelist.	To Thee who only makest brave.

For strength to love, for will to speak,
For fiery crowns by Martyrs won,
For suffering patience, strong and meek,
We praise Thee, Lord, and Thee alone.

Anthem

S. S. Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

To an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

But as He which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. Love one another with a pure heart, fervently. See that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the Word of the Lord endureth forever. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Organ—Alleluia, Pascha Nostra

Everett Titcomb

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Saturday, May 1st, is SS. Philip and James' Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Contributions for the project, "Drama of Missions," are asked by the Diocese and it is hoped that we at St. Mark's will do our share. Contributions may be sent to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

There will be a Diocesan Missionary Service on May 3rd, at Holy Trinity Church, at 8 o'clock. The Bishop will deliver his Annual Address.

For two years a Religious Conference for young people of this section has been held at the Valley Forge Military Academy in July with gratifying results. During last summer there were nearly 100 in attendance. An excellent volunteer Faculty provides for Lectures and Instructions. The cost for each person for six days is $16.00.

Many parishes desirous of sending representatives are unable to pay the cost of board and tuition. Will anyone who is desirous of providing a Scholarship, by contributing $16.00, notify
Mrs. McFaul, the Rector's Secretary.

Bishop Taft will be the Celebrant and the Rev. Howard R. Weir the preacher at the Spring Presentation of the United Thank Offering on Thursday, May 6th, at Holy Trinity Church. This being Triennial Year, contributors are asked to make their Offerings as large as possible to offset the deficit of three years ago, and to send them, before May 1st, to the Treasurer, Mrs.
Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

The Annual Spring Concert of the Minton Pyne Singers will be given in the Parish Hall on Wednesday, May 5th, at 8.30 P. M.
The group will be assisted by the ladies from St. Matthew's Church Choir under the direction of Miss Roma Angel.
Tickets may be obtained from members of the group, and at the Church Office. Admission, 40 cents.

An invitation is extended by the Indian's Hope Association of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Pennsylvania to a Service in grateful memory of Mrs. John Markoe, in St. Peter's Church, 3rd and Pine Streets, Wednesday, April 28, at 10.30 A. M.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1937.
SAINT MARK'S DAY.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Gospel for today records the promise of the coming of the Comforter. Our Lord prepared His disciples by the assurance that it would be expedient for them that He should go away to Him that sent Him. He explained that the Comforter, the Holy Ghost, would most surely come to them, but only after His departure. The disciples could not understand. They could only treasure these instructions in their memories.

He had spoken to them before about their difficulty in understanding. "But the Comforter," He said, "which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My name, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you." In today's Gospel He continues the instruction on remembering His words and waiting for the Holy Ghost to enable them to understand what they remembered, and all that the Holy Ghost would recall to their remembrance.

"I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth." After Our Lord's resurrection, we read He continued His instructions. "He showed himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God."

Today while we are continuing the Festival of the Resurrection, our minds are being prepared for the anticipation of Our Lord's Ascension into heaven, and for the coming of the Holy Ghost. On the Sunday after Ascension Day, we shall be expecting the Festival of Pentecost. In the meantime, in the happy quietness of mid-Eastertide, we are being prepared for the great things that are to come. Each year we need to learn the simple lesson over again, the lesson of our dependence upon the guidance of the Spirit of truth to guide us into all truth.

The Holy Ghost brings all things to our remembrance. The Holy Ghost guides us into true understanding. Look back over the Christian Year. Remember what you have seen, keep every scene fresh in your memories. And see the unity of the drama of redemption re-presented by the Liturgical cycle of devotion. Try to see it as a whole. The Manger of Bethlehem. The Cross on Calvary. The empty Tomb in the Garden of the Resurrection. It is a fadeless memory.

Christmas may seem to the world to be a day of the past for this year. It can never be a thing of the past for us. Every day of the year, in the Eucharistic Mysteries, some one in this Church visits Bethlehem and kneels in devout remembrance of Bethlehem, at the words of the Creed, "Who for us men and for our salvation came down from Heaven, and was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man."

Good Friday may seem to the world a day of the past for this year. It can never be that for us. Every day of the year, in the Eucharistic Mysteries, some one in this Church visits Calvary, and in the Creed makes devout remembrance, "And was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate; He suffered and was buried."

Every day in the Eucharistic Sacrifice the sacrifice of the Cross is re-presented on the Altar. "We earnestly desire thy fatherly goodness, mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching thee to grant that, by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in His blood, we, and all thy whole Church, may obtain remission of our sins, and all other benefits of His passion."

Easter may have come and gone for the world. It can never be so for us. Every day some one in this Church remembers in the Eucharistic Mysteries, "And the third day He rose again according to the Scriptures." In the Eucharistic Mysteries, humble servants of God celebrate and make, with the holy gifts which they offer, the memorial of the mighty resurrection.

So the Holy Ghost brings all things to our remembrance and guides us into all truth.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 31

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Rogation Sunday

May 2, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 181 O Jesus, crowned with all renown
Joseph Barnby, 1838 1896

Introit. With a voice of singing declare ye this, and let it be heard, alleluia: utter it even unto the ends of the earth; the Lord hath delivered his people, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O be joyful in God, all ye lands: sing praises unto the honour of his Name; make his praise to be glorious. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) - Everett Tilcomb

Alleluia. Christ is risen, and hath shewed light unto us: whom he hath redeemed with his most precious Blood. Alleluia. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world and go to the Father. Alleluia.

Hymn 446 O God of Bethel Scottish Psalter, 1615

Credo III - - - Mode V

Offertory. O Praise the Lord our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: who holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip. Praised be the Lord, who hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercy from me, alleluia.

Anthem - - - S. S. Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

To an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

But as He which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. Love one another with a pure heart, fervently. See that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the Word of the Lord endureth forever. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Everett Tilcomb

Communio. O Sing unto the Lord, alleluia: sing unto the Lord, and praise his Name; be telling of his salvation from day to day, alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Everett Tilcomb

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata Quinta - J. E. Eberlin, 1702-1762

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 132, 133, 134 - Tones VI, VIII-3, VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Stanford in C

Hymn 183 Lord, in thy Name thy servants plead
James Turle, 1835

Anthem - - - Beethoven

Hallelujah! Hallelujah unto God's Almighty Son. Praise the Lord: ye bright angelic choirs, in holy songs of joy.

Man, proclaim his grace and glory. Praise the Lord in songs of joy.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Organ—Fuga V - - - J. E. Eberlin

Ascension Day

Thursday, May 6, 1937

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 188, 186

The Ordinary of the Mass - Missa Marialis

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY OF THIS WEEK ARE ROGATION DAYS.

ON ASCENSION DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 6th, IN ADDITION TO THE USUAL MASSES AT 7, 7.45, AND THE HIGH MASS AT 9.30, THERE WILL BE A LOW MASS AT 12.10.

The Corporate Communion of the St. Mark's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, May 2nd, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, May 6th, at 3 P. M.

Contributions for the project, "Drama of Missions," are asked by the Diocese and it is hoped that we at St. Mark's will do our share. Contributions may be sent to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

There will be a Diocesan Missionary Service on May 3rd, at Holy Trinity Church, at 8 o'clock. The Bishop will deliver his Annual Address.

For two years a Religious Conference for young people has been held at the Valley Forge Military Academy in July with gratifying results. An excellent volunteer Faculty provides for Lectures and Instructions. The cost for each person for six days is $16.00. Many parishes desirous of sending representatives are unable to pay this cost. Will anyone, desirous of providing a Scholarship of $16.00, notify Mrs. McFaul, the Rector's Secretary.

Bishop Taitt will be the Celebrant and the Rev. Howard R. Weir the preacher at the Spring Presentation of the United Thank Offering on Thursday, May 6th, at Holy Trinity Church. This being Triennial Year, contributors are asked to make their Offerings as large as possible to offset the deficit of three years ago, and to send them, before May 5th, to the Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

The Annual Spring Concert of the Minton Pyne Singers will be given in the Parish Hall on Wednesday, May 5th, at 8.30 P. M. The group will be assisted by the ladies from St. Matthew's Church Choir under the direction of Miss Roma Angel. Tickets may be obtained from members of the group, and at the Church Office. Admission, 40 cents.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER, 1937.
ROGATION SUNDAY.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

This Sunday precedes the three Rogation Days, the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Ascension Day. The Rogation Days are days of solemn supplication for a blessing upon the land, a blessing upon the labours of those who cultivate it, for seasonable weather and for a fruitful harvest. The supplications are specific. The arrangement of the petitions is significant. From it we may learn the method of vocal prayer in general, for other and any intentions.

The points suggested for meditation are: 1—Dependence upon God. All works must be begun, continued and ended in God. 2—Personal labor must accompany prayer; to pray is to labor, to labor is to pray. 3—Seasonable conditions are to be waited for in faith. 4—Results belong to God. 5—Prayer is cooperation with God. In prayer we become laborers together with God.

The Collect for the day continues this lesson in prayer, widens the scope, and affords a general working rule for prayer.

Note that the first clause arouses the mind to consider that all good things come from God. We are compelled to pause, to delay our anxious petition for the moment, that we may adjust our minds to the reflection that God is the giver of all good things. We are led to pray for holy inspiration to think those things that are good. We must think rightly before we can pray rightly. We must be impressed by the thought of the necessity of self-surrender in order that we may fulfil the will of God.

"Through Our Lord Jesus Christ": our minds are moved to remember the ending of the prayer of Our Lord in the Garden, "Nevertheless not my will, but thine be done." Our affection for Him is aroused. We cannot allow ourselves to ask more than He asked.

Do you see what has happened? At the first we had only a vocal prayer to offer. But we stopped to think of God. This was mental prayer. Then our hearts were touched by affection for Our Lord which roused an aspiration, "Love so amazing, so divine, demands my soul, my life, my all." This was affective prayer. At the end there could be nothing less than the surrender of the will to the will of God. This was simple prayer.

Those of you who have read some of the books on the science and art of prayer know that in them holy wisdom is to be found. But I have in mind some who perhaps have had no inclination for such books. To them I am anxious to say this. Delay the books until you really want to read them, if you like. But there is one book in your possession which you have had all your life. You can not delay reading that book, nor do you desire to delay.

That book is your own heart. You know it fairly well from cover to cover. The longer you live the better you will know it. Whether that knowledge will be bitter or sweet will depend upon whether you have followed the things that God has written in it. Just because your heart is a human heart you will find, and you will be driven to find, the merciful guiding that the good God has inspired and written there.

You do not need to be as wise as a theologian. You do not need to be as holy as a saint. But you will grow into wisdom and holiness if you follow simply, and quietly, and humbly, the guiding of God in the way of vocal, mental, affective, and simple prayer. You need not overload your minds with methods which may only confuse and discourage you. You must not try to be some one else. Just be yourself.

Bring yourself and your desires, your needs, your prayers to God; in Holy Communion, in private intercession, in church, at home. School yourself to listen oftener than you speak to God. Set yourself to watch in solitude, to listen in silence, to wait in quietness, to suffer in penitence, to persevere in patience. Time after time you will see for yourself that "in some deep experience, some lesson of suffering, of discipline, some revelation of his love, the Voice is heard, the soul uplifted above itself; all else far away and hushed—and then, the Voice is past, Jesus is found alone."

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday after Ascension Day

May 9, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession

W. H. Monk

Hail the day that sees Him rise,
To His throne above the skies;
Christ, the Lamb for sinners given,
Enters now the highest heaven.

Alleluia!

There for Him high triumph waits;
Lift your heads, eternal gates;
He hath conquered death and sin;
Take the King of glory in.

Alleluia!

Lo! the heaven its Lord receives,
Yet He loves the earth He leaves;
Though returning to His throne,
Still He calls mankind His own.

Alleluia!

Hymn 190 Crown Him with many crowns George J. Elvey, 1868

Vntroit. Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? alleluia: in like manner as ye have seen him going up into heaven, so shall he come again, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. O clap your hands together, all ye people: O sing unto God with the voice of melody. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Schubert in G

Alleluia. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet, Alleluia. Christ to highest heaven ascending, led captivity captive: and gave gifts unto men. Alleluia.

Hymn 188 The head that once was crowned with thorns Jeremiah Clark, 1709

Schubert in G

Credo Offeriory. God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet, alleluia.

Anthem Beethoven

Hallelujah! Hallelujah unto God's Almighty Son. Praise the Lord, ye bright angelic choirs, in holy songs of joy.
Man, proclaim his grace and glory. Praise the Lord in songs of joy.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Schubert in G

Communion Everett Titcomb, 1934

Sing ye to the Lord, who ascended the heaven of heavens: to the sun-rising, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis

Schubert in G

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude on 'Andernach'

Healey Willan

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 46, 47

Tones V-3, VII-6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones VIII and III with polyphony by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 191 Hail, Thou once-despised Jesus!

Ancient Dutch Melody

Anthem

Handel

Lift up your heads, O ye gates! and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of Glory shall come in.

Who is the King of Glory? The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle. The Lord of Hosts; He is the King of Glory.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, alleluia,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, alleluia.

Organ—Heut' triumphiret Gottes Son

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Spring In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering was held at Holy Trinity Church, May 6th, 1937. The very generous Offerings made by this Parish were:—From St. Mark's, $710.00. From St. Mary's, $60.00. From St. Michael's, $15.15.

Contributions for the project, "Drama of Missions," are asked by the Diocese and it is hoped that we at St. Mark's will do our share. Contributions may be sent to the office of the Parochial Secretary.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SUNDAY AFTER ASCENSION DAY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"While they beheld, He was taken up; and a cloud received Him out of their sight. And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold two men stood by them in white apparel; which also said, ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven."

This is the sum of the whole matter. "I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again I leave the world, and go to the Father." "Our Lord Jesus Christ for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, and ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of the Father: And He shall come again with glory, to judge both the quick and the dead."

"Seeing then, that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need." "This is a true saying, and worthy of all men to be received, That Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." "If any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous; and He is the Propitiation for our sins."

We have worshipped Our Lord in the Manger. We have worshipped Our Lord on the Cross. We have worshipped Our Lord risen from the dead. Today we worship Our Lord ascended into heaven, sitting on the right hand of the Father. Today we address our prayers to Him: "O Lord, the only begotten Son, Jesus Christ; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us. For thou only art holy; thou only art the Lord; thou only, O Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father."

Our Lord, our Advocate, who is most high in the glory of God the Father, ever liveth to make intercession in Heaven for us.

This same Lord, in the Blessed Sacrament of His Body and Blood, is always with us on the Altars of His Church, to receive our worship and to hear our prayers. He who interceded on the Cross, intercedes from the Altar, the same Lord who intercedes in heaven. "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, and forever." Our knees are on the ground, for He is on the Altar. Our eyes are raised to heaven for He is enthroned in glory.

Today we are counting God's mercies, one by one, from Heaven to Bethlehem, and from Bethlehem back to Heaven. Our praises and thanksgivings are beyond our power to express adequately. "With Angels and Archangels, and all the Company of Heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious Name, evermore praising thee, and saying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of hosts, Heaven and earth are full of thy glory: Glory be to thee, O Lord Most High."

While we show forth our praise with our lips, our prayer is that we may show forth our praise in our lives. We offer and present ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice. We humbly beseech our heavenly Father, so to assist us with His grace, that we may continue in the holy fellowship, and do all such good works as He has prepared for us to walk in; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom with the Father and the Holy Ghost, be all honor and glory, world without end.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

No. 33

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Whitsunday

May 16, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn in Procession (English Hymnal, 158) Este's Psalter, 1592

When God of old came down from heaven, And as on Israel's awe-struck ear
In power and wrath he came; The voice exceeding loud,
Before his feet the clouds were riven, The trump, that Angels quake to hear,
Half darkness and half flame: Thrilled from the deep dark cloud;

But when he came the second time, So, when the Spirit of our God
He came in power and love; Came down his flock to find,
Softer than gale at morning prime, A voice from heaven was heard abroad,
Hovered his holy Dove. A rushing mighty wind.

The fires that rushed on Sinai down It fills the Church of God; it fills
In sudden torrent dread; The sinful world around;
Now gently light, a glorious crown, Only in stubborn hearts and wills
On every sainted head. No place for it is found.

Come Lord, come Wisdom, Love, and Power,
Open our ears to hear;
Let us not miss the accepted hour;
Save, Lord, by love or fear.

Hymn 561 Joy because the circling year Dresden, 1694

Introit. The Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world, alleluia: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice, alleluia, alleluia,
alleluia.

Ps. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Quinti Toni) Orlando di Lasso

Alleluia. O send forth thy Spirit, and they shall be made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. The Holy Spirit, proceeding from the throne, came down in unseen majesty: as on this day, upon the Twelve, purifying their most inmost hearts.

Sequence Hymn 196 Come, thou Holy Spirit, come
Samuel Webbe, 1782

Credo di Lasso

Offertory. Stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in us: for thy temples' sake at Jerusalem, shall kings bring presents unto thee, alleluia.

Anthem Charles Steggall

God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise. He stood and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; and the everlasting mountains were scattered, and the perpetual hills did bow.

His ways are everlasting: Hallelujah, Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei di Lasso

Communio

Everett Titcomb, 1934

I will not leave you comfortless, I will come to you yet again: Alleluia.
And your heart shall be joyful. Alleluia, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis

di Lasso

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet
Bread from Heaven. Alleluia.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Kyrie, Gott, Heiliger Geist

Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 145

Tone V-I

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis *Tones VIII and III with polyphony
by Everett Titcomb*

Hymn 199 Our blest Redeemer

John B. Dykes, 1861

Motet

Sterndale Bennett

God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth. For the Father seeketh such to worship Him.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven, alleluia,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness, alleluia.

Organ—Komm, heiliger Geist, Herre Gott F. W. Zachow, 1663-1712

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Monday and Tuesday of this week there will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

Those who were kind enough to subscribe to the Fund of St. Mark's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Hospital will be glad to know we were able to give two wheel chairs and twenty small chairs to the Children's Ward.

Wednesday, May 19th, is Donation Day at St. Anna's Home. Tea will be served from three until five o'clock and a cordial invitation to be present is extended to all who are interested.

The May Fete of the Episcopal Hospital will be held on Wednesday, May 26th, from 12 A. M. to 7 P. M. Lunch and supper will be served. There will be tables of farm produce, cake, candy, preserves, potted plants, cut flowers, ice cream, lemonade and balloons, as well as an occupational therapy exhibit and fortune telling. Also an exhibition of flower arrangements with awards. Music will be supplied by the orchestra and chorus of the House of St. Michael and All Angels. Admission—Adults, 25 cents; children, 10 cents. Come and bring your friends for entertainment and show them the Hospital.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

"When the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost." This is the record of the event which we commemorate today.

"I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Lord, and Giver of Life, who proceedeth from the Father and the Son; Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified; Who spake by the Prophets." This is the confession of our Faith.

In the Catechism we were asked, "What do you chiefly learn in these Articles of your belief?" We answered, "First, I learn to believe in God the Father, who hath made me and all the world. Secondly, in God the Son, who hath redeemed me, and all mankind. Thirdly, in God the Holy Ghost, who sanctifieth me, and all the people of God."

What does the word 'sanctify' mean? The word sanctify means "to separate and set apart to a holy and religious use: to cleanse from sin, and to free from the power of sin."

How does the Holy Ghost sanctify us? We can answer this question by recalling the operations of the Holy Ghost in the Sacraments that we have received. I suggest a thoughtful reading of The Ministration of Holy Baptism. "Dearly beloved, forasmuch as our Saviour Christ saith, None can enter into the Kingdom of God, except he be regenerate and born anew of Water and the Holy Ghost." The Holy Ghost begins His work of sanctifying us by spiritually regenerating us; by releasing us from sin; by bestowing upon us the everlasting benediction of heavenly washing; by giving to us the fulness of grace; by incorporating us into Holy Church.

So the process of sanctification begins. The virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity are implanted in the soul, as seeds in good soil, to bring forth fruit in due season.

Read next the Order of Confirmation. The Bishop prays "Almighty and Everliving God, who hast vouchsafed to regenerate these thy servants by Water and the Holy Ghost, and hast given unto them forgiveness of all their sins; Strengthen them, we beseech thee, O Lord, with the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, and daily increase in them thy manifold gifts of grace: the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true godliness; and fill them, O Lord, with the spirit of thy holy fear, now and forever."

"Then all of them kneeling before the Bishop, he shall lay his hand upon the head of every one of them." In this solemn act, he is one with the Apostles and he, as they did, lays his hands upon them, and they receive the Holy Ghost. So the process of sanctification proceeds.

When the Bishop laid his hands upon us, he prayed that we "may daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more." The responsibility of conforming to the laws of this increase rests upon us. The spiritual seeds have been planted in the gardens of our souls. Power has been given to us to guard the gardens from the weeds of sin. By removing whatever weeds that may appear by the faithful use of the Sacrament of Penance. By receiving thankfully, habitually and frequently the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of our Saviour Jesus Christ, whereby our souls are strengthened and refreshed. By turning our souls to the light of God's Presence in unceasing prayer. By endeavoring daily and hourly to continue in this holy fellowship, and by doing all such good works as God has prepared for us to walk in.

The gardens of our souls will be subjected to seasonal vicissitudes, for which we must be prepared. In due time, with patience, the fruit of the Spirit will appear; Love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

No. 34

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Trinity Sunday

May 23, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in } 525 I bind unto myself today Ancient Irish Melody
Procession } 205 Holy, Holy, Holy! J. B. Dykes, 1861

Introit. Blessed be the Holy Trinity, and the undivided Unity: we will praise and glorify him, because he hath shewed his mercy upon us.

Ps. Let us bless the Father and the Son: with the Holy Spirit. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Altissimus, Mode V

Gradual. Blessed art thou, O Lord, which beholdest the great deep: and sittest upon the Cherubim. O bless the Lord of heaven: for he hath shewed mercy upon us.

Alleluia. Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and worthy to be praised for evermore. Alleluia.

Hymn 38 Three in One, and One in Three Friedrich Filitz, 1847

Credo - - - Harold Darke in F

Offertory. Blessed be God the Father, and the only begotten Son of God; and blessed be the Holy Spirit: for the mercy he hath done unto us.

Motet - - - Richard Dering

Above Him stood the Seraphim, and one cried unto another, and said, Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of Hosts: the whole earth is full of His glory.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Harold Darke in F

Communio - - - Everett Titcomb, 1934

Let us bless the God of heaven, and in the sight of all the living will we give thanks unto him: because he hath done to usward after his loving kindness.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Harold Darke in F

Antiphon O Most Sacred Banquet, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Wir Glauben all an einen Gott

Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 93, 97

Tones V-3, V-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Motet - - - Tschaikowsky

Blessed angel spirits offer praise undying, Ever crying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Saints and Martyrs praise thy Name, Trinity life-giving; Earth-borne sorrow leaving before thy Throne.

Father Omnipotent, mighty in glory; Christ Thy Son, our Saviour, who died that we might live; Holy Spirit, mystic Dove, dwelling with us evermore, We Praise Thee, Blessed Trinity.

With the Angels' sacred hymn, All thy might proclaiming, With the mystic Cherubim in songs of praise we join, Holy, Holy, Holy; Hallelujah, Lord God of Sabaoth.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Antiphon 'He remembering his mercy'

Dupre

Corpus Christi

Thursday, May 27, 1937

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 328, 339

The Ordinary of the Mass

Healey Willan

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THURSDAY, MAY 27th, WILL BE THE FEAST OF
CORPUS CHRISTI. THE MASSES FOR COMMUN-
ION ARE AT 7 AND 7.45. THERE WILL BE A HIGH MASS AT 9.30 AND A LOW MASS FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE AT 12.10.

First Vespers of Corpus Christi will be said on Wednesday after Evensong. Second Vespers will be said on Corpus Christi after Evensong, followed by a business meeting of the Confraternity
of the Blessed Sacrament in the Parish Parlor.

The May Fete of the Episcopal Hospital will be held on Wednesday, May 26th, from 12 A. M. to 7 P. M. Lunch and supper will be served. There will be tables of farm produce, cake, candy, preserves, potted plants, cut flowers, ice cream, lemonade and balloons, as well as an occupational therapy exhibit and fortune telling. Also an exhibition of flower arrangements with awards. Music will be supplied by the orchestra and chorus of the House of St. Michael and All Angels. Admission—Adults, 25 cents; children, 10 cents. Come and bring your friends for entertainment and show them the Hospital.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

TRINITY SUNDAY, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

We have arrived at Trinity Sunday. We have made the annual pilgrimage of the Christian Year.

At the first station of the pilgrimage we looked and beheld the Incarnate
Lord in the Manger. We next looked and beheld the Redeeming Lord on the Cross. On the third day after we looked and beheld the Risen Lord. Forty days later we looked and beheld the Glorified Lord ascending into Heaven. When the day of Pentecost was fully come we looked, and beheld the Holy Ghost coming down from heaven.

We really looked and beheld; so vividly did the Church set forth in order the declaration of those things which are surely believed among us. In the Liturgy, Collects, Epistles, Gospels, Prefaces, Psalms and Lessons, we have heard and read for ourselves and we know the certainty of those things wherein we have been instructed.

The Christian Year has illumined the secular year, "through the tender mercy of God, whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us; to give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death, and to guide our feet into the way of peace." We remember the Sacraments provided for us, our Absolutions and Communion. We remember our experiences in prayer and our adventures in trust. We remember interventions of Providence which have saved us from tragedies of self-will, our guidances in perplexities, our consolations in sorrows, our supports in times of weakness, our visitations of God so evident that in recalling them we unhesitatingly testify to them with the certitude of eyewitnesses.

These are matters of personal experience of which we do not commonly speak but which are reserved for perpetual thanksgiving to Almighty God. On Trinity Sunday we each have our memories of the year which began at the door of a stable and ends before an open door of Heaven.

As we look back on it all we see a little more clearly that the love of God and the knowledge of God are inseparable, and that the love comes first and leads on to the knowledge. So it is in all personal relationships. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.
This is the first and great Commandment. And the second is like unto it: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two Commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

In the grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ, in the love of God, and in the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, we come into the knowledge of God the Father who created us, of God the Son who redeemed us, of God the Holy Ghost who sanctifies us. By grace given unto us we are enabled, "by the Confession of a true faith to acknowledge the glory of the eternal Trinity, and in the power of the Divine Majesty to worship the unity."

"For that which we believe of the glory of the Father, the same we believe of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, without any difference of inequality." "We worship one God in Trinity, and Trinity in Unity; neither confounding the Persons, nor dividing the substance. For there is one Person of the Father, another of the Son, and another of the Holy Ghost; but the Godhead of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost is all one, the glory equal, the majesty co-eternal. And in this Trinity none is afore or after other, none is greater or less than another; but the whole Three Persons are co-eternal together and co-equal.
So that in all things, as is aforesaid, the Unity in Trinity and Trinity in Unity is to be worshipped."

To know God, we must live with God. To live with God we must love God.
Both the living and the loving are gifts of God. Both are given freely. We must begin at the beginning and follow through to the end. The Manger and the Cross lead to the door that is opened in Heaven. Even here and now, we are permitted to sing with all the Company of Heaven, Holy, Holy, Holy.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

2 Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

The First Sunday after Trinity

Within the Octave of Corpus Christi

May 30, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 328 Jesus, thou Joy of loving hearts - Mode I

Antiphon. He fed them also with the finest wheat flower, alleluia: and with honey from the rock hath he satisfied them, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Ps. Sing we merrily unto God our helper: make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Orbis factor) - Mode I, tenth century

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. My Flesh is meat indeed, and my Blood is drink indeed: he that eateth my Flesh and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

Sequence - Mechlin Vespérale, Mode IV

Laud, O Syon, thy Salvation,
Laud with hymns of exultation
Christ, thy King and Shepherd true.
Bring him all the praise thou knowest,
He is more than thou bestowest,
Never canst thou reach his due.

Here beneath these signs are hidden
Priceless things, to sense forbidden;
Signs, not things, are all we see;
Blood is poured, and Flesh is broken,
Yet in either wondrous token
Christ entire we know to be.

Full and clear ring out thy chanting,
Joy, nor sweetest grace be wanting,
From thy heart let praises burst;
For today the Feast is holden
When the institution olden
Of that Supper was rehearsed.

Whoso of this Food partaketh,
Rendeth not the Lord nor breaketh
Christ is whole to all that taste;
Thousands are, as one, receivers,
One, as thousands of believers,
Eats of him who cannot waste.

Credo I - Mode IV, sixth century

Offertory. The priests of the Lord do offer the offerings of the Lord, made by fire and the bread of their God: therefore they shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the Name of their God, alleluia.

Anthem - Johannes Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O Lord of Hosts! For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God. O blest are they that dwell within thy house; they praise thy Name evermore.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Modes IV and VIII, twelfth century

Communio. As often as ye do eat of this bread, and drink this cup: ye do show the Lord's death till he come. Wherefore, whosoever shall eat of this Bread, and drink of this Cup of the Lord unworthily: shall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord, alleluia.

Gloria in Excelsis - Mode I, twelfth century

Antiphon O Most Sacred Banquet, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Toccata-Prelude on 'Pange Lingua' Edward Bairstow

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 111, 112 - Tones IV-6, VII-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn 25 All praise to Thee, my God, this night
Thomas Tallis, c. 1567

Motet - Bachmetiev

Take the Body of Christ, O taste the source of immortality. Alleluia!

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Adagio (Symphony IV) - Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy or Sister Helen.

No. 36

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday after Trinity

June 6, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 89 To the Name of our salvation Caspar Ett, 1840

Introit. The Lord was my refuge and my upholder; and he brought me forth into a place of liberty: he delivered me because he delighted in me.

Ps. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my rock, my fortress and my Saviour. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Aeterna Christi Munera) Palestrina

Gradual. When I was in trouble I called upon the Lord: and he heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips: and from a deceitful tongue.

Alleluia. God is a righteous Judge, strong, and patient: and God is provoked every day. Alleluia.

Hymn 232 How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds
A. R. Reinagle, 1836

Credo I Mode IV, sixth century

Offertory. Turn thee, O Lord, and deliver my soul: O save me for thy mercies' sake.

Motet Palestrina
Like as the hart desireth the water-brooks, even so longeth my soul after thee, O God.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Palestrina

Communio. I will sing of the Lord, because he hath dealt so lovingly with me: yea, I will praise the Name of the Lord Most Highest.

Gloria in Excelsis Palestrina

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Ricercare Palestrina

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 10 Tone VIII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and VI with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn 316 Jesus, the very thought of thee John B. Dykes, 1866

Motet Edward Elgar

Light of the World, we know thy praise the Angels and Archangels raise, and all the hosts of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has given.

But thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb thy resting place; so thou might bring into our night the dawn of thine eternal Light to shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin is Lord, but thou, O Son of God! Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank thee, and we pray thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us for evermore.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Harmonies du Soir Karg-Elert

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

No. 37

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday after Trinity

June 13, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 312 God of mercy, God of grace Henry Smart, 1866

Introit. Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, O Lord; for I am desolate, and in tribulation: look thou on mine affliction, and my travail, and forgive me all mine iniquities, O my God.

Ps. Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul: my God, in thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded. Glory be.

Kyrie (Locus iste) Anton Bruckner

Gradual. O cast thy burden upon the Lord: and he shall nourish thee. When I cried unto the Lord, he heard my voice: from the battle that was against me.

Alleluia. I will love thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my stony rock, my fortress, and my Saviour. Alleluia.

Hymn 235 O Love that casts out fear Henry Smart, 1886

Credo (Mass in E minor) Anton Bruckner

Offertory. They that know thy Name will put their trust in thee; for thou, Lord, hast never failed them that seek thee: O praise the Lord which dwelleth in Syon; for he forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.

Motet Edward Elgar

Light of the World, we know thy praise the Angels and Archangels raise, and all the hosts of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has given.

But thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb thy resting place; so thou might bring into our night the dawn of thine eternal Light to shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell, nor sin is Lord, but thou, O Son of God! Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank thee, and we pray thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us for evermore.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Modes IV and VIII, twelfth century

Communio. I have called upon thee, O God, for thou shalt hear me: incline thine ear unto me, and hearken unto my words.

Gloria in Excelsis Anton Bruckner

Antiphon O Most Sacred Banquet, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in G major Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 33 Tone III-5

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones IV and VI with faux bourdons by Healey Willan

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest in the height John B. Dykes, 1868

Motet Tschaikowsky

O praise the Lord, laud ye the Name of the Lord; praise it, O ye servants of the Lord. Alleluia.

O praise Him. Praised be the Lord out of Zion! Praised be the Lord, who dwelleth at Jerusalem. Alleluia.

O commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and he shall bring it to pass. Alleluia.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Les Cloches Nicolas Lebegue, 1603-1702

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

No. 38

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fourth Sunday after Trinity

June 20, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Introit. The Lord is my light, and my salvation, whom then shall I fear? the Lord is the stronghold of my life, of whom shall I be afraid? when mine enemies pressed sore against me, they stumbled and fell.

Ps. Though an host of men were laid against me: yet shall not my heart be afraid. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) - Everett Titcomb

Gradual. Be merciful, O Lord, unto our sins: wherefore do the heathen say, Where is now their God? Help us, O God of our salvation: and for the honour of thy Name, deliver us, O Lord.

Alleluia. The King shall rejoice in thy strength, O Lord: exceeding glad shall he be of thy salvation. Alleluia.

Hymn 465 We love the place, O God Henry L. Jenner, 1861

Credo I - - - Mode IV Sixth century

Offertory. Lighten mine eyes, that I sleep not in death; lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him.

Motet - - - Tschaikowsky

O praise the Lord, laud ye the Name of the Lord: praise it, O ye servants of the Lord. Alleluia.

O praise Him. Praised be the Lord out of Zion! Praised be the Lord, who dwelleth at Jerusalem. Alleluia.

O commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and he shall bring it to pass. Alleluia.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Everett Titcomb

Communio. The Lord is my strong rock, and my defence: my Saviour, my God, and my might.

Gloria in Excelsis - Everett Titcomb

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude-Maestoso (Symphony I) - Vierne

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 25 - - - Tone I-10

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux bourdons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 23 The day is past and over Arthur H. Brown, 1862

Anthem—Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round Eric Thiman
(The words of Hymn 491)

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
---	--

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Prelude in D major - Vierne

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Fifth Sunday after Trinity

June 27, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 4 Christ, whose glory fills the skies

Werner's Choralbuch, 1815

Introit. Consider, O Lord, and hear me, when I cry unto thee: be thou my succour, O cast me not away, neither forsake me utterly, O God of my salvation.

Ps. The Lord is my light, and my salvation: whom then shall I fear?
Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. Behold, O God, our defender: and look upon thy servants. O Lord
God of hosts: hear the prayers of thy servants:

Alleluia. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust, let me never be put to confusion: rid me, and deliver me in thy righteousness, bow down thine ear to me, make haste to help me. Alleluia.

Hymn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God! Leighton G. Hayne, 1863

Credo " " " Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. I will bless the Lord, who hath given me counsel; I have set God always before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

Anthem—Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round
(The words of Hymn 491)

Eric Thiman

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Lovelock in A minor

Communion. One thing have I desired of the Lord, which I will require: even that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

Gloria in Excelsis - Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. O Most Sacred Banquet, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed, the mind with grace is filled, and a pledge of future glory is bestowed.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Carillon-Sortie in D

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 27 - - - - Tone VII-3

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux bourdons by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 480 Jesus shall reign - John Hatton, 1793

Motet Palestrina

Like as the hart desireth the water-brooks, even so longeth my soul after thee, O God.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide The gate of heaven to man below, Our foes press on from every side, Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.	All praise and thanks to thee ascend For evermore, blest One in Three; O grant us life that shall not end, In our true native land with Thee.
--	---

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Ariadne-Musica J. K. F. Fischer, 1650-1746

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Tuesday will be Saint Peter's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30 A. M.

PLEASE TAKE THIS HOME WITH YOU FOR REFERENCE PURPOSES

Beginning on the first day of July, and continuing during July, August and September, the Services are as follows:

SUNDAY— 8.00 A. M.— Low Mass
10.30 A. M.—Matins
11.00 A. M.—High Mass
4.00 P. M.—Evensong

D A I L Y— 7.00 A. M.—Low Mass
9.00 A. M.—Matins
12.30 P. M.—Intercessions
5.00 P. M.—Evensong

Confessions—Saturdays, 4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Father Blake will be on duty in July.

Father Hopkin will be on duty in August.

The Clergy House telephone number is Pennypacker 5195

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

October 3, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 289 Stars of the morning Henry Smart, 1868

Introit. I am the saving health of my people, saith the Lord God: out of whatsoever tribulation they shall pray to me, I will surely help them, and I will be their God for ever and ever.

Ps. Hear my law, O my people: incline your ears unto the words of my mouth. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison - - - Altissimus, Mode V

Gradual. Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight: O Lord, as the incense: V. And let the lifting up of my hands: be an evening sacrifice.

Alleluia. They that put their trust in the Lord shall be even as the mount Syon: he who dwelleth in Jerusalem may not be removed, but standeth fast for ever. Alleluia.

Hymn 237 When all thy mercies, O my God
Thomas Tallis, 1567

Credo - - - Darke in F

Offertory. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me, O Lord: thou shalt stretch forth thy right hand upon the furiousness of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

Anthem - - - Edward Elgar

Light of the World, we know thy praise the Angels and Archangels raise, and all the hosts of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has given.

But thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb thy resting place; so thou might bring into our night the dawn of thine eternal light to shine upon our face.

Nor death, nor hell nor sin is Lord, but thou, O Son of God! Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank thee, and we pray thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us for evermore.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Darke in F

Communio. Thou hast charged that we shall diligently keep thy commandments: O that my ways were made so direct, that I might keep thy statutes.

Gloria in Excelsis - Darke in F

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in B minor - J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 18 - - - Tone 1-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones VIII and III with polyphony by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Sarum Plainsong Mode VIII

Anthem - - - George Martin

Hail, gladdening Light, of his pure glory poured
Who is the Immortal Father, Heavenly, Blest,
Holiest of Holies, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Now we are come to the sun's hour of rest,
The lights of evening round us shine,
We hymn the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit Divine.

Worthiest art Thou at all times to be sung,
With undefiled tongue, Son of our God, Giver of life, Alone!
Therefore in all the world thy glories, Lord, they own.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Erbarm dich - J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Triennial Presentation of the United Thank Offering will be made at the General Convention in Cincinnati on October 7th. Contributions to the Offering may be sent until Monday to Mrs. Hand, 1724 Pine Street.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twentieth Sunday after Trinity

October 10, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 264 Ye holy Angels bright

John Darwall, 1770

Introit. Everything that thou hast brought upon us, O Lord God, thou hast done in righteousness and judgment: for we have trespassed against thee, and have not obeyed thy commandments; but give glory and honour to thy Name, and deal with us according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

Ps. Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Sanctae Crucis) Everett Titcomb

Gradual. The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord: and thou givest them their meat in due season. V. Thou openest thy hand: and fillest all things living with plenteousness.

Alleluia. O God, my heart is ready, my heart is ready: I will sing, and give praise with the best member that I have. Alleluia.

Hymn 261 Awake, and sing the song Henry J. Gauntlett, 1858

Credo IV - - - Plainsong, Mode I

Offertory. By the waters of Babylon we sat down, and wept: when we remembered thee, O Syon.

Anthem—(Psalm 150) - - - Cesar Franck

Hallelujah! O praise ye the Lord, Praise God for his greatness. Praise ye the Lord in the firmament of his power. Praise ye Him for his mighty acts. Praise ye Him according to his wondrous works.

Praise ye Him with the sound of the trumpet: Praise ye Him with the psaltery and harp. Praise ye Him with the timbrel; Praise ye Him with the dance; Praise Him with the organ and stringed instruments. Praise ye Him upon the loud cymbals. Praise ye Him upon the high-sounding cymbals.

Let everything that have breath Praise the Lord. Hallelujah!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Everett Titcomb

Communio. Remember thy word unto thy servant, O Lord, wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust: the same is my comfort in my affliction.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Everett Titcomb

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Adagio and Allegro (Chorale in A minor) Cesar Franck

Solemn Quensong

Psalms 53, 54, 55

Tones III-5, IV-6, I-8

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones VIII and III with polyphony by Everett Titcomb

Hymn 25 All praise to Thee, my God, this night Thomas Tallis, c.1567

Anthem - - - Josef Haydn

Distracted with care and anguish,
When hearts despairing languish,
Madly they seek for comfort
Where it doth ne'er abide.

For us no rest remaineth,
If earth our love retaineth,
And heaven we cast aside.

Relief he only gaineth,
And peace at last attaineth,
Whom God vouchsafes to guide.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - - - Mode VIII

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Cantabile - - - Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity

October 17, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 312 God of mercy, God of grace Henry Smart, 1866

Introit. O Lord Almighty, everything is in subjection unto thee; and there is no man that is able to resist thy power: for thou hast created everything; heaven and earth, and all the wonders which under heaven's vault are contained; thou art the Lord and King of all things.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison Lovelock in A minor

Gradual. Lord, thou hast been our refuge: from one generation to another. V. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord, O my soul, while I live will I praise the Lord; yea, as long as I have any being, I will sing praises unto my God. Alleluia.

Hymn 116 Oft in danger, oft in woe Henry J. Gauntlett, 1852

Credo Lovelock in A minor

Offertory. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job: perfect and upright, and one that feared God. And Satan sought to tempt him: and power was given him by the Lord over his possessions, and over his flesh. And he destroyed all his substance and his sons: and he smote his flesh with sore boils.

Motet Bortniansky

How great in Sion Thou art praised,
No mortal tongue, O Lord, can tell.
Above the sky Thy Throne is raised,
All of earth's creatures laud Thee well;
O Lord, thy greatness everywhere
reigneth,

All things thy heavenly might ordaineth.
The sinner fears Thy visitation,
But to the blessed comes salvation.

The Lamb of gold upon Thine Altar,
Showeth to us Thine effigy,
We sing to Thee with lyre and psalter,
Incense and myrrh we bring to Thee.
Borne in the clouds from censers burning
Riseth to Thee our heart's deep yearning.

The sun's bright rays to us thou leadest,
Thy love is like a father's love,
The hungry ones with manna feedest,
Callest us to Thy realms above.

O God, unto Thy heavenly dwelling
Send we our voices e'er anew,
Our heart's deep yearning ever telling
Flow forth our tears like morning dew.
An altar in our hearts we raise Thee,
Ever, O Lord, we sing and praise Thee!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Lovelock in A minor

Communio. My soul hath longed for thy salvation; and I have a good hope in thy word: when wilt thou be avenged of them that persecute me? They persecute me falsely: O be thou my help, O Lord my God.

Gloria in Excelsis Lovelock in A minor

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Fugue in B minor

Back

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 133, 134, 135

Tones VIII-3, VIII-1, VII-2

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

*Tones II and III with polyphony
by Healey Willan*

Hymn 23 The day is past and over

Arthur H. Brown, 1862

Anthem (St. Patrick's Prayer)

arranged by Charles Burke

I bind unto myself this day
The glory of the Trinity,
I humbly praise the awful Name,
The Three in One, the One in Three.

Christ be near me, Christ within me,
Christ be ever before me,
Christ beneath me, Christ above me,
Christ be with me this day.

Christ in safety, Christ in danger,
Christ beside each friend and stranger,
Christ consoling all that love me,
Christ be with me this day.

I bind unto myself this day
The stable earth, the deep salt sea,
The sweet pale moon, the sun's bright ray,
The whirling winds, the lightning free.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Andante (Symphony II)

Widor

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THE PREACHER TODAY IS THE REV. DR. DUNPHY, PROFESSOR OF DOGMATICS AT THE PHILADELPHIA DIVINITY SCHOOL. THE SERMON ON THE "IDEALS OF EDUCATION" IS BEING PREACHED IN VARIOUS PULPITS IN THE CITY THIS MORNING AT THE REQUEST OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Mark's Church invite all the men of the Parish to a Reception in observance of its Ninetieth Anniversary, at the Parish House, on Monday Evening, November 1st, from 8 to 10 P. M.

At the presentation of the United Thank Offering at the General Convention in Cincinnati, October 7th, St. Mark's Parish contributed $345; St. Michael's Chapel, Yeadon, contributed $17.09, and St. Mary's Chapel contributed $58.00, making a total for the past Triennium as follows: St. Mark's Parish, $2,719.69; St. Michael's Chapel, $80.86; St. Mary's Chapel, $267.00.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

October 24, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 464 The Church's One Foundation S. S. Wesley, 1864

Introit. If thou, O Lord, wilt be extreme to mark iniquities, O Lord, who may abide it: for unto thee belongeth mercy, O God of Israel.

Ps. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Henschel in D

Gradual. Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is: brethren, to dwell together in unity. V. It is like the precious ointment upon the head: that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard.

Alleluia. He healeth those that are broken in heart: and bindeth up their wounds
Alleluia.

Hymn 356

Fairest Lord Jesus

Silesian Folk Song

Credo

Henschel in D

Offertory. Remember me, O Lord, King of all power: and put a well-ordered speech in my mouth, that my words may be pleasing in thy sight.

Motet

Tschaikowsky

O praise the Lord, laud ye the Name of the Lord: praise it, O ye servants of the Lord. Alleluia.

O praise Him. Praised be the Lord out of Zion! Praised be the Lord, who dwelleth at Jerusalem. Alleluia.

O commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass. Alleluia.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Henschel in D

Communio. I say unto you, there is joy among the Angels of God: over one sinner that repenteth.

Gloria in Excelsis

Henschel in D

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Carillon-Sortie in D

Henri Mulet

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 136

Tone III. 6

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

*Tones II and III with polyphony
by Healey Willan*

Hymn 29 The day thou gavest, Lord, is ended

C. C. Scholefield, 1874

Anthem (from Cantata 78)

J. S. Bach

Chorale: Jesu, my beloved Saviour, by thy death thou dost me save,
Out of darkness and destruction, from the terror of the grave,
By thy might the victory gaineth, and thy truth to us revealeth,
In thy Holy, Blessed Word: Be thou still our help, O Lord.

Aria-Duetto: We hasten with feeble, but diligent, footsteps, O Jesu, O Master, for help unto thee! Thou tenderly seekest the sick and the erring.
Ah, hear us! We lift up our voices, for succour we pray thee!
Vouchsafe unto us the light of thy countenance.

Chorale: Lord, thy Word have I believed, let despair affright me not.
Grant that strength may be received, when to death my soul is brought;
In thy goodness all confiding, in thy mercy still abiding,
Lord, protect me by thy grace, till I meet thee, face to face.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331

Mode VIII

Organ—Pastorale in E major

Cesar Franck

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.

Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays, from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Thursday is the Feast of S. S. Simon and Jude. There will be a third Mass at 9.30

The Congregations of St. Michael's and St. Mary's Chapels of St. Mark's Parish have been invited to attend Evensong on Sunday, October 31st, at 4 o'clock. It is hoped that every member of St. Mark's will make an effort to be present at this Corporate Service.

The Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Mark's Church invite all the men of the Parish to a Reception in observance of its Ninetieth Anniversary, at the Parish House, on Monday Evening, November 1st, from 8 to 10 P. M. Will all those who have not returned their cards please send them in some time during the coming week.

The first Vespers of the Dead will be said at St. Mark's Church on Monday night, NOVEMBER 1st, directly after Evensong. On Tuesday, NOVEMBER 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., and Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M. and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M. Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.

The names of Departed Members to be remembered at the Altar on All Souls Day should be sent in not later than Thursday, OCTOBER 28th.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish Building, 1625 Locust Street, on Tuesday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

No. 5

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity

October 31, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 258 Praise, my soul, the King of heaven John Goss, 1869

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa de Sancte Albano) Healey Willan

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. V. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn Grenoble Church Melody

See now the Christ, in triumph high
Unfurl his standard to the sky!
Ye nations, fall before his feet;
The King of Kings with homage greet.

That civic state how trebly blest
Where Christ bears rule, by man confessed;
The edicts of high heaven run;
And upon earth God's will be done.

The kingdoms that he claims as Lord
He hath not willed by fear or sword
To quell; but on the Cross raised high
He would on love alone rely.

May this thy light, for which we pine,
Sweet King of love, upon us shine;
And all the earth, in holy peace,
From thy glad praises never cease.
Amen.

Credo Healey Willan

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Anthem Johannes Brahms

How lovely is thy dwelling-place, O Lord of Hosts! For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God. O blest are they that dwell within thy house; they shall praise thy Name evermore.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Healey Willan

Communio. Verily I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray: believe that ye receive them, and it shall be done unto you.

Gloria in Excelsis Healey Willan

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in E flat J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 84 Tone III-1
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Stanford in B flat
Hymn 295 For all the Saints Vaughan-Williams
Anthem Hallelujah Chorus (from the Messiah) Handel
O Salutaris Hostia, 331 Mode VIII
Organ—Fugue in E flat (St. Ann) J. S. Bach

The words will be found on a separate list.

All Saints' Day

November 1, 1937

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 266, 299

Ordinary of the Mass Missa Dominicalis, Plainchant

All Souls' Day

November 2, 1937

SOLEMN HIGH MASS OF REQUIEM AT 9.30 A. M.

Missa pro Defunctis Plainchant
Sequence Hymn 65 Modes I and II

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Congregations of St. Michael's and St. Mary's Chapels of St. Mark's Parish have been invited to attend Evensong today at 4 o'clock. It is hoped that every member of St. Mark's will be present at this Corporate Service.

The Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Mark's Church have invited all the men of the Parish to a Reception in observance of its Ninetieth Anniversary, at the Parish House, on Monday Evening, November 1st, from 8 to 10 P. M. Informal dress.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made Sunday, October 31st, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, November 4th, at 3 P. M. The Rector will make the address.

The United Thank Offering for the past Triennium, presented at Cincinnati on October 7th, amounted to $861,693.07. The amount contributed by the State of Pennsylvania was $80,152.25.

The first Vespers of the Dead will be said at St. Mark's Church on Monday night, NOVEMBER 1st, directly after Evensong. On Tuesday, NOVEMBER 2nd, there will be a Requiem Mass for the Departed Members of the Guild of All Souls at 7 A. M., and Solemn High Requiem Mass at 9.30 A. M.

Masses for the Dead will be said every Saturday in November at 7 and 7.45 A. M. and on all Saturdays throughout the year at 7.45 A. M. Vespers of the Dead will be said every Saturday afternoon in November at 5.20, after Evensong.

The names of Departed Members to be remembered at the Altar may still be received on Monday morning.

The Annual Meeting of the Guild of All Souls (St. Mark's Branch) will be held in the Parish Building, 1625 Locust Street, on Tuesday, November 2nd, immediately after the Requiem High Mass. All members are urged to be present.

Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity

November 7, 1937

Within the Octave of All Saints

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymns in { 295 For all the Saints
Procession { 299 Let saints on earth

Vaughan-Williams
Day's Psalter; 1562

Introit. Rejoice we all, and praise the Lord, celebrating a holy-day in honour of all the Saints: in whose solemnity the Angels are joyful, and glorify the Son of God.

Ps. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous; for it becometh well the just to be thankful. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison

Schubert in G

Gradual. O fear the Lord, all ye Saints of his: for they that fear him lack nothing. V. But they that seek the Lord: shall want no manner of thing that is good.

Alleluia. The saints shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people: and their Lord shall reign for ever. Alleluia.

Sequence

Mode I

Spouse of Christ, in arms contending
O'er each clime beneath the sun,
Blend with prayers for help ascending
Notes of praise for triumphs won.

As the Church today rejoices
All her Saints to join on high,
So from earth let all our voices
Rise in solemn harmony.

In your heavenly habitations,
In your blessed home on high,
Hear, ye Saints, our aspirations,
As to God we lift our cry.

Ever praising, ever praying,
Help ye thus your brethren here,
That the will of God obeying
We in peace may persevere.

So may we, with hearts devoted,
Serve our God in holiness;
So may we, by God promoted,
Share that heaven which ye possess.

Credo

Schubert in G

Offertory. O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places; even the God of Israel, he will give strength and power unto his people: blessed be God, alleluia.

Hymn 508 Blessed city, heavenly Salem C. Ett, Cantica Sacra, 1840

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Schubert in G

Communio. The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God: and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: but they are in peace.

Gloria in Excelsis

Schubert in G

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale (Suite 48 for All Saints)

Ch. Tournemire

Solemn Evensong

Psalms 112, 121

Tones VII-5, 1-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Stanford in B flat

Hymn 297 Hark! the sound of holy voices John B. Dykes, 1871

Motet (O Quam Gloriosum)

Vittoria

O how glorious is the Kingdom, in which, with Christ Jesus, liveth all the Saints; in holy robes of whiteness, worshipping the Lamb, they joy for evermore.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Gaudeamus

Everett Titcomb

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be a meeting of St. Mark's Altar Society in the Parish Parlor on Thursday morning, November 11th, directly after the 9.30 Mass.

A Missionary Mass Meeting will be held on Friday evening, November 12, at 8 o'clock, at Holy Trinity Church, 19th and Walnut Streets. The speakers will be Bishop Tucker and Dr. Francis Wei.

On Thursday, Armistice Day, special intentions for peace will be offered at all the Masses, and special prayers for peace will be said at the Midday Intercessions.

THE GUILD OF ALL SOULS

Was Founded March, A. D. 1873

Objects

- 1st. Intercessory Prayer. 1. for the Dying; 2. for the Repose of the Souls of Deceased Members, and all the Faithful Departed.
- 2nd. To provide furniture for burials, according to the use of the Catholic Church, so as to set forth the two great doctrines of the "Communion of Saints," and the "Resurrection of the Body."
- 3rd. The publication and distribution of literature pertaining to the objects of the Guild.

Application for membership in St. Mark's Branch of the Guild should be made to the Secretary, Mrs. David English Dallam, 2034 Locust Street.

The American Red Cross, in asking for your support of its Annual Membership Roll Call, which takes place this year between November 11 and 25, would like to enumerate a few of the highlights of this year's work. They are—Disaster Relief, Public Health Work, First Aid and Water Safety, Highway First Aid, Work by Volunteers, Junior Red Cross.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

No. 7

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia ✠ Pennsylvania

Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity

November 14, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 253 The God of Abraham praise Hebrew Melody, 1770

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Locus iste) - - - Anton Bruckner

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. V. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 219 Christ, of all my hopes the ground
Orlando Gibbons, 1623

Credo (Mass in E minor) - - - Anton Bruckner

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Anthem - - - S. S. Wesley

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

To an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God; through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed at the last time.

But as He which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Pass the time of your sojourning here in fear, Love one another with a pure heart fervently, See that ye love one another.

Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God; for all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away.

But the Word of the Lord endureth for ever, for evermore. Amen.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - - - Anton Bruckner

Communion. Verily I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray: believe that ye receive them, and it shall be done unto you.

Gloria in Excelsis - - - Anton Bruckner

Antiphon. O how sweet is thy spirit, O Lord, who that thou mightest shew forth thy sweetness unto thy children, feedest them with the most sweet Bread from Heaven.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Sinfonia to Cantata 29 - - - J. S. Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 73 - - - Tone VII-7

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - - - Noble in B minor

Hymn 11 O Trinity of blessed light Sarum Plainsong, Mode VIII

Anthem - - - Beethoven

Hallelujah! Hallelujah unto God's Almighty Son. Praise the Lord, ye bright angelic choirs, in holy songs of joy.

Man, proclaim his grace and glory. Praise the Lord in songs of joy.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331 - - - Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Schmucke dich, O liebe Seele - - - J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

The Rector's Discretionary Fund is very low at present.

On Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 25th, all Offerings will be for the Episcopal Hospital.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Sunday next before Advent

November 21, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 247 Lead us, heavenly Father, lead us Dulce Carmen, 1782

Introit. Thus saith the Lord, I know the thoughts that I think towards you, thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: ye shall call upon me, and I will hearken unto you, and will bring again your captivity from every nation.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (O Quam Gloriosum)

Vittoria

Gradual. It is thou, O Lord, that savest us from our enemies: and putteth them to confusion that hate us. V. We make our boast in God all day long: and will praise thy Name for ever.

Alleluia. He maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. Alleluia.

Hymn 105 Thy kingdom come, O God Leighton G. Hayne, 1863

Credo Darke in F

Offertory. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

Anthem Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind; to preach the acceptable year of the Lord; to give unto them that mourn a garment for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Darke in F

Communio. Verily I say unto you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray: believe that ye receive them, and it shall be done unto you.

Gloria in Excelsis Darke in F

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Piece Heroique Cesar Franck

Solemn Quensong

Tones VI, Peregrinus

Psalms 149, 150

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Noble in B minor

Hymn 259 Praise to the Holiest

John B. Dykes, 1868

Anthem

Philip James

I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient time,
And now, as then, thy mercies hold
Their hope of grace divine.

Thy voice was in the thunder,
The waters were afraid;
Yet in my day of trouble
I called on thee for aid!

I have remembered my song at night,
Communing with my heart,
And know thy love is still my right,
Nor ever will depart.

Who is so great a God as the Lord!
His law shall rule us aye.
He answers our each prayer outpoured,
Our guidance and our stay. Amen.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Fantasie in C

Cesar Franck

Thanksgiving Day

November 25, 1937

SOLEMN HIGH MASS AT 9.30 A. M.

Hymns 422, 420

The Ordinary of the Mass (Missa de Sancto Matthia)

Alfred M. Smith

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a Solemn High Mass at 9.30.

ALL OFFERINGS ON THANKSGIVING DAY WILL BE
FOR THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.

Special envelopes for this Offering, for the convenience of those who are not already supplied with them, have been placed in the pews.

The letter recently sent out to the women of the Parish regarding the omission this year of the Annual Fair has met with a very generous response, for which the Committee expresses its gratitude. If those who have not as yet sent in their replies will do so before December 1st it will be greatly appreciated.

Two weeks ago a Prayer Book was found in the church. Owner can recover same by speaking to the Sexton or calling at the Office.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The First Sunday in Advent

November 28, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 53 Hosanna to the living Lord! John B. Dykes, 1860

Introit. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Ps. Shew me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Missa Brevissima) Claudio Casciolini

Gradual. For all they that look for thee: shall not be ashamed, O Lord.
V. Make known to me thy ways, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.

Alleluia. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord: and grant us thy salvation. Alleluia.

Hymn 56 Thy kingdom come! Day's Psalter, 1562

Credo I Mode IV

Offertory. Unto thee, O Lord, lift I up my soul; O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

Motet Healey Willan

Lo, in the time appointed the Lord will come; the mountains shall break forth into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands; for the Lord God shall come into his everlasting kingdom: and upon the throne of David shall he reign forever. Alleluia!

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei Casriolini

Communio. The Lord shall shew loving kindness: and our land shall give her increase.

Motet Ahle-Bach

Jesu, joyaunce of my heart,
Blessed Jesu;
Bliss unto my soul thou art,
Holy Jesu;
Sure defense from Satan's dart,
Sweetest Jesu;
Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

Nought is lovelier than thou,
Dearest Jesu;
None is friendlier than thou,
Gentlest Jesu;
Nor is any sweet as thou,
Sweetest Jesu;
Jesu, sweetest Jesu.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ-Fantasia in G minor

Back

Solemn Quensong

Tone III-6

Psalm 136
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with polyphony by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 66 O come, O come, Emmanuel Mode I

Anthem Gustav Holst

Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways.
Old now is earth, and none may count her days,
Yet thou, her child, whose head is crowned with flame,
Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim
'Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways!'

Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise,
Age after age their tragic empires rise,
Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep.
Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep,
Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one,
Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done.
Now, even now, once more from earth to sky,
Peals forth in joy man's old undaunted cry,
'Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!'

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331 Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Ach, bleib bei uns Back

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE FIRST SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1937.

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

OFFERINGS FOR THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL MAY BE MADE IN THE OFFERING TODAY AND ON WEEK-DAYS AT THE OFFICE OF THE PAROCHIAL SEC-RETARY.

Tuesday is St. Andrew's Day. There will be a third Mass at 9.30.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made
Sunday, November 28th, at 8 A. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, December 2nd, at 3.30
P. M. The speaker will be the Head of St. Martha's House.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

For the next four weeks we shall be concentrating our thoughts and prayers upon the Coming of Our Lord Jesus Christ. We shall be preparing ourselves for the Festival of the Nativity of Our Lord.

The Collect for today provides us with the outline for our thoughts during Advent, and the particular points for our prayers. (1) "Give us grace." What is grace?

The word means a free gift from God. We cannot earn it. It is a gift. We cannot deserve it, for it depends not upon our merits, but upon God's mercy. Without grace we are helpless so far as spiritual things are concerned. We have no power in ourselves to help ourselves. We have no power in our natural selves to liberate ourselves from the chains which bind us to the animal world. We have no power in ourselves to subdue the flesh to the spirit; nor to discern the spiritual things which must be spiritually discerned; nor can we impel our minds to good counsels; nor our wills to the things that are good.

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights." All holy desires, all good counsels and all good works come from God. They are the fruits of grace. They are the free gifts of God. So our first Advent prayer is for grace that we may cast away the works of darkness, and put upon us the armour of light.

But how does this grace come? Who gives it to us? The Collect answers this question. God's son Jesus Christ comes to visit us in great humility. This is the Coming, the Advent of Him by whom grace and truth came into the world upon the first Christmas Day, and into the souls of each of us, please God, on Christmas Day and every day when we receive Holy Communion, and are filled by Him with grace and heavenly benediction. In each Communion we go to Bethlehem, the House of Bread, the Bread of Life, the Bread that cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof and not die.

The Collect ends by teaching us to pray, "that in the last day when He shall come again in His glorious majesty to judge both the quick and the dead, we may rise to the life immortal, through Him who liveth and reigneth with the Father and the Holy Ghost, now and ever." So an alleluia of anticipation rings softly through Advent.

But there can be no doubt as to the clear warning which is the burden of the Advent call to repentance. "Owe no man anything but to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. For this thou shalt not commit adultery, thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not bear false witness, thou shalt not covet."

Will the world obey? Not as a whole world. It never has. There is no promise that it ever will. The night will spend itself. The rioting and drunkenness, the chambering and wantonness, the strife and envying will continue till the night is spent. But throughout all the night, the Voice will be heard by those who have ears to hear, "Cast off the works of darkness, put on the armour of light. Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof."

Will the world as a whole listen in this year of grace? Is the world as we know it really different in disposition from the world as it was in the days of St. John Baptist? If it is different, if it is better, then it has been made different and better by those who have used the grace given through Our Lord, and who have cast off the works of darkness and who have put on the armour of light.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

J. Vernon

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Second Sunday in Advent

December 5, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 57 Lo, He comes with clouds descending

Cantus Diversi, 1751

Intro t. O people of Sion, behold, the Lord is nigh at hand to redeem the nations: and in the gladness of your heart the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard.

Ps. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Messa Davidica)

Lorenzo Perosi

Gradual. Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beauty. V. Gather my saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me with sacrifice.

Alleluia. For the powers of heaven shall be shaken: and they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Alleluia.

Hymn 59 Lord, thy Word abideth

Ave Hierarchia, 1567

Credo I

Mode IV

Offertory. Wilt not thou turn again, O God, and quicken us; that thy people may rejoice in thee: shew us thy mercy, O Lord; and grant us thy salvation.

Anthem

Sir John Goss

The Wilderness—The words of the thirty-fifth Chapter of Isaiah.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei

Lorenzo Perosi

Communio. Jerusalem, haste thee, and stand on high: and behold the joy and gladness that cometh unto thee from God thy Saviour.

Motet

Bohm Bruder, 1694, harm. by Bach

Once He came in blessing,
All our ills redressing,
Came in likeness lowly,
Son of God most holy;
Bore the Cross to save us,
Hope and freedom gave us.

Still He comes within us,
Still his voice would win us,
From the sins that hurt us
Would to truth convert us,
From our foolish errors
Ere He comes in terrors.

Thus if thou hast known Him,
Not ashamed to own Him,
Nor dost love Him coldly,
But will trust Him boldly;
He will now receive thee,
Heal thee, and forgive thee,

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Chorale No. 2 in B minor

Cesar Franck

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 25

Tone I-10

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis

Tones II and VIII with polyphony by Carolus Andreas

Hymn 58 O Word of God incarnate

Meiningen, 1693

Cantata for Alto voices

J. S. Bach

Aria.—Watch and pray when trials beset thee, lest the tempter should prevail. On the strength of God relying, or in living, or in dying, let not fear thy soul assail.

Recitative.—The way of wicked men, how fair and pleasant it appears; but they who walk therein find only disappointment and bitterness of soul. All radiantly it shines, as it were paved with gold; but soon the shadows gather round, and all is darkness. 'Tis like a tree in Sodom planted, and none who in its fruit take pleasure can enter into God's own kingdom. 'Tis like a sharp two-edged sword that can the soul and body both destroy.

Aria.—He who o'er sin would be the victor must ever pray to God for aid. His strength alone the victory gaineth, His grace alone the heart sustaineth, when evil thoughts the mind invade.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Meine Seele erbebt den Herren

J. S. Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

Offerings for the Episcopal Hospital may be made in the Offering today and on weekdays at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

The women of the Auxiliary wish to thank the women of the parish for their contribution of $381.50 to Mission work. This amount has been apportioned to Diocesan, Domestic, Foreign, Colored and Indian Missions.

As the Bishop of the Diocese is requesting that parishes throughout the Diocese shall take their Missionary Offering this year on SUNDAY, DECEMBER 12th, St. Mark's has transferred its Third Missionary Sunday for the year to December 12th, instead of DECEMBER 19th as originally scheduled. An explanatory letter is in the mails and will reach you the first of the week.

Preparations are being made for the Christmas happiness of our Choir Boys and Acolytes here, as well as for the people at our Missions. In order that plans can be completed, may we ask that your contribution to the Christmas Fund be mailed in as early as possible to the Accounting Warden.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Holy Scriptures were written for our learning. They were written "not by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

The sacred writings are the documentary evidences of the teaching of the Church. The Church antedates the Bible. The Church received the revelation first; then recorded that revelation; then preserved it in perpetual custody, and interprets it. The Church is the divinely appointed custodian and interpreter of the Bible. "No prophecy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation." The Church and the Bible cannot be separated.

The Christian Year is the Church's Bible Class. If we follow faithfully we shall find the most illuminating and the most satisfying method of learning the contents and meaning of the Bible. We shall find an orderly and thorough system which inculcates, fosters and assists in the reading, marking, learning and inwardly digesting of the contents of Holy Scripture.

First of all the Church, by the Sacrament of Baptism, gives to us regeneration; the new birth; without which we cannot see the Kingdom of God, and infuses the Virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity. The Church gives to us in the Sacrament of Confirmation, the Seven Gifts of the Holy Ghost, which gifts enable spiritual discernment to discern spiritual things.

In the Sacrament of Penance, whatever impairs spiritual vision or impedes spiritual progress, is removed. In the Sacrament of Holy Communion the soul is established in the unity of the Mystical Body of Christ, is strengthened and refreshed and made to enjoy the fruits of redemption. This Sacramental life is provided for continually, every day in the year, supplying the needs of all sorts and conditions of men.

The Church, having prepared us by giving us increase of grace to hear meekly God's Word, and to receive it with pure affection, and to bring forth the fruits of the Spirit, presents to us in an unvarying cycle of commemorative days and seasons the mystery of the Holy Incarnation, the Holy Nativity and Circumcision, the Baptism, Fasting and Temptation, the Agony and Bloody Sweat, the Cross and Passion; the precious Death and Burial; the glorious Resurrection of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and the Coming of the Holy Ghost and the Mystery of the Holy Trinity. She employs an ordered sequence of festivals and fasts which extend through the entire year. She designates specially appointed days for the commemoration of Saints and Angels.

For each of these days a special portion of Holy Scripture, of an Epistle and Gospel is appointed to be read, and a Collect is appointed as a prayer appropriate for the commemoration. The Collect, Epistle and Gospel are a part of the Eucharistic worship, offered at the Altar.

In the Offices of Matins and Evensong, which are recited daily, Canticles and Psalms are appointed to be said or sung, and portions of Holy Scripture; taken one from the Old Testament, one from the New Testament; are appointed to be read. These daily recitations of the Psalms ensure a monthly recitation of the entire Psalter. The daily Lessons ensure systematic, selective reading of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation each year.

The seasons of the Christian Year present the contents of the truths recorded in the Scriptures in a manner calculated to make use of each bodily sense as an organ of reception and an instrument of response. For this purpose the Church makes use of every art for which God has given to man a talent to cultivate. The Church penetrates through each sense; sight, hearing, smell, touch; through the body into the soul.

The Church uses architecture, painting, sculpture, music, vestment, vesture, posture. "All things come of Thee, O Lord, and of thine own have we given Thee." This is the philosophy of religious ceremonial. The ceremonies are not ends in themselves. They are means to an end. The end is to glorify God and to convey to man the comfort of His Holy Word, that man may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life, which He has given us in our Saviour Jesus Christ.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Third Sunday in Advent

December 12, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 450 Lord, pour Thy Spirit from on high H.K. Oliver, 1832

Introit. Rejoice ye in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice ye; let your moderation be known unto all men, the Lord is at hand: be careful for nothing, nor troubled: but in all things, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

Ps. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding: shall keep your hearts and minds. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (O Quam Gloriosum)

Vittoria

Gradual. Shew thyself, O Lord, thou that sittest upon the Cherubim: stir up thy strength and come. V. Hear, O thou Shepherd of Israel: thou that ledest Joseph like a sheep.

Alleluia. Stir up thy strength, O Lord: and come and help us. Alleluia.

Hymn 63 Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding W. H. Monk, 1850

Credo I

Mode IV

Offertory. O Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land; thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob: thou hast forgiven the offence of thy people.

Anthem

Henry Purcell

Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say, rejoice. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

Be careful for nothing; but in everything, by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei (Missa Quarti Toni) Vittoria

Communio. Say to them that are of a fearful heart: Be strong, fear not; behold, your God will come and save you.

Motet

Gastoldi, 1591

Jesus, all-holy,
Gentle and lowly,
Snow-white lily of the vale:
Sovran Supernal,
Son of th' Eternal,
Born of Mary-maiden, hail!
Thou art our Master,
Monarch and Pastor,
Priest, Interceder,
Prophet and Leader,
Refuge, Defender,
Loving and strong.
Fountain of gladness,
Solace in sadness,
More than a brother,
Father or Mother

To thee we render
Tribute of song.

Jesus, we bless thee,
Worship, confess thee,
Shepherd of the sheep thou art:
Shelter, protect us,
Tend and direct us,
Strong of arm, and kind of heart:
Shadow and moonlight
Turn into noonlight,
Softened the scorner,
Comfort the mourner,
Rule our behaviour,
Order our way:
Bide with us, giving
Grace to the living,
Shrift to the dying
Freely supplying,
Be thou our Saviour
Ever and aye.

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Prelude in F minor

Bach

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 94

IV-4

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Tones II and VIII with faux-bourbons by Healey Willan

Hymn 326 The King of love my Shepherd is John B. Dykes, 1868

Anthem

Edward Elgar

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor: He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind; to preach the acceptable year of the Lord; to give unto them that mourn a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified.

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all nations.

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331

Mechlin Melody

O Saving Victim, opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press on from every side,
Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

All praise and thanks to thee ascend
For evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end,
In our true native land with Thee.

V. Thou gavest them Bread from heaven,
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Organ—Chorale-Prelude: Wachet auf

Bach

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A.M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

ALL OFFERINGS TODAY ARE TO BE APPLIED TO MISSIONS.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days.

Preparations are being made for the Christmas happiness of our Choir Boys and Acolytes here, as well as for the people at our Missions. In order that plans can be completed, may we ask that your contribution to the Christmas Fund be mailed in as early as possible to the Accounting Warden.

If you have not turned in your subscription blank for 1938, will you please do so as soon as conveniently possible. If you have not received a subscription blank, you can obtain one at the office of the Parochial Secretary.

The Minton Pyne Singers, under the direction of Mr. Hawke, will give a Recital of Christmas Carols in the Parish House on Wednesday, December 29th, at 8.30 P. M. The singers will be assisted by Miss Thorold Croasdale, Contralto, and Master David Tudor, Pianist. Tickets may be obtained from the Parish Office.

St. Mark's Branch, Section 37, of the Philadelphia Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, reports 757 garments received at the "Ingathering" this year, making 100 garments more than last year. Also $25.00 for the "Shoe Fund" and $15.00 from its "Money Members." Also one new Director. We still need new Directors which means more garments for the poor and needy. (Reported by Mrs. Chas. P. Maule, Section President.)

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy. Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

ST. MARK'S, PHILADELPHIA.

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT, 1937.

MY DEAR PEOPLE:

The Advent Collects mark the stages of approach to the Christian Religion. Their roots lie deep in the realities of life. They leave no room for uncertainty concerning these realities. They convey, even to the casual reader who may have no intention of using them as prayers, that if one would seriously consider the Christian Religion one must begin at the beginning and continue to the end. They make it perfectly clear that spiritual realities cannot be discerned and appropriated by the unaided natural faculties.

A dim desire may move men to grope in the dark, but that dim desire comes from God that they should seek Him, if haply they might feel after Him, and find Him, though He be not far from every one of us: for in Him we live, and move, and have our being.

So the first Collect is a passionate prayer for grace to escape from darkness and win the way into light. The second Collect is a wistful prayer to rightly read the records of those who have successfully battled their way into the light. The third, the Collect for the Third Sunday in Advent, is a humble prayer for the messengers of light, that they may be enabled to prepare and make ready God's way for us, by turning whatever there may be of disobedience in our hearts to the wisdom of the just.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week will be Ember Days. Special prayers are appointed to be said for those who are to be admitted into Holy Orders. Special prayers are said daily throughout the year for those who have already been admitted into Holy Orders. In the prayer for the whole state of Christ's Church, we pray that grace may be given to all Bishops and other Ministers (that means Priests and Deacons) that they may both by their life and doctrine, set forth God's true and lively word, and rightly and duly administer His Holy Sacraments.

Grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. The grace and truth are His.

The servants who serve Him have received the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of Bishops and Priests and Deacons in the Church of God, to serve as ministers of God from whom comes every good and perfect gift, and as stewards of mysteries which are not their own, but God's. They are bound by all the exacting conditions which direct and limit the execution of officers of trusts. They preach not themselves, but Jesus Christ. They administer not their own gifts, but the gifts of God.

They are required neither to exceed the power bestowed upon them, nor to withhold any gift committed to them. They are neither more nor less than the servants of God for Jesus sake. They possess no power beyond that which they have received for the execution of their office as ministers of grace and stewards of truth. The Christian Ministry is inexorably impersonal.

As ministers of grace they are ordained to be faithful Dispensers of the Sacraments. In the exercise of this ministry they are the servants of Him who is the giver of all grace. They minister. God gives. The Priest administers the Sacrament of Baptism. God regenerates. The Bishop administers the Sacrament of Confirmation. The Holy Ghost bestows the sevenfold gifts. The Priest administers the Sacrament of Penance. God gives the pardon. The Priest consecrates the bread and wine. The Lord Jesus gives His most precious Body and Blood to be the spiritual food to those who duly receive these Holy Mysteries.

As stewards of truth the ordained servants of God are vowed and empowered to teach the people committed to their Cure and Charge the doctrine required as necessary for eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. The faithful steward continues steadfastly in the Apostles' doctrine. He speaks for the Church. "Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful." Pray for those who are to be admitted into Holy Orders.

Affectionately in Our Lord,

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

There will be the usual Mass at 9.30 A. M. on the following days:

Monday—St. John the Evangelist's Day

Tuesday—Holy Innocents' Day

Saturday—The Feast of the Circumcision.

If you have not turned in your 1938 Subscription Blank, we would appreciate receiving it as soon as conveniently possible.

The Minton Pyne Singers, under the direction of Mr. Hawke, will give a Recital of Christmas Carols in the Parish House on Wednesday, December 29th, at 8.30 P. M. The singers will be assisted by Miss Thorold Croasdale, Contralto, and Master David Tudor, Pianist. Tickets may be obtained from the Parish Office.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall at 9.30 on Sundays.

No. 13

St. Mark's Church

Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Saint Stephen, Deacon and Martyr

December 26, 1937

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 78 O Little Town of Bethlehem Lewis H. Redner, 1868

Introit. Princes moreover did sit, and did witness falsely against me, and the ungodly pressed sore upon me: O Lord my God, stand up to help me; for thy servant is occupied continually in thy commandments.

Ps. Blessed are those that are undefiled in the way: and walk in the law of the Lord. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Locus iste) - Anton Bruckner

Gradual. Princes also did sit and speak against me: wicked men have persecuted me. V. Help me, O Lord my God: save me for thy mercies' sake.

Alleluia. I see the heavens opened: and Jesus standing on the right hand of God. Alleluia.

Sequence (English Hymnal, 31) - Samuel Webbe, 1782

Saint of God, elect and precious,	Glitters now the crown above thee,
Protomartyr Stephen, bright	Figured in thy sacred name:
With thy love of amplest measure,	O that we, who truly love thee,
Shining round thee like a light;	May have portion in the same;
Who to God commendedst, dying,	In the dreadful day of judgment
Them that did thee all despite:	Fearing neither sin nor shame.

Laud to God, and might and honour,
Who with flowers of rosy dye
Crowned thy forehead, and hath placed thee
In the starry throne on high:
He direct us, he protect us
From death's sting eternally.

Credo (Mass in E minor) - Anton Bruckner

Offertory. The Apostles chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost: whom the Jews stoned, calling upon God, and saying; Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

Carol—Good News from Heaven - J. S. Bach

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Anton Bruckner

Communio. Lo, I see the heavens opened, and Jesus standing on the right hand of the power of God: O Lord Jesus, receive my spirit, and lay not this sin to their charge for they know not what they do.

Gloria in Excelsis - Anton Bruckner

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Suite de la Nativite - Oliver Messaien

Solemn Quensong

Psalm 84 - Tone III-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - Noble in B minor

Hymn 86—O Thou, who gav'st thy servant grace
J. H. Schein, 1628

Organ—Pastoral Symphony: 'Messiah' - Handel

Recitative—There were shepherds - Handel

Chorus—Glory to God - Handel

Hymn 551—The First Nowell
Traditional melody, arranged by Healey Willan

CAROLS

O Magnum Mysterium (Spanish) - Vittoria

God is With Us (Russian) - Kastalsky

Man, be merry (English) - Alec Rowley

A Child is Born (American) - William Self

Rocking (Czech) - arr. Martin Shaw

* * * * *

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostis, 331 - Mechlin Melody

VISIT TO THE CRECHE

Processional Hymn 78—O Little Town of Bethlehem
Lewis H. Redner, 1868

Prayers: Our Father—

Hail, Mary—

Carol, 546 Silent Night - Franz Gruber

Organ—Jesu, Priceless Treasure - J. S. Bach

* * * * *

Solos—Gabriel Maioriello; Dr. C. F. Kauffeld

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

Office Hours

The Rector's Office Hours are daily, except Saturdays, from 10 to 11 A. M.
Sister Helen's Office Hours are daily, except Tuesdays and Saturdays,
from 11.45 A. M. to 12.30 P. M.

Notices

THURSDAY, JANUARY 6th, WILL BE THE FEAST OF
THE EPIPHANY. THERE WILL BE A THIRD MASS
AT 9.30.

FATHER HUGHSON, O. H. C., WILL BE THE PREACHER
NEXT SUNDAY MORNING.

The Corporate Communion of the Woman's Auxiliary will be made on Sunday, January 2nd, at 8 A. M.

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish Building on Thursday afternoon, January 6th, at 3.30 P. M. The Speaker will be Deaconess Allen, who will tell about her work in Arizona.

The Presiding Bishop has designated January 9th, the First Sunday after the Epiphany, for special recognition of the Church Periodical Club in celebration of its fiftieth anniversary. The Club began in 1888 with eight women forwarding their own magazines. In 1936 there were 1540 senders of 19,300 periodicals.

The St. Mark's Branch asks that you will remember the work of the C. P. C. at the Altar next Sunday and that you will give for the continuation of this work. Checks may be sent to Secretary, C. P. C., 1625 Locust Street.

Individual instruction for Confirmation may be arranged for by special appointment. Persons desiring to be instructed for Confirmation are asked to send in their names to the Clergy.

Religious instruction is given to children in the Upper Parish Hall
at 9.30 on Sundays.

The Second Sunday after Christmas

January 2, 1938

Sundays

Low Mass	-	8.00 and 9.00 A. M.
Matins	-	10.30 A. M.
Solemn High Mass and Sermon	-	11.00 A. M.
Solemn Evensong and Sermon	-	4.00 P. M.

Week Days

Mass Daily	-	7.00 and 7.45 A. M.
Thursdays and Saints' Days	-	7.00, 7.45 and 9.30 A. M.
Matins, Daily	-	9.00 A. M.
Intercessions, Daily	-	12.30 P. M.
Evensong, Daily	-	5.00 P. M.
Confessions, Saturdays	-	4 to 5 and 8 to 9 P. M.

Solemn High Mass

Hymn 551 The First Nowell - Traditional melody

Introit. Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

Ps. Lord, thou art become gracious unto thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. Glory be.

Kyrie Eleison (Mass in D) - Anton Dvorak

Gradual. And the glorious majesty of the Lord our God be upon us: prosper thou the work of our hands upon us: O prosper thou our handiwork. V. All the ends of the earth: have seen the salvation of our God.

Alleluia. This man was born in her: the Highest himself shall establish her. Alleluia.

Hymn 80 Angels from the realms Henry Smart, 1867

Credo - Anton Dvorak

Offertory. Shew thy servants thy work, and their children thy glory: I will hearken what the Lord God will say concerning me; for he shall speak peace unto his people.

Carol In the bleak mid-winter Gustav Holst

Sanctus, Benedictus, Agnus Dei - Anton Dvorak

Communion. Take the young Child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young Child's life.

Gloria in Excelsis - Anton Dvorak

Antiphon. I Am the Living Bread, which came down from Heaven. If any man eat of this Bread, he shall live forever.

Ps. O Praise the Lord, all ye heathen: Praise Him, all ye nations. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever. Praise the Lord. Glory be.

Organ—Noel - Henri Mulet

Solemn Evensong

Psalm 91 - Tone VIII-1

Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis - John E. West in G

Hymn 349 Once in Royal David's City Henry J. Gauntlett, 1858

CAROLS

Good News from Heaven

a. Pachelbel version for organ

b. Bach version for chorus

The Virgin by the Manger (French) - Cesar Franck

Christmas Song of the 14th century - Healey Willan

Sleep, Little Dove of Mine (Alsatian) arranged by Manney

Hymn 549 Good Christian men, rejoice 14th century melody

While Shepherds watched (Dutch) - Hugo Jungst

The Coventry Carol (English) arranged by K. K. Davis

Angels from the realms of glory (French) arr. by Martin Shaw

* * * * *

Devotions

O Salutaris Hostia, 331 - Mechlin Melody

VISIT TO THE CRECHE

Processional Hymn 72—O Come, all ye faithful Adeste Fideles

Prayers: Our Father—

Hail, Mary—

Carol, 546 Silent Night - Franz Gruber

Organ—From East to West - J. S. Bach

* * * * *

Solos—James Sturges

H. WILLIAM HAWKE, Mus. Bac., Organist and Choirmaster

